Egypt Charges Israel Killed 38 In 'Sneak' Attack

Israel Maintains Egyptians Launched Initial Assault

CAIRO (AP) — Egypt charged Israel today with launching the most violent attack along the Israeli-Egyptian border since the 1949 Palestine armistice.

Cairo government accused Israeli forces of killing 38 Egyptians and wounding 31 others in a "sneak" attack Monday night on an army headquarters two miles inside Egypt's coastal Gaza strip.

Five hours after the first Egyptian announcement, an Israeli spokesman in Jerusalem countered that Egyptians had crossed from Gaza into Israel to attack an Israeli unit. The Jewish spokesman said the battle had "flared up into the Gaza strip" and the Israelis "suffered a number of casualties" before repulsing the Egyptians.

From the Jordan sector of Jerusalem, however, was announcement from the United Nations truce organization supervising the Palestine armistice supported the Egyptian version. A spokesman announced that Israel and Gaza area had reported that an Israeli army unit had penetrated into the Egyptian area and opened fire on Egyptian troops.

UNITS SURROUNDED

Egypt's director of Palestine affairs, Lt.-Gen. Mohamed Riad, said the Israeli forces surrounded the Egyptian unit and fired it with mortars, demolition charges and automatic weapons, then ambushed a truckload of Egyptian reinforcements on their way to the attacked position.

The Egyptian charged also that the attackers destroyed a pipeline supplying one-third of the water for the ancient town of Gaza, whose population is estimated at about 40,000.

It is expected that Egypt will act quickly to bring the incident before the United Nations Security Council.

Must Stamp Out Discrimination Against Blacks

TORONTO (CP) — The chief legal officer of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People said Monday night racial discrimination must be stamped out if democracy is to survive.

Thurgood Marshall said segregation and racial domination has been kept alive in the United States by persons determined to maintain the badge of slavery.

Mr. Marshall spoke at a Brotherhood Forum series in Holy Blossom temple.

He said in an interview earlier that his organization hears very few complaints of color discrimination in Canada.

He could not recall hearing anything about Preston, Ont., scene of a recent color discrimination controversy.

Three Russian Deputy Premiers Are Promoted

MOSCOW (Reuters)—Russia today had a new inner cabinet following the first major governmental change since Marshal Nikolai Bulganin became premier three weeks ago.

The shuffle is interpreted here as giving the new premier a group of senior administrators and deputy premiers to concentrate on specific fields of government.

Three key men were promoted from deputy premiers to first deputy premiers at Monday night's decree of the presidium of the Supreme Soviet. The step established Anastas Mikoyan as "overlord" of trade and puts Michael Pervukhin in overall charge of electrification. The third new first deputy premier is Maxim Saburov, chairman of the state planning committee.

At the same time the seven deputy premiers were added to the inner cabinet. Chief attention among them focused on A. N. Malayshev, former minister of the machine - building industry who gives supervisory duties over a group of machine-building industries "related to the metallurgical industry."

Malayshev's "overlordship" is a further step to consolidate the position of heavy industry, a big target of the present government.

The decree announcing the changes did not mention Georgi Malenkov, who resigned the premiership Feb. 8 and who evidently remains a deputy premier and minister of power stations.

Abandon Search

GOOSE BAY, Labrador (CP)—The RCAF has abandoned, at least temporarily, the search for two men missing in the bleak wilderness of Baffin Island.

Two six-engined Dakotas from Goose Bay and Rockcliffe, Ont., have scoured the area without success for nearly two weeks.

The men, Donald Baird of Twillingate, Nfld., a 24-year-old Hudson's Bay Company employee, and Ookoe, an Eskimo guide, left Cape Dorset Jan. 5 by dog sled for Frobisher.

THE WEATHER

TORONTO. (CP) — Synopsis: Thunderstorms around Lake Erie Monday night and rain near Lake Ontario Tuesday morning brought warm weather. Skies are sure area moving eastward through the lower lakes. In the wake of the disturbance will be cool and but the weather will remain mostly cloudy today. Partial clearing which may appear this afternoon or this evening will be gone Wednesday morning as another area of low pressure from the north central states moves in on the Great Lakes. This new disturbance will bring more precipitation to the province on Wednesday.

300 COMMUNITIES TO DIVIDE BIG HYDRO REBATE

Chairman Says Amount Will Be $3,520,932

TORONTO (CP)—A $3,520,932 rebate on 1954 interim assessments by the Ontario hydro-electric commission will be divided among most 'of the 300-odd communities which buy power from the commission.

This was revealed Monday by Commission Chairman R. L. Hearn when he addressed a joint meeting of the Association of Municipal Electric Utilities and the Ontario Municipal Electric Association.

Mr. Hearn said, however, that the municipalities will have to pay additional power bills to Hydro. Last year the rebate was only $576,000 and 106 municipalities had to pay extra year-end bills. In 1952 the rebate was $1,875,000.

INTERIM RATE

During the year municipalities are billed by Hydro on an interim basis for most communities in the last few years has been slightly higher than the actual cost of power. When that cost is computed exactly at the end of the year, it is applied to the amounts that have been paid, leaving either a rebate or an extra bill.

A. W. Manby, Hydro general manager, said revenues from the interim rates were up eight per cent in southern Ontario and seven per cent in the northern commission area.

Mr. Hearn said year-end figures indicate that Hydro's conversion program from 60-cycle to 60-cycle power will cost $159,600,000 more than the original estimate of the costs made in 1948. The figures now include the final cost of the program will be at least $350,000,000 and probably more.

HALF WAY MARK

The program reached the half-way mark in 1954. The net cost was $181,017,155.

This year the program will concentrate on Chatham, Owen Sound, Guelph, Hamilton and the area west of metropolitan Toronto, Mr. Manby said. The schedule was arranged to take care first of the communities showing the most rapid growth.

Mr. Hearn also said that Hydro, threatened many years with power shortages, now has a reasonable margin of power. He said the rapid progress of the new Chalk River project, the start of work on the St. Lawrence power project and the necessity, after 1956, of finding new, possibly nuclear, sources of power.

Trade Minister Howe Expects 'Good Year'

HALIFAX (CP)—Trade Minister Howe said Monday night that Canada will have a "good trade year" in 1955 if all current forecasts materialize.

His main problem, he added, is to maintain and expand foreign markets for Canadian goods. Exports had declined last year, but imports had increased. "We have succeeded in the main in finding markets for all that Canada can produce. . . ."

COMPETITION FIERCE

DENVER (AP) — Joseph J. Fried won a divorce Monday after telling Judge Otto Moore he put his arm around his wife, a man living with them would "sick" the family dog on him. Fried said he and his wife took in the man 10 years ago and also have sheltered another man the last two years "because we felt sorry for them."

Missing British Scientist, Pontecorvo, Writes He Is Working in Russia

BY STANLEY JOHNSON

MOSCOW (AP)—Bruno Pontecorvo, the Italian-born British scientist who disappeared from the West in 1950, says in letters to Soviet newspapers that he has been working on "peaceful" atomic projects in the Soviet Union since that time.

The letters accuse Britain and the United States of "using atomic energy for military purposes in spite of achieving world domination" and appeal to Western scientists to protest against the use of atomic energy for military purposes.

Pontecorvo took part in British-American research on the first atomic bomb, and later worked at Canada's atomic energy plant at Chalk River, Ont. The U. S. congressional atomic energy committee in 1953 called him as a "first-class scientific brain" and "a storehouse of knowledge about Anglo-American-Canadian atomic projects." It said he also had knowledge of later hydrogen bomb developments.

Pontecorvo's identical letters—first definite word of him since he disappeared—were published here in Pravda and Izvestia, the Soviet Communist party and government newspapers. Without saying so specifically, they indicate that he is behind the Iron Curtain.

The letters assert that he-quit U.S. and British preparations there for military use of atomic energy made him "ashamed of my participation."

Pontecorvo was convinced that the "aggressive circles of ruling forces in the Soviet Union is directed toward using this greatest of discoveries to the evil detriment of humanity."

The letters are signed "Prof. Bruno Pontecorvo, winner of the Stalin prize." This is believed to be the first mention that he has received this award, usually valued at about $25,000.

Pontecorvo's statement says the conditions under which he works in Russia are "wonderful" and that "research is being conducted on the widest scale and on a very high technical level."

Youngstown, Ohio, Tornado Kills Housewife, Injures Six

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — A tornado hit the city's east side early this morning, killing a 43-year-old housewife, injuring six other persons and damaging 100 homes off their slab foundations.

Three other homes were badly damaged and scores of sleeping residents escaped injury. Damage is expected to exceed $100,000.

The dead woman, Mrs. Mary Fallott, was found in the driveway of her wrecked home. Her husband, Andrew, was taken to hospital with cuts on the shoulder. He said he heard a roar, covered himself and his wife with a blanket and the next moment was out in the pelting rain in the yard.

Among the injured was a 2½-year-old boy, Billy Conklin, whose father, Kenneth, 37, was blown out into the yard. Conklin cleared his way back into the wreckage and found his son still in his crib, covered but not crushed by heavy wreckage.

Meanwhile, another early morning tornado struck Troy, Ohio, causing an estimated $100,000 damage. The twister dipped into the downtown section cutting a path about a city block wide then bounced into a residential section. No injuries were reported.

At Malton, near Toronto, a forcefree said at 11 a. m. today there is no likelihood of any tornado hitting Ontario today. He said a thunderstorm swept the Trenton area this forenoon but no other weather disturbance has been foreseen for the province today.

Plan Fluoridation Vote

TORONTO (CP) — City council has decided on a referendum that ended early today, council members said, on fluoridation of the city's water supply should be up to the residents of the 13 municipalities. The decision means that fluoridation cannot be completed sooner than 1956.

U.S.-Canada Agree, if House Approves, on Seaway Problem

OTTAWA (CP)—If the United States Congress approves, Canada and the U.S. each will have a section of St. Lawrence seaway navigational facilities under their exclusive operation.

Seaway authorities say this would eliminate any chance of competitiveness between the two countries in attracting seaway business. It will also save millions of dollars in construction costs.

A new arrangement whereby the U.S. will not duplicate on its side of the river the planned $14,000,000 4,000-foot Canadian channel and lock at Iroquois, Ont., was described in a exchange of correspondence between U.S. Ambassador H. Douglas Stuart and External Affairs Minister Pearson made public here and in Washington Monday.

As Canada has repeatedly required, it will get exclusive navigational rights in the Iroquois area, about 27 miles up-river from Cornwall. U.S. Congress will, at least, will operate exclusively in the Eisenhower - Vosburgh area southwest of Cornwall.

Still to be decided are what ship pilot bills will be charged and how revenues will be shared between the two countries when the $100,000,000 seaway starts operating, probably in the spring of 1959.

Hon. Lionel Chevrier, chairman of the Canadian Seaway Authority, said in Ottawa he is hopeful of American decision.

Mr. Pearson, tabling the letters in the Commons, said it is the intention of the two governments not to duplicate, under present conditions, navigational work under construction which by-passes the International rapids section.

Canada last August agreed to allow the U.S. to build the important four-mile, $70,000,000 seaway link on the American side of Barnhart island, but reserved the right to build a parallel Canadian link if traffic volume requires it or if the American construction results in any "unreasonable or unwarranted interference with Canadian shipping."

At the same time the Canadian government announced its intention to participate in navigational construction in the international rapids section of the seaway and urged the U.S. not to build a competitive canal on the American side.

To back up its intentions, the Canadian government recently awarded a $6,470,000 contract for a canal and lock at Iroquois, to be completed by November, 1957. Expropriation of land, dredging and other work is expected to boost the cost to about $14,000,000.

Aside from American construction at Barnhart and some dredging in the Thousand Islands region to cost about $72,000,000, the longawaited seaway will be a $100,000,000 all-Canadian construction job involving sea-going vessels to sail up the St. Lawrence into the Great Lakes.

Canada's $190,000,000 will be distributed in Ontario and Quebec.

About $12,000,000 for construction of canal and locks and enlargements at Lachine, Que.; about $17,000,000 for locks in the Soulanges area a few miles up river from Montreal island to get ships from the Beauharnois power canal into Lake St. Louis; $4,500,000 for dredging in Lake St. Francis between Valleyfield, Que., and Cornwall; $2,000,000 for deepening of the Welland canal to 27 feet from 25; and $14,000,000 for Iroquois.

Work on the seaway will fall in line with that of the $600,000,000 St. Lawrence power development now under way, to provide electricity for Ontario and New York state.

U.S. JET CRASHES IN TRAILER PARK KILLING FIVE

Young Couple Perish In Fiery Wreckage

LAKE CHARLES, La. (AP)—A crippled B-47 jet bomber smashed into a suburban residential area Monday night, killing five as it set a fiery swath into a trailer park.

The dead included the three airmen and a young couple whose house was demolished by flaming debris.

The six-engined Stratojet was trying to make a landing at Lake Charles air force base when it hit a power line, crashed and exploded in a field and sent heavy metal pieces knifing into the residential area.

The air base said the plane reported one engine had failed.

The county sheriff's office identified the dead civilians as Albert Morgan, 24, and his wife Kate,20.

MAN BURNED

Sgt. James C. Sapp, who is stationed at the Lake Charles base, was burned when debris ignited his trailer home. His condition was determed not critical. His wife was uninjured.

Wreckage of the plane was scattered over an area more than 250 yards long and 75 yards wide.

The main part of the plane careened into the Morgans' house, carrying the bodies of the pilot and the co-pilot. The body of the observer was found in the field.

Several unoccupied houses and several trailers also were burned.

Debris from the plane fell about 1,000 feet into the air," reported William Denton, who was a mile away when the plane hit, then hurried to the scene.

Churchill Says U.S. Has More Nuclear Power Than Russia

LONDON (CP)—Prime Minister Churchill said today the United States is the only country in the world able to deliver a full-scale H-bomb attack "on a few hours' notice."

The threat of a hydrogen attack on these islands lies in the future," Churchill told the House of Commons in opening a debate on defence planning.

It is not with us now, according to the information which we have been able to obtain," he continued.

The prime minister said Britain itself has started building hydrogen bombs.

"Meanwhile the United States has reached the enormous power of Soviet Russia, and of course far more effective means of delivering," he said.

The disclosure that Britain was building an H-bomb came 12 days after Britain announced her decision to make it.

Churchill spoke at the opening of a two-day debate on Labor party criticism of the government which has mishandled the buildup of British defence in the new hydrogen age. Labor contends government claims that there have been "grave gaps" in Britain's defences in the weapons supplied to British forces, particularly in jet fighter planes.

The country's defence position on the nation's state of readiness in case of war, Churchill said there was "no method in sight" whereby any nation could be completely protected against the devastating injury which a score of H-bombs might inflict on wide regions.

The prime minister referred to Britain's manufacture of the A-bomb, which he said as "this great decision."

Churchill opened his speech by saying "we live in a period, happily unique in human history, when the whole world is divided intellectually and to a large extent geographically into two camps" of Communist discipline and individual freedom.

"At the same time this mental and psychological division is accompanied by the acquisition by both sides of the obliterating weapons of the nuclear age."

The prime minister told the crowded chamber:

"Science, forces and science, hitherto the servants of man, now are turning to become his masters."

Churchill said: "It is now a fact that a quantity of plutonium, smaller than two match boxes, if you box here on the table and quite a few things in connection with it, to produce weapons which would have indisputable world destruction to any great power which was the only one to have it."

The prime minister said the broad effect of latest nuclear developments is to make the whole territory and scattered population of each country more equally a vulnerability with Britain's small, densely-populated island and with crowded western Europe.

Sixty Canadians Will Take Part In Current Atomic Tests in Nevada

OTTAWA (CP)—Sixty Canadian servicemen will take part in the current Nevada atomic tests, the defence department announced today. Exact dates of Canadian participation were not given.

It will be the first time that Canadian sailors, soldiers and airmen have operated under conditions resulting from an actual atomic blast.

Nucleus of the 60-man group will be from the Royal Canadian Signals Section Unit, established in 1950 and based at Barriefield, Ont. Two years ago, this unit helped in control at the Chalk River, Ont., atomic energy plant when a leak developed in the reactor.

The radiation detection unit, supplemented by Royal Canadian Navy and RCAF technicians, will operate with American and British active area to train Canadian personnel.

The exercise will be known as "Sapling" and will be part of the operation "Operation Plumbob" conducted by the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission at the Nevada test site.

The Canadians will be under the control of the U.S.-agreed forces special weapons project. They will be under the immediate command of Lt.-Col. R. A. Klaehn of Kitchener, and Ottawa of the Canadian army's weapons development branch. Maj. R. E. MacDonald of Kingston and Sydney Mines, N.S. commands the radiation detection unit.

The defence department gave this outline of "Exercise Sapling":

Teams of trained and specially equipped men will advance on foot and in vehicles across contaminated areas after an Atomic explosion.

Reports of the location and intensity of radioactivity will be radioed back to a central vehicle for plotting on a detailed map of the area.

As a safeguard against possible over-exposure to atomic radiation, each member of the team will be issued with a pocket - size instrument capable of recording accumulated radiation.

The radiation detection unit, a branch of the Royal Canadian Engineers, was originally a 12-man unit. It has been increased to a personnel provides trained men throughout the army.

The unit has obtained information from the defence research board, the National Research Council, Atomic Energy of Canada Ltd., and Canada's scientists in Britain, Ont., to develop methods of radiation protection for Canadian servicemen and civilians.

U.S. Only Country Able To Deliver Full-Scale Attack

Freight Derailed As Auto Skids Into Tracks

HAMILTON (CP) — A 30-car Canadian National Railways freight train on the Wabash line was derailed at Delhi and badly smashed early today when an automobile skidded into the tracks throwing them out of line.

No one was injured on the train but two passengers in the car, driven by Joseph Antonelli of Delhi, were treated for shock, cuts and bruises.

Railway officials said the train, loaded with car bodies and pipeline, was heading toward Fort Erie about 6 a. m. when the mishap occurred. Twisted boxcars were strewn for more than a mile along the tracks, blocking both the railway line and automobile traffic on the highway.

Hundreds of persons from Delhi and surrounding tobacco farms lined the railway embankment to watch workmen clear away the wreckage. It was one of the worst train crashes in the area in years.

At least a half dozen box cars were sandwiched into a small space as other cars piled on top. A railway man said it "was a miracle that the train crew escaped injury."

Large sections of track and the railway bed were ripped.

Hawaii Volcano Still Erupting

By ROY ESSOTAN

PAHOA, Hawaii (AP) — A spectacular volcano eruption continued with new fury today and civil defence officials declared a state of emergency. The eruption which on this main Hawaiian island was virtually abandoned.

An estimated 100 acres of sugar cane fields and timber are ablaze in the Puna area. More than 400 persons have fled their homes in the path of the rivers moving relentlessly forward.

Civil defence headquarters today reported lava and rock pyramids are rising out in three directions. Fountains of molten lava shoot 1,000 feet in the air from four white-hot craters rising higher by the hour. Heat from the flows can be equally felt a mile away from the boiling streams.

John Weese Named To Public Utilities

Mr. John R. Weese, 135 Dufferin Ave., former member of parliament for Prince Edward - Lennox, has been appointed by city council as public utilities commissioner to fill out the term of the late Urias "Jandy" Lamnia who died earlier this month.

Owner of the Shannonville canning factory Mr. Weese has had long experience in municipal affairs having served in the Ameliasburg township council for a number of years and was Prince Edward county warden in 1936. He represented the Prince Edward-Lennox riding at Ottawa for five years from 1930 to 1935. He has lived in Belleville for the past seven years.

Council made the appointment of Mr. Weese unanimous following the holding of a caucus meeting during a recess in council. It was understood that at least a half a dozen names had been suggested to council for the appointment of utilities commissioner.

WILL INCREASE FINES

TORONTO (CP)—Parking fines are going up here.

City council voted Monday to increase maximum rush-hour fines to $20 from $10 for the first offence and to $35 from $25 for subsequent offences.

Council Again Rejects Ban On Firms Selling to City If Shareholders on Council

For the second time within a year city council has voted that members who are shareholders in a limited company shall be permitted to do business with the city.

The matter was brought up last year by Alderman Ben Safe who brought in a recommendation to council which in effect would bar principal shareholders in a firm from from doing business with the city if they were members of council. After a considerable discussion it was turned down.

Again Monday evening Alderman Safe brought in a similar recommendation and again after considerable discussion council voted it down. Consensus of the majority of councillors was that the matter was already covered by provincial statutes.

In bringing in the recommendation Alderman Safe said it was not a matter of legality but one of ethics. He noted that the city had every right to pass laws for the city of Belleville and insisted the recommendation was aimed at keeping the city clean.

"Its purpose is to see that no member of council ever has an opportunity to do business with the city," he said.

Alderman W. Argue stressed the recommendation was aimed directly at companies controlled by one man who might happen to be a member of council.

AGREES IN PRINCIPLE

Speaking against the recommendation, Alderman Graham said that although he agreed in principle he did not favor the motion. As a matter of ethics he said councillors should not do business with the city.

Alderman Tice declared that passing the recommendation would put the city right in the middle of a lawsuit and said in his opinion the motion was aimed directly at a certain member of council.

"I resent that remark," said Alderman Safe.

Alderman Safe said he also resented the remark and called it "scurrilous."

Alderman David said that he agreed with the recommendation but wondered if it would not be "unworkable. It is hard to legislate morality," he said.

The recommendation was lost by a 10-4 vote with only Aldermen Argue, Grandame, Keegan and Safe voting yea. Those against were Aldermen Clarke, David, Forrester, Graham, Humphreys, Hyde, McCabe, Moxam, Smith and Tice.

Zabud Council Of Cryptic Rite Formed in City

An event of Masonic importance occurred on Saturday when seventeen Royal Arch Masons from Belleville and district travelled to Toronto where Adoniram Council, No. 28, Royal and Select Master (Cryptic Rite) conferred the top-ranking degrees of Royal Master, Select Master and Super-Excellent Master on them.

BRAM HUMPHREYS

During the ceremonies a dispensation was issued to form Zabud Council in Belleville. The formation at a Cryptic Council here now makes the complete York Rite and Scottish Rite available to Masons in this district.

The ceremonies in Toronto were also attended by Most Illustrious Grand Master Andrew F. Tannahill; Bt. Ex. Comp. Fred J. Johnson, Grand Scribe E.; Th. Ill. Comp. Wm. K. Herd, acting Grand Recorder; Rt. Ill. Comp. W. J. Southcombe, Grand Deputy Master and Rt. Ill. Comp. Geo. G. J. Sword, Grand Inspector General, who took part in conferring the degrees on the candidates. Master and Past Thrice Illustrious Master on the occasion were Bram and Morley Hancock respectively and in the installation of the other officers of Zabud Council.

During the dinner held in the Masonic Temple, Yonge St., Toronto, Mayor John Both of Belleville, presented Th. Ill. Master Earl Hughes and Companion of Adoniram Council with two Black Diamond cheques as a small token of appreciation for the work of preparation necessary to enable them to confer all three Cryptic degrees in one day on the Royal Arch Masons from Belleville.

The slate of officers installed by Zabud Council for 1955 is as follows:

Thrice Illustrious Master, Bram Humphreys; Past Thrice Illustrious Master, Morley Hancock; Illustrious Deputy Master, William Haggar; Illustrious Principal Conductor of the Work, Tom McCoy; Recorder, W. J. Doig; Treasurer, W. P. Youdale; Illustrious Orsaplan, A. E. Diamond; Supt. of Ritual and Dramatic Work, E. W. Allen; Captain of the Guard, E. J. Chard; Conductor of the Council, Herbert Tomlinson; Marshal, H. W. Burns; Steward, J. W. Howes; Sentinels, McKinley Bailey and W. J. Dempuey. Other charter members are: John Both, Harry Huis and C. R. Churchill.

Meetings of the Council in Belleville will be held on the fourth Tuesday of each month, beginning March 22nd, 1955.

Zabud Council in Belleville is the first council of Royal and Select Masters to be instituted between Toronto and the Quebec border. Prior to this, Masons in this district had to become members of the Cryptic Council in Toronto in order to receive the degrees of Royal Master, Select Master and Super Excellent Master.

INCREASE TAX

MONTREAL (CP)—The city executive committee Monday moved to increase the business tax rate to bring the city $1,500,000 needed to balance the 1955-56 municipal budget. The decision, subject to approval by the city council, would double the tax on all establishments selling liquor and increase the general business tax rate to 12½ per cent from 11 per cent.

Claims City Not Far Behind On Civil Defence Movement

Civil defence and the duties which might be expected to undertake in a community such as Belleville came up for discussions in city council Monday evening following receipt of a letter from the local organization suggesting that council was not behind the civil defence movement in the city.

Alderman Graham as council representative on the civil defence organization, said that the city budget for civil defence this year had been cut to $50.

"They feel that they are being rejected and I can't say that I blame them," he said.

Earlier in the meeting council was addressed by ex-Alderman Angus Duffy, who said that civil defence in Belleville compared favorably with most other centres in Canada.

He noted that approximately 400 persons in the city have had training in civil defence. At the present stage of organization civil defence called for volunteer effort and discipline, not a lot of money.

He warned, however, that civil defence concerns everybody and a modern weapon would bring the next war to the doorstep of Canadians. Governments were expected to resolve on some sort of a national program but in the meantime counties should give leadership.

Among other things the letter from the civil defence committee urged the appointment of a paid part-time co-ordinator.

CHANGE IN THINKING

Alderman Graham noted that the hydrogen bomb had resulted in a big change in thinking in respect to civil defence, although to date there had been no expression of intention either from Ottawa or Toronto regarding the part which a local organization might be expected to take.

He suggested that local efforts might possibly be directed along evacuees from larger centres which might be a target for enemy bombs.

A second aspect of civil defence was not to add to the care of a local emergency. In Alderman Graham's opinion, however, this was outside the authority of a civil defence organization which was set up to act in the case of national disaster.

Before a part-time paid civil defence co-ordinator was considered he suggested that full costs of civil defence be shared by governments.

No action on the matter was taken by council.

Film Tells Tale Of Rotary's Student Exchange

Rotarians across the world still are in a proud flush over the organization's golden jubilee, hailed last week, and Belleville Rotary Club is no different.

At the club's weekly meeting in the Hotel Quinte yesterday afternoon, the values and services the organization strives to provide for humanity were underlined to members when the film "The Great Adventure" was shown.

Starring Edward Arnold, the film told the story of Rotary through the years, using as its theme the organization's international student exchange program. Incidentally, the film this month is having simultaneous premier showings in three different languages to all the Rotary clubs in the world.

Yesterday's meeting had president Fred Adsett as chairman, with Stan Goodwin and Jack Deacon leading the songspiel. Ralph Middleton introduced the guests. Guest from furthest out of town was Isaac Davis from St. John's, Newfoundland.

During the meeting A. McLean Haig congratulated President Adsett and the vice-president, Harold Mott, for their organization of the recent club banquet, which marked Rotary's jubilees.

Don McKinnon had charge of yesterday's programs and also introduced the film.

PROF. JOHN N. WOODCOCK
(Picton)

PICTON.—A former professor of classics and registrar at Trinity College, University of Toronto, Professor John N. Woodcock, 82, died suddenly in Prince Edward County Hospital, Monday morning. He had attended church on Sunday and had with Mrs. Woodcock had planned to leave next Monday for a holiday in Florida. Early Monday he was taken ill at his home in Bloomfield and was rushed to hospital by ambulance.

Since retirement, Professor Woodcock had resided in Picton district, in Elmbrook, in town and then in Bloomfield. He was a member of the Church of St. Mary Magdalene where the funeral is being held Tuesday afternoon with entombment in Glenwood cemetery.

Survivors are his wife, two daughters, Mrs. Hilda Sulton, Bloomfield and Mrs. David Carey, (Naomi), Kisco, N.Y., and a son, Alan in Wayland, Mass.

THOMAS W. KINNEY

PICTON.— One of Prince Edward County's pioneer canners and philanthropists, Thomas W. Kinney died at his home here yesterday following a lengthy illness.

Born on a farm in North Marysburgh township he lived his life spent in Prince Edward County. As a young man he went to the employ of local canning plants, and managed several of them until 1918, when he went in partnership with H. S. Colliver they bought a plant and operated it as Kinney and Colliver Canning Co. They also erected a jam factory. In 1923 they sold to Associated Canners Ltd. The next year Mr. Kinney erected a new plant beside his original one, and a few years ago to Mowbray Foods.

Mr. Kinney was a prominent supporter of the Conservative Party most of his life and was nominated in 1908 for the House of Commons but he preferred to be the "power behind the throne" and served as president of town, county and riding associations.

He was a member of the Anglican church, he gave many gifts to St. Paul's Church, Picton and was also and parish hall; to the latter, a modernly-equipped kitchen in the new church hall.

He was a Past County Master of the Loyal Orange Lodge of Boulter L.O.L. which also benefited by his generosity. Last year, his donation furnished a room in the Home and Service Centre for the Blind at Kingston. He never aspired to public office though he wielded a strong influence in many spheres. His wife died several years ago and he resided with his niece, Mrs. A. L. Greenlaw.

Out of Court Settlement Will Be Sought

City council will investigate the possibilities of an out of court settlement regarding its suit with the H. J. McFarland Construction Company, when a special meeting scheduled to be heard in April. Alderman Graham is to act as chairman of public works and city solicitor R. A. Pringle will be a committee of two to investigate the matter and report to council.

The court suit in question was brought against the city by the McFarland Company requesting payment for alleged re-surfacing done for the city last summer. Council held up payment of the bill on the grounds that the job was not satisfactory and also questioned payment for crushed rock materials stockpiled on the authority of city engineer Charles Mott, who council claimed had no authority to order the purchase.

The recommendation to seek an out of court settlement was made by Alderman Gerald Hyde, who said the city had paid into court most of the McFarland bill. "There was no point in hoping to win a small sum and possibly lose a larger sum in court costs," he argued.

Alderman Safe took the same view, noting that it was unfortunate the matter was now before the courts. Every attempt should be made to settle the matter out of court, he said.

The recommendation carried 12 to 2.

SNOW LOAD SNOWBOUND

ELY, Nev. (AP)—Workers due for hours Monday night to free a big truck snowbound by a blizzard on Mount Moriah, summit north of here. The truck was loaded with 6,200 pounds of artificial snow en route to Sun Valley, Idaho, for a movie scene.

BLOCK CONSTRUCTION

TORONTO (CP)—The board of control voted Monday to recommend expropriation of 5½ acres in the Etobicoke area, blocking construction of an apartment house planned for the site. Cost of the expropriation was estimated at $400,000.

Council Leaves Responsibility Of Liability on Motorists

Motorists driving out alleyways from parking areas at the rear of Front and Street stores may still drive across the sidewalk without stopping but if they knock over a pedestrian the responsibility is all theirs.

Monday night at city council, council members turned down a recommendation calling for motorists to come to a complete stop before crossing the sidewalk while emerging from alleyways.

In doing so certain members pointed out the matter was already covered by a highways traffic regulation, which put the onus strictly on the motorists. Another point made was that the alleyways were private property and as such the city should not regulate the traffic.

Consensus of council was that there was no point in the city passing something which could not be enforced and under the highway traffic act there was already a remedy for any carelessness.

SECURITY RECOMMENDATION

The motion was presented to council as a minority recommendation from the traffic committee but it had the full support of Alderman Argue who urged the recommendation be adopted. "We can at least pass it and try to be satisfied."

The recommendation was lost on a split vote with seven votes approving and seven votes opposing the motion.

City council is still in the real estate business with two lots in the Parkwood Heights district being sold to Maurice Rollins and remaining city owned lots to be advertised and offers of purchase to be considered by council.

Tenders were called for payroll clerical in the Civic Office and Mr. Rollins' offers were the highest received prior to the closing date of the tenders. The lots were sold to Mr. Rollins for $750 each, $650 plus the value of the debentures.

Three other offers were received following the closing date for the tenders. These were opened by council but were turned down and new offers to purchase will be asked.

A bill from the Belleville Building Supply for $150 for repairs to an indigent resident was questioned by the finance committee chairman Alderman Gerald Hyde who pointed out that last year at the last council meeting council had decided that $75.00 would be the maximum paid by the city for burial of an indigent.

A SPECIAL CASE

Council was told by welfare committee chairman Alderman Effie McCabe that the case in question was a special one with the bill being paid by instalments. The bill was approved.

Out of town travelling expenses for city delegates will be a maximum of 1st class railway fare instead of car mileage at 5c per mile, it was decided by council. The amended recommendation passed by council called for expenses "up to" 1st class railway fare being allowed for transportation.

Council approved in principle to the proposed route of a hydro line extension from the Cataract line and Sidney Street sub-station to Rossmore. The proposed route is along Catherine, Yeomans and Wellington Streets, down Dundas St. West and along the Bay Bridge Road. Position of poles will be submitted to council for approval.

A communication from the Rotary Club asking that council give serious consideration to the matter of fluoridation of city water was referred to the Board of Health.

A letter from Dr. J. R. Guthridge on behalf of the local community chest committee asked council to pass a by-law requesting all agencies seeking contributions to be members of the community chest.

It was pointed out that but six organizations are members of the community chest with other agencies frequently soliciting contributions either by canvass or through tag days. It was felt that all such agencies should be members of the community chest.

The matter was referred to the finance committee.

APPOINTED TO BOARD

Mr. Jamieson Bone was appointed as city representative to the suburban roads commission for another five-year period.

Appointment of a new medical officer of health came up for brief discussion with Alderman McCabe noting that a meeting with a provincial official was planned to discuss the matter. Alderman Moxam asked if the medical officer of health could look after physical examinations for police and firemen instead of having this done by private physicians at extra cost to the city.

Authorization was given for the chairman of finance to attend a private bills meeting of council but were turned down and new offers to purchase will be asked.

Largest Flash Of Year's Series Seen in Nevada

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — The third shot of the 1955 United States atomic tests converted the predawn darkness to daylight for a brilliant moment at 5:30 a. m. PST (8:30 a. m. EST) today.

Observers here said it was the largest flash of this year's series. It flared yellow at first, then orange and finally faded away.

The flash lighted up clouds and seemed to go unusually high.

It was plainly visible in Los Angeles, 250 miles to the southwest.

The shot went off about 70 miles northwest of Las Vegas. Low hills lay between the 300-foot detonation tower at Yucca flat and this resort city.

No appreciable jolt was felt here.

The lack of wind allowed the cloud to maintain a perfect mushroom shape as it rose and expanded.

Mother Appeals For Help To Find Daughter

TORONTO (CP)—Judy Carter's mother today appealed to the public for information which might lead to the finding of the eight-year-old girl, missing since Friday.

Her handwritten letter, photographed and published in newspapers here, said:

"To anyone who knows anything of Judy's whereabouts—

"If you have my baby or know anything, any little thing at all, please let the police know. All of us are heartbroken and we must know. Please, please help us. Mrs. Joan MacLeod."

Missing Child's Parents Receive Ransom Demand

TORONTO (CP)—The parents of eight-year-old Judy Carter said today they have received a $15,000 telephone ransom demand for return of their daughter.

William MacLeod, Judy's stepfather, said a man whose voice indicated he might be between 30 and 40, told him:

"If you want Judy back alive, have $15,000."

Population Up 2.7 Per Cent Over Last Year

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada's population totalled 15,428,000 Jan. 1, up 2.7 per cent from 15,033,000 on the corresponding date last year, the bureau of statistics estimated today.

This gain of 404,000 for 1954 is numerically greater than the gains of 386,000 or 2.6 per cent for 1953 and 389,000 or 2.7 per cent for 1952.

The bureau also released today final vital statistics figures for 1953.

Births reached a record high of 416,825 and the birth rate of 28.2 per 1,000 population was seventh among the major countries of the world.

There were 127,381 deaths, but the death rate of 8.6 per 1,000 population was the lowest on record and the third lowest in the world.

Charge Mother And 3 Children With Murder

MARYVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — A mother and three children—the oldest only 14 — faced murder charges today after the woman told police she and the children beat and choked her husband to death when he threatened them.

Sheriff Ed Guinn said Mrs. Sam E. Davis Jr., 41, made a statement that she hit Davis on the head with a wrench while two of the children choked him with a belt after he threatened to drive the family car over a steep embankment.

Mrs. Davis was held on a first-degree murder charge, the children—two girls aged 14 and 11, and a boy, 8—also were charged with murder but were released to relatives.

Find Rag-Picker Kept Wife's Head For Nine Years

NIMES, France (AP) — Louis Chanfal, a 70-year-old rag-picker of Montpellier, near here, left this last will and testament:

"Take good care of my wife's head, which I left on the pillow."

Police, after finding him dead today, found it was no macabre joke. The white-haired head of his wife, who died nine years ago, was found wrapped in a white cloth inside a shopping basket. Chanfal said he'd said it would be. The rest of her body had been buried in a local cemetery.

Chanfal, who lived on charity and in rags, also left nearly $400 dollars for his funeral.

Thunderstorms And Hail Sweep New York State

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—A series of overnight thundershowers, drenching rainstorms and hail in western and central New York sent many streams flowing over their banks, washed out some highways and forced at least three schools to close.

The U. S. weather bureau in Buffalo said one observer in the town of Wales, Erie county, reported 2.45 inches of rain since Monday night.

Warsaw, one of the hardest hit villages, also reported more than two inches of rain.

Run-Off Water Causes Flood In Certain Areas

TRENTON (Special) — Run-off water from the new Champlain Heights subdivision at the west end of the town this morning became a deluge and rolled down Dundas Street West and formed a great pool between Dufferin and Lorne Avenues.

Traffic on Highway No. 2 had to be re-routed, and school children crossing the highway on the way to Dufferin Street School, had difficulty in navigating the running water, which was about six inches deep.

Cause of the deluge is laid to the fact new sewers installed in the subdivision were not sufficient to cope with the rainwater.

Tons of top soil and gravel were deposited by the water between Dufferin and Lorne Ave. Patches of the highway also were washed out. Works Department trucks early today still were busy clearing off the soil.

Cellars in the area of Dufferin and Lorne Avenues were flooded. A second, but less major effect of the rains was experienced in the town's dry dock area at Fraser Memorial Park and in the vicinity of the Canadian Legion Hall off Quinte Street.

R.C. Clergyman Is Concerned

MONTREAL (CP) — A Roman Catholic clergyman says teen-age immorality in Montreal has increased "alarmingly" during the last 12 months.

"Children are learning too much too early about life because of lack of parental discipline and parental control," Rev. Patrick Ambrose, head of the Catholic welfare bureau, said in a speech prepared for delivery Monday.

In 1954 the bureau cared for eight times as many illegitimately pregnant girls between the ages of 12 and 16 than in 1953, he said, juvenile delinquency problems handled also increased by a third.

CUSTOMS RETURNS LOWER IN FEBRUARY

The Custom returns showed a downward trend again for February as they did in January compared to the corresponding months of last year. The returns for February, 1955, were $585,271.49, while for February of 1954 they were $652,459.40.

Special Committee of Six To Discuss Veterans' Housing

A special committee of six, including three members from city council and three representatives of veterans living in the veterans' rental housing areas, will meet in an effort to work out some amicable agreement regarding the proposed increase in payments in lieu of taxation from the Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation.

This was decided by city council Monday evening after about 100 veterans from the Canadian Legion and tenants from the two veterans' housing areas, attended council protesting the proposed increased payments which in turn would mean higher rents.

There are two recommendations before council, one requesting higher payments in lieu of taxes from the Central Mortgage and Housing for the veterans' housing units in the city, and the second one requesting that the houses be offered for sale.

MORE RESPONSIBILITY CLAIM

Les. Digby, spokesman for the Canadian Legion, declared that in seeking increased payments in lieu of taxes, the city was failing in its moral responsibility to veterans who at the termination of the war were promised low rental housing. He urged that the present agreement in connection with the veterans rental houses remain in force for its full term.

He noted that when the two rental housing projects had been completed the city had entered into an agreement fixing the amount to be paid in the city in lieu of taxes. This agreement, calling for annual payments of $70 for bungalows and $75 for one-and-a-half storey houses, was to remain in force for 50 years.

Under the resolution before council Central Mortgage and Housing would be asked to increase payments in lieu of taxes to $112. Rentals would be increased a maximum of $3.50 per month.

Mr. Digby noted that the $3.50 increase in monthly rentals would prove a hardship for many tenants who are among low income groups. Some of the tenants are war widows with children living on set pensions.

Tony Mason, as spokesman for veterans living in the rental area, could see no justification for the proposed increase declaring that the agreement entered into by the city was still a good one and good enough for 70 municipalities across Canada.

He declared there were many needy cases among the veterans where the proposed increase would prove a hardship.

Arthur C. Cole declared that the intention behind the veterans' rental housing was to provide homes for veterans in the low wage groups but this had been lost sight of by Central Mortgage. In some instances veterans earning four to six thousand per year were occupying low rentals in the two local veterans' housing areas.

He suggested that rentals be graduated with the tenants income as a basis, also tenants who could afford it should be given the opportunity to purchase their homes.

Alderman H. J. Clarke as acting mayor assured that council would give the matter every consideration, while Alderman Graham recommended that a committee of six be appointed to go into the matter and report to council.

"I think a committee of council members and veterans could tell their story across the table and come to some amicable agreement," he said. The motion carried.

A second resolution before council calling for the veterans' houses to be offered for sale, was tabled until the report of the committee is received.

COMPLETE MAPPING

OTTAWA (CP) — The Royal Canadian Engineers' army survey establishment has just completed a top-priority job—mapping for the mid-Canada radar line. Mapping at a rate of more than 1,000 square miles a week, the unit has finished charts covering 40,000 square miles across a strip of Canada at roughly the 55th parallel.

Parents Save Seven of Eight Children in Fire

OTTAWA (CP) — Mr. and Mrs. Rudolphe Barnabe fought time and fire early today to save seven of their eight children from their burning three-room house on the city's southeast outskirts. Eighteen-month-old Emile perished in the blaze.

The family was sleeping in the three-room bungalow when fire, believed to have started from an overheated stove in the kitchen was discovered about 4 a. m. From the moment it awakened Mrs. Barnabe, the rescue was a race against the wood-fed flames.

Emile was sharing a front room with Margaret, 9; Roger, 7; Peter, 4; and Gerry, 2. Lucien, 13, and Andre, 12, slept in a back bedroom while the baby Maurice, 3 months, slept in his parents' room.

Mrs. Barnabe, clad only in a nightgown, carried out Maurice and her first impulse was to take the smaller children to her through a burning hallway, not knowing that Emile was still in the house and although she tried to reach him they could not get through the flames.

World Day Of Prayer Held In United Church

REDNERSVILLE — The women of the village and district met at 3 o'clock on Friday for the service of prayer and praise. The president of the local Women's Missionary Society, Mrs. T. F. Townsend, was in charge of the service which had been prepared by Japanese Canada, of Argentina. The theme, "Abide in Me", John 15: 4, was read as a call to worship and all joined in the Adoration. Mrs. Melvin Pulver led the Devotions and Mrs. Townsend and Mrs. C. Calnan led in the seven meditations of Penitence, Thanksgiving and Intercession. Miss M. Rorabeck, with Mrs. J. Ward at the accompanist sang "Abide With Us Thou Son of God."

Prayers were offered by Mrs. H. Pulver, Mrs. S. Fox, Mrs. W. Pulver and Mrs. T. F. Townsend. An impressive address on "Building for Eternity," by Mrs. Wilfred Jarrett of Manasseh, was a challenge and an inspiration to all.

Offering were received by Mrs. C. Dulven and Mrs. A. Rorabeck and dedicated by Mrs. K. Weese.

The much-loved hymn, "The Day Thou Gavest Lord is Ended," which is sung every year at the close of the service of prayer was followed by the benediction by the president, brought to a close another link in the circle of prayer and fellowship, which encircled the globe.

THIS LEAVES US BREATHLESS

Ontario is testing a "breathalyzer," described as "a wet foolproof machine to test motorists suspected of drunkenness."

Down in Montreal Dr. I. M. Rabinowitch is probably pity telling himself that some things are enough to drive man to drink!

Last fall Dr. Rabinowitch visited Belleville to address district No. 6 of the Federation of County and District Associations.

He said there were four types of chemical tests to determine when a man is intoxicated, blood tests, urine tests, saliva tests and breath tests. Breath tests, he said, are based on four assumptions, all only partly true. If man resisted a breath test the physiology of respiration could automatically result in a higher reading than would be shown by blood tests. If he had already told his audience of 80 lawyers that individuals vary in the amount of alcohol they can have in their blood before becoming intoxicated, that the amount usually may become intoxicated. If at different levels at different times, that the amount of alcohol in the blood is not the determining factor as to whether a man is drunk but rather that this depends on the amount of alcohol in the brain and that a person may be definitely sober with a high amount of alcohol in the blood when the alcoholic content is decreasing but definitely drunk with a lower concentration of alcohol when the alcoholic content is rising.

So Ontario is testing a machine which will show the amount of alcohol in the breath, which does not invariably indicate the amount of alcohol in the blood, and the amount of alcohol in the blood not invariably indicate the amount of alcohol in the brain and whether or not a man is intoxicated depends not upon the amount of alcohol in the breath or in the blood but the amount of alcohol in the brain. And the concentration of alcohol in the brain required to make a man intoxicated varies with the individual and varies with the same individual at different times.

"Foolproof," the report says.

If Dr. Rabinowitch is right—and he is a former associate professor of medicine at McGill University and lecturer in medical jurisprudence and toxicology and a former director of the department of medicine at the Montreal General Hospital—if Dr. Rabinowitch is right that machine had better be foolproof. It will be getting a real test in that department.

DISGUISED BACON

N. C. Schneider, Liberal member of the House of Commons for Waterloo, says that there has been too much talk about red-striped wrappings on bacon.

Nothing is said, he declares, about green oranges being colored, kippers being packaged in orange transparent wrappings, peaches being covered by red netting or Winnipeg goldeye fish being dyed.

If our information is correct, the oranges which are colored are imported, though green in color, and the coloring process is just a remedy for a defect in the consumer's understanding of oranges, a lot of people believing that an orange must be orange in color, as well as in name, if it is ripe.

As for orange kippers, we doubt whether the color is construed by purchasers as indicative of the ripeness of those us, edibility of the fish and from all accounts the Winnipeg goldeye would be fit for a queen without any beauty treatment.

We doubt if nothing on peaches is in a different category. Here Mr. Schneider is in error when he says that nothing has been said about this netting. Much has been said about it—and little that has been said has been complimentary and much that has been said has been unprintable. But a green peach in red netting can be turned into an appetizing dish by an expert cook.

We have yet to see a strip of the bacon which can give up to the false appeal of its striped wrapper, no matter how expert the cook.

Mr. Schneider had deplored the Jack Spratt habits of many Canadians in spurning all fat, we should have had more sympathy with him. No meat is good meat without some fat. It must be added, however, that no meat is good meat without some lean, and a red stripe on a wrapper is no satisfactory substitute for a strip of lean meat in a rasher of bacon, Mr. Schneider and all other members of Parliament with packing-house family names to the contrary.

TRUCKS AND CARS

Big transports carrying new automobiles from busy factories to proud new owners rumble through Belleville, day and night.

They are a common sight. Few residents here give them a second glance.

Sometimes, though, familiarity blinds us to interesting little facts.

It was not until the other day, when we noted a carladen transport parked on a Belleville street, that we became aware that the vehicle must be commonplace but is nevertheless worthy of note.

The transport was loaded with Buicks. The truck was a Fargo.

These car transports are owned by private firms, not by the car manufacturers and these firms carry cars for more than one manufacturer. There is really nothing surprising, therefore, in a Ford truck laden with General Motors cars—or vice versa.

Still, the diplomatic truck-owner might consider purchasing his trucks from a firm which does not also manufacture cars.

SORRY FATE

He lived a poor life, rich to be,
And, at the end,
The fortune he had gained had been
But not one friend.

The living to the dead are kind,
Or try to be.
Just words of hate
Recalled to phrase his last
Not one had praise of him to tell.
Just words of hate
Recalled to phrase his last
Remembrance be.

He lived with shame. He died with shame.
Corruption vile had stained his name
As black as pitch.

THE PACKSACK

By GREGORY CLARK

A friend of mine came out his back door the other afternoon just in time to see a little boy of about 8 years of age haul off with his leather-mittened hand and slap another little boy of about five or six across the face. It was in a neighbor's yard, and the six year old, who is the neighbor's child, is a constant chum of my friend's.

The blow was a stunner, rocked the smaller boy, made his mouth nose bleed, and set him howling.

My friend shouted at the larger boy, and going down to him

GIRL MISSING

Julia Carter, eight, missing from her Toronto home since February 23 may be the victim of foul play, police believe. The little girl was last seen in a school yard and when she did not arrive home on schedule, search was started. No trace of her has been found and her parents fear she was lured into a car. Prudham Sees No Increase For Gold Price

OTTAWA (CP)—Mines Minister Prudham has indicated he foresees no increase for Canada's gold-mining industry in the United States-fixed price of the industry's product.

The indication he gave the Commons Monday was the introduction of a measure to extend federal gold mining subsidies for another two years on a reduced scale.

Mr. Prudham said the question of a price increase was discussed frankly with the U.S. government which, as the world's major gold buyer, sets the price. For years the price has been $35 an ounce in U.S. funds.

He said if there were any likelihood the U.S. would approve a price increase the government would not be introducing legislation to extend aid to gold mines through 1955 and 1956.

Opposition members, however, called for something more permanent than federal subsidies to help Canadian gold producers meet their problem of a fixed price and rising costs.

Donald Fleming (PC — Toronto Eglinton) said a subsidy is no answer. He asked what the government is doing to seek a higher gold price and to encourage restoration of sterling convertibility.

Debate came on a resolution preliminary to introduction of the bill, which would reduce by some $4,500,000 this year the federal assistance to mines. The aid program, in effect since 1948, cost about $10,000,000 last year.

Mr. Prudham said gold mine operators have made "very successful" attempts to increase efficiency and cut costs. But the high value of the Canadian dollar was against them. With sales made on the basis of the fixed U.S. price, the exchange premium on the Canadian dollar results in a Canadian value of less than $35 an ounce.

He said the new formula won't result in the closing of any mines. Gold production increased last year and "we anticipate the new formula would discourage that trend."

Trenton Community Centre Stages Brilliant Boxing Card

By GEORGE H. CARVER
(Sports Editor)

Take Sergeant Hub Smith, The Royal Canadian Air Force, Trenton Station, a few hard-working members of the Trenton Community Centre Committee, garnish them with a colorful touch of "Long" John Silver, put 'em to work, and you've got yourself at least a boxing card as you would wish to see.

That is what happened at the south station hangar last night and upwards of 1900 boxing fans will vouch for the statement.

It was the best all - round beat-busting melee these sport-weary optics have seen in many a moon. There were upsets and knock-downs. There was color, music, the familiar roar of the fight crowd, trophies, VIP's and all the enjoyable garnishings that go with a service sports show.

There were surprises, too. The big grudge fight between Belleville's Eddie Schamerhorn and Trenton's Ray Deshane did not develop into the brawl anticipated. It saw a fine-conditioned Deshane administer a thorough beating to Schamerhorn under the fine tutelage of Mark Sierra battered his Trenton foeman almost at will after a doctor was called in the second round to examine a bleeding cut over Deshane's eye. Deshane was declared out in the audition but he couldn't smile his way to victory. He was definitely outclassed by the Belleville boxer.

SWING WHEN YOU MEET

The main bout between Don Wallace, a native of Huntingdon township who headquarters in Barrie, and Gunner Ernie Murelle of Picton was one of the wildest swinging melees ever seen in this district. Wallace, one of the better writers of Ontario, was floored twice for an eight-count in the first round when the roundhouse rights of the artillerman caught him flush on the button.

But it was short-lived. Wallace got the range in the second round and dropped Durelle four times besides battering him down to the ropes with no count on several occasions. He punished the Picton gunner mercilessly at times with Durelle sliding and swinging. But Durelle was dead after the third round ended. Wallace won the last four rounds by a wide margin according to the judges, Barrie, and Gunner Ernie Dur

Weddings

KNAPP—McCULLOUGH

The marriage of Shirley Ann Marina, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. Lanfear McCullough of Desoronto, to Lloyd George Knapp, son of Mrs. George Knapp of Algonquin, Ontario, and the late Mr. Knapp, took place in Wall Street church, Brockville, on Saturday, February 12 with the minister, the Rev. Dr. Dean E. Burns officiating. Interpositions in the church were narcissus and daffodils.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in a mist blue suit with matching hat with pearl and rhinestone trim and navy blue accessories. She carried a bouquet of pink rosebuds, hyacinth pelats and pink carnations with pink streamers and an heirloom handmade lace handkerchief which had been carried on the wedding day by her mother and members of the family through about five generations.

Mrs. Earl Knapp, sister-in-law of the bridegroom, was the matron of honor. She wore a champagne shade suit with tan accessories, and carried an identical nosegay in deeper tone.

The best man was Mr. Earl Knapp, brother of the bridegroom, and the ushers were Mr. Edward Foster of Toronto and Mr. Herbert Knapp, of Spencerville, cousins respectively of the bride and bridegroom.

The mother of the bride received her guests in the ballroom of the Hotel Maitlonna, Brockville, gowned in charcoal grey taffeta with velvet trim, matching jacket, black velvet cocktail hat, black accessories, with pink carnation corsage. The mother of the bridegroom assisted, wearing rose corel crepe and lace gown, navy and rose coral hat, navy accessories and a dark rose carnation corsage.

A wedding dinner was served to about 40 guests, the immediate relatives of the bride and bridegroom. A beautifully decorated three-tiered wedding cake made by her aunt, Mrs. D. G. Allen, of Brockville, was cut by the bride, assisted by the bridegroom.

For travelling the bride wore over her suit a short grey Chinese kid fur jacket with white gardenia corsage. The happy couple departed by train for a brief honeymoon in Toronto.

Minerva OES Celebrates 29th Anniversary

Twenty-nine years ago Minerva Chapter 138, O.E.S., was instituted in Belleville. In the Masonic Temple, Friday evening, the members and a large number of guests met to celebrate the occasion.

They were honored in having as their special guest, Mrs. Ethel Wilfong, Worthy Grand Matron of the Grand Chapter of Ontario. Also present were: Mrs. Edna Dobbs, Grand Martha and Mrs. Ida Broad, D.D.G.M.

The Worthy Matron and Patron extended a hearty welcome to all present and paid special tribute to the number of Past Matrons and Patrons of Minerva Chapter who were present.

During the evening, the charter members present were given a special welcome, and after an impressive ceremony, were presented with corsages, representing the colors of the Star.

The Worthy Grand Matron cut the birthday cake with the presiding Matron assisting. She wished the chapter many more years of success.

At the close of the meeting the members and guests enjoyed the refreshments and dancing which brought the enjoyable evening to a close.

IRON SHIP CONTRACT

TOKYO (AP) — Japan's Ino Heavy Industry Co. has contracted to build four 9,250-ton freighters, costing $1,110,000 each, for Hellenic Lines, a Greek-owned New York firm. The 3,900-horsepower ships to be delivered within 18 months.

'Foreign Missions' Interesting Topic at Victoria Baptist W.M.C.

The Women's Mission Circle of Victoria Avenue Baptist Church met for its February meeting in the church on Tuesday evening with 30 members present.

The president, Miss E. Nurse, presided and led in the worship service.

Miss Nurse gave some thoughts on "Shall We Observe Lent?" Continuous, purposeful devotion is necessary for spiritual vitality. Jesus Himself recognized this need and took much time for meditation and prayer. But He did not teach that there is any merit in fasting undertaken for His own sake, depriving ourselves and thereby fastening attention upon the body. There is no point in just giving up something for Lent" and prayer by Miss Nurse. the glory of God is a different matter. The original purpose of Lent was to draw the attention of the Christian church to the diving grace bestowed upon us in Jesus Christ. An annual period devoted to that end should draw us all nearer to Him and to one another." The worship period concluded with a poem "A True Lent' and prayer by Miss Nurse.

The Watch Tower was given by Mrs. C. Campbell and contained several brief items of interest from the various mission fields.

The speaker of the evening was the Rev. L. K. Daniel, who said that he was always glad to address a women's group because women had always played such a strong part in the work of the Kingdom. Jesus did so much for women to elevate them from their former low position, and from the beginnings of the life of the church, women, by their loyalty and devotion, have exercised a great influence.

FOREIGN MISSIONS

Mr. Daniel gave a most interesting talk about foreign missionaries, mentioning some of the seven handicaps under which they still labor on the foreign fields today, and which those at home are scarcely aware of because they so seldom dwell on that side of the picture in addressing meetings when home on furlough.

Many of the interesting incidents related were told the speaker by his elder brother, Dr. Orville Daniel, who with his wife, spent many years in India.

There is the handicap of a climate which is difficult to bear. In India they suffer from prickly heat ten months of the year —it is sticky, as well as hot, with temperatures to 110 degrees. The sun's rays are so strong they dare not go outside at any time of day without wearing a pith helmet as protection.

INSECT HANDICAP

There is the handicap of the insects, which are so numerous it is impossible to keep them out of their houses. The legs of their piano or tables have to rest in cans of water to keep the insect pests from destroying everything and their books must be dipped frequently in kerosene to keep them from being eaten by bookworms. Most of the missionaries suffer from malaria as a result of mosquito bites. They must be constantly on guard against poisonous snakes, which sometimes get inside their homes in spite of precautions.

There is the financial handicap which they voluntarily assume because the missionaries cannot get too far—economically—above the people they are trying to reach or a gap is created which their words will more difficult.

HANDICAP OF LONELINESS

They face the handicap of loneliness and of separation from their children, who must be sent away to school when the time comes. The very nature of their task is a handicap when they try to instil Christian ideas and ideals into the people who have their own heritage of culture and religions set down through the centuries.

These are just a few of the sacrifices made, gladly and consistently, by the wonderful men and women on the foreign mission fields.

A brief business period followed during which the reports of the treasurer and the secretaries were heard and other items dealt with.

The meeting was closed with the Hebrew benediction, after which refreshments were served by the social committee.

DISC JOCKEY RECORD

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The strains of "So All Alone" left the air today after 60 hours—and a marathon record—of continuous play by a pair of St. Louis University disc jockeys. The Betty Clooney record started spinning at 12:07 p. m. Fri. day and was played 1,523 times until 12:07 a. m. today over KSHE, the campus radio station. Six records were worn out. The pair turned on newscasts about every half-hour.

It's Smart To Look Your Most Attractive

BY HELEN FOLLETT

IT'S a dull woman who can't endow herself with some qualities of beauty and charm. The thoughtful, observing, intelligent woman makes the most of her good points, knows how to play down those that are not so good.

A MATTER OF PARTS

The pattern of beauty has become a matter of parts, rather than a whole. Each separate part may not be a feature or perfection but, if the average is good, a woman can appear attractive.

A woman should take beauty inventory now and then. Has she progressed along the good-looks path or slipped back a bit? Beauty experts know a woman can make herself over from head to toes, if she wants to do so.

Maybe it's time you gave glamor some serious thought. Sit down and ask yourself the following questions:

Is your hair lustrous and shining, arranged in a modish and becoming manner? Do you need a new permanent?

Is your skin of fine texture, pleasing color, satin-smooth?

Do you give your teeth fastidious care, never side-step that semi-annual visit to the dentist?

Are your eyebrows neat and shapely, or are you tweezing and teasing them down to a too-thin line?

What about your neck? If you have given it proper care, it will be a clear of color as your complexion.

Is your figure slim or have you added a little weight? Better watch it.

Are hands smooth and white? Do they move with grace?

Do you wear comfortable shoes?

Is your voice pleasing? It will add considerably to the sum total of your charm qualities if it is.

ACTRESS DIES

NEW YORK (AP) — Actress Ethel Levey, former wife of the late George M. Cohan and a performer in all his productions from 1901 to 1907, died of a heart attack Sunday. She was 72. Miss Levey divorced Cohan in 1907 and in 1916 married Edward Canfield, a pioneer in development of British commercial aviation. In 1933 she divorced Grahame-White, who now is in London.

Young Couples Want Modern Homes Today Retailers Hear

By FORBES RHUDE
Canadian Press Business Editor

OTTAWA (CP)—Young couples today want modern equipment and comforts in their homes while their families are still young, Byrne Hope Sanders, Toronto consumer research executive said Monday night.

Speaking to the Canadian Retail Federation's annual dinner she commented that older people sometimes complain that young folks want to start off where their parents left off.

"Well," she asked, "why shouldn't they?"

EASIER WAY TO SAVE

This trend, as one of its phases, had increased consumer credit enormously but, providing it was within reason, she was all for it. It was much easier to save, not by making payments on something needed and enjoyed, rather than in a vague way just to save.

Miss Sanders said about 23 per cent of Canada's labor force today considered it necessary to own all these about one-third were married, worked for their own homes; Their numbers had increased four-fold between 1941 and 1951 and are expected to double by grow.

Miss Sanders predicted that in the foreseeable future "most of our stores may be closed in the forenoons and open all the afternoons and evenings."

URGES PERSONAL SELLING

Sales staffs should realize that personal recognition of a woman and her problems could win her loyalty, she told the retailers.

Miss Sanders said never once had she received an inquiry from a store stating if she liked the goods they sold her. Personal recognition of customers in the competitive era ahead would be of vital importance—keeping track of newcomers, new babies, even anniversaries.

There was little in comparison with the impact upon the customer.

Chief Justice J.C. McRuer To Speak Here

Chief Justice McRuer of the Court of Appeal and Chief Justice of the High Court of Justice, will address the Women's Canadian Club on Thursday evening in Queen Alexandra School, Ann Street, on the subject, "Elizabeth, Queen of Canada."

Justice McRuer, who graduated from Osgoode Hall in 1913, also served his country overseas in the Canadian artillery, where he was wounded. After returning to Canada, he was appointed assistant Crown Attorney for the City of Toronto, and the County of York.

At present, Justice McRuer is chairman of the Royal Commission investigating the question of insanity as a defence in criminal cases, and the law with respect to psychopathic sexual offenders. He served from 1937-38 as one of the commissioners on the Archambault Commission investigation of the Penal System of Canada.

Chief Justice McRuer and Mrs. McRuer were present in Westminster Abbey on the occasion of the Coronation of Queen Elizabeth. In view of this, his address will be one of outstanding interest.

John Locke's 'Use of Words' Discussed

Dr. John Martin, president of the Great Books Discussion group this year, also was leader for John Locke's essay on "Use of Words". The problems of exact meanings and proper uses seem to have existed in the 1600's as well as today. Nine members were present at last Monday's meeting and a lively discussion took place for the usual two hours.

HILLIER W.I.

HILLIER SOUTH— The Hillier W. I. was held last Friday evening at the home of the president, Mrs. D. Boyle, with 19 members and four visitors present.

Mrs. H. Weese, first vice president, presided, Mrs. S. Foster as secretary and Mrs. Clapp, pianist.

Mrs. Weese thanked Mrs. Boyle for entertaining the group and welcomed the members and visitors. A report was given of Miss Anna P. Lewis' engagement to Professor W.T. Ervin of Q. A. C. Mrs. Wanamaker had received a letter from Miss Lewis since the last meeting in January giving details of the wedding which would take place April 16th.

The business section followed, correspondence read and "thank you" notes received.

Mrs. Monaghan, convener of citizen and education, gave a splendid paper on this topic.

Mrs. Timmerman had charge of the program and gave an excellent talk on Holland, mentioning the growing of tulips. Men folks over there do no housework, nor push the baby carriage. The women are industrious and have their "Home Makers" Club correspondding to the W.I. in Canada. It was owing to high taxes in Holland, that caused so many people to come to live in Canada.

Mrs. Timmerman and her daughter Mrs. DeVries, upon special request sang one number in their native language.

Mrs. DeVries delighted the group by playing two selections on the accordion. Mrs. Timmerman conducted a "Heart" contest which was interesting and amusing. All joined in a merry singsong.

Mrs. Lonsberry and Mrs. Foster assisted the hostess in serving refreshments and social time was enjoyed.

Next meeting to be held at the home of Mrs. C. Benway.

GOOD MANNERS

By MRS. BEECKMAN

THEY SHOULD NOT SERVE ALCOHOLIC DRINKS

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

My husband's parents are to celebrate their 40th Wedding Anniversary in a few weeks. He is the only child I thought that we should do something special to observe this occasion. Already we have several questions, and we will certainly appreciate your help.

1. The actual date falls on a Thursday. Quite a few of the guests we would very, very much want to come would not be able to come except on a Sunday, because of the distance. Would it be at all permissible to celebrate this occasion on a Sunday, not the "real" date? If so, should it be the Sunday before or after the date?

2. Our idea is perhaps to have Open House for relatives and friends from 2 o'clock to 5 o'clock. You approve?

3. How would I invite the guests? By written notes signed by my husband and myself, by telephone, ten notes, or should we have the invitations printed?

4. Last, a most important question. My husband and I follow our religious belief that it is wrong to partake of alcoholic beverages. Yet my husband feels that some of his aunts and uncles will expect this as a matter of course. Do you think it would be better to do anything about having a party to celebrate this occasion, rather than not serve these beverages?

This is the type of menu we would like to serve: Open-face sandwiches, nut-bread sandwiches; mints, and so forth; coffee; and the Wedding Anniversary Cake decorated for the occasion. Sound right to you? — Me

1. This is indeed permissible, entirely proper, and quite often the practical plan for the convenience of the majority of guests. But the party should be given on the Sunday after the actual date.

2. An excellent plan . . . and these hours give a leeway for the convenience of all.

3. You may invite the guests verbally or by telephone; notes to those at a distance. Or you may write friendly little notes of invitation. Or on the inside pages of folded-over c a r d s (informals) write:

1915-1955

Dear Martha and John,

Please come to be w i t h us to celebrate the 40th Wedding Anniversary of Ken's mother and father—Mr. and Mrs. Jonathan Allen—here on Sunday afternoon, April—from 2 to 5 o'clock. The "bride and groom" will cut the Anniversary Cake at 4 o'clock! Do say you'll come.

Love to you both, from all here.

Affectionately,
Mary

(Don't send typewritten notes, and don't send printed invitations.)

4. Make no compromise whatever with your religious belief . . . serve no alcoholic beverages, and make no mention whatever about not serving them. The menu you've planned is quite all right, except that you should, I think, serve a fruit punch (or ginger ale or whatever you like) for the guests to drink when the toasts are proposed "To the Bride and Groom," perhaps as they cut and share together the first slice of The Cake.

SHOWER IN LARGE HOUSE

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

A dear friend of mine is giving a Baby Shower for me. Her home is too small to accommodate the number of friends to be invited. Do you think it would be all right for the shower to be held at my mother's larger house? — M.M.

Yes . . . this would be proper if, as I judge, it will be more convenient for all concerned.

PROCEED WITH CARE . . . SOCIALLY

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

I was graduated from college two years ago, and I now work and live in a large city where I don't know very many people. About three months ago I went to a charming tea-party given by a college friend of mine, and there I met a most delightful and cultivated woman who is very "top drawer" here. Yesterday I was thrilled and delighted to receive from her her visiting-card invitation to a large tea she is giving.

(1) Although there was no "R.s. v.p." on the invitation, I did write her a note of acceptance. Was this proper, Mrs. Beeckman?

(2) I would like very much to send her a corsage (perhaps one white or pink camellia, which would seem to me appropriate to her exquisite personality), for her to wear at her tea. What would you think of this? — B.B.

(1) You did the gracious thing . . . to write a note of acceptance of this kind invitation. Although this isn't necessary, it's a gesture-of-grace, an amenity appealing to all hostesses.

(2) Since you know this hostess so little, I definitely don't advise that you send her a corsage. For you wouldn't know if she enjoyed wearing a corsage (many women don't you know), and it would put you in an awkward position if she didn't wear yours at the tea-party. However, it would be quite proper, appropriate, for you to send her some simple flowers, daffodils perhaps (or some tiny pink or garnet roses) to arrive on the morning of the party, to be used as a decoration.

MONEY-GIFT

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

A friend of my husband's and mine is being married, and we would like to give the couple money as a wedding present. Should it be a check or cash? Also when is it given; that is, should it be sent before the wedding, or brought to the reception? — Reader.

Better to send a check . . . made out in the name of the bride, since wedding presents belong to her. This wedding present, like all wedding presents, should be sent to the bride-to-be at her home, before the wedding. Don't present it at the reception.

SEASONAL BEAUTY PROBLEMS

Sartorial trappings bought when the leaves began to turn aren't quite as exciting today as they were then. One may need a few pretty doodads to brighten them up for a change. Similarly, the complexion may look a bit weather-worn now and may be in need of a more colorful powder, brighter rouge and lipstick.

Mid-season hair styling with spring still in the offing, and without much outdoor exercise, you may feel house-bound—especially if you are a homemaker—and when this happens it's a good time to go to the beauty shop and get the works. Life will look rosier, and so will your complexion.

There's nothing like a facial for a pick up. Expert fingers erase the shadows, the wrinkles and the worry lines. Neck and shoulders are included for no matter how firm your neck may be you cannot depend upon its remaining that way.

Winter is also tough on hands. Even though you may never have to wash pots and pans your hands can look terrible—the skin chapped and red, and definitely not pretty.

A bath and arm treatment along with your facial can work wonderful miracles. It will bleach those greyish-brown arms that you have and have because they never get any of the creamy feasts that are bestowed upon the complexion. The operator will also friction your fingers nails with cream. After a manicure she will put on the new mauve polish that will make them look like lotus buds.

Take a survey of new toiletries. If you have never worn eye shadow, give it a try. Use it discreetly and the master of the house will wonder why he hasn't ever noticed that captivating, mysterious look in your eyes before.

ADVICE to the LOVELORN

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

SHE THINKS TWO CHURCH WEDDINGS WOULD SOLVE HER PROBLEM

Dear Miss Fairfax:

For almost two years, I have been going with a certain fellow who is the savvy and soul going to Formosa.

We have been planning to get married after he returns, but there is one thing in the way, and that is that we are of different faiths, and his parents won't let him change to mine.

I suggest that we could be married in both churches, because I feel that if we do this, there will be no arguments our families can bring up. Am I right in making such a decision? — M.P.

Dear M.P.:

I'm afraid your "decision" is not a very practical one, and that it would solve nothing, even if an arrangement of this kind were acceptable to the churches of both your faiths. For it would hardly bring about a change of viewpoint on the part of the parents.

If I were you, I would not try to make any decision right now about a specific way of solving your problem. Since your young man is in the navy, and going overseas, you will have a certain amount of time to think everything over while he is gone, and so will he. Moreover, he will be writing regularly to each other and can exchange ideas on the problem in your letters.

Each of you should consult the minister, priest or rabbi of your respective churches—he might discuss it with his chaplain—and get his ideas as to how you might solve the problem. Then, when the young man returns, you can get together and pool all the information you have accumulated, and all the thinking you have done, and come to a more reasoned and intelligent decision than you can at this moment.

The point is, that in any problem such as yours, there are a great many things to take into consideration, a n d no conclusions should be arrived at in a hurry. Also, if both of you are considerate of your parents' viewpoints, and let them see that you are not just going to brush their views aside, you may find that they will take a more tolerant attitude as time goes on.

So, have patience and be willing to wait. You have nothing to lose by doing so. Since you cannot be married immediately anyhow, and you may gain all around in a knowledge of how to bring about a solution.

DOES HE WRITE TOO MANY LETTERS?

Dear Miss Fairfax:

I'm a boy of 16, and my problem concerns a girl and my interest in writing letters. This girl moved to Formosa and needs help about it because it is getting to be a big issue in our town.

The thing is that I write to a lot of girls I have met during summer vacations and who live in other cities, and I also write to a number of my friends who are in service. My mother objects to my writing to so many people, and has nagged me about it a much that I have become very peeved.

Which of us is right? — Paul S.

Dear Paul:

I can think of several reasons why your mother might object to your writing so many letters. For example, it may be interfering with your homework fro m school; or with things she reasonably expects you to help with around the house; or with your normal recreational activities with other young people; or with time that you should really be spending on still other things. Perhaps, also, you are asking too often for money to pay big phone bills.

You might check on these points, and see if you may not be able to put your finger on something that happy about it some day after accounts for her disapproval. Then you've grown up and left home.

correct it.

If you are careful not to spend a disproportionate amount of time on this one activity, and not let it cause you to postpone or ignore other responsibilities, then I don't believe your mother will care how many people you write to. Faithful correspondents are rare these days, and she should be pleased if she has one in the family. If you hold on to that trait, she'll be very young for a breathing space.

A Pie for Church Supper

By Mary Moore

To our potluck supper they brought scalloped potatoes and various vegetables and salads and pies. I baked a ham and a baked dish somehow attract 18 or 19 boys and 12 or 13 girls ranging from 14 to 17 years to attend it every Sunday morning at 9.45 a.m.

About once every two months I plan a supper and have discussion and dancing afterwards. Then see if your faith in young people isn't renewed and your confidence in Canada's future reassured.

Choir practice was going on at the other end of the church while our crowd was washing dishes. In competition with the choir they sang rounds, and if you think eight young people over a sink full of dishes can't outsing 30 adults with an organ, you should come up and hear sometime. There were two doors between us and the choir didn't flinch. Fact is some of the choir members are mothers of our young people, and mighty relieved to have some lively adults in charge of their

of which I'm fond of, and my recipe for it is as follows:

One baked pie crust made from rich plain paste, 2 bananas—quite ripe, 2 tablespoons flour, 1-2 cup sugar, 1-4 teaspoon salt, 2 eggs beaten, 1 1-2 cups scalded milk, 1 teaspoon vanilla. Mix together the dry ingredients and add to the milk, stirring constantly, and cook in double boiler until smooth and thick. Cook 10 minutes longer, stirring occasionally. Pour gradually over slightly beaten eggs. Return to double boiler and cook for three minutes. Add vanilla. Slice the bananas into baked crust and pour filling over them while it is still quite hot. Sprinkle top with cocoanut or the whites of eggs may be reserved and made into a meringue. To whites add six tablespoons sugar and beat until they will stand in soft peaks, add a dash of salt and 1 teaspoon vanilla, and put on top of hot filling. Bake meringue in slow oven at 275 deg. Fahr. until baked and golden—about 30 to 40 minutes. Serve pie within about three hours for it to be at its peak of perfection.

HAPPY ENDING TO CRASH LANDING, LONG WAIT IN ARCTIC

The RCMP plane is back in Churchill, Man., scene the worse for having crash-landed in the Arctic tundra and having waited for four days until spotted by RCAF planes. Seven persons aboard the downed craft lived on larded toast and tea in 55-below-zero temperature. The crash-landing occurred when bad weather closed in on them on a flight to Ennadai air station and a radio beam which they were following was switched off.

Special Constable Gordon Bartlett of Churchill, Man., tells his wife how he and the other rescued persons huddled in a tent to keep warm during the four days they spent on the Arctic snow. They had enough food, but a few days more and they would have had no fuel for cooking or heating. (Central Press Canadian Photos.)

Nerve Gas Fatal in Ten Minutes Says Scientist

By R. L. JONES
Canadian Press Staff Writer

ARMPRIOR, Ont. (CP)—A nerve gas that kills with little warning in 10 minutes is one of the grim prospects of modern chemical warfare.

If such warfare begins, a top civil defence scientist said yesterday, Canadian servicemen and possibly civilians, too, will have to carry vials of the drug atropine for quick self-injection.

The drug, along with artificial respiration, now is the only known effective treatment.

Western scientists are on the trail of a "blocking agent" that would prevent the gas from doing its deadly work on the nerve centres of the body. But no cure-all pills are promised.

GERMANS FOUND IT

The scientist was Dr. F. C. Pace, medical consultant in the special weapons section of Canada's civil defence health service. Talking to a group of 45 doctors taking the first medical indoctrination course at Canada's civil defence college here, he said the gas was developed by the Germans during the Second World War and now is known to be in the hands of the Russians.

The Russians, Dr. Pace added, undoubtedly would be willing to use the gas if they felt it necessary.

The doctors Dr. Pace lectured represent every province except Prince Edward Island and Newfoundland and come mostly from large industrial plants. They are learning how to treat the injured and the dying in war and will go home to pass on the knowledge.

OTHER MAJOR DANGERS

The doctors were told they could expect mass casualties in the event of a hydrogen bomb attack. There was the possibility of, biological attack by "clouds" of poisonous germs.

Later in the week-long course the doctors will be given the latest information on how they should handle these problems.

J. F. Wallace, chief instructor at the college, estimated a noon-day H-bomb blast over Toronto or Montreal would result in 1,000,000 casualties, with or without warning, and said Canada should decentralize her heavy centres of population and industry.

MENACE TO COASTS

Dr. C. A. Mitchell, chief of the agriculture department's animal pathology division, posed the possibility of an enemy launching a biological attack. He said warning with enough sustained virulence for military use are hard to find but anthrax spores are a possibility.

Dr. Mitchell warned that coastal cities may be most vulnerable to such an attack, launched by a ship just offshore, shooting clouds of germs inland. Animals and crops also were vulnerable because some forms of infection to which they were susceptible could spread quickly.

452,990 Lbs. Cheese Made At Ben Gill

PICTON — Ben Gill Cheese and Butter Co-operative handled 5,092,153 pounds of milk from which 452,990 pounds of cheese was manufactured, the annual report for the past year revealed. Butterfat totalled 165,361.9 pounds, making 2.7 lbs. cheese per pound butterfat. Average test was 3.08 percent.

It required 11.2 pounds of milk per pound of cheese.

Average price per pound of butterfat paid was 64c; average price per pound whey fat, 54.4c; average price per thousand pounds milk hauled, $2.10; average price per 100 pounds milk, including subsidies, $2.15; average price per one pound cheese, including subsidies, 30.3c.

Butter sold to patrons totalled 13,203 pounds. June set aside amounted to $224.10.

Cheese sales realized $137,048.97; butter sold patrons, $7,154.50; whey cream sales, $6,875.57. Dominion subsidy on cheese amounted to $4,765.53.

Milk hauling cost $10,871.33. Patrons received a total of $105,-014.49 for milk. Thomas Wannamaker is cheesemaker at this factory.

SHOT IN THE BACK

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—A 37-year-old father told officers Sunday he killed Robert Eugene Ridley, 28, a Tulsa sound technician, because Ridley had committed a sexual attack on his 15-year-old daughter. Pat. Ridley was shot three times in the back and once in the arm Saturday night while on the telephone in his apartment talking to his estranged wife in Independence, Kan. It was his sixth marriage, officers said. The girl said she had dated Ridley.

CCF Will Likely Oppose Increasing Judge's Salaries

OTTAWA (CP) — Any government move at the present session of Parliament to increase salaries of judges likely will be vigorously opposed by the 34-man CCF group in Commons.

Pay boosts for judges and higher pensions for judges' widows have been proposed in a brief submitted to the government by the Canadian Bar Association. However, the government has given no indication that it intends to accept the association's recommendations.

At the last session reports circulated in Ottawa for several months that the government planned to ask Parliament to boost judges' salaries by 25 per cent. However, no action was taken and informants said that a crowded parliamentary agenda caused the proposed legislation aside.

As a result of the Bar Association brief—placed before the cabinet Feb. 17—there is new speculation that action may be taken this session.

CCF spokesmen said at the last session that they oppose salary boosts for members of the judiciary as long as unemployment remains high. They also said any decision to increase judges' salaries should be coupled with a boost in old age pensions.

The Progressive Conservative and Social Credit parties have not yet given any indication of their attitude on the subject.

Latest speculation is that the government may boost the salary of the chief justice of the Supreme Court to $31,000 from $25,000 and other members of the court to $25,000 from $20,000.

If corresponding increases were granted to other federally - appointed judges, these cuties of justices of provincial Supreme Courts would be increased to $20,000, puisne judges of these courts to $18,000 from $14,000 and county and district court judges to $15,000 from $8,000.

The Bar Association recommended that the salaries of provincial chief justices be increased to $20,000, other judges of these courts to $18,500 and judges of county courts to $12,500.

The association's brief said this action should be taken to maintain the highest standards of judicial competence.

Council Gives Approval To Civic Centre

TORONTO (CP) —City council Monday gave its approval to the proposed O'Keefe civic centre and agreed to use expropriation powers if necessary to acquire land for the project proposed by brewery magnate E. P. Taylor.

Despite criticism of the proposal, there were no votes against the motion.

Council also approved plans to build a $1,300,000 women's building at the Canadian National Exhibition, despite doubts expressed by some members that the building might duplicate the functions of the $12,000,000 O'Keefe centre.

Main Operations Of Airport To Be Moved South

BRAMPTON (CP)—Mayor Mrs. Nance Harwood said Monday she had received plans indicating that Malton airport's main operations will be moved a mile south of the present system.

She did not disclose details of the plans, understood to have been drawn up by the department of transport. But she said Brampton, at present in the path of the airport's instrument landing system glide beam, would not oppose them.

The plans are understood to involve a $75,000,000 system of runways and buildings south of Malton, including an 11,000-foot north-south runway to connect the new system with the present one.

Officials in Brampton, about four miles west of the airport, and 18 miles northwest of Toronto, have been worried over the danger of planes flying low over the town when landing.

Advance Polling Privileges To Be Extended

TORONTO (CP)—Legislation extending advance polling privileges to all voters who expect to be away from their home municipalities on an election day is among 57 revisions and amendments to the Ontario Municipal Act introduced Monday in the Ontario legislature by Attorney General Dana Porter.

It was given first reading.

The bill clarified procedures dealing with biennial elections and the staggered system of elections.

The authority to vote at advance polls is extended to cover any person who expects to be absent from the municipality on the day of polling and covers an election officer who will be working elsewhere than in the poll in which he is entitled to vote on election day.

Previously the advance poll was restricted to persons whose employment required that they be absent on election day.

RETIREMENT PAY

Another amendment authorizes the payment of retirement allowances to municipal employees based on length of service in any municipality defined in the Municipal Affairs Act. At present, retirement allowance can only be granted for service in the municipality granting the allowance.

A section has been added allowing the use of voting machines in municipal votes. The composite ballots may carry the names of candidates for council, board of education, public utilities commission or any other elected municipal body and any question or bylaw.

Another new section permits municipalities, without consent of electors, to borrow money for purchase of land for flood control, parking lots, industrial sites, civil defence purposes, primary schools, public libraries and parks set up under agreement with another municipality.

PARKING LAWS

One amendment gives authority to a municipality for setting up a parking authority to operate and manage parking facilities.

The bill provides the maximum that a city, town, village, township or township may spend in a year toward entertainment of distinguished guests, celebrations or travelling expenses for persons on municipal business.

The maximum is $50,000 for municipalities with not less than 500,000 and the minimum $1,000 for those with populations less than 10,000.

The maximum penalty for violation of a municipal by-law is raised from $50 to $300 at discretion of the municipal government.

ACTRESS INJURED

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)—Actress Pier Angeli, wife of crooner Vic Damone, was under hospital treatment today for bruises suffered when she was shaken up on an airplane. The pilot of a Western Air Lines plane said Miss Angeli was in the lavatory when the plane struck turbulent air while nearing the airport on a trip from Los Angeles Friday.

THE Calvert SPORTS COLUMN

by Elmer Ferguson

Between thirty and fifty years ago, give or take a few years, the most prominent name in Canadian professional sport was that of Edouard "Newsy" Lalonde, a quiet, shrewd French Canadian who came out of Cornwall.

Every autumn, there was a war of dollars to decide who would get Lalonde for hockey. In the spring the battle was renewed, with east bidding against west, to hire his great skill and color.

We mention Lalonde now because he, and not Rocket Richard of the present Canadiens, is the greatest goal-scorer in the history of professional hockey. Richard recently passed the 400-goals mark, a tremendous performance. But Lalonde scored 413 goals in major league play, in 20 seasons from 1908 to 1927.

Lalonde at various times led the scorers in four different major professional hockey leagues, the National Association, which preceded the National League, in both of which he was top goal-getter at one time or another; the Pacific Coast League in his hey-dey, when it rated superior to the National Association and had drafting rights on the eastern body, and the Western League, when it was a major organization functioning on the prairies.

Some of the highest total in which Lalonde starred saw only 14, 15 or 16 games. The largest season in Lalonde's history was 26 games. He played 314 League games in all, in one season, with New York Americans, he played only one game and with Saskatoon the year before that, he played only three.

Some of Lalonde's individual feats are truly incredible. He is one of only two players in all the history of major professional League hockey who scored nine goals in a single game. On March 17, 1910, Lalonde was playing for Renfrew Millionaires, one of the most fabulous teams of all time, and the victim of his dead-shot eye was the Cobalt club.

The other player who scored nine goals in a game ended his hockey career with Canadiens. He was Tommy Smith, one of Ottawa's famous Smith family that included Alf and Harry Smith. Tommy was playing for Quebec Bulldogs in the National Association when he performed the 9-goal feat. Montreal Wanderers were the victims.

Some veterans think Lalonde's feat greater than that of Richard, but Lalonde is not among these. "Richard is the greatest who ever lived" Lalonde told the writer of the column. "If he and we didn't have the advantage of forward passing in the earlier years, but never were we forced to contend with the tremendous amount of interference that beset Richard and other modern stars."

St. John's Ladies' Guild served approximately 175 people to a delicious supper in the parochial maple syrup and other delectable viands in the Church of England parish hall on Shrove Tuesday evening. The rector, the Rev. H. C. Secker, gave the invocation.

M.T.F. BANQUET

The ladies of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church catered for a banquet on the occasion of a special meeting of District No. 4, Hastings and Prince Edward branch of "The Ontario Public School Men Teachers' Federation," with 65 in attendance.

The meeting was held in honor of the newly-elected provincial president, Mr. Clarke MacDonald, Port Arthur, Ont.

Following the banquet, the pastor, Rev. W. H. V. Walker, welcomed the group and a brief musical program was enjoyed. The Broadworth sisters sang two duets with Mr. K. P. Mayhew as accompanist and Miss Heather Rodgers contributed two vocal solos with her mother, Mrs. Clarke Rodgers as accompanist.

The men then adjourned to Stirling public school auditorium where a special business session was held. The policies of the federation were thoroughly discussed and these will be presented at the national assembly, which is scheduled to be held Easter week at Niagara Falls.

Mrs. Roy Irvin spent Wednesday with Mrs. Roy Bush, Stirling R.R. 4.

EUCHRE PARTY

On Tuesday evening L.O.L. No. 110, held a successful euchre party in their lodge hall with fourteen tables in play. Master Earl Wallace and his committee were in charge and served appetizing refreshments. The awards were: Ladies, Mrs. Earl Green, Mrs. Tom Hinds; men, Harold McGhee and Bob Sine. Door prize, Mrs. Gordon Mitts.

Mr. James Palmer, who is still undergoing treatments at Malton convalescent hospital, spent the week-end in Stirling with his family.

Marmora

MARMORA—Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Finnegan, of Perth, spent Sunday with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Finnegan.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Meehan and son, Richard of Burlington, spent the week-end with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Meehan.

Mrs. Hugh Brady returned to her home here on Saturday after spending a couple of weeks in a Kingston hospital.

A former Marmora boy, John J. Finnegan, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Finnegan and proprietor of the Land-O'Lanark Cemeteries, was recently elected president of Perth Chamber of Commerce.

Folks of Stirling and Rawdon United Church were shocked to read of the passing of Rev. L. S. Throop, Camilhen, on Sunday last. Mr. Throop was active at Presbytery last Thursday and presented a special report on Church Extension, a part of church work in which he was greatly interested.

As chairman of that committee he challenged the Belleville Presbytery to complete the job of raising their circuit allocation for this important phase of church work. His words will be a lasting memorial to the Extension cause.

Rev. W. G. Fletcher, Rawdon circuit; Dr. A. Packman and Mr. Harold Martin, St. Paul's, attended the funeral at Camilton on Wednesday.

Report on Ban Of Bingo Games Is Requested

TORONTO (CP)—A report on alleged discrimination against North York organizations in the banning of charity bingo games was requested Monday by Attorney-General A. Porter.

A delegation led by North Bay Mayor Merle Dickinson met with Mr. Porter. Deputy Attorney-General Clifford Magone was asked to prepare the report.

The North Bay Elks' Lodge was told two weeks ago to discontinue charity bingos and The Nugget was warned not to accept bingo advertisements. Mr. Dickinson said: "Yet I find in Toronto newspapers an advertisement for bingo being held for the National Ballet Fund," he said. "It isn't coolheaded."

The ban on bingo games in North Bay had been instituted by the local crown attorney and that his decision had probably resolved on the question of whether the bingo games were "occasional," as required by the Criminal Code, Queen's Park officials said.

W. J. DEACON DIES

TORONTO (CP) — William John Deacon, 62, former Canadian Olympic cycling coach, died here Saturday of a heart attack.

Approves Fluoridation

TORONTO (CP) — Suburban Etobicoke council Monday approved a recommendation for fluoridation of water as "one of the soundest and best-proven health measures for prevention of dental caries."

Council decision came after hearing a report by the late Etobicoke medical officer of health, Dr. W.K. Fenton, who died in New York last week. Dr. Fenton had urged fluoridation of water in greater Toronto.

Navigation Starts

WINDSOR (CP)—Navigation of the Great Lakes for 1955 was started when the freighter Carl W. Myers completed a run from Detroit to Toledo, O., and back again Sunday.

The freighter, owned by the Bayering Steamship Company of Detroit, carried coal on the trip. Company officials said the freighter made "almost summer time" on the trip, and encountered only light ice. They said, however, the lakes will not be free for normal traffic until late in April.

BULLET MISSED BRAIN

ST. ALBANS, Vt. (AP) — Fred de Celis, 38, accidentally shot himself in the head, then walked a quarter of a mile to his car and to a doctor's office. Doctors at St. Albans Hospital said today he has a good chance to recover.

Rednersville

REDNERSVILLE — The "REAL" Doubles group were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Roblin on Saturday with ten couples in attendance. The new presidents Leon and Muriel Ward were in charge and plans were made for the spring term to include a visit to Albert College, an evening at bowling and to have the "Two-By-Two" group of Mt. Pleasant as their guests.

The local Women's Association with Mrs. R. Stafford as president sponsored a social evening last Tuesday. Pictures of England and Scotland shown by Miss Barbara Redner of Centre were much enjoyed by all. A humorous reading "Aunt Melina's Opinion of Boys" was given by Mrs. T. F. Townsend. The committee in charge served refreshments.

Mrs. Ralph Stafford is spending a week in St. Catharines.

Twenty girls of the Canadian Girls in Training group enjoyed an evening at the "Y" instead of their usual session.

Campbellford

ST. JOHN'S Y.P.U.

CAMPBELLFORD — The regular meeting of St. John's Y.P.U. was held on Monday with the Anglican Young People as the guests for the evening.

The meeting opened with a sing-song led by Earl Taft, followed by a message of greeting to visitors by Nancy Darrington. The call to worship was given by Arthur Linton. A general confession was said by the whole Young Peoples, followed by Psalm 67 read in unison, led by David Bull. Bob Hendricks gave a prayer and a vocal solo followed by June Ewen.

The business part of the meeting opened with the minutes of the last meeting, followed by the roll call, showing an attendance of 71. Films were shown by Don Nicholls of his trip to New York city and the surrounding area.

The meeting was then turned over to Earl Taft for some games, after which refreshments were served.

MARMORA
C. of C. Holds Dinner Meeting

MARMORA — With about 35 in attendance, the monthly dinner meeting of Marmora District Chamber of Commerce was held in the Royal Hotel, Marmora, on Friday evening, with the president, Harold Olsen in the chair.

Alex Fraser, treasurer, reported the membership to have reached the total of 63. Three subjects were entered into a panel discussion:—

Water; and sewage;

Safety; traffic regulations and parking facilities; and Street lighting.

Forming the panel were:

Ritchie Wells, Reeve of Marmora village; Corporal J. Hatch, Ontario Provincial Police; Chief C. Lockwood, Marmora village, and Fred Wells, Marmora Hydro Commissioner.

While healthy discussion occurred it merely was to index public opinion with no steps to be taken until the opportune time.

Rawdon

1ST CLASS HONORS

RAWDON. — Miss Mildred Morton, 13-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Burton Morton, Harold, Ontario, is receiving congratulations for her music achievement. Mildred has studied Grade II Theory by correspondence under the tuition of Dr. F. J. Horwood, Toronto Conservatory of Music. Late in January she tried that exam at Belleville Collegiate and obtained 95 per cent on the examination; which is probably a record for a girl in her teens.

Early in February, Mildred tried her Grade VIII piano at Albert College Manor, Belleville, and passed that exam successfully. Mildred is a piano pupil of Mrs. Harold Elliott, A.R.C.T., of Stirling, R.R. 1.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Brooks entertained several friends at their home, one evening, recently.

Mr. and Mrs. James Chumbley spent the week-end in Belleville.

GOOD SHOW!

The columnar chapeau goes off to Sergeant Hub Smith and his gang for one, if not the best, boxing cards seen at Station Trenton for many a moon. Over 1200 fight fans thrilled to a night full of "licks" and not a soul demanded a rebate. The highlights included the definite decision of Belleville's Eddie Schamerhorn over a flashy Ray Deshane of Trenton; Don Wallace's slugging defeat of Ernie Darville after kissing the canvas twice in the first round and an upset setback of Corporal Don Spears, Kingston. But one of the big kicks we got was the return to the announcing wars of that grand old warrior, Warrant Officer (ex) "Long John" Silver, with his "By special permission of our (the) commanding officer," and all the former color that was none but the WINNER. John was back in a familiar spot and many appreciated it more that did a host of friends present. Long may he reign to announce many another boxing card in his beloved air force.

NOW THE PLAYOFFS

The senior "B" hockey die is cast—so on with the ball. The Memos trek to Cornwall tomorrow night to take on the first place Colts in the first tussle of a best-of-seven series with the squads playing the second tilt here on Friday night. Meanwhile the second-place Kingston Goodyears take on the Whitby Dunlops in a battle of the rubber series with the Goodyears entertaining the Dunlops in Kingston, also on Wednesday.

Digging up the schedule statistics (with apologies to Mr. Michael J. Rodden) the records of the Cornwall-Memos teams were about on a par—a point or two apart—with the teams have won two and lost two, splitting the honors on each other's ice. The Colts scored 14 goals as against 15 on home ice against our side while the Memos had 15 counters as against 12 in Memorial Arena. But the Bouchermen shut out the Colts twice, once at home and once away.

The Whitby-Kingston records are slightly different. The Goodyears won two, lost one and tied one in their Memorial Centre while they won one and lost three on Kingston ice. The Casterton crew scored 25 goals as against 23 on their own ice against the Dunlops and racked up 15 to Whitby's 22 in the latter's rink.

This department, as official scorer, has not been notified officially as to what actually happened with regard to the cancellation of the Brockville-Whitby game last Saturday. A telephone call to Peterborough elicited the information that Brockville called off the game while the Brockville paper carried the story that the Petes called the Magedimas' management and asked for cancellation. If the Petes called off the pastime Brockville's final point score should read 44, two shead of the Clinton Comets.

There has been much ado around the circuit with regard as to whom won the scoring championship of the group. The official records were checked and re-checked yesterday, and Whitby's Bob Attersley wins the goalsion over Cornwall's Moe Savard with 67 goals and 41 assists for 89 points, while Savard finished with 28 goals and 59 assists for 87 points. Bus Gagnon was in third place with 47 goals and 35 assists for 82 points. Gagnon pulled his challenge to the honors when he received a schedule suspension with two games to go. Savard made a brilliant effort to overcome Attersley, scoring three goals and nine assists in two games against the Petes. Attersley scored two goals in Whitby's final game, ironically against Cornwall to grab the margin.

There may be some complaint from Cornwall regarding the findings, but as was said before the scoring was checked and rechecked, and the published standing is official. We cannot be responsible for mistakes of other teams' scorers, especially when the official referee's reports are not forwarded. Two away Cornwall games' reports were taken from summaries in newspapers, as were a lot of those of other clubs.

The Duncan twins headed the Memos' scorers for the second season in a row, although they did not accumulate the number of points as last year. Edwin finished in sixth position with 13 goals and 31 assists for 44 points, while Erwin scored 25 goals and had 31 assists for 56 points to end in 13th position. Bus Gagnon was the "bad man" of the league with 171 minutes spent in durance vile.

HUNTERS AND FISHERMEN

There is plenty of entertainment and useful business on the agenda of the Belleville and District Fish and Game Club meeting at the YMCA tonight starting at eight o'clock. There will be an hour of exciting motion picture films never shown before in the city. There also will be discussion of club projects for the coming season, including rehabilitation of a trout stream and the establishment of a trap-shooting and high-power rifle range.

LAST, BUT NOT LEAST

Tonight is the big night — the police-firemen hockey game. A crippled kiddie will benefit by your patronage. Remember he or she could have been one of yours or mine. Maybe they are. If not, how about it? Count your blessings if you have healthy kiddies.

Beck Named Tennis Prexy

TORONTO (CP)—J. S. Beck of Toronto was elected president of the Ontario Lawn Tennis Association Monday. He succeeds E. C. Condon of Ottawa.

Eileen Barrett of Toronto was chosen secretary at the association's annual meeting. Al Phillips of Toronto, was named treasurer, and Ralph Thailby of Kitchener western vice-president. The eastern vice-president will be elected at the Ottawa district annual meeting.

Delegates adopted the dollar-a-year plan. Every senior playing member of a club registered with the OLTA will pay $1 to help in the development and advancement of tennis in Ontario.

But Canucks Take It Easy As Big Battle Draws Near; Have Big Scoring Margin

By ARCH McKENZIE
Canadian Press Staff Writer

DUESSELDORF, Germany (CP) The world hockey championships have developed into a war of nerves.

One veteran observer who has seen Russia play several times says that only nerves can beat Canada.

Members of Canada's Penticton Vs admit they have been under heavy pressure. But with the nine-country tournament at the half-way mark and four straight victories under their belts, the players feel they are well into it.

The Vs took it easy today, the first of the two off days they have in the tournament while now pears to be biding time until the big game Sunday between Canada and Russia.

Monday night, in what was little more than target practice for the sharpshooting Canadian forwards, the Vs trounced Finland 12-0. Playing coach Grant Warwick used his reserves freely, and the Russians did the same to win over Poland 8-2. The United States had to hustle in the third period for its 7-3 victory against Switzerland.

SHARE THE LEAD

Canada and Russia, the only other undefeated team, share the lead with 4-0 records. But the Canadians have scored 37 goals to 24 for the Russians. This apparent slim edge in the nets may make the difference.

The goal average would decide the world title if more than two teams finish in a first-place tie, a remote possibility. As it is between two teams would be settled in a playoff.

Just how are the Canadians shaping up mentally and physically for what promises to be the big one with the Soviets?

Some players say they had the jitters against the Czechs. But with that hurdle past them, the Canadians are relaxing more and sleeping well.

But all of them have lost weight mainly because they haven't put enough liquids into their systems. One of the club's physician, Dr. Bill White, who paid his own way over to look after the team.

NOT PASTEURIZED

All the players are milk drinkers, but they haven't touched the German product because it isn't pasteurized. However, the team is drinking lots of water.

Little Dick Warwick, the 27-year-old centre of Penticton's Dick-Grant - Bill brother combination said he was never so tense as before the Czech game, not even in the Allan Cup finals when the Vs came from behind to win the championship from Sudbury.

"I had no strength in my arms or legs. A lot of the others felt it too including Grant. . . .

"You do silly things, you think you're moving when you're not. You give the puck away and you lower your head and pass blind.

"But we're pretty well into it now."

A Swedish newspaper man made the comment that only nerves can beat Canada. He has 500 bets on the Canadians with Czech sports writers.

WENT ALL OUT

Unlike some Canadian observers who saw the Czechs lose to the Russians 4-0 Sunday night, he figures the Czechs were going all out against the U.S.S.R.

"The Czechs were tired from the game against Canada but now apparently they have a complex. They just can't seem to beat the Russians. We Swedes, who played Russia six times this season, know the Czechs never win against them."

The Swede, an expert on continental hockey, says Vsevolod Bobrov, the Russian captain and acknowledged star, is the man to watch.

"We always have a man on him, every move seems to come from him. The Russians are not such good stickhandlers, but they're very fast, good skaters and pass well. But they don't shoot as well as Canada."

RESENCE DISORGANIZED

He added that the Russians become disorganized under pressure.

A lot of the pressure was off Monday night for the Canadians in their romp over the Finns at Duesseldorf. They scored seven goals in the first period, three in the second and two in the third. Finnish goalie Vitala Unto made 43 saves and was warmly congratulated by the whole Canadian team.

Bilts Trounce Hamilton 10-4 For 2-0 Lead

HAMILTON (CP) — Guelph Biltmores, nosed out of first place in the Ontario Hockey Association Junior A race in the regular season on their goal average, may have been saving scoring power for the playoffs.

They unwound Monday night to trounce Hamilton Cubs 10-4 and take a 2-0 lead in their best-of-five quarter-finals before 3,480 fans. They broke out after being held to a 4-3 lead in the first period.

Forwards Bill McCreary and Bill Sweeney and defenceman Ron Hegvil clicked as a combination for the Bilts. Each connected for two goals Monday night. McCreary and Howell, with two apiece, and Sweeney counted for all of Guelph's goals in their 5-3 first victory.

Tom McCarthy, Bryan Webber, John Gillis and Roy Burmister were the other Bilt scorers.

SCORED TWICE

Hamilton marksmen were Bill McNeill, who scored two goals, his second and third of the series, Murray Oliver and Lloyd McKay.

Tempers flared in a wide-open third period in which Guelph outscored Hamilton 3-1. Of 17 penalties called in the game, 11 came in the final session. Bilts got three of five majors in that period.

At one point the Cubs had five men and Bilts four men in the penalty box at the same time. Six were there because of one fight.

The teams return to Guelph tonight in what may be the last game of the series. The winner of the set clashes with either Galt or Toronto Marlies. In the best-of-seven semi-finals now under way, Toronto St. Michael's play the TeePees at St. Catharines.

Bruins, Leafs May Set Mark, But 'Tis Only in Tie Games;

MONTREAL (CP) — An almost overlooked National Hockey League mark is likely to be wiped out by Toronto Maple Leafs or Boston Bruins or both.

So far this season the Bruins and Leafs each have played 20 tie games. The record is 24, set over by New York Rangers in the 1939-40 season. The league itself may be heading into the greatest number of saw-offs ever. So far this season there have been 46 ties, compared with 33 in all of last season.

However, the records and near-records, as the season moves toward its close, revolve around Montreal Canadiens, particularly the scoring Big Three of Maurice (Rocket) Richard, Bernie (Boom Boom) Geoffrion and Jean Beliveau.

Every time Richard scores a goal he breaks two records—total goals and total points in any player's NHL career. The Rocket's two season-ago record is the total record of 324, held by Nels Stewart of the old Montreal Maroons and now has 420. Last season he jockeyed with teammate Elmer Lach, now of the Habs, for honors on total points.' Richard finally forged in front, but finished his career with 623. Richard now has 711.

Just last week, Montreal defenceman Doug Harvey broke the record for most by a defenceman in any single season. He has 42, against the old record of 40 by Babe Pratt of Toronto Leafs in the 1943-44 season.

Bert Olmstead, Montreal's lanky leftwinger, is within hailing distance of the assist record by any player. Ted Lindsay of Detroit Red Wings had 83 in the 1949-50 season. Olmstead is 10 short, and has 10 games left in which to beat that mark.

Belliveau, with one goal and an assist last week, still leads the scoring in scoring points with 80 but is in danger of being displaced by Richard and Geoffrion. The Rocket, with three goals and three assists, and the Boomer with a three-point collection now have 76 points. Each is tied on goal production with 34. Beliveau has 32.

Olmstead added four assists last week and is in fourth spot with 54 assists. Gregory (Red) Sullivan of the fall-end Chicago Black Hawks bounced up from eighth to fifth place on a goal and five assists and trails Olmstead by a single point.

Sid Smith of Toronto scored his 20th goal last week—closest man in the league to the Montreal threesome—and has 48 points. Gord Howe of Detroit, with two assists in three games, also has 48 points, Howe on top of 34 goals and 25 assists.

Canadiens, leading the league by 10 points, have a two-game edge on Detroit, had the best team record of the season for a possible six points on two wins and a tie. The Red Wings and the third-place Leafs each had a win and two ties.

The battle of the leading defenders is just where it was a week ago. Harry Lumley of Toronto Leafs is in front, followed by Terry Sawchuk of Detroit. The Leafs' goalie has scored on 116 shots and the Red Wings 122.

Ott Heller Leaves Braves For Cleveland

VALLEYFIELD, Que. (CP)—Ott Heller, the evergreen defenceman at the age of 44, leaves his playing-coach job with Valleyfield Braves Wednesday to return to Cleveland Barons of the American Hockey League.

The financial condition of the Braves, at the bottom of the Quebec Hockey League, prompted Heller to make the move.

Heller, a native of Kitchener, was a top defenceman with New York Rangers in the National Hockey League for 14 years. He handled the Barons the last two seasons, but said that on his return to Cleveland this time he expects to play only in active ice duty because of depletion of the Barons' forces through injuries.

This season, marked Heller's first appearance in the QHL. In the old Canadian - American League, the NHL, the United States Hockey League and the AHL, Heller played with Rangers, New York, St. Paul, New Haven, Indianapolis and Cleveland. He turned pro with Springfield in the 1929-30 season. He went to the NHL Rangers two seasons later.

THREE ASSISTS

Heller dressed for 18 games this season, playing in articular spurts, particularly recently when the club was shorthanded through injuries. The veteran blueliner was largely to defensive work and has three assists to his credit.

"The club has been having fantastic troubles and I suggested to the owners that I might help. I were able to move and they didn't mind. It was a mutually-happy agreement all around and I feel both the Valleyfield club and myself will benefit. This is the only answer for my leaving.

Heller stands 45 next June, but said Monday: "I feel fine; that's the funny part of it. No, I don't know when I'll quit active play."

No announcement has yet been made as to who will handle the Valleyfield team.

Kingston Defeats Belleville 7-3 In First Game Junior Playdowns

By GARRY ALEXANDER

Building up a two-goal lead in the first period, the Kingston Canadiens Juniors handed a hard-fighting Belleville club a 7-3 decision here last night in the first game of a best-of-three O. H. A. Junior "B" playdown series. The second fixture of the series will be played in Kingston on Saturday night.

Last night's battle was just that. The first, after a mild last wide open first period the game developed into a rugged, hard - hitting affair that saw referees Holway and Williams dish out 24 penalties including misconduct and two majors. The visitors picked up eleven millors, a major and the ten minute misconduct sentence and played with a two-man disadvantage on three different occasions but their penalty killing was superb, their goalie Jay drew a goal which shorthanded while preventing many more. The winners led 6-1 at the end of the latest period, both teams tallied once in the shorthanded situations and Canadiens added a pair in the final 20 minutes.

Atkins of the local squad paved the way for the visitors first two markers when he drew a goal without penalty for upsetting the Kingston goalie as he was skated by. The Limestone City lads swarmed to the attack and Percival scored for the Canadiens, playing his first game of Junior hockey after a long illness, when at 3.53. Just one minute later and with Atkins still in the sin-bin, Bryant blasted a long shot to make it 2-0 with Tinkess pulling the assist.

The Bay of Quinte sextet gained a partial revenge at 11.17 with Bryant left for interference. Bryant's pass finding its way to Cameron Beasley in front of the net. Dodds and the wily youngster Beasley making a mockery of the twine. They knotted the count at 2-2 with the clock reading 13.37 as Gaughey attacked McKenna taking passes from St. Denis and Bailey to blast through largely to defensive work and has largely to defensive work and has three assists to his credit.

"The club has been having fantastic troubles and I suggested to the owners that I might help. I were able to move and they didn't mind. It was a mutually-happy agreement all around and I feel both the Valleyfield club and myself will benefit. This is the only answer for my leaving.

Heller stands 45 next June, but said Monday: "I feel fine; that's the funny part of it. No, I don't know when I'll quit active play."

No announcement has yet been made as to who will handle the Valleyfield team.

Athletes Pour Into Mexico For Pan-American

MEXICO CITY (CP) — Athletes from 31 nations are pouring into Mexico City this week for the Pan American Games, the regional Olympics.

For the first time Canada will be represented at the games, which observers say may be the biggest sports event of 1955.

Canada will send possibly 80 athletes to compete in nine sports: track and field, swimming, synchronized swimming, girls' basketball, wrestling, fencing, equestrian, gymnastics and cycling.

Some of those chosen to represent Canada may miss the games for business or personal reasons, while other groups and individuals are still trying to raise funds.

Nearly 3,000 athletes are entered in the games' 18 events. Mexican organizers have been preparing for months, using a 20,000,000-peso ($1,600,000) government appropriation.

WILL OPERATE

President Ruiz Cortines will officiate at opening ceremonies March 12 when the Olympic torch is lit. School classes will be rotated so pupils may witness Mexico's greatest sports attraction.

The capital's hotels are jammed to capacity for the games. The weather is expected to be ideal: clear, 75 to 80 degrees by the day, in the upper 40s or 50s at night.

The 18 events will be run off at sports centres in many parts of the city. Athletes will be housed and fed at University City, the famed $30,000,000 educational centre on Mexico's outskirts. Many of the sports events will be held at University City too.

Mexico, represented in all 18 sports, has entered the largest team in the 80s during

Jan Sterling May Win Oscar For Part in High and Mighty

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Four top actresses may well be hating themselves today. They turned down a role that won Jan Sterling an Oscar nomination.

"I don't blame them," says Miss Sterling. "The part probably wasn't big enough for them."

That didn't bother her. Nor did she mind when she was told that she would have to deglamorize herself in an almost brutal manner. While she tried out for the role in "The High and the Mighty," director William Wellman warned her about the scene. She was to remove her false eyelashes, pancake makeup, lipstick and all other beauty trappings right before the camera.

"You might be too good looking," Wellman said. "We may not be able to make you look bad enough."

"Oh yes, you will," she assured him.

Jan even shaved off her eyebrows to add to the effect. When she did the scene, Jl was all the film makers wanted, and then some. It was one of those attention-getting scenes that attracts Oscars. She now is considered the favorite to snag the supporting actress award.

When I saw her at lunch, she had her glamor on and looked good. She is an attractive, well-proportioned blonde. At least she was a blonde then. She said she was going home to darken her hair for her next role in "The Deadly Peacemaker" with Robert Mitchum.

AT THE McCARTHY — Romeo (Cliff Robertson) and Juliet (Susan Shentall) receive poison from Friar Laurence (Ralph Truman) in the scene from the Shakespeare romantic tragedy, "Romeo and Juliet," now on the screen in thrilling, breathtaking Technicolor at the McCarthy Theatre today and Wednesday.

AT THE BELLE — Jerry Lewis in a tattered top hat, baggy, patched trousers and with the red nose portrays role of a clown in Paramount's new VistaVision comedy "The Three Ring Circus" which is playing for the last times today at the Belle Theatre.

Jack Carson Got 'Riled Up' At Criticism So Became Star

By WAYNE OLIVER

NEW YORK (AP)—Jack Carson is riding high in the entertainment world now but he came close to giving up in discouragement nearly 20 years ago.

"I probably would have, too, if I hadn't got all riled up," recalls the Canadian - born actor, who plays another straight dramatic role tonight on ABC-TV's Theatre Guild.

It was back in 1936 that Carson, until then a singing master of ceremonies and vaudeville performer, was offered a screen test by one of the big studios in Hollywood.

"Before the test they had me read for a dramatic coach, and I must have been frightful," he says.

NO NOTHING

"Her report said I had no talent, no looks, no voice, nothing to offer the movies whatsoever. I got so mad I wouldn't go ahead and finish the test but stayed on in Hollywood and got bit parts in other studios. Then things started to come my way."

The husky comedian, who was born in Carman, Man., proceeded to a long succession of featured movie roles, radio and television.

Carson has been in TV about five years, and this season alternates every fourth week with Red Buttons on NBC. His dramatic role in "Man in the Corner," Theatre Guild's production tonight, is his second this season.

Formerly a contract player in films, Carson now free lances.

"That way you can pick and choose—if anybody wants you," he adds.

Albani Takes Goalie Trophy

TORONTO (CP) — Goaltender John Albani of Toronto Marlboros has won the Dave Pinkney Trophy for his outstanding performance in the 1954-55 junior A season, the Ontario Hockey Association announced Monday.

The trophy is awarded to the goalkeeper who has played in at least 60 per cent of the games for the team which has the best goals-against record.

Albani played in 41 of the Marlboros' games and allowed 17 goals for a 2.95 average.

Glen Ramsay of Guelph Biltmores finished with the second best average among regular netminders. His average was 3.19 for 47 games.

The Eddie Powers Memorial Trophy, which goes to the leading scorer, went to centre Hank Ciesla, who also won the Red Tilson Memorial Trophy, given to the most valuable player in the league. Ciesla scored 57 goals and assisted on another 49 for a point total of 106 in 45 games.

Spring Is Around That Corner, Baseball Opens Training Grind

By JOE REICHLER

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—Baseball's spring training got under way today on an widely scattered fronts in Florida and Arizona.

This is the day baseball officially opens the long grind that will end in the world series even months hence. Thirteen clubs will go through their paces here in Florida while three more—the world champion New York Giants, the American League titleholders, the Cleveland Indians and the Chicago Cubs—are in Arizona.

The clubs will have 30 days to get into shape for the exhibition season beginning March 10. This late opening for the first time in years was changed by the players themselves who proved unpopular and it wouldn't surprise anyone if the rule were changed in the near future.

In fact, only Monday commissioner Ford Frick fined the Milwaukee Braves $500 and 14 of the club's players lesser amounts for breaking the rule. He was expected to fine other clubs today.

THINKS IT'S BAD

"This March 1 deadline was imposed by the players themselves," said Frick. "I think it's a bad rule. I think spring training should be governed by the clubs themselves. But as it's a baseball law my office will enforce it."

Attracting almost as much attention at the start of training are efforts to get players under contract and the question of when Ted Williams is going to return to the Boston Red Sox.

General manager Joe Cronin of the Sox said Monday night in Sarasota that Williams promised "to call me in the hear future and give me a definite answer" whether he'll play ball in 1955.

The Cleveland Indians were having the biggest holdout woes with 10 members of last season's American League pennant winners still unsigned. All told, the American League had 30 holdouts as compared to only five in the National.

KEY MEN

As for the races, the National League appears to be the better balanced, although virtually all clubs are depending on one or two key men who could make or break the team.

Manager Leo Durocher of the Giants admitted on arriving at Phoenix, Ariz. that he was in the market for another pitcher to take the place alongside Johnny Antonelli. Sal Maglie, Ruben Gomez and Don Liddle.

The American League race again shapes up as strictly a two-team affair between the Indians and New York Yankees, who finished one-two last year, far ahead of the rest of the loop.

'Just Amateurs' Says Yank Coach

DUESSELDORF, Germany (CP)—Coach Al Yourkevicz of the United States entry today reluctantly admitted that he can't protest the charges will beat Russia in their world hockey tournament meeting Wednesday night.

Victors of three straight games since their humiliating 12-1 defeat at the hands of Canada's Penticton Vs, the Americans need a win over the defending-champion Moscow Dynamos to stand a reasonable chance. But Yourkevicz isn't too hopeful.

"We are going to try hard, but after all we are just an amateur team," the American coach said. "I'm not calling the Russians professionals but they have been practicing constantly for a year. My boys met each other for the first time five weeks ago."

Priests Can Now Use Either English, French

OTTAWA (CP)—Roman Catholic priests in all dioceses of Canada may now use English and French instead of Latin for marriage, baptism and extreme unction, the Canadian Catholic Conference announced Monday.

The Congregation of Rites in Rome formally approved the change Feb. 12, the conference said.

Certain parts of the ceremonies must still be in Latin. French and English are optional for the remainder.

Those priests using French and English will use the texts approved by the Congregation of Rites for Canada in 1942 and the United States in 1954.

In Toronto, a church spokesman said priests in the archdiocese will likely take advantage of the privilege of using English or French in most instances in order to make ceremonies more understandable to members of their congregation. Decision as to using the language of the country rests with the individual priest.

Riders, Larks May Swap Claims

OTTAWA (CP) — Ottawa Rough Riders and Montreal Alouettes may swap their claims to two Western Football League players if they return to eastern Canada this fall, Ottawa director J. P. McCaffrey said Monday night.

The trade would involve George Klein, Ottawa college product of choice last year who decided to play for Vancouver instead, and Harry Langhorne, former Queen's University end who went to Regina after being picked by Alouettes. Klein, a halfback, played for McGill University.

Montreal Alouettes were reported anxious to sign up Klein after it was learned both he and Langman planned to leave the Western League.

McCaffrey said he had heard that Lampman "is highly regarded, despite an injury which kept him on the sidelines part of last season. We'd be interested in getting him."

AMEND BILL

OTTAWA (CP)—Legislation requiring that the political affiliation of candidates in election campaigns be printed on ballots was introduced Monday in the Commons. Fay Thomas (C — Wetaskiwin) made the proposal in a bill to amend the Canadian Elections Act.

Laufman Wins Scoring Trophy

TORONTO (CP)—Ken Laufman, the one-time Kitchener - Waterloo Dutchmen of the Ontario Hockey Association Senior A League, has won the Moore Economic Trophy for being the league's leading scorer, it was announced today.

Laufman scored 23 goals and assisted in 38 others for a season total of 81 points. He played 30 games. Mickey Roth and Bill Flick, both of Owen Sound, were followed with 74 and 61 points in the 30-game regular schedule.

Top 1947 scorer in the league were Gord Hasidy of Windsor Bulldogs and Gaye Stewart, Kitchener. Each tallied 30 goals. Laufman received the highest number of assists.

The leading goalkeeper award, the Nat Turofsky Trophy, went to Kitchener's Dennis Brodeur who had a 3.23 goals-against average in 47 games. He made one shutout. Bill Harrington of Windsor, who played with Dutchies last year, was second with a 3.41 average and two shutouts in 44 games.

Bob Gibson of Owen Sound Mercurys and Bruce Dale of Stratford were top individual artists, getting three apiece over the season.

Your Horoscope

BY FRANCES DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

For Wednesday, March 2, 1955

March 21 to April 20 (Aries)—Very stimulating rays today. These can be helpful and energizing, if applied to essential undertakings, routine occupational duties and new projects which can eventually increase benefits.

April 21 to May 20 (Taurus)—You can progress in any useful, intelligent work or a profession, if you try now. Have faith and be of good cheer; you can make your mark. Don't keep troubles to yourself.

May 21 to June 21 (Gemini)—An especially advantageous day. Don't spoil it by making rash decisions or acting hastily. Give your bright mind the moment it needs to plan and decide carefully.

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer)—You may need more initiative than usual to get this day started properly but don't stop to worry or doubt your capacity to accomplish well. You can — and better than before.

July 24 to August 22 (Leo)—A day for quick action but not reckless adventure or guesswork. You should be able to roll up a splendid score in your regular occupational duties or in any field where you have talent.

August 23 to September 23 (Virgo)—Ideal vibrations from your Mercury and Sun today. A good period for study, analyzing, reporting, viewing plays, debating. Government and scientific work highly favored.

September 24 to October 23 (Libra)—Note advice to Taurus. A happy outlook if you have faith in yourself and in God's love and help. Try the difficult; improve in every way you can. Seek and give sound advice. Good rays.

October 24 to November 22 (Scorpio)—This can be a full, productive day. Advancement is possible in all fields in which you have been trained, for all interests and activities helpful to mankind and his spiritual welfare. Teaching, study, medicine, among top favored.

November 23 to December 22 (Sagittarius)—Lack of interest in day's problems could be a stumbling block to achievement that is possible today. Pep up; remember proper use of time is a potent factor in advancement.

December 23 to January 21 (Capricorn)—Rays interesting, invigorating; day is done up in "gay colors" for your profitable ant conversation to dampen your spirit.

January 22 to February 20 (Aquarius)—An efficient program and a steady pace, plus revitalized ambition should keep you on front now. But forth your best efforts but do not strain. Big rewards.

February 21 to March 20 (Pisces)—Don't waver when your fine intuition and common sense tell you you are on the right track. Be decisive, soundly determined to make the most of this encouraging ...ll. ETAOIN M M encouraging day and its helpful aspects.

Your born today have many unusual talents and artistic ability; may lean toward writing, science, a religious life, teaching, anything connected with higher education. You are reliable, determined, unselfish, if living on a high plane. You sometimes underestimate your own capabilities, tend to worry and be over-cautious. Be aware of your God-given assets, cultivate optimism, and take care of your interests as well as those of your employer and associates. Prayer, good reading, cheerful, wholesome companions are fine aids. Birthdate: His Holiness, Pope Leo XIII; Sir Thos. Bodley, scholar, founder of Bodleian Library, Oxford; Sam Houston, Amer. gen'l., Texas hero.

Little Benny's Notebook

Me and Puds Simkins made up a swell one to play on Dopey Shorty Judge, on account of him believing everything you tell him, and as soon as he came out of his house we ran over as if we had something grate to tell him, saying, Hay, Dopey, you're lucky, oh boy, we wish we were you.

Why, what for? Dopey Shorty said, Didn't you read about it in the paper?

No, what? Dopey said, and Puds said, it's a big advertizement for the Krisal Kandy Kitchin. Today is the 10th anniverserry of the first day-they opened the store, and they're giving a free pound of candy to everybody by the first name of Howerd, like you, he said.

Heh! Why? Dopey said, and I said, Because the man that owns it is named Howerd.

Sure, Howerd Kristal, Puds said, and Shorty said, Oh boy, I'm going rite around.

Which he did, and me and Puds injoyed ourselfs laffing while we waited for him to come back, which after a while he did with a big bag of candy, saying, I might of known you guys were only fooling.

Well heck, what's you doing with that candy? I said, and Dopey said, The lady gave it to me. I told her I'm hope was Howerd and I came for the free candy in the avvertizement, and she didn't know anything about it, so I told her, and she said anybody that would believe that must be too dum not to be honest, so she let me mind the store for her while she quick went to the market, and she gave me this candy for a reward, he said.

Proving you don't have to worry about being dum as long as you're not too proud to listen to advice.

RCN TRAINING CRUISE TAKES CADETS TO SOUTH PACIFIC

Naval cadets from HMCS Venture, at present on a three-month training cruise to Australia and New Zealand in HMCS Ontario, cluster around the ship's stern to watch a depth charge exercise being carried out. For most of the cadets it was the first view of a depth charge. (Central Press Canadian).

IN BONNIE AND SNOW-COVERED SCOTLAND

Three prize bulls, the train engineer, firemen and guard were isolated for three days when this stock train crashed into a snowdrift 100 yards long, just outside Lairg Station in Scotland. The driver, Malcolm Finlayson, said the drift caught him by surprise and before he could do anything about it the train stopped and was buried in an avalanche of snow. It took sixty workmen, snowplows and three engines to clear the line—the only link between Inverness and Wick. (Central Press Canadian).

REMINISCENT OF HURRICANE HAZEL

Floods almost as great as those which followed Hurricane Hazel last autumn are threatening parts of Southern Ontario as mild weather and heavy rains are causing rivers and streams to swell. This is Highland Creek, near Toronto, normally a placid stream, which has washed out two bridges, marooned 16 families and has ten-foot chunks of ice wobbling along the rushing water. Rotarians Celebrate Golden Anniversary With All Present

STIRLING—Stirling Rotarians, under the leadership of the president, Dr. Ralph Vandervoort, had special golden anniversary meeting with a 100 per cent attendance. Special tribute was paid to Paul Harris, the founder of Rotary International.

The large attendance trophy, which was won by the local club for the second time for the best district attendance, was the central decoration of the head table. This trophy was also displayed in Mayhew's Jewellery store last week. It was donated by C. F. Basil Tippet, district governor.

A skit entitled "In the Beginning," was depicted by Dr. William Cornett, Robert Patterson, A. O. Dalrymple, George Noble, Harold Wells and others with the president as narrator. This depicted "How Rotary" was first organized.

The full story of Paul Harris from the time of his birth in Racine, Wisconsin, in April 1868, to 1891, when he graduated from the law school of Iowa University.

On February 23, 1905, the first meeting was held of "Rotary" and it was designed to be a social club of fellowship and friendship. Paul Harris lived to see his idea flourish and become Rotary International. Mr. Harris passed on in January 1947.

Stirling Rotary club was organized six years ago and was sponsored by Trenton club.

The charter officers were, president, Alton Hadley; vice-president, William A. Sullivan; secretary Harold Baker; treasurer, Earl Bailey; directors, Clifford Hatton, Walter Elliott; Dr. William Cornett and J. V. Holt. The charter members were Harold Wells, Burton Woodbeck, George Crown, Edwin Warren, Harold Bird, Dr. Ralph Vandervoort, A. O. Dalrymple, Everett Ketcheson and George Noble.

The 1953 officers are, president, Dr. Ralph Vandervoort; vice-president, Edwin Warren; secretary, George Noble; treasurer, David Huffus; directors, Harold Bird, Everett Ketcheson, Claire West and Robert Patterson.

The club has a membership of 30 and they would welcome new members if there was a classification open.

The local club has assisted with polio cases, provided X-rays and glasses for children and their bib venture was supervised playgrounds. This year they are busy with "safety patrol" in order to get the children to and from school without mishap.

More Australian Towns Prepare To Fight Floods

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — Three more Australian towns prepared to battle floods today as a 15-mile-wide sea of muddy water swirled slowly inland from the great dividing range of New South Wales.

The immediate danger points are the Namoi river towns of Wee Waa and Walgett and the Bogee river town of Nyngan. Australian air force planes are dropping thousands of sandbags to hold back the water and life rafts are being hurriedly built in case the levees should crumble. Anti-typhoid serum is being rushed in.

Nearer the coast, towns in the Hunter river valley within 150 miles of Sydney are covered with inches of silt left by the record high floods of the weekend.

CREST PASSES TOWNS

Latest reports said the flood crest passed through the towns of Warren and Narrabri Monday night. Residents had ample warning and many spent the night perched on rooftops. Helicopters helped evacuate people in immediate danger.

At least 16 people have died and another 22 are missing and believed dead in the floods, now in their sixth day.

Relief operations have shifted in emphasis to preserve the health of the 40,000 homeless victims of the floods.

Doctors, ambulance workers and police are working around the clock to stem an outbreak of dysentery at Narromine (pop. 1,825) which started among children and threatens to sweep the whole town.

Minnow, Cod, Salmon Share Prominence in Exhibit

TORONTO (CP) — The minnow caught with a bent pin and the cod and salmon of the commercial fisherman share prominence in an exhibit under construction at the Royal Ontario Museum.

A fish gallery, assembling the most complete collection of Canadian fish ever brought together, will be opened late this month after five years planning and work. It contains approximately 100 fish, at a cost of $113,000.

The project is a joint operation of the federal fisheries department and the museum. In addition to the fish, no two the same and representative of all major game and commercial fish in the Dominion, there is an exhibit of 10 models of commercial fishing boats.

Minnows and sunfish, codfish from the Atlantic and giant albacore from the Pacific have places in the display, with eel and ling, sole and halibut, trout, pike, muskies, the cross-bred tigerhuge and scores of other fresh- and salt-water fish.

Dr. F. A. Urquhart, director and curator of the museum of zoology and palaeontology, said planning of the gallery began five years ago and construction has been under way from two to three years.

The fisheries department provided the display cases, a mural depicting fishing methods of the Indians and Eskimos in Canadas early days, and the detailed ship models which were manufactured in England and flown here.

The museum was responsible for the art work, one of the features of the gallery, and provided the labor and most of the fish. T. M. Burt, chief of art and exhibits, Archibald Reid, an artist, and Eric Thorne have been the museum staff men on the job. Mr. Thorne, however, has been in Europe since last May.

Fish for the display came from several sources but most were caught especially for the museum. On expeditions for fish, a staff artist makes a painting of the catch on the spot, before it loses its coloring. Casting of the models is done at the base camp unless the fish are caught within easy distance of Toronto.

Mr. Shortt said a rubber plastic developed by Mr. Reid, who is only 25, has resulted in much truer castings than the fragile plaster of paris used in the past. The result is a pliable fish that retains all the original detail yet is easy to handle and to paint.

A feature of the display is four shadow boxes in which fish are shown in their natural setting. The lighting and art work are such that the impression is given of the fish swimming in water and the mighty muskellunge and cod, featured in two of these displays, appear almost alive.

Fiber-glass screens which seal automatically if punctured by the probing fingers of children protect the displays. Novel methods have been adopted by Mr. Shortt, an artist in his own right, to obtain some of the effects which give the exhibits reality.

A nylon brush, for instance, has been shaped into a life-like sea anemone, while steel wool, lightly spray-painted in blue, resembles water churned up by fish nuzzling sea worms from the ocean bottom.

Fisheries Minister Sinclair will open the gallery, to be a permanent part of the museum, March 28, with the public opening the next day.

Egyptian Troops Fire On Refugees From Palestine

Rioting Breaks Out at Gaza After Border Fight Monday

GAZA, Egypt (AP)—Hundreds of Palestine refugees, angered and frightened by the clash between Israeli and Egyptian troops on the outskirts of Gaza Monday night, demonstrated today in the face of police and army gunfire.

It was the second day of rioting in the city. Enraged refugees stoned United Nations truce commission headquarters here Tuesday. One day in a four-hour outbreak, smashing windows and pounding down a UN flag. They also burned a UN jeep and automobile before police dispersed them.

Israel has appealed for an emergency meeting of the Egypt-Israel UN mixed armistice commission as a result of the Monday fighting along the Gaza strip. Egyptian officials said 39 Egyptians were killed and 32 wounded in the clash.

EXCHANGE CHARGES

Both sides accused the other of firing the first shot. UN truce headquarters in Jerusalem said its observers reported the Israeli troops had "violently attacked" the Egyptians.

In a message to the UN Security Council Tuesday night, Egypt accused Israel of aggression.

At least seven persons were reported killed in the Monday night police and Egyptian army troops fired on demonstrators to maintain order.

United Nations official reports put the casualty figures much higher as sporadic firing was heard in various sections of Gaza this morning.

Local officials said the rioting was caused by bitterness among the Gaza strips 250,000 Palestine refugees who had been living in hopeless poverty since they were driven from their land in what now is Israel during the Palestine war in 1948.

How Confirms Predictions Of Budget Deficit

By JOHN LeBLANC
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA (CP) — Everyone on Parliament Hill has been saying that Finance Minister Harris was bequeathed a budget deficit last year. Now It's official.

Trade Minister Howe, No. 2 man in the cabinet, established it when he said Tuesday night that a 1954-5 deficit—first in eight years—is "indicated."

Speculation is that the deficit will be around $100,000,000. The official prediction last April 6 was for a nominal surplus of $4,000,000 on proposed spending of $4,460,000,000.

Reduced tax revenues were cited by Mr. Howe in telling the Commons of the "indicated" deficit in a 30-word reference to it during a 6,000-word speech in an unemployment debate.

IN EARLY APRIL

The 30-year-old finance minister—who took office last summer—is expected to deliver his first budget in early April. He will disclose formally then the 1954-55 accounts and the 1955-56 forecast of spending that will give any tax and tariff changes.

His predecessor, who left him the current tax and tariff setup was Hon. Douglas Abbott, now a justice of the Supreme Court of Canada. As finance minister, Mr. Abbott had nine straight budget surpluses before bowing out.

Last year, Mr. Abbott cut taxes slightly in some directions while spending $4,460,000,000 on services of $4,464,000,000 and peacetime revenues of $4,460,000,000. That suggested an almost-infinitesimal $4,000,000 surplus, based on the economy holding up.

HOWE EXPLANATION

In the Commons Tuesday night Mr. Howe explained the current situation this way:

"Tax collections have been lowered for the first time since 1946 a net budgetary deficit is indicated.

"Even though incomes of most Canadians rose, the personal income tax take has been reduced by a drop of two per cent during 1954 as compared with the year previous.

"Sales and excise tax collections were also down five per cent though total domestic sales . . . remained firm."

Petty Officer Will Face Trial

HALIFA X(CP) — The navy announced today that a petty officer will face court martial Thursday on charges following the latest drinking spree aboard the carrier Magnificent Jan. 31.

PO Maynard C. Johnson of Victoria, the second to go on trial, will face charges of furnishing alcoholic beverage to other men and causing illness, consuming an intoxicant himself and being drunk and subject to a superior the drinking of other men.

AB John L. MacDonald of Beaverton, Ont., was sentenced to two years and one day in jail Monday on three charges from the "binge."

THE WEATHER

TORONTO, (CP) — Synopsis: An area of low pressure racing through the central Great Lakes will drive cold air from the prairies and the northern Ontario desert across the lower lakes today. Falling temperatures this afternoon and this evening will bring an end to the mild weather of the past few days. Skies will become in most regions Thursday but temperatures are forecast to remain below freezing during the day.

ALL OPPOSITION GROUPS CRITICAL OF JOB SITUATION

No-Confidence Vote Is Sponsored by PC's

OTTAWA (CP)—Growing unemployment which reached a post-war high in January has touched off an Opposition motion calling for the defeat of the government.

A Progressive Conservative motion of non-confidence in the government, presented Tuesday as the Commons began a major debate on unemployment, gained support from CCF and Social Credit groups.

Mrs. Ellen Fairclough (PC—Hamilton West), proposing the motion, said the situation is grave. She accused the government of "lack of constructive planning."

CCF Leader Coldwell said federal policies to stop unemployment have been "incompetent."

C. E. Johnston (SC—Bow River) said the government has acted too about unemployment through too little and too late and with the wrong power of Canadians. Taxes were a major example.

DEFEND GOVERNMENT

Trade Minister Howe and Trade Minister Howe defended the government's record.

Mr. Howe viewed the situation "does cause concern" but added: "Unemployment is not at all black, far from it."

The number of jobless was higher than last year. But he denied that the employment situation is deteriorating. The last published figures showed the number of persons working was on the increase. The rise in unemployment was due mostly to a growth in the country's labor force.

Mr. Gregg also announced that the government is prepared to discuss at the coming federal-provincial conference the question of meeting the needs of those unemployed who are able to work but who are in unemployment insurance.

No province had asked yet for such a discussion.

Heavy Floods In Buffalo Areas

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP) — Wide areas of New York state today battled ice booms, stopped up sheltered streets and fought flood conditions at two dozen rivers and creeks continued to spill over their banks.

High water drove hundreds of persons from their homes Tuesday. Damage in suburban Lackawanna was estimated as high as $1,000,000.

No loss of life or injuries as a result of the storm was reported. Heavy rains and a sudden thaw and ice sent normally peaceful creeks and streams ramparing over their banks.

By late Tuesday night the water had receded in the Buffalo and Lake Erie county except Lackawanna.

PIER BREAKS LIMB

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)—Actress Pier Angeli, an expectant mother, fractured a leg in a fall on ice-ray discussed Tuesday, the wife of singer Vic Damone fell while riding in an airplane last Friday. She may have to remain in hospital for a month.

Trade Minister Howe Sees Bright Economic Picture

OTTAWA (CP)—A bright picture of Canada's economic possibilities in 1955 was painted Tuesday night by Trade Minister Howe, a rebuke to troubled backdrop of high unemployment.

"I, for one, believe that the Canadian economy remains basically healthy and continues to expand despite an occasional interruption," he told the Commons during an unemployment debate.

Mr. Howe forecast that Canadian trade with the United States and overseas countries in 1955 will show an improvement over last year.

He also said there has been unmistakable evidence of some general strengthening in Canadian business activity in the last few months, that business men anticipate sustained and growing markets for years to come and that consumer demand this year may be better than last year.

. . . This is no time to lose sight of our larger objectives or to permit our confidence to be unduly shaken by fears which are not justified by the facts."

Present unemployment was the result of known factors. However, the government's program "is maintain a high level of employment as possible and I believe that this would be apparent during the next three or four months.

Mr. Howe said conditions largely are responsible for a decline in sales of Canadian products abroad this year "have already undergone a substantial change for the better."

One of the main reasons for declining foreign sales was lower wheat shipments. However, in recent months a much improved selling atmosphere has developed and sales to date were well ahead of last year. This was not reflected in current exports but would become apparent gradually as the year progressed.

"A second reason for lower exports has been the reduction of the down-turn in the United States economy, even though sales of most of the important export items in that market were reasonably well maintained.

"This situation, is substantially altered as a result of the pickup now under way in that country."

Export prospects in overseas markets this year also were favorable. Except for wheat movements, sales to the United Kingdom, western Europe and a number of other countries were higher in the first months of 1955 despite economic strength of those nations.

"The recent improvement in conditions in these markets is already being reflected in better export prospects, particularly on terms, are running at peacetime record levels for this period of the year.

U.S. Has Only Three to Four Years as Superior in Cold War

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has only about three to four years left to make its carry on the Cold War with Russia from a position of overwhelming military might.

After 1958, the power relationship between the U.S. and the Soviet Union will tend to become more or less balanced, a development holding international political advantage for Russia.

Somewhere about that time, unless there are before then profound changes in the world picture unrecognized by the state and its leadership, the Russians may develop a technique of diplomacy by ultimatum, or by expectation of obtaining dominion over the free world through the threatening hydrogen bomb destruction.

These points, particularly as to timing, stand out directly or by implication in Secretary of State Churchill's statement to the House of Commons in London Tuesday.

BOMBS ON HAND

Churchill noted the boast last month by Foreign Minister Molotov that Russia has the hydrogen bomb superiority over the U.S. actually. Churchill said that the U.S. is the only country able now to deliver an H-bomb attack "on a few hours notice." He did not say, however, that Russia is three or four years behind enough for her to cripple the West.

Russia is still behind in the air, it is true, enough for her to explode a thermonuclear bomb. To use it with effectiveness therefore she must be able to deliver it under the conditions of attack on a target. Officials assert that Russia is not now able to do that, and without doubt will not be perhaps for the next four years.

Thus, leaders in Washington and London have an enormous responsibility to determine whether their policies hold any reasonable prospect of providing stability in the world, or whether they should be revised.

Swollen Rivers In Toronto Area Receding Slowly

TORONTO (CP)—Swollen rivers and creeks in Metropolitan Toronto areas, with one exception, were receding today.

The Rouge river continued on the rampage and police warned residents of a low-lying area to the south of No. 401 highway to be alert. It is expected to crest there today. Huge pieces of ice impeded the flow of water caused by rising waters.

At least 12 families in the Duffin's creek area of Pickering township were forced from their homes Tuesday. Township police and firemen helped them to safety as the creek receded.

A half-mile stretch of No. 2 highway west of the Duffin's creek bridge was under 18 inches of water Tuesday night.

Atomic Cloud Beautiful as Cobra Says Reporter Who Flew Through It

By BILL BECKER

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—What's it like flying through an atomic cloud?

Scratch any one of five reporters who were on such a flight Tuesday, and soon, for example, and you might get five different answers. But agreement would be general on a few basic points.

First, there's the awe you feel for the mushrooming billowy column of brown and reddish particles of dust and nitrogenous matter towering before you. Then the sickening beauty, the beauty of a cobra poised to strike, that soon begins to slither across the sky.

You've heard so many tales of its deadliness that you are relieved not to be flying into the serpent's mouth. The mile-wide cloud, the so-called mushroom, is moving at a low-flying 25 to touch. Looking up at its brown ish-grey underside is ominous enough from less than 10,000 feet below.

Although the heat has gone out of the cloud there's a natural apprehension about radioactivity. Despite official assurances that it has dissipated, heavy exposure to get a harmful or even intently injurious dosage of radiation, you can't help but feel, that every rule has its exception, and you'd just as soon be exceptional.

Yet as the plane pierces the outside fabric of the lower cloud, or stem, you feel no different than on previous flights through ordinary clouds.

There's a feeling of admiration for the skill and coolness of the air force men who fly these cloud-tracking and sampling missions on every test. They're scientists too, and their competence in collecting the data necessary to determine the radioactivity is building up a vital fund of knowledge.

It could mean the difference between victory and defeat in the dread event of atomic war.

Canada's First Woman Member To Be Honored

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada's first woman parliamentarian will be honored at a special ceremony here next Tuesday on the 33rd anniversary of the day she took her seat in the Commons.

A bronze bust of the late Agnes Macphail, who died in 1954, will be unveiled by Governor-general Vanier in the main Parliament Building near the House of Commons chamber. The bust will be unveiled by Mrs. Isabella Agnes Macphail Ireston, Ont., and Mrs. Ruth Bailey of Toronto, sisters of Miss Macphail.

Speaker Rene Beaudoin said the unveiling will adjourn at 3 p.m. Tuesday. Following tributes in the chamber to Miss Macphail, the bust, modelled by Emanuel Hahn, will be unveiled.

Mr. Beaudoin said Commoners, senators and close relatives of the prominent CCF member have been invited to attend the ceremony in the floor of the House. The public part of the ceremony will be open to the public.

OFFERED A YEAR AGO

The bust, by sculptor Felix Wells Hahn of Washington, was offered to the Commons internal economy commission more than a year ago by Miss Macphail's two sisters. The committee decided to accept the gift last June following representations from women members of the House of Commons, members of Parliament generally and various women's organizations.

Miss Macphail first was elected to the Commons in 1921, as the candidate of the United Farmers of Ontario. She took her seat in the House March 8, 1922, as member for Grey South East.

She was re-elected in subsequent elections in 1925, 1926, 1930 and 1935 before being defeated in the 1940 election. She later served in the Ontario legislature as a CCF member.

Miss Macphail became a member of the CCF on its inception as a political party in 1932. She was closely associated with the late J. S. Woodsworth, former CCF leader, in formation of the party.

GALLOPS WEST

BERLIN (AP)—Communist East Berlin police wounded a West Berlin policeman Tuesday night as they tried unsuccessfully to prevent the driver of a dray wagon from fleeing to the West. Police fired three shots as the driver galloped his horses to a gallop and charged across the boundary to West Berlin. A pedestrian was hit in the leg.

GROTON, Conn. (AP) — The atomic submarine Nautilus steamed home to her berth Tuesday from Puerto Rico where a two-day trial cruise on which she made her first deep dives.

Bus Hits Truck, Woman Is Killed, Ten Are Injured

TORONTO (P)—A bus plowed into the rear of a parked transport truck in suburban Etobicoke early today night, fatally injuring an elderly woman passenger and seriously injuring 10 other persons, one critically.

Mrs. Barbara Lorimer, 82, of suburban Alderico died of multiple injuries and shock when the bus, driven by Ernest Andrew Young, 25, of Port Credit, crashed into the tractor-trailer on the Queensway.

Police said Young apparently failed to see the transport until it was too late. They said the truck driver, William Robert Levace, 37, of Toronto, who was not hurt, said he had run out of gas and had parked his rig at the curb. He said he thought his rear lights were on.

The truck is owned by the C. and H. Produce company of Windsor.

CHURCHILL FACES CONFIDENCE VOTE ON DEFENCE ISSUE

No Danger of Defeat But Interest Is High

LONDON (Reuters)—Sir Winston Churchill today conferred with his cabinet on a confidence vote tonight on British defence policy in the H-bomb era.

The prime minister had no fear that the opposition Labor party would bring down his government, but the entire nation's interest was focused on Churchill's speech and debate in the House of Commons.

Labor party leader Clement Attlee has agreed with the Conservative government's plans to build hydrogen bombs as the best deterrent to war. But his party severely criticizes the government's failed "grave and admitted deficiencies" in weapons supplied to British forces, particularly jet fighters.

It is on this issue that the motion of confidence has been put by the Labor opposition.

MAJOR SPEECH

Churchill is confident he will ride out the test with ease. He has an overall majority of 19 members of Parliament, and, in addition, the Labor movement is divided and provided.

Churchill Tuesday opened the defence policy debate with a speech in his "blood, sweat and tears" tradition.

A packed House of Commons listened breathlessly as Churchill sketched out the perils of the hydrogen age, which he labelled the "hideous peril." He held his big thumbs in his vest, he grimly warned that after three or four years, Russia, too, will have the same hydrogen striking power as the U.S.

"It would be folly to suppose that they would not be used," he said, his voice full of emotion. The only answer to the peril was a bona fide system of general disarmament.

However, Churchill said, the West will have an overwhelming superiority over Russia in hydrogen weapons for the next three or four years.

LABOR SPLIT

His argument for building H-bombs as a "deterrent" to immediate attack by Communists has angered a band of Labor members about 20 to 30 strong. This group, which includes Aneurin Bevan, is expected to abstain when the confidence motion is put to a vote tonight.

These abstentions, plus Churchill's 19-vote normal majority in the House, appear to assure the government of carrying the day.

West Has Always Enjoyed Lead, Over Russians

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower said today the Western world has enjoyed all along a lead over Russia in the development of hydrogen bombs and nuclear weapons.

He said he thinks it would be pointless to speculate on how long the lead may prevail. He just doesn't know.

Eisenhower's press conference remarks were in response to a request for comment on Prime Minister Churchill's statement Tuesday that the United States has "enjoyed . . . a year" in the H-bomb strength of the Soviet Union.

Toronto Police Believe Madman Is Holding Child

Judy Carter Is Still Alive Believes Chief of Detectives

TORONTO (CP) — A senior police officer said today he thinks Judy Carter, 8, missing since Friday, still may be alive.

Chief of Detectives Archie McChesney said in an interview:

"I think some demented person may have her in his house and she is unable to get away.

"I have a feeling she is going to turn up alive."

A search has turned up no trace of a body.

Meanwhile, police said a 23-year-old theatre usher has been charged in assaulting a 10-year-old girl the day after Judy disappeared, will be questioned about Judy.

Police identified the man as Frederick John Thoukess, arrested Tuesday night when he reported for work. Police said the 10-year-old girl complained that the alleged offence occurred Friday when an usher at the theatre sat down beside her.

Meanwhile, police circulated this description of Judy Carter: four feet tall, 60 pounds, medium build, light brown hair, fair complexion, blue eyes, regular nose, medium lips, a scar on her right knee, wearing a normal child in good health.

Police and firemen covered a stretch of water about three-quarters of a mile from the shoreline to the ice shoreline, was begun after a motorist telephoned police that he had seen what he thought was a body floating near the shore.

Launches on the water and searchers on foot along the shoreline failed to find any trace of a body, but the search was continued.

During the night police also dismissed a $15,000 ransom demand for the safe return of the girl as the "work of a cruel and vicious prankster."

The ransom demand was made by a person who telephoned William MacLeod, the girl's stepfather, Tuesday. Mr. MacLeod arranged to leave the money ready but heard no further word from the caller.

Police officials said they had been tracing numerous misleading reports.

A poster describing circumstances of Judy's disappearance, her description and clothing have been sent out to all major Canadian cities and border points crossing points Tuesday. The child's picture was published in the papers and flashed across television screens.

May Challenge Board's Decision To Close School

TORONTO (CP)—The right of the board of governors of McMaster University, Hamilton, to close Moulton College girls' school in central Toronto, may be challenged in the courts.

The school, which included grades one to 13, was run as a department of the university. It was closed by the governors last June.

Since then several interested groups, concerned about preserving the traditions of the college, have formed a protective committee.

Tuesday they challenged the proprietory rights of the McMaster governors and suggested that an appeal to the courts was the way to decide how much power the board has in the situation.

Thousands Greet Pope Pius On Anniversaries

VATICAN CITY (AP)—A roar of cheers greeted Pope Pius today on his double anniversary, the 79th of his birth and the 16th of his pontificate.

Thousands of Romans, tourists and pilgrims gathered in St. Peter's square to greet the spiritual leader of more than 400,000,000 Roman Catholics.

When the white-clad figure of the convalescing pontiff appeared in his apartment window to bless the throng a great roar of "Viva il Papa"—long live the Pope—rose to greet him. Golden and white papal flags fluttered from Vatican buildings. Women frantically waved white handkerchiefs.

The throng was suddenly hushed when the pontiff lifted his arms in blessing, a gesture that has become known to millions throughout the world. Many in the throng knelt as the blessing came.

PRAISED IN PRESS

Italy's press has acclaimed the pontiff, recalling the heavy burdens of his pontificate, considered by many here to be among the most important in the long history of the church. Rome's widely circulated independent Il Messaggero recalls his efforts ahead of the war to save Rome from bombing, one of the highlights of this reign.

Pope Pius was born in Rome March 2, 1876. He was elected as the church's 261st pontiff March 2, 1939, and was crowned 10 days later.

NEEDLED INTO COMPLIMENT

SAVANNAH, Ga. (AP)—A young air force doctor was arrested Tuesday night and charged with assaulted another man with a hypodermic needle. Edmund Rahal told police he was stabbed three times in the arm by Capt. Capt. Frank W. Johnson. It was not clear what brought on the alleged attack, and police said they did not know whether the needle was loaded.

MISS EDNA MARTIN WINS HIGH AWARD

At the Kiwanis Music Festival recently held in Eaton Auditorium in Toronto, Miss Edna Martin was successful in winning the Rose Bowl trophy, the highest award in the amateur women's voice contest in competition with the winners of all the other voice classes.

Miss Martin is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold F. Martin, 31 Howard Street of this city, and will be singing at the "Stars of the Festival" concert in Massey Hall on Thursday evening of this week.

Pin-Up Girl, Centrepiece Of Poster, Stolen

The dame had been framed and looked up but that didn't stop her being got at. Someone wanted to cut her completely out of the picture and they succeeded.

It was all over in the flash of a chiv and the tinkle of broken glass . . .

Sounds pretty near what you would expect to see in a cinema. Well, that wouldn't be surprising for the above incident did happen near a cinema — right outside in fact.

Scene of the incident was the Capitol Theatre on Front Street, which was showing the coming attraction "Jesse James' Women" in one of the poster frames on its front wall.

Centrepiece of the poster was the typical luscious length of lovely vintage, Hollywood. Someone put their eye on the gal in the locked poster frame and decided to have her.

They got her.

In the small hours of Monday morning the glass in the poster was smashed and the outline of the poster pin-up meticulously cut out with a sharp instrument.

'Great Adventure' Depicts Varied Work of Rotarians

By HAROLD F. MOTT
Past President, Belleville Rotary

(Second in a series of articles presented by the Rotary Club of Belleville in commemoration of the fortieth Anniversary of Rotary).

"Near where I live was a village not much, Down the middle of the street was an open sewer. There was much sickness, but no hospital; much illiteracy, but no school."

A lovely girl tells this story in the film, "The Great Adventure," produced for Rotary's Golden Anniversary and now being widely shown in theatres, on television, before private groups and which was seen by the local Rotary Club at its last meeting. She goes on to relate how her local Rotary Club achieved a complete rehabilitation of the village. The film shows the village before and after the transformation from squalor and despair to health and hope. She also performs a fascinating native dance with lyrical hand and arm movements, illustrative of her country's culture.

Paul Hoffman, the writer, and Jerry Fairbanks, the Hollywood producer of this film, faced a formidable task, how to represent the endless variety of Rotary efforts and efforts that inspires it without producing a hodgepodge of unrelated and disjointed incidents. How well they have succeeded in surmounting these difficulties will be judged by the most critical audience imaginable—the men of Rotary Clubs in many countries whose purposes and actions this film is attempting to describe.

OPENS WITH WAR SCENE

The technique employed is a mixture of history and documentary facts. The film opens with the grim aspect of a world at war—bombings, destruction, a devastated country, an atmosphere of dread. The indecent entrance upon a young member of the resistance and the perils of a Rotary Club operated by the invader and meeting in secret. The scene changes abruptly from this exciting episode to a party scene in another country. The same young man is there. He is concluding his narration of the episode. It seems that the Rotary Club has sponsored him for fellowship abroad and now he is one of several Rotary Foundation Fellows being entertained in the home of a Rotarian.

From that point, the young man, who has regained so much interest, is no longer the centre of attention. It is somewhat of a shock and a disappointment—inevitable perhaps, but doomed to disappointment—to see and hear other of the other Rotary Foundation Fellows reveals his or her personality and recounts some experience or impression of Rotary in his or her country. Whether from Australia or Scotland, from India or Brazil, each leaves the audience with a feeling of wishing to know more.

EDWARD ARNOLD STARS

A certain coherence is given to the spectacle by the genial behavior of the Rotarian host, finely played by Edward Arnold, star of the Broadway stage, who discovers a way in which he too can be a Rotarian "in his community."

Certainly, a non-Rotarian viewing this motion picture could hardly fail to be deeply impressed by the many phases of human helpfulness in which the spirit of service is challenged to endless enterprise. And Rotarians, many of whom they may have regretted that this or that was left out, were impressed by the great diversity, how much fine endeavour was undertaken by members in distant places. Without brag or boast, the film demonstrates the humanity and the broad acquaintance can perform in advancing international understanding and co-operation. The theme is well expressed in the words of a rousing song that brings down the curtain:

They're one big family
Lending a hand to every heart
That soul
Thoughtful, hopeful, trying to be helpful
Come join in, let us serve, without reserve
This is The Great Adventure.

Speaker Urges Second Kiwanis Club in City

Belleville Kiwanians yesterday received the official inter-club visit from their district governor, Jack Baker, Madoc, and heard an address in which he urged form a second Kiwanis Club here.

"I would like to see Belleville Kiwanis form another Kiwanis Club in Belleville," he said, and comparing the local situation with that of Kingston, which already has formed a second club, he added: "I could see no reason why Belleville should not follow suit."

For the text of his address to the weekly meeting at the civic centre Mr. Baker went to the Kiwanis motto for 1955, "Forward in Kiwanis," basing his remarks on the separate letters of the motto's first word.

He told members they should not regard attendance at a Kiwanis meeting as a duty but as a privilege.

"I think there is more fellowship at a Kiwanis meeting than at any other organization I know of," he said.

He also emphasized the necessity to a club of an active projects program and said its projects should be many.

"It is amazing how you build your own self-respect when you get into projects," he said.

Mr. Baker told the members that they had religion as still the most powerful force in the world which Communism was unable to match. Kiwanians should take the opportunity to support any church they preferred, "for churches . . . and every Kiwanian should take pride in his church."

Mr. Baker was introduced by president Staff McKenna and thanked by Larry Kelly.

2 Injured, $15,000 Damage When Car, Transport Collide

Two young Belleville people were injured and close to $15,000 property damage resulted Tuesday night when a McCallum and Hill transport swerved to avoid a car that came out of a side city on the four-lane highway and ended up in the ditch.

In hospital with a possible broken leg is Douglas Archer, 19, of 57 George Street, and Miss Betty Blackburn, 18, Wawbewawa, student nurse at Belleville hospital. Miss Blackburn complained of back injuries.

The accident occurred about 10.30 opposite Hall's restaurant when the car-transport, driven by Jack Bishop, of Gananoque, swung out to pass the car in which the two young people were riding.

It was reported that the driver of the car apparently intended to turn right into the canteen but then swung back when the transport turned out to pass. The transport swerved to the rear of the car causing about $800 damage, then careened off into the ditch, where the load of five autos was overturned. The auto transport was escaped unscathed.

The entire rear end of the car was ripped away by the force of the impact and the two young people were thrown clear. Two of the autos as the vehicle skidded across the centre boulevard of the highway. The transport went into the south ditch, where wrecking trucks had a difficult task unloading it from the mud.

Bishop's evidence took the two injured young people to the hospital where they were attended by D. C. Fraser and Dr. Ferguson. Provincial Constables A. Cockburn and G. McNutt investigated.

Three Members Inducted In Y's Men's Club

Last week was one of considerable activity for the Y's Men's Club of Belleville, with seven members journeyed to Cobourg to assist with the induction of new members into the newly-chartered club. Practically all other members of the local club were in attendance at the regular Thursday meeting here.

During the business session, Ron Moorman spoke to the club of the plans to celebrate the 50th anniversary of the Y's Men. Roscoe Mooney as chairman of the World Outlook, reported that considerable attendance records have been established by some of the members. Several have received recognition for three and four years of consecutive weekly attendance.

The club was happy to receive a visit from Lieutenant-Governor Messrs. Fred Bradley, Cam Hitchon and Percy Miller. Members are taking part in the induction ceremony were Oscar Wagar, Vern Welt, Tom Hutchison, Hugh Watson, Jack Fletcher and president Robbie Clarke.

The guest speaker, Mr. Rex Thomas Q.C., assistant manager of Victoria and Grey Trust Co., brought an instructive message on "Wills and Estates," and spoke particularly on the importance of having an up-to-date will setting forth exactly how your estate will have your estate disposed. In the absence of a "Will", Mr. Thomas explained how the estate would be taken care of in this province. So often a man spends years and years in building an estate and gives little or no thought to properly disposing of the accumulation of it.

The speaker was introduced by Gordon Trill and thanked by Oscar Wagar.

On Saturday several members travelled to Toronto to assist in the chartering of another new club in North Toronto.

DRIVER CHARGED

TORONTO (CP) — Joseph Lagrandeur, 31, a truck driver injured Tuesday when hit by a car, while attempting to board a streetcar, Driver of the car, Paul Timan 31, of Belleville has been charged with dangerous driving.

312,166 Pounds Cheese Made At Eldorado

Increased production at the Eldorado Cheese and Butter Co-operative pushed the make of cheese up to 312,166 pounds of cheese during the 1954 season, directors and patrons were told at their annual meeting.

A total of 3,727,612 pounds of milk was received at the factory during the season. Cheese sales amounted to $94,382.27 and cream sales $5,701.81. Milk hauling cost $5,568.49 or 14.9c per cwt. Patrons were paid 209 days.

Guest speaker at the annual meeting was D. Parks of Kemptville, who spoke on improved pastures. Jim Hickey cheesemaker is Ivan Sine, who received congratulations for his year's success and for trophies won at the Belleville cheese show. Factory president is Allen Ketchabaw with John Thompson as secretary-treasurer.

B.C.I. Students Have Prepared Excellent Show

The Boys' and Girls' Athletic Societies of B.C.I.V.S., presenting the fourth annual Kampus Kapers show Thursday and Friday nights in the high school auditorium.

This is the largest single production of any local group during the year and is usually one of the most outstanding. All the talent in the show with one or two exceptions is that of the high school students.

How would you like to hear a chorus of attractive voices belting "I Believe" or two of the city's best pianists Greg Trull and Greg Butler, playing "Dancing Doll." Well if you come to Kampus Kapers either Thursday or Friday you will get this and fourteen other acts equally as good to go with them.

For instance the pyramids of the Pyramid Club are probably the most looked forward to of any single thing at the Collegiate all year and you will see these breathtaking pyramids at Kampus Kapers.

The Rockerfellers, a quintet consisting of Mike Devine, Jack Doig, Phil Bennett, Don Cherry and Doug McIlraith will entertain you with a bit of rock'n'roll and modern music.

The boys of the technical 12 are putting on a display of Stalwettes which is really something to see. The boys will have various poses and with the centre spotlight on them and all the other house lights out, they appear to be made of marble.

"A Teacher's Lot is not a Happy One" is a little surprise act being put on by ten of the technicrats at B.C.I. Another very mysterious group of "Big Name" stars such as Grace Kelly, Lauren Bacall, Clark Gable and many others will be presented by the teachers. It has been written by Mr. Schette and is called "A Day in the Life of W. W. Walker, Esq.

Don Cherry and Doug Aselstine have a comedy routine called "Huck and Spike" that will double you up with laughter.

The girls tumbling under the direction of Miss Pauline features a number of precision drills for the girls.

The tumbling under the direction of Mr. Ewald features three boys who go through a very difficult workout on the mats with the precision and skill of professionals.

There will be a display of judo put on by Barry and Harry Ray and Bill Gault which will give you an idea of how this sport is useful in self protection.

Obituary

FREDERICK BURLEY RALLISON
(Contributed)

On Sunday, February 6th, Frederick Burley Rallison, the 79-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rallison of Deloro was drowned in the York River while visiting in Bancroft. His winsome ways had endeared him to the neighborhood and all the community mourned the untimely passing of this little one.

He is survived by his parents and two eight months old sister Vicky, his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Powers of Trenton and Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Conlin of Springbrook as well as by numerous aunts and uncles.

The funeral took place on Tuesday afternoon, the service being conducted by the Rev. A. L. Borland, who brought a comforting message to the bereaved. The hymns were "Abide with Me" and "God Sees Every Little Sparrow Fall."

The bearers were four uncles, Bruce Rallison, Roger Rallison, Harry Powers and Ronald Smith, of Toronto and Percy Rallison of Deloro.

the funeral were present from Toronto, Bancroft, Madoc and Deloro. Provincial Constables A. Cockburn and G. McNutt investigated.

De-Nure Company Buys Bus Line To Bancroft

De-Nure Trailways Ltd., operators of bus equipment on the Bancroft - Belleville run, have purchased the Edgar Stapley bus franchise and bus line from Belleville - Madoc - Bancroft points, it was learned today. The new owners took over operation of the Bancroft run on March 1st.

For the time being the same schedule will be maintained by the new owners but a new 22-passenger bus has been placed in service. It is housed in Stapley's garage at Maynooth and mail contract was included in the transaction.

R. John De-Nure will manage the Belleville - Bancroft run for De-Nure Trailways Ltd., and will live in Belleville. His father, A. De-Nure, is president of the firm and manager of the Lindsay-Bancroft route. He is former employee of the Collaust bus lines and drove for that firm 13 years, living in this city at that time.

Stream Selected For Improvement Project by Club

The Belleville Fish and Game Club will start a stream improvement project in the Halloway district.

The club unanimously voted to go ahead with the project last evening following an address by Don Bell, team of the Moira Valley Conservation Authority, on wild life conservation.

Mr. Bell explained the founding of a trap-shooting and high-powered rifle range has been established by members with many volunteering to help with the project.

During the meeting a number of new members were admitted to the club. The evening was highlighted by films on the Florida Everglades.

President Don MacKinnon was chairman for the meeting.

The assembly also observed a two-minute silence in tribute to the late "Sandy" Lammie.

James Bay Geese Subject of Talk To Naturalists

"The Geese of James Bay" was the subject of an interesting and very informative address given to the members of the Quinte Field Naturalists at the Elizabeth School on Monday night by Dr. G. M. Sterrett, of King-ston.

Dr. Sterrett, who was introduced by the president Mr. Bradley James, is Ontario representative of the Department of Northern Affairs and National Resources Canada Wildlife Service.

It is the work of this department to set the seasons for hunting and the number to be shot. This is based on the Migratory Bird Treaty of 1917 between Canada and the United States for the uniform protection of migratory birds.

In the fall the whole economy of James Bay is tied up with the geese, he said. Indians kill many thousands, mostly blue geese, for food, but no part of any bird is wasted.

The blue geese nest north of James Bay on Baffin and Southampton Islands. Before the freeze up they travel south to Louisiana and Texas for the winter. If the young are fat and strong enough that is a non-stop flight, sometimes in two days. They only stop when the young are unable to make it.

In March the flight back is more leisurely by way of the Mississippi Valley.

EGGS LAID EARLY

Eggs are laid the day after arrival because of the shortness of the season.

The geese feed on sedges and the roots of a bulrush, of which the Canada goose is very fond.

Since the nests are on ridges out from the shore they are not bothered much by foxes or bears as which do not like to get their feet wet.

Pictures showed Moose River, a larger river two to three miles wide, completely filled in by ice and snow geese, which are banded with a white collar, the tips of the feathers of the old birds are moulting, and the young geese are not yet able to fly, and the Louisiana feeding grounds which are similar to those of James Bay, wide open spaces with no trees.

There were pictures of Moosonee, the fur factory, the shore of James Bay at high tide and at low tide with the long stretches of mud flats, husky dogs and Eskimo children of which there are about six thousand.

Transportation is by plane, and RCMP missionary of Hudson Bay boats.

SANCTUARIES SET UP

Dr. Sterrett's department has established sanctuaries where nobody can hunt. They have closed a number of areas to James Bay to hunters and no plane is to fly across the sanctuaries.

Mr. James thanked the speaker for adding so much to the knowledge of the north and particularly the bird life.

It was decided to send $25 to the Ontario Field Naturalists to help with their very worthwhile project.

IN MEMORIAM

LAYTA. — In loving memory of our dear father, Joseph Layta, who passed away March 2nd, 1943.
And we will in quiet alone,
Dear father, remember you.
Sadly missed by daughter Mary.
Friends may think we have forgotten
When at times they see us smile,
But they little know the heartache
That lies behind a smile.
— Ever remembered by her son Joe and daughter Mary.

WELLMAN. — In loving memory of our dear father, Albert Edward Wellman, who passed away March 2nd, 1954.
He is gone but not forgotten
By those who loved him best.
For memory keeps him ever near,
Thoughts of him are always near.
Sadly missed by daughter Ruth.
Friends may think the world is calm
Since he is gone,
But they little know the sorrow

Strong among low-priced mines was Algom up 50 cents to $20.

U.S. Industries Find Customers Rushing to Buy

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—A rush to buy — something most industries haven't seen for several months — is developing today in a number of industrial commodities.

Users of copper were among the first to put on the pressure. Now steelmakers report they, too, are in for some of their products. So do the synthetic rubber plants. And the prospect for another big spurt in home building this spring is bringing orders for lumber mills and for makers of home appliances and furniture.

Except perhaps for copper, there is no real shortage of the kind that marked the early post-war years. The urge to order appears to arise in part from fears that prices may go higher — that labor troubles may mean work stoppages late in the spring.

Producers are site another reason:

Hand - to - mouth buying policies brought down inventories, as planned. The result is that the first show of demand stretched the line between ordering and receiving delivery. Companies which had been operating happily on a raw material supply sufficient for 30 or 45 days' production found themselves long to small for comfort.

Price rises in iron ore and steel scrap, and forthcoming labor negotiations have also interjected some steel users as meaning higher prices ahead.

Says Leukemia Serum Supply Is Very Small

TORONTO (CP) — The limited supply of a serum with seemingly effective results in the treatment of leukemia is preventing treatment of sufferers, Dr. Charles Hardash, head of the St. Michael's Hospital blood-research laboratory, said Tuesday night.

Discovery of the serum, which seems to arrest the development of blood cancer, came a modest two weeks ago by the hospital.

"There is every hope that the news report of our work may give tremendous impetus in seeking the solution to leukemia," Dr. Hardash said. "But in the meantime we must ask patients tu not ask us for treatment that we cannot provide. We are unable to meet the needs of the patients in the hospital at present."

The serum was made from a growth hormone, obtained in minute quantities from the pituitary glands of horses, sheep and horses, he said. No more than enough for a 10-day treatment has been obtained. At the end of the period patients reverted to the progressive and steadily growing course of leukemia, he said.

Govt. Committee Approves Bill Increasing Membership On Hospital Board of Governors

A bill increasing membership of the Board of Governors of the Belleville General Hospital from 15 to 18 was approved by the private bills committee of the Ontario legislature Tuesday.

The bill, forwarded to the legislature after being approved by the hospital's Board of Governors and by city council, gives the Women's Hospital Auxiliary the privilege of nominating one member to the board. The increased membership also increases the quorum from eight to nine.

Approval by the private bills committee is usually tantamount to approval by the legislature.

Elmer Sandercock, M.P.P. for Hastings West, presented the bill and R. A. Pringle, city solicitor, outlined its contents.

Members of the private bill committee were prepared to approve the bill without delay. However, Mayor Jack Both objected to the change on the grounds that the Board of Governors "would be that much more unwieldy."

"Any organization with that many members becomes too unwieldy," said Mayor Both in an interview this morning.

He wanted them to leave the number at 15.

Fifteen is more than sufficient," he said. "I have no objection to the Women's Hospital Auxiliary being representated."

Members of the committee then asked Mayor Both if the changes had been approved by the hospital's Board of Governors and by city council. He answered that they had. Committee members then asked him what opposition he encountered and the mayor replied that he was speaking for himself only.

Alderman Jane Forrester who, with Aldermen Gerald Hyde, was representing the city at the meeting, was called on to address the committee and she spoke briefly on the work and achievements of the Women's Hospital Auxiliary.

Art Reaume, former mayor of Windsor, in expressing his approval of the bill, said that he was in favor of giving representation to organizations doing good work that hospital auxiliaries do.

Members of the committee spoke of the proposed change as "one of the most harmless bills ever presented," and as "a mere technicality" because of approval by the hospital's governors and Belleville city council.

The bill, one of four five similar bills to be approved, was the only one drawing opposition.

Following its approval Mr. Sandercock asked committee members to waive cooling off action because of the nature of the hospital's services and they agreed.

Jewellery Firm Is Observing 25th Anniversary in Same Store

Oldest jewellery store in the city still operating at the original location is Wonnacott and Son, 29 East Bridge Street, is this week observing a quarter of a century in business under the present ownership.

Marking the event, W. Wonnacott and Son are offering special values in jewellery during an anniversary sale which gets underway tomorrow morning. Special prizes of a man's and a woman's wrist watch are being offered.

The W. Wonnacott and Son store came into being back in 1930 when Mr. Wonnacott purchased the J. J. Rowntree business. The business came into a partnership six years ago when Mr. Wonnacott's son, George, entered the business with his father.

A lifetime in the jewellery business has been spent by Mr. Wonnacott, who served his apprenticeship with Allan McFee and later J. A. Borbridge. He got his start working after school and on Saturdays while attending high school. First period of his apprenticeship was served in manufacturing jewellery items and in stone setting with watch repairing being taken up later.

MANY CHANGES MADE

"Many changes have taken place since then," Mr. Wonnacott recalls. "Old and slow methods have been streamlined. Watches are no longer cleaned by hand, the operation now being done mechanically, leaving only assembly and adjusting for the repairman."

Today would-be jewellers and watch repairmen get special training at special schools, graduating in better workmen and better service to the public.

Mr. Wonnacott interrupted his early life in the jewellery business to serve in World War II, enlisting as a bandsman with the 155th Battalion and served overseas with the 21st Canadians in France.

He purchased the Rowntree business 25 years ago and since then has been busy with the repair business.

Today Wonnacott, the junior partner, entered the business during his school days at B.C.I. He later attended Ontario Business College and was associated with the Canadian Canners at Colborne before returning to his father's store.

Since 1949 the services of W. Wonnacott and Son have been extended with a local diamond and stone setting department being added, a service which has proved a popular addition to the store.

Head-on Crash Causes $1,500 Damage to Cars

Drivers of two vehicles escaped injury this morning following a head-on collision on West Bridge Street hill, which resulted in $1,500 damage to both vehicles.

Police said that Dirk Gan Vanderforn, Wooler, was eastbound on Highland Ave. when he became over the hill he lost control of his car and it skidded into the west-bound lane, colliding almost directly head-on with a car driven by W. Ellinsthorpe, 189 Foster Ave. Front ends of both cars were badly damaged.

Traffic on the hill was interrupted as vehicles, slowing down for the accident, were unable to negotiate the grade due to the light snow, which made the pavement slippery.

St. Lawrence Power May Be Ready in 1958

TORONTO (CP) — First power from the St. Lawrence seaway power project will be available in 1958, a United States seaway engineer told Toronto Rotary.

Col. William F. Chapin, general manager of the New York state power authority, said he was convinced the project will be completed by 1958 despite the report it could not be finished before 1962.

Col. Chapin spoke at a joint meeting of the Canadian and Electrical Electric Utilities and the Ontario Municipal Electric Association. The two groups wound up their two-day annual convention.

He said that progress has been made on the United States side of the river with ground well advanced on cofferdams, temporary and permanent bridges to Barnhart island and a railroad to the site.

The authority will take bids in a few days on the Long Sault dam, he added, and should be ready by the end of next month to award a contract for the other major structure on the U.S. half of the giant powerhouse.

PLAN SMALL SITES

Earlier, R. L. Hearn, chairman of the Ontario hydro commission, told delegates the communication is considering development of several small water-power sites.

He said the relatively cheap water power from major hydraulic sites will only meet demands until 1962.

The smaller sites could add enough hydraulic power to further postpone the costly steam developments for another year.

E. A. Leonard of Thorold was elected president of the Association of Municipal Electrical Utilities and A. A. Kennedy of Owen Sound was re-elected president of the Ontario Municipal Electric Association.

William Campbell of Preston was presented with the Canadian Electrical Association resuscitation medal and certificate for saving the life of Frank Kreason, a fellow employee, after the latter came in contact with 2,300 volts.

Police Win Over Firemen 7-1 In Shrine Club Hockey Game

By GEORGE H. CARVER
Sports Editor

The eyes of nearly one hundred crippled children of the city and district twinkled happily today.

While the exact amount is not known, the coffers of the Belleville Shrine Club Crippled Children Fund will be swelled by a substantial amount thanks to the city fire and police departments, and the generous hearts of citizens.

It was twenty-five cents well spent. Not a soul demanded his or her money back. In fact four here have paid a lot more money and seen worse hockey games than the battle staged by Patrolman O'Brien's Firemen and "Kid" Kowal's Policemen.

Both squads took the issue seriously. The gendarmes smarting under three successive setbacks roared into the win column with a 7-1 victory. It was their night to howl and they threw a deafening handcuffs out that effectively put the quietus on the greater part of the "smokies" offensive.

There were added attractions, too. The Shrine Marching Club fced a between - period show that drew the well-merited applause of the crowd. There were no pink elowns headed by the inimitable Jack Bush but there was a string of other members of the club who scintillated as individual, duo and collective efforts.

The hockey game? A gendarmerie staff by the name of Bill Combe who, the firemen state, hails from Ox-Pick, Alaska, stole the scoring show for the lawlimbs. The nifty from Neelks along home four goals and helped himself to an assist in a sparkling effort, Tommy Schreider lost seventeen pounds but managed to get credit for a goal while "iron" Grey and "Battleship" McLeod accounted for the other two. An import, named Ellis, the police say was flown from Valparaiso, South America managed to poke the puck past "Verina" Mackenzie, who guarded the police cell, for the only smoky score of the game.

GOOD GAME

It was a hard-fought strenuous battle with both teams out for blood. The "cops" drew first blood early in the first period when "Frig" Lacombe scored after ten seconds of play. From then on the police buckaroos added to their record victory, their hard checking being one of the features of the game. 'Fort' Mackenzie was a tower of strength in the cops nets and he turned aside many a scorching drive in effort on the part of Gerald Vance's men.

However it was all good clean fun with a lot of good hockey thrown in.

Later President Jack Bush of the Belleville Shrine Club and Nobles Jack Both, Ken Smith, Dave Stevenson, Lee Grills and others of the Shrine committee expressed their grateful appreciation to the general public over radio station CJBQ. The game was broadcast by Jack Devine.

The police and firemen teams with officials were entertained at the Shrine Club following the game with the Shriners playing hosts. Hostess Mrs. Edith Woodhouse and her assistants provided a delectable buffet luncheon, as the game was re-played time and again. The luncheon and refreshments were provided by members of the Shrine Club.

WAS A SUCCESS

Shrine president Jack Bush said today that returns of the game would not be available for a day or so as all returns from ticket sales were not in.

"As president of the club," he said, "I would personally like to express my sincere appreciation of the response of the general public to this affair. Every cent of the proceeds will go to the crippled kiddies. Shriners Tom Lewis, Dave Stevenson and others will see to that."

President Bush also conveyed the appreciation of the club to the members of the police and fire departments and to all others who assisted in any way in making the game the grand success it was.

Much too there was a dash of National Hockey League color to the game. Roy Conacher, slim as a rail over 50; Ed. Green, Vito Targon, Brian Goddard, Andrew Robb, Maurice Wagar, John Davison and Cameron Coulter.

Marksmen Crests Presented To B.C.I. Students

Distinguished marksmen crests, indicative of 10 targets with a score of 97 or over, were presented this morning to three members of the B.C.I.V.S. Cadet Rifle Team by Captain Joseph Johnston, M.C., commanding officer of Instruction and Administration at Kingston. In all 12 marksmen crests were made out during the morning assembly at the collegiate.

School officials are particularly proud of the record of the three boys receiving distinguished marksmen crests, pointing out that it was the first time in the history of the school that scores of 97 or over had been achieved by members of a cadet rifle team.

Marksmen receiving the distinguished Marksmen Crest were John Hunter, Bill Gutkridge and Bob Green.

Others receiving crests were: 1st class crests for 10 targets over 80: Bob Rodoard, Maurice Wager, Archie McNeil and John McMahon.

Marksmen crests for 10 targets over 90: Ed. Green, Vito Targon, Brian Rodoard, Andrew Robb, Maurice Wagar, John Davison and Cameron Coulter.

Canadian Retailers Seem Confident of a Big Year

By FORBES RHUDE
Canadian Press Business Editor

OTTAWA (CP) — The average Canadian, a big buyer with an open purse but a developing sense of values, too, is expected to continue that way.

And the retailers of Canada, the people who fill their shops, counters, showcases and display rooms with goods for customer's choice, will do all they can to keep him in his present mood.

This was the apparent impression during two days of discussions, concluded Tuesday, by delegates to the annual conference of the Canadian Retail Federation.

In general, delegates seemed confident of a big year, probably better than last year when buying made such a remarkable showing in some otherwise uncertain conditions.

BASICALLY STRONG

They base this forecast on the underlying strength of the economy as demonstrated by its resistance to last year's threats, and on the buying power in consumers hands.

But they expect to have to fight competition and any unnecessary internal costs which may keep their price tags up.

Discussion indicated that credit will be kept generous and be used as a basis for expanding sales. At the same time complications were they would watch customers' accounts in an attempt to see that they weren't buying more than they could pay for.

Discussions centred for the most part about internal problems of storekeeping, with exchange of opinions and experience. There were few cut and dried answers to any of the problems.

THE TIME GAP

No gap of race or creed or geography is as great as that of time, which separates one generation from the next.

All of us are divided from our fellow men by this yawning chasm, which makes it impossible to fully understand one another.

The gap which separates us from those younger is partially bridged by memory— but memory is an unreliable structure, as witness the written evidence of time and showing each successive generation deploring the antics of the one which is following it.

If this gap be great, that which separates the young from the older is even greater. Here there is not even memory to serve as a link.

The only way that this gap can be bridged is to listen to those who tread ahead of us. Thus we may see the path down which we shall travel.

There is danger here, though, for individuals differ. We hope that you may be the explanation for the following picture of the future, as outlined by a writer in the Arlington, Cal., Times.

"Inexorably," he writes, "I have reached the stage of middle age that used to cause me concern. I find now that the worry of my youth was unfounded. A trim lass, tripping down the street, is not a challenge but merely the friend of one of my daughters.

"I find I am not too much concerned with what people think because I've learned that they spend most of their time thinking about themselves. I find my budding wistfulness of it interest to my doctor and my tailor, and it is accepted practice to loosen my tie and my collar and to tuck my napkin under my chin.

"My future is in sight and my worries are behind me. I find that I am living in comfort. And I like it."

If this be in store for all of us, what a pity!

The day is inevitable when a trim lass is not a challenge, but is it also inevitable that we shall welcome this lack of challenge?

Perhaps the California editor is no longer worried about what people think of him, so much the better, but if he is not concerned about what people think, then has he any longer a right to be called a newspaper?

Comfort is something that we all appreciate, at any age, but this trait is admirable only if it is enjoyed in moderation, not if it becomes the be-all and end-all of existence.

The lap dog is comfortable—but most of us reserve our admiration for the dog which braves the Arctic storm, to haul a sledge, plunges into storm-tossed waters to retrieve a duck, or lives dangerously, chasing cats.

Surely age will not make lap dogs of us all?

But no, of course it will not. Look around you at men who have left middle age far behind them and who yet pulse with life. Can you imagine Sir Winston Churchill saying that his future is the present, his worries are all behind him?

THIS CRITICISM NOW, UNTIMELY

Rev. J. R. Mutchmor, secretary of the board of evangelism of the United Church, last week voiced criticism of "two-income families." He said that they were pricing mother love and mother care out of the "normal" market. This is not the first time that similar criticism has been voiced of working mothers.

It is possible to appreciate the high motives impelling these critics to draw attention to what is a serious social problem, while at the same time wishing that, for the present, they would refrain from such criticism.

Increasing unemployment is bound to give rise to a disturbing increase in narrow-minded efforts to reserve jobs for married males residing in the community in which they are employed.

In some of the province's smaller communities newspapers have been printing letters from readers assailing married women who hold jobs on the ground that they are depriving other families of the opportunity to obtain employment. There has been similar attacks on persons who reside outside the community in which they work.

Any effort to give priority to married males in the job market is symptomatic of defeatism, an acceptance of the argument that our economy cannot possibly provide jobs for all those Canadians eager and able to work.

The success of any program to combat unemployment will work great hardship in many individual cases. Dr. Mutchmor and others like him who are concerned about the influence on family life of mothers working outside the home are sure to find many cases in which the wife and mother is forced by circumstances to follow such a course. Their criticism of married women working is justified, not, we may rest assured, apply to such cases. But if public opinion forces employers to discriminate against married women, it is inevitable that this discrimination will apply in cases where its application will involve an injustice and a hardship.

Of course, protests against the trend for mothers to obtain work outside the home are much more likely to prove effective under prosperity conditions than at a time when jobs are going begging for persons to fill them. A victory against this threat to family life would however, be bought at too high a price if it were obtained through an alliance with those with the most narrow and selfish motives in their opposition to married women holding jobs.

NATURE AT HER FINEST

It won't be long before we'll see
The blossoms on the apple tree,

And where perfection always grows
The red and white and yellow rose.

There'll be no sphis to devour
The stem that bears both leaf and flower.

In rows the zinnias we'll see
Precisely as they ought to be.

Tomato plants, deserving praise,
Will be the sort we hope to raise.

Unharmed by beetle, worm or blight
Will be the peonies red and white.

In garden catalogues we'll view
What nature, with man's help, can do.

Reeve Newton of Hungerford township, was a visitor in the city today.

Miss Mary K. Donovan, Reg. N., has left for Kalamazoo, Mich., where she will assume a position on the staff of the Old Borgess Hospital.

Miss Theda Mott and Miss Winnifred Black will leave for Hamilton, Ontario, shortly and will enter the hospital there as nurses-in-training.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Naylor, formerly of this city and now of Toronto, entertained Belleville friends now also residing in Toronto, at their home recently. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. C. Clare, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Deyman, Mr. and Mrs. R. Bushell, Mr. Ormond, Mr. and Mrs. C. Houston, Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Mott and Mr. and Mrs. N. Peters.

March arrived here like a lion; there was a large fall of wet snow which packed well and made the sleighing excellent.

Another lady of Mrs. Riggs' organization was attacked a large audience at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church yesterday afternoon and those who left their warm firesides felt well repaid as they listened to the strains of the organ played by a master hand.

40 YEARS AGO

March 2nd., 1915

Mr. R. Ransome is spending a few days in Detroit, Mich., on business.

Mrs. Thomas Wiggins has returned home from Trenton and Brighton where she visited friends.

City Engineer Walter Evans and assistants are busy taking levels for the proposed sewer in the western part of the city. The plans will be submitted at the next meeting of the city council.

Mr. Alex. Dawe of Toronto is visiting friends here.

The following Belleville curlers went to Napanee today to play a match with the curlers of that town: Messrs. Dr. Dickens, J. O. R. McCurdy, A. P. Allen, M. J. Clarke, skip; J. W. Bailey, Fred D. Diamond, J. W. Davison, J. G. Gallaway, skip.

50 YEARS AGO

March 2nd., 1905

Nathanael Baldwin Faulkiner, well-known and prominent barrister, died at his home here this morning in his 67th. year. He was born in Ballyrickard, North Tipperary, Ireland, and came to Belleville in 1855. He selected law as his profession and at various times he was in partnership with W. H. Ponton, S. B. Burdett, M.P., J. Parker Thomas and George Denmark. He served for some years as a member of the city council and fraternally he was a member of the Masonic Order and a Knight Templar. In politics he was a staunch Conservative and a valued worker—for his party organization. He was endowed with an abundance of Irish wit and was a popular public orator after dinner speaker.

He was a member of St. John's Anglican Church, corner of Isabel and West Bridge Street. He was a generous and kind hearted Irish gentleman.

Mr. James Thompson, son of Mr. George F. Thompson, has arrived here from San Francisco, California, on a visit.

The PACKSACK

By GREGORY CLARK

In cities, the time has just about come to use the motor car, that joy and marvel of the age, is being reassessed as a perfect nuisance.

More and more city people are leaving their cars in the garage at home except for exceptional and after - business - hours purposes. Thousands upon thousands, of course, are still as addicted to their cars as fourteen year old boys are to their bicycles. But other thousands are starting to take a more casual attitude, and regard their cars as specially pompous impediments, as ridiculous d r a g s around in modern down-town traffic as would be the lawn mower or a vacuum cleaner.

One of my friends, an active and responsible executive only 33 years of age, has sold his car. His wife still prefers her small English car for domestic use and for taking the children to school.

"I use taxis," says he. "And I have had my secretary, for the last past year, keep a record of my expenses. I used taxis 278 days of the last year, at a cost of about $700. I also used rental-car another $185. Personal rich and airplane travel that I could or would, for oneastic use and for taking the penses. I user taxis 276 days airplane travel that I could or would have done by car, added up to another $00. It totalled $1200.00. Put that up against my annual outlay for a car, the year's share of the cost of the car, its fuel and maintenance, garaging, parking, which in my case comes to $1500 a year you can readily see that besides being a nuisance and a wear and tear on the nerves, a motor car is a very costly piece of equipment."

I asked him about the $700 for taxis.

"I charge business trips by taxi to business," he said. "The $700 is what I spend on taxis I need for work, and on personal gadding about the city. I use buses and street cars as a matter of policy, so as to keep in touch with a great chunk of the population I wouldn't otherwise see: how they dress, how they behave, what their mood is—a very important thing to my businessman. I have an idea that the motor car has made monks out of a lot of us."

"Monks?" I checked.

"No, monks," he corrected.

Madhouse of Far East

Commonwealth prime ministers are reported to be startled on learning from Mr. St. Laurent that Canada will defend Canada first. It hasn't been the thing in the past, y'know.

Were Games Worth Price?

(By Harold Walr in the Vancouver Sun)

It's the blackest kind of heresy, of course, to question the value of the British Empire Games to Vancouver. But when Vancouver taxpayers seem to be stuck for a Games deficit running close to $150,000, they might be pardoned a few practical thoughts on the subject.

Taxpayers just now, are bleeding dollars from every pore. They're bleeding so profusely that the whole economy is anemic. Every pay cheque looks as if it had been peddled by manpower fire. Sending the junior governments are sniping at income from every ceiling.

Under those circumstances the financially hemorrhaging taxpayer might very well inquire whether the city of Vancouver was justified in undertaking an adventure, however heroic, without some clear understanding about who was going to foot the bills.

This implies no criticism of the British Empire Games as an enterprise. The Games fulfilled a great, inherent purpose. They did, photologically and socially, they were invaluable. How could Vancouver afford them?

The taxpayer, looking dismally at his obligations and the new touch, is inclined to answer ruefully: "How can we afford the local taxpayer is the goat.

A great deal has been said and written about the publicity value of such events. Vancouver has a popular delusion that every time the song "Vancouver" gets in an all-over-the-newspaper and particularly a newspaper in some other country, a four-inch shaft of gold comes down from heaven on Vancouver streets and half a thousand new dogwoods burst into blossom.

We are told that the broad name of Vancouver's name abroad results in a deluge of tourists. It is perfectly impossible to know to what degree the tourist influx has been increased by this Games publicity. It would be interesting to know, too, exactly how much probably fruitless tourist rush benefits the poor Joe who pays the bills.

It's been explained to us very carefully that tourist money is everybody's money. The explanation is neither clear nor convincing.

This taxpayer has never seen a dime in Hespeler's mile bills go up and up and his taxes get higher and higher. If all this publicity has a cash value, that value seems somehow to elude the wage-earner.

Would it be too much to suggest that all this civic publicity is a phony, that by next August not one out of a hundred persons who read those thrilling headlines will be able to say where the 1954 Games were held?

None of this derogates, remember them the value of the British Empire Games. It was an honor and a pleasure to have them here.

But both honors and pleasures can be extravagances. A fellow can order honors with the same prodigality as a Cadillac car with an Austin-in-mind.

What gripes the Vancouver taxpayer is that we went into this affair in such a hurry that we didn't trouble to make it very clear that the local taxpayer would have to stand an additional load for deficits.

Both Ottawa and Victoria seem to suggest that Vancouver made such a good thing out of the Games that Vancouver should pay the shot.

All right, we had the parade and the show and the little hour of glory. But what else have we got?

We have a swimming pool that nobody seems to want. We have a stadium, which is a big dog and at the best an asset for a football club.

Oh yes. We had all the wonderful publicity.

Treat we got our tax notices.

Here's one taxpayer who would sell his share of the pool, the stadium and the wonderful publicity for two cents on the dollar. He'd consider probably a first class deal at that.

Children Have Lots of Ideas

(Edmonton Journal)

A California educator suggested here last week that children have few ideas, so the first and most important job of the school is the stimulation and development" of ideas.

Most children we believe parents, do not suffer from a lack of ideas. They are positively not how mother used to say, "That child is just full of ideas!" Sometimes the remark was a compliment; at other times it was an expression of exasperation, but it seldom often implied a devilish ideas.

Most children, we believe parents, do not suffer from a lack of ideas. They are positively not supplied with ideas, if not full of them; but they certainly do not lack ideas are often ill-founded, illtimed, fuzzy or even impossible, but they because they are young, and what they have to acquire from life is not ideas but well-founded, or accurate and proven, ideas which will serve them well.

Children acquire most of their knowledge from others and most comes to them in some form of language. Even if the language is not spoken almost before they learn to walk, and why the first things they must learn are the local languages of pictures, words and numbers.

If they are to get their knowledge in precise and accurate form they must be introduced to them in precise and accurate language. Are the methods of language, and grammatical precision, then secondary, as Dr. Hilda Neatby, professor of history of California, apparently would have us believe?

We are not knowledge, moreover, children must think about it, speak about it before they can do it. They do not get much command of it by passive recognition, or by a peak about it here and there. Here again, as the indispensable role of language as the essential medium of expression, language has a fundamental role. So it has in the early acquisition of knowledge to others.

Thus, language is primary for children's acquirement of knowledge and also for what Dr. Rose-lle calls "critical listening," fundamental to their mastery of knowledge and, essentially, even if in the secondary role of vehicle to their communication of it to others. Finally, language should be both accurate and if it can, artistic, precise that it be grammatically precise, correctly spelled, accurately punctuated, and so forth.

Having the foregoing points in mind, we would suggest that the school's first and most important task is to ensure that children learn master language. It is primary because it is indispensable to knowledge and thus child-course, knowledge is acquired along with language, and with verse; indeed, they have, to be mastered together.

Children, for we suspect that sound ones or good ones are best stimulated and developed by the teaching of language and other knowledge.

Children entertain all kinds of ideas from time to time, but their ideas won't be much good unless they are hooked to knowledge—or of much use unless they can be conveyed to others clearly, accurately and if possible eloquently.

Stop Lights For Speakers

(Hamilton Spectator)

A sufferer in Britain finally has rebelled against long-winded speakers. He will use a miniature traffic signal which slows green for a reasonable period, yellow for a little less time and red, red when the bounds have been overstepped. Such a device can only wait and hope, but it is still not too early to do some addressing ourselves.

Probably everyone's favourites would be the occasional of the captive audience-lecturers and after-dinner speakers who give us their views of the economic state of Patagonia or some such subject. They are a prime targets. One hesitates to suggest the introduction of such a device into the church, but even our Rev. Mr. Forrest, in a recent article, suggested a new church (fictional) in which a too-long sermon and the arrangement of lights would be less drastic.

Last, but not least, are politicians of all sorts; and any who have suffered in council chamber, legislature or House of Commons must thrill with delight at the prospect of seeing the red light cut off the alderman from Ward 10 or the representative from Hoohoo-on-the-Lake in mid-platitude. The clerk or sergeant-at-arms would have a book of tickets at first, because no doubt a good many red lights would have to be given before discussions would be necessary to improve the system.

But on the political level it will probably remain only a dream. For all politicians, being what they are, could make architectural history if they could remain indefinitely at amber, preamble that the end was in sight, but not quite imminent.

On the political stage, perhaps the disappearing data is the only answer.

Personal Health Talks

By DR. WM. BRADY

MAN WANTS BUT LITTLE IODIN

Have found your Iodin Ration very healthful in keeping me awake. I am 84. Have been listless, but am gaining strength and vite every day. (R.W.)

Man is needs but little iodin but needs that little every day. Likewise his horse, his cow, his wife, his sheep, his pig, his dog, his cat and his canary.

Dr. Brady

The doctor advised my husband to take (a medicinal tose) of iodin a day to perk him up. He said it is good for most people past 40. Do you think pure cod liver oil every day would help rheumatism or arthritis? (Mrs. M. F.)

Only under a doctor's observation should one take iodin in medicinal doses. When I say everybody needs a daily ration of iodin I mean only the minute quantity of iodine that might get in an fish or shellfish if one's diet included substantial proportions of these foods as it should.

As a matter of fact straight cod liver oil, two ounces (about a tablespoonful) a day was formerly one of the best remedies for the rheumatic, and in my opinion still is. Pure cod liver oil is a rich source of vitamin A, vitamin D and iodin.

Make up your mind about it, Ma'am. Have you joint inflammation (arthritis) or joint degeneration (rheumatic)? If it is arthritis the only suggestion I can offer is that you follow your doctor's advice and pay no attention to what any blithering quack says in the papers. If you're curious about the meaning of degeneration look up the medical definition of the word in Webster's.

Your iodin Ration has done so much for me. . . had rheumatism in my hands. . . so painful . . . now I have no pain and I do want to thank you. (Mrs. R. R.)

Thank God, Ma'am, not me. All I can say about it is that even if it does no good the Iodin Ration can do no harm in such a case. All (five) of our family take the Iodin Ration and we are sure we never had such fine spirits before we became disciples.—(Mrs. H. A.)

Yahoo! for years you didn't take much stock in my strange notions, eh?

Took your Iodin Ration for four years, off and on, and my friend's mustache has wonderful growth and blackness of my hair, while most of us have scanty growth and graying hair. In middle-forties and excellent health.—(Mrs. H. A.)

For the 'teenth time I tell you I don't know what the Iodin Ration really restores natural color to hair that has turned gray, but scores of grateful correspondents have assured me it does. It does relieve the present premature graying of the hair.

In any case it can do no harm to try. It only remember, please, a trial of less than three months doesn't settle anything.

Strength for the Day

DR. EARL I. DOUGLASS

YES, TRY IT

Recently I brought a matter of some disturbing consequence to the mind of a friend. He laughed and said, "That's too much for me. I'll let the Lord worry about that one." That's too much for me, I said, but as well leave them to the Lord, for certainly we can do nothing about them ourselves.

This is not a counsel of hopelessness, for many things in the affairs of lives are entirely within our power to alter, either for good or evil. Much of life is left to us and to our choices, but much of it is not left to us and to our choices. We cannot peer into the future and see what is in store for us. Even though restitution and forgiveness are possible and lay upon us a heavy duty, nevertheless most of the past is unchangeable.

We should not be irreverent in the least if, when some situation arises over which he apparently has no control, he says, "I'll let the Lord worry about that one." The Lord is not going to put into his hands the things you cannot do for yourself. He will never do for us what we can do for ourselves, but his offer is to do those many things which neither we nor others can do.

"I'll let the Lord worry about that one." Try it.

TODAY'S TALK

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

MUSIC'S INFLUENCE

All Nature is an orchestra. Take a walk into any forest. Then stand still and listen. There is continual music there. When I was a boy, Lorenzane Anne Lindbergh gave us a book she wrote many years ago—"Listen, the Wind!"

We have but to imagine the world without music to realize its powerful influence. Scores of instruments have been developed in recent years. Even the lowly piccolo plays an important part in the orchestra. What on the ocean so rest us in mind and spirit as we sit on the sandy shore and listen to the rhythm of the waves? Voluntary military recruiting would be very slow were it not for the martial music that stirs the blood when heard.

What lazy memories cluster about the whistling of the small boy in the little town! How he was immortalized in Whittier's "The Barefoot Boy"! If a worker whistles or sings as he works, you know he is happy, and if he is happy you know he is doing good work.

Our bands, orchestras, choirs, composers, and individual singers are a blessing to all mankind, and each individual instrument has a soul of its own which the performer builds within it. How near to the human voice are the strains of a violin and flute! What a thrill a bugle call can provide my window, here in the southland, seem so many? Why do the voices of all sing each other?

Many years ago I visited the Sandwich Islands, the canning place in Honolulu, and I noted the fact that the natives there enjoyed while the great numbers of employees kept working. I asked why this was and was told that they had learned that helpers were more contented and that the work was better done if worked better and more happily.

I believe that we should have more music as the church bells of a Sabbath peal out their invitation to quiet and worship.

Former Chairman Parks Board Corrects Report Before Council

TRENTON. (Special).—Dr. J. W. Farley former chairman of Trenton's Board of Parks management showed the mayor and council last night that O. G. Alyes and his heirs had no legal hold on property Mr. Alyes turned over to the parks board in perpetuity. Dr. Farley explained any interest in the park properties the Alyes heirs might inherit was lost when Mrs. Alyes signed off her dower in those particular lands.

Dr. Farley said he came to talk to council to rectify a reported belief of some councillors that O. G. Alyes and his heirs maintained the control of parks land held in perpetuity by the parks board. The former board chairman was one of five members of the management who resigned after council decided to reappoint board secretary, O. G. Alyes, to a two-year term instead of the usual three year term.

Meanwhile Trenton's Board of Parks Management comprises one lone member R. J. Whitney appointed by this year's council to serve a three year term. Council has deferred appointment of other members to make up a full board.

The Trenton Public Library Board asked council to increase their annual grant from 50c per capita to 60c per capita. Council passed the request along to the finance committee. The grant to the library last year amounted to $5,100 at the 50c per capita rate.

Council decided to take action on a complaint by Dr. W. A. McDonald that Matt Quinn's building on George Street was a fire hazard.

Charles and Mary Higgins of R. R. 2, Trenton, now visiting a daughter in California sent a note of thanks to council for the message of congratulations on their 60th wedding anniversary.

Councillor Joe Gould believes that flooding in the west hill area can be rectified but not cured if the town spends the money. Mr. Gould made this statement during a discussion about a claim by tenant, D. K. Vanderwater, that has been hanging fire since a year ago.

A house owned by Percy Gauen, where Vanderwater lives was damaged by flooding in the cellar according to the tenant. Councillor Gould pressed for a thorough investigation into the matter.

At the opening of the regular meeting Miss Anne Johnson presented a gavel to Mayor Ross Burtt on behalf of the Business and Professional Women's Club of Trenton.

Released by Reds, Says He Was "Guilty"

Dr. Malcolm Bersohn, 29, was one of two U. S. scholars who arrived in Hong Kong after serving three and one-half years of imprisonment in Red China on charges of alleged spying. The other released prisoner was Mrs. Adele Austin Rickett, a 35-year-old school teacher. She said her husband, Walter Allyn Rickett, 33, is still imprisoned in a jail in Peking. Dr. Bersohn was a former student in the Red Chinese capital. Both expressed admiration for the Reds and said they had been guilty of the spying charges. (Central Press Canadian).

Vehicle Runs Down Driveway Into Store Front

TRENTON — (Special)—Shoe repairer Ernie Newton and his son Sonny thought their time had come yesterday when a sharp crash at the front of their store shook the whole building and startled them for a moment.

James C. Reid, 31 of 86 Kerr Crescent parked his car in the driveway at the rear of the Post Office facing Albert street. The machine apparently slipped out of gear rolling downhill across the roadway into the shoe repair shop.

When father and son became composed again they found the front of their store had been damaged. The owner of the car got off lucky — there wasn't a scratch on his vehicle.

Women's World Day of Prayer Well Attended at Pentecostal Church

TWEED — The annual Women's World Day of Prayer service was held in Tweed Pentecostal Church last Friday afternoon with a large attendance of women from all the different denominations of the village and district, present.

Mrs. George H. Ewald, Moira, acted as chairman and introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. Laurie Price of Calvary Temple, Belleville, who gave an inspiring message.

The service adapted from a service prepared by the Rev. Jorgelina Lozada, of Buenos Aires, Argentina, was based on the theme "Abide in Me", John 15-4, and was carried throughout the whole prayer service.

Mrs. Wallace Provost as soloist, sang "In the Beautiful Garden of Prayer" accompanied by Mrs. W. E. Pace, of St. John's United Church, at the piano, who also acted as pianist for the service.

Those representing the various Protestant Churches included: — Mrs. G. D. Morton and Mrs. George Hall, Presbyterian; Mrs. Ken Fisher, Mrs. C. B. Clark and Mrs. L. Elliott, St. John's United Church; Mrs. George Owens and Mrs. Fred Mitchell, St. James Anglican; Mrs. Lleul. Brown and Mrs. Fox, Salvation Army, Mrs. George H. Ewald and Mrs. K. Deline, Pentecostal. The meeting closed with the lovely hymn, — "The day Thou gavest, Lord, is ended, the darkness falls at Thy behest; to Thee our morning hymns ascended; Thy praise shall sanctify our rest", and the benediction brought to a close another World Day of Prayer, which encircled the globe.

Next year's meeting will be held in St. John's United Church, Tweed.

PRESENTATION

Last night the Friendship group of St. Andrew's Guild met in the church parlors for a pot luck supper. During the evening Mrs. Clifford Maybee made the presentation of a wall clock to Mrs. G. A. L. Thorne, whose long association with the Friendship group was highly commended by Mrs. K. S. Hill.

St. Joseph's C.W.L. Plans Future Activities

The regular monthly meeting of St. Joseph's C.W.L., was held Sunday evening in the school hall. Mrs. H. Carr-Brant presided.

The reports were read by the various members of the executive. A detailed report of the communion breakfast, held recently, was given. Study clubs are functioning well in the parish; also the lending library; more books are now available.

Hospital visitors reported 107 patients visited during the month of February. A number of members attended the regional meeting held in Frankford on Sunday afternoon.

Final plans were made for a gala St. Patrick's euchre and home bake sale. There will be special prizes and additional prizes as added attractions. Plans were also discussed for the spring banner and to be held the Wednesday after Easter.

After the business meeting, the Rev. J. Buckley addressed the ladies briefly, and then showed a film entitled "Family Outing," which was much enjoyed by the members.

Mrs. R. Lynch extended a vote of thanks to Father Buckley.

Refreshments were then served by Mrs. W. Sweet and her committee.

Fellowship Sunday Enjoyed By District Young People

On Sunday, South Hastings District Young People held their spring Fellowship Sunday in North Trenton United Church. There were around 75 young people in attendance and they represented 15 unions within South Hastings district.

Registration began at 10.30 a.m., with Jean Finkle in charge. At 11.00 a.m., the young people joined with the congregation of the church in worship. The guest speaker was Mr. Douglas Ross, student of Theology, Queen's University and student minister of North Trenton United church. Reta Christie, president, introduced Mr. Ross who chose for his morning address, "Practising His Presence—In Your Personal Life." He pointed out "that if we are going to practise His presence in our personal life we must be in tune with God and live in His love our every action. We cannot separate our business and social life from our religious life, and still call ourselves Christians." The morning address brought spiritual enrichment to all present.

ASSISTED IN SERVICE

Mr. Ross was assisted in the morning worship by the following executive members—Reta Christie, president; Ralph Swan, vice-president; and Beatrice McFarlane, Faith and Evangelism convener. A duet was rendered by members of King Street United Church Y.P.U. choir, entitled "Lord Jesus" and Beth Minielly favored with a solo entitled "Rest on the Lord", pianist was Miss Claude Huffman.

Following the church service, Ruth McMullen displayed a wide variety of books which were available in the local union.

At noon, the ladies of North Trenton United church served an enjoyable banquet. Don Gates, on behalf of the young people, expressed appreciation to the ladies for catering and compliment them on the quality and quantity of the banquet. Mr. Ross also added congratulations to the ladies and members of the church who have just recently completed building of the basement in which the banquet was served. Betty Smith, president of Carmel-Frankford Y.P.U., extended a warm welcome to the young people.

The afternoon session was conducted by Ralph Swan, vice-president, who led the young people in a sing-song with Evelyn Emerson assisting at the piano. Betty-Ann Stewart, Kay Homan and Harvey Homan, members of Carmel-Frankford Y.P.U., led the young people in a worship service which provided a suitable introduction to Mr. Ross' afternoon theme address, "Practising His Presence—In the Everyday World." Ross Bateman, treasurer, thanked Mr. Ross for his inspiring address. Miss Jean Baker assisted at the piano for afternoon services.

The young people were divided into five groups for a discussion on the theme address. The following were group leaders: Beatrice McFarlane and Ross Bradshaw; George Frost and Reta Christie; Don Gates and Ruth McMullen; Evelyn Emerson and Gordon McInroy; and Bob Jeffrey and Ralph Swan.

The day of fellowship closed with a communion service. The Rev. G. J. Minielly assisted by the elders of North Trenton United church, conducted the service which provided a very fitting finale to a day of worship.

Harmony Studio Club Holds 'Sonata Night'

On Monday evening the Harmony Studio Club was held at the home of Mrs. A. Cornish, 394 Bleecker Avenue, Mrs. R. Veley, R.M.T., acting as hostess. The meeting with a cordial welcome to all, after which the president, Mrs. Armstrong over to Carole Thompson, the chairman.

During the evening, Lynda Thompson, who was passing from grade one to grade two, played the following piano selections: "Air" by Handel; "Trumpets" by Boris Berlin; Mrs. A. Cornish in "Andante Cantabile" arranged by Boris Berlin.

The project of the evening, which was "Sonata Night", was explained by Mrs. Veley. Pupils from grade 3 to grade 8 played sonatinas and sonatas.

The following pupils played sonatinas: Sandra Burns, Patricia Chisholm, Lois Bailey, Roger Ling, Eileen Hiscock, Marilyn Jones, Shirley Becker, Mrs. L. Marsaks and Gary Veley.

The authors of the sonatinas are L. van Beethoven, James Hook, M. Clementi, Kuhlau, I. Dussek.

The following pupils played sonatas: Mrs. A. Cornish in the 1st movement of the "Pathetique"; Grace Veley and Jean Cornish, "The sonatas are Mozart and Beethoven.

Lois Hiscock gave a demonstration of Grade 12 technique.

The following examination work was played: Grade 1 Sharon Flindall, "The Irishman's Dances" by Henry Cowell and "Rondo" by M. Clementi. All examination and project work is played from memory.

The music appreciation number "Moment Musicale" by Schubert, was explained by Mrs. Veley. It was played by Mrs. L. Marsakas and Mrs. Veley.

Refreshments brought a most enjoyable evening to a close.

SHANNONVILLE W.M.S.

The W.M.S. of Shannonville United church met at the home of Mrs. Everett Stratton on Friday afternoon to observe the World Day of Prayer, with 31 in attendance, 17 members and four visitors.

The president, Mrs. Charles Woods, welcomed all and took charge of the business.

Supply secretary, Mrs. Damon Hinchey, read a letter of thanks from Mrs. Brown of Trenton.

Mrs. Frank Doxtator with Mrs. Orval Stratton as alternate, was appointed delegate to Picton on March 24. A pot-luck supper was arranged for March 23, each member to bring a hot dish and a cold one also meat or eggs.

Program for World Day of Prayer was followed, hymns and prayers used as outlined in the program. The president read the call to worship and led in the first part of "Adoration". Mrs. L. W. Scott led in the second part, "Confession, Penitence" and read the Scripture lesson from the 1st chapter of John's gospel.

Mrs. Frank Doxtator led in the next part "Meditation and Thanksgiving". Mrs. Saul McFarlane led in the last part, "Intercession", assisted by Miss Sara Stickney, Mrs. Orval Stratton and Mrs. Everett Stratton.

Mrs. W. D. Rosemond read a leaflet showing the beginning of the World Day of Prayer, how it grew and spread rapidly until now it plays a most important part in the worship of Christian women everywhere.

After the closing hymn and benediction, grace was sung and the hostess and her assistants served refreshments, and a social time was enjoyed.

The president thanked Mrs. E. Stratton for opening her home for the meeting.

Students Obtain Honor Standing In Music Exams

The following pupils of Mrs. Harold Elliott, ATCM, RMT, Stirling, Ontario, who recently tried the February tests of the Royal Conservatory of Music, held at "The Manor", Albert College, have been successful in their pianoforte examinations:

Grade II—Carole E. Burgess, honors; Thelma I. Stewart, honors.

Grade VIII—Mildred A. Morton, R.R. 2, Harold.

Mildred is now entitled to her Grade VIII certificate, having completed the required theory by correspondence from Dr. F. Horwood and passed the recent examination with 1st class honors.

Bride-to-Be Honored By 16 Friends

Last Thursday evening, a most happy time was spent at the home of Mrs. A. Reid, Park Dale, when 16 friends and neighbors assembled for a surprise party and kitchen shower in honor of the bride-to-be, Miss Ilene Reid.

During the arrival of the guests the bride-elect has been asked to baby sit at a neighbor's home so that the occasion might be a complete surprise.

Upon her return she found a happy company awaiting her. After she had been escorted to an especially decorated chair in colors of blue and white, emblem of a happy life an address on behalf of the friends and neighbors was read by Mrs. C. K. Keeble wishing her all happiness, prosperity and health in her new life, and containing the following short poem entitled "The Road to Happiness":

There is a road to happiness, start now from where you are, Turn to the right and keep right on and you'll not find it far.
Along the path of willing feet and never-failing smile,
Across the fields of sweet content, the stream of glad good will.

"Then third the land of loving hearts, and that's called "today",
And down the steps of little things, into the common way;
And take the cloak of Charity, the staff that we employ,
A loaf of bread of daily grace, a flash of well-filled joy."

After the reading of the address, a basket, beautifully decorated in blue and white and filled to over-flowing with lovely and useful gifts, was presented. When these had been opened and admired, and the givers most graciously thanked, the bride said, She's a Jolly Good Fellow!"

The rest of the evening was spent in games and contests with Mrs. McKibbon winning two prizes and Mrs. C. K. Keeble, one.

The hostess, assisted by Mrs. V. Allin, Mrs. S. Cone, Mrs. E. Gray and Mrs. Scrymgeour served refreshments, bringing to a close a happy occasion.

Wife or Intended One Can Take Special Classes

VANCOUVER (CP) — When a man enters Union College of British Columbia here to study for the ministry, his wife — or his intended wife — can take special classes too.

"The wife's role is possibly more important in the ministry than in any other profession," says Rev. W. S. Taylor, principal of the college which trains ministers for the United Church of Canada.

Instead of attending regular classes, the wives and sweethearts of student ministers at the college receive instruction in their future duties at meetings of the Co-Theo Club.

EAGER MEMBERS

The purpose of the club is threefold: to give the women fellowship; a close look at theology; and to help them learn the duties they will face as ministers' wives.

Mrs. Lorna Swan Druten of Victoria, one of the club's 20 members, says the club does a "really fine thing."

"The ministry is a real family affair with a definite job for both husband and wife," says Mrs. van Druten. "Usually there is not enough instruction for wives, many of whom may have had little association with church work until meeting their husbands."

She says the Co-Theo club, now in its sixth year at Union College, has gone a long way towards meeting the wives' needs.

Another staunch supporter is Mrs. Helen Penrose, native of Finland and wife of Norman J. Penrose of Hamilton.

"Experienced ministers and their wives come to our monthly meetings to speak on all phases of church work," says Mrs. Penrose. "I know I have learned a great deal through the club and I'm sure the other girls have too."

LEARN LEADERSHIP

Mrs. Betty Birse, whose home is at Leader, Sask., said club meetings often provide the first opportunity wives have had to prepare a worship service and to learn how to conduct meetings, important because ministers' wives are usually expected to take a leading role in community activities, especially in small centres.

Mrs. Birse, mother of three children, is lenient-minded some of the problems facing a minister's wife. Her husband Archie, who worked at a brokerage firm in Calgary and with a power company at Nelson, B.C., before deciding to study for the ministry, is filling in a pastor of a church in the New Westminster district, at present without an ordained minister.

Dr. Taylor says the club has proved such an outstanding success he is convinced the college should provide accommodation for married couples on the campus of the University of British Columbia, with which the college is affiliated.

This, says Dr. Taylor, would provide both the students and their wives a greater opportunity to take part in informal discussions of school their work and theology.

"When a man and a woman go out to a pastorate, they are really a team," says Dr. Taylor, "the wife must do her part well or the man cannot be as effective as he might be."

University W.C. Holds Panel Discussion on Civic Government

The February meeting of the Belleville and district University Women's club was held at the home of Dr. Lily Mathieson, Thursday evening.

Miss Dora MacKinnon, the president, opened the meeting by welcoming the ever enlarging circle of members.

The secretary, Miss Muriel Gibson, read the report of the previous meeting and Mrs. Kuntze, the treasurer, outlined the finances.

Mrs. Pugh spoke on an interesting survey that she had made on "What is being done and what could be done for the blind child." In conclusion, it was felt that the bright child was being duly considered and that provision was being made for his special potentials.

The club made a motion that $25 be given to the local Welfare Association.

PANEL DISCUSSION

The main feature of the evening was a panel discussion on "The Four City Departments and Manager Type of Civic Government." Miss Madeline Young, Mrs. John Haig, Mr. G. Murray and Mrs. Richard Barrett presented their arguments most convincingly.

Mrs. Haig dealt particularly with the history functions, and development of council-manager civic government.

Some 40 years ago the council-manager plan was devised and promoted in the United States by the National Short Ballot Organization of which the late Woodrow Wilson was president.

At that time local authorities had reached a low ebb in both efficiency and honesty, sufficient to shock the citizens into action. After study and research, the idea of securing businesslike operations by imitating the structure of successful private corporations was transferred to civic government and the council-manager plan was launched.

This system spread to 44 states, six Canadian provinces, and European countries and that it, was felt an urgent need to guard democracy at the civic level of government.

A city-manager and council is necessary as well as a well educated man with a background of wide experience. He must be nonpartisan and preferably a stranger to the community.

The central control afforded by the city manager has usually brought co-ordinated management of a city's physical services; it has encouraged a more balanced pattern of planning, has improved purchasing techniques and has fostered more forthright business relations.

MORE IDEALISTIC OUTLOOK

Against this it was pointed out that it was idealistic and impossible to procure such a manager. Also the manager would have to be broadly educated as his own assistant and until recently, there were no training school in Canada for this particular profession. There were political dangers, as well as the one of investing so much power in one man.

In order to institute a city manager, the initiative would have to come from the electorate. Then, after the necessary legislation in the provincial government, the passing of a local by-law to reduce the number of councillors, a city manager could be engaged. The council, ranging in number from five to nine would outline its program to the city-manager, who would work out the problems with his departmental heads. To mention only two examples, this system has proven successful in Sarnia and Victoria.

In summation, a good government springs from a well informed electorate and the best safeguard is a widespread educational program.

Following this interesting discussion, refreshments were served. Mrs. MacKinnon expressed the hope that there would be a good number at the pot-luck supper being held at the Kiwanis Centre, on the fourth Thursday in March. Mrs. Tippet will be guest speaker and she will have pictures of her travels in India.

EGGLETON Y.P.U.

MADOC JUNCTION — The Eggleton Young People's Union held their February meeting at the school house on Wednesday evening with nine members present.

Miss Grace Clarke presided over the program with Miss Joanne Reide at the piano.

The meeting opened with quiet music. Everyone joined in a lively sing-song with Grace Clarke as leader.

Tom Bridges read the Scripture lesson from Romans 12, and Miss Marlene Madill read the 23rd Psalm in the worship period.

Elmer Lines, Bill Reide and Tom Bridges favored with a trio.

Miss Marlene Madill was appointed to prepare March meeting on "Citizenship and Community Service" during the business period.

The next meeting to be held on the second Wednesday of March at the school.

Miss Donna Stapley contributed a piano solo, "Yes for Two."

A reading was given by Miss Thelma Frest.

Miss Grace Clarke sang a solo "He's My Friend," which was greatly appreciated, and Miss Donna Stapley conducted two interesting games during the recreational period.

Refreshments were served and all enjoyed a social half hour together.

ADVICE to the LOVELORN

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

TO BE OF LEGAL AGE DOESN'T ALWAYS SOLVE ALL PROBLEMS

Dear 18-year-old girl who is trying to figure out a way by which she can get out from under her parents' thumb, ans me the following questions:

"When is a girl legally of age so that she does not have to ask her parents' consent to go out with a boy friend, or to go and stay at a friend's for the weekend? Also, what is the age at which a girl can get married without her parents' consent?

"I am having some trouble with my mother, who says she still has some things to learn that she simply have constant friction with my mother as long as I live so of them alive under the same roof.

"The same thing applies to getting married, which she appears to have in mind, no doubt as a way of escape to freedom. She has the legal right to get married at 18 without her parents' consent. But would she really want to create a breach between her parents and herself by doing just that?

If she were a few years older, it would be a little different. For then young people are old enough to have the judgment to make such decisions, it does sometimes appear that they have to do what they believe right, even though it means they must cause heart pain.

"Consequently, if a few years are now, this girl would be advised, after considering the question from all angles, that she should marry someone of whom her parents, perhaps, did not approve, and she had tried her best to win them over, then she might be justified in going ahead with her marriage plans independently. But set this sort of decision is not to be made lightly, and I frankly do not believe it should be made at the age of 18.

Also, it seems to me that, before taking the position that she is within her legal rights to insist on doing as she pleases, it would be better if she could somehow reach a better understanding, and happier relationship, with her mother, so that matters could be adjusted without running the risk of a break between them.

My suggestion is, that instead of arguing and quarreling with her mother, she should try to find a big effort to get on such friendly terms with her that they could talk things over on a "woman" basis. If pig could be brought about, the mother would be far readier to listen to what her daughter has to say, and to try and see things from the daughter's side.

It's pretty hard to resist someone who is always doing nice, thoughtful things for us, and if the latter were to take a real interest in seeing where she could help her mother, and how many things she could do to make her happy, it might work a miracle.

If 0 r st f of all, this 18-year-old girl could remember that far more is accomplished by a loving attitude than by an antagonistic one. So I hope she will put her wits to work and see how smart she can be

Bonus Readers' Column

As Conducted by Mary Moore

. . . my young neighbor and I had a talk about food. This is the way it went: I say that good meat, potatoes and gravy with hot biscuits are better for a person than just plain salad and potatoes. What do you think about it? They don't like hot biscuits and gravy. . . . of course with us we have a rich odd vegetable along with the potatoes. Could you give us some advice on which is better —salads or just good plain food such as mentioned?. . . just one more thing: How can I work in tomatoes and tomato juice and soups in the other things as the doctor has ordered tomatoes.—Wilhelmina.

ANSWER:

Biscuits are fine Wilhelmina but not in salad. If you can work in meat, potatoes (preferably with skins on) a green or yellow or highly colored vegetable and a salad, then add biscuits, that is fine—but the biscuits are an additional carbohydrate food (the potatoes are carbohydrate) so the vegetables and salads are necessary for your basic nutrition because they contain minerals and vitamins that biscuits do not. To work in tomatoes serve homemade cream of tomato soup—see below—scallooed tomatoes as a vegetable instead of carrots or peas or cabbage etc. or tomato juice at the beginning of the meal.

HOMEMADE CREAM OF TOMATO SOUP

Heat 1 28-oz. tin tomatoes with 1 thick slice of onion and 1 bay leaf.- in top of double boiler heat 2 1-2 cups skim or whole milk. Melt 2 tablespoons butter, stir in 2 tablespoons floor and 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1-16 teaspoon pepper and 1-4 teaspoon monosodium glutamate. Stir these into the hot milk until thick. Just before adding tomatoes to white sauce add 1-8 teaspoon baking soda, stir, then slowly stir into the thin white sauce. Don't worry if you will not curdle if you do it sowly while stirring. Tomatoes may be strained if desired but I like the pieces in the soup. Skim out the onion and bay leaf before serving.

QUESTION:

. . . could you please send me recipes for uncooked cookies. . . . I am having a party in a few weeks at our church annual meeting. Some one had an uncooked cookie with cherries, marshmallow and I believe sweetened condensed milk. This was rolled in graham wafers in a roll and put in refrigerator for a few hours and then sliced. I wonder if you could give me the exact ingredients.—Mrs. Pem. S.

ANSWER:

The following recipe comes very close to filling your request.

MARSHMALLOW ICEBOX ROLL

One-half lb. quartered marshmallows, 1-4 cup water, 1-2 cup condensed (sweetened) milk, 1-2 cup chopped nuts, 1-4 cup chopped plited dates, 1-4 cup sliced drained maraschino cherries (or omit cherries and use 1-2 cup dates), 2 1-2 cups fine graham cracker crumbs. Pour the water over the marshmallows then add the condensed milk, nuts and chopped fruits. Mix well. Stir in crumbs. Form into roll. Note—If this is to be used as a type of cookie make roll 1-2 inches in diameter. If to be used as a sliced dessert with whipped cream form into 3-inch roll. If desired roll the roll in more fine crumbs and place in dish lined with waxed paper and chill 12 hours in refrigerator. This is delicious as a sliced cookie or very convenient for an icebox dessert to have on hand.

about making friends with her mother, and I hope, too, that she will let me know what progess she makes. Perhaps, if she keeps me posted on the situation, I might from time to time be able to give her further suggestions.

HINTS FOR THE LIGHTWEIGHT

Artists have a lot to say about beautiful bones, but the skinny girl is not crazy about hers. Her collar bones look like shelves, she can count her ribs and she hates her thin, shapeless legs. Also she is sick and tired of having the members of the family tell her that she should eat more.

That is not always good advice. What really puts on the curves is not how much you eat, but what is eaten, and how it is eaten. Excessive consumption of sweets, fats and starches is almost as bad for the lean as it is for the fat. These are of values, of course, as they create energy, but they should not be consumed to the exclusion of other foods that supply such necessary dietary elements as vitamins and mineral salts.

Our lightweight should have two fresh vegetables for dinner, served with hot butter. Butter has the highest food value of anything she can take. Except cream.

It is essential that the diet should contain protein, but very meat with other protein items such as cheese, fish, poultry and eggs.

Milk should be regarded as a food instead of a beverage. A pint a day is the requirement. An egg nog taken at bedtime will do wonders in the weight-gaining project. The day should begin with a generous serving of orange or tomato juice for the vitamin C content.

Food should be eaten slowly, meals should be regular and, if one is tired before dinner, it is advisable to relax for a few minutes.

Exercise and deep breathing will help. Then the food is thoroughly oxidized and, after the digestive processes take place, the building elements are circulated through the system. The general vitality and tone of the body improves.

Plenty of sleep is essential, especially for younger girls who are too thin. Social life should not be too taxing and parties should be limited to Saturday nights when one can sleep in a few extra hours of slumber Sunday morning.

By following these rules, weight can be increased in a normal manner, in the majority of cases.

GROOM'S PARENTS' NAMES

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

I would like to know if it is incorrect to have the names of the parents of the groom on the wedding invitations? — A Friend

In this country it is not correct to include the names of the groom's parents on wedding invitations. (This is sometimes done in some foreign countries.)

The point is that the wedding invitations are issued by the bride's parents, the hosts of the wedding . . . therefore their names only are use. (The groom's parents are the guests of honor at the wedding.)

ABOUT CUTTING A SLICE OF MEAT

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

To settle a discussion, please answer this: is it or is it not correct to cut a slice of meat into small pieces before starting to eat it? — J. and J.

It isn't correct . . . not after nursery days! Cut one piece (a small mouthful) of meat at a time, as you are ready to eat it. That's proper grownup procedure!

TWO PRESENTS?

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

A friend of ours is being married on her parents' 25th Wedding Anniversary. Does this call for two presents? — Mary

Since it is apparently the bride-to-be who is your friend, you send her a wedding present, to her house, as soon as possible before the wedding. That's the only "must" present. You send an Anniversary present to the parents only if you wish to.

For Colds use lemon and soda

Bringing Up Baby

Mom Collected by Mrs. Jean Burke (Mother of 5)

A question frequently asked by first-time mothers: "Why is it necessary for me to have more than milk during the first few months?"

Answer dept. While milk is the best-known, almost complete food, it does not supply enough blood-building iron, vitamin C (found in fruits, berry juices and tomato juice) and vitamin D (for strong bones and teeth). Hence, orange juice is added for vitamin C; fish liver oils for vitamin D; enriched cereals for iron, calcium and B-vitamins.

Taste-ful tip. Gerber's Strained Egg Yolks have a delicate, fresh-egg flavor that's especially appealing to baby's wakening taste buds. Add to this, appealing, sunny color . . . a smooth, custard-like consistency, and you've a specialty made to order for a royal heir's taste. Rich in vitamin A and blood-building iron, Gerber's Egg Yolks are completely heat-sterilized for baby's protection.

Protective apparel. A budget-minded mother tells me that a plastic tablecloth, or regular sheet plastic, makes a perfect, washable raincoat cover for baby's crib. Waterproof, odorless, easy to clean.

3 in 1 for a solid start. When baby's ready for solid food—usually around first—you'll find Gerber's Cereals helpful for that first, good-feeling texture—bland, but distinctive flavors. Gerber-Cephine Baby Foods Ltd., Niagara Falls, Canada.

MARMORA

World Day of Prayer Observed At St. Andrew's United Church

MARMORA.— The World Day of Prayer was observed at St. Andrew's United Church on Friday afternoon. The service was opened with a hymn and prayers taken by Mrs. K. J. Crawford, president of St. Andrew's W.M.S., who also welcomed those present. Remaining sections of the service which followed the prescribed form were taken by members of the various missionary organizations present.

Mrs. A. F. Fraser, organist of St. Andrew's, accompanied the hymns. Mrs. R. G. Whitely, president of the St. Paul's W.A., and Mrs. P. O. Miller, wife of the pastor of Marmora Free Methodist church, led in turn in responsive readings.

The Scripture lesson was read by Mrs. Percy Gray, of St. Paul's. Mrs. J. Auchinvole of St. Andrew's led in the intercessions. The address on "Prayer" was given by Mrs. Russell Wells, of Marmora Free Methodist W.M.S.

The solo "Living for Jesus" was rendered by Mrs. L. R. Runcle of St. Paul's.

The offering was taken by Mrs. H. C. Barlow and Mrs. L. G. McGinnis of St. Andrew's.

The dedicatory prayers were offered and the benediction pronounced by Mrs. K. J. Crawford

White's District

WHITE'S DISTRICT — Mrs. Earl Dafoe, of Chatterton, was a Monday and Tuesday guest of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Dafoe.

A number of ladies in this district met at the home of Mrs. Clifton Rush, on Tuesday, for a quilting for the Bay of Quinte Women's Institute.

Mrs. Clifton Rush was a last Wednesday visitor of Mrs. Donald Rush and Mrs. Harry Rutter, of Wesley.

The Bay of Quinte Institute held a social evening at Glen Miller Hall on Wednesday. Mrs. Albert Mackay was the winner of the door prize.

Mrs. Lawrence Dafoe was a Thursday guest of her parents Mr. and Mrs. Glen Meyers, of Foxboro.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Young were Wednesday callers of Mr. and Mrs. B. Westover.

Mr. Fred Pringle, of Windsor, has been a guest of his sister, Mrs. Everett Nicolson.

Mrs. Ritchie Ketcheson was a Friday tea guest of Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Hunt.

Mrs. Orval Ghent was a Friday dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Rush.

A number of ladies of White's Church attended World Day of Prayer at Centenary United Church on Friday.

Mrs. H. Vandervoort of Belleville, was a guest for a few days last week of Mr. and Mrs. William Linn.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Sandercock were Saturday evening visitors of his sister, Mrs. Clifford Millar, Mr. Millar and family of Trenton.

Mrs. H. V. Wright of Trenton, was a Wednesday visitor of Mr. and Mrs. William Linn.

Mr. and Mrs. Clare Millar, David and Stephen, of Belleville, were Sunday dinner guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Rush.

Mrs. Ritchie Ketcheson was a Sunday tea guest of Mrs. W. A. Jeffery.

A few children and adults are still suffering from colds in this district.

Services were held at White's Church on Sunday afternoon with Mr. Donald Bowers Jr. in charge of the Sunday School. The Rev. R. W. T. Middleton's message was based on, "Not by Might, nor by power but by my Spirit", saith the Lord.

ALL OPPOSITION

(Main purpose of the federal-provincial conference is to review tax agreements which expire at the end of 1957. Prime Minister St. Laurent said Tuesday the conference will be held "as early as it can conveniently be arranged.")

SEES UPSWING

Mr. Howe said current developments point to an upswing in Canada's economy.

"As the year draws on we can, I am confident, look forward to a broader resumption of expansionary trends with an accompanying growth in job opportunities," he said.

The unemployment debate will continue. Whether it resumes today depends on whether members agree to yield what is expected to be one of the last two Wednesdays in the session set aside for private members' business.

The debate centres on government figures issued last week. The bureau of statistics estimated 362,000 persons were out of work and looking for jobs in late January, compared with the previous high of 318,000 last March. At the same time, 369,532 persons were looking for work through National Employment Service offices, against the high of 589,896 last March.

JOBLESS GROWTH

Mr. Pickersgill said that if the recent growth of unemployment continues at the same pace, jobless rolls will total 620,000 this month.

Her motion said the government "should immediately give consideration to the formation of plans to deal with this emergency, and to the necessary steps to establish a long-term program to be presented to Parliament during the present session."

An air amendment to a government motion that the House go into supply it was technically a non-confidence motion.

She said Canada's unemployed should not be regarded as statistics. They were hungry, cold and fearful in the midst of plenty.

"Perhaps that is why the situation is so appalling."

NOT A CRISIS

Mr. Gregg said he does not agree that present unemployment constitutes "a crisis in the history of Canada."

Unemployment was heavy. But it was not static unemployment. Most of it was on a short-term basis.

He commended the working population for the adaptability it has shown but suggested there could be more employment if workers were willing to move about to take up jobs.

He opposed the idea of peacetime government direction to move workers and industries where they are needed. That might help, but at the price of freedom.

Mr. Coldwell said unemployment is tied closely to the recent decline in farm prices. He urged government action to increase farm prices, seeking to develop overseas markets as one way to achieve that goal.

Mr. Howe said opposition emphasis on unemployment statistics alone left an unwarranted impression. It ignored the "bright spots" in the economic picture.

Argument of some opposition members that public works could solve unemployment was "entirely fallacious." The government had chosen a number of works projects which would contribute to long-term development and stimulate business.

"To add to this some hastily-conceived 'make-work' projects . . . would be an unwise use of public funds."

Mr. Johnston said the government, in effect, was telling the unemployed to "hang on, do without meals for two or three weeks and things will solve themselves."

SUSPEND WORKERS

BRANTFORD (CP) — Canadian Westinghouse Company Monday suspended without pay until Wednesday nearly 300 production workers who walked off their jobs at the company's Brantford plant in protest against general working conditions.

A company-union meeting to iron out differences was expected to be arranged sometime today.

Labor Federation Wants Ontario Hospital Sweeps

TORONTO (CP) — The Ontario Provincial Federation of Labor (TLC-AFL) Tuesday asked the provincial government to seek amendment of the criminal code to allow an Ontario hospital sweepstake similar to the Irish sweepstakes.

"Most of the hospitals in Ontario are not of modern construction and many are unable to modernize their equipment to handle any serious cases due to the lack of sufficient funds and are forced to charge rates beyond the means of the average worker," the federation said.

In the brief presented to Premier Frost the federation sought early action to relieve unemployment, to amend the Labor Relations Act, and Workmen's Compensation Act set up a health insurance plan.

The brief was presented on behalf of more than 200,000 members of Trades and Labor Congress of Canada and American Federation of Labor unions in Ontario.

CRITICIZES PROCEDURE

It said the present certification procedure as set out in the Labor Relations Act was undemocratic because it required an affirmative vote by more than 50 per cent of all employees eligible for membership in order that a union be certified. It asked that the act be amended so that a union receiving a majority of votes cast would be certified.

The government was asked to bear all costs of arbitration proceedings as is done now in conciliation cases.

MUST REDEEM STAMPS

REDS DEMAND INDEMNITY

BERN, Switzerland (Reuters)—Communist Romania has demanded that Switzerland pay an indemnity for damage caused when anti-Communist gunmen occupied the Romanian legation here Feb. 15, it was learned today. The demand was made in a note delivered to the Swiss legation in Bucharest Monday night.

IVANHOE

'Abide in Me' Theme of Address At Day of Prayer

IVANHOE — World Day of Prayer Service was held in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, on Friday afternoon. The W. M. S. president, Mrs. Harry Benson, presided with Mrs. Arthur Hassall at the piano.

The theme of the service, "Abide in Me", John 15-4 was prepared by Rev. Jorgelina Lozada of Buenos Aires, Argentina.

Those representing the neighboring churches who took part in the service included: Mrs. George Wood, Mrs. Don Reid, Beulah United; Mrs. Lindsay Tanner, St. Thomas' Anglican; Mrs. Benson French, Standard; Mrs. J. B. Hamilton, Mrs. Harold Holden, Salem United; Mrs. W. H. V. Walker, St. Andrew's Presbyterian.

An inspiring address was given by Mrs. J. C. Sills from the theme "Abide in Me."

Palestine was a land of vineyards. Christ's ministry began the true Vine, my Father is the husband man. He cares for the vine and the Vineyard. He plants the vine and watches over it. It is the Lord to keep the Vineyard. The unfruitful branches are worthless. They are cast into the fire and burned. Divine pruning and discipline, affliction and trouble tend to make spiritual strength and fertility. Cause of unfruitfulness. "Severed from Me ye can do nothing".

"To belong to Christ is to Abide in Him". Flames wing their way through heat and cold, in blazing skies, and under the stars by dome of heaven — The engines of wood, fabric stands the strain. But after many years the planes are torn down, and assembled anew. The day the sights have exacted their toll, and new life is needed. The most intricate and sensitive the machine, the more it needs rest. Our bodies, wonderfully planned must have rest.

"So must our souls be restored and renewed by prayer and communion with God. Let us go forth today, not with our own will, but due to the times in which we are living, but the Holy Spirit filling our lives with power.

"If this union with the living Vine be not formed; Let it be formed at once. If it be suspended, let it be renewed. If it be existing and vitally active and energetic, let it be prized and cultivated."

An appropriate solo was given by Mrs. Keith Bell, Mrs. Lloyd Branch is to the Vine".

The offering was received by Mrs. Lindsay Sills and Mrs. John McIntosh.

1956 Day of Prayer Service will be held in the Standard Church, Ivanhoe. Key woman, Mrs. Foster Wilson; treasurer, Mrs. Benson French.

NEW LEADS SPUR SEARCH FOR MISSING TORONTO GIRL

Relief that Julia Carter, eight-year-old Toronto girl who disappeared on February 20, has been abducted has been confirmed by the story of two women who believe they saw the little girl on a Toronto street car crying and asking for her mother. Spurred into a city-wide search, following several lead. Here Constable Ryan questions one of the families of the neighborhood where Julia was last seen, showing a picture of the girl to aid identification.

Two Inexpensive Drugs Used To Treat Emotional Illness

NEW YORK (CP)—Time magazine in its current issue says pills and injections of two inexpensive drugs are being used successfully in the treatment of emotional illness. It credits two Montreal psychiatrists with pioneer work in the development of one of the drugs.

The magazine says the new drugs are as important, in their way, as the germ-killing sulphas discovered in the 1930s. They are chlorpromazine, a synthetic compound, and reserpine, a pure alkaloid from the juices of the snakeroot, crude extracts of which have been used for centuries by medicines men in India.

First in North America to use chlorpromazine on mental patients, says the magazine, was Berlinborn Dr. Heinz Edgar Lehmann, assistant professor of psychiatry at McGill University and clinical director of Verdun Protestant Hospital.

With Dr. Gorman Hanrahan, he tried chlorpromazine first on victims of manic depressive psychosis in the manic phase—the kind of patients who are admitted to the hospital "raving, fighting and delirious that aren't there." Injections of chlorpromazine worked wonders. Men and women who had been continuously manic for a year or more quieted down. Among 77 maniacs, Dr. Lehmann saw no total failures; improvement has improved, also improved enough to go home and 37 went home "recovered." In four cases, indicated attacks of mania were averted.

Early success with this type of case prompted the Montreal doctors to try chlorpromazine on schizophrenia victims. It was in schizophrenia cases marked by extreme withdrawal and by persecution delusions that Dr. Lehmann found chlorpromazine most effective.

Again patients' responses varied widely; the longer the illness had lasted, the less likely was it that the patient would recover enough to go home. In the U.S. says Time, 300,000 schizophrenics fill about half the mental hospital beds, and after a stay of two years or so, their chances of being discharged have been small. But new drugs have already begun to change this.

Chlorpromazine and reserpine, which works more slowly but obtains similar results, have a wide variety of other uses. They quell mental fear, agitation and blocking of senile patients. General paresis, the result of long-standing syphilitic infection, has yielded spectacularly to treatment with reserpine, Time's report says.

Hog Producers Will Defend Marketing Scheme

TORONTO (CP) — Members of the Ontario Hog Producers Association are expected to defend at a meeting today a co-operative hog marketing scheme introduced by the Ontario government two years ago.

The legality of the scheme, which was introduced with the support of the Ontario Federation of Agriculture and the OHPA, has been challenged by Theodore Parker of Scarlingville, Stratford district farmer, and others through out the province.

Through the scheme, hogs are handled by producers and the United Livestock Sales, a private company made up of five private commission agencies and the United Farmers of Ontario - operative Farmers' pay 24 cents a hog to the marketing board for the service.

Eskimo Trackers Set Forth To Check Signs Missing Men Have Survived Bitter Ordeal

HALIFAX (CP)—A band of Eskimo trackers set out today from a hamlet at southwestern tip of Baffin Island to check signs that have gone that two men may have survived 44 days of bitter Arctic isolation.

The search party was scheduled to leave Cape Dorset and follow the 300-mile trail taken Jan. 15 by Hudson's Bay Company employees Donald Baird, 22, of Twillingate, Nfld., and Outcoke, a wellcran Eskimo traveller, who have not been heard from since.

The searchers will follow up footprints and sled tracks discovered by a previous rescue team. Word that the tracks had been discovered was first received negated by yet another search party that's received here by a amateur radio operator Britt Fader.

NO INDICATION

There was no indication how old the tracks were.

But the party arriving at Frobisher Bay said whoever left the trail was apparently still able to travel. They said they came upon stretches where the men had walked and then climbed aboard their sled to ride for a time before resuming the trip afoot.

This is normal procedure in the Arctic to maintain blood circulation and conserve energy at the same time.

The RCAF abandoned a two-week-old aerial search for the men last Monday.

DEVELOPS SERUM

Sees Hog Marketing Scheme Law Suit as Posing Threat To All Farm Marketing Laws

TORONTO (CP— — Ontario Liberal leader Farquhar Oliver said Tuesday a court action against the hog-marketing scheme, if successful, will upset the status of Ontario's marketing legislation.

"The concern of farm people is that they feel any upsetting of legislation in this one particular case would have a far-reaching application of upsetting farm legislation under the Farm Products Marketing Act and in all the different fields in which that act operates," said Mr. Oliver.

Premier Frost has made a political government, so far as he was aware, was not a party to the action, but if it was added as a party to the action, it would defend the act.

WILL TAKE ACTION

Mr. Oliver also asked the premier whether orders-in-council setting schemes under the act would be placed in jeopardy if the action against the hog marketing scheme was successful.

Premier Frost said the government was taking the situation under advisement and if other marketing schemes were in jeopardy, the government would take appropriate action.

"We have no intention of allowing other marketing legislation to be upset if we can prevent it," the premier said.

Figures on provincial police resignations and dismissals since January, 1954, were tabled in the legislature by Premier Frost.

Resignations for all ranks were 42 and there have been no dismissals since that time, the statement said. The information was tabled in a question by Peter Manley (L—Stormont).

The reply said - the present strength of the OPP is 1,417 compared to 1,286 for January, 1954. Since that date 303 men have been added.

REPORT DENIED

Attorney General Porter last week denied reports that 30 men had resigned from the Dundas and Newmarket districts because of discontent with salaries. The attorney general said resignations were low, explaining that increasing and morale was good.

A government bill tabled provides for the reduction in the number of persons on civil juries to six from 12 was given first reading in committee without second reading.

Mr. Frost moved that the bill be given second reading in the House but later withdrew his motion. The bill also provides for a reduction in the number of members of a grand jury to seven from 13. Criminal case juries are unchanged.

Welfare Minister Goodfellow introduced a bill to amend the act under the Indians in the province the same welfare benefits as other persons receive, including blind, disabled and mothers' allowances and old age pensioners.

U.S. Air Force Wing Will Get B-52 Jets

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States Air Force announced today that it will begin late this spring to equip one of its strategic command wings with B-52 jet bombers, capable of delivering hydrogen bombs in faraway targets at high speed and altitude.

Air Force Secretary Harold E. Talbott's official announcement made no reference to recent reports in the capital reporting that "bugs" had developed in the B-52.

The plan is eventually to convert all 11 B-36 wings to B-52s.

Hang U.S. Man For Axe-Murder In Simcoe Area

SIMCOE, Ont. (CP)—A United States citizen was hanged early today for the axe-murder last winter of a district service station operator.

Jerry Simmons, 48-year-old Syracuse, N.Y., sharecropper, went to the gallows in the Norfolk county jailhouse for the slaying of Ernest Beatty, 67, in his filling station at nearby Benton. The justice department said Tuesday executive clemency was refused.

Witnesses said Simmons was pensive but calm. He asked for a couple of puffs on a cigaret before being hanged.

A group of between 150 and 200 persons waited outside the 92-year-old jailhouse until the hanging was over. The trap was sprung at 12:07 a.m. Jail governor James Dickinson said the official death notice at 12:42 a.m.

BLOOD-STAINED AXE

Beatty and his 63-year-old wife, Ida, were found Feb. 2, 1953, unconscious from severe beatings in the living room of their home behind the service station. A blood-stained axe was lying on the chesterfield. The room showed signs of a struggle. Beatty died except that 1945 proposals of the federal government that provide for grants to the provinces for largescale public works purposes.

The brief, presented by the federation to the premier and his cabinet members, urged the Ontario government to seek an early meeting with Ottawa to deal with unemployment. It also asked for the enforcement of a female minimum wage act.

Still Questioning Use of Word Royal in Titles

OTTAWA (CP) — Pool rooms, taxi firms and a tailor shop were placed alongside the Canadian Pacific Railway in continued questioning in the Commons of use of the word "royal" in titles.

George Hees of Toronto Broadview, raising the matter for the third day this session, noted that in Ontario several small hotels, a tailor shop, a taxi firm ,an upholstery company, a delivery service and a bakery have all been "granted the right to use the word royal in their name."

In view of this, he asked, "would it not be appropriate" for someone in the secretary of state that he proved up the procedure to make it as easy as possible for companies like national railways to obtain the use of title in the quickest possible time?"

Monday, the Commons was informed that the CPR dropped its plan to name its new transcontinental train the "Royal Canadian" after an exchange of views with the state secretary's department.

PERMISSION NEEDED

Mr. St. Laurent said an official of the department had informed a press report of the railway's plan, and that the CPR considered that the Queen is necessary. The CPR contended no permission is required in the last resort because the government it had abandoned the plan.

Replying to Mr. Hees Tuesday, the prime minister said:

"I do not have any knowledge that any of the institutions mentioned in the bill dropped or claimed the right to use the word royal. The bill to be read, even if requests for them were submitted, I doubt that they would be authorized to use the word."

He reiterated that if and when applications for the use of titles are received they will be given due consideration. If they appeared undesirable of objectionable, they will be furthered to her.

Federal Act Bars Further Liquor Rights to Indians

BY THE CANADIAN PRESS

British Columbia has gone as far as it can in granting liquor privileges to Indians, Attorney-General Bonner told the legislature Tuesday.

In answer to questions from Bruce Brown (L—Prince Rupert) Bonner said the province has given every provision of the federal Indian Act to extend privileges. They have agreed to drink in licensed drinking establishments but cannot purchase liquor to take out.

Mr. Brown said the province should urge the federal government to amend the act.

A motion urging the provincial government to make it an offence to carry firearms on private property without the resident's consent was passed by the house. Game, leisure, despite objections of Lands Minister Lyons.

BOOST SALARIES

Salary boosts for members of the cabinet were included in the New Brunswick budget brought down by Secretary-Treasurer D. D. Patterson.

Premier Flemming refused an offer by the Liberal leader but will receive the $2,500 increase to his $7,500 salary as Attorney-General. The increase boosts cabinet ministers salaries to $7,500 from $5,000. Private member salaries were increased to $1,500 from $1,000.

The Manitoba legislature's law amendments committee approved a bill to establish the Supreme Court decision which awarded mineral rights on Manitoba swamp lands to the provincial government.

Swamp lands are those transferred to the province by the federal government prior to the wholesale transfer of mineral rights to the province in 1930. They were originally granted by the province of the total—known land in the province.

The Saskatchewan legislature cleared the way for the budget today by passing 12 days of throne speech debate. Thirty speakers were heard, 23 from the government side.

Newfoundland Boy Goes Home From Hospital

TORONTO (CP) — Izzy Crotty, walking and talking again after a struggle of almost a year to become a normal youngster, left what was scheduled to arrive at his Newfoundland home today.

The bright-eyed youngster, who lay unconscious in hospital for 118 days after being hit by a car, which failed to stop near his home in St. John's last May, left by plane ..Tuesday night with his mother after four months in the Hospital for Sick Children.

The recovery is not yet complete, doctors said, but it appears only a matter of time before he will be able to speak almost normally and also to walk like any other child," one added.

TRAIN UPSETS, 13 KILLED

Cambodia's King Gives Up Throne To His Father

PARIS (AP) — Agence France-Presse reported today that King Norodom Sihanouk of Cambodia's indecise state of Cambodia has abdicated.

The news agency said the 33-year-old monarch stepped down from the throne of the 70,000-square-mile country in favor of his father, Prince Suramarit. The report did not give the reason for the abdication.

TWELVE TO SAIL

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP)—Twelve squal ships—the largest Canadian sealing fleet in three years—will head for ice - infested northern waters March 5. There they will crunch through rafting ice floes in search of young harps on the boods. Five sailed last year, but ice floes took their toll. Only two were returned although no lives lost.

Germs May Reveal to Scientists What Radiation Does to Man

By H. L. JONES
Canadian Press Staff Writer

ARNPRIOR, Ont. (CP)—Canada is experimenting with the effects of nuclear radiation on germs and possibly the hope is that they may solve a big question of the hydrogen-bomb age—the genetic effects of nuclear radiation on human beings.

Dr. R. M. Taylor, director of the division of experimental biology of Canada Ltd., made the disclosure in an interview. He gave no details of the experiments but said where they are being conducted.

But he said radioactive particles in Western countries are hard at work trying to determine what effects Adonb and H-bomb radiation may have on future generations.

Tests have been going on among Japanese exposed to radiation in the Hiroshima and Nagasaki A-bomb blasts, but Dr. Taylor said he has returned although no lives known.

The ideal situation, he said, would be to find a couple who had been exposed to exactly the same degree of radiation, then examine the generations of children who followed from their union.

It was known radiation produced changes in germs and some forms of life such as flies and some animals. But it was not safe to assume that these changes would occur in humans.

Dr. Taylor was one of a panel of experts who yesterday addressed 45 Canadian doctors, the mayor of Lindsay, youngest of three Holidaysburg sportsmen whose bodies remains were found in July, 1953 in the Gaspe wilderness. He is scheduled to be hanged March 22.

Crancois Gravel, one of Coffin's lawyers, said there was a proof submitted at the trial that Lindsey had died "at the hands of a man." He quoted the testimony of a m ed-clo-legal expert who said Lindsey's remains showed no trace of a bullet, that I could swear to."

Coffin's Appeal In Murder Case Is Quieting Down

QUEBEC (CP) — Lawyers for Wilbert Coffin, a Gaspe woodworker convicted of murdering a Pennsylvania hunter, claimed Tuesday that the trial judge should have ordered an acquittal because of lack of evidence.

The argument was contained in a 200-word appeal filed by Coffin's lawyers in an attempt to upset the conviction for the murder of Richard Lindsey, 17, of Holidaysburg, Pa. The appeal hearing continues today.

Coffin, 43, was found guilty at Perce, Que., last Aug 7 of the murder of Lindsey, youngest of three Holidaysburg sportsmen whose bodies remains were found in July, 1953 in the Gaspe wilderness. He is scheduled to be hanged March 22.

Rev. Dan McIvor Defends Members Of Commons

OTTAWA (CP)—Rev. Dan McIvor, at 82 the oldest member of the Commons, Tuesday cried "lie" as he thundered in a rich Irish brogue his heated indignation at a report that members sneak out for a quick drink during House sittings.

The Fort William Liberal, a teetotaling ex-United Church minister, rose on a question of privilege to refer to a Quebec City report Monday which quoted Wilfrid Dufresne (PC—Quebec West) as saying some members "often withdraw to their offices to have a quick one. . . ."

Some years ago, Mr. McIvor said, he asked the late Agnes Macphail, Canada's first woman parliamentarian, what she thought of the character and ability of Commons members.

"Her reply was that there was only a group of men in Canada which would rank them in character and ability and in willingness to serve." Then, he said the statement attributed to Mr. Dufresne "is not true of this (government) side of the house" and added:

QUESTIONS OPPOSITION

"I wish to ask the honorable leader of the Opposition (Hon. George Drew) if he is the spokesman for members of that (opposition) side of the House."

Mr. Drew replied that Opposition members are "quite capable of speaking for themselves in regard to their conduct in this House or outside of it."

He added he would expect neither Prime Minister St. Laurent, in the capacity as prime minister, nor any member of the House to "assume the responsibility of telling any member what he should do once he is outside of this chamber."

Rev. Dan McIvor Defends Members Of Cancer Serum Made With Use of Horses

TORONTO (CP)—A serum developed by a Toronto doctor and described as promising in the treatment of breast cancer Tuesday was reported made with the use of horses.

Dr. Gordon Murray, famous for his "blue baby" heart operations and for the development of an artificial kidney, was said Monday to have developed the serum and used it successfully.

But he emphasized that the serum is only a remission—that is, it will not cure cancer but may halt further growth.

The serum is made by injecting cancerous tissue into a horse and then drawing off a substance from the horse's body.

MAY BE SHORT

The drug may be in short supply because there aren't enough horses available for this use.

One Toronto woman, who asked to be named, has withdrawn from an interview the serum has given her in "new lease on life" after she was given up as a hopeless case.

Dr. Murray will describe his experiments March 8 in a closed session to the Toronto Academy of Medicine.

Dr. Ian Macdonald, president of the academy, on Tuesday said he thinks more proof is required.

"What we have here is something about it," he said. "It wouldn't be much good raising the hopes of a lot of people and then finding the only enough serum could be produced to treat a thousand this year."

PLANS PLANT EXPANSION

TORONTO (CP)—The A. V. Roe Aircraft Company said Tuesday it plans to spend $5,000,000 on plant expansion to accommodate production of the C-105, new-type interceptor. F. T. Smye, Avro vice-president and general manager, said the company is already tooling up for the C-105.

Hawaii Volcano Is Quieting Down

PAHOA, Hawaii (AP)—Hawaii island's spectacular eruption in a sugar cane field began to die down Tuesday night, but red-hot lava still was roaring near Pahoa.

The fire burned a two-mile stretch of cane before it started down the Puna slope of eastern Hawaii island toward the sea. Residents in homes in the village were in the path of the fire.

Fifty fountains of molten rock subsided by nightfall to quiet flows after 30 active hours. Instead of the 1,000-foot spouting of five main fissures.

The new Hawaiian volcano spread a lake of lava a mile and a half long and forced about 500 persons to flee, abandoning their pahoa farm homes. Officials declared a state of emergency.

Reformed Alcoholic Turning Farm Into Salvage Centre for Drunkards

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—The Lord will help Dr. Frank Humphrey hopes at 70 to build an eden for alcoholics.

The elderly Virginia veterinarian, who labored up 10 years ago after a 47-year bout with the bottle has helped reform hundreds of other alcoholics.

Dr. Humphrey last month bought a 159-acre farm near Culpeper, Va., and is turning it into a salvage centre for drunkards.

"It will simply be a place where alcoholics who want to rehabilitate themselves can come, get back on the right path, and put themselves in physical shape to go back to normal life.

"There won't be any doctors or nurses. The only help will be caretakers. If a man needs pills and hypos, he ought to be in a hospital."

The farm, called "Lord Willing" in tribute to the higher power which Dr. Humphrey feels enabled him to straighten out his own drinking problem, will be stocked with cattle, sheep and hogs. It will have a vegetable garden.

"I don't know of anything quite like this that is now being done anywhere else," said Dr. Humphrey. "The men will work under skilled farmers. We'll be able to take about ,10 men at a time and I feel we'll be able to put at least 100 men a year back on their feet. A month of simple outdoor living will work wonders in the way of health."

Dr. Humphrey will spend as much time at the rural retreat as his work allows. He is a dairy inspector for 23 southern Virginia counties.

Does such a simple program have any real hope of curing chronic drunkards? Dr. Humphrey is sure it will.

"It takes a drunk to talk another drunk's language," he said cheerfully.

Dr. Humphrey feels he knows that language thoroughly. Before he took up drinking as a fulltime job, he had raised thoroughbred horses and used to go foxhunting for sport with his friend, the late Gen. George Patton.

"Because of my drinking I lost two valuable farms and two lovely wives who are, however, among my best friends today," he has recalled. "When I reached the point where I knew I had to give up either my veterinary practice or liquor, I gave up my practice—for 15 years."

Ten years ago, sick of living, he attended a meeting of an Alcoholics Anonymous club in Baltimore. It was the stepping-stone to his own cure. Now he feels there is no such thing as an incurable alcoholic.

Scientists Hope to Develop Menageries of Germ-Free Animals to Help in Study

By FRANK CAREY

WASHINGTON (AP) — Government scientists hope to develop menageries of germ-free animals to help in the study of a variety of health problems.

The U. S. public health service is seeking congressional approval to build a special laboratory for rearing generations of chickens, guinea pigs and possibly other animals under absolutely sterile conditions.

The animals would be used to test the effect of germs and other substances purposely introduced into their bodies. Since the animals would be free of infections at the start, scientists would expect to get a better idea of the effects of the introduced substances.

STARTED IN 1897

Efforts to raise germ-free laboratory animals have gone as far back as 1897, but scientists say the great advances made in the field, in the United States at least, have resulted from a project at Notre Dame University.

At Notre Dame animals are born in a germ-free environment. From that time on, the air they breathe, the food they eat and the quarters in which they live are kept sterile.

The government scientists were inspired to seek a laboratory of their own by the success of experiments they began two years ago as guest researchers at Notre Dame.

These experiments were concerned with amoebic dysentery, which is estimated to infect more than 11,000,000 persons in the U. S. Most of these persons are not actually sick, but scientists say patients with mild or apparently cured infections may suddenly develop liver complaints and dysentery.

CHECK ON INFLUENCE

The aim of the study was to determine whether, in the experimental animal at least, the presence of other germs in the body might have an influence on amoebic dysentery.

Two groups of guinea pigs were used in the test: 1. Germ-free animals and 2. conventional animals, harboring common intestinal bacteria.

After inoculation with parasites, none of the germ-free animals developed this dysentery, whereas 34 of the 37 conventional animals came down with the disease.

In polio research, such animals would be useful in investigating multiplication of the polio virus in the intestinal tract and the influence of bacteria on its multiplication and excretion.

5TH THURLOW

World Day Of Prayer Observed

5th LINE THURLOW — The "World Day of Prayer" service was observed on Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. O. Bertrand with 13 ladies and two children in attendance. The pianist, Mrs. C. Martin played quiet music and Mrs. J. O. Huffman opened the meeting.

Mrs. Gerald Livingston, Mrs. Clarence Martin, Mrs. E. P. Yorke and Mrs. Wm. Hodgen acted as leaders and the prayers were given by Mrs. C. Martin, Miss Minnie Livingston, Mrs. O. Bertrand and Mrs. Fred Yorke.

The address was given by Mrs. Gerald Swain, who read a lovely poem and gave a paper in which she explained the use for which the offerings of the Day are used. This was followed by an appropriate solo, "Another Hour with Jesus" contributed by Mrs. Fred Yorke.

The offering of $3.15 was received and dedicated, and the meeting closed with the benediction.

Mrs. Bertrand and helpers served refreshments.

A vote of thanks was extended for hospitality.

Silent prayer was observed in respect for the late Rev. L. S. Throop.

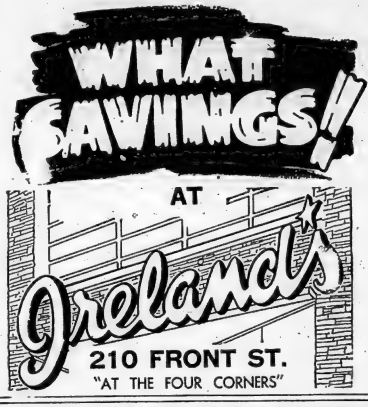
FINED $1,000

MONTREAL (CP) — Edward Potter of nearby St. Lambert, Que. was fined $1,000 Friday, after pleading guilty to charges of operating a lottery. Potter and four other men were arrested this week in a police crackdown on what they called a national distribution headquarters for Irish Hospital and Army and Navy sweepstakes. Some $400,000 worth of tickets were seized in the raids.



MANY NUNS ARRESTED

VIENNA (AP)—Vienna's Catholic news service says Communist authorities in Poland are carrying out a new wave of arrests of Roman Catholic priests and nuns. The agency claimed to have learned of the arrests by underground letters from Warsaw. In the convent of the Sisters of the Notre Dame de Sion near Warsaw, many nuns had been "arrested without reason and taken to unknown destinations."

Teacher, Pupils Present Concert

EMPEY HILL.— On Thursday evening, the teacher, Miss Mary Rendall and pupils of S.S. No. 10, Tyendinaga, gave a concert at the school house.

Master Francis Freeman, one of the Grade VIII pupils capably acted as chairman for the program, which opened with everyone singing "O Canada."

The whole school was then heard in two choruses "The Happy Wanderer" and "Hi-ro-jarum"; recitations by Leslie Ann Wood; play, "King Alfred and the Cup Cake"; recitation by Shirley Walsh; eight senior boys and girls sang "Mockin' Bird Hill"; recitation by Bryan Callaghan; two songs by Grades 1, 2, 3; recitation by Ronnie Thompson: dance by Grades 4 to 8, "Schottische"; recitations by Colleen Walsh and Duane Freeman; play, "The Obstructive Hat"; solo, "Let the Light Shine In", by Maureen Walsh; quartet sang "Stars of the Winter Night"; two recitations by Elike Vos and Donald Shelly; two songs by all the pupils, "Row, Row, Row", and "Waltzing Matilda."

After a brief intermission, Mr. C. J. Akey entertained one and all with his dancing doll, supplying his own music with the mouth organ.

PART II

The second part of the program consisted of a trip across Canada, the pupils giving a number for each province. The whole school was heard in 'A Song for Canada." The seniors sang "Old Smokey", with Terry Wringe being the narrator. Hilda Vos recited "The Secret" for British Columbia; Terry and Tony Wringe, Guy Quance and Francis Freeman sang "Home on the Range", for the Prairies; Terry Wringe and Francis Freeman gave a brief run down of the industries of Ontario; senior pupils sang a song in French for Quebec and participated in a square dance for the Maritimes and a trip "The Lighthouse Keeper" for Newfoundland.

Mr. C. J. Akey on behalf of those present voiced appreciation to Miss Rendall and pupils for their splendid concert.

During the program, the chairmen called Mrs. Stuart Woods to the platform and "Happy Birthday" was sung for her.

CHIPS OFF THE SPORTS BLOCK

By Geo. H. Carver, Sports Editor

GRAND JOB!

I have a nine-year-old son. Peter is healthy, aggressive—the kind of a kid every father loves. You have children, too. The most of them are hungry, energy-filled young "puppies" with sports for the boys, the mother for the gals, and the shows on Saturday for both.

Other folks have kiddies too. There is no Saturday "show" for them. No hockey. No baseball. No "muthin" except the love of parents and the willing co-operation of folks as lucky as we, the Shrine Club, and other organizations that are duty-bound to help them.

After last night's police-firemen hockey game, these kiddies, less fortunate than yours and mine, will get another hold on life. Thanks to you good folks who attended the match—or bought tickets. You can sit back with a sense of realization that you did help a kiddie.

It was a grand show. We are not going into any eulogies for any one in particular. We are merely echoing the heartfelt thanks of the Shrine Club, the police and firemen with special attention to OFF Inspector W. MacDougall, Chief of Police Walter Probert and Fire Chief Gerald Wagar.

The crowd, we believe numbered some 1500. But that does not necessarily indicate the number of tickets sold. Many good folks bought them and did not attend the game. Suffice it to say that Shrine officials with President Jack Bush, were gratefully appreciative today of the substantial sum realized.

To you, from us, the Shrine Club, and more important from the crippled kiddies of the city and district, comes a letter of thanks.

"THANK YOU!"

How about it, kids?

TRAIN FOR CORNWALL

The Memos take off down the playoff trail tonight and trek to Cornwall where they take on the Colts of that town in the first of a best-of-seven semi-finals series. By the same token the Kingston Goodyears entertain the Whitby Dunlops in the "rubber" series.

The second game is slated for Memorial Arena on Friday night and that date should pack the arena. The third game is set for Cornwall on Sunday starting at two-thirty and "therby hangs a tale."

Secretary Drury Denyes of the Memos informs us that a special train has been chartered for the team and fans and all desirous of taking the Sunday trip should get their tickets at the Uptown Tire. Some 200 are needed to make the affair a success. The train will leave Belleville at ten in the morning and will arrive home at 9.30 the same evening. The tab is $6.65 and that includes the works, meaning the ticket. You buy your own sandwiches—or bring 'em with you. So how about it? Get in touch with Bruce Smith or Drury Denyes.

OH YEAH?

Officials of Toronto Marlboros hockey organization said Saturday they are trying to arrange a visit to Russia this spring for a top Canadian junior hockey team.

Harold Ballard and Stafford Smythe, president and general manager, said they are seeking sanction by the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association to make up a team from Ontario Hockey Association Junior "A" players after the playoffs.

They said exhibition games would be played in Russias as well as Britain, France and Germany.

NOT A BAD IDEA?

The Cornwall Colts are not taking any chances with the Memos. They feel the touchdowns are four times worthy of the steel and are not selling them short. This from the Cornwall sports editor in his column yesterday:

"In drawing Belleville for the first round, Colts are facing probably their hardest obstacle on the way to the league title. You don't have to be a sage to see that the two clubs have split even. Moreover, neither of the teams can be classed as a "homer" as far as the other is concerned. Belleville won two and lost two on Cornwall ice; Colts did the same in Belleville. There are two factors that make Belleville tough opposition in a playoff. One is their record on the road; it is the best in the league. The other is the driving tactics that feature the Memos' style of play. They are a hustling club. They check hard and skate fast. The Duncan twins, Erwin and Edwin, are the best examples of that. Two other Belleville players that rate watching are Red Doran and Hub Macy, and the Memos receive some fine goaltendings from Tony Parisi.

"Colts will be shorthanded at defence for tomorrow's tilt, Ray Oleksiuk will be sitting the second game of a two game suspension. Manager Armand is on the sidelines for about a week with a knee injury. Oleksiuk received his suspension for allegedly attacking a referee last week. The OHA is quick to take disciplinary action for offences of that nature and Oleksiuk's display of temper partially cripples the club at a crucial time.

"Although not over confident, Frank Mario feels that his Colts can wrest the series from Belleville. 'It should be a terrific series,' said Frankie last night; 'that Belleville club is going to give us a lot of trouble. Remember we couldn't do any better than break even with them on the season's play. They have plenty of drive and leadership, with Duncan twins. We are going to have to get out there and work; however, if we show enough hustle ourselves we should come through all right.' Frank wouldn't make any predictions as to the length of the series."

BOBO CAN'T

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Middleweight champion Carl (Bobo) Olson will not meet light-heavyweight Floyd Patterson at Brooklyn in June, manager Sid Flaherty said Tuesday. In Brooklyn, Ted Brenner, Monday said he had offered Olson $40,000 for an over-the-weight bout next summer.

Flaherty said it would be "impossible" for Olson to fight anyone in June because "we have commitments clear through July."

Has Qualified as the Player European Fans Hate Most; Canadians Meet Swiss Today

By ARCH MacKENZIE
Canadian Press Staff Writer

DUESSELDORF, Germany (CP) Bill Warwick, dubbed "The Sinner" by German sports writers, has qualified easily as the player fans at the world hockey championships like to boo most.

The boos reels lightly on his broad shoulders.

"Why do they ride you so much?" asked an American writer.

"Well," said Bill reflectively. "I'm not the gentlest guy in the world."

Warwick, left winger on the Dick-Grant-Bill brother line, has never played hockey any other way since he started as a hard-driving youngster in Regina.

WAS IN NHL

Now 30, the scarred, 170-pound non-stop forward rose from the Regina parks hockey system to a brief, sickness-curtailed stay with New York Rangers in the National Hockey League during the Second World War. He came back down through a host of professional and senior teams in the United States and Canada. He was leading scorer and most penalized player in the Kitchener-Lagarmonte, Ont., circuit.

Warwick talked about the European crowds as he and the rest of the club took a breather from Tuesday. The Canadians, Russians and Americans all had the day free. The Czechs won over Sweden 6-5 on a pair of third-period goals by Slavomir Bartak. Germany defeated Poland 4-2 for its first victory in the tournament, and Germany also grabbed its first against Finland 7-1.

Today Canada's Penticton Vs meet Switzerland at Cologne (2 p.m., EST), Russians and Americans clash at Krefeld; Czechoslovakia takes on Germany at Duesseldorf, and Sweden is up against Finland, also at Duesseldorf. Poland has a bye.

EVOKES A ROAR

In Penticton's four games so far in the tournament, a tournament which ends Sunday, the sight of Bill Warwick's helmeted figure emerging from the players' box has been enough to loose a roar from the crowd. Bill has scored nine of Canada's 37 goals, assisted on three others and taken five of the club's 12 penalties, mostly for roughing.

In him, European fans tend to see the personification of all they think is bad in Canadian hockey, and they let him know.

They shouted when the rugged, black-haired winger crashed into the ice after scoring a tying goal in the 5-3 victory over the Czechs last Saturday night; they booed when he danced a victory jig during the playing of "O Canada" and they bellowed their delight when Bill took a pratfall at centre ice Monday night against the Finns, who were swamped 12-0.

WAVES AT HER

Warwick sat on the ice, drinking in the clamor, and then waved affably to the crowd. That touched off a new round of noise.

"I don't care if they hate me," says Bill, who regards a penalty as a strategic move once certain conditions and whose hustling style in scoring around the net has always earned him the not-so-gentle attention of opposition defencemen. He seldom turns the other cheek.

But when the chips are down, Bill can play another kind of hockey, as demonstrated against the Czechs when he twice tied the score in the third period and then set up brother Grant with the winning goal.

"You might say we're playing the referees here," he says. "It takes us a game to find out what they are going to call."

RED'S GOING TO MARRY

DETROIT (AP) — The engagement of Lee (Red) Kelly, defenceman for Detroit Red Wings, and Andra McLaughlin, a sterling star of the Canadian girls' hockey, was announced Tuesday.

The 20-year-old Miss McLaughlin who lives in Colorado Springs, Colo., is a former North American figure skating champion. She has been skating professionally since 1951.

Kelly, who lives in Simcoe, Ont., has been a member of the NHL Red Wings since 1947. A date for the wedding has not been set.

Gridiron War Far from Over Says Brown

MIAMI, Fla. (CP)—Coach Paul Brown of Cleveland Browns, champions of the National Football League, served notice Tuesday that the war between Canadian and American professional leagues is far from over.

Brown objected to individual clubs on both sides of the border signing separate agreements respecting each other's contracts and options and hinted that any inter-league pact would have to include all Canadian and American clubs.

The NFL's Washington Redskins and Calgary Stampeders of the Western Interprovincial Football Union already have signed a "reciprocal" and Edmonton Eskimos of the WIFU are negotiating similar agreements with NFL clubs.

ONE OBJECTION

Brown raised particular objection to a decision by NFL commissioner Bert Bell to prevent Detroit Lions from signing Gordon Malloy, a Hungry Joe Miami halfback, because Malloy already had been signed by Montreal Alouettes.

Brown described Bell's decision as motivated by the fact that the Alouettes had never taken any players claimed by the Detroit club.

He insisted that Canadian teams return every player claimed by NFL clubs and indemnify the bereaved clubs for court action they have undertaken in an effort to bring them back.

MUELLER KAYOED

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Joey Giardello of Philadelphia maintained his top notch ranking among contenders for Bobo Olson's middleweight crown with a swift and stunning second-round knockout over Peter Mueller of Germany Tuesday night.

The quick end for Mueller actually began just before the first round ended. Giardello, 158½, hit Mueller, 156, with a series of several good left hooks and right crosses and then connected with a right that knocked Mueller to the canvas. He had just reached a six count when the bell rang. As Mueller came out for the second, Giardello landed a right which was the finisher.

Hamilton Eliminated by Biltmores, Teepees Defeat St. Michaels 6-4

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Hamilton Cubs were dumped out of the Ontario Hockey Association Junior A League playoffs Tuesday night and Toronto St. Michael's College Majors were put on the edge of elimination.

The Cubs were knocked out by Guelph Biltmores who defeated them 5-1 in Guelph to sweep the best-of-five quarter-finals 3-0.

In St. Catharines, the TeePees handed St. Michael's a frustrating do-or-die predicament as they won the third game of the best-of-seven semi-final 6-4. Teepee have only to win one more game to move into the finals.

The only tight series appears to be the Toronto Marlboro - Galt Black Hawk quarter-finals. Galt evened it at a game apiece Tuesday night, trimming Marlboro 4-2 in Galt. The winner of the best-of-five series will play Guelph for the right to enter the finals.

HOWELL STARS

Defenceman Ron Howell was the star of the Guelph win as he scored his fifth and sixth goals of the series. He has counted two goals in each game and has three assists over the three-game series.

Bill Sweeney, with his fourth goal, and Tom McCarthy and Roy Burmister, each with their second goal, were the other Bill marksmen.

Hamilton's Cummy Burton scored the lone Cub goal in the game at 15:33 of the final period.

TeePees' victory followed the same pattern as Guelph's triumph with Majors. It was close. They won the two earlier games by only one goal.

Hank Ciesla exploded for a scoring performance that saw the latter's memories of his regular-season output of 37 goals and 49 assists.

CIESLA COUNTS FOUR

Tuesday night he scored four goals to run his total to five goals and two assists for the three games played so far. Ed Hoekstra and Ab Macdonald tallied the other.

Majors kept the score close in the first two periods. They led 2-1 after the first and were behind 5-4 in the second before Ciesla belched the clincher at 1:36 of the final frame. Gerry McNamara was back in the Majors' net after being on the bench with pulled leg muscles.

Majors bounced back after a 3-2 defeat in the opening game Saturday to lay the ground for what may be the deciding series in the playoffs. Dick Cherry, John Chasewraki, Jim Morrison and John Sleaver were the scorers. Gerry James got both Toronto counters.

WANTS COCKELL BOUT

VANCOUVER (CP)—Vancouver fight promoter Mickey McGuire said Tuesday he will try to match Britain's Dave Cockell with either Earl Walls of Edmonton and Toronto or James J. Parker of Barrie in a fight here this summer for Cockell's British Empire heavyweight title.

Walls defends his Canadian heavyweight title against Parker in Toronto Monday night.

Dutchies Edge Owen Sounders 4-3 As Stratford Whips Windsor 5-1

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Jim Logan of Kitchener - Waterloo Dutchmen added another important part of his rookie year at the end of the Ontario Hockey Association Senior A series—in fact right in the playoffs.

He has counted six of the 11 goals the Dutchies have scored in four semi-final games so far and was the big gun in their 4-3 win over Owen Sound Mercurys Tuesday night.

Logan pulled the game out of the fire at 11:38 of the third period. He broke away while Dutchies were a man short on a penalty to winning goal and give Kitchener of a 3-1 lead in the best-of-seven series.

The game was at Owen Sound, where the Mercs have won their only playoff game.

Meanwhile, Stratford Indians continued their homeice jinx as they beat Windsor Bulldogs 5-1 to deadlock their best-of-seven semi-finals 2-2. Indians have lost only one game on home ice this season.

At Owen Sound, Logan had put Kitchener in front at 1:01 of the first period but the Dutchies were even 3-2 early in the third. Then Jerry Theberge tied it up, again while the Dutchies were shorthanded, Logan's winner followed.

Mercurys scored two goals while they had a man advantage. Ralph Jamieson, Buck Forslund and Ken Green were the Owen Sound marksmen.

Stratford gave Bulldog netminder Dill Herrington a 50-shot barrage to worry about. They scored on one of the shots at 11:13 of the opening session and added three unanswered goals in the second.

George Aitken scored twice and Lou Berdo, Bill Flick and Herve DeJordy once for the Indians. Goalkeeper Bruce Dale of the Indians handled 37 shots. Jim Morris tallied Bulldogs' lone marker early in the third period.

CONTINUES ALLAN CUP STYLE IN GERMANY

Only Penticton V who didn't have to adapt his playing technique to conform with the "no body-checking" style of European hockey is goalie Ivan McLellan, above. A pillar of strength when Penticton won the Allan Cup last year, Ivan is showing the same brilliance in the world hockey championships. With two shutouts in a row and the best goals-against average in the tournament, McLelland has been a big factor in Canada's tie for first place with Russia. (Central Press Canadian.)

Sportswriters in Strange Territory, 'Things Ain't the Same in Yurrup'

By ARCH MacKENZIE
Canadian Press Staff Writer

DUESSELDORF, Germany (CP) Canadian sports writers covering the world hockey championships know they are away from home.

German rinks—as far as time clocks, score indicators, scoring systems and other factors are concerned—are a far cry from the modern, well-equipped North American variety.

None of the other 350 newspaper men from the 16 competing European countries seem to miss these mechanical aids. German officials are puzzled but accommodating about Canadian customs.

"What do you want the times of the goals for?" one asked this writer at Duesseldorf during the Czech-Canada game, "Why is this necessary?"

TIMING TROUBLE

Assists are given sparingly by the official scorers. No score indicators are installed. Time clocks, where available, lack a second hand and in the Canada-Poland game at Cologne, the clock appeared to have no firm connection with the game. Some scorers skip the times altogether.

Penalties and goals are announced everywhere—in German. But the penalty-calling is not infallible and the terminology is different.

Some translations, offered by Bindy bilingual German reporters:

"Two minutes for unpermissible bending over the head with the stick.

"Two minutes each for jostling without the puck."

DOPING IT OUT

Canadian reporters bolted the former down to high-sticking and the latter to tripping. They have joined forces in collectively estimating unobtainable goal times, and in scoring assists. The double assist is almost unknown here.

Russia's victory last year, and Canada' countermove this year with the strongest team in years, have pitchforked the world championships into the European limelight. Genuine hockey interest is more than tinged with politics.

"We never expected to be swamped," said C. F. (Bunny) Ahearne, European president of the International Ice Hockey Federation and boss of the tournament. Sweden, for instance, has sent 28 reporters to cover the competition.

Earl Walls Ranked Fifth In Heavies

NEW YORK (AP)—Italy's Duilio Loi has become the leading lightweight contender and France's Charles Humez has been boosted to the No. 2 spot among the middleweight challengers in the latest boxing ratings of Ring Magazine.

In another major shift, big Bob Baker of Pittsburgh moved up from fourth place to third in a swap of heavyweight positions with Ezzard Charles, the former champion. He was the lowest Charles has been rated in many years. Earl Walls of Toronto was ranked fifth.

Cuba's Nino Valdes still was listed first and England's Don Cockell second. The pudgy British champion meets Rocky Marciano in a title fight in San Francisco this May.

TO THE TOP

Loi, ranked second a month ago, was advanced to the top berth as a result of Paddy Demarco's knockout by Loi's fellow Italian Ferrer. Demarco, the former lightweight ruler from Brooklyn, has been ranked as the leading contender. He was dropped to the No. 4 spot and Ferrer, who has been unranked, was jumped to seventh.

Humez, the European middleweight titleholder, vaulted from fourth to second on the strength of his fifth-round technical knockout of Pierre Langlois Monday night. Langlois was dropped to eighth place.

In the fast-changing light heavyweight division, Harold Johnson of Philadelphia regained second place following his knockout of Paul Andrews of Buffalo, N.Y. Andrews fell from second to fifth.

Bulldogs Led Scoring Race

TORONTO (CP)—Windsor Bulldogs, second-place finishers in the Ontario Hockey Association Senior A League this year, had four players in the league's top 10 point-getters, statistics released Tuesday show.

The league-leaders, Kitchener-Waterloo Dutchmen, placed three players, including Ken Laufman, who won the point-scoring race with 25 goals and 56 assists for 81 points.

Scoring Leaders:

	G	A	Pts.
Laufman, Kitchener	25	56	81
Roth, Stratford	22	51	81

'Tudor Line' Favored For Grand National

LONDON (Reuters) — "Spring double" call-over business centred today on the Grand National, Minstrel (Lincolnshire Handicap) and Tudor Line (Grand National) at Monday prices. Minstrel, ridden by Jockey Bill Rees, and the National Hockey League, which has options on most of the amateur players.

Minstrel, Lord Rosebery's Cambridgeshire Handicap winner of last year, was easily the best-backed horse. He was a firm favorite to be closed at the previous odds of 100 to 8.

Odds-on for the Grand National (four miles, 856 yards, 30 fences) closed at 100 to 30 and Quare times: 100 to 7, Copp; 100 to 6, M'as Tu Vu and Good Luck; 100 to 5, Tudor Line and Irish Lizard; 20 to 1, Gigolo and Easter Hero; 25 to 1, Churchtown and Sundew; 28 to 1, No Response; 33 to 1, Royal Tan, Mr. Linnett, Sheila's Cottage and Mont Tremblant; 40 to 1, Mr. Cippendale; 50 to 1, Another Rake.

Windsor 'Dogs' File Protest

WINDSOR (CP) — Windsor Bulldogs of the Ontario Hockey Association senior A loop Tuesday filed a protest against an order that they finish the abbreviated third period of last Sunday's senior A playoff game against Stratford Indians.

The game was stopped at the 8:55 minute mark of the third period, with Bulldogs leading 5-1, because of a local curfew law. The game gave the Bulldogs a 2-1 edge in the series.

The OHA executive in Toronto ordered the remaining 11 minutes of the period be played here tonight before the start of the series' fourth game.

Murph Chamberlain, Bulldog coach, said the reason the game could not be finished was that the Indians were an hour and a quarter late in arriving in Windsor.

RULE BOOK

He said that, according to the rule book, a game is forfeited when lateness in icing a team is not justified by accident or other uncontrollable events.

"We cannot submit to this ruling without demanding a sound explanation of Stratford's lateness," he said. "At the moment, we are in possession of no such explanation."

Stratford manager Dutch Meier had said the team was delayed in its trip by "bad road conditions."

"It was insult to the packed house (5,450 fans) that they should be compelled to wait over an hour while Dutch Meier made no serious effort to get his team here on time," Chamberlain said.

NUN KILLED, 11 HURT

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti (AP) Sister Louise Jeanty de L'Enfant Jesus, a Haitian nun, was killed and 11 other sisters were injured Monday night when a truck plunged over a steep bank. The nuns, members of the French order of St. Joseph de Cluny, were en route to their mission at Jacmel.

Dick Irvin Has No 'Scoops' But Leafs Better Be Careful

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Dick Irvin hasn't promised any "scoops" for tonight's National Hockey League game between Toronto Maple Leafs and Montreal Canadiens, so it is reasonable to assume it will be just another engagement.

The last time the league-leading Canadiens waltzed into Toronto, coach Irvin, in his best cloak-and-dagger manner, told photographers and newspaper reporters to wait near the Montreal bench for a major news break.

The scheme Irvin termed it came when he asked the referee to measure the stick of Toronto goalkeeper Harry Lumley. Big Hagsy's stick was oversize and Harry was handed two things—a minor penalty and a regulation-size weapon.

Irvin has been trying to make a big thing out of the incident. He hasn't had too much success as far as Lumley is concerned. The 28-year-old goalkeeper still is leading the race for the Vezina Trophy with his smaller stick.

Tonight's game, expected to draw more than 13,000 fans to Toronto's Maple Leaf Gardens, will be a big one for Lumley. He has been scored on 118 times in 62 games. Terry Sawchuk of the second-place Detroit Red Wings is second with 122 goals in 62 engagements. They each have eight games left.

A win for Canadiens would give them a four-point edge over the Red Wings in the cash for the league championship. The Montrealers have two games in hand.

The fourth-place Boston Bruins take on the fifth-place Rangers at New York tonight. Bruins need a victory if they expect the Leafs for the third playoff spot.

Sugar Jim Henry returns to the Boston nets against Rangers. Coach Milt Schmidt gave Henry the call over rookie Johnny Henderson as Bruins make their stretch-drive bid to overhaul Toronto. Henry has been out with injuries most of the season.

'Tay-Pay' May Gather Team For Russ Tour

OTTAWA (CP) — Ottawa sports promoter, T. P. (Tommy) Gorman may gather the first Canadian hockey team to tour Russia.

Gorman said Tuesday he has been talking it over with officials at the Russian embassy—on the invitation of Ambassador Dmitri Chuvahin—and now needs only their confirmation that the trip can be arranged. He said details still have to be worked out.

Given that, a team picked from the Ottawa Senior League and other clubs in the Ottawa district would leave for the Iron Curtain country this month.

The exhibition games likely would be against the Moscow Dynamos, currently defending their world hockey championship in Germany, if they return directly from the world championships, which end Sunday.

Another possibility, Gorman said, would be approval by the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association and the National Hockey League, which has options on most of the amateur players.

May Arrange European Tour

DUESSELDORF, Germany (CP) A 1956 European tour for the Montreal Canadiens and Toronto Maple Leafs may be arranged.

J. F. (Bunny) Ahearne, boss of the world hockey championships and president of the British Ice Hockey Association, said Tuesday he is willing to take up the matter with British and European rink managers.

The suggestion was put to him by Andy O'Brien of the Montreal Star, acting for a group in Montreal club. A similar tour by the National Hockey League clubs was suggested a year ago.

Ahearne said he will act should Montreal and Toronto decide to make the trip. Such a tour would come after the end of the NHL season.

CAMPY'S SIZZLING AGAIN

VERO BEACH, Fla. (AP)—For the first time since the 1953 world series, Roy Campanella took a full grip on the bat Tuesday and rapped Pete Wojey's first pitch past Carl Furillo in right field. He sizzled the next past Chico Fernandez at short.

"See," said the all-star Brooklyn catcher, "I can use my full hand. Last year I could use only two fingers. It doesn't hurt one bit. It's all right."

Until he underwent a second operation last fall, Campanella feared his left hand was becoming paralyzed.

The 33-year-old National Leaguer was "most valuable" honors in 1953.

British Soccer Clubs Get Helping Hand

By JEFF RYAN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON (CP)—A helping hand from the Football Association has been extended to English soccer's little clubs, currently in financial straits.

The FA, controlling body of the game, has sanctioned floodlit replays of preliminary cup games from next season onward.

The move, regarded in soccer circles as experimental, covers only first-round cup games that take place before the big clubs join in, that is up to and including round two.

Smaller soccer clubs rejoice because more fans can turn out to watch at night than on mid-week afternoons when no replays of the past have been staged. The additional gate is expected to more than offset the cost of lighting.

Experts believe that if the floodlit venture succeeds, steps will be taken to extend the ruling to cover replays throughout the entire competition for English soccer's most coveted trophy.

Even after a floodlit replay will be allowed the FA insists that both clubs agree, that emergency lighting is available to supplement dispute in event of a breakdown, and that cooperation is obtained from local police and transport authorities.

The move is expected to touch off a similar action by the Football League, which controls professional soccer here. A crowded league program, result of weather-cancelled games, has many clubs worried. An FL sangtion to play these games under the lights would certainly help.

Bucky Harris Has Troubles

NEW YORK (AP)—As if he didn't have problems enough trying to pull a second-division club, loaded with inexperienced youngsters, up by its boot-straps, manager Bucky Harris of the Detroit Tigers today had to worry about Ferris Fain.

The two-time American League pilot is having limited his right knee in a game last season when he was playing with the Chicago White Sox.

The Tigers took a chance on him and obtained him in a trade during the winter in hopes the knee would come around. But Fain limped noticeably Tuesday, the first day of training, and admitted he was favoring the leg.

Meanwhile, general manager Hank Greenberg of the American League champion Cleveland Indians, disgusted with the antics of some of his players who have refused to sign, cracked the whip and brought outfielder Larry Doby into line.

SIGNED IN HURRY

When Greenberg told Doby there will be no haggling around the Tucson, Ariz., camp, and ordered him home, Doby signed in a hurry at, he said ruefully, Greenberg's terms.

Greenberg also hauled third baseman Rudy Regalado and pitcher Hank Aguirre into line, leaving an even half-dozen Tribesmen outside the fold. All told, there are only 36 holdouts in the majors and most are expected to capitulate shortly.

The New York Yankees found star rookie Elston Howard, who probably will be the first Negro to make the club, still limping as the result of an injury in Puerto Rico two weeks ago.

AWARD TO DOG

Silver, seven-year-old RCMP Alsatian, is the first animal in the history of the RCMP to be rewarded officially for gallantry. Silver tracked down three bank bandits in Vancouver last January leading to recovery of $27,000 in stolen money. Bank manager E. P. Bowser presents Silver with an engraved collar. Dog-master Constable Keith Sanderson holds the dog which received also an 18-inch bone. (CP Photo).

BE GENTLE, COMRADES

LONDON (AP)—A Soviet lecturer on child welfare said Tuesday it hasn't been entirely possible to eradicate a Soviet habit of whacking children. This, she said, was a hangover from Czarist days. Lidia Bazhoni, in a broadcast by Moscow radio heard here, urged parents to go easy on corporal punishment. "Habitual punishment can make a child obedient but adversely affects its nature," she said.

SAVES CHILD

NEWMARKET (CP) — A young housewife ran 300 yards to rescue a child from a flooded creek here Tuesday. Mrs. Albert Oselton, 27, saw two-year-old Alana Marie Temple into the creek. She ran to the creek, waded into the water and pulled the child to safety.

Marmora Whips Campbellford In Int. 'C' Fixture

MARMORA — By the large score of 11-1, Marmora TVL team swamped Campbellford on the Hamilton Crawford Arena on Mon. evening in intermediate 'C' playoffs of the O.H.A. It was half way through the third that the visitors collapsed and Marmora piled up an additional five goal lead.

The first period closed with each team having scored one goal. Marmora's was scored by Mantie on assists from Jones and Darrah and Campbellford retaliated through Kemp on Herrington's assist.

The homesters added three in the second. Lavender scored with an assist by K. Trumble, later unassisted and then A. Trumble broke through on an assist from Maynes.

In the third, the second line were responsible for the first counters. Jones who was returning to the game after about two weeks of illness, scored within twenty-seven seconds of play assisted by Mantie and H. Brown. Mantie got the next counter on assists from Jones and Darrah. In the second half of the period, K. Trumble and Lavender added and in consequence giving each other an assist.

Jones registered next on Mantie's pass and Darrah scored with Saylor assisting.

Lavender proved the star of the game by notching his fourth goal at 19.05 on Maynes' assist. There were only six penalties, four going to Campbellford. About 500 attended the game.

Teams—

Campbellford — Nelson, Louth, Eady, D. Bastedo, Foster, R. Bastedo, Blake, Kemp, Pace, Field, Herrington.

Marmora — Killian, Gray, Gerrard, Maynes, Lavender, K. Trumble, Jones, Mantie, Darrah, Saylor, Doyle, H. Brown.

Referees — H. Payne, Peterborough and R. Moss, Marmora.

Saskatchewan PC Ponders Bid By Social Credit

REGINA (CP)—The future of Saskatchewan Progressive Conservative party rested today on the shoulders of a husky young lawyer defending a man accused of rustling, a charge which has all but disappeared from the west.

When the case is completed 33-year-old Bob Kohaly, will start pondering whether or not to regard an invitation to desert the Conservative party and take over Social Credit leadership in Saskatchewan.

If he accepts, it could mean a major defeat for Progressive Conservatives and a Social Credit victory. It would give the party an automatic voice in the legislature. Mr. Kohaly is Progressive Conservative member for the south-eastern constituency of Souris-Estevan. Social Credit is without a leader.

Social credit leaders here and in Edmonton denied that the invitation had been extended. Progressive Conservative leader Alvin Hamilton in reiterating the offer had come from Social credit elements outside the province and was made over the heads of Saskatchewan officers, said acceptance will be one of the biggest setbacks experienced by his party.

BIG DEFENCE

Informed sources said prominent leaders of the CCF and Liberal parties had been asked to join Social credit ranks and added the offer came from national Social Credit officers.

The Social credit party within a few months has set up an extensive school system which to date has turned out more than 500 graduates and has established study organizations in every constituency. Sources said national officers were ready to throw $250,000 and possibly much more into Saskatchewan.

REMANDED FOR DAY

WINDSOR (CP)—Vrillis Lukasevicz, 34, Tuesday was remanded for one day when he appeared in court on a charge of murder, in connection with the fatal stabbing Friday of Mrs. Betty Lesperance, 33, a waitress at a downtown restaurant-bar. Lukasevicz was remanded so a psychiatric examination could be completed.

RADIO STRIKE ENDS

OSLO (AP)—A strike that 'made the government - operated Norwegian radio network a two-man show for the last six days was settled Tuesday night. Full operations were resumed, Haliest averaging 2,000 krones ($421) a year were the objectives of 72 program secretaries, news writers and announcers who walked out last Wednesday, leaving live executives to carry on the service. They settled for 600 kroner.

HALIFAX SHIPS GRAIN

Two grain ships load up at Halifax where port manager J. R. Mitchell forecasts a possible record peacetime grain movement this season. He said more than 9,000,000 bushels of grain had been shipped and indications were that an additional 8,000,000 bushels would be moved by the end of the season. This would top the previous record set in 1953 by 1,000,000. The ships are Symphony (left) and Julia. (CP Photo).

Dick Contino Resumes Career That Seemed Ruined Year Ago

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—A year has passed since handsome young Dick Contino resumed a career that once seemed ruined. Now the accordionist is looking for new fields to conquer.

He seems to have re-established himself in the show world by hard work. During the year, he spent 45 weeks performing throughout the country.

Although he can now earn an average $3,500 weekly in night clubs and $7,500 in Las Vegas, Contino is slowing down on the nitery dates.

"I want to try the movies and TV," he says. "It's not that I'm against night clubs. But I want to find new challenges. I think it's rad to believe that you are limited to one field only."

Contino has changed a great deal since I saw him three years ago. Then he had just served 4½ months at McNeil Island prison, Wash. He had pleaded guilty to failing to report for army induction at Fort Ord, Calif.

Now 25, Contino is an inch taller, better filled out and seems to be better adjusted. He admitted he felt easier with people and credited his army experience for that. He spent two years in the service, much of it entertaining troops in Korea.

He said that he has experienced no incidents of hostility since his return.

Contino is passing up an estimated $150,000 in nitery dates in order to develop a TV and movie career.

"If I do movies, I want to do it as an actor and not just a specialty performer," he added. "I've been acting ever since high school and I have confidence that I can do it."

Intimate Glimpse of Workings Of Air Defence System Exciting

By WAYNE OLIVER

NEW YORK (AP) — The Ford Foundation's "Omnibus" serves up television programs buffet-style. If a viewer doesn't like one offering he may find another to his taste.

Sunday's CBS-TV show, for example, was in three parts. First was a dissertation on how the human brain functions. Second was a live telecast from an air defence command post. Last was a dramatization of the life of Charles Francis Adams, American minister to England during the civil war.

To this viewer, at least, the intimate glimpse of the workings of the air defence system was both instructive and exciting and easily the highlight of the show.

By contrast, the explanation of the human brain, while informative, was on the tedious side. And the Adams dramatization appeared

AT THE CAPITOL — Peggie Castle plays one of the many gals who pursues and is pursued by Jesse James (Don Barry) in the Technicolor film, "Jesse James' Women," a United Artists release which is now on the at the Capitol Theatre. On the same program in Technicolor "The Golden Blazon," starring John Agar and Rosemarie Bowe. Both hits are first showings.

AT THE CAPITOL — Rosemarie Bowe makes her motion picture acting debut in the color adventure film, "The Golden Blazon," which opens Thursday at the Capitol Theatre. On the same program, "Jesse James Women." Both hits are first showings in Technicolor.

Even if your bridge partner is a clairvoyant he has no business to expect you to be one. However, he has a perfect right to expect you to co-operate with him in reaching the best contract.

Suppose your south partner opens with a bid of one heart when you have the north hand shown here:

♠Q 7 4 2
♥8 5 4
♦K 9 5
♣J 10 4 2

Suppose the bidding starts off like this:

South	West	North	East
1 Heart	1 Spade	Pass	Pass
3 Hearts	Pass	?

Can you picture what partner may have for his jump rebid on three hearts? Is he merely trying to force you to bid? What are you going to do about it with the hand you have?

Since he did not open with a two bid you know he does not have nine tricks. His jump rebid promises eight. So, picture him with a very good six card suit and some outside strength.

Game is not there if you have no tricks or only one with eight in his hand. So, he is not forcing you to bid. He simply says your pair has a chance for game only if you have two tricks or more.

You have two tricks with support for his rebid suit. Therefore you voluntarily accept his invitation to go four hearts. Not because you were forced. But because you had enough to co-operate.

If your first response had been a bid instead of a pass his jump rebid would have forced you to bid. After your responding pass it is an invitation to bid only if you have two tricks.

This fine distinction is lost to the opponents. All they need to know is hear them say a jump rebid in the same suit is not forcing. Look at the reasons and you will remember the difference.

Some players talk without saying anything right.

WANTS PROTECTION

OAKVILLE (CP)—An inter-government agreement to protect Canadian hospitals against uninsured transients from the United States was suggested by Stanley Martin, consultant to the Oakville-Trafalgar General Hospital. The hospital's board of governor's had reported a heavy loss of revenue because of U. S. woman visitor was treated under the erroneous supposition that she was insured against sickness, Mr. Martin said.

Little Benny's Notebook

Pop was starting his first cigar after dinner, and ma said, William, do you realize we haven't had a Chinese vase in the house since you broke the last one practicing golf shots in the living room?

That's all right with me, pop said. I can take Chinese vases or let them alone. I can take them with a grain of salt and I can let them alone without seasoning, he said, and ma said, Just the same, William, you may be interested to hear that I bought a genuine Ming vase at the Tuesday auction sale.

My intrist is decidedly of the lack luster variety, pop said. We need a Ming vase the way we need an Arabian dromederry, which is the same way we need a barrel of Mexican jumping beens, he said, and ma said, Now William, kindly wait till I complect the whole sentence. The whole sentence is, I bought a genuine Ming vase at the Tuesday auction sale for 50 cents, and ma said.

How many peeces is it in, pop said, and ma said, it's in its first original peece.

But for Peet sake, to Far Eastern women Ming is the same thing as mink is to Far Western women, pop said, and ma said, Of course it is, in other words it's invalubie, and that's why the auctioneer will never forgive himself for letting me have it for 50 cents. But when he is hesitating after I had bid eleven dollers and 50 cents for a cut glass pickle dish, he lost monentary control of himself and offered to throw in the Ming vase if the bid went up to 12 dollers, so I jumped at the chance before he had time to realize what he was saying. So the Ming vase cost me precisely 50 cents, dont you see William? she said.

Yes, I see through a thick haze, pop said.

Meening not exactly.

INCA HIGHWAY SYSTEM UNCOVERED IN SOUTH AMERICA

For the first time in 500 years the fabulous highway system of the Incas has been traced in its entirety. The Inca highway expedition, led by Victor W. Von Hagen, spent two years tracing the vast network of roads created centuries ago. The roads were flung across all sorts of contrasting terrain; then skirted the coast, they knifed through jungles and were hacked out breathtakingly high on glaciers. In photo at left Victor Von Hagen and his wife, Silvia, co-leader of the expedition, stand atop Machu Picchu, largest ruin of an Incan city ever discovered. Machu Picchu, above, shows the typical mud-type construction of a village whose site was chosen as a spot easily defended against warlike neighbors. (Central Press Canadian Photos.)

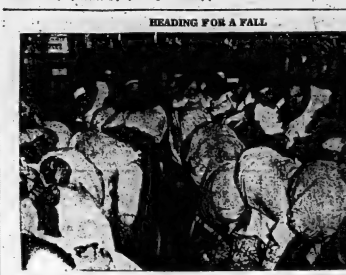
SOVIET SHOWS TOUGH LINE IN DISARMAMENT TALKS

The cameras of news photographers are here centred on top members of the Russian delegation at the five-nation disarmament conference in London. Taking the immediate spotlight is Andrei Gromyko, Soviet deputy foreign minister, while seated near him is Jacob Malik, ambassador to England. Soviet proposals reflected a new hardening of the USSR line since removal of Premier Malenkov. (Central Press Canadian).

CANADA, U.S. STUDY CIVIL DEFENCE

At Arnprior, Ont., 45 doctors from eight provinces are taking a course in the treatment of mass casualties that would occur in modern warfare. Instructors are science experts from Canada's Civil Defence College at Arnprior. During the week-long course, the doctors will hear lectures on atom bombs, nerve gas and germ clouds that could paralyze or kill men and animals and with crops in full growth. Drs. C. V. Mulligan and A. G. S. Heathcote, Toronto, are two of those taking the course.

To Submit Details of New Cancer Serum to Medical Academy



A cancer serum that has given at least temporary relief to several persons, will be described to the Toronto Academy of Medicine on March 8 by Dr. Gordon Murray, director of the Cavendish Memorial Research foundation in Toronto. The cancer treatment, Dr. Murray tells his patients is a "remission" which signifies that it is not necessarily a cure but a treatment that can give relief. The serum, obtained from horses, may be one of the most significant developments in cancer treatment in the past decade. (Central Press Canadian).

NATIONALISTS FIGHT ANOTHER ENEMY

Free China soldiers on Quemoy, Nationalist-held island off the mainland, are shown being vaccinated against smallpox. The scene is inside a sunken open-air sick bay. With Hanchihan abandoned to the Communist Chinese, Quemoy and Matsup are the sole outposts left to the Nationalists. (Central Press Canadian).

HEADING FOR A FALL

Soldiers of the 1st Battalion, Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry, relax aboard an RCAF C-119 headed for the parachute-jumping zone near Yellowknife, N.W.T. It was part of Exercise Bulldog III carried out in sub-Arctic weather. (CP from National Defence.)

INDULGES IN FREEDOM'S FANCY

Miroslava Nachodska, 21, the Czechoslovakian ice skater who escaped Communist guards while competing in the world figure-skating championship in Vienna, is shown enjoying her new liberty window-shopping at Linz, Austria. She said she had fled her homeland because she wanted "personal freedom." (Central Press Canadian).

TO SIR WINSTON FROM ISRAEL

Eliahu Eleth, right, Israeli ambassador to Great Britain, presents Prime Minister Sir Winston Churchill with a portfolio of woodcuts of Jerusalem at 10 Downing Street. The woodcuts are a birthday gift from the government and people of Israel, and were executed by Israeli artist Jacob Steinhardt. (Central Press Canadian).

New York Police Arrest Suspect In Co-Ed's Death

NEW YORK (AP)—A 25-year-old father of two children was charged early today with the rape-slaying of Ann Yarrow, the New York University co-ed whose body, stabbed 37 times, was found in a lower east side apartment Feb. 6.

William Patrick Farrell, third man questioned by police in the slaying, was booked on a charge of homicide 12 hours after his arrest Tuesday on a separate sex complaint.

Police nabbed Farrell in a cemetery after a short chase from the apartment of his sister-in-law, Irene Miller, 20, on East 3rd street, about a block from where Miss Yarrow, 23, was slain.

WENT TO APARTMENT

A slim, good-looking man of medium build, Farrell went to Mrs. Miller's home Tuesday morning and, with a butcher knife in hand, robbed and raped her in front of her three-year-old son, police said. Before raping the woman, police said, he chased from the apartment Mrs. Miller's stepfather, who called police.

Police linked Farrell with the Yarrow murder during questioning of Mrs. Miller's complaint.

Through the evening they tackled the job of dredging for a knife they said he told them he had thrown down a sewer.

Police declined to say if a knife they found in the sewer was the Yarrow murder weapon.

Farrell, an employee of a woodworking firm, is married to Mrs. Miller's sister and lives in Brooklyn. Mrs. Farrell is expecting a third child.

LAST SURVIVOR OF U.S. UNION ARMY

Albert Woolson, last surviving Union army veteran of the Civil war, is still fighting at 108. Some there were who thought he could not survive a lung congestion that caused him to be placed in an oxygen tent at Duluth, Minn. But the old warrior came out asking for a cigar — and got it.

HEADS NATIONAL GALLERY

Alan Jarvis, sculptor son of a Brantford, Ont., doctor, has been appointed director of the National Gallery of Canada. Now in London, he sails April 9 to take up his Ottawa post. One of his first jobs will be to supervise construction of a new $4,000,000 gallery. (CP Photo).

Justice Would Not Overrule Court Decision

TORONTO (CP) — Mr. Justice J. L. McLennan of the Ontario Supreme Court said Tuesday he would not overrule a decision of the Ontario Appeal Court which refused to allow the appeal of Steve Siverson, now serving 10½ years in penitentiary for breaking and entering and possession of drugs.

Siverson was convicted in Galt May 5, 1949, on the breaking and entering charge and given five years. Two weeks later he was sentenced in Toronto to 9½ years on the drug charge.

His appeal from the Galt conviction was dismissed by the Ontario Appeal Court. There was no appeal on the drug conviction.

Mr. Justice McLennan could not quash the appeal court's decision as the court is not subject to certiorari (review), he said. Seversron can apply to Justice Minister Garson who may refer the whole case back to the Appeal Court, or also grant a pardon, he added.

TOURS UNIVERSITIES

MONTREAL (CP)—Belgian Foreign Minister Paul-Henri Spaak toured Montreal's two largest universities Tuesday, McGill and the University of Montreal.

VISITS CLUB

TORONTO (CP)—Governor-General Vincent Massey Tuesday dropped in for a visit to the Toronto Men's Press Club and received an honorary membership card. Accepting the card from president Wilf List, Mr. Massey said jocularly: "I warn you: I propose to make use of it." He added he meant to pay visits to the club in the future.

Princess Margaret Given Tumultuous Welcome Home

LONDON (AP)—Princess Margaret arrived here today and was given a tumultuous greeting by Britons acclaiming her triumphant "calypso tour" of the West Indies.

Just as the royal Stratocruiser approached, a heavy morning fog ground mist covering London airport began to roll away beneath bright morning sunshine—but the big plane had to be "talked down" to a landing light on schedule.

The Queen smiled happily as she greeted her younger sister aboard the plane. Close behind her were Queen Mother Elizabeth, Princess Anne and Prince Charles. The Duke of Edinburgh followed behind and enthusiastically welcomed his sister-in-law home.

After the royal family reunion aboard the plane Princess Margaret was first to get off. She looked fresh after her 2,000-mile non-stop flight from Bermuda. She glanced upward at the clear sky and the ground mist and then wrapped her fur coat tightly around herself and stepped down the landing steps.

PRINCESS DANCES

Right behind her came the royal children, Princess Anne fairly danced down the steps and the young prince walking sedately, but close to his aunt.

The Queen and Duke of Edinburgh kind her youngest daughter.

A great crowd, held back from the large crowd and, looking up, Margaret smiled broadly at the people. Before walking down the ramp of the plane, the princess turned and thanked members of the crew.

During this brief interlude the royal children disappeared among the photographers and there were hurried glances as to their whereabouts. The duke went to round them up. An audible sigh went up from the crowd as the duke reappeared with the children. They had asked for another look at the plane and he'd given it to them.

Seems His Wife Did Not Want Robert E. Want

LONDON (AP) — Robert E. Want, 54, told a divorce court judge his wife had:

Packed his lunch with sandwiches made of cotton.

Filled his lunch box with broken glass instead of tea and included a note accusing him of having a secret love life.

Slammed the car door on his fingers.

Hit him with a poker;

Thrown a can of creosote on his suit;

Emptied two buckets of ashes and a pail of wet garbage on him.

The judge granted him a divorce.

Early Jobless Parley Urged By George Drew

OTTAWA (CP) — Hon. George Drew called Wednesday on the government to convene an urgent federal - provincial - municipal conference within a week to deal with unemployment problems.

The Progressive Conservative leader spoke in a continuing unemployment debate in the Commons, entering a formal debate for the first time since his recent return to the house after a long convalescence from tuberculosis.

He rejected Labor Minister Gregg's announcement of Tuesday that the federal government is willing to discuss, at the forthcoming federal-provincial conference, the question of caring for able-bodied persons without work and without unemployment insurance.

That would be too late for those who had to live through the remainder of the winter without work too late for municipalities and too late for some provinces to find out how they would tackle problems of the municipalities.

VIGOROUS APPROACH

"What is required now is an immediate and vigorous approach," Mr. Drew said. "If you let the government not to wait for the tax conference, for which no date has been set, but immediately to deal with right away.

"If the minister asked every premier to an immediate conference on unemployment, he would receive a favorable answer from every one without delay. That conference could take place within a week and it should take place within a week."

It also should be attended by municipal representatives, perhaps chosen by the executive committee of Mayors and Municipalities.

Stanley Knowles, chief whip of the CCF, agreed and also proposed a 13-year program for eliminating unemployment by the time Canada reaches its 100th birthday in 1967.

His plan embraced doubling Canada's house-building rate of 100,000 units a year, slum clearance, a second trans-Canada highway, assistance to provinces in other roadbuilding, establishment of "unit cities" for major rivers, help for municipal projects and development of the economy of the Atlantic provinces.

THE WEATHER

TORONTO, (CP) — Synopsis: Although northern Ontario has remained mainly cold and snowy for the past few days, southern Ontario has experienced a variety of weather from day to day. Southern regions are in for another chilly spell with cloudy with occasional rain this evening, but northern regions will continue to have cold weather. Friday, weather in dependent on the future progress of a complex low pressure area located in the central states. Mild weather with occasional rain is forecast for southern Ontario with easterly winds and snow for northern regions.

Frost Will Give Ontario Budget Address March 10

TORONTO (CP) — The Ontario budget will be brought down in the legislature March 10.

This was announced Wednesday by Premier Frost, who also is provincial treasurer.

The budget for the fiscal year 1955-56, will differ in one respect from those of other years. It will include a full catalogue of the public works and highways programs planned for this year.

Conciliation Board Recommends Pay Cut

HAMILTON (CP)—A conciliation board report, made public Wednesday by the Textile Workers' Union (CLC), recommends a pay cut in wages at the Holeproof Hosiery Company here.

A second report recommended that pay rates at the Supersilk Hosiery Company, here, also be lowered.

Both companies had asked for a cut in wages for members of Locals 526 and 528 because of strong competition from other mills.

His Life Now Not Worth Two Cents Says Montreal Anti-Vice Crusader

MONTREAL (CP) — City Councillor Nat Aronoff, a supporter of Mayor Jean Drapeau's campaign to clean up city politics and police organization, says his life "isn't worth two cents" as a result of anti-corruption drives.

The usually - voluble member of the Drapeau "team of seven," which captured key positions in the Montreal government in last November's municipal election, made the statement in a tight-lipped interview late Wednesday.

"There's not a word I can say," Aronoff declared. "I have a family to think of."

"Has somebody been in touch with you?" he was asked.

"What do you think," Aronoff told a reporter.

"Was it a threat?"

"The best thing for me to do is to shut up. You'd be surprised if you knew what I found out yesterday. I'm going to keep quiet with it and how big it was, until yesterday. I can tell you, the thing is beyond us. There's nothing we can do.

"If I had money I'd get out of the country for about three months."

One reporter reminded Aronoff that no city councillor was ever killed in Montreal "immediately."

"I don't exaggerate, my life isn't worth two cents," Aronoff replied.

Councillor Aronoff is a representative of Montreal's district No. 3 on the city council. The district includes practically in a shadow up of Montreal police, in progress since the Pointe Aux Lievres cave-in buried 28 of 66 elective posts on city council last November.

Unemployment Debate May Be Lengthy One

OTTAWA (CP) — A deliberate dive into the red ink in federal budgeting is proposed by a veteran Liberal commons member as a means of jacking up employment.

David Croll of Toronto Spadina, former Ontario labor minister, decided an Opposition suggestion he was "flying a kite"—testing public opinion for the government—when he made the proposal in the Commons Wednesday.

The 54-year-old Mr. Croll, often rumored as a prospective cabinet minister, threw the budget deficit idea as the Commons went through its second day of an unemployment debate that is to continue today and may go on for several more days.

Mr. Croll's suggested step — a departure from publicly - known standards of the Liberal government—was proposed 24 hours after Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent told the Commons that the government faces a deficit on its current year's operations.

FALL-OFF CAUSE

However, the 1954-55 prospective deficit has been created by a fall-off in the revenues. The government actually budgeted for a small surplus.

Specifically, he proposed on taxes:

A sizeable cut in personal taxation to put more money in the individual taxpayer's pocket and stimulate buying power to produce more jobs.

Giving anadian export manufacturers a better chance to compete abroad by reducing their tax costs through accelerated depreciation. This is a form of income tax relief now accorded defence industries.

SPEEDS HOUSING MEASURES

Canada, he said, needs "bold, courageous and decisive measures" to stimulate employment.

"I suggest today that we have the opportunity to strike a positive blow at unemployment by embarking upon a most imaginative and far-reaching public housing pdogram, the like of which Canada has never seen before.

"We need low-cost houses and rental houses. We have the labor and we have the skill to do it. We have an abundance of materials and all the necessary knowhow and there is no lack of money."

Two RCAF Jets Collide in Air

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP)—Flying Officer Ian Cameron, 24, was killed and another injured today when their F-86 jet fighters collided in the air and crashed in a Bruckea.

Both of the pilots bailed out and was rescued later by a U. S. Air Force parachute team. There were no flooding fields in the vicinity. He was taken to Groe Tenquin airfield just across the border in France.

The body of the other pilot was found later. It was not immediately learned whether he had parachute trouble.

Names of the two Canadians were not disclosed.

Egyptian Premier Says Army Will Meet 'Force by Force'

CAIRO (AP)—Egyptian Premier Gamel Abdel Nasser warned that the Egyptian army has been ordered "to retaliate by force" against any future Israeli attacks.

The premier said Egypt will meet "force by force" in the Palestine dispute and no longer will rely on the United Nations to settle border clashes with Israel.

Referring to warlike terms to Monday's clash on the Gaza border strip in which 42 Egyptian soldiers were claimed killed, he told a graduation ceremony of cadets: "We shall henceforth enter this battle for the honor of Egypt."

Nasser made his statement even as Gen. E. L. M. Burns, Canadian head of the UN truce terms team, said in Gaza, that he had protested to the Egyptian foreign office about the rioting and attacks on UN property in Gaza following the border clash. Burns said he demanded protection for personnel.

The former Canadian soldier arrived to look over the wreckage strewn outskirts of the town. He made a personal visit to Nasser in the demarcation border, where he was met by Egyptian army officials and UN observers.

Two armored jeeps escorted the short car through Gaza's bedraggled refugee-packed town was quiet.

Burns drove to the demarcation line after looking over the army camp and water-pumping station which were demolished by Israeli forces on Monday night three miles on the Egyptian side of the truce demarcation line.

He also motored five miles south on the road where a truckload of Egyptian soldiers were ambushed by Israelis while speeding to the front for the battle.

David Stephen, Gaza district director of the UN works and relief agency, said the destruction of two food depots by rioting refugees Wednesday evening was valued at about $75,000.

Maj.-Gen. Abdullah Rifaat, governor of Gaza, said the food depots destroyed by fire held rations enough for 200,000 refugees for one month.

Stephen said reserve stocks would take care of the strip's 250,000 refugees until more food arrives. He estimated that the pumping station in the Israeli attack was a "serious" threat to Gaza's drinking-water supply.

Stephen, an Australian, said his home was looted by the rioters. The house was empty at the time of the attack. Most UN staff and their families were concentrated in four houses under a protective army guard.

Burns said he was "unhappy" about the destruction, in which a mob stoked the UN truce team's headquarters, pulled down the UN flag and looted two cars.

The two days of demonstrations, he said, Wednesday were a spontaneous demonstration of the refugees "frustration and anger" at their plight and at Israel's failure to halt border incidents.

Churchill's Defence Policy Approved in Vote in House

LONDON (CP)—Prime Minister Churchill's government Wednesday night won approval of its defence policy on a vote of confidence after beating down an opposition censure motion.

The votes, 303 to 196 against the opposition and 302 to 196 for the defence policy, showed up a sharp split in the opposition Labor party over the issue of the H-bomb.

The Labor censure motion involved defence measures but did not dispute the Conservative prime minister's decision to manufacture H-bombs, and Aneurin Bevan, leader of the left-wing Labor opposition, took sharp issue with party leader Clement Attlee on this question.

In the debate preceding the vote Bevan repeated his view that the H-bomb would be an effective deterrent to war but Churchill has contended. Bevan had asked for assurances that the Labor party would not be "the conservatives' 'recklessness'" on ute of the bomb.

Thus, many Labor members abstained on the censure vote.

Churchill spoke again in the de- vous fatigue.

Massive Explosions in Hawaii Spew Forth Flood of Lava

PAHOA, Hawaii (AP)—Massive underground explosions ruptured the scarred tip of eastern Hawaii island anew Sunday, spewing a fountain of molten lava 200 feet into the air.

Burning rocks poured out of the ground along a half-mile strip, setting fire to forests and cane fields of sugar cane.

The explosions sent trucks to rescue some 100 persons whose escape routes were threatened. About 400 others already have been taken from their homes.

The body of red-hot rock landed only 200 yards from 13 plantation workers. All escaped injured.

The entire area was like a giant powder keg with dozens of burning fuses. It was anyone's guess where one would erupt.

Some observers were openly concerned, but Governor Samuel Wilder King in Honolulu refused to declare a state of emergency at this time.

Tourists still flocked into the stricken area despite a scientist's warning.

"It can be dangerous. Those who can't stay away until we know what is happening."

Less than two hours after Dr. Gordon MacDonald, chief volcanologist, issued this warning, the half-mile fissure erupted.

MILE OF FIRE

This fissure stretched out for a blazing mile of spurting lava which moved relentlessly toward desolate Kapoho village, occupied only by pulpe and civil defence officials.

Kapoho, which means a "sunken land," had been evacuated Monday, some 16 hours after the first signs of volcanic activity flared up. Since then the original fountains of burning rock have subsided, but new ones have broken out.

Recorded Vote In Senate First In Four Years

OTTAWA (CP) — First recorded division in the Senate in more than four years resulted Wednesday from a government measure to have the library of Parliament directed by a single librarian.

Senator Arthur Marcotte, 81-year-old Progressive Conservative from Saskatchewan, called for the recorded vote when there was no quorum for opposing the bill, which would end present joint direction of the library.

The vote was 43 to 5 to give the measure third and final reading.

Senator Marcotte was supported by all Opposition senators present—Opposition leader John Haig, Senator Ralph Horner (PC—Saskatchewan), Senator Felix Quinn (PC—Nova Scotia)—and by a lone Liberal, Senator N. M. Paterson (L—Ontario).

The last recorded vote in the Senate occurred June 21, 1950, on an amendment to the Canada Grain Act which would have forced eastern grain elevators to reserve storage space for Canadian grain. It was opposed by a Liberal government and defeated by a Senate vote of 28 to 19.

The bill now goes to the Commons.

Sarnia M.L.A. Starts Legislature Address

TORONTO (CP) — C. E. Janes (PC—Lambton East) says only three routes in Ontario warrant toll roads and already they are served by highways of as high a standard as pay-as-you-go systems in the United States.

Mr. Janes, speaking Wednesday in throne-speech debate in the provincial legislature, was interrupted shortly after he started when the House was adjourned for the day. He continues today.

In the beginning of his 2,500-word speech, Mr. Janes said in Ontario, "Mr. Janes said there isn't enough motor vehicle traffic in the province to support toll roads.

He said toll roads are usually self-supporting if they carry more than 5,000 vehicles a day. Any figure below that meant they would be operated at a loss.

NAMES THREE

He estimated that only three main highways in Ontario could be considered as having sufficient volume of traffic to warrant toll road construction: The Queen Elizabeth highway from Toronto to Hamilton, No. 401 highway from Toronto to Windsor and the Toronto-Barrie highway.

Mr. Janes said the standard of the three is as high as that of U.S. toll roads.

Traffic in Ontario was heavy only from June to September because of the climate. The only year-round heavy traffic was between Toronto and Hamilton.

Toll roads did not serve heavy industry as entry points could not be closer than 25 miles. Controlled access highways in the province had entry points about two miles apart.

ONLY WHERE PARALLEL

Only in areas where toll roads would have to be built only where there were parallel highways. The only other justification of free roads would continue, although traffic would be lighter.

Follwell's Bill Would Retire Senators at 75

OTTAWA (CP) — Legislation compelling senators to retire at 75 was introduced Wednesday in the Commons by Hon. Alvin Foiwell, Liberal member for Hastings South.

The bill would amend the British North America Act under which senators are appointed for life. However, the change would not apply to senators appointed prior to the time the proposed legislation went into effect.

About 12 of the 81 members of the 103-seat upper chamber now are 75 or over. There are 21 vacancies.

Case Against Toll Highways Being Outlined

TORONTO (CP) — C. E. Janes (PC—Lambton East) says only three routes in Ontario warrant toll roads and already they are served by highways of as high a standard as pay-as-you-go systems in the United States.

Mr. Janes, speaking Wednesday in throne-speech debate in the provincial legislature, was interrupted shortly after he started when the House was adjourned for the day. He continues today.

Chiang Informs Dulles He Cannot Abandon Quemoy

Would Be Too Heavy Blow Says Nationalist Chieftain

TAIPEI, Formosa (Reuters) — John Foster Dulles today sounded out Chiang Kai-shek on a possible evacuation of the Quemoy and Matsu islands, but Chinese Nationalist sources said, Chiang insisted that he cannot pull out.

The United States secretary of state made his soundings during a Nationalist leader soon after he flew into Taipei from Manila.

Chiang said flatly that he could not withdraw his forces from the strategic islands because evacuation would deal a severe blow to National morale on Formosa and elsewhere, sources said.

However, just before Dulles boarded a plane for home after six hours here, he said the Quemoy and Matsu islands might be included in the U. S.-Nationalist joint defence area if President Eisenhower and Chiang Kai-shek agree assuring the defence of Formosa and the nearby Pescadores Islands.

Before going to see Chiang at the presidential residence outside Taipei, the secretary was briefed on the current military and diplomatic situation by high American advisers.

SIGNS PACT

Dulles earlier signed documents that brought into effect the mutual defence pact between the U. S. and Nationalist China. Foreign Minister George Yeh signed for the Nationalists.

The treaty, signed in Washington Dec. 2, commits the U. S. to defend Formosa and the Pescadores, gives it the right to dispose land, air and sea forces in and about the area, and binds the two countries to act against an armed attack in the west Pacific.

Believe Labor Split May Lead To U.K. Election

LONDON (Reuters)—Sir Winston Churchill met with his cabinet today amid speculation that they discussed the question of a general election.

Political observers said a fresh split in the Labor party ranks as a result of the two - day debate which ended Wednesday night has dangerous aspects of regaining power. Elections can be called at any time up to October, 1956, at the will of the government.

Once again, the man behind the left-wing revolt was Deputy Leader Welshman Aneurin Bevan, who crossed swords with party leader Clement Attlee in the House of Commons.

Bevan and some 70 other Labor members openly defied Attlee and his moderate wing by failing to support an official Labor censure motion on the government's defence policy. This marked the most serious party split in two years.

Without Compass, Sextant or Chart Vancouver Pair Sails for Paradise

VANCOUVER (CP) — Carrying neither compass nor sextant nor charts, two adventurers left here Wednesday on separate yachts.

First objective: The Island of Bequia in the British West Indies, 1,800 miles away as the seabird flies, per men 16 to one.

Harvey T. Storey, 44, is skipper of the Tillicum II, a converted 35-foot fishboat.

His mate is lanky, 33-year-old Brian C. Laurence, a wandering Englishman who has "no particular reason for anything but merely passing the time between the ending of the Second World War and whatever possible."

Storey Storey, a veteran small-boat man, is looking for a place where he can live on his $100-a-month pension. Laurence says he did air-sea rescue work during the Second World War.

Added attractions in Bequia, about 300 miles north of Trinidad, are no cinemas and no indoor plumbing.

After Bequia, the Tillicum II will go back through the canal to the warm and lazy South Pacific—Easter, Pitcairn, Tahiti and Fiji. From there, the route leads across the Indian ocean, through the Mediterranean and across the Atlantic.

That's the plan but it may well be scrapped if paradise is found on the way.

Storey, who worked until recently with the corps of consulting engineers here, advertised for a crew.

"I even got answers from two women who thought their background in music would help the voyage."

He chose Laurence, a wartime friend of his in the British army, who at the time was out of work in Vancouver.

"I'm really not qualified to do anything," Laurence explained as he showed pictures of a valued stock of Demerara rum and several bottles of Jamaican rum, Bacardi and Colette. The library includes a Bible.

A scanty radio, 1929 vintage, will be the sole contact with the outside world. Navigation and self-protection will be ensured by two bamboo trolling poles, a 30-30 rifle and a Spanish automatic.

The pair feel they know the seas they are to cross and have no qualms about not having a compass. They expect to reach the West Indies before the summer hurricane season.

"Let's face it," said Laurence, "we've got more sense than money."

Dancer Finds Rivets Pulled From Her Fans

LONDON (AP)—Fan dancer Coral Gaye Wednesday blushingly reported an attempt to damage her camouflage.

She said she found—at rehearsal, fortunately — that somebody at the Camberwell Palace Theatre had loosened the rivets holding the ostrich feathers on her two fans.

Miss Gaye, who dances clad exclusively in the fans, told a reporter:

"If I had gone on the stage without my act in the fans would have fallen to pieces."

Says 'Easy Money' Policy Will Not Inflate Prices

OTTAWA (CP)—One of the government's chief economic advisers says price inflation is unlikely to result from the present federal "easy money" policy—not while heavy unemployment exists.

James Coyne, governor of the Bank of Canada, made the opinion Wednesday at a press conference called to elaborate on his first annual report to the Commons since succeeding Graham Towers.

Recent moves toward cheaper money-lending rates and the government projected $1.5 billion budget deficit this year figured prominently in reporters' questions. They asked whether these would tend to inflate prices.

Mr. Coyne stated that prices are not likely to rise while there is a large block of unemployed. Generally speaking, a deficit was considered to have an "expansionist" effect.

BLAMES U.S. RECESSION

The Bank of Canada report, tabled in the commons, traced the 1953-54 business recession and said it was the result of the more severe recession in the United States.

On the whole, Mr. Coyne told reporters, the economy is progressing. But he would not guess as to whether the present production recovery would continue through the year.

To suggestions that a decline in export prices might have been responsible for the 1954 recession, he replied the major cause was a reduction in U.S. defence spending.

Seven Men Are Arrested For Series of Robberies

Seven men, ranging in age from 18 to 33 years, have been arrested by provincial police in connection with a series of breakins of garages and service stations in Belleville area and with the theft of television sets, and an outboard motor.

Five of the men, George Webb, Charles Brickman, Kenneth Brickman, Harvey Brickman and Philip Genereoux, all from Trenton, have been charged in connection with break-ins of service stations in Northumberland, Hastings and Prince Edward counties.

Two other men arrested are Wallace Malloy of Prince Edward and Harvey Berard of Winnipeg, both of whom are charged in connection with the theft of TV sets and an outboard motor.

All men arrested are expected to appear in police court at Picton on March 10th when charges against them will be presented. Police said that a number of TV sets and the outboard motor have been recovered.

Provincial police in three counties, with Sgt. George Pitt, of the Picton police department, and Prince Edward County Police Chief Earl Marvin of Wellington, have cooperated in the investigation which led to the arrest of the seven men.

O.P.P. Constable Charles Fletcher and Cpl. Alvin Parry, of Picton, headed the investigation following a lead from Trenton.

FIND BABY'S BODY

WINDSOR (CP)—The body of an unidentified baby girl was found Wednesday night, lying in a box in a water-filled ditch near a country road four miles south of here. Provincial police said an autopsy was performed, but declined to give details.

Clock Slowed By Starlings Roosting There

Time slowed for the good citizens of Belleville last night.

In fact 40 minutes were packed into one half hour at one time, and all because a flock of starlings took a sudden liking to the city hall clock.

Clock custodian George Crocker said today that the starlings, a full row of them, perched on the long minute hand during one of its upward journeys with the result that their combined weight slowed the clock workings and put the clock workings completely out of time. A special trip to the clock tower was necessary to put the clock back on correct time.

The lighted clock face had apparently attracted the birds during the evening hours and they found the clock hands a convenient spot to perch.

A suggested remedy was to turn out the clock lights until the birds went away.

FALLS 10 STOREYS

JERSEY CITY, N. J. (AP)—A two-year-old boy miraculously escaped sudden death Wednesday when he plunged 10 storeys from his apartment to the ground. Workmen had just turned over the earth to seed the lawn. The boy, Walter Mendez Jr., is in critical condition with a fractured rib and possible internal injuries.

TEMPTATION SLIGHT

LONDON (AP)—Rose Brennan, 36-year-old popular singer and recording artist, was ordered Wednesday by a doctor to quit talking for six weeks. She promptly made arrangements to spend the time on the Spanish island of Majorca, where they speak Spanish—which she can't.

4-H Club Homemakers Receive Awards at Stirling

Provincial Honor Certificates for completing 13 homemaking projects were presented to four Hastings County girls at the annual Achievement Day held Saturday at Stirling. Shown receiving certificates from Miss Faye Irvine, home economist, are: Patricia Moore and Roberta Sager of Queensborough; Joyce McCarey, Eldorado, and Eleanor Wright of Stirling.

4-H Club Homemakers Lauded At County 'Achievement Day'

One hundred and thirty girls from 12 homemaking clubs in Hastings County took part in the Hastings County 4-H Homemaking Club Achievement Day held at the community hall at Stirling on Saturday.

Clubs taking part in the program were: Quinte, Chapman's, Queensboro, Plainfield, Ritchie, Bethel-Zion, McArthur's Mills, Eldorado, Cooper-Remington, Walbridge, Deer Valley and Stirling.

Projects for the homemaking clubs last year was "What Shall I Wear," and included the study of color harmony and suitability of one's wardrobe. The girls were required to make a blouse and a wardrobe or costume chart.

The Achievement Day program, in charge of Miss Faye Irvine, home economist for Hastings, was an all-day affair with judging of a class of blouses and wardrobe charts and planning a wardrobe that harmonizes in color with the various clothes accompaniments, taking place in the morning.

FASHION PARADE

A fashion parade of girls modelling their self-made blouses, opened the afternoon program. Skits and exhibits were presented by the individual clubs.

Skit topics varied from "A Planned Shopping Trip" to "Lines to Suit the Figure." Topics for the exhibits were "A Color Scheme for a Wardrobe," "A Well-Planned Costume for Afternoon Tea" and "A Well-Groomed Costume."

51 certificates of achievement were given to girls who had successfully completed two projects, while county honors for completing six projects and provincial honors for 13 projects were presented to four girls.

Girls receiving county honors were Vera Martin, Chapman's; Myrna McWhirter and Mrs. Barbara Cunningham, McArthur's Mills; Mavis Bird, Cooper - Remington, and Frances Kerr, Plainfield.

PROVINCIAL HONORS

Receiving provincial honors were Roberta Sager and Patricia Moore, Queensboro; Joyce McCarey, Eldorado, and Lois Cooke and Eleanor Wright, Stirling. County and Provincial Honor Pins will be presented at club night to be held in the fall.

Miss Faye Irvine in conducting the achievement day were Miss Florence P. Radie, supervisor of Junior Extension, Toronto; Mrs. Ethel Hayes, home economist for Carleton county; Mrs. Marion Smith, home economist for Prince Edward, and Miss Eleanor Smyre, home economist for Durham, Peterborough and Victoria counties.

The project selected by the 4-H Homemaking girls for 1955-1956 is "Club Girl Entertains."

Three Members Medical Staff To Give Talks

Belleville and district residents will be able to hear what goes on "In the Doctors' Room" at the Belleville General Hospital in a series of radio broadcasts starting Saturday over CJBQ.

"In the Doctors' Room" is the title of a new 13-week series starting Saturday, March 5, at 7.30 p.m. Informal half-hour programs will feature discussions by three members of the medical staff of the hospital on medical topics of general interest to the public. Hospital administrator Kenneth Box will act as moderator for the series.

Doctors taking part in the programs will be anonymous. For the purposes of the program they will be called Dr. Gray, Dr. Green and Dr. Black.

Discussions will be general in character with no specific references to disease diagnosis.

The first program will be devoted to diabetes. Others in the series will deal with: coronary artery disease, peptic ulcer, progress in surgery, infectious diseases in children, progress in obstetrics, high blood pressure, anaesthesia, infections and antibiotics, worry, tension and fatigue, anemia and leukemia, and the patient and his doctor.

Advertisements appearing each Friday in the Ontario Intelligencer will give the subject of the discussion for that week's broadcast.

Firms Admit Being Party To Agreement

TORONTO (CP)—Two electrical equipment manufacturing companies, jointly charged with operating a combine, Wednesday admitted through counsel they were parties to an agreement to fix uniform prices.

But defence counsel Hazen Hansard, in a hearing before Chief Justice J. C. McRuer of the Ontario Supreme Court, argued the agreement did not unduly lessen competition.

"It would be a bold man who could come before your lordship and argue that there was no agreement," Mr. Hansard said.

THE COMPANIES

Charged are:

Northern Electric Co. Ltd.; Canada Wire and Cable; Phelps Limited (formerly Phillips Electric); Canadian General Electric Co. Ltd.; Canadian Electric Sales; Cables, Conduits and Fittings Limited; Federal Wire and Cable Co. Ltd.; Triangle Conduit and Cable (Canada) Limited; Imperial Wire and Cable; and Rogers Insulated Wire and Cable Co. Ltd.

John D. Arnup, special crown counsel, has contended the 10 firms control 90 per cent of the Canadian market. The companies produced $158,000,000 worth of goods a year.

Mr. Hansard said there was no basic written agreement and no minutes of meetings. He suggested the agreement to exchange price articles at uniform prices was not detrimental to the public interest.

JUDGE'S COMMENT

His Lordship described as "not very wholesome" evidence that there had been attempts to conceal the agreement.

"Your clients took care to make sure there were no minutes," he said.

The hearing began Jan. 10 after an 18-month investigation.

Defence arguments are expected to take until next week.

HOLD LAD 14

REVERE, Mass. (AP)—The 14-year-old son of a school teacher and a lawyer pleaded not guilty Wednesday to a charge of murder in the stabbing of his 10-year-old sister rising from a row over a television program. John V. Riley — dazed and tearful—was held for the grand jury without bail following a closed juvenile court hearing.

Police Court

Convicted on three separate charges, a charge of theft and two offences for illegal possession of liquor and for drunkenness, Ronald Sullivan, Belleville, was sentenced to a total of seven months in jail by Magistrate R. C. Thompson.

Sullivan was given three months on the theft charge and on the charge of illegal possession was assessed $200 and costs or three months imprisonment in the county jail. On the drunk charge he was assessed $35, fine and costs or one month in jail consecutive to the first two terms.

John Thompson of Rossmore, was convicted on a charge of illegal possession of liquor and was fined $100 and costs or three months.

Garth Sharpe, Belleville, was given 15 days in jail for driving a car while his driving was under suspension and on a careless driving charge was fined $35 and costs or in lieu of payment 15 days in jail, consecutive to the first sentence.

RICHER IF THEY OBEY

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y. (AP)—Many people stand to benefit from the $2,700,000 estate of Charles Stuart Folsom, but they all must visit his wife's grave once a year or the money stops. Folson's will, filed Wednesday, provides annuities for two chauffeurs and a gardener and trust funds for 14 servants and friends.

TORONTO STOCKS

TORONTO (CP) — The stock market, after recording a record high in morning trade, turned irregular in early afternoon.

Industrials advanced moderately from the opening and their index was ahead three-quarters of a point to a record high of 306.06 after the first hour. But the group turned mixed in early afternoon and the index fell for a quarter-point loss on the day up to 1 p. m. EST.

Papers, steels, liquors and refining oils remained strong but other industrial sections eased narrowly. General Motors climbed $2 to $95. Koutable Life $3 to a 1955 high of $45, and Vickers $1.50 to $44.50.

Golds eased a little, with Preston off 20 cents to $8.80.

Western oils led market strength with Calgary and Edmonton ahead 75 cents to $15.75.

Steep Rock climbed 35 cents to $8.70 but other base metals changes were mostly small.

Lower-priced mines were active and strong. Consolidated Denison climbed 40 cents to $5.35, Algom 6½ cents to $20.75 and Gunnar 25 to $14.75 and the warrants 75 to $7.25.

TORONTO LIVESTOCK

TORONTO (CP) — Trading was slow with the bulk of the offering grading medium quality today at the Ontario stockyards.

Receipts: Cattle 60; calves 10; hogs 425; sheep and lambs nil; holdover 700 cattle.

Prices: A few good steers, all weights 19-19.50; medium 16-16.50; commons 12-14; good heifers 17-17.50; mediums 14-16.50; medium fed yearlings 16-18; good cows 12.50-13; no bulls were offered.

Replacement cattle: good heavy short-keep feeders sold at 18-19.

The light supply of calves graded medium and sold at 23.

PRODUCE MARKET

TORONTO (CP) — Churning cream and butter print prices were unchanged here today.

The egg market was firm with light offerings and good demands.

Quotations provided by the Dominion department of agriculture:

Progressive euchre was played during the evening with the forcers going to Mrs. L. Goodwin and Mr. Norris Gibson.

A contest was also held and the winners for this were, Miss Mary Huff and Mr. Rae Chappell.

Coastal Shipping Will Be Studied By Commission

OTTAWA (CP)—The future effect of the St. Lawrence seaway in opening Canada's Great Lakes to ocean shipping is certain to be a major concern of a new royal commission on coastal shipping.

Formation of the long-rumored commission was made known Wednesday when Transport Minister Marler tabled in the Commons an order-in - council appointing three commissioners and giving them power to a broad inquiry into the coastal trade.

Specific points in the study include the probable impact of the seaway and the relationship of coastal shipping to Canadian shipbuilding, international trade and external relations.

Commission chairman is Mr. Justice W. F. Spence of the Ontario High Court of Justice. Other members are W. N. Wickwire, Halifax lawyer, and Marcel Belanger, Quebec City accountant.

YEARS OF URGING

Much of Canada's coastal cargo business of some 35,000,000 tons a year is centred on the St. Lawrence-Great Lakes system. A few small foreign-registered ships now pass through the small St. Lawrence canal locks to carry Great Lakes shipments.

For a number of years various groups have been urging the government to restrict operations of foreign ships on the lakes and east and west coasts in coastal shipping—from one Canadian port to another.

U.K. vessels have free entry to the coastal trade under the British Commonwealth merchant shipping agreement. The crew wages are often less than half those of Canadian vessels.

The government's concern has increased with the recent start on seaway construction, expected to be completed in four years, which will open the St. Lawrence canal bottleneck and admit large ocean carriers to the inland lakes.

5,942,655 Lbs. Cheese Imported Says Report

OTTAWA (CP) — Canada imported 5,942,655 pounds of cheese valued at $2,030,380 from 13 countries last year, it was shown in a return tabled Wednesday in the Commons.

Largest exporters to this country were Switzerland, 1,330,464 pounds, Denmark, 1,188,268, and Italy, 1,-093,616.

Another return showed Canada exported 563,800 pounds of cheese valued at $163,331 to nine countries in January. Biggest customer was the United Kingdom, which took 330,100 pounds.

RENTAL HOUSING PROBLEM

The special committee of three members of the City Council and three representatives of veterans living in rental housing eases faces a difficult task. This committee has been named to endeavor to work out an amicable agreement regarding a proposal that the Council ask Central Mortgage and Housing Corp. for an increase in payments in lieu of taxes. At present the city receives $70 for bungalows and $75 for one and a half storey houses. Under a resolution before Council, an increase to $112 would be requested. This would result in rents being increased by a maximum of $3.50 per month.

Arthur E. Cole appears to have placed his finger on the crucial point when he told Council that in some instances veterans earning $4,000 to $6,000 per year were enjoying low rentals in these housing projects. There is no valid reason why such tenants should not, through increased rentals, pay additional money into the city's coffers as their share of the steeply increased cost of providing them and their families with various municipal services. Even at $112, they would in effect be receiving a subsidy from other taxpayers and tenants, many of whom are themselves veterans.

At the same time we can appreciate the point made by Lt. Col. Digby, spokesman for the Canadian Legion, when he said that some of the tenants are war widows and children, living on set pensions. All Belleville residents have these citizens in debt which they can never repay. It may be argued, quite correctly, that it is a debt which they should partially pay through the Federal Government, in the form of higher pensions to meet rising costs, rather than through the municipality, in the form of an exemption from municipal taxation. That, however, can hardly relieve the conscience of any of us, until such a time as pensions are increased.

Mr. Cole's suggestion that rentals be graduated, with the tenants' incomes as a basis, may well prove the best solution, but it might be found that such records require considerable time and effort to have approved. A system of this kind is being used, with far less justification, in some other rental projects in the province, which are being subsidized almost exclusively, and even mainly, for veterans.

Mr. Cole's further suggestion that tenants who can afford to do so should be given an opportunity to purchase their houses is also worthy of study. Mr. Tony Mason had observed that the existing agreement was a good one and still good enough for 70 municipalities across Canada. It should be noted, however, that in many other municipalities steps have already been taken to sell these homes to veterans. If the sales were forced, such a policy could work hardships; but if purchases were optional there should be no valid objection to such a policy. In many cases monthly payments have been little, if any, higher than present rentals. The municipality benefits by receiving full taxes and the veteran, in effect, buys a home for taxes.

So much has been said and written of late about the dangers of nuclear and thermonuclear warfare that one might well have supposed that nothing new could be added.

But when Sir Winston Churchill spoke in the British House of Commons on Tuesday he made at least two statements which alter the picture many of us had formed.

Firstly he stated that a threat of a hydrogen attack on these islands lies in the future."

That is good news for Britons—and for the whole free world. Its significance was not slurred over by Churchill when he went on to hint that this happy situation would continue to exist indefinitely. Churchill said: "We live in a period, happily unique in human history, when the whole weight of the deterrent has had to be borne by intergeographically between the creeds of Communist discipline and individual freedom." Time may remedy that. And so time is of the most important essence. Churchill's chief was saying was that Britain still had time before it would be living under the threat of a hydrogen attack.

Here the facts as outlined by Churchill suggest that the power of atomic weapons has not yet reached the peak which many of us, from other statements, had believed.

His second statement suggests that, in another way, the power of weapons has advanced far past what we had thought possible.

Churchill said that the latest nuclear developments had so spread, so diffused, that the area of immunity against Russia, with her enormous territory and scattered population, had been placed on a footing of equality or near-equality with Britain's small and densely-populated island in the matter of vulnerability.

That is good news for the world—and that includes Russia although the Russians may find it difficult to look at the question in that light. Here Churchill was correcting a widespread impression that Russia's size would enable her to withstand a terrific amount of punishment. But if she is as vulnerable as Britain, then her leaders will be doubly hesitant to plunge the world into the horrors of an atomic war.

Here is the second ingredient for world peace—a wholesome fear of war shared by every nation.

Time and fear—together they may save the world from disaster. And, though Churchill's speech could hardly be called a cheerful one, he was telling us that the world has more time—and more to fear—than many of us had believed.

TROUBLED WORLD

It's a troubled world, they say.
And with that we all agree,
But were care-free every day,
Then a duller world would be.

If the world were made complete
And untroubled now were we,
Without victory and defeat,

There is much that's plainly wrong;
But wherever it appears
Men who'd right it must be strong
And courageous down the years.

It's a troubled world, but oh!
There's no bitterly complain,

TODAY'S TALK

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

REVIVIFY YOUR MIND

Many people think all they have to do is to let their mind wander around in each day, with no special purpose or plan to guide it, or to start it in motion. And so they live out their days with little or no interest in anything, with a dead mind stirred up and fed-faced for adventure!

If the gardener or farmer didn't dig up his ground, fertilize it, and constantly keep it enriched, he wouldn't have much of a garden or be much of a farmer. Even nature responds to kindness and interest. I had a gardener once who seemed to humanize every plant, speaking of each as "he" or "she". Well, the mind—that upper-story, chief-of-mind realm, is the most miraculous piece of machinery that God has placed in the world!

How can we so often fail to recognize the power and possibilities of this mind of ours? What a crime to abuse it, neglect it, or fail to revivify it, and make it the most outstanding feature about any of us! We are our thoughts. How often we are stirred by the warm and charming personality of someone else, or are aroused by the enthusiasm of a person—after with ideas, ambition and high purpose. How ashamed we are of ourselves when we realize how keep that wonderful thing we thought of doing, but didn't!

Revivify that mind of yours. Newly cultivate it. Enrich it. It thrives on new things. The mind of ours is our best, strongest and most inspiring ally. It will give us a lift when we are feeling low—especially when the fair-weather friends have mailed away, or we have demonstrated that we have failed to make friends with ourselves.

There are times when a great book has been able to revivify the mind, and send it upon many a new journey or direct it to a new adventure. But the greatest and happiest results come to us when we furnish material for it to work with and keep it ever ready for a "high or a frolic!

That Settles That

(Windsor Star)

If you ever thought of turning the family cat into a generator to help meet the power shortage, forget it. Research shows Tabby would have to be stroked 9,200,000,000 times to produce enough power to light a 75-watt bulb for one hour.

Did Good Job

(Port Williams Times-Journal)

Some ninety-three years ago a "temporary" roof was put on a church in South Shields in England. It lasted now it is being replaced by a permanent roof. How typical this is of the thoroughness of the Englishman. Even a temporary job is done to last.

Old-Time Conductors

(By Ben W. Schober, in the Illinois Central Magazine)

Present day railroad conductors, say old fact straphangers, have improved as much as the service.

Today's conductor is a polished diplomat. He has a courtesy which Lord Chesterfield would envy. Recently a group of old veteran of many years, with services bars and stars halfway to his sleeve, sat with genuine emotion to one of the departing passengers, "It was nice to have you with us."

All my life I have been afraid of conductors. Well do I remember my mother saying on trips when I became restless, "If you don't keep quiet, I will give you to the conductor". This had an instant effect on my behaviour, as if it were an opiate. I remember conductors as spread across the back little boys and every one else. I could imagine one of them snatching me and putting me off in the woods to be eaten by wild animals!

This fear was well founded. Old-time conductors usually were large men with walrus moustaches which spread across their faces in various hues—jet black, flaming red and occasionally white. They all had pockets the long Prince Albert coat, with huge pockets well loaded with coins.

While making change for a dollar, a dime, and a penny all almost to the floor and pull out a handful of change, sometimes enough to fill a fruit jar. The long coat was decorated with bright buttons and adorned with gold lace.

As the passengers boarded his train, the conductor greeted each one with the eagle eye an FBI agent would use on a bank robber. Every so often he would pull out an enormous watch, attached to a miniature gold chain, snap it open and, at the proper moment, highball his train away.

The engineer, who always seemed to be invisible, would start the train with a violent jerk and clug on to the next stop, a distance of not over two or three miles.

The conductor would then start his duties by snatching the tickets from each passenger. This, in the most commanding tone. He would loudly bellow, "Tickets". The word "please" was unnecessary. No unemployment insurance or old age pension cheques for these recruits, could bring silence to a group as quickly as the conductor.

Groom Makes Bad Mistake

(Windsor Star)

Most grooms wouldn't have the nerve to do what Urbano Bestar of Italy did on his wedding day, when asked at the altar if he would take the young woman as his lawfully wedded wife, he abruptly answered "No," and walked out.

He didn't really mean it that way, he said, as he consented later to continue with the marriage ceremony. He just wanted to show the bride wouldn't have an easy time as a nagging wife, and in the matrimonial team.

We've questioned the correctness of that strategy. There is a defect in it. He said "no," and then by his subsequent actions showed he didn't mean it. That's no way to convince a wife who is boss. His bride Massima always will remember that he said "no" and didn't mean it. Next time she will accept "no" from him as final.

Urbano probably will turn out as most husbands do, answering "yes, dear" when he means it, request demands that answer.

Famous Blow At Controls

(Time and Tide, London, Eng.)

Sir Waldron Smithers, a true blue Tory member of parliament for West Orpington, believes the Socialists in the house of commons, is dead. But one utterance of his against the nationalization trols will probably long survive the man and the circumstances:

"The Lord God," Smithers says "proclaimed, in the contest with the commandments, even President Wilson limited his fourteen points to ten. But we live under about 3,000 statutory orders and regulations as well as the acts of parliament."

People's Wisdom

(Des Moines Register)

Can it be that many people are wiser than many politicians think they are? Do they suspect the smear, the innuendo, the foul blow? Is it possible that, in their eyes, the smearer smears himself and his party? These are questions professional politicians might well ask themselves.

Fast Tongues

(Kitchener-Waterloo Record)

When the town gossip relates that the road can move his tongue at a speed of 180 miles an hour, she's not exaggerating. Recently, a girl years ago, is most common among the poor, particularly single women, day-laborers, and the three whose occupation exposes them to cold and damp."

Dr. Brady

In his famous lectures before Practitioners of Medicine, Brady said nothing more about the cause of the rheumatic, but elsewhere in his book he described "rheumatoid arthritis," otherwise called "arthritis deformans." I have studied Osler's description of these chronic joint disturbances and his descriptions gives by numerous modern specialists and I confess I'm afraid I'll never be able to understand how his description applies to the plain old $1.98 rheumatism from $25 rheumatoid arthritis, if these are anything more than different names for the same joint disease.

But then, suppose one should distinguish plain from fancy joint disability, what would make a difference of only $23.02. So far as I can learn there's no practical difference in the treatment anyway. Whether you prefer to have rheumatoid arthritis or just rheumatic the treatment is about the same—just "rheumatism" is the victims of chronic joint disability know by now that the old remedies or methods of treatment have largely been exiled if any. And from all I have seen and read of the use of this succession of "miracle" or "wonder" drugs being launched these days for the treatment of arthritis (it's always arthritis, never vulgar rheumatism), the less truck doctors and patients have with them the better.

One of the most deplorable sins I have committed as conductor of this health column was the premature report I gave about the extraordinary effect of a few doses of a new drug in a case of rheumatic I had under personal observation. I praised the drug extravagantly and behaved always like a blustery-blanked nincyhammer only to realize a week later that the patient was crippled as badly as before. But what made the thing serious was that the new drug proved dangerous and, in a case or two, fatal.

To rheumatic invalids under the care of specialists in eminent practitioners it will no doubt seem silly, but I once again I give my belief that most chronic joint disability (of over a year's standing) whether labelled rheumatic, arthritic deformans, rheumatoid arthritis, spondylo arthritis, osteoarthritis or whatnot, is not really the inflammatory arthritis of the joints but joint degeneration, due to nutritional deficiency through lack—just lack—of calcium in the inadequate breakfast you had this morning.

Dreams Can Prove Tiring

(Brockville Recorder and Times)

Living in a dream world may or may not be comfortable to the real thing—depending, of course, on the kind of dreams you have one's sleeping hours. For some odd reason there seems to be a lot of tendency to have nightmares during the mid-winter months. Perhaps it is the season of year—with the result that many persons appear every day in a rather jaded and weary condition. Or it may be the effect of whatever it is that causes a person to suddenly become enshrined in murders, arsenic and other horrible things to be unknown— and all during night to dream. If this same victim appears rather shaky at the breakfast table and finds it difficult to concentrate during the working hours, his dreams are obviously getting the upper hand.

The chief trouble with bad dreams is that no matter how sensible their sequence may seem during the dreaming hours when being described in detail later they appear to be fantastic ravings. Friends who must listen to such mythical adventures usually find that one night they have an even worse dream and subconsciously blame it all on the fact that they were forced to hear a nightmare which must have been a thousand times worse during its sequel.

Indeed the only thing that could be said for dreams is that as far as entertainment goes, they are a lot cheaper than movies or television. True, a person could lay down exhausted next morning from a bad session of tossing during sleep as he would from a bad movie, but at least he would be spared the inevitable trip to the corner drug store to buy aspirin. Those people who actually enjoy their mid-winter dreams—but the majority would rather dream about an interest and concentrate on having a good night's sleep!

Chronic rheumatism, with or without deformity, is a virtue

Strength for the Day

DR. EARL L. DOUGLASS

IN JUST WHAT POSITION ARE YOU?

The flier in the cockpit of an airplane may sometimes be upside down, but the world still evils teaches us many things, because there are people everywhere that are in just that position. Their world is upside down and haven't the faintest idea that they are doing it.

But an aviator is trained to become quickly conscious of this upside down position if he gets into it. Only a born dummy would go on flying if he believed that position very long without knowing it.

We all get turned down at times. But if we have any brains or any intelligence at all, we will be alerted to our position, sooner or later, and do something about it.

There is no excuse for such stupidity—either in the field of aviation or of ideals or of politics or of religious faith.

THE PACKSACK

By GREGORY CLARK

Payable in 30 Years

(Hamilton Spectator)

An air line offers $50,000 to be paid in 1980 to the author of the prediction of what civil aviation will be like then—assuming, of course, that a big international military aviation has not reduced the world to a state in which the future of the crop of car-carts is just running its acceptance trials.

SCOTTS SCRAP BOOK

By R. J. SCOTT

Its Purcell, Dan McArthur and I, all noddy intelligent men, got together with the pared galleyproofs of Purcell's last book, we laid out twenty-six large sheets of paper, one for each letter of the alphabet. Then we ended up each monkey, to dash hither and yon through the book, recording each item as it was called out by the other two. They, with consecutive reading time, were busy also watching for names, places, inventions, objects, animals, pronouns and verbs that had any significance in the locating of a story. Each item was set down and given the page on which it was found. The pencil monkeys skipped from sheet to sheet, entering the item under its proper letter, regardless of how it was easily summed up an index. And it was done in one night.

FOXBORO

Many Attend World Day Of Prayer

FOXBORO — Friday afternoon a large crowd of women of the different denominations met in the Sunday School rooms of the United Church of Foxboro on the World Day of Prayer, giving thanks to God for all His benefits.

The bright sun was most welcome and the pretty potted plants brought God very near to all present.

"First of all, let us turn our thoughts to what prayer means to each and every one of us. The hymn says 'Prayer is the soul's sincere desire uttered or unexpressed; the motion of a hidden fire that trembles in the breast.' Prayer is giving thanks to God for all His blessings to us and the help we receive from Him through our daily prayers, so let us make every day a day of prayer unto God."

The ladies representing the different churches were: the (key lady) Mrs. H. Wickett, Anglican; Presbyterian, Mrs. A. Johnson; Anglican, Mrs. Goslyn, and Mrs. Glen Meyers, of the United church.

Mrs. Goslyn opened by welcoming the ladies and led the Adoration, with Mrs. H. Shelne at the piano. Mrs. Harry Wickett led the devotional part of confession and penitence. Mrs. Glen Meyers gave the meditation and thanksgiving, also read the Scripture lesson, the 51st Psalm, and Mrs. Verna Johnson the intercession and silent prayers.

Mrs. Will Rombough as soloist, sang "Trust and Obey," to her own accompaniment.

GUEST SPEAKER

Mrs. Goslyn introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. E. Kent, of Stirling, who gave an impressive address on "Prayer," which was enjoyed.

Special prayers were offered by Mrs. R. F. Darke, Mrs. Moorecroft, Mrs. Ash, Mrs. Albert Reid and Mrs. Jack Hill.

Mrs. Harold Stewart received the offering, which was $6.30.

Mrs. Fred Prindle was appointed key lady for 1956, which will be held in the Presbyterian Church of Foxboro.

The meeting closed with the singing of the favorite hymn "Now Thou Gavest Lord is Ended."

CPO G. Hartman, Trenton, Named To Commission

OTTAWA— The promotion of Chief Petty Officer George Waldo Hartman, 33, of Kingston and Trenton, Ontario, to the rank of acting commissioned gunner (TAS) was announced today by Naval headquarters.

Born in October 11, 1921, in Kingston, Mr. Hartman entered the Navy as a boy seaman at Trenton in August, 1939. During the Second World War he served in the destroyers, Saguenay, St. Francis and Ste'Appelle, the frigate Saint John and the corvette Oakville as well as in various shore establishments in Canada and the United Kingdom. He also served in the coastal escort Wallaceburg prior to his demobilization in November, 1946.

After two years as a grocer, Mr. Hartman returned to the Navy and since then has served in the frigate Swansea, the destroyer Huron, the destroyers Micmac, Crescent and Haida and on the coastal escorts Portage and Wallaceburg.

His promotion to commissioned rank came during advanced Torpedo Anti-Submarine courses in HMS Vernon training establishment in England.

Vandervoort's Hardware Chain Opens Store Here

Tomorrow eastern Ontario's largest retail hardware chain will add another active link to its organization with the opening of Vandervoort Hardware Limited in Belleville.

The company opens for business Friday morning on Front Street, in the premises that formerly housed the Follwell Supply Company.

Outstanding feature of the new operation is the addition of many new lines of stock and extension of others offered by the previous business on the spot.

Vandervoort bought out Follwell Supply on January 1st and immediately commenced operations behind closed doors. When the doors are at last opened for business tomorrow morning the results of the remodelling will be apparent to shoppers.

The store itself has been revampted, with modern shelving installed along the walls. Islands have been laid out on the floors, facilitating easy surveying of the goods offered for sale. The store also has been given a decorative face-lifting.

SCRAPPING SOME LINES

In the inventory, Vandervoort is scrapping some of the lines retained by its predecessor while enlarging most of the other lines.

Lines retained include a complete stock of housewares from toasters to garbage pails and also many plastic kitchen goods.

A feature of the new set-up is the installation of a paint department, embracing a wide range of paints and subsidiary materials.

There are no changes in the staff with the exception of the appointment as manager of Ralph Wightman, former assistant manager of the chain store in Napanee.

The Belleville location is the sixth store to be opened in eastern Ontario by Vandervoort Hardware.

First link in the chain was forged 30 years ago in Newburgh, where Elgin Claude Vandervoort opened his first hardware store. However it was not until the end of World War II that he opened his second store, in Napanee.

A year later, in 1947, he opened his third store in downtown Kingston, an uptown Kingston location followed in 1951 and again in 1953 he established his fifth outlet in Reddendale.

Mr. Vandervoort now is president of the entire chain.

Weddings

HATTON—WALLACE

A pretty winter wedding was solemnized on Saturday, February 26, at 2.00 p.m. in the Wellington United church, when the Rev. A. Poulter united in marriage Jean Anna Wallace, of Wellington, daughter of Mr. Ernest D. Greer of Wellington and the late Mrs. Greer, to Robert Lindsay Hatton, of Stirling, son of Mrs. Clifford I. Hatton, of Stirling and the late Mr. Hatton.

Mrs. Jack McNeill rendered the wedding music "The Wedding Prayer," and "I'll Walk Beside You."

Given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. L. J. Greer, the bride wore a lovely gown of pure silk shantung and mayflower velvet, fashioned with three-quarter sleeves, and tiered skirt encircled with brilliants. She wore a headdress of pink velling dotted with sequins caught to a velvet band encrusted with sequins; pink nylon mitts, and carried a Colonial bouquet of pink carnations and hyacinth bells.

Mrs. Charles A. Potter, of Mt. Royal, Quebec, sister of the bridegroom, as matron of honor, was attired in delf blue wool featuring a long torso effect. She wore a matching headdress and carried a Colonial bouquet of white carnations and hyacinth bells.

Miss Beverly Wallace, as bridesmaid, wore coral orlon in princess line with short fitted jacket, white French hat and corsage of white carnations and hyacinth bells.

Mr. Charles A. Potter, of Mt. Royal, Quebec, attended the bridegroom.

Following the ceremony, a reception and wedding breakfast was held at the home of the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Greer, where the bridegroom's mother, wearing navy with red accessories and corsage of red and white carnations, received. The bride's table was centred with the wedding cake, topped with tiny pink roses, and flanked with silver candelabra holding tall pink candles. The living room was delightfully adorned with spring flowers for the occasion.

Mrs. L. J. Greer presided at the tea table, wearing a Dior blue

Pictured signing the register in St. Timothy's Church, Toronto, following their marriage on February 11 are Mr. and Mrs. Henry Philip Wills. The bride was the former Mary Louise Skey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Warren R. Skey, 288 St. Germaine Ave., Toronto, while the bridegroom is the son of Col. and Mrs. P. H. Wills, 146 George Street, Belleville. (Photo by Ashley and Crippen, Toronto).

pure silk shantung with white accessories. Those who assisted were: Mrs. George Noble, of Stirling; Mrs. Arnold Post, and Mrs. Melvin Taylor, both of Wellington.

For the wedding trip to Florida, New York City and Montreal, the bride chose a turquoise knitted suit, with matching hat, brown accessories, and shortie mouton jacket. Mr. and Mrs. Hatton will reside in Stirling, Ontario.

Guests were present from Stirling and Montreal.

JACKSON—GUERNSEY

PICTON.—An interesting wedding was solemnized in St. Andrew's Anglican church, Wellington, at three o'clock on Saturday, February 26, 1955, when Orpha Jean, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Guernsey, Wellington, became the bride of Joseph Anthony, son or Mrs. Irene Jackson, Picton, and the late Rupert Jackson, Rural Dean the Rev. C. P. Heaven officiated.

Mrs. Dayton Murphy played traditional wedding music.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was gowned in pale blue nylon taffeta with matching bolero. Her shoulder-length veil fell from a headdress of matching material and she wore a corsage of red roses.

Miss Esther Guernsey, Toronto, was her sister's bridesmaid, wearing a dress of beige bengaline with matching bolero, a yellow headdress with matching shoulder-length veil and a corsage of yellow roses.

Mr. Ronald Gilmour, 7 Sword Street, Toronto, was groomsman.

The reception followed at the home of the bride's parents. The bride's mother chose navy crepe with navy accessories. The bridegroom's mother was in blue taffeta with blue accessories.

The bride's table was decorated with pink and white streamers suspended from pink and white wedding bells. Covered by a white linen cloth, it was centred with the wedding cake and white tapers in silver holders.

Servers were, Misses Dorothy Preston, Florence Gilmour, Helen Tripp and Shirley Johnston.

For travelling to Oshawa, Toronto, and Niagara Falls, the bride donned a beige topcoat and white hat. Mr. and Mrs. Jackson will reside at 3 Agnes Street, Picton.

Guest were present from Belleville, Toronto, Oshawa, Montreal, Clinton and Picton.

W.M.S. Holds World Day Of Prayer

MELROSE. — The W.M.S. of Melrose United church held its World Day of Prayer service on Friday at the home of Mrs. John English with an attendance of 18 ladies and three little girls.

Due to illness, Mrs. Morgan, the president was unable to be present. Mrs. S. Demille, 1st vice-president, conducted the worship service, the theme being "Abide In Me". This service was adapted from a service prepared by the Rev. Jorgelina Lozada, of Buenos Aires, Argentina.

Mrs. Newton Demille read the hymn "Praise the Lord, Ye Heavens, Adore Him." Mrs. F. Jeffrey read the Scripture lesson. Miss Beatrice MacFarlane offered prayer for Her Majesty the Queen, the members of the royal family and leaders of the Commonwealth. Mrs. C. Milligan led in prayer for peace and for the binding of the world together in fellowship and love.

Miss Bailey offered prayer for parents and teachers, for all women of the church and all missionaries.

Mrs. F. Embury gave a reading "Forgiveness is Divine."

Miss Bailey gave the history of the World Day of Prayer. In the year 1919 an interim committee was formed which was composed of a group of women with true Christian vision and outstanding ability who were brave enough to follow an untrodden path. Their project was an inter-denominational day of prayer for women.

The first service was held in 1920 on the first Friday in Lent. In 1923 they joined with the church women of the United States, who had been similarly planning. In 1954, 116 different countries celebrated this year-round bond among the Christians of the world. The spark of interest has kindled universal fires.

Business period was conducted and the World Day of Prayer offering was $7.35.

Mrs. John Milligan, Literature secretary, explained the reading course for the year.

Mrs. Ken McMechan read the hymn "The Day Thou Gavest Lord, is Ended."

The meeting was closed with the benediction.

The hostess served refreshments and a social time was enjoyed.

The April meeting of the W.M.S. will be held at the home of Mrs. Ken McMechan.

Miss Beatrice MacFarlane graciously thanked Mrs. English for opening her home for this service.

During the social hour, a sale of used clothing, also a layette, for Korean relief was packed.

At a previous date, a quilting was held at the home of Mrs. Russell MacFarlane, when a bale for Korean relief was also packed.

Quintena Rebekahs Sponsor 'At Home'

An evening of good fellowship was enjoyed on Tuesday night when Quintena Rebekahs were "at home" to families and friends.

Highlight of the evening was the color film of a "Century of Service", of Odd Fellows and Rebekahs. Petite and winsome Judy McKnight from the Stedile of Lillian-Esther, tap-danced her way into hearts while the solos of Sister Dorothy Webber and Mrs. Ann Davis were a delight to all.

Sister Mary Plumpton, N.G., and Sister Helen Branton provoked much merriment with a lively little skit while other sisters demonstrated the effects of backyard gossip over the clothesline.

The program ended with a hilarious mock wedding by the Odd Fellows brethren.

While Sisters Gloss White and Helen Branton, with their assistants, prepared refreshments dancing was enjoyed by the guests.

GOOD MANNERS

By BESS. BEECKMAN

FLOWERS TO HER PASTOR-BROTHER

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

My brother, who has been Pastor of a church for over twenty years, has accepted a call to another church of the same synod. He was very devoted to this church where he has been for so long, and to all the congregation and they to him. I know that it will be hard for him to leave, but he felt that the Lord was calling him to this other place. During these years we have visited him often and have come to know many of the congregation. We had thought of sending him a basket of flowers to the church on the day when he preached his farewell sermon, and also to the church where he will be installed, on the Sunday when he will preach his first sermon there. What is your view about our doing this? — F.

What a wonderful sister you are to have such a good and inspiring thought for your brother's reassurance, and to show him that your loving devotion and good wishes are shiningly with him. Do send him the flowers (his favorite flowers, if possible) to arrive on the occasion of his last sermon in this church, as a gesture of congratulations for the good work he has done in your part these years . . . and the flowers to arrive on the occasion of his first sermon in the new place, as a gesture of All-Good-Wishes for the years to come. I hope you will verify him the devoted from-sister-to-brother I know is in your heart to write him. God bless you both.

WHAT'S WHAT . . . ON THE MENU?

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

I like to know "what's cooking" with the foods on a menu, in a restaurant and I see no reason why I should be defeated by a French or Italian word that tells what the dish is. I realize it isn't the right thing for me to take over and ask the headwaiter or headwaitress to translate for me. But my boy friend thinks we shouldn't ask about the meaning of the foreign words that we should just guess and let it go at that, that it's "ignorant" to ask. True or false, Mrs. Beeckman? — Sue

False! To ask for a translation of the French or Italian word or phrase is completely correct. It's just the opposite of "ignorant" . . . for people who know their way around have absolutely no hesitation about asking for this information from the headwaiter or captain, or, if they are not available, from the table-waiter or waitress. No need for embarrassment of hesitation. It's fun to know . . . and the one who knows will be delighted to tell you!

THREE INTRODUCTIONS

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

1. How should I introduce a schoolmate (girl) to my mother?

2. How should I introduce a boyfriend to my father?

3. What is a proper way to introduce a girl to a boy? Whose name should be mentioned first?

— Peggy F.

1. "Mother . . . Dorothy Blake." Or . . . "Mother, this is Dorothy Blake." (Important: Always mention your mother first.)

2. "Father . . . Arthur Kenna." Or Father, this is Arthur Kenna." (Important: Always mention your father first.)

(There may be times when you would like to make the introduction to your mother and father at the same time: "Mother and Father . . . this is Margaret.")

3. You introduce a boy to a girl (or, as you say, "introduce a girl to a boy") by mentioning the girl's name first: "Helena, this is Ken Matthews . . . Ken, Bobbie."

ADDRESS HER MAIL TO "MRS. JOHN SMITH"

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

To settle a very important discussion, will you please answer this question: Should a married woman, whose husband is living, have her mail addressed to Mrs. John Smith or Mrs. Mary Smith? Would your answer pertain to all occasions, either personal mail or business mail? — H.H.

In all social contacts Mrs. John Smith is the correct form of name for a married woman to use. This is the form of name she should use for her church membership. For her club membership. This is the form of name she should give for her charge accounts. All letters should be addressed to her as Mrs. John Smith (although her bank statements and other items will probably arrive addressed to "Mrs. John Smith"). She herself can not, of course, regulate the directing of all letters to her, a married woman should, as much as she can, try to have all letters, social and business and professional, addressed to her as Mrs. John Smith. Not as "Mrs. Mary Smith."

However, a married woman in business or professional life, may find it important and convenient to use the name "Mrs. Mary Smith," in business or professional life, this is correct.

Women's Institute

SPRINGBROOK W.I.

Mrs. Harold Stiles, Bonarlaw, was hostess to Springbrook Women's Institute on Wednesday afternoon.

Attention was drawn to the officers' spring conference to be held at O.A.C., Guelph, on May 13-13; to the rug contest, sponsored by the Salada Tea Company; to the Canadian Museum to the Dutch Art exhibit in Toronto, and also the Opera festival.

A committee was named to arrange a social evening to be held in March.

Mrs. James Spry handled the motto, "Always laugh when we can, it is cheap medicine" in an original and amusing manner. Monthly activities and public relations conveners were read by Mrs. F. Cosbey and Mrs. Arthur Burkitt. Mrs. George Mumby also gave an interesting reading on community activities.

The 12th Line school children came after four and sang two songs: "In the Evening by the Moonlight", and "Let the Sun Shine In", accompanied by their music teacher, Miss Ruth Mumby, who also favored with a piano solo.

The children had a guessing contest and all enjoyed refreshments served by the hostess and her assistants.

Beauty

By HELEN JAMIESON

SHAMPOOING YOUR OWN HAIR

The h o m e shampoo deserves much more attention than is given to it. One must constantly battle a combination of atmospheric dust and oily exudations from the sebaceous glands which is not easily dislodged. So it should not be a hurried job.

Begin with a brisk brushing to remove surface dust. You should have a narrow brush with bristles of different lengths set in groups—the kind that is used by beauty operators.

Treat a strand at a time, holding it away from the head, slapping the bristles of the brush on the scalp and using a rolling motion. Spread fingers and thumbs over your scalp, pinch and roll the flesh to bring a glow. If the scalp tightens, circulation slows up and your gifted fingers will lack the nourishment that is necessary for lovely appearance.

Bend over the bath tub and turn on the spray. Have the water as hot as you can bear it comfortably, apply your shampoo agent, working it into the hair from the nape of the neck upward. Do circles around the front and sides. Lift the hair in layers, making sure that every portion is reached and saturated with the shampoo lotion.

Use the spray again and repeat the soaping. Spare no effort and don't be stingy with your time. The final rinsing should be especially thorough. The water should be warm. Tepid water will not always remove the soap.

When buying a shampoo medium, read the labels. Some are for dry hair, some for oily.

ADVICE to the LOVELORN

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

PLAYING "HARD-TO-GET" ISN'T SMART

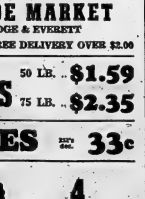
Dear Miss Fairfax:

There is a boy I see when I visit my aunt during vacations who is very popular, and all the girls like him.

He is quite nice, but conceited, and thinks that he is God's gift to women. He flirts a lot with me and seems to be interested in me, but when I wrote him a letter he didn't even answer it.

How should I behave toward him the next time I go to visit my aunt and see him? My best friend says that I should play "hard-to-get." Should I do this, or should I let him know I am really interested in him? — Cindy M.

Dear Cindy:



I don't believe in playing "hard-to-get." All that sort of thing ever accomplishes is to make a boy suspect that a girl is so much interested in him that she's a sitting target for any Tom, Dick and Harry particular pains to make it appear that she really isn't interested at all. In other words, deliberately playing hard-to-get is a dead giveaway as to how you really feel.

The most successful way to get a boy interested in you is to have so many interests of your own, and so many friends, and to be so natural, unaffected and such an all-around good sport, that any boy would feel you are a girl he wants to know well. A boy has to feel that he'd really enjoy being with a girl, and he rarely gets such a feeling if she devotes herself to trying to make him notice her. Be the kind of person who attracts friends in general, and you'll have a far better chance of attracting this boy, too, than if you either played hard-to-get or made a point of letting him know you are "really interested in him."

Never mind about his not having answered your letter. When you see him next, forget all about having written him and just be glad to see him in a friendly way. Don't encourage him to flirt with you, but have some interesting activities and invite him to join you in them.

Now have the advice you've asked for. Are you going to follow it?

Maintain Proteins In Menus During Lent

By Mary Moore

Meat is not the only protein you know. There are plenty of other high quality proteins: fish, fowl, cheese, eggs, milk, nuts; plus the vegetables which have a relatively high protein content such as peas, beans and lentils.

So instead of groaning around about a sardine diet as one girl did in my hearing Lent may be your opportunity to explore the possibilities of the other proteins —especially if you belong to a religious denomination which strictly observes Lent.

Mrs. A. M. asked to see to print the recipe for

CHEESE CROQUETTES

And since they are a savory and popular non-meat protein dish they fit in here perfectly.

Three tablespoons butter or substitute, 3 tablespoons flour, 1 cup hot milk, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1-8 teaspoon pepper, 1-16 teaspoon dry mustard, yolks of two eggs, 2 tablespoons cream, 2 cups soft cheese cut or rolled into small cubes. In top of double boiler melt butter and stir in flour; then milk until thick. Add salt, pepper and mustard. Beat yolks with cream and stir in. Add cheese and stir over boiling water until cheese is softened enough to blend. Spread on large platter to chill. Shape into croquettes —cylinders or balls or cones, dip in fine crumbs, then in beaten egg diluted with 1 tablespoon water, and crumb again. Fry in deep fat at 385 deg. Fahr., browning when one side is golden. Skim out and drain on unglazed paper.

NOTE:

This recipe calls for 2 proteins: milk, yolks and cheese and is an adequate substitute for meat in the main course for dinner. (2) This is pictured on a vegetable plate with broccoli, Harvard beets and potato with parsley sauce.

PEA SOUP FOR LENT

If desired lentils may be substituted for the peas in this recipe.

Soak 1 lb. split green or yellow peas overnight. In the morning measure the water and make up to 7 cups by adding cold water. Place in large kettle and add 2 cups finely chopped celery stalks and leaves, 1 cup finely chopped carrots, 1-2 cup chopped onion, 2 teaspoons salt, 1-8 teaspoon pepper, 1-2 bay leaf, 1 teaspoon monosodium glutamate. Bring to boil, then reduce heat, cover, and simmer until peas are so tender they dissolve to a puree—about 1 1-2 hours. If desired press through fine sieve. Add 1 tablespoon butter before serving.

NOTE:

Some cooks like to add 1 tablespoon lemon juice or vinegar to their pot of pea soup—but I'm not one of them.

BAKED EGGS IN DUCHESS POTATOES

To serve four—to 2 cups hot mixed potatoes add 2 tablespoons butter, 1-4 cup hot milk or cream, 1-2 teaspoon salt. Beat well. Add 2 tablespoons finely chopped or pureed canned pimento and beat until thoroughly blended with potato mixture. Pile evenly in generously buttered baking dish, and make four deep cavities. In each cavity slip a raw egg. Sprinkle generously with grated cheese and bake until potatoes are very hot and whites of eggs are just set.

RAWDON

'Call of Prayer' Theme of Address Given at World Day of Prayer

RAWDON — Mrs. Burton Morgave the address at the World Day of Prayer service for Rawdon circuit held at Mount Pleasant United Church on Friday afternoon.

The program was based on the theme "Abide in Me" and was adapted from a service prepared by the Rev. Jorgelina Lozada, of Buenos Aires, Argentina.

Twenty-four ladies and two children from the three appointments were in attendance.

Mrs. Frank Jelfs, president of Mount Pleasant W.M.S. presided and opened with a Bible message reading an article on prayer. Mrs. Joseph Denham Smith's "Abide in Thee".

Mrs. John Carlisle, president of Wellman's W.M.S., presided over "Adoration" with the hymn "Praise the Lord for He is Glorious."

Mrs. Clifford Clancy, president of Wellman's W.A., took "Confession and Penitence," followed by a hymn of consecration. Mrs. Flossie Laycock, president of Bethel W.A., was in charge of "Meditation and Thanksgiving". She was assisted by Mrs. Earl McMullen, Mrs. Edgar McCrown, Mrs. F. Reid and Mrs. Will Heath.

INTERCESSION

The intercession followed led by Mrs. J. Holmes and the prayers were given by Mrs. S. Hoover, Mrs. J. Carlisle, Mrs. John Mullerton and Mrs. Roy Thrasher.

Mrs. Morton in her closing said in part: "The call of prayer issued by the Women's International Church Council of Canada includes this petition, "Open our minds and hearts to the needs of millions of Thy people, strengthen and help sisters in more favored lands. The free will offerings have been a wonderful help in spreading Christian literature. Each of the 60 allocations ranging from $40 for Bibles in Trinidad to $2500 for interchurch aid to refugees.

INTERNATIONAL COMMITTEE

The International Committee on Christian Literature for Africa has since 1942 produced more than 75 million pages of books and periodicals in more than 30 languages.

The Bible Society of Pakistan is producing more and more Christian literature and making this available to people who need it.

Libraries are being developed in India where 50 or so books are arranged in a metal case with an illumination lamp and then are sent into the village for the use of the people. It is expected that the present 90 libraries will multiply to be 1,000 before the end of this year.

The world literacy program is expanding fast and lesson building has gone ahead of teacher training. The Illiterate can read grade material in three months but he still needs to be taught how to read newspapers and language books. Here Christian literature has a big part to play in world evangelism.

The Christian Literature Society of Japan sold 50,000 copies of "The New Testament" in four months.

A special message of thanks was read from a member of the Seoul Bible Society in Korea, telling how they had rebuilt after two disasters fired.

Among the special grants made in 1954 for that year only, were Christian literature to Korea; hymn books to Pierce College, Athens, Greece, and a donation toward production of a film in India. There is also Christian literature provided for overseas Chinese, as well as braille for the blind, and a John Milton magazine.

OTHER GREAT WORK DONE

Mrs. Morton outlined the great work carried on by the British and Foreign Bible Society, also the work of the Gideon Society. The Women's Inter-Church Council of Canada has been able to do a large amount of work in Christian literature due to the increased givings at the yearly gatherings on the first Friday in Lent.

LAW OF LOVE

The speaker closed with a poem by Alexander Blackburn, entitled "Liberty in Law," part of which reads:

"What makes a nation great? not serried ranks with flags unfurled, nor armored ships that gird the world; not boarded wealth, nor busy mills, not cattle on a thousand hills; not sages wise nor schools, nor laws, not bonded deeds in freedom's cause — but rather where justice rules 'twixt man and man, where love controls in act and plan, thus may our country, good and great, be God's delight, man's best estate."

Mrs. Don Heath, Bethel, with Mrs. Will Heath, as accompanist, sang "Beautiful Garden of Prayer." The offering amounting to $3. was gathered by Mrs. C. Potts and Mrs. R. Richardson.

Mrs. K. Weaver of Mount Pleasant W.A., presided over the Litany in the dedication, and officiated at the plans throughout the service.

"The Day Thou Gavest, Lord, is Ended" and the special prayer "May His courage support us, His light guide us and His love unite us" closed the 1955 service.

Atomic Power For Better Living

An artist's drawing of the first nuclear reactor to be put to work by private industry for harnessing a wide range of

The first nuclear reactor to be owned and operated by private industry to produce atomic energy for peaceful, civilian purposes, has been designed and is planned for construction.

The American Machine & Foundry Company will build the reactor at an estimated cost of $1,500,000. It will be used to develop different and better foods, medicines, textiles, plastics and other consumer goods.

General Walter Bedell Smith, vice chairman of the board of the company, predicted that the harnessing of atomic energy to the needs of American industry will greatly aid in research and in the production of countless necessities to daily living.

The new plant, to be located on a 250-acre site in New York State, is planned as the first of a number of atomic reactors for industry throughout the country. Representative companies from each industry will use the reactor, jointly.

PICTON

County Bacon and Seed Fair Attracts Large Representation

PICTON— Prince Edward County bacon show and seed fair attracted nearly 500 persons to Prince Edward Collegiate, Tuesday afternoon and proved an educational event.

Making an attractive display across the front of the hall were 28 hog sides which were later used to demonstrate the importance of breeding, feeding and correct marketing weights.

The champion carcass was that entered by Arnold Cruickshank, Hilliier township; reserve championship to Gordon Walker, South Marysburg.

Each township entered four hogs and Hilliier entry was tops, with South Marysburg second, followed by Ameliasburg, North Marysburg, Sophiasburg, Hallowell, Athol. Fourteen of the carcases were in A group or selects.

Along one side of the hall was a splendid entry of grains and seeds, along with educational exhibits by the Holstein club, Junior Farmers, Crops, Seeds and Weeds Branch of the Ontario Department of Agriculture, Hastings and Prince Edward Yorkshire Breeders' club.

SEED JUDGING

A seed judging competition for junior farmers was held under the direction of Agriculture representative A. A. Taylor and district representative. In the senior group, winners were Ross Foster, R. 1 Bloomfield; Alfred Gannon, R. 8 Picton; John Dorenberg, R. 4 Picton; Leslie Jones, R. 2, Demorestville; Lawrence Trudeau, R. 1, Picton; Ford Rosborough, Picton.

Top six, out of 20, in the junior section were, Larry Huff, R. 1 Picton; Jim Hughes, R. 4, Picton; Thann Kellar, R. 1 Picton; George Love, Picton; Bob May, R. 8, Picton; Ronald Carter, R. 1, Ameliasburg.

F. A. Stewart, Production Service, Canada Department of Agriculture, and Jim Turnbull, grader, also of the Dominion Department, conducted a discussion on the pork carcasses, while Fred Godfrey, Canada Packers, Peterborough, did the cutting of sides to stress the greater value of sides with the correct amount of fat.

Decline in hog quality was stressed by Mr. Stewart, who pointed to the loss in revenue, suffered by producers, as a result. One of the chief reasons is over-finishing; there is too much fat.

In the past three years pork consumption has dropped from 67.8 to 57 pounds per capita, while beef consumption has increased from 44.1 to 63 lbs. per capita, partly due to the decline in quality of pork.

Mr. Stewart deplored the use of 'indiscriminate cross-breeding. There are too many specialized hogs. Don't save gilts for breeding from cross-breeding, he urged. A 3/4 percentage of Grade C hogs have colored hair and last year producers lost $413,000 as a result.

Stressing the need of marketing at the correct weight, Mr. Stewart said the department had hog sales available at cost. He stressed the importance and value of Advanced Registry stock-master to produce a quality product from a good foundation.

Proper feeding was pointed out as a big factor in getting hogs to market in the shortest possible time and increasing profits.

One of the carcasses exhibited was a hog which had been marketed in 154 days and graded A, another had required 223 days before marketing and graded B.

PANEL DISCUSSION

Many topics of interest to hog producers and seed growers were answered during a panel discussion ably chaired by Phil Flagler, farm commentator of CJBQ, Belleville. On the panel were Douglas Parks, Kemptville Agricultural School; F. A. Stewart, Toronto; Ken Fallis, Toronto; Sam Danford, Connemon and Mac Walbridge, Ameliasburg. Hog purchasers were told that they were making an error in bidding higher prices for spotted hogs at auction sales, that the one-color hog is the better buy.

Last year hogs brought $800,000 to Prince Edward farmers and they were urged to protect quality.

James Alexander, president of Prince Edward Hog Producers' Association was chairman. Speaking briefly were Sam Danford, president of the County Crop Improvement Association, the two groups co-operating with Federal and Provincial Departments of Agriculture in sponsoring the show; Wesley Finch, Springbrook, president of the Yorkshire Breeders' Club; Jerry Nelson, Holstein Fieldman; Ken Fallis, Crop and Seeds Branch, Toronto.

Assisting in the draws were: Lt.-Col. S. Young, vice-president of the Crop group, and Gordon Parks, vice-president of the Hog Producers. Prize winners were: Mrs. Keith Walker, Mrs. Sherman Young, Homer Talcott, Clarence Vanclief, B. Alyea.

Arnold Cruickshank and Gordon Walker were presented with special awards given by Rose Pearsall and Prince Edward Hog Producers for champion and reserve champion carcasses. In third place was the entry of R. Hicks, North Marysburg.

During the afternoon the ladies had a special meeting at which Home Economist Mrs. Marion Smith gave a demonstration on "Color and Design to Suit Personality and Figure."

Agr. Rep. D. A. Taylor presented awards to winners in the judging competition.

In the grain classes, top three winners were:

Fall Wheat—Elmer Young, John Dorenberg, Col. S. Young.

Clinton Oats—Sam Danford, Clifford Barber, Reg. Barber.

Oats, other variety—C. Barber, Ross Parks, David Smith.

Barley—S. Danford, E. Young, D. Smith.

Red Clover—Col. Young, Clarence Vanclief, Gordon Walker.

Alfalfa—Henry Wallbridge, H. Barber, C. Vanclief.

Timothy—H. Wallbridge, E. Young.

Soybeans — R. Barber, C. Young, E. Young.

Grain Corn—Benford Peck, Col. Young, Eric Peck.

Helps You Overcome Itching of Piles Or Money Back

You do not have to be tortured and embarrassed by the itching torment of burning pain of piles any longer. Here is why we say this:

Get a package of Hem-Roid, an internal pile treatment, at any drug store and use as directed. You will be delighted at how quickly your pile troubles are relieved. If not, return the empty package. If you are not 100% pleased after using Hem-Roid 7 to 7 days, as a test, we will refund your money back. Pectacol agreement by all drug stores.

LADIES!

Now maybe you get tired of hearing us say,
How much we can save you out of your pay,
But we're not just kidding when it comes to this,
Our prices are real low, and that can't be missed.

We've dresses, suits, coats in many spring modes,
Pick them real early while you'll still see loads,
They're the latest and lovely materials too,
We don't make much money, but we aim to please you.

Now the dresses are all different, and that you won't deny,
Their individuality will really hit your eye,
You won't find much trouble, about seeing your dress from here to Guelph,
By that we mean, someone wearing the dress you picked out for yourself.

Now if you want a semi-formal here's the thing to do,
Even though you may be thinking we'll only have a few,
Come up to "Winnie's" and see the style's we've got,
We think we'll have a dress to please you, so please give us a thought.

Pair Lost on Baffin Island Reach Hudson's Bay Co. Post After Wandering 1½ Months

CAPE DORSET, N.W.T. (CP)—The Arctic hammered at the doors of a lonely Baffin Island trading post today but the two men it held in its sights for 47 days were snug inside.

Donald Baird, 23, and his Eskimo guide Ootochie returned to safety here Wednesday night after wandering for 1½ months over the southern tip of glacial and mountainous Baffin.

The Arctic forced the two weary Hudson's Bay Company workers to tighten their belts and it stung them with frostbite but their only needs when they arrived here were a change of diet, warmth and rest.

The caribou saved them.

For the last 32 days they kept their strength for travel by boiling snow for water and eating the flesh of the Arctic deer. Their provisions were gone.

Both suffered frostbitten fingers and Ootochie's face was also wounded by the wind and sub-zero cold, but this was small cost for two men at one time presumed dead.

Baird comes from the Newfoundland fishing village of Twillingate and had never travelled in the North before.

Ootochie, a veteran guide, several times had crossed the southern part of this $21,000-square-mile island—fourth largest in the world.

Jan. 15, the two set out from Cape Dorset, 1,000 miles north of Montreal on the southwest tip of Baffin, with a team of 11 dogs and enough food for about three weeks. Their destination was Frobisher Bay, an Arctic air base 300 miles west across the bottom of the island.

They were due at Frobisher Feb. 7 but never arrived there. Somewhere along the way, this enormous, unmarked land of ageless snow and jagged mountains threw them, off course.

During their long trek temperatures ranged from 20 below zero at their warmest to more than 40 below.

They shot Caribou with the two rifles they had taken along and survived on this meat and hot water. They huddled in snow-block igloos when darkness, blizzard or the heavy ice-fog that accompanies the biting Arctic temperatures would not allow travel.

Two search aircraft were sent out and a ground team set out from Cape Dorset about the same time.

Hope had almost been given up and the air search abandoned, when tracks were sighted. Then Wednesday night Baird and Ootochie checked into the Hudson's Bay Company post here.

Union Forbidden By Head Office To Take Pay Cut

RENFREW, Ont. (CP) — J. A. O'Brien, president of the M. J. O'Brien Company Ltd., owners of the Renfrew woollen mill, said Wednesday that the mill will remain closed as a result of the refusal of the Textile Workers Union of America (CIO-CL) to allow its Renfrew local to sign a new contract with the company.

Local 769 last Friday agreed to company proposals to cut pay six cents an hour to 85 cents an hour, drop two statutory holidays and two days seniority rights.

Mr. O'Brien said that at a meeting between company and union officials Tuesday Frank Iuny of Toronto, assistant canadian director of the TWUA, forbade the agreement on threat of revoking Local 769's charter.

"He informed the company that the agreement was contrary to the policies of his international office" Mr. O'Brien said.

KINGSTON CEREMONY

OTTAWA (CP) — A ceremony will be held at Kingston Tuesday marking completion of the first of 10 railway engines for India, Dr. M. A. Rauf, Indian high commissioner to Canada, will attend the public ceremony. India will pay for the locomotives $1,000,000 in Colombo plan funds granted by Canada.

Nineteen Homeless After Ottawa Fire

OTTAWA (CP)—Nineteen people were made homeless by a fire which razed through an apartment building in downtown Ottawa Wednesday.

Two elderly tenants, Joseph Connolly, 78, and his wife, Hilda Annette, 68, were carried from the building by firemen shortly before flames cut off all escape routes. Mrs. Connolly had been overcome by smoke.

Three firemen were overcome by smoke while fighting the blaze but later recovered.

Damage to the brick-and-frame, five-family dwelling at 402 St. Patrick St., was estimated at $25,000.

The fire was believed to have started when a plumber was using a blowtorch.

DELAY ACTION

TORONTO (CP)—Board of control Wednesday delayed financial action on unemployment relief projects until after a conference with Premier Frost. Proposals to give $46,000 to the welfare commission for extra relief and $50,000 to the parks department to employ jobless in clearing ravines and parklands were not voted upon by council. Date of the project been set.

SEES EARLY OPENING

CHARLOTTETOWN (CP)—There is "every indication" of an early opening of navigation in the Gulf of St. Lawrence, Capt. Angus Brown said Wednesday night after he returned from the first aerial survey of ice conditions for the transport department. He said the ice seen on a 900-mile flight was the lightest since he began the surveys seven years ago.

KING ABDICATES

PNOMPENH, Cambodia (Reuters)—King Norodom Sihanouk, 34-year-old king of Cambodia who won an overwhelming vote of confidence from his people last month, Wednesday abdicated in favor of his father. A royal proclamation said he was handing over the monarchy because the application of his proposed constitutional reforms had been "obstructed."

Shannonville

SHANNONVILLE—The Glidens were present and took part in several church services in this district on Sunday.

Mr. D. Williams was the speaker in the United Church, Shannonville and gave an interesting description of the origin of the Gideons and the great work which they are doing.

They place Bibles in hospitals, hotels, motels and prisons, throughout the country.

They are also offering an attractive durable copy of the New Testament, with the book of Psalms and Proverbs added, to every boy and girl passing through the public schools of Canada. Nurses are given a copy of the Bible at the time of their graduation.

Mr. Groves assisted with the service by rendering two solos with his wife as accompanist.

Mr. and Mrs. K. B. Vivian have returned home after spending a few days in Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Houston, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dorrington, were Friday evening guests of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Vivian, of the second of Thurlow.

The World Day of Prayer was observed and the monthly meeting of the Women's Missionary Society was held at the home of Mrs. Stratton on Friday afternoon, and was well attended.

Rev. L. W. Spell attended the funeral of Rev. L. S. Throop at Canniffon, on Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Stratton visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Rose at Kingston, on Saturday.

Mrs. Albert Pickle, who has been in poor health, was taken by ambulance to the hospital in Kingston, one day last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Deviator entertained on Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Ray, Hallowy; Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Ray, Belleville and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hagerman of the fourth concession.

Centenary

DAY OF PRAYER

CENTENARY — The Centenary W. M. S. ladies held the World Day of Prayer in the church on Friday afternoon with members from White's, Wesley and the Avondale Neighbor's Aid attending.

Mrs. H. Hancock conducted the service with Mrs. W. Slavin, Mrs. C. Rush, Mrs. R. Windover, Mrs. R. Edmondson taking part and with Mrs. R. Ray as pianist.

Mrs. J. F. Minielly, of Trenton, was the guest speaker, giving an inspiring address and basing her remarks on the theme of the day —"Abide in Me".

Mrs. A. W. Daniels, Avondale, gave a vocal solo, "For Others" with Mrs. Garnet May playing piano accompaniment.

After the service the Centenary members served tea to their guests and a social few minutes were spent.

Mrs. C. Bush voiced the appreciation of the visiting societies.

Mrs. Lyle Lewis and family, Foxboro, spent a recent Sunday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Nobes.

Mr. Gordon Woods underwent tonsilectomy, last Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Gillie Sills and Mr. and Mrs. Keith Sills entertained their neighbors on Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred McDonnell were Sunday visitors at the Rhett home.

The Explorer group met at the home of Ronnie Hart on Friday night.

Some of the school children have been ill with influenza.

Demorestville

DEMORESTVILLE — Mr. and Mrs. Donald Potter were recent tea hour guests on Tuesday with Mr. and Mrs. Ross Johnson.

Mrs. Ken Walker, Mrs. Alex Williams, Mrs. Henry Sellans and Mrs. John Van Skiver spent Thursday in Belleville.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Longwell and Joan spent Saturday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Kinsley Gerow, Picton. Mr. and Mrs. Gerow have returned from a month's holiday in Florida.

Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Gordine.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Coralline were tea hour guests on Tuesday with Mr. and Mrs. Ross Johnson.

Mrs. Ken Walker, Mrs. Alex Williams, Mrs. Henry Sellans and Mrs. John Van Skiver spent Thursday in Belleville.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Longwell and Joan spent Saturday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Kinsley Gerow, Picton. Mr. and Mrs. Gerow have returned from a month's holiday in Florida.

DAY OF PRAYER

MADOC — The World Day of Prayer was observed at Madoc on Friday afternoon with service being held in Trinity United Church. A splendid representation of women attending from the churches in the village was present.

The service used was prepared by Rev. J. Lozada of Buenos Aires, Argentina, and the theme, "Abide In Me", John 15 - 4, was led - by Mrs. Albert Empey of Trinity United Church.

Those representing the various churches were: Mrs. Field Allan St., Peter's Presbyterian, Mrs. Wehnsmaker, Standard Church, Mrs. Earl Armstrong, Holiness Movement, Mrs. Glovetti of St. John's Anglican Church, who gave inspiring message on Brotherhood.

Mrs. Johnson, Pentecostal Church, sang "Teach Me To Pray". Others assisting were: Mrs. Oxley, Mrs. J., McMechan, Mrs. Blanche Trotter, Mrs. Howard, Miss Vankleek.

The hymn "The Day Thou Gavest" followed with benediction by Mrs. Empey brought to a close another World Day of Prayer which had encircled the globe.

FRATERNAL VISIT

A memorable evening was spent last Friday when Tweed Rebekah Lodge paid a fraternal visit to Oakdale Rebekah Lodge, and graciously initiated two candidates for the home lodge.

The meeting opened in form with Noble Grand Sis. Edith Keller presiding. Past N. G. Sis. Edith Hatch, introduced the D. Deputy president, Sis. Nina Embury, who was given a hearty welcome by members and visitors.

Under the direction of Sis. Blanch Countryman, Staff Captain of the Tweed Lodge Degree Team, the degree was conferred on the candidates in a most capable and efficient manner.

The soloist of the degree team Sis. Walters with her fine voice served to draw more closely this beautiful lectures of the ritual.

After the conferring of the degree, Sis. Nina Embury D.D.P. was called upon and congratulated the team on their efficiency and reminded the new members that regular attendance is the only way to reap full benefits of the Order; she herself being one of Oakdale's oldest members.

Other members congratulating the visiting team on their efficiency were: Past Grands Sisters Farrow, Tanner, Hill, Hatch, and N. Grand Edith Keller, and many more members passing along their congratulations.

Refreshments served - buffet style were colorful as well as tasty.

On behalf of the visitors, Sis. Alice Jeffrey N. G. of Tweed Lodge, moved a hearty vote thanks.

SIGNS OF SPRING

RYLSTONE — If March came in like a lion on Tuesday, it was a wet one. A man from around Millerville reported seeing a crow on Wednesday or Thursday, but this reporter saw no less than four in a flock on Tuesday of last week. During the mild, early days or three weeks ago, a lone crow was sighted at different times. Most winters crows are seen in this community every mild day, but this winter they have stayed in the shelter of the woods. Phoebes have been heard but as far nose has been seen. Mr. Fraser of Marmora is drilling a well for the Rylstone Cheese and Butter Company beside their factory.

Born — to Mr. and Mrs. Lindsay Finch, in Campbellford Memorial Hospital on Saturday night, a son.

GIRLS' CLUB

On Saturday, February 26th, the Girls' Club, "The Rylstone Merry Maids" and their leaders, Mrs. Arthur Brick and Mrs. Stanley Kerr, attended their Achievement Day in the Community Hall in Stirling. Seventeen girls started when the club was formed early in the fall last year, every one finished their projects. The club had the largest attendance, the nearest to it being 15 members. The girls have worked hard all winter to finish their projects, along with their school work. All heartily congratulate them, and their leaders, Mrs. Brick and Mrs. Kerr, to whom a lot of credit is due.

"Color for Your Personality" was studied and chosen early in the season. The girls have made a blouse and learned how to make worked buttonholes and all so prepared a "Wardrobe Chart." The girls are all under 15 years of age and this makes their work all the more commendable, as other clubs have several seniors among their members.

SUMMER PROJECT

The leaders expect to have at least ten girls for the summer project, "The Garden Club." This Thursday evening (March 3) the girls will entertain their mothers at a potluck supper in the Sunday School hall, of Zion United Church, Petherick's Corners.

The club girls who attended Achievement Day were: Carolyn and Martha Wright, Gail Southworth, Miriam Rutherford, Betty Anderson, Isobel Finch, Beverley Linn, Enid Petherick, Beverley and Patsy Burkitt, Carol Milne, Earline and Donalda Kerr, Persis Reid, Marian and Shirley Wilson and Joan Watson.

Dennis and Jimmie Finch are spending a few days with their aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Melville Finch at Springbrook.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Finch and Wesley motored to Dundonald on Wednesday when they visited with Mr. and Mrs. Archie Samuel.

Mrs. Mabel Andrews is confined to bed at the home of her son, Hubert.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Heath, Carol and Don, also Mr. and Mrs. Walt Reid and Geordie were Sunday dinner guests with Mrs. Ruth Thompson in Campbellford.

MARMORA

Bantams Beaten By Bracebridge

MARMORA— Bracebridge Bantams defeated Marmora Bantams 5-3 in the O.M.H.A. semi-finals here on Tuesday evening. It being the first of home-and-home games with goals counting. The return game will be at Bracebridge on Saturday. Bracebridge opened the scoring at 3.45, the honor falling to Hamilton, Paterson added the second half a minute later and Crawford assisted by Lee also got through with only a half minute between the two goals. Lee scored unassisted shortly afterward and helped Crawford with the latter's second goal which ended the scoring for that period. Marmora improved in the next frame and all that their opponents could do was to score once through Paterson. At the other end Crozier, the visiting goalie who was in top form had a lot of stiff shots to cope with. Twice he gave chances which the boomerang failed to utilize. In the third Crawford added two unassisted to be top scorer with four goals and Lee got another to make his total two. There were six penalties evenly divided between the teams.

The attendance numbered approximately two hundred.

Teams:

Bracebridge — goal, R. Crozier; defence, Taverner, Reid; centre, Crawford; wings, Golding, Lee; alternates: Paterson, Macdonald, Hamilton, Kennedy, Beatty...Goltz Anderson, Dickie; spare goalie, N. Crozier.

Marmora — goal, Moloney; defence, Osborne, Bedore; centre, McKenzie; wings, Lavender, G. Holland; alternates, Shannon, Wright, Bateman, W. Holland, Olsen, Brooks, Doyle, Callery; spare goalie, Morrow.

Referees: W. Post, W. Muiholland.

NEW 1955 MERCURY

bigger all over—in size, in power, in value

Now in 3 series, 10 models; the daringly low Montclair, the beautiful Monterey, the budget-minded Custom.

New 188- and 198-horsepower Super-Torque Overhead-Valve V-8 Engines—the last word in high compression power.

For 1955, Mercury makes the boldest move ahead in the automotive industry—introduces an entirely new, out-of-the-future car that looks and goes like 1960.

This year is an all-new-car year for Mercury—new bodies, new styling, new chassis, new engines, new models, new performance!

For example, Mercury's bigger—in length, width, and wheelbase. It's lower—only 58½ inches high in some models. It's more powerful. 188 horsepower in the Custom and Monterey lines; 198 horsepower in the entirely new, ultra-smart Montclair Series.

Here's super-compression, dual-exhaust performance you've never experienced before. For Mercury gives you instant acceleration in every speed range—from a standing start to highway speed limits. You pass other cars when you need to in a few safe seconds . . . enjoy split-second response in traffic . . . make molehills out of mountains—with effortless SUPER-TORQUE power.

The news is almost endless, for in 1955 you get the most Mercury ever packed into one car. New tubeless tires at no extra cost. A new Full-Scope windshield. Improved ball-joint front suspension to assure a more comfortable, smoother-than-ever ride. New, optional Merc-O-Matic Drive with faster get-away acceleration at your command. And much, much more . . .

Most important, there's a wider range of series and models to choose from—the new, ultra-smart Montclair series, the popular Monterey series, and the economy-minded Custom series.

Stop by at your Mercury dealer's. See the big, beautiful '55 Mercury for yourself, and get all the news firsthand!

CHIPS OFF THE SPORTS BLOCK

By Geo. H. Carver, Sports Editor

WHAT A DANDY . . .

Don't let anyone tell you the Memos, to use an ancient sports clinche, "got a bad one off their chests" down Cornwall way last night. It couldn't have been anything else for the Cornwall Colts, powerful league leaders they are, are not ten goals better than the Memos or any other team in the group as far as that goes.

It makes no difference. The Memos absorbed the worst shellacking of the season and they picked a helluva time to take it. They were as much like the team that blanked the Colts on two occasions during schedule play as Man O' War was like Alley Sloper's donkey. In fact the mule did "git someplace."

But as city editor Claude Tice, who covered the game, writes: "They'll have to pull up their socks" if they want to match this series. The chips are down and Cornwall gave ample evidence of being a "money" club in their spotless performance against the Quinteenial Memos last night. True, big Vern Goyer was unable to make the trip but that is no excuse. The Memos never have been a one-man club. One of the traits is that they are consistent. When one man "goofs" the whole team goes with him—and the same in reverse.

But that is water under the bridge. Tomorrow night is another night and another game. The Colts have tasted first victory blood but they won't find it as easy tomorrow night as they found it in their own corral last night—we hope. But they're riding high and the Memos will have to produce the best hockey in their systems, individually and collectively if they want to square the series.

The squads go back at it again on Sunday in Cornwall, where they meet in an afternoon game starting 2.30. The management is arranging for a special train and $90, including the team is necessary. Potential travellers are requested to get in touch with secretary Dewey Bronsdon at the office or manager Brew Smith at the Uptown Tire for tickets. The tab is $6.65 and that includes your ticket. Better do it right away.

BADMINTON TOURNAMENT

Our shuttle-cock shooting members of the staff, who get snooty at times and call it "battledore," are, with other members of the badminton selects of the city, readying themselves for the Central Ontario championships scheduled for the Bridge St. Armouries this coming Friday and Saturday.

It seems like four or five years ago when the titular contests were held here and we, covering the affair, got a tremendous thrill out of the play of the district "racqueteers" and sat goggle-eyed at the court gestures of ons Don Smythe, Canadian singles champion, when other badminton luminaries were guests of the Garrison Club.

Badminton sort of passed out of the sports picture for a couple of years when, thanks to people like John MacDonald, Lennox Smith and a few others, it was given rebirth. Play was resumed this season in the Bridge St. armouries and it looks at though the game is in for a resurgence hereabouts.

In any event some 200 players from Belleville, Picton, Oshawa, Cobourg, Bowmanville, Trenton, Peterborough, Six Repair Depot RCAF, Trenton and other district centres will be on hand tomorrow night when the tournament gets under way, starting at 7 p.m. Championships will be decided Saturday evening beginning at 7.30. There is no admission charge to the general public.

The handsome new Corby Distillery trophy will go to the winning club, while other trophies will be presented to the winners of the ladies' and men's singles; ladies' and men's doubles and mixed doubles. A trophy will be given to the winning mixed "doubles" sketch which was arranged for players over 40 years of age. Prizes will be given to runners-up and consolation prizes will be awarded.

The Belleville Garrison Badminton Club, which is sponsoring the tournament, has planned a reception for visiting players at the conclusion of the championships Saturday night in the Hastings and Prince Edward Regiment's officers' mess. Tournament manager Lennox Smith, President John MacDonald and their committees have done a lot of hard work to make the tournament a success.

Jackie LeClair Paces Habs With Two Sparkling Goals; Ferguson Gets Bruins' Winner

By The Canadian Press

Boston Bruins are back in the Stanley Cup playoffs for another crack at big-league hockey's most prized award. The odds, again say they won't win it.

Bruins gained a fourth - place berth in the National Hockey League playoffs Wednesday night with a 3-1 victory over the fifth-place Rangers at New York's Madison Square Garden.

It was the 15th time in the last 17 years the Beantowners landed among the top four spots in the circuit. But in that time they have won only two Stanley Cups.

Nobody figured Bruins would be kicked out of the playoff race by Rangers or Chicago Black Hawks, so it wasn't surprising when they came up with their 21st victory of the season.

RANGERS MISS AGAIN

Lethargic Lorne Ferguson scored what turned out to be the winning goal at 4:25 of the second period. Rangers came back to make it 2-1 in the last session but that's as far as they could go. It was the fifth straight year the Blueshirts have missed Stanley Cup games.

In the only other game Wednesday night, Montreal Canadiens, fighting to dethrone Detroit Red Wings as NHL champions, beat the third-spot Maple Leafs 3-2 before 14,122 fans at Toronto.

Conny Jackie LeClair paced the Montrealers to their 37th win of the 1934-35 campaign with two goals. Leftwinger Dickie Moore got the other one. The Toronto markers went to lefthinger Sid Smith, his 30th of the season, and defenceman Jim Morrison.

At New York, Bruins lost no time in taking the lead. Gus Bodnar sent them ahead 1-0 at the two-minute mark of the first period on a play with Fleming Mackell and Ferguson upped the count to 2-0 in the second when he whipped the puck past goalender Lorne Worsley.

Rangers made it close when Andy Bathgate scuttled the shutout hopes of netminder Sugar Jim Henry at 6:42 of the third period.

The victory gave Boston a total of 62 points, four behind Leafs. Bruins have eight games left in the schedule—one more than Leafs —and could catch Toronto before it's all over.

Maurice Richard was also a key figure in the Montreal win. He counted three assists to take over the league's individual scoring leadership with 89 points. Teammate Jean Beliveau has 65.

The victory sent Canadiens four points ahead of the Wings and the Habs still have a game in hand.

Don Smythe On Way To Fourth Title

By Shirley Morris
Canadian Press Staff Writer

MONTREAL (CP)—Don Smythe of Toronto, bidding for a record of four straight Canadian singles titles, meets Bert Fergus of Vancouver today after an easy advance into the quarter-finals of the Canadian badminton championships.

Smythe drew a bye in the first round, then whipped Ron Everett of Montreal 15-1, 15-2, and John Rankin of Edmonton 15-4, 15-6.

The top-seeded player's first strong opposition is expected to come Friday night against Dave McGregor of Vancouver.

Along with the other seeded players, McTaggart drew a bye in the first round, then defeated Nadeau Pepineau of St. Johns, Que., 15-0, 15-8, to move into the quarter-finals with 15-3, 15-8 wins over Bill Parkes of Woodstock, Ont.

HURT BY GLASS

Ralph Brown of Saint John, N.B., dropped out of the tournament when he was cut by flying glass after John Snyder of Montreal plugged through a glass partition separating the spectators' benches from the courts.

Joan Warren of Toronto, who entered the women's singles to limber up for the doubles—her forte—scored the only points win she defeated Vida Large of Halifax, five times Maritimes champion, 11-3, 11-3.

Defending Canadian titleholder, Mari Shedd of Toronto, had an easy 11-2, 11-1 win over Helen Simpson of Montreal to advance to the quarter finals.

Officials of the Canadian Badminton Association are watching the men's doubles to pick three more members for the Thomas Cup team which will represent United States next week in Winnipeg.

DOUBLES WINS

Top-seeded Smythe, already a member of the Thomas Cup team, paired with Bill Purcell of Toronto to move into the quarter finals with a 15-2, 15-3 win over Ray Mullin and Norm Stanhope of Montreal.

Third-seeded Bunny Brewster of Woodstock, Ont., and George Thorpe of Toronto had an easy over two Montreal teams. They defeated Jack Corber and Lou Goldblatt 15-4 and 15-4, and Louis Mariano and Dollar Bonhomme, 15-4; 15-7.

In women's doubles, first round, Ann Kennedy and Claude Lamure, Montreal, defeated Jean Moody, Winnipeg, and Helen Wake, Woodstock, Ont., 15-5, 11-5.

Audrey Hepworth and Audrey Rhodes, Woodstock, defeated Edna Fitzpatrick and Doreen Clapperton, 1-7, 15-5.

In mixed doubles, second round, Louise Marshall and Claude Tetrault, Montreal, defeated Audrey Hepworth and Jim Rhodes, Woodstock, Ont., 9-15, 15-12, 15-12.

Kitchener Dutchies Eliminate Mercs, Windsor Takes Lead Over Stratford

By The Canadian Press

Owen Sound Mercurys, Ontario Hockey Association Senior A championships last year, have hung up their skates for this season without reaching the league finals.

The Mercurys were eliminated from the OHA Senior A semi-finals Wednesday night when they were walloped 9-1 by Kitchener-Waterloo Dutchmen. The victory gave Kitchener, Allan Cup champions in 1953, the best-of-seven semi-finals 4-1.

Kitchener will meet either Windsor Bulldogs or Stratford Indians in the finals. Windsor leads its best-of-seven semi-finals with Bulldogs 3-2.

The Bulldogs chalked up two victories in Windsor Wednesday night to take the lead in the series. In a full-time game they defeated Stratford 7-4 after bulging out for a 5-3 victory in a game that was halted by curfew in Windsor last Sunday. Windsor was leading 5-1 when the Sunday game was called.

COUNTS THREE GOALS

Jack McKenzie led Kitchener's rout of the Mercurys with three goals. Jim Logan added a pair and Ken Laufman, Buddy Horne, Jerry Roberge and Bud Kemp scored one each. Gerry Reid tallied Owen Sound's only goal.

Jim Peters, who counted twice and assisted on another two goals, was Kitchener's most outstanding man against the Indians. Gord Haidy scored one goal and five assists. Other members of the Bulldogs were Reg Abbott, Chuck Henderson, Frank Babagan and Murray Wilkie.

Lou Bendo fired two for Stratford in the losing cause and George Allen getting the others.

Sixth game of the series will be in Stratford Friday.

Mustangs Get First Place Tie

TORONTO (CP)—University of Western Ontario Mustangs assured themselves of at least a first-place tie in the Senior Intercollegiate Basketball League by defeating University of Toronto Blues 35-31 Wednesday night. Mustangs led 23-20 at the half.

The win gave Western a tie for top spot with Queen's University which has completed its schedule, having won seven and lost three games for 14 points. Western has seven wins and one loss.

A win in either of Western's two remaining games with Windsor Assumption College will clinch the championship for Mustangs.

Roy Monnot and Chris Ellis each scored 11 points for Mustangs. High scorer for Toronto was Al Valchulis with 14 points.

'Y' Basketball

The second round of the semi-finals in YMCA House League Basketball was played last night in the YMCA gymnasium.

The Spectators carried a 16 point lead into last night's game. They added three points to this total to win the round by 17 points.

Ted Batchelor led the scoring with 41 points for the winners. Bill Dickey scored 28 points to top the scoring for the White Kids. Final score 61-58 for the Spectators.

Next week Don Buck's Speedsters take on George Parkhurst's Pirates in the first game of a two game total points, to count series for the title.

Cornwall Colts Trounce Memos 10-0 In Senior B Semi-Finals Opener

Colts Had Too Much Power In Worst Defeat of Season; Kingston Whips Whitby 6-3

By C. D. T.

The Memos will have to pull up their socks if they wish to continue in the race for the Senior "B" group title.

Last night at Cornwall they looked nothing like the team that gave every other team a battle down to the wire in a 10-0 shellacking by the Colts in the first game of a four-out-of-seven semi-final series. In Kingston the Goodies handed the Whitby Dunlops a 6-3 overtime defeat in the other semi-final series. On Friday night Cornwall is in the Quinte City for the second game while Kingston travels to Whitby for their second tilt.

The Cornwall squad showed too much savvy, too much power and too much everything in handing the Memos the worst defeat they have suffered this year. The locals never untreated themselves from the first whistle, except for a couple of flurries in the opening stanza and the first few minutes of the third frame, although Cornwall scored a quick goal. The defence was not hitting, the lines were not back-checking and worst of all the team as a whole was not skating. There was a juggling of lines when Vern Goyer did not make the trip and this did not help the team in any way.

The Colts came up with a pleasing passing display as practically every man on the squad had a hand in the scoring. Although the defence was limited to three in the first period as Bingley did not arrive from Toronto early enough to start, it was sound and had little difficulty in stopping the thrusts of the Memos when they did occur. The front lines worked as if they owned the joint and the 1,300 odd in attendance were given a pleasing display of passing the rubber where it would do the most good. The whole team was shooting at the target and Parisl in the nets for the Memos had a busy evening with little help from his teammates. Despite the ten goals that were scored against him, it could have been twice that number if he had not been on when smothered with terrific drives from all angles.

The type of hockey played was entirely different than that seen during the season's play. Both teams opened cautiously and close checking was the result. Although the Colts only scored one goal in the first frame, it was due in a large measure by the fine work of Parisl in the twine. In the second frame the roof fell in, when the Colts rammed home four counters without a reply. In the final stanza it was almost unbearable as the Colts took full command after the first couple of minutes and plastered the hemp five times with two of them being of the talated variety.

The return of Julien, to the lineup after his injury in the early part of the season was a great help. He was a busy workman although he only garnered a goal and an assist. Connelly rapped home a goal and had three assists and Moe Morard, who finished second in the scoring race had a big night with five points, two of them being counters. "Pops" O'Brien had a goal and two assists, while Bingley, the rangy defenceman rapped home two tallies and Batten put the other goal to make it ten. Batten also had an assist along with Henri, Belmore and Morris.

BEST PLAY OF NIGHT

The best play of the night was the bodycheck handed out by Wilson to Belmore. The Cornwall player started coming in with his head down and he was "Dead". Mr. Belmore had to receive first aid from the trainer before he could make his way to the bench. The game was exceptionally clean for a playoff till with only eight minors being handed out with the Memos collecting five. This Cornwall club are quite some pumpkins on their home ice but not so fearsome when they travel. Certainly the Memos got a bad game out of their systems and can easily even the series here on Friday night if they play the kind of hockey they are capable of playing.

Picking the three stars for the Memos would be a tough job but Parisl, Wilson and Doran gave it a good try with Wade and the Duncan twins being close behind. Piquette in the winner's net was brilliant at times and on a couple of sharp drives was pure lucky, that he got near them. The clearing by the Memos was not all that could be desired while the Colts always had a man winging when the rubber came out from their end. Percy Shore and Johnny McAvoy of Ottawa handled an excellent game. There were a couple of flareups but no penalties were handed out, It was not a pink tea party by any means and here's hoping that the Memos come up with one of their good games on Friday night and if they do, they have the ability to take the down east crew into camp.

Canada May Get Real Hockey 'Pens' Meet Swedes Today

By ARCH McKENZIE

Canadian Press Staff Writer

KREFELD, Germany (CP)—Penticton Vs may get some of the "real hockey" they have been asking for when they meet Sweden tonight.

The members of Canada's entry in the world hockey tournament received little satisfaction from their easy games against Switzerland, Finland, Poland and the United States in the round-robin contest. Only the Czechs put up a battle.

Penticton needs another strong game to sharpen up for its climactic battle with Russia Sunday. The Soviets have been idle the other strong teams and figure to enter the final day undefeated.

The Canadians are heavy favorites over the Swedes. A weaker Canadian club defeated Sweden 8-0 last March in Stockholm. After Sweden, the Canadians take on Germany and in all probability they will face the Russians with the game scheduled 7-0 record.

ONLY 10 MINUTES

"We've only had about 10 minutes of real hockey in the tournament so far," commented Bill Warwick after he and his two brothers and Jimmy Fairburn accounted eight goals in the lopsided 11-1 victory over Switzerland Wednesday night.

The Czechs shut out Germany 8-0 and Sweden defeated Finland 9-0 in other games Wednesday. Poland had a bye.

The Vs, fresh from a day's rest, were handily pressed in winning their fifth in a row.

Bill and Dick Warwick each scored two goals and brother Grant one. Jimmy gave the high-powered combination a total of 19 goals for the tournament, more than one-third of the Vs' total output of 48.

(Morris, Payette)	6.04
Cornwall—Batten (Savard)	8.48
Cornwall—Savard (Connelly, Batten)	9.25
Cornwall—Bingley (Savard)	14.52

Penalties — Henri (high sticking) 3.23, Batten (interference) 10.15, Muckler (kneeing) 12.40, Doran (tripping) 16.18.

However, Fairburn was the big gun Wednesday night with his three goals. Doug Kilburn, Jack McAvoy and Jack McIntyre scored the others.

The Swiss rarely were able to get out of their own territory. Hans Schlepfer scored their goal midway in the first period, beating goalie Ivan McLelland cleanly. The steady Canadian netminder had gone 145 minutes and 53 seconds without allowing a goal.

American coach Al Yourkewicz, whose club has played both the Canadians and Russians, predicted Wednesday night that Canada will beat Russia 4-1.

The Americans lost to Canada last Friday night 13-1 and to Russia Wednesday night 3-0.

Yourkewicz advised the Canadians to "play strong, vigorous hockey" against the Russians and not be afraid of bodychecking.

"The Russians want no part of that rough stuff and you can back them off real easy," the U.S. coach told the Canadians. He said this is especially true of Vsevotod Bobrov, the Russian captain and star.

But he cautioned the Canadians "to stay out of the penalty box and keep all the players on the ice."

The American pointed to the fact that the Russians scored their first "and probably decisive" goal against the United States while two Americans were off for boarding.

"I screamed and hollered at one of the Swedish referees and he admitted he made a mistake in penalizing our boys," Yourkewicz said.

But Yourkewicz and team manager Al Blatchein both readily admitted that the Russians had the better team.

Americans, normal playoff idiosyncrasies, have broken out among the Canadians. Dick Warwick confessed:

"I haven't changed my shorts since the first game and I won't until we play Russia."

Claudette Colbert Prefers Live TV to Filmed Variety

By WAYNE OLIVER

NEW YORK (AP)—Unlike many movie queens, Claudette Colbert prefers live television to the filmed variety.

A number of Hollywood's feminine stars have shunned the live camera because it is less flattering than the film camera with its special lenses and soft lights. But Miss Colbert, who began her acting career on the Broadway stage in 1925 and made her film debut in 1929, says:

"Photographically, film is the same way. I wrestled with myself and decided on live television. I decided if people had seen me so long as they had and knew my face as well as they do, and I didn't show up the way they'd expected on live TV they'd say, 'maybe she's not well photographed this time.'

"And it's much more fun doing a live show on television because it's like doing a stage play.

"I love the feeling of the theatre about it. I've been in pictures a long time and I adore them, but I've missed the feeling of a live performance."

LITTLE TO FEAR

Miss Colbert, at 49, has less to fear from live cameras than many actresses years younger. Her appearance has changed little since 1934 when she won an Academy Award for her role in "It Happened One Night."

Her performance with Franchot Tone on CBS-TV's Best of Broadway production of "The Guardsman" Wednesday night was her second starring role in a live TV drama. She may do three more before the season is over. Her next will be in the Climax production of "Private World" April 7.

Miss Colbert was born in Paris but spent her early years in New York. Her's is no Cinderella story of the struggling young actress. It was only two years from her first big part on the stage to Broadway stardom and then the movies.

"I've always thought my great break was that my home was in New York," she says. "There was no urgency if I didn't get a particular part at a particular time."

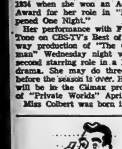
In contrast, many young actors and actresses who come to New York find it difficult to make ends meet and to stick it out if they don't land a role fairly early.

Jackie Gleason will be on vacation from his TV show March 12 and March 19. Tommy and Jimmy Dorsey will substitute with their stage show, with Kate Smith as guest star March 12.

Detroit Calls Hamilton Junior

HAMILTON (CP)—Detroit Red Wings Wednesday called up defenceman Larry Hillman of Hamilton Tiger-Cubs for a three-game trial in the National Hockey League.

Hillman, a 172-pound, six-foot rearguard with Cubs in the Ontario Hockey Association junior series, will work out with the Wings until the regular NHL schedule ends March 20.



A native of Kirkland Lake, Hillman turned 18 last month and has played three years in the junior A series. He was named the Jack Adams Trophy last week as Cubs' best defenceman.

The Cubs, a junior farm club, were knocked out of the OHA playoffs Tuesday night by Guelph Biltmores.

MONTREAL BOXER WINS

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Gus Rubicind, tough Montreal middleweight, ran his string of consecutive ring victories to 10 Wednesday night by winning a split decision over Pedro Gonzales of Rankin, Pa., in a rough 10-round battle at Miami Stadium.

Rubicind weighed 156½, Gonzales 162¼.

Trent Valley Hockey League

Three second period goals highlighted an uphill battle for the Point Anne Cementmen as they overcame a 5-2 deficit to edge the Trenton Admirals 7-6 in the first game of a best-of-seven southern Section TVL finals last night. The second game is scheduled for the Marmora arena on Saturday night.

The Admirals flashed plenty of scoring power in the first period when they fired three goals in less than two minutes to lead 3-1 after seven minutes of play. The Pointers came back with one before Trenton notched another pair to grab a 3-2 margin. Just a couple of late period, goals cut the lead to 5-4 as the session ended. The Anderson-Williams crew, led by Gerry Goyer, notched the only three goals of the second period, but were chased to the wire as Jim Trapped Burke on a single marker in the final frame and both teams missed chance after chance for the win.

The game was very clean with only three minor penalties, all coming in the third period.

Gerry Goyer once more sparked the winners to victory with four goals, while Pat Gilmour picked up two goals and an assist. Leo Goyer had a trio of assists, Duke Doran one and one and Tim Williams two helpers. Beale netted a pair of Trenton markers and one assist. Jones got a goal and two assists, Austin Scott and Graham one and one, while P. Scott also scored.

It was Gerry Goyer's quick backhander at :47 seconds that gave Point Anne a short-lived lead, but Beale, Jones and Beale again scored at 3.33, 5.38 and 6.40, against a disorganized defence.

Gilmour tipped in Doran's goalmouth pass at 7.10 but Graham blasted a long shot a few seconds later to make it 4 all. P. Scott from Graham and Reeves tallied Trenton's fifth goal before Goyer got his second tally at 17.00. Doran closed the scoring for the period at 17.57 on passes from Gilmour and Hurst.

Gerry clicked for the tying and leading goals in the second period as the first coming at 8.42 when he scored passes from Leo and Tim by Hill and his fourth marker was a long, screened drive to make it 6-5. Pat Gilmour recorded a beauty at 13.19, cutting across Hill's doorstep and flipping Jack Stewart's rebound into the net.

Both teams used the ganging attack from the opening minute of the third period and kept Bales and Hill plenty busy as well as missing wide open corners on more than one occasion. Austin Scott teamed with Beale and Jones to make it 7-6 at 2.47 but the nets were clear for the rest of the evening as Gerry Goyer missed adding to his total by the slightest of margins when twice he dyked the goalie right in front only to have his shot bounce off a post.

Bobby Hunter was assessed the initial penalty at 16.41 for tripping while A. Scott and Hillard went off together for roughing at 18.26.

The teams—

Trenton — Hill, Beale, Jones, Leavrey, F. Scott, J. Scott, A. Scott, Schmidt, Graham, Isted, Reeves, Campeau.

Pt. Anne — Bates, Hurst, Semark, G. Goyer, L. Goyer, Williams, Strahan, Gilmour, Hunter, Stewart, Doran.

The referee: Don Barrett and Bill Holway.

Ann Sothern President of New Company to Package an Act

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Last week readers of a Hollywood trade paper saw this ad:

"The perfect package . . . direction, staging, choreography, musical material, arrangements, costume design . . . for the first time in the history of show business, experts in all fields of entertainment are available to package your act for night clubs, TV or theatre . . . Vincent Productions, 242 N. Canon Dr., Beverly Hills . . . Ann Sothern, president."

Ann Sothern, president? Our Maisie? Did the girl rise to rise above the rank of "private secretary," such a she plays on TV? I dropped by her house to find out.

She was keeping very unbusinesslike hours for a corporation president. Here it was 11 o'clock and she was just getting up. But I must say she was the prettiest corporation president I've seen.

BUSY GIRL

She wore a fancy robe with gold designs. I've got to have some dresses fitted for the TV show this morning," she explained. Busy girl, this. She plumped down in a chair and told me how Vincent Productions got started.

"I thought about it when I did my night club act last summer," she explained. "I had some fabulous offers and I wanted to do it right. But I didn't know how to get things done. I had to arrange for everything myself — choreography, material, etc.

"The whole thing was a tremendous amount of work and ended up costing me $40,000. Even though I did get a business in places like Reno, Las Vegas and Chicago, I still didn't break even. I'll get it back this year because the initial cost has been paid.

"I got to thinking that a lot of stars were going through the same thing. They simply don't know where to start when they have to make up an act. So why not have an agency that does it for everything for them?

That was the start of Vincent Productions. Now we have the top creators in the field available to us. We can work up entire acts for stars for much less money and trouble than they could do it themselves."

So far the firm has had several prospective customers, largely unknowns. However the organization is aiming at package deals for established stars.

And in case you were wondering, Vincent was the Vincent in Vincent Productions—that's Ann's patron saint, and she has reason to be grateful to him.

OUTDRAWS BASEBALL

NEW YORK (AP)—Horse racing set an all-time attendance record, topping the 50,000,000 mark for the first time in 1954 according to a survey just completed by the publishers of The Morning Telegraph and Daily Racing Form.

With a total attendance of 50,-008,584 at running and harness races, the horses outdrew professional baseball, the No. 2 sport in the survey by nearly 12,000,000. The totals were 31,335,798 attendance for 1,280 days of thoroughbred racing in 25 states and 19,052,-786 for harness racing.

Eastman Beats Tarlton For Curling Title

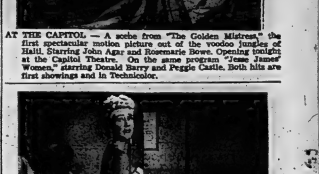
HAMILTON (CP) — Defending champion Ivan Eastman of Hamilton Thistle curling won two honors in the Ontario Seniors' curling championships by defeating A. R. (Russ) Tarlton of the Hamilton Thistle Club.

Eastman, representing the Thistle Club, showed a distinct edge in downing clubmate Tarlton who led the Ontario representatives in the Canadian championships last year.

Winners of the secondary event, the Hudson-Ross Trophy, were Dr. A. E. Wayland and his Hamilton Victorias who defeated Rev. R.T. Young of Brantford 11-8.

Nick Burnet of Detroit won the third event, the Doolittle Memorial Trophy, by defeating C. D. Watson of Chicago 10-2.

The bonspiel ended Wednesday with presentation of awards.



THEATRE FEATURE TIMES

AT THE BELLE — "The Black Widow"—Ginger Rogers, Van Heflin, Gene Tierney, George Raft — 2:00, 7:00, 9:10

AT THE CAPITOL — All Technicolor Show — "The Golden Mistress" — John Agar, Rosemarie Bowe — 1:15, 10:15 — "Jesse James' Women" — Peggy Castle, Donald Barry — 3:45, 8:45

AT THE McCARTY — "Sitting Bull" — Cinemascope and Color — Dale Robertson, Mary Murphy — 2:25-7:25-9:35.

AT THE CAPITOL — A scene from "The Golden Mistress," the first spectacular motion picture out of the voodoo jungles of Haiti. Starring John Agar and Rosemarie Bowe. Opening tonight at the Capitol Theatre. On the same program "Jesse James' Women," starring Donald Barry and Peggy Castle. Both hits are first showings and in Technicolor.

AT THE BELLE — Ginger Rogers proves that there is little change in her slim appearance since her early musicals. She is appearing today at the Belle Theatre in this year's top romantic mystery "Black Widow" in CinemaScope. Other stars in the attraction include Van Heflin, Gene Tierney and George Raft.

Your Horoscope

By FRANCES DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

FOR FRIDAY, MARCH 4, 1955

March 21 to April 20 (Aries) — Necessary tasks and urgent duties are strongly sponsored now. Frivolity and indulgence in pleasures are taboo, however. Be tactful.

April 21 to May 20 (Taurus) — Work difficult matters can be made more pleasant and will bring greater satisfaction if you offer all to God as prayer.

May 21 to June 21 (Gemini) — You can have a fruitful and constructive day if you temper enthusiasm with common sense; then judgment and wisdom will be sounder, clearer. Don't start too many tasks at once.

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer) — A difficult day is not indicated but there may be some irritating conditions. (Mars and Moon aspects. All can be smoothed somewhat, by your attitude, gracious management. Sound plans serve.

July 24 to August 23 (Leo) — Stimulating period favoring quick thinking, smart procedures, new methods, keen salesmanship. All in Leo's liking and talents. Aim to finish matters and tasks awaiting completion.

August 24 to September 24 (Virgo) — You may have to curtail some desires in favor of executive achievement, expansion or other plans but day on the whole finds you getting things done and planning for action next week and later.

September 24 to October 23 (Libra) — Head advice in Taurus, please. Your special work and schedule are under benefic aspects in general, But you must be ambitious, have system to get the most from your efforts.

October 24 to November 22 (Scorpio) — Among the activities that can prosper this invigorating day are essential building, railing, handling metals, machinery, tools, chemicals. Surgeons, dentists, skilled mechanics are also under fine rays.

November 23 to December 22 (Sagittarius) — Artistry, finesse, thoroughness will count strongly in your favor now. No matter what your particular duties (if honest), they should improve, bring sound returns.

December 23 to January 21 — (Capricorn) — Have high hopes and work toward rewarding goals. There is a great deal in your favor but don't overdo. Try to finish incompleted tasks and be better prepared for next week.

January 22 to February 20 — (Aquarius) — If you have a full, don't let it stump you. In fact, it should enthuse you for you can make new and valuable contacts and progress with your special interests.

February 21 to March 20 — (Pisces) — Scientific work, the artistic, professions, trades, industry hold new promise. It's really up to the individual—but each of you allocate time, duties. Have faith in yourself; go forward.

YOU BORN TODAY have a likeable personality; are, by nature, gentle, gracious in manner, thoughtful of the young and old; are more talented and capable than you realize. Guard against being indecisive at times; take that bull by the horns when your intuition tells you you are right. Improve your general knowledge by reading, observing accurately and heeding advice of those qualified to give it. Pray when troubled and never lose faith in God and yourself. Treat health sensibly, get sufficient rest and recreation. Birthdate: Sir Henry Raeburn, Scottish portrait painter; Count Casimir Pulaski, famed Polish gen'l in U.S. Revolution.

Little Benny's Notebook

I ran home to be in time for dinner, which I just exactly was, and I said, Aw heck, is this what I did all that hurrying for? Good night, fish, baby mackerel, I said.

It's not hoity mackerel and I'll thank you to eat it without any editorial remarks, ma said. There are people in the world who would consider themselves mitey lucky to have it, she said, and I said, I wish one of them was sitting in my place.

That's very charitable of you, pop said. It would be more to the point if you imagined you were one of those people yourself, he said, and ma said, That's right, imagination covers a multitude of sins. Just tell yourself you're eating the most wonderful combinations you can think of, she said.

Sounding like a good idea to try, and I tainted the fish, saying, Oh boy, a fat pretzel dripping with mustard.

Goodness, ma said, and I said, Well what's a more wonderful combination than that, ma?

Never mind eat your fish, ma said.

Which I kept on doing, saying, Jimminies, this is great, 7 different flavors of ice cream all melted and running into each other like a swell new kind of soup.

Yee gods, pop said, and I said, Well heck, pop, that's a swell combination. I bet I can even think of the 7 flavors, I said.

Dont strane yourself, pop said, and I said, Anyways, pop, I bet I can think of even swellier combinations than that.

Then think them to yourself, pop said, and I said, Aw heck, it wouldn't be any fun if I didn't think out loud.

FLY COLT TO RACE

ARCADIA, Calif. (AP) — Ireland's flying turf traveler, Sir Arcilla Cosgrove, completed a 5,000 mile air journey from Eire to Arcadia for Saturday's $150,000 added San Juan Capistrano Handicap at Santa Anita. His owner Paddy McGrath, has termed the flight an experiment to find out how well a horse can travel when flown so far the week of a race.

Hockey Fever Grips Penticton

PENTICTON (CP) — Hockey fever—generated by remote control—is gripping this Okanagan city.

With their favorite sons, Penticton Vs, 2,000 miles away at the world hockey championships, all ears are next to the radio.

Virtually every set in town is tuned in all day—to catch scoring flashes, summaries and commentaries.

Tuesday night the city sat up until 1 a.m. listening to a play-by-play broadcast of the game played Saturday.

Penticton station KOK sportscaster Dave Roegele, in Germany with the team, did the broadcast. The tape was flown to Vancouver and transmitted to Penticton by the CBC.

Everywhere you go, the topic is the same. The biggest crowds gather at the Commodore Cafe, owned by the three Warwick brothers.

Every letter and postcard the players write to wives, families and friends is soon passed all around the city by word of mouth.

Goldham Night In Detroit

DETROIT (P)—Bob Goldham, star defenceman with the Detroit Red Wings, will be honored at a special ceremony before tonight's National Hockey League game against Chicago Black Hawks.

The veteran defenceman will be presented with a new station wagon from the fans, a silver tea service from his teammates and "something special" from a group of fans in Toronto.

Goldham said, however, there is one unscheduled present he'd like to pick up—a goal. He is the only regular player on the Red Wings who has failed to score this season against the Black Hawks.

Negro Unknown Hands La Starza Smashing Defeat

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Julio Mederos, an unheralded Cuban Negro who had flunked his two previous tests against American "name" fighters, moved strongly into the heavyweight picture today after a smashing knockout victory over Roland La Starza.

The powerful Mederos gave La Starza, once a top-ranking title contender, the worst beating of his career before knocking the New Yorker unconscious with a booming right to the jaw in the fifth round of a scheduled 10-rounder Wednesday night at Miami Stadium.

It was a sensational win for Mederos, a 4-1 underdog who had been outpointed by Bob Satterfield of Chicago and Harold Johnson of Philadelphia in his only two earlier fights with well-known opponents. Otherwise, he has campaigned mostly in Cuba.

Jimmy White, Miami matchmaker, said there was a possibility that Mederos will be rewarded for his victory with an April fight in Cincinnati against Ernzo Charles.

Stomach Out Of Order Long Time: Felt Tired, Rundown

Got Awful Gas, Indigestion, Heartburn, Bad Backache. Tells of Relief She Got by Taking Synilora.

"I have been troubled with stomach disorders for a long time and my entire system became run-down," said Mrs. Ada L. Edwards, 23 Eastman Avenue, London, Ontario, in a recent report.

Often Couldn't Eat

"Actually I was often afraid to eat my meals because of all the trouble I had with indigestion. Gas and cramps and heartburn afterwards. I was so nervous, tense and irritable I couldn't get any sleep nights. I couldn't eat my favorite foods and I felt tired and run down from one end of the day to the other.

How It Acts

Synilora is made principally from Garlic and Roots. It acts within to relieve gas, clear out poisons, purify the bowels and sour acid refluxes. As the name Synilora helps tone up nervous digestion, helps loosen up nervous, down feeling, nervousness and those bowels move easily and the nerves feel better, you will also get better relief from your indigestion, gas and stomach misery.

Synilora is sold and recommended in Belleville by Dolan The Druggist.

Check Every Tip But Missing Child Still Not Found

TORONTO (CP)—As the search for eight-year-old Judy Carter went through its sixth day, police said reports from persons who think they have seen the missing girl have come in from practically every part of Toronto. They added they are following up every tip.

One such report came from a waitress in a restaurant in the west-central district.

Mabel MacDonald told police a girl answering Judy's description was in the restaurant about 1:15 a. m. Saturday with an elderly, three-fingered man. That was several hours after Judy disappeared in the city's east end.

CASE AGAINST

Mr. Janes said on many four-lane highways in the province there isn't sufficient traffic to keep them free of slush and snow.

The Ontario hydro-electric power commission was criticized by Mr. Janes as being unfair to farmers because they were forced to pay extra if service to their farms requires extra lineage.

MUST PAY EXTRA

Hydro requires three customers to a mile. If a farm was one-third of a mile or more from the line it had to pay extra, Mr. Janes said.

He said some farms on sideroads were being vacated because they lacked hydro which owners could not afford.

"I think Hydro should grow up and extend service to these people" Mr. Janes said.

The subject of salaries paid the Ontario Provincial Police was raised in debate by Fred Connell (PC—Hamilton Wentworth).

Mr. Connell said good men are resigning because they have reached the limit of their pay. He said they should be paid according to their ability.

APPRENTICESHIP

Outside the house Mr. Connell said the OPP is being used by some men as a method of obtaining apprenticeship training. They went into the provincial police with good intentions but later they realized they could do better elsewhere.

Tom Pryde (PC—Huron) asked the province to amend legislation which suspends the driving rights of persons who owe money to the unsatisfied judgment fund as a result of traffic accidents. He suggested an appeal board be set up in the highways or attorney general's departments to review such cases.

James Auld (PC—Leeds), the youngest member of the legislature, made his first speech in the House. He was elected at a by-election last September, succeeding the late Gordon MacOdrum. Mr. Auld suggested a provincial park be set up in the Rideau lake areas.

"We feel this should be started now before the areas become built-up and congested as has happened in some of the lake areas in central and western Ontario."

He said Ontario's highways have been a successful compromise between the roads and open roads of the past. Public opinion supported controlled-access highways free of motels, dancehalls and hot dog stands.

Tears Stream Down Face of Priest As He Says Final Mass in Russia

By STANLEY JOHNSON

MOSCOW (AP) — With tears streaming down his cheeks, an American Roman Catholic priest made farewell to his weeping congregation today as he said his final mass before expulsion from the Soviet Union.

Americans, Britons and other members of Moscow's Western diplomatic colony came to the service in the chapel adjoining the apartment of Rev. Georgio Biscontette, the only foreign Roman Catholic priest in Russia.

Soviet police told Father Biscontette Wednesday that he must get out of the country by Saturday. No reason was given.

The United States government protested that the ouster violates an agreement in the 1933 Roosevelt-Litvinoff pact granting American recognition to the Soviet Union. U. S. authorities contend the pact gave Americans the right to have a clergyman, priest or rabbi in Moscow to serve American citizens.

Western observers speculated that the expulsion order might be in retaliation for the refusal of the Washington government last week to let Metropolitan Boris of the Russian Orthodox Church extend the visit he has been making to the U. S.

Father Biscontette, after repeatedly breaking down during his last service, told his listeners to worship in the future at the local church of St. Marie de Francais.

"If you cannot confess in Russian or Polish, just tell the father (a Russian priest) that you want absolution and you'll receive it," he instructed them.

The chapel was nearly filled with ambassadors' wives, their children and others, many of them weeping also, seeking to comfort the priest who has served them since January, 1941.

(The Assumptionist order in the U. S., which supplies the priest for Moscow, said it will apply to the Russian government for permission to send Rev. Louis F. Dion of Worcester, Mass., as a replacement.)

Officials in Washington wonder whether Father Biscontette's ouster means the scrapping of religious rights for Americans in Moscow.

MAU MAU SLAY TWO

NAIROBI, Kenya (Reuters)—A Mau Mau gang armed with automatics and rifles attacked three white surveyors about 70 miles southwest of here Wednesday, killing two of the party, the government information department said early today. This was the first murder of Europeans since new amnesty terms for the terrorists were announced Jan. 18.

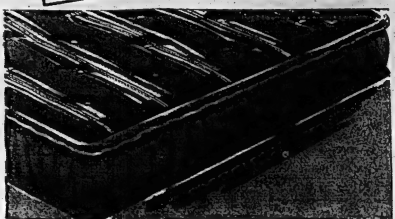
EXECUTORS AND TRUSTEES FOR OVER HALF A CENTURY

MORE THAN A
'PRUDENT ADMINISTRATOR'

'En bon pere de famille' (as a good father of the family) is a phrase often used in the Civil Law of the Province of Quebec. It means a 'Prudent Administrator' and, as applied to Executors and Trustees, requires them to act with care and skill.

In addition it suggests that an Executor and Trustee must feel a deep sense of responsibility for the personal welfare and comfort of dependants.

It is the aim of the Officers of The Royal Trust Company to live up to this high ideal with sympathy and understanding, and to ensure efficient and economical administration of every Estate entrusted to our care.



Trust and Estate Officers are always available when needed for consultation.

Security Council Will Consider Clashes At Gaza

Militant Statements Serve To Heighten Border Tension

By WILLIAM N. OATIS

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The United Nations Security Council meets late today to consider Egyptian charges and Israeli counter-charges touched off by Monday night's bloody border fighting near Gaza.

The explosive tension resulting in the clashes, in which 38 Egyptians and eight Israelis were reported killed, has been heightened by militant statements from the Egyptian and Israeli premiers and Egyptian progress toward a new Arab military lineup against Israel.

There was some expectation early today that the council would postpone its discussion of the rival charges until after a report from the mixed armistice commission in Palestine. The commission, headed by Maj.-Gen. E. L. M. Burns of Canada, which supervises the 1949 truce along the Egypt-Israel border, is expected to meet Sunday on the Gaza fighting.

BOTH SIDES READY

Should the council decide to take up the matter at once, either jointly or separately, ambassadors Omar Loutfi of Egypt and Abba Eban of Israel both were ready to speak when invited to the council table. Neither country is a member of the council.

The urgent meeting was called after Egypt on Wednesday charged Israeli forces with "violent and premeditated aggression" in the 50-mile-long Gaza border strip occupied by the Egyptians.

The Cairo government charged Israel's troops with attacking a military camp and an agricultural city of Gaza, two miles inside the territory, and with ambushing a truckload of reinforcements. It condemned this the "most brutal act of aggression" since the 1949 armistice.

GENERAL REPLY

Israel's counter-complaint, filed Thursday with the members of the Gaza battle but accused Egypt of "continuous violations" of the armistice agreements and Security Council resolutions.

Egypt's charges named attacks on Israeli troops; raids on Israeli civilians; refusal to permit to prevent such acts; assertion of a state of war and exercise of active belligerent rights against Israel, including a blockade; "warlike propaganda in Israel, and refusal to negotiate a peace treaty to replace the armistice.

Israel's complaint was in line with Israel's usual strategy of trying to shift such cases from general to particular incidents to the general Arab-Israeli situation and the need for an over-all peace or long-term solution.

Earlier Israeli statements in Jerusalem on the Gaza fighting claimed the Egyptians attacked first inside Israel and were chased back into Gaza.

An Israeli source said Israel would like to have the two complaints debated simultaneously. An Egyptian spokesman said his delegations remarks will be confined to first. A Western informant said Egypt probably will win this point.

Union Will Seek To Erase Wage Differences

MONTREAL (CP) — A spokesman for the United Steelworkers of America (CIO-CCL) said Thursday the union will seek to erase wage differences in Steel Company of Canada plants in Quebec and Ontario in forthcoming contract negotiations.

Some 9,000 persons are employed in company plants in Montreal and suburban Lachine, and in Toronto, Hamilton, Gananoque and Bradford. In Ontario.

The present contracts expire next May. The union spokesman said a notice of opening of negotiations will be sent out Monday in accordance with a 60-day notification clause.

The union is expected to ask for wage increases and pension improvements as well as equalization of wage scales in various plants.

Charles Millard, national director of the Steelworkers, said in a recent statement that a meeting of the unions in basic iron and steel mills called at Toronto with the belief that "industry prospects are healthy and the steel companies are capable of making generous improvements in existing contracts."

Present wage scales were not announced.

Cancer Clinic Operator Charged By Surgeons

WINDSOR (CP)—Dr. John Hett, 85, operator of the Hett Clinic, Thursday was remanded until March 24 when he appeared in court to answer charges brought against him by the Ontario College of Physicians and Surgeons.

Dr. Hett is charged with using the title "doctor" as an occupational designation during an eight-month period while being unregistered under the Medicine Act.

He operates the Hett Cancer Treatment and Research Foundation here.

Dr. Hett's name has twice been ordered stricken from the list of practising doctors in the province in the last 18 years. He was first expelled by the college in 1937 for refusing to reveal the formula of a serum he claimed would cure cancer.

Reinstated a year later, his name was again stricken off the roll in 1943, after a college found him guilty of "infamous and disgraceful conduct in a professional sense."

Sobolev Named To Vishinsky's Position at UN

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) Arkady Alexandrovich Sobolev has been promoted to the late Andrei Vishinsky's post of chief Soviet delegate to the United Nations, it has been serving as acting head of the Russian delegation since Vishinsky's death Nov. 22.

Sobolev's appointment by the Soviet council of ministers was announced in Moscow Thursday night.

A veteran of UN affairs, Sobolev was appointed assistant secretary-general in charge of the Security Council department when the international organization was first set up in 1946.

THE WEATHER

TORONTO. (CP) — Synopsis: A band of freezing rain, sleet and thunderstorms marched through Southern Ontario Thursday evening giving each locality along the lower lakes about three hours of bad weather. In the wake of this storm winter will continue to hold its grip on the province today and Saturday. Occasional light snow will fall in the northern regions, while southern areas will have periods of freezing drizzle or light snow both days.

RESPONSIBILITY TO AID JOBLESS RESTS WITH GOVT.

PC Member Makes Radical Suggestion

OTTAWA (CP)—A Progressive Conservative back-bencher says provincial and municipal governments should do nothing to alleviate unemployment and thus force responsibility for action on the federal government "where it belongs."

Michael Starr (PC—Ontario), a former mayor of Oshawa, said Thursday it is only a matter of time before provinces and cities start going bankrupt from paying relief to jobless, as they did in the 1930s. Speaking in the third day of a Commons debate on unemployment, Mr. Starr said municipal and provincial governments should "take necessary steps" to place responsibility for relief on the federal government.

"I feel it is at this time that the municipal and provincial governments should adopt a policy of notice, advising about the present situation in order to force the federal government to take the responsibility which is rightly theirs."

BASICALLY ECONOMIC

The causes of unemployment were basically economic.

"The federal government is the only organization which under the powers it possesses can exert control over the causes of unemployment."

Municipalities had carried the weight of relief payments in the depression of the 1930s.

"It was many years before some of them were able to emerge from the state of bankruptcy in which they found themselves because of this responsibility.

Unemployment had become a national emergency but the federal government was shirking the strategy of all levels of government, shirked its duty.

BORROWERS

The unemployment debate, begun Tuesday on a Progressive Conservative motion of non-confidence in the government, will not continue until next week. Today the Commons went into committee on consideration of legislation, chiefly involving borrowing powers.

Don Brown (L—Essex West) cautioned against despair.

"We are not armed attacks on Israeli troops; raids on Israeli citizens; refusal to permit to prevent such acts; assertion of a state of war and exercise of active belligerent rights against Israel, including a blockade; "warlike propaganda in Israel, and refusal to negotiate a peace treaty to replace the armistice.

Israel's complaint was in line with Israel's usual strategy of trying to shift such cases from general to particular incidents to the general Arab-Israeli situation and the need for an over-all peace or long-term solution.

Earlier Israeli statements in Jerusalem on the Gaza fighting claimed the Egyptians attacked first inside Israel and were chased back into Gaza.

An Israeli source said Israel would like to have the two complaints debated simultaneously. An Egyptian spokesman said his delegations remarks will be confined to first. A Western informant said Egypt probably will win this point.

Tiny Gold Seeds Used With Good Effect to Destroy Some Cancers

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Tiny gold seeds now are being used with good effect to destroy some cancers which the surgeon cannot remove, the American Cancer Society said.

Reporting on research by Dr. William G. Myers of the Ohio State University medical center, the society announced the gold seeds—each grain-of-rice sized—have established a valuable role in treatment of certain cancers.

The society said the seeds, shipped from slender wires of radioactive gold 1-100 of an inch thick, are encased in a narrow tube which is inserted into them to slid into a hollow nylon thread.

Dr. Myers, who began his experiments with radioactive gold and other substances about six years ago, said the principal associates have used the gold on more than 200 patients in the last two years.

ACS said the gold is sewn a little more than a week. Radium through tumors which the surgeon can be used for cesiuries.

Reaume Urges Mayors, Reeves Meet Govt. on Unemployment

TORONTO (CP) — Arthur J. Reaume (L—Essex North) Thursday urged the provincial government to call an immediate meeting with mayors and reeves to discuss unemployment.

Mr. Reaume set off a heated hour-long debate in the legislature when he interrupted scheduled business to place before the House a motion to discuss a matter of urgent public business.

"Unemployment is a matter of such importance that we could do many party lines and stop playing a game of politics," he said.

He asked the government to "take the bull by the horns."

Premier Frost, reiterating a statement he has made several times recently, said his government is ready and willing to discuss unemployment relief measures with the federal government on the basis of proposals made by the Liberal government at Ottawa in 1954.

The federal government at a Dominion-provincial conference suggested a federal - provincial-municipal works program as a means of relieving seasonal unemployment.

"I don't think any one level of government can deal with the problem alone," the premier said. "We are ready and willing to embark on the 1945 proposals at once."

Arthur J. Child (PC — Wentworth) said the federal government should take action. He suggested it was not a case of taking the bull by the horns but the way Ottawa "let go of the cow it was milking of every tax dollar."

WILD MARKSMEN DIE

MARRAKESH, Morocco (CP)—Three Moroccans who tried to assassinate the pasha of Marrakesh, Thami El Glaoui, were executed and sentenced to death Thursday for acts of terrorism. They were found guilty of killing four persons and wounding 86 in revolver and grenade attacks on the pasha's residence in Marrakesh last February. El Glaoui was unharmed.

Govt. Not Pleased at Idea Of Rose Returning to Canada

OTTAWA (CP) — The government doesn't like the idea of Fred Rose, former member of Parliament convicted of spy charges, returning to Canada from behind the Iron Curtain and may be considering some way to prevent that.

Immigration Minister Pickersgill told the Commons Thursday he regrets that under existing immigration law Rose is a Canadian citizen and is free to come back to Canada. However, he said talks in the situation "at the present time." His use of these words was construed as a hint that the law might be changed.

Mr. Pickersgill was asked by Balcer (PC—Leeds) whether the government intends to refuse Rose and his wife permission to enter this country. Mr. Balcer referred to a Montreal Star report that the Roses may come back to Canada "before long."

Rose is believed in Czechoslovakia with his wife and 16-year-old daughter, Laura. A spokesman for the RCMP said the force has no knowledge that the 46-year-old Montrealer plans to re-enter Canada after spending 16 months behind the Iron Curtain.

The Montreal report said that "word has been allowed to 'leak'

CONSUMER PRICE INDEX DECLINES FOR THIRD MONTH

Lower Prices for Food Push Living Costs Down

OTTAWA (CP) — The consumer price index edged one-tenth of a point during January to 116.3 from 116.4 as lower food prices pushed living costs down for the third consecutive month.

Prices declined for coffee, lard, eggs, beef and pork, outweighing increases for oranges and fresh vegetables, the bureau of statistics reported today.

Rents rose slightly in new high, and hospital rates increased in eastern Canada, but these rises were insufficient to offset the food price decline.

THINGS IN ROW

Other segments of the cost-of-living yardstick, based on 1949 prices equalling 100, remained unchanged.

The over-all decline of one-tenth of a point was small and the lowest that can be recorded on the index. However, it was a drop of two-tenths of a point in each of the previous two months.

This was the first time in a year that the index had backtracked three months in a row. The current three-month drop of one-half a point compares with a four-month drop of one point in October-December 1953.

The index now is lower than in any period since last June when it stood at 115.8 and is 3.1 points below the record 119.2 in December, 1951. A year ago it was 115.7.

Three-Fingered Man Was Father With Own Child

TORONTO (CP) — The three-fingered man reported seen in a restaurant with the missing Judy Carter was a father out having fun with his own little girl, police reported today.

The eight-year-old girl disappeared a week ago after getting out of school.

A police-to-door search for Judy is continuing and police have checked hundreds of tips from citizens who have reported seeing the child at almost every main intersection.

Tuesday, Judy's stepfather and mother received an anonymous telephone call from a man demanding $25,000 if they want to see Judy alive." Police said the caller was a crank.

Broken Bottle Weapon Used To Kill Logger

VANCOUVER (CP) — Joseph Roy, 30, was charged with murder today following a fight aboard a log boom in which a logger was killed with a broken bottle.

Body of the logger was found lying in a pool of blood in an eastern Vancouver waterfront area. He said he had bled to death from deep gashes in the throat. A broken beer bottle, described by officers as the death weapon, was found in the room.

Police said Roy was arrested near the boat a short time after the body was discovered. They were holding two men as material witnesses but did not identify them.

Earth Pops Like Bunch of Balloons Over Twenty Square Miles in Hawaii

By ROY ESSOYAN

PAHOA, Hawaii (AP) — Twenty square miles of the volcano-wracked Puna district was evacuated Thursday night as lava poured when the earth began popping open like a bunch of punctured balloons.

The area was clear of humans in two hours.

An hour afterward Reginald Ho, a garage owner, volunteered to go back to see that no one had been left behind. He said he saw a 200-foot fountain of lava burst out of the hillside overlooking Kapoho village, and six other new fountains feeding the lava flow allegedly to the south.

Early Thursday evening the main fountain feeding the flow was spouting to a spectacular 300 feet. New fissures broke out, ominous cracks appeared in the ground and then the rush to get out was under way.

Richard Kamau, one of the officials who beat a hasty retreat, said "we were standing on a pow der keg."

When I left Kapho an hour before the countryside spilt as under a livid glow lit up the night sky. Molten fountains fed the steaming flow of lava, 10 feet deep and 300 yards across, as it inched with increasing momentum toward the ocean.

Forty Red Ships Attack Island In Matsu Group

Communist Fleet Whipped By Nationalist Defenders

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—More than 40 Communist gunboats and armed junks attacked Kaotang Island in the Matsu group today but were driven off by Chinese Nationalist defenders, the defence ministry said tonight.

The Matsus are 100 miles northwest of Formosa and 20 miles off the Red mainland. The Communists they are the last important Nationalist outposts.

There was no indication whether it was a hit and run raid or an attempted invasion.

Meanwhile, high level talks designed to put teeth into the United States-Nationalist China mutual defence pact got under way today.

The meeting is expected to be a boost in the flow of American military aid to Chiang Kai-shek's forces.

Official Nationalist circles were "very optimistic" over the exchange of views Thursday between Secretary Dulles and Chiang. Nationalist quarters appear confident that the 3U. S. will intervene against any Red Chinese amphibious attacks against Quemoy and the Matsus.

Bruno Pontecorvo Holds Interview With Reporters

By RICHARD KASISCHKE

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union presented the long-missing atomic scientist, Bruno Pontecorvo, at a press conference today.

Pontecorvo, an Italian-born scientist who worked in Canada, became a British subject, then disappeared in 1950 while working at England's top-secret Harwell atomic energy plant. A letter left by him in Praviva Tuesday gave the world first official word that he was working with the Russians on their atomic projects.

The press conference was sponsored by the U. S. S. R. Academy of Sciences. Such sessions are rare in the Soviet Union, and it caught Western reporters by surprise.

Pontecorvo, speaking in Italian, said he has been in Russia "many years.

"Today it is impossible to state aside from that," he said. "The reactionary yellow press in capitalist countries tries to hamper the brain of the common people, but there are things which are clear even to children.

"For instance, how is it possible to believe that the Soviet Union threatens the United States while American bases are situated near the Soviet Union?"

Given Four Months

KITCHENER (CP) — For a breach of suspended sentence, Michael Embro, 21, of Guelph was given a four-month jail sentence Thursday by county magistrate Alan Barron.

Embro was put on suspended sentence in July on charges of theft and dangerous driving. He was convicted of stealing 1,000 pounds of copper wire, worth $250 from a public utilities commission building.

Wilbert Coffin's Appeal Studied By Quebec Court

QUEBEC (CP) — The murder conviction of Wilbert Coffin in connection with the slaying of three Pennsylvania hunters in the summer of 1953, was under study today by the five-judge Quebec Court of Appeals.

The 43-year-old Gaspe prospector claims there was insufficient evidence to warrant a conviction following his trial for the murder of Richard Lindsey, 17, of Holidaysburg, Pa.,

Lindsey's father, Eugene, 47, and a friend, Albert Clear, 19, were also slain during the bear hunt in Gaspe wilderness. Their bear-chewed bones were found a month after they started the hunt.

CLAIM INSUFFICIENT EVIDENCE

Coffin's lawyers, in a 40,000-word appeal tabled last Tuesday, claimed "irregularities" during the trial. One concerned two police constables who accompanied members of the jury to a movie a few days before serving as crown witnesses.

Francois Gravel, defence counsel, claims this is sufficient ground for the appeal court to grant a new trial.

Chief crown prosecutor Noel Dorion said Thursday there was nothing irregular about the two police constables accompanied the jury members. He said there is no law that forbids it and he did not think the incident had been prejudicial to Coffin.

HEAVY FALL OF HAIL BRINGS WINTER BACK

Hail! Hail! — the weather's queer.

Ever since the last day of March we've been having an awful lot of weather—a comment that sounds less unintelligent the more you think of it.

First it was thunder and then the rains came, bringing a spate of warm, ice-melting air, that seemed to spell the end of the severe winter spell.

Early today a heavy fall of hail clapped against windows in the Belleville area, ushering in another spate of cold and snow, forcing the casting off of heavy garments, for the time being at least.

Low temperature recorded in the city yamphouse this morning was 13 degrees above zero, while by 10 a.m the mercury had only climbed one degree to 14 above.

Kampus Kapers by B.C.I. Students Enjoyed by Crowd

Forge a bunch of eager high school students into the framework of a show, grind and polish them off at rehearsals, and you have a sparkling platter of entertainment ready for presentation to the public.

Such was the case at the Belleville Collegiate last night, when the BCIVS students produced another annual helping of their revue, "Kampus Kapers". Presented by the boys' and girls' athletic societies of the collegiate the show played to a packed and appreciative house.

The show, 17 acts in two parts galloped along at a smart pace without a hitch, evidence of the extra-mural toiling of the students to please the public. And please them they did.

Linked together by smart emceeing by Sid Allcorn, the entire 17 acts covered practically every phase of revue work. However, although the students were responsible in the main for most of the show, both Thunder, who nearly golden by their teachers in dramatics, which, to judge by their reception, were the highlights of the evening.

Accompanied by Linton Read, staff members Sheffe, Snetsinger, Bishop, Hanan, Sloan, Keiso, Walker and Weston, warbled their separate ways through "A Teacher's Lot is Not a Happy One", a take-off on Gilbert's "Lot of a Policeman" from Pinafore.

In their second sketch, "Day in the Life and Hard Times of W. W. Walker, Esq.," the staff gave off with a devastating satire on all forms of classroom life. Harrabbing they handed out to the students in general brought down the house.

However, despite the compelling pace set for them by the teachers, the students themselves showed up as more than competent.

The show got under way with a grand opening featuring the entire cast on stage. This was followed by a harmonious vocal rendition by the BCIVS Glee club under C. Templer.

A neat twist was given the show by the next act which saw a series of tableaux representing statuettes. Frozen solid in that role were G. Bexley, P. Cornell, R. Frederick, W. Gault, C. Jones, W. Jones, G. LaBelle, G. Little, A. McCann, C. McMechan, F. Miller, R. Philp and J. Wrese.

A spirited rendition in close harmony was given by the vocal quintet, "The Rockerfellers," which earned an encore for its members, Bruce Varcoe, Jack Doll, Phil Bennett, Don Cherry and Doug McIlraith.

A rhythmic exhibition of tumbling merited a well-rounded hand of applause for the Boys' Athletic Tumbling club. The few gaucheries resulting from badtiming lent an amusing aside to the exhibition, but did nothing to detract from the slickness of presentation.

Closing the first half was a judo demonstration by Mary Anne and Barry Ray and Bill Gault. The trio brought gasps from the audience with an act with many new twists. They were well rewarded for their pains—and aches, if they had any.

Most imaginative act in the show was a futuristic display by the physics class. Setting for the display was paced to a musical accompaniment. The set, depicting the landing of rocket ships, gym window, and the costumes of the "spacemen" were a new angle on how to make a routing gym display interesting.

PIANISTS WELCOMED

Two pianists were featured in the second half, highlighting their renditions with a male quartet and the dancing and musical style of the Choraleers.

Young Conrad Greg Butler, well-known in the city for their piano duet selections, appeared before an audience once more last night. Some time has elapsed since this latter team has been given the opportunity or a public performance, and their co-operative efforts in "Dancing Doll" and "Seguidilla" properly earned them an encore. We hope the young Butlers are not given the benefit and encouragement of more frequent public appearances in their home town.

Familiar Doug Anstice, together with Don Cherry appeared in a comedy routing.

The Pyramid of 24 went through its paces with smart precision.

Finale was climaxed with the entire cast assembled on stage for a grand finale.

In several spots during the show additional lighting might be brought in to provide with benefit both to actors and audience.

Other members of the cast included:

Believed Horned Owl Killed Porcupine

While it is generally concluded that porcupines are not harmful only to foxes and wolves, a conservation officer of the Lands and Forests Department, Tweed district, suggests the addition of at least one kind of prey.

Officer Sam Shields said a local trapper showing him a great horned owl which he had shot while the bird was attempting to eat a freshly killed porcupine.

The trapper said he concluded the bird had effected the kill as the body of the animal was warm and it was bleeding freely from recently inflicted wounds. Also the head, neck, breast and legs of the bird carried nearly as many quills as were left on the back of the porcupine.

Various officers' reports on the deer population of the district indicate an increase of loss, though more are appearing south of No. 7 highway. Officer John Shannon said one deer has visited Madoc village for a short time but finally returned to the bush. Officer Fred Macdonald, said another had been seen in the vicinity of Point Anne, while Officer Bob Ramsbottom has seen several animals in the vicinity of Bancroft. All appeared in good condition.

Ruth Watson Addresses Lions

Miss Ruth Watson, winner of the Lions Club of Belleville public speaking contest at Napanee some weeks ago, spoke to the members of the Lions Club at their regular meeting at Latimer's tea room.

"We should all stress safety and the importance of guarding your safety and mine," she said. "Don't just reprimand your children when they are careless but show them the dangers of playing with matches and reckless driving."

Lion Don Lamb gave a good impromptu speech on a thought-provoking subject, "Do Our Activities Compare with Those of Other Service Clubs?"

The final speaker of the evening was Lion H. F. Gyde of the Belleville Collegiate, who spoke on "Education Week". He said "many pupils lack the 'enquiring mind' and that parents could do much to encourage children in the studies and in helping them to become good students."

Card Tables, Games Given Senior Citizens

The regular monthly meeting of the Senior Citizens of Belleville club was held on Wednesday in the Kiwanis Centre, and an attractive time was had by those attending. Euchre was played by the majority and prizes given for highest scores were won by Mrs. W. Gray and Mr. H. H. Ashworth.

Splendid entertainment was given by Mrs. Ferrandi at the piano. After playing for community singing he presented some solo pieces, much to the enjoyment of his listeners.

For the executive, Mr. L. H. Field presented a report of a meeting with Miss Carr, the provincial government representative for Senior Citizens' clubs, and it is proposed the April meeting will be "Keepsake Night" and all members were asked to bring something unique to display. It is also proposed to put on something special at all meetings until the summer recess—Family Album; What have you in Hats? and other variety programs.

There was a pleasant surprise at the beginning of the meeting when Mrs. D. Tugnett, of the Women's Progressive Conservative Association, arrived accompanied by Mrs. W. Tice and Mrs. R. Bateman, presented the club with five card tables, cards and games. Mrs. Tugnett was thanked by Mr. Field, on behalf of the club.

Mrs. Dunsmond and her assistants served dainty refreshments at the close of the meeting.

Fire Dept. Takes Delivery Combination Pumper, Ladder

The Belleville Fire Department took delivery of a new American Marsh combination pumper-aerial ladder yesterday, the new fire fighting machine being put through its paces at the construction at the Armouries this morning.

Attending the demonstration were Fire Chief Gerald Vance, with senior officers of the department and off-duty firemen.

The new machine, which cost city taxpayers approximately $20,000 is a new type fire truck, combining a 65-foot electrically-operated aerial ladder and a pumper with a rated 915 Imperial gallons per hour capacity at 150 pounds pressure. The equipment is mounted on an international five truck chassis and also has an international motor.

Simplicity of operation is one of the top features of the new combination fire machine, with the driver or by accompanying firemen. The 65-foot aerial ladder is built of aluminum alloy and is equipped with side-rails for safety. The ladder is swung manually, but is raised and extended by electric power. Small 12-volt motors control raising and extension of the ladder.

According to Fire Chief Vance the combination type pumper-aerial ladder truck is becoming popular with many fire departments throughout the province. Such trucks eliminate the need for both aerial ladder and pumper trucks turning out for most fires.

The new trucks will be stationed at the East Dundas St. firehall to give protection for the residential and other large buildings east of the river.

Registration Is Urged For TV Repairmen

TORONTO (CP)—A radio technicians' association has a plan being to clamp down on "unscrupulous, cut-rate television repairmen."

Members of the Radio Electronic Technicians' Association, a 400-member organization started 11 years ago to raise standards in the repair industry, said at a meeting Thursday night that complaints about faulty repairs and varying service charges had been growing.

Dick Cartwright, president, said the association is trying to get Ontario government to pass legislation to oblige all TV technicians to register with a central bureau.

Obituary

JAMES VINCENT BRENNAN

James Vincent Brennan, beriefly of Belleville, died in the Toronto East General Hospital, on Wednesday, March 2nd. He was 71.

He is survived by his wife, the former Rose Goodwill; a daughter, Katherine Anne, and a sister, Mrs. John E. Bulger, of Waterbury, Conn.

He is resting at the Funeral Residence of George F. O'Brien. The funeral announcement appears elsewhere in this edition.

MISS MARY AMELIA FROST

Following a brief illness, Miss Mary Amelia Frost, 187 Ann St., died at her home early this Friday morning and in her death the city has lost a citizen who had an outstanding influence on the educational life for many years.

The late Miss Frost was born in this city, being the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Frost, and lived practically her whole life in this community, with the exception of some years spent in the west. She attended the public and High Schools in this city and then graduated from the Ontario Normal School at Ottawa. She returned to the city and accepted a position as school teacher, a post she held for many years. Many children now grown to manhood and womanhood learned through her hands and all spoke kindly of her tuition, kindliness and gallantry.

Miss Frost was also closely identified with Bridge Street United Church. For many years she was a member of the choir and in her early life took an active interest in the Sunday School, teaching and winning the children who were her pupils during the week. Her death will bring sincere regret from a wide circle of friends.

She is survived by one brother, Howard M. Frost of this city, two sisters, Miss Cora T. Frost of this city and Mrs. Robert J. (Bertha) Small of Niagara Falls, Ont.

Resting at the Belleville Burial Company Funeral Home; the funeral announcement is made elsewhere in this edition.

IN MEMORIAM

COLLINS. — In loving memory of a dear wife and mother, Pearl Collins, who passed away March 3rd, 1946. If all the world were mine to give I'd give it to you and more. To clasp the hand of Mother dear, to hear her voice once more. To those who have a mother Cherish her with love and care For you never know how value Until you see her vacant chair. Sadly missed by husband Herb, son Ralph and daughter-in-law Ruby.

CARDS OF THANKS

I wish to thank all my friends and neighbors for cards, flowers and visits during my stay in the hospital, also Rev. Mr. Caswell, Rev. Mr. Allen and Dr. Gibson, the nurses on Second and Third floors, and Dr. ——Mrs. Jean Salisbury, R. R. 1, Ballefield.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank my friends and neighbors for their many acts of kindness to both myself and husband during my stay in the hospital, also for cards, gifts and flowers and everything. I thank you.

55 Students Enjoying Trip To Queen's Park

Fifty-five Grade II students at Quinte Secondary School will be spending the day in Toronto visiting the parliament buildings at Queen's Park, touring the University of Toronto and attending the opera at the Royal Alexandra theatre.

The students, accompanied by Kenneth Tancock, head of the history department, and Miss Suzanne Shanks, head of the English department, left the school by bus at 7.00 this morning.

They were scheduled to visit the parliament buildings this morning and are to be guests for lunch in the parliamentary restaurant.

Friday afternoon's tour of some of the buildings of the University of Toronto included supper at Hart House for the boys and at Wymilwood, women's residence of Victoria College, for the girls. Attendance at the opera at the Royal Alexandra Theatre tonight will conclude the visit to Toronto.

Students are expected to return to Belleville early Saturday morning.

The tour is one phase of the educational program for Grade II students.

$2,000 in Office Equipment Taken At Wellington

Thieves forced their way into the Quinte Milk Products at Wellington some time early Thursday night and escaped with office equipment valued at close to two thousand dollars.

Stolen from the office was a calculating machine, two typewriters, two adding machines, a cheque writing machine and a duplicating machine.

Police said the break-in occurred some time between 8.30 and 11.30 and was discovered shortly before midnight by a company employee who came to sweep up.

Entry to the building was gained through a washroom window which was found broken. Desk drawers in the office were ransacked, several of them being forced open.

County Police Chief Earl Marvin, of Wellington, is in charge of the investigation and is being assisted by O.P.P. Cpl. A. Parry, of Picton, and Cpl. Reg. Rackham of Belleville.

Women Teachers Oppose Pay Plan For Dependants

TORONTO (CP)—Women teachers in suburban Leaside today were reported prepared to fight a plan to give married men teachers more money.

The women teachers, most of whom have no dependants, said they will ask equal pay for equal work in opposing a proposal by two Leaside trustees to grant extra pay to teachers with families and women teachers with dependents.

Trustees Edward Brisbois and John Dixon said they will bring the proposal before school board March 14.

"We don't keep our good male teachers when they have families," said Mr. Brisbois. "There are too many instances of male teachers leaving the profession for higher-paid jobs in industry. You cannot blame them. They want to provide the best for their families."

Leaside women teachers were said to have sent a letter to the board outlining their opposition to the plan.

Credit Union Meets

TORONTO (CP)—The 14th-annual convention of the Ontario Credit Union League opens here today and on hand are about 1,500 delegates representing 350,000 credit union members. The convention runs for three days.

PRODUCE MARKET

TORONTO (CP) — Churning cream and butter print prices were unchanged here today.

The egg market was firm with offerings light and demand good. Quotations provided by the Dominion department of agriculture: Eggs, graded, in three cases; A large 43-44; A medium 42-43; A small 37; B 35; C 27. Wholesale to jobbers: A large 48-49; A medium 47-48; A small 42; B 40; C 32.

Brewers' Warehousing Drivers Given Awards for Safe Driving

The satisfaction of safe driving was exemplified last evening at the LaSalle Hotel in Kingston, when drivers for the Brewers' Warehousing Company Ltd. were presented with rewards and plaques for their efforts during the past year. The splendid program was directed by Percy Jones, district manager, with Danny Cox, assistant manager, of this district along with Cecil Bonetta directing the arrangements for the banquet and social evening that followed.

For the past several years, the drivers for the whole district gathered at one location for their annual banquet, but this year it was decided to divide the districts in two parts, one meeting to be held in Kingston and the other at Oshawa at a later date. The meeting last night included the outlets of Kingston, Gananoque, Belleville, Tweed, Napanee, Trenton and Picton, the host club for the banquet was Kingston and Robert Goode, the store manager, certainly arranged a most delightful evening.

Those who received awards for safe driving were, one year, Percy Graham, Belleville, F. D. Steele, Kingston, R. H. McLaughlin, Napanee, Ken Graham, Belleville, H. Orr, Trenton; three years, Edward Lamming, Belleville, G. A. Kerley, and E. F. Clarke, Kingston, T. J. Flood, Gananoque; four years, H. Ashburn, Belleville; six years, Leo Geyer, Belleville; seven years, Harold Cameron, Napanee, H. L. Dumbleton, Kingston and D. Whiting, Ed. Bonetta, Chief Constable by George Watt of Head Office.

Following the splendid table repast Al Hegadorn, local contract delivery of Picton, His Worship Mayor Clarke and Chief Constable, Inspector Orville Brown, Inspector Goode, traffic for Ontario, Sgt. Robert Andrews of Provincial Police, W. C. Cookman, manager Ontario Transport, Harry Pollard, Safety Manager Winters Transport, Ken Lennox, Safety Director Colonial Coach, J. M. Fleming, manager Smith Transport and Scotty Wilson Markell Insurance Company, Edward Lamming, Belleville Chief of Gananoque and Rolly Doucette, Department of Labor were guests.

WELCOMED BY MAYOR

Danny Cox, assistant manager, chained the meeting in his capable manner, with Bob Godwin introducing the head table and his Worship Mayor Clarke welcomed the drivers that were being honored for safe driving and especially those representatives from the Kingston area. He outlined the advantages the meeting in a city to live in, stating that it had good industries, fine educational institutions and splendid social and civic advantages. He stated that despite untimely, Aluminium Co. of Canada paid $220,000 in taxes to the city and had a payroll of $850,000 monthly. He was thanked by the chairman.

Mr. Cox then introduced the genial district manager, Ted Percy, who in turn introduced the principal speaker of the evening, George Wade, Mr. Watt stated that head office was proud of the record the drivers from brewers' Warehousing Company was compiling throughout the province. "You have beaten the provincial record," said the speaker "by rolling up an 81 per cent reduction in accidents and safety awards while in bonus payments the record is 91 per cent against the 85 per cent in the province." He showed that six years ago the company was in danger of losing its insurance on vehicles due to the heavy accident rate, but that has all been eliminated by the drivers now on the way to rolling up an impressive record.

"Pride in your job, Safety league work and continuous bonding by the trials in court has brought about the result," said Mr. Watt. The speaker outlined the progress of the company since its inception in 1927, stating that the brewery has one representative on board of directors and all is governed by H. E. Pellatt, president. He stated the company-operated in divisions and each company was outlined in full as to its functions in controlling the enterprise.

Mr. Watt told the gathering that in 1954 4 million tons of goods were delivered to 2,200 licensed premises along with 60,000 home deliveries. There are some 2,000 employees on the permanent staff, which is augmented considerably in the peak periods.

PROUD OF DRIVERS

He stated that drivers were judged on performance and attitude. They represent the brewery industry to the public and they have lived up well to this job and head office is very proud of the drivers and the safety records they have rolled up.

Paul Lawrence of Kingston, thanked the speaker for his informative talk. Lyle Ferrier, coordinator of management and development, in fine fettle with a number of witty stories. A film, "Safety is No Accident," was shown and Mr. Wilson was thanked.

Mr. Cox read a telegram from Norman Garbutt, former assistant district manager, and now in London, wishing the boys every success in the coming year and challenging District 6 to a competition with District 2 in safe driving for the Simcoe Cup. The challenge was quickly accepted. In closing Mr. Jones and Mr. Cox thanked the drivers every success in the year ahead and thanked them for their fine efforts in the past year. A social hour closed a most delightful evening.

WHY THE HIGHER BIRTH RATE?

Last year in the United States there were 4,000,000 ths, far more babies than ever before.

Says the New York Times: "Man knows more effic nt ways of creating more children than ever before, yet lie unwis hasn't died out, defiantly, by producing more life."

That statement is true, but it is not so certain that e sentence which preceded it is also true. The Times ks: "The people of this country are reflecting their nfidence in the future in the most fundamental and mpressive way possible, by simply having more babies, many more babies."

Is the rate of birth a reflection of the confidence of arents in the future? Recalling the depression years, hen the birth rate dropped and when married couples ently declared not to bring children into such world, one is tempted to answer in the affirmative. But there not another explanation for this low birth rate n times of comparative high birth rate in times of rosperity? Is it not perhaps present circumstances, rather than future prospects, which decides whether parenthood is attractive?

Quibbling? We may say. Perhaps it is, and perhaps would be a waste of time to quarrel with the Times' tatement were there not another, and entirely different, possibility.

The highest birth rates are not in prosperous lands ut in lands where poverty is unbroken and famine frequently stalks. Ah, yes, you may reply, the high birth rates in India and China keep the people poor. That has once the generally accepted explanation. But recent scientific research suggests that the high birth rates in the remote past, rather than the cause, of poverty, that humans are most fertile, strangely enough, when their lives are in the greatest danger from hunger and disease. here, some modern students believe, we see the human family at its safeguarding the continued existence of se species, pouring new babies into the world in an effort assure that, no matter how many people die of malnutrition or as victims of the brutalities of civilization.

Are today's higher birth rates amongst the more highly developed countries just another evidence of Nature working, in some complicated incomprehensible fashion, to offset the new threat to the race which science has reated? Life is answering back death defiantly, by producing more life. Of that there can be no doubt. But this answer, perhaps an automatic response to death's challenge, rather than a conscious expression of faith hat this challenge will be met and defeated?

BINGO QUESTION

A decision from North Bay has protested to Attorney-General Dana Porter about alleged discrimination that North Bay organizations which have been forbidden to hold charity bingo games.

A protest of this nature was long overdue.

It appears that the North Bay Elks' lodge was told two weeks ago to discontinue charity bingos and the North Bay daily newspaper was warned not to accept bingo advertisements. Yet, said Mayor Merle Dickinson, bingo games and advertisements for a bingo game held for the National Ballet Fund.

The explanation is simple. The ban on bingo games North Bay followed a decision of Magistrate Ingram. ed Queen's Park officials said that his decision probably resolved on the question of whether the bingo games are "occasional." Occasional" bingo games for charitable purposes are permissible. Apparently also crown attorney decided the Elks' games were not "occasional;" but Toronto authorities evidently regard the National Ballet Fund as "occasional."

This explanation, though, does not satisfactorily solve the situation. Indeed, it merely makes the nature of the problem clear. At present the law regarding the holding of bingo games is interpreted by crown attorneys. They have to decide the exact meaning of the word "occasional." This decision is not an easy one. Whether definite or not, the reasoning from time to time but without regularity or system." Obviously a bingo game held every other Tuesday is not occasional in the sense therefore illegal. But how about a bingo held on Monday of this week, Tuesday of next week, Monday two weeks later, Thursday of the following week, and so on? Is this an "occasional" game or not? Local crown attorneys have to decide—and it is not surprising that there should be a wide variety in their interpretations of just what constitutes "occasional" bingo games which are legal and what constitutes "regular" bingo games, which are illegal.

Such a word as "occasional" and such a system permitting any action to be done "occasionally" but forbidding it if done on "regularity" have no place in the statutes of any land purporting to be governed by law.

If an action is legal, it should be legal no matter how often it occurs. If it is illegal, it should be illegal no matter how infrequently it takes place.

TRAFFIC JAM

Maj.-Gen. F. F. Worthington, civil defence co-ordinator, last week said that evacuation of an area is the only answer to atomic attack at present.

He made this statement when meeting with the metropolitan Toronto civil defence committee. It was intimated that two hours' warning of an attack might be given and that it would be necessary to move Toronto's population considerable distances, perhaps as far north as Huntsville.

Anybody who has driven on the Toronto-Barrie highway on a holiday week-end knows that is a terrifyingly real idea of just how good an answer evacuation would be to an atomic attack.

LOOKING BACKWARDS

GLEANINGS FROM OUR FYLES OF BYGONE YEARS

25 YEARS AGO

March 4th., 1915

Up to date a total of 65 property owners who are unemployed, have registered as applicants for work at the office of the city engineer. When possible unemployed property owners who desire work are given preference when jobs are open and if they are fit for the work.

A citizen who is most reliable states that he saw a robin on a tree branch at the corner of Dundas east and Burnham Streets this morning.

Mr. D. B. Perrow of Aurora, Ill., is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Fresenius, Bridge Street east.

Mrs. Stanley E. Carman is spending a few days in Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. Auton Eggleton of Kingston, formerly of this city, spent the week-end with the latter's parents, at their home on the Trent Road.

30 YEARS AGO

March 4th., 1925

Members of the Retail Merchants' Association of Canada, to the number of four hundred, will meet in Belleville in June.

Mrs. S. Anderson of Melrose, and Miss L. Anderson of Roblin, are the guests of Mrs. Howard Sharpe, Hillside Street.

The Canadian Industrial Alcohol Company of Alberta and Social Club was organized recently with the following officers: president, Major D. C. McManus; vice president, F. H. Chesney; secretary, J. V. Boyle; treasurer, W. J. Hume, the manager of the company.

40 YEARS AGO

March 4th., 1915

Two rinks of Belleville Curlers went to Napanee and played off a tie with the Kingston rinks and won by fourteen shots. The following composed the Belleville rinks: Percy O. Pitney, Dr. Morley Day, Dr. Mason G. Clarke and J. F. Allen, skip; Fred D. Diamond, Bert Backus, J. G. Galloway and J. G. Davison, skip. The scoring was Belleville 21 and Kingston 8; Belleville 13 and Kingston 14.

Mrs. E. T. Aulfin has returned home from Detroit, Mich., where she visited her sister.

Mr. Thomas Moore of the steel company here, returned home last evening from the Old country.

50 YEARS AGO

March 4th., 1905

The prospects are that there will be considerable building activity in Belleville this spring and summer. St. Michael's Church will be re-built, building the armouries will in all probability be commenced and possibly completed; the old Severn brewery on the west hill will be converted into a vinegar factory; the Belleville Hardware Company will build an addition to its plant and several houses will be built. No one building will go on here than has been the case for many years.

Col. Michael J. Hendrick, U. S. Consul here, is spending some time in New York City.

Mr. Oscar Deegan of Winnipeg, Manitoba, is visiting relatives here.

Mr. F. E. O'Flynn spent Sunday with his father, Mr. E. D. O'Flynn, in Madoc.

Jet Crashes Disturbing

(Winnipeg Free Press.)

On Wednesday another RCAF jet trainer crashed in Manitoba—the third in the last month. Accordingly to eyewitness reports there appeared to be nothing wrong with this plane. It was seen to have smashed into the ground, killing the pilot. Weather conditions are not abnormal at the time.

The RCAF has hitherto maintained that it has "complete confidence" in its T-33 jets but after this crash it has decided upon the launching an investigation of all T-33 accidents.

Naturally, one hopes, will be to vindicate the RCAF's confidence in the jet planes. But what will not fail the mounting fatalities. An investigation should not be confined merely to a study of the relative soundness of the airplane as should be the case in operational methods and the training of student pilots.

Yet even so, the public will have no assurance that anything concrete has been done. The air force does not reveal the findings of special inquiries, and there is no way of knowing how far it is influenced by the fatalistic attitude that a large number of crashes is inevitable.

A sharp contrast to this reticence was provided by the way in which the United States army air force handled the accident of its jet bomber over Northern Saskatchewan. The U.S. officers in charge made every effort to help those seeking details of the mishap; in fact they countermanded RCAF instructions on this point. In hiding nothing, they gave the impression that they had nothing to hide.

True military secrets are far less closely involved in the case of T-33 crashes than with the case of the giant jet-bomber, and the tight-lipped silence of the RCAF in similar circumstances does nothing but create impression that it has doubts about its own competence. That way, the air force will destroy the confidence it is trying to maintain.

Washing By Sound

(Ottawa Journal)

From the United Kingdom comes word of what is called "a sonic washing machine". It washes clothes by sound waves, and the manufacturers say tests seen by sponsors of the device say it sets up 5,000 vibrations a minute to press soap and water through the fabrics to clean dirt—if this dirt clear don't blame us.

The machine is described as looking like "a large child's spinning top", so if you have a large child who has a spinning top you have a pretty good idea of the shape and form of this sonic contraption which can be set up in a tub of clothes to go to work on them with its eighty vibrations per second.

And not only is it useful in the laundry. Its sponsors say the device is being used in the tanning trade, for certain tanning operations and in the motor industry, and they say it has a great future. That we can believe. If you can wash clothes by sonic vibrations why not dishes or automobiles or floors? Why not a sonic bath-tub? And if the machine will mix scents it should be a wonderful labor-saver for the cocktail maker. No doubt it could whip up a cold chocolate drink with neatness and precision, or whip cream in a jiffy, or do a wonderful job on salad dressing. The possibilities are endless.

But one expression in the publicity material leaves us a bit confused. When it speaks of "certain tanning operations" does it have in mind that small boy might be sonically punished for his misdeeds at the rate of 5,000 vibrations per minute, or it is a cross commercial reference to industrial processes?

Your Telephone Voice

(The Times Of London)

The wary man has two voices, his own and his telephone's. An unwelcome caller can be spied on from behind the curtains or, even, at a pinch, through the letter-box; an unwelcome call cannot be diagnosed, more often than not, from the handwriting, and tucked under the blotting pad unopened. But the man who telephones has on his side the two great advantages of insistence: He is noisy and keen as accessories. The noise irresistibly tempts you and is met by lifting the receiver, the anonymity irresistibly suggests that only good news is on its way. A more-than-human strength is needed to ignore the telephone entirely: acknowledging human weakness, it is best to answer—but always with some one else's voice.

This telephone voice should be as different from your own as chalk from its complementary cheese. A mere faint divergence will trick, but not long. Before the club-boss or creditor, aunt or eccentric millionaire, the full difference must be emphatic. A Devon burr does well in London, Lowland Scots in the Midlands, and there is nothing so puzzling to friends you meet in the city, say, Nottingham or Newcastle as the telephone answered by some over-inoculated Old Etonian or the Bronx. People will at first be bewildered by your own clansman rudely down, suspecting a wrong number; they will think of reversed charges and be only too countered, eccentric relatives will investigate the attic, you are even think of burglars and ring up again within the next ten minutes. Then, at last, he is on one hustle you, anger you, or make you laugh: he will answer consistently, invariably, and in character. Only when the undoubtedly welcome has said his piece—and he once can you fetch your self—remembering to pause a moment—and arrive.

This double identity solves other problems besides those of the unwelcome and the persistent. The perennial telephonist's worry of what to say when he picks up the instrument need not make you self-conscious when you are shrouded in no thought, a disguise. "Hullo, it we are always being told, is improper, the voice of the assistant; yet who wants to sound professional at all hours of the day and night? To announce your number, we all have a smoking feeling, suggests pompous and declamatory; to give your name is plainly indiscreet. But if you are the foreign or at least regional accent of your assistant, any eccentricity will pass on him you can unload all the quirks you never dared indulge yourself. "Yis, sir, Mr. Jones, 'e's in the countryman's "Ah," which, while pleasant, commits nobody, should be followed by "Oi" or "Pronto" or even "Hi," which will confound every one, or stick to the dull "Yes," and keep the character of your voice enough.

Gradually your friends will accept the assistant as the real stranger they never meet; will begin, indeed, they find your employing him, one evening when you are bored and not too busy, arthritis and sinuses, and gossip with Alec dual personalities, that one day the myth will slip and the other will the puppet his master. Make him e gaging enough, and you and your assistant are forever other and immortalize your creation. You will no longer be forced to employ

Farm Federation Urges Ban On Cheese Imports

OTTAWA (CP) — The 430,000-member Canadian Federation of Agriculture Thursday appealed to the government to aid provinces in providing free milk for children in primary and secondary schools.

At the same time it urged that all further imports of cheese be banned while there are surpluses in Canada; that the government dispose of surplus butter in export markets; and that the price-support on butter of 58 cents a pound wholesale be continued for two years.

To help farmers overcome economic suffering, the federation urged also that price supports, now covering hogs, butter and eggs, be extended to wheat, oats, barley, corn, concentrated milk products, cheese, forage crop seeds and poultry meats.

POTATO TARIFF

The federation urged that federal support prices be based on a new formula worked out on the basis of the relationship between prices of farm products and other goods in the period 1925-29.

On other farm issues, it proposed: The government rescind its order reducing subsidies on the movement of prairie feed grains to other parts of Canada; a protective tariff be imposed against imports of potatoes from the United States; various tax cuts for farm equipment.

But the federation's greatest concern was over the decline in farm prices and the continuing high level of farm production costs, reducing returns to farmers.

"The result," said the federation, "is a cost-price squeeze that has made serious inroads on the standard of living of Canadian farmers."

Will Continue Research Work Into Leukemia

OTTAWA (CP) — Medical research into treatment of leukemia —cancer of the blood—will be continued at St. Michael's Hospital, Toronto, with financial support from both the provincial and federal governments, Health Minister Martin said Thursday.

He was replying in the Commons to Stanley Knowles (CCF — Winnipeg North Centre) who asked whether anything could be done to make available sufficient quantities of a pituitary growth hormone being used in the research.

The research at St. Michael's is under direction of Dr. C. J. Bardawill.

Dr. Bardawill was reported to have found some temporary improvement might occur in the blood picture of chronic leukemia in adult patients during a limited period of treatment with the hormone. But the doctor did not claim to have found a cure for the disease.

Found in Home

HAMILTON (CP) — Cornelia Cranssauelberg, 13, who ran away from her Toronto home six days ago after an argument about a comic book, was found in a rooming house here Thursday.

The landlady, who said the girl had lived at her house since last Tuesday, called police when she recognized the girl's picture in a newspaper.

Basic Speed Limits May Be Reduced

TORONTO (CP)—The city traffic division Thursday recommended a reduction in the basic speed limits in the city to 25 from 30 miles an hour with the exception of certain zones in which speeds up to 40 would be permitted.

Inspector Robert Kerr said in a report he considered 40 a reasonable and safe speed in certain areas. The report had been requested by the civic traffic committee following several demands for a lower speed limit in school zones.

However, inspector Kerr warned against tampering with speed limits until a thorough study has been made by traffic engineers and the police department.

CAMPBELLFORD

Afternoon Tea Proceeds Go To Card Tournament

CAMPBELLFORD — A successful afternoon tea was held by Mrs. Allan Coveney on Wednesday at her Decora Ave. home, the proceeds of which Mrs. Coveney donated as her effort to the card tournament currently being sponsored by the Hospital Auxiliary.

Mrs. Coveney was assisted by Miss S Cowan, Mrs. Retta MacDonald, Miss N O'Brien and Miss Jean Belford.

The sum of $24.25 was realized.

Mrs. Joseph Smith acted as treasurer for the afternoon.

WOULD STRIKE RAILWAY

NEW YORK (AP) — President Michael J. Quill of the Transport Workers Union (CIO) Thursday scheduled a Sunday afternoon strike of 30,000 non-operating employees of the Pennsylvania Railroad, in a telegram to the national mediation board, Quill claimed the railroad failed to live up to its collective bargaining agreement with the union.

Hog Producers Are Promised New Legislation

TORONTO (CP) — The Ontario Hog Producers' Association has been assured of new legislation covering marketing schemes for farm products, V. S. Milburn of Toronto, secretary-manager of the Ontario Federation of Agriculture said at the association's annual meeting here.

The Ontario Farm Products Marketing Act will be amended and the changes will meet with the association's approval, Mr. Milburn said.

He told some 800 farmers from all parts of the province that present legislation and marketing schemes will not protect them from future attacks. He said proposed amendments to the act would not become law unless accepted by farmers through their organizations.

BOARD CHALLENGED

Ontario hogs now are sold through the hog producers' marketing board. One group, led by Theodore Parker, Seiningville farmer, has challenged the board's right to market hogs and asked that the scheme be declared unconstitutional. The case is scheduled to be heard in court at Stratford in May.

Meanwhile, a vote of confidence in the board machinery should put before the association. Disapproval of the scheme is considered unlikely.

Mr. Milburn suggested that producers seek the judgment of the people by a vote.

Charles W. McInnis of Iroquois, president of the association, said hog producers with the proper marketing machinery should enjoy a price level for their hogs higher than any other province.

He added that allegations that United Livestock Sales, the board's selling agency, has made profits of over $26,000,000, were "unfair." Last year the agency's profit was only $48,000, he said.

PRODUCERS CRITICAL

Wilfred Bishop of Norwich, seeking election as association president, said he favors freer competitive markets but is not opposed to the board or agency.

A delegation of Grey county producers criticized the Ontario government for "timidity and reluctance . . . toward providing adequate legislation that would keep abreast of developments."

DECIDE IT'S SUICIDE

TORONTO (CP) — A coroner's jury decided Thursday night that a self-inflicted bullet wound killed 34-year-old Zygmunt Zalewski Jan. 25. At the time of the shooting police said he may have been murdered.

BEAVER GIVES RINK

FREDERICTON (CP) — It was announced Thursday that Lord Beaverbrook has contracted for construction of a $400,000 rink here for school children and university students. The rink building will be completed by September.

Weddings

RIFE—CARTER

A very pretty wedding was solemnized on February 5, in the United Church at Angola, Indiana, when the Rev. J. Sapp united in marriage Gwendolyn Myrtle Carter, of Belleville, daughter of Mrs. Gordon Vanderwater, and the late Clare Carter, to George Thompson Rife, son of Mr. George Rife, of Lackey, Ohio, and the late Mrs. Rife, in a double ring ceremony.

The bride wore a street-length suit of beige and copper with matching accessories of copper and corsage of white roses.

The bride's attendant, Mrs. Joel C. Davis, Clare Carter, to George Thompson Rife, son of Mr. George Rife, of Lackey, Ohio, and the late Mrs. Rife, in a double ring ceremony.

The bride wore a street-length suit of beige and copper with matching accessories of copper and corsage of white roses.

The bride's attendant, Mrs. Joel C. Davis, wore a dress of red with corsage of red roses.

Mr. Joel C. Davis attended the bridegroom.

The couple are residing in Bowling Green, Ohio.

Christ Church C.C. Holds Auction Sale

"Going, going, gone" Once more Christ Church members and friends enjoyed the bargains offered at the regular Monday meeting, special event—an auction sale!

Daisy Rosevear and Joan Taylor capably encouraged spirited bidding on the many items donated for the sale. Included were, articles of clothing; grocery stock; household articles; "ads" and many other useful things.

President Marguerite Cooke announced that the next Monday night would be a general work meeting when bazaar sewing will get under way.

Refreshments were served by hostesses, Margaret Wiggins, Dorothy McCormick and Shirley Boyce.

'Women's Institute

RYLSTONE W. I.

RYLSTONE — Mrs. Gerald Barnum, was hostess to the Rylestone Women's Institute, on Tuesday afternoon, when 26 ladies and seven children were in attendance. In the absence of the president, Mrs. Wilfred Spencer, the meeting was in charge of the first vice president, Mrs. Carl Linn.

There was to have been an afternoon "Short Course", at this meeting, on "Brighten Your Home with Color," but owing to the illness of the lady from the department, who was to put it on, it has been postponed to a later date, when it is expected the Institute will meet with the Women's Association of Zion United Church, in the Sunday School Hall, at Petherieks Corners.

Mrs. Percy Reid, convener for "Citizenship and Education," was in charge of the balance of the meeting.

Topic — "Women's Institute as a Community Builder," by Mrs. Ernest Irwin; reading, "Push Button Age", by Mrs. Ray Stewart; contest, "Jumbled Cars and Trucks", by Mrs. Alfred Akins; reading, "Cheer Up, Life Was Meant to be Enjoyed", by Mrs. Don Kerr; contest, "Girl's Names Found in Songs," by Mrs. Don Stewart.

The program committee was Mrs. Alfred Akins and Mrs. Don Stewart.

Refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by the lunch committee, Mrs. Sanford Wilson, Mrs. Ray Stewart, Mrs. Arthur Brick and Mrs. Jack Wilson.

Sewing for the Campbellford Memorial Hospital was distributed after the meeting.

The next regular meeting will be the annual meeting, in April, and will be held at the home of Mrs. Lily Anderson, Hall-mill "Pay Your Fees". Reports of year's work, and conveners' records will be given, and the election of officers for the coming year.

Chief Justice J.C. McRuer Speaks On 'Elizabeth, Queen of Canada'

"Political figures rise and fall. They have their day and cease to be; but the crowned head of the British Commonwealth is not the political head, but the spiritual head that symbolizes the unity of the 660 millions of people who are not united in a common racial background, nor in common customs, nor in common religions, nor do they have a common creed," stated Chief Justice the Hon. C. McRuer, Chief Justice of the High Court of Justice for Ontario, as he addressed the Women's Canadian Club last evening in Queen Alexandra School, on "Elizabeth, Queen of Canada."

Chief Justice McRuer, who was introduced to the Club by Mrs. Donald L. MacKinnon, due to the absence of the president, Mrs. W. L. Langlois, through illness, remarked that he was pleased to accept the kind invitation to address a club such as this, as it was a great deal in the community with its devotion to Canadian affairs.

STATUTE OF WESTMINSTER

In opening his address, his Lordship began by stating that in 1931 his Majesty's government had passed the Statute of Westminster which gave statutory effect to the report of the Imperial Conferences Committee of the Imperial Conference of 1926, and declared that Great Britain and the Dominions were autonomous communities within the British Empire equal in terms, in no way were they subordinate one to the other in any aspect of their domestic or internal affairs, although they were united by a common allegiance to the Crown and freely associated as members of the British Commonwealth of Nations.

In accordance with this declaration and the Statute which was passed following it, and also as a result of the meeting of prime ministers who represented the Commonwealth countries in December 1952, at London, which recognized new constitutional relationships within the Commonwealth, Canada's parliament, by an act, proclaimed on May 28th, 1953, her with her Majesty's consent, declared Elizabeth II, Queen of Canada. Since that time Canada's allegiance has been and 'is to Elizabeth the Second, by the Grace of God, of the United Kingdom, Canada, and her other realms and territories, Queen, head of the Commonwealth, defender of the faith."

COMMONWEALTH OF NATIONS

In referring to the Commonwealth of Nations, his Lordship stated that "their systems of government are quite different; some call themselves republics; some, dominions; some, colonies. South Africa calls itself "The Union of South Africa"; Australia, "The Commonwealth of Australia"; New Zealand is just "New Zealand"; Pakistan, "Pakistan"; India, "India"; Ceylon, "Ceylon"; and Canada, "Canada." Some have complete independence of action, complete legislative independence from the British parliament and some are linked by a formal tie, but all call themselves members of the British Commonwealth of Nations. Above all this there is a spiritual unity of thought—a loyalty to the crown incapable of definite, which is not loyalty to the remainder overlord, but a loyalty to a humble servant, and no one is more conscious of that than her Majesty Queen Elizabeth herself."

HER MAJESTY'S

DEDICATION SPEECH.

The Chief Justice quoted from her speech on April 21st, 1944, on her 21st birthday, from a small room in Cape Town, in which she as Princess Elizabeth, made her dedication, which said: "I declare before you all, my whole life, whether it be long or short, shall be devoted to your service and the service of our great imperial family to which we all belong. But I shall not have strength to carry out this resolution alone unless you join in it with me as I now invite you to do. I know that your help we will be unfailingly given. God help me to make good my vow."

In February, 1953, Princess Elizabeth became Queen on the death of her father, King George VI. Upon reaching England—she had been on the first leg of her itinerary to Australia and New Zealand—she said, to her Councillors of State, in part: "On the sudden death of my dear father I am called upon to assume the duties and responsibility of sovereignty — I pray God will help me to discharge worthily this heavy task that has been laid upon me for the rest of my life."

In speaking of her coming coronation, she said: "At my coronation next June, I shall dedicate myself anew to your service . . . I shall ask you all whatever your religion may be, to pray for me on that day, to pray that God may give me wisdom and strength to carry out the solemn promises I shall be making and that He may keep me always, and you all the days of my life."

CORONATION PICTURE

Of the coronation picture, the Chief Justice presented a first hand account of the coronation scene in Westminster Abbey, stating that it was not a spectacle of pride, but a solemn and religious dedication of the life of a beautiful young woman to the exacting tasks that rests on the shoulders of any one person in the world. The scene was viewed by one of rare beauty, and color, softened by amber lights, with representatives from every country in the world save two, Gold broadloom covered the floor, and robes of office of every order of knighthood, from an ocean of deep reverence and perfection of service and performance without one discordant note. "It was part of a tradition of British life developed from antiquity, but by evolution and not by revolution."

RECOGNITION, OATH, ENTHRONEMENT

The three portions of the service—the Recognition, in which the Archbishop of Canterbury presented each assembly Elizabeth, their undoubted Queen; the Oath, in which Her Majesty was asked if she would take the oath, to which she replied "I am willing"; in which she promised to govern the people of the United Kingdom, and Northern Ireland, Canada, Australia, New Zealand, Union of South Africa, Pakistan, Ceylon and all her possessions and other territories to any of them belonging according to their respective laws and customs," and the Enthronement in which she was escorted to the crimson upholstered chair with the golden letters "E.R."

His Lordship concluded his address with Toynbee's description of the British Monarch: It stands today as the symbol of a successful and perhaps unique revolt against the latent in all transitions from primitive, to advanced political orders; it has become the link binding a concourse of free peoples, not only to a single Crown, but also through the Crown, to political liberty and the supremacy of the law."

The speaker was thanked, on behalf of the club members, for his interesting and informative address by Mrs. D. I. MacKinnon.

Women's Activities

ST. JOHN'S W.A.

CAMPBELLFORD — The February meeting of St. John's W.A. was held in the Sunday School basement with the president, Mrs. Robert Fox, in the chair.

The meeting opened with psalm, Mrs. H. Lovatt playing "Nearer My God to Thee," followed by the Lord's Prayer. This was in memory of the late Mrs. H. G. Richardson, who was a faithful worker in the society.

The hymn "Onward Christian Soldier," was sung and Mrs. Fox then read an article from the Reader's Digest based on the hymn.

A cooking sale in the bowling alleys on March 12 was announced. Also as a money raising scheme, 100 stockings to hold pennies will be distributed to the members.

The president used a new gavel given to the W.A. by Mr. Walter Scott, who made it himself. The secretary was authorized to send a note of thanks to Mr. Scott for this useful gift.

A substantial sum was voted to the Church Building Fund. After the meeting was turned over to Mrs. Watson and Mrs. Craighead, the group leaders in charge.

The devotional period was taken by Mrs. C. W. Turner, who chose Psalm 79 for the Scripture reading. Two violin solos by Mrs. Don Rutherford were much enjoyed. Mrs. Ward Archer gave a timely reading and Mrs. Don Nicolson a vocal solo.

A contest, conducted by Mrs. Watson brought the meeting to a close. Refreshments were served.

HOLLOWAY STREET W.M.S.

The Holloway Street W.M.S. held its March meeting with Mrs. Coulter, the president, presiding.

Mrs. Johns gave a good report on the missionary tea, Miss Snow. Mrs. P. White was appointed the group delegate to the Picton Presbyterial.

Mrs. Kilbank had charge of the program, "Let us adjust our attitudes," and the theme "Let this mind be in you." Assistance Misery, Weese and McCoy took part in the program.

Mrs. Varcoe spoke on her work among the children when she was doing social service in Montreal. She took as her motto "Others".

These children were nearly all of Scandanavian descent. She cited a verse on this topic.

Mrs. Daniels gave a solo, the words of which were written by Col. Booth.

Following the meeting tea was served in which a social invitation was extended to all.

Y's Menettes Make Novelties For Bazaar

The Y's Menettes club of Belleville held its regular meeting on Tuesday evening in the YMCA, with Mrs. V. Weir, president, presiding.

After a short business discussion the remainder of the evening was spent serving on aprons and novelties for the novelty table in connection with the St. Patrick's tea which is to be held this month.

A pleasant evening closed with refreshments served by the hostesses of the evening, Mrs. C. White and Mrs. C. Lowther.

Bridge St. J.E.A. Holds Meeting

Daffodils and tall yellow candles gracing the tea table lent a foretaste of spring to the much-enjoyed supper served by Miss Maybee and her group at the March meeting of the Jubilee Evening Auxiliary of Bridge Street United church held on Tuesday evening.

The meeting opened with the singing of a hymn, with Lenten meditation was read by Miss Gertrude Lasby, president. Announcement was made of a joint meeting to be held on Thursday, April 7, at 8.15 p.m., the speaker at which will be Mrs. Minielly of King Street United church, Trenton.

Miss Grace Houston contributed a reading vointing out three things needed in Christian Stewardship—witness in going; in giving, and in serving. Following the treasurer's report, Miss Helen Cook read a letter from Mrs. Gordon Gray, nee Mary Locke, in Singapore, expressing appreciation for the gift sent to Dr. and Mrs. Gray from the auxiliary, and describing in vivid detail various phases of life at the language school where Dr. and Mrs. Gray are studying in preparation for their work which will begin in Thailand in March.

CHILDREN'S CLOTHING NEEDED

Mrs. Emery, Supply secretary read an appeal for children's clothing, sizes one to nine years, for Overseas Relief. Articles may be brought to the May meeting.

It was decided that the auxiliary will supply dessert for the Explorers' Mother and Daughter banquet in May.

The devotional service with its theme "Evangelism, the Church's Business", was in charge of Mrs. Tom Colden, program convener, assisted by Mrs. Roy Doherty. Mrs. Colden read an interesting chapter from "Deep Tracks" based on Mrs. Nellie Anderson. Scripture was read by Mrs. Anderson, and prayer was offered by Mrs. Emery.

A comprehensive review of the chapter from the study book "The Church in India", was given by Mrs. Lyle Jones, whom auxiliary members were happy to welcome back into its midst.

DUKE ON EXERCISES

LONDON (AP) — The Duke of Edinburgh will fly to the Mediterranean next week to take part in combined fleet exercises. Buckingham Palace said Thursday night.

'St. Lawrence Seaway Project' Topic at Women's Study Club

"The construction of the St. Lawrence Seaway is the realization of a mighty dream", the members of the Study club were told at their regular meeting, Tuesday evening.

Mrs. H. Hunt welcomed the members as they arrived at her home for the meeting, Mrs. G. Williamson assisted her.

Mrs. R. R. Varcoe, the professional soul was handed on the words from Isaiah 42:15-21. It was stressed that this particular section of Isaiah is prophetic of the St. Lawrence Seaway discussion to follow because it is optimistic.

ST. LAWRENCE PROJECT

Mrs. J. A. Buchanan, Mrs. H. A. Fraser and Mrs. J. C. Geneja, each in her own way presented the national and international aspects of the great project of building the St. Lawrence Seaway. Mrs. Buchanan told of instances in Canada's growth and development.

A chart was displayed to show the sea level and the locks involved. Some will have to be changed, some done away with, to make downbound and upbound transportation more effective.

It was brought out that this project will bind Canada economically and politically and establish her as one of the great nations of the world.

THE TRANSPORTATION—ELECTRIC POWER

Transportation and electric power will be enhanced; natural resources will be developed and Labrador's iron ore will become available. There will be an expansion of world trading opportunities and industries will boom. Jobs will be provided for about 30,000 workers for a period of about five years. The Canadian shipbuilding industry will flourish.

It is planned to set a toll to cover the cost.

New cities will inevitably rumbroan and others will disappear.

According to the business and professional men of Belleville, this city will receive only bright benefits—but the hydro power will benefit greatly. On the whole there is a forecast of busy boom days ahead for Canada.

Mrs. Varcoe graciously thanked the three members for such an excellent presentation of the year's topics.

Many questions were asked by the members and discussion continued as light refreshments were served by Mrs. A. G. Powell, Mrs. G. Williamson and although Miss J. Tickell was not present, she was partially responsible for the dainties.

Huffs' Island Residents Mark 40th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Wallbridge, Huff's Island, were guests of honor at a turkey dinner at the home of their son, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Yeamans, and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Young, on Friday, on the occasion of their 40th wedding anniversary.

Pink and white 'mums were used in the living room and a large white anniversary cake centred the dining room table.

Present were, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Kinnear, Melville; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Morton, Wallington; Mrs. James S. Wallbridge, Miss Roberta Wallbridge, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Wallbridge, Mr. Henry Wallbridge, all of Huff's Island.

Mrs. Fred Morton, on behalf of the relatives, presented the bodiced couple with a tri-light lamp; a lovely insulated teapot and pink 'mums.

The bride and bridegroom were married 40 years ago at the home of the bride's parents, of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Kinnear, Melville.

After a honeymoon to New York City, Mr. Wallbridge brought his bride to Huff's Island built home, where they still reside.

They have one son, Henry, at home, and one daughter, Mrs. Elmer Young (Frances) R.R. 1, Amelisburg.

ADVICE to the LOVELORN

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

SHE'S WORRIED ABOUT BEING SET

Dear Miss Fairfax:

I'm Tim. I'm still be 15 in April. I'm in the seventh grade at school and am the oldest girl in the room, and it makes me feel dumb, clumsy, awkward and shy. I never volunteer to read, or answer questions, because I'm afraid of doing the wrong thing.

I joined the 4-H club, and it's lots of fun, but I just sit there and listen. I run away from everyone because I don't know how to carry on a conversation. There is a boy I like, and I like his sisters, but they have their own friends, so they leave me out because I'm dull to have around.

At home there is just my mother and my aunt, and my aunt gets disgusted at me very easy. I feel my relatives don't like me, either.

Could you help me to get along with people? — M.D.

Dear M.D.:

It is hard to be so shy, and, whether they are young or old, shy people always feel that everyone else is smarter and more interesting and attractive than they are.

Perhaps you don't realize how many people there are who feel just as you do. You probably don't know, either, that those of them who really try, can get over their shyness. It's true that extremely shy people sometimes can't conquer it completely. But they can at least get over it enough so that they aren't constantly thinking about it, and uncomfortable when they are around others. I'm sure you can do this, too.

You shouldn't try to overcome all your difficulties at once. It's easier and better to take it gradually. Because you can't suddenly overnight, become easy and friendly with people, a good talker and popular with everybody. But, one day, you can do something that will help you grow more sure of yourself.

For example, let's say you will make up your mind to be more bonest now, you will say a cheerful and friendly hello to the children you know whom you happen to meet. Never mind about trying to start a conversation. Just get in the habit of greeting them as though they were friends of yours. At home, think up some one thing each day that you can do for your mother, and something you can do for your aunt that will show that you think about them and want to help them.

Keep this up for a week, and see if it doesn't become easier to speak to people you meet, and to get along with happily with the folks at home. Then write me again, giving me your name and address so that I can send you a personal letter, and tell me how you made out. I'll try to give you some ideas for the next week, and I'll also send you my sheet of suggestions on "How to Be Popular."

WAIT AWHILE BEFORE MAKING YOUR ROMANCE PUBLIC

Dear Miss Fairfax:

For the past five months, I've been going steady with a boy 20. I'm 17. We plan to marry in two or three years, after he has graduated from college and get settled in a job.

Do you think it is too soon for me to invite his parents to my home to meet my parents? — Mary H.

Dear Mary:

If a formal engagement exists between you and this boy, then your parents should invite his parents to come to dinner, or extend hospitality to them in some other way, so that they could become acquainted. But it seems to me a bit early for this move yet. After all, you have been going with this chap only five months, and it would seem to me wiser for you to keep your plans to yourselves at least until a few more months have passed.

I realize that the two of you undoubtedly feel quite certain that you are in love, and for keeps, but at the same time, it's better not to make these things public too quickly, lest it should turn out, later on, that you have to hastily a decision.

Frankly, I'd wait awhile before getting your parents together.

SHE WANTS TO JOIN A CLUB—FATHER SAYS NO

Dear Miss Fairfax:

I am 17, and I want to join a Community Centre club here in my town. I was invited to go there one night and I did, and after the meeting, some of the girls and I accepted a ride home with some boys who go to the same school as we do and are in the club.

When we got to my house, the car didn't stop in front of it, but at the next house. My father was on the porch and saw us, and he didn't like it a bit, and said that I couldn't go to the club any more because it was too late. The meeting is from 8 to 10 o'clock.

Do you think my father is being fair? — B.E.

Dear B.E.:

It's a little hard to understand why your father should object to your going to a club meeting in such a place as a Community Centre, or why he should think that 10 o'clock was too late.

I don't know exactly what you mean about the car stopping at another house instead of yours, or why that should have any particular bearing on the matter. Could your father have thought, perhaps, that you hoped, by getting out of the car at a little distance from your own home, he would not see you and discover that the boys had driven you home? I should think, however, that he would be glad to have you brought home by boys you know. Perhaps he would also have preferred you to come home alone at 10 o'clock at night.

I suggest that you talk with whoever heads up this young people's club and see what solution might be worked out for your problem. Anyone who is used to directing recreation for boys and girls will know how to deal with such a situation as yours, and I'm sure would be glad to help you straighten matters out with your father, so that he will approve your joining the club.

Beauty

By HELEN JAMIESON

HINTS TO THE HOME-MAKER

Some women were born to be home-makers. They consider that cooking is one of the seven arts. They take pride in keeping the menage spic and span.

There are other women who hate housework, consider it drudgery, and usually do a good deal of grumbling about it. They are inclined to dream about a career they might have had if they hadn't married.

Then, who have fallen into this morbid state of mind should snap out of it. Since running the domestic machine is their job they might as well make the best of it. If they will organize their daily duties and plan their work carefully, they will not find it as arduous as if they go at things in a haphazard manner. An orderly mind makes for orderly accomplishments.

What with all the gadgets we have now, and wonderful mechanical helps, not to mention frozen foods, all prepared and cooked, housework isn't as difficult. It is just what one thinks about it, like a lot of other things in life. When you are washing dishes instead of indulge in pleasant meditations and tender memories. You don't have to use your brain to clear up the mess in the sink.

Housework chores can be healthgiving exercise if done the right way. There are a few rules to be kept in mind.

When stooping to pick up the baby's toys, don't bend forward at the hips, not at the waist line. Hips are nature's hinges. By using them properly it is possible to retain one's youthful waistline. That bending movement helps to keep muscles of the mid-section.

When she reaches to a high shelf Mama should give her torso a powerful stretch. There's nothing like it for cultivating body balance. A few extra stretches should be included in good exercise.

Correct posture must be maintained always. It is the secret of attractive body lines and youthful appearance.

GOOD MANNERS

By MRS. BEECKMAN

SHE SHOULDN'T BE "PERSUADED" TO PROVIDE THE LIQUOR

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

I've been asked to be best man at a friend's wedding—and am worried! Lately both my friend and his bride-to-be have dropped little hints (and big ones too) that they expect me to pay for the liquor for the wedding supper—which that is to be given, I don't think I would ever be considered a tightwad, but I haven't been out of the service very long, have recently been married, and have to watch my budget very, very carefully. My wife and I had a most simple wedding because we could not afford anything else, and so of course this kind of liquor-expense wasn't even considered. I just can't figure out how I should treat the liquor they are planning to have. Please advise me about this. — R.H.

You have absolutely no obligation in this matter of paying for the liquor for the wedding, and it is really an outrage that your friend and his bride-to-be trying to persuade you into making over to them that you must take over this big expense. Most unbecoming vanity. Every item of the expense for the reception is the responsibility of the bride and her family, especially for they are the hosts of the occasion. They have two . . . only two . . . financial responsibilities as best man: (1) you and your wife send a wedding present to the bride-to-be (and it needn't be an expensive one); (2) you must supply for yourself (today it's usually by rental) the clothes the groom tells you you're to wear to the wedding. My advice is that you have a straight talk with the prospective groom, and set him straight about what's what as to your responsibilities.

WHO RECEIVES ANNOUNCEMENTS?

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

I'm to have a baby soon, my first, and I'm planning to send birth-announcements. Should these be sent only to my families, relatives and friends? In other words they shouldn't be sent—should they?—to mere acquaintances? The special reason I ask this is that in the past I have at times received birth announcements from casual acquaintances; and I have always thought I should have sent a baby gift of some kind in acknowledgment of such announcement. Now I don't want this to happen when I send out my announcements. — B.T.M.

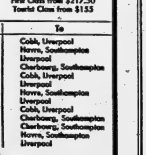
Your idea is correct . . . to send birth announcements only to the families (they'll know the Happy News, of course) that you'd like to have the announcements to keep), to relatives, of course, and to friends, of course. But not to mere acquaintances.

SHALL BRIDE GIVE GROOM A WEDDING GIFT?

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

The question arose the other day as to whether or not a bride should give a wedding gift to the groom. Is this customary, or is it entirely up to the bride? — H.W.

It is customary for the groom to give his bride a wedding present . . . usually jewelry, very often "the" string of pearls (real or simulated). While it is not really customary for the bride to give the groom a wedding present, the bride very often does do this. However, it depends entirely on her preference. (Many brides make it a point of giving the groom something that can be marked not only with his initials but also the date of the wedding.)



WOMAN SHOULD MAKE OWN CONTRIBUTION

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

The Situation: a woman and a man have gone together to a theatre or to a concert—football or any other public place, and the announcement is made that a collection will be taken up for a specified charity. The Problem: should the woman take for granted that her escort should make "their" contribution, or would she be expected to make a contribution also? (This problem has perplexed me several times, and last evening, when it occurred again, I decided to ask your for the answer.) — The Woman.

You should make your own contribution. That would be common sense . . . for your escort's contribution is his contribution, not yours. Just as in childhood, you make your own contribution.

QUESTION:

I made my Christmas cake from your recipe. . . . the first I cut was about three weeks old and lovely; after that it became impossible to cut and just broke into crumbs . . . I wrapped it in its original brown paper, foil, a dish towel and more paper, set it in a kettle with a lid—and place . . . and yet it dried out. What did I do wrong with that delicious recipe? Not to be beaten I made another substituting a lb. of dates instead of raisins and it cut beautifully right up to the last piece. Do you think dates had anything to do with keeping it better or was it just luck?

you called your recipe with "I think and hope this recipe will turn out to be one you save to give to your daughter." I hope that someday I'll give it to my four soon-to-be. — A. R.

P.S.—This is one of my favorite recipes. Thought maybe you would like it. . . .

LEMON DELIGHT

(Courtesy Mrs. A. R.)

One small can evaporated pineapple (note from Emem: I used 15-oz. tin), 1 package lemon jelly, 4 oz. package of cream cheese, 1-2 pint whipping cream, 1-3 cup chopped celery, 1-2 cup chopped cherries, drain juice chopped nuts, 1-2 teaspoon salt, from a can of crushed pineapple add water to make a pint of liquid and bring to a boil. Dissolve a package of lemon jelly dessert in the liquid, beat until foamy and jet it nearly set. Cream cheese with the whipping cream, fold into jelly mixture, add best well, add celery, nuts, 1-2 tin crushed pineapple, salt and cherries.

ANSWER:

Thank you for the Lemon Delight recipe.

At the time of typing this I still have some of the cake made from recipe you refer to left. It is moist and just as I like it to be. I have kept it stored in a tin box wrapped much as you did yours. Sometimes when little mysteries occur in baking I wonder about the difference in flours, and the difference in the size of eggs. These are two variables over which we have doubtful control. Probably I should designate the amount of eggs in a cake like this by measurement. For instance 3 large eggs will fill a measuring cup and 4 medium eggs will fill a cup. Did you like the cakes with the dates in it? Or did you prefer the flavor of the original recipe. I do not want to close this subject. If you feel that I have mentioned something that might explain why the cake was dry after 3 weeks, write to me again.

QUESTION:

Would you please send me copy of Jane R.'s Automatic Oven Menus. . . also recipe for two loaves of bread (white) and for your biscuit supreme.—T.C.

ANSWER:

I have mailed a copy of another release on Automatic Oven Menus. . . also recipe for two loaves of white bread.

BISCUITS SUPREME

Put sifter over bowl and into it measure 2 cups sifted but not sifted all-purpose flour, 4 teaspoons baking powder, 1-2 teaspoon each salt and cream of tartar, 2 teaspoons sugar. Sift through into bowl. Cut into these dry ingredients 1-3 cup butter (or half butter and half shortening or all shortening) with pastry blender until fairly fine. Add 2-3 cup milk all at once. Quickly stir to barely mix. Pat and roll out on lightly floured board and cut into 2-inch biscuits. Bake on ungreased cookie sheet at 450 deg. Fahr. for 10-or 12 minutes.

Sunday School Lesson:

A New Way of Life

By ROY L. SMITH

Christianity came into the world both as an explanation of life and as a new way of living. And as such it must continue, or pass out of existence.

We will leave the explanation, for this week, to the theologians, and consider the way of living. But it must never be forgotten that the two go together.

FIRST CHRISTIAN COMMUNITY

A common faith and a common danger drove the Christians together, very closely together, during those first months following the death and resurrection of Jesus.

It must be remembered that Jesus was executed as a seditionist, a rebel against Rome. True, Pilate did it reluctantly, but once that it was done he proposed to permit no presumption. It was highly dangerous for any man to be known as a friend of one who had been crucified. Every Christian was a marked man.

Many of the Christians were poor. All of them believed that Jesus might be expected to return at any moment. The first concern of the local church was to hold their forces together in anticipation of that return. Therefore, those who owned anything sold it piece by piece in order to provide for the necessities of those who were destitute. The need of one became the problem of all.

IT WAS NOT COMMUNISM

This first Christian communal plan was something very different from communism. Its economic aspects were in part of the Christian message. Owning all things in common was only an expedient devised to assist in the solution of a very immediate and a very incident problem.

Nowhere in the history of the early Christian church is there the slightest evidence that any new convert to Christianity was required to join the communal system. True, two individuals are reported to have died in a spectacular death because they betrayed the fellowship, but it is made perfectly plain even in that instance that their participation had been purely voluntary.

No New Testament preacher is reported anywhere to have advocated any new economic system. Rather, all insisted that the faith was intended to produce a new spirit and attitude of life. He does great violence to the New Testament record, therefore, who speaks of that temporary experiment as communism.

THEY TRUSTED ONE ANOTHER

The strength of the early Christian movement lay in the fact that they trusted one another; the weakness of the modern Christian movement is that so large a body of believes spend their energy spreading suspicion within the movement.

A single raid on the part of the Roman police could have wiped the Christian church out of existence within the space of minutes. The safety of all depended upon the integrity of each.

Except for the fact that they had been possessed by an entirely new spirit—something in the way of a radical innovation in human relations — the Christian movement could never have survived.

The Uniform Sunday school lesson for March 6: "THE FELLOWSHIP OF CHRISTIAN LOVE." Acts 2:42-47; I Corinthians 12:1-7; Ephesians 2:11-22; 3:14-19; Colossians 3:13-17; I Thessalonians 3:11-13; I John 4:7-11.

Unless all the world can be permeated by that spirit of fellowship "we shall all likewise perish."

The hope of the world is not in balances of power and stockpiles of weapons, but by the influence of something of the spirit of fellowship into human affairs.

Marsh Hill

DAY OF PRAYER

MARSH HILL.—The members of Marsh Hill W.M.S. held the World Day of Prayer service at the home of Mrs. Fred Campbell, with 11 members and one visitor present.

The service, prepared by the Women's Inter-Church Council of Canada, was followed with Mrs. Leslie Fiskin as chairman and Mrs. Berson Mitts as pianist.

Mrs. Charles Doan took the part of the leader in "Adoration", and Mrs. David Hollinger leader in "Confession and Penitence". Mrs. Berson Mitts leader in "Meditation and Thanksgiving".

Mrs. Farley Lindenfield leader in "Intercession", and Mrs. R. B. Fiskin leading in "Litany".

Mrs. Allyn Fiskin gave the prayer for "Her Majesty the Queen"; Mrs. Fred Campbell for "Peace", and the binding of the world together in fellowship and love; Mrs. Burtindale prayer for our children and young people, and Mrs. Walter Lindenfield, prayer for the Women of the Church."

Mrs. Leslie Fiskin gave a few thoughts on the subject, "What Your Money Does," telling how the collection from the World Day of Prayer is used. Since 1948 more than 75 million pages of books and periodicals in 20 or more different languages have been produced. Copies of the World Day of Prayer service are published in Braille.

Christian literature is most important, but it can never replace the Bible.

W.M.S. MEETING

After this service a short W.M.S. meeting was held. The members reported making four calls, sent 14 cards and one letter and had made two hospital visits.

Mrs. David Hollinger, supply secretary, read a letter from Mrs. Brown, Presbyterial supply secretary, regarding the supply allocation; a layette, overseas relief bale, and Christmas gifts for three junior boys.

Mrs. Fred Campbell reported on Temperance. Mrs. Leslie Fiskin gave the chapter from the study book, "Let's Adjust our Attitude".

Following the singing of a hymn the meeting closed with the benediction.

MARSH HILL

Harmony Club Holds Meeting

MARSH HILL.— The members of Marsh Hill Harmony club held their February meeting Friday night at the Marsh Hill school with Mr. and Mrs. John Brown as host and hostess.

The president, Mr. Berson Mitts, called the meeting to order and Mrs. Fred Campbell, pianist, played quiet music "Take Time to be Holy."

During the business in invitation to visit the Energetic Club, Holloway Street United church, Belleville, on March 18, was read and accepted.

The next meeting will be held at the school house instead of the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roswell Reid as printed on the programs.

Letters of thanks were read from Mrs. Good, Mr. and Mrs. Slater and Mrs. Ivan Clare.

PROGRAM

Mr. and Mrs. Allyn Fiskin, program convenors, presided over the following program:

Call to worship by Mr. Allyn Fiskin; Scripture reading Mark 10: 35-45 was read by Mrs. Basil Koughin. Meditation was by Mrs. John Brown, followed by prayer by Mr. Allyn Fiskin; solo, "Let the Lower Lights be Burning" by Mr. Farley Lindenfield; reading, "The Passing Hour," Mrs. Charles Rose; reading, "What I Wish", Mrs. Albert Clare; piano solo, Mrs. Ivan Clare; reading "Its That Believeth", Mrs. Berson Mitts.

Mrs. Allyn Fiskin gave a paper on the subject "Today's Call to Service."

"Is it by mere chance that the word 'Service' is spelled with seven letters? Did we ever think about it? Does it not imply duty or privilege duty to be rendered seven days in a week.

"We cost enormously in suffering, sorrow and money. Men willingly sacrifice everything including life itself rather than yield their principles, they leave a legacy of heroic service, that must neither be lost or forgotten. What are our credentials in the service of the "King of Kings", the "King of Peace?"

"Brotherhood not rivalry, must determine international relationship and sacrificial service is essential to the world's well being.

"Having made our homes ideal, we must go out to help others and give our best to Christ our Saviour.

"Do we cultivate the spirit of the Unseen Guest in our homes?

"Have you thought of this? 'Twas a sheep, not a lamb, that strayed away, in the parable Jesus told; and so with the sheep we earnestly plead for the sake of the lambs today; so there will be no danger for them to follow and go wrong. If the lambs are lost, what a terrible cost, some sheep will have to pay."

Mrs. Fiskin closed with the reading of the poem "The World Title."

The Rev. R. F. Darks closed the meeting. Mr. and Mrs. Basil Koughin held an interesting social.

Hastings Farm Forum

FRANKFORD.—1. A The farmer and the urban worker proved a good discussion topic. Some of the factors are (a) Aptitude for certain kinds of work and physical strength; (b) Love of creative work; (c) Independence as far as being one's own boss; (d) Working hours and remuneration; (e) Family life; (f) Facilities for culture and education; (g) Willingness to gamble with weather, prices, loss of job; (i) Business ability; (j) Willingness to put a large part of financial returns back into the business.

B—Rivver Valley think the average urban worker is better off; Brookdale thinks things are fairly evenly balanced because there is such a difference in people's outlook; Foxboro says the farmer has the advantage in health, security and family life while the urban worker has the advantage in take home pay, housing, recreational and cultural advantages.

Hazzard'n say the farmer is better off, but—"a good farmer has to love the land, be a good business man, a mechanic and have vision. Being better off is not financially better off. We are interdependent"—one rural needs the urban and vice versa.

2. While some thought it almost impossible for farmer and urban worker to get together for better relations, others thought meetings could be arranged for mutual advantage—such as inviting urban people to the farm forum meetings and each having an open mind.

Foxboro suggests that a farmer, during his early life, should spend a year in the city and consider it part of his education and urban workers spend summers on the farm. This should work out for better understanding.

People used to have the idea that anyone could be a farmer. Not so any more. The farmer of today is wide-awake, educated as well as his urban cousin, also self-education and self-disciplined, mechanically minded and in many cases enjoys equal cultural and recreational facilities.

Cement Plant At Napanee Will Cost $4,000,000

KINGSTON (CP)—L. E. (Mike) Merrifield of Toronto says that a company he represents will build a $4,000,000 cement plant in the Napanee district. Construction will start in the next few weeks, he added.

Close to 400 acres of land have been acquired on either side of the Napanee river and the factory will be built in either North Frederickburg township or Richmond township, Mr. Merrifield said in a speech to the Napanee Rotary Club.

RESPONSIBILITY

George Hees (PC — Toronto Broadview) said the central government has shown it intends to do absolutely nothing. Prime Minister St. Laurent had made a "clever" evasion of the issue by saying only that it is under consideration.

"OUTRIGHT DISHONESTY"

Mr. Hees, national president of the Progressive Conservative Association, said the government attitude is outright dishonesty. In 1945 it had said it was prepared to accept responsibility for unemployment.

The government was so adept at shadow-boxing and sidestepping that it met one Toronto delegation seeking help that heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano wouldn't have been able to lay a glove on it. Its "hope and grope" handling of the unemployment situation was a "national disgrace."

Joseph W. Noseworthy (CCF—York South) said the government had "proved its incompetence" to deal with unemployment in the last four years. That period, from the standpoint of expansion and production, had been the best in Canada's history.

Russell Reinke (L — Hamilton South) described as "absurd" the suggestion made Wednesday by Opposition Leader Drew for an immediate federal-provincial conference on unemployment. Such a conference could not adopt a formula overnight that would work.

Roslin

ROSLIN.—A successful euchre party was held recently in the parish hall under the auspices of the W.A., with, nine tables in play.

Prizes for the evening went to ladies, Mrs. Stanley Eaton; Miss Hazel Gilmgreland; men, Dick Kellock, William Gillespie.

DAY OF PRAYER

The annual service for the World Day of Prayer was held on Friday afternoon in the Anglican church hall with around 25 ladies present. Members of the three local churches were present and joined in the service.

Mrs. S. Stirk was Key woman this year. The address was delivered by the Rev. R. J. Kersey, of the United church.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Stirk and Mrs. J. Johnson spent the week-end in Brampton.

Miss Isabelle Estes, Reg.N., as accepted a position as nurse at the offices of Drs J. D. Empson and J. Hartt, Roslin.

Mrs. Gerald Bailey entertained at a birthday party in honor of her daughter, Joyce, on Monday afternoon.

NERVE LINKS IN A FIGHTING ARMY

The Royal Canadian Signals operates a huge nerve network, which stretches halfway round the world. For Signals ties the far flung elements of our Army into a smoothly co-ordinated fighting team.

Signals trains its own soldier-specialists in all phases of modern communications. It offers fine careers for men who want to learn its many skills . . . who want to share in proud traditions and vital work.

Radio mechanics are the trouble shooters of Signals. Their repair work calls for training in the basic theory and practice of radio and electronics.

A job for men with quick minds, sensitive fingers and an eagerness to understand basic electronics. The radio telegraphist is trained to send and receive coded messages.

Rugged nerves and nimble feet are the requirements for the lineman, who does his job forty feet in the air. He is trained to construct cable and wire systems.

The despatch rider is a tough, sharp-eyed messenger with an instinct for the right direction and the courage to take it. Trained in map reading and in basic mechanics.

Out in the field goes the radio operator, supplying communications for a fast-moving army. Trained in the rapid dispatching of tactical messages.

The switchboard operator is the keystone of the military telephone system . . . a sort of Signals pivot man. Trained to handle calls and information quickly and efficiently.

CHIPS OFF THE SPORTS BLOCK

By GEO. H. CARVEN, Sports Editor

COLTS HERE TONIGHT

The proposed train trip to Cornwall on Sunday has been cancelled. The Canadian National Railways, it seems, looks askance on trips for sports purposes on Sundays, and notified Manager Drew Smith of the Memos to this effect. So forget about the whole thing. It might not be a bad idea, however, to hop into the family jalopy and take a hike down east just to cheer the lads. They might need it.

As a matter of fact they are going to need a lot of their potential zip and hurry here tonight when they take on the Colts in the second game of the best-of-seven semi-finals. They looked lousy in Cornwall the other night, and reports have it the famous Statue of Liberty in New York turned green with envy at a dozen or so Canadian hockey players trying to steal her stuff.

The Memos are still to be reckoned with. One swallow does not constitute a binge and we have the utmost faith in the Buccaneers. They have the potential—and now is the time to bring it to the surface. They are so good—and have proved it—as the Cornwall Colts, but actions speak louder than words and they need to show it tonight. And a solid-red crowd would help matters immensely. We believe you will see an outraged Memos' squad skate out there tonight with blood in their eyes tossing everything in their power to wipe out that ignominious 10-0 collar hung on their necks in Cornwall.

JUNIOR HOCKEY

The Belleville juniors hockey squad treks to Kingston tomorrow when they meet the Limestone Canadiens in the second game of their best-of-three OHA Junior "B" playdowns. Bill Gault's gang suffered a 7-3 setback here the other night in the opening game and they have a pretty tough job facing them in overcoming the Kingston kids on their own ice. However, stranger things have happened, but not being too critical, we doubt whichever team wins will get by the powerful Peterborough kids in the next round.

BADMINTON

Tonight the cream of Eastern Ontario's badminton players go into action in the Bridge Street auditorium in the annual tournament of the Eastern Ontario Badminton Association. Some 200 players are expected from various centres of this district and some back from the Belleville Badminton Club, anticipate keen play, close competition and a highly successful tournament. Play will continue through Saturday with the championship rounds starting at 7.30 tomorrow evening. Tournament manager Lennox Smith and club president John MacDonald and their associates have worked hard to make the event one of the gala affairs in badminton history of the city and enthusiasts of the sport should not miss a topnotch sports event. The public is invited. There is no admission charge.

BASKETBALL SATURDAY

Two city junior basketball squads, readying for the COSSA hoop championships, will show their wares in one-half of a star-studded court card here tomorrow night.

The Quinte Secondary School youngsters, Ray of Quinte District Junior "B" champions, will clash with the Belleville Collegiate Institute junior squad, Ray of Quinte Junior "A" champions in what should be a thriller. In the other half of the attraction the powerful meets Albert College.

C. I. five

The first game gets under way at 6.45 at the Quinte school and the general public is invited to attend. There will be a nominal admission fee charged. Coach Johnny Hayman of Quinte, said today that the games will be one of the highlights of the basketball season with all four clubs evenly matched. Lovers of the game should not miss a sparkling twin bill.

SOFTBALL

President Gordie Steward of the Belleville District Softball Association, has set Monday, March 7, as the date for the annual meeting. The confab is slated for the West Moira Street fire hall and all softball enthusiasts, players, coaches, etc., are urged to be in attendance. Much important business is on the agenda and there likely will be an election of officers for the coming year. The affair gets under way at eight.

GOLF SCHOOL

"A bigger and better 'T' Golf School is anticipated this year," announced Mr. C. R. Morgan, chairman of the "T" Golf School, after last night's meeting of the Golf Committee, at the YMCA.

"We are very fortunate in enlisting the services of the new Pro of the Bay of Quinte Country Club, Mr. George Balazs," continued Mr. Morgan, "who will be assisted by the district's leading golf players."

The school starts on Monday, March 7th, and will continue each Monday till April 25th. The school will again be divided into a beginners' class that will meet at 7.00 p.m. and into an advanced class meeting at 8.15 p.m.

Scores Third Blank of Series With Sparkling Performance; Team Plays Germans Tonight

By ARCH MacKENZIE
Canadian Press Staff Writer

COLOGNE, Germany (CP)—When Canada and Russia meet in the pay-off game of the world hockey championships Sunday, one of the big men going for Penticton Vs will be a guy named Ivan.

The stature of Ivan McLelland, a stocky young goaltender from South Porcupine, Ont., increased greatly Thursday night when the unbeaten Vs shut out Sweden 3-0 for their ninth straight victory in the world hockey tournament.

McLelland made several spectacular saves to preserve the shutout, his third of the tournament. And he brought his goals-against average down to a remarkable .33.

For consistency no goalie in the nine-country tournament has been able to match his performance. During one stretch he went 113 minutes and 53 seconds without allowing a goal. In another McLelland kept the opposition goalless for 62 minutes and currently he is working on a string good for almost 90 minutes of shutout hockey.

GERMANY TONIGHT

Tonight the 24 - year - old netminder will have a chance to run up his string of goose eggs against Germany, winner of only one of its six games.

He has given up five goals in six games and has been outshot four to move ahead of Russia's Nikolai Putchkov, the leading goalie in last year's tournament.

Putchkov has allowed six goals in six games and chalked up two shutouts. The longest period he has gone without allowing a goal is 70 minutes. But Canada in Stockholm he allowed 10 goals in seven tournament games.

This year there have been nine shutouts in the 26 games played so far.

SLOWED UP

Although the Swedes weren't exactly pushovers for the Canadians, playing coach Grant Warwick had his guys slow up in the third period.

"This is the best club we've met," said Warwick after a second hour three is four minutes and that was enough. We clogged it a bit in the third period."

It was a clean, pleasing game before a capacity crowd of 7,000 in Krefeld's Rheinland-Halle.

The Swedes put up stiff resistance for the first 30 minutes, holding the Canadians scoreless. Hal Laycoe took off for Canada's Dick Warwick and slammed in a blue-line drive a foot off the ice to put the Canadians ahead at 11:32 of the second period.

ENDURANCE GOALS

Jack McIntyre and Grant Warwick quickly added insurance goals. For McIntyre it was his seventh of the tournament.

While the Canadians play the Germans in Cologne's outdoor rink, the Russians also will have a soft touch against the Swiss at Krefeld.

The Canadians and the Soviets have a free day Saturday before they meet at Krefeld at 5 p.m. (11 a.m. EST) Sunday. The game has been sold out for two months.

Russia, playing without their star Soviet captain Vsevolod Bobrov, also remained unbeaten as they humbled Germany 5-1 at Dusseldorf Thursday night. Bobrov took the day off to scout the Canadians.

BRUISED ARM

Also missing from the lineup was Bobrov's linemate, Eugeni Babich, who suffered a bruised arm in the game against the United States. Babich will also miss the game against the Swiss but is expected to play against Canada, a Soviet team official said.

Besides the Americans only made the Russians "one-half happy," the official said. "We must defeat the Canadians Sunday and that would make us all the way happy."

The Russians also took note of the fact that the Vs have brought two replacements from Canada for their three sliding players, who haven't seen any tournament action. "We have heard unofficially that the Canadians feel they need help before playing us," he remarked. "We do not feel that we need any more than what we have."

Defenceman Jack Taggart and forward Jim Middleton arrived in Germany from Canada in time to play against Sweden.

WATCHING THE PENALTIES

Coach Warwick was pleased with the Canadians' performance as far as penalties were concerned. The Vs drew three of the five minors handed out and have spent only a total of a dozen minutes in the cooler in their last three games.

"I keep telling my boys to play clean and skate around somebody instead of through him," Warwick said. "Apparently that the shot was sons are paying off."

The United States tied Czechoslovakia 4-4 on a disputed goal in the last minute of play and Poland defeated Finland in both games Thursday night.

Swiss referee Marques Lutta ruled that the tying U.S. goal by Rube Bjorkman was good despite Czech protests that the shot was made after the whistle had blown for a rule infraction. Lutta was led to his dressing room under police escort.

Besides the Canada - Germany (2 p.m. EST) and Russia-Switzerland matches tonight, the United States meets Poland while Sweden-Czechoslovakia and Finland are idle.

Pike to Coach Winnipeg Club

WINNIPEG (CP) — Alf Pike, Winnipeg - born former National Hockey League player and coach of Guelph Biltmores of the Ontario Hockey Association junior A series, has been signed as coach of Winnipeg entry in the Western Hockey League next season.

The signing was announced Thursday by J. D. Perrin, Jr., vice-president and general manager of the club.

Pike was recently re-instated in hockey after being suspended midway through the 1953-54 season with Guelph for removing his team from the ice during a game. Pike is expected in Winnipeg for the start of the WHL playoffs and will tour the cities involved in the league.

"We approached him about the job and he was pretty enthusiastic," said Perrin.

Pike starred with Winnipeg Monarchs when the club won the Allan Cup in 1935. He played with New York Rovers, a senior team before joining New York Rangers of the NHL. His salary with the Winnipeg club was not disclosed.

Big Pot of $132,500 Awaits National League Claimants

MONTREAL (CP) — There's a National Hockey League pot of $132,500 awaiting claimants who come a-knocking, with proper credentials and large - size wallets, within a few weeks.

Most of the awards that come out of the NHL coffers are for $1,000 each. A couple of runner-up spots are worth $500 each. It is possible for a top performer, if his team wins the post-season Stanley Cup final, to collect $5,000 or more. Last year Red Kelly of Detroit Red Wings, with two individual awards plus what he received as a member of the team, walked off with $6,000.

In addition to what they receive from the NHL, some players may stand to win double the amount. A few clubs have been known to match cash dollar for dollar.

SCORERS AND GOALIES

The wildest scrambles concern the scoring leadership and the best-goalie performance.

Three members of Montreal Canadiens — Maurice (Rocket) Richard, Jean Beliveau and Bernie Geoffrion—are staging a photo finish for scoring honors and $1,000. The runner-up gets $500.

There is no second-place money for the best goalie—the netminder who has played in the most games for the team least scored upon. Harry Lumley of the Toronto Maple Leafs leads at the moment.

Here is the break-down on individual money prizes:

Each of the six members voted to the first all-star team, $1,000; each member of the second team, $500. Total money for all-stars, $3,000.

Winner of the Hart Trophy, the player voted most valuable to his team $1,000.

Winner of the Byng Trophy, the player combining ability and clean play, $1,000.

Winner of the Calder Trophy, the best rookie, $1,000.).

Winner of the Norris Trophy, the best defenceman, $1,000.

Winner of the Vezina Trophy, the best goalie, $1,000.

Winner of the Ross Trophy, leading scorer on total points, $1,500; runner-up $500.

Each member of the team finishing first in the regular schedule, approximately $1,000. Eighteen units of $1,000 each are allotted by the league. Total, $18,000.

Each member of the second-place team, approximately $500. Total allotted $9,000.

Each member of the third-place team, approximately $350. Total allotted $6,300.

Each member of the fourth-place team, $150. Total allotted, $2,700.

CUP PRIZES

In the same 18-unit allotment, each member of the winning teams in the Stanley Cup semi-finals gets approximately $1,000 and each member of the losing teams approximately $500. Total allotted, $54,000.

Each member of the winning team in the Stanley Cup final, approximately $3,000; each member of the losing team, approximately $500. Total allotted, $27,000.

The total amount distributed from Stanley Cup play is $81,000; from the other awards, $53,500.

Gordie Howe Back to Form In Wings 6-1 Win Over Hawks; Beliveau Gets Two for Habs

By JIM HATSAKIS
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Gordie Howe broke off the weight of a scoring slump with the class that has made him one of hockey's greatest players. But it may have come too late in his drive for a trophy he has gobbled up for the last four years.

The ace rightwinger scored three goals in the third period Thursday night to lead the second-place Detroit Red Wings to a 6-1 National Hockey League rout over Chicago Black Hawks.

It was Gordie's outstanding accomplishment of the 1954-55 campaign, a reminder of his magnificent scoring performances of a couple of years ago, and the first three-goal effort of the season and the first time he has scored in 16 games.

That Howe would break out of the slump was inevitable, but the three goals and an assist ran his point total to only 53. It put off the pace in the run for the league's individual scoring crown.

Last year Howe had 86 goals and 48 assists were good enough for his fourth consecutive scoring championship and Art Ross Trophy.

Gordie now has 27 goals and 26 assists. The 27 goals matched big Jean Beliveau of Montreal Canadiens, who is leading the scoring pack. That's almost an impossible task for Howe in the final week's only seven Detroit games left.

Thursday night Beliveau scored two goals in pace. the league-leading Montrealers to a 6-1 win over the cellar-dwelling Bruins in Boston.

Beliveau moved one point ahead of teammate Maurice Richard in the scoring race. Following Richard by one point is Montreal's Bernie Geoffrion, who collected two assists Thursday night to run his point total to 46.

At Detroit Howe started his surge at 6:32 of the third session when he beat netminder Hank Bassen on a solo rush. He scored again at 13:30 on a 35-footer and again at 17:28 with a low 30-footer. Gerry Odrowski assisted on the first for the Wings. Defenceman Red Kelly got the other assist. Jerry Toppazzini scored Chicago's only goal at 12:37 of the first period.

Despite four-point victory, Red Wings remained four-points behind Canadiens in the race for the league championship. Canadiens have a game in hand.

Montreal's 6-1 win Canadiens' seventh game without defeat. A 5-5 tie with Boston.

Kenny Mosdell and Baldy MacKay added to Beliveau's pair of goals for Montreal's other scoring. Real Chevrefils tallied for Bruins—his 13th of the season.

Big Seven

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Big Jean Beliveau of Montreal Canadiens vaulted back into first place in the National Hockey League's individual scoring race Thursday night, but his performance was somewhat overshadowed by Detroit's Gordie Howe who came through with a long-awaited outburst.

Howe came through with three goals and an assist in the Red Wings' rout of Chicago Black Hawks to advance into a fifth-place tie with the Hawks' George Sullivan.

Beliveau picked up two goals to regain the leadership he lost to team-mate Maurice Richard Wednesday night. He now has 23 goals and the same number of assists for 70 points, one more than the Rocket.

The leaders:

	G	A	Pts.
Beliveau, Montreal	35	35	70
Richard, Montreal	36	33	69
Geoffrion, Montreal	36	32	68
Olmstead, Montreal	9	46	55
Howe, Detroit	27	26	53
Sullivan, Chicago	21	32	53
Smith, Toronto	30	20	50

'Sasky' Heads Major Sports Events This Year

REGINA (CP) — Saskatchewan has started a year of major sports events which probably won't be duplicated in the province for another 50 years.

The province, celebrating its golden jubilee this year, is host to national and international events.

The Canadian curling championships, by far the most spectacular, open in Regina Monday. Saskatchewan never bothered has won the big tankard which goes with the title and is host to the big spectacle for the first time. This year, a Saskatchewan rink, the Campbell brothers from Avonlea, is favored to win.

The week-long bonspiel will be followed by the North American figure skating championships, last staged in Cleveland two years ago. It has never been staged in Saskatchewan, Regina again is host for the championships and is to be held March 15-17.

Dominion basketball championships will be held here May 6-7, followed by Dominion wrestling championships May 13-14. Dominion track and field championships in four classes will be held in Saskatoon July 4-5.

Graham, Vejar Fight Tonight

NEW YORK (AP)—Two of the ring's real gentlemen—aging Billy Graham and eager, young Chico Vejar—battle it out tonight in a bout regarded as a tuneup at Madison Square Garden.

Their 10-rounder is a big one for both. It could be the last for the 32-year-old Graham. The veteran of 14 years and 101 pro bouts wants to pile up some extra cash in his last campaign.

Now the snap has gone out of Billy's legs and his punches let up a fraction too late. The once rapid reflexes are dulled. The likeable guy with the broad nose may still have enough left for Vejar, 25.

The 10 p.m. (est) bout will be broadcast by NBC.

Vejar was the favorite before he went into the army two years ago. He was ranked fifth among the welterweights until he was outpointed and later stopped by Chuck Davey, another TV hot shot who has faded into retirement.

Smythe, Westcott Reach Semi-Finals In Canadian Badminton Championships

MONTREAL (CP) — Unseeded Boy Westcott of Toronto routed third-ranked Gordon Simpson of Montreal Thursday night to move into the semi-finals of the Canadian badminton championships.

Westcott, suffering a paralyzed leg tendon, was defeated 15-11, 15-7.

Defending national champion Don Smythe of Toronto ran Bert Fergus of Vancouver until he was exhausted and then quickly took the sets 15-7, 15-3.

In the semi - finals tonight, Smythe will come up against fourth-seeded Dave McTaggart of Vancouver and Westcott will meet second-seeded Darryl Thompson, also of Vancouver.

ALSO IN SEMIS

Smooth - stroking McTaggart moved into the semi-finals with 15-5, 15-7 wins over Martin Semple of Toronto. Thompson relied on his hard smashes to give him a 15-9, 15-11 victory over Jack Muir of Montreal.

Marj Shedd of Toronto, bidding for her third straight women's title, moved into the semi-finals by defeating Nancy McKean of Montreal 11-8, 11-6.

Tonight she will come up against Kee Lai of Montreal, title-holder in 1951.

Second-seeded Jean Dunkeld of Montreal meets Jean Waring of Calgary in the semi-finals after defeating Audrey Hepworth of Woodstock, Ont., 13-10, 11-4.

ALSO IN JUNIOR

Miss Waring will also meet Audrey Rhodes of Woodstock, Ont., Saturday for the title. Miss Rhodes advanced to the finals by defeating Heather Doig of Montreal 11-3, 11-8.

In the junior boys event, 16-year-old Harold Moody of Montreal dropped the first set to Larry Ladyman of Winnipeg but the defending champion came through with 15-2, 15-6 victories to put them in the finals. Tonight he will meet Ike Hodjer of Toronto, who defeated second-seeded Ken MacMillan of Calgary 11-15, 15-4, 15-7.

Hirejiac whipped Bob Moore of Montreal 15-2, 15-0 to move into the quarter finals against Wimpeg's Dave Thompson and defeated Thompson 15-5, 15-3 before meeting MacMillan.

In men's doubles, Thompson and Fergus defeated Bill Silver and Dick Evans of Montreal 15-7, 15-10. They will meet Bunny Brewster of Woodstock, Ont., and George Thorpe of Toronto who took a 15-2, 15-5 victory from Montrealers Leo LaFontaine and Ben Lloyd.

In the women's doubles, Joan Jeanesay of Toronto and Miss Shedd defeated Ann Kennedy and Claude Lamere 15-2, 15-3 to go into the semi-finals. They will be matched against Alice Spreeman and Audrey Rhodes of Woodstock, who won by slim 15-10, 16-18, 17-16 over Miss Dunkeld and Mrs. Grant of Montreal.

Raiders Win Over Tri-State

WINDSOR (CP) — Assumption College Purple Raiders, in a final exhibition tune-up for their important inter-collegiate basketball League game against University of Western Ontario Monday, trampled Tri-State College from Angola, Ind., 104-85 Thursday night.

The free-scoring game marked the first time the Raiders have scored more than 100 points in a single game. The win evenged an earlier 77-74 loss to Tri-State, and boosted Assumption's season record to 14 victories in 25 starts.

Marine Hopes To Swim Strait

VICTORIA (CP) — A 375-pound former United States marine hopes to swim frigid Juan de Fuca strait between the southern tip of Vancouver island and Washington state.

Bert O. Thomas, 38-year-old logger from Tacoma, Wash., will make an attempt in April or May, said Hugh Evans, a new captain who will navigate the still-uncoquered strait for him.

The 18½-mile journey between Beechey Head and Port Angeles doesn't worry Thomas, who says he's swum 35 miles in the South Pacific. He is aware of the cold water and strong tides which last year forced lone long-distance swimmer Florence Chadwick to give up after a few 4½ miles. The prize was $10,000.

PLANS ANOTHER TRY

Meanwhile, Miss Chadwick has declared she'll tackle the strait again this year.

"I feel it is a direct feud between the strait and me," she told Fred A. E. Manning, president of the Malahat Paint Company, Victoria, and the Victoria Daily Times cosponsored the event last year.

Mr. Manning also said Toronto's Marilyn Bell, conqueror of Lake Ontario in a 33-mile swim last September, may be induced to make a similar attempt.

Others who have said they will try to cross Juan de Fuca sometime this summer:

Patricia Russell, 18-year-old Vancouver girl, who is a first-year student at the University of British Columbia. She won her first race at 13.

OUT OF RETIREMENT

Mrs. Ann Meswaw of Vancouver, mother of a 16-year-old son, retired from competitive swimming since 1939, but still holder of a 14-mile record from Vancouver's English bay to Bowen island.

Bob Hooper, 33-year-old Vancouver policeman. He swam for Canada's British Empire Games' teams at London in 1946 and Sydney in 1938 and also competed in the Berlin Olympics 1936.

Mrs. Anna Boonin, an Austrian nurse who came to Vancouver from Vienna three years ago. She says she has swum off the west coast of Vancouver island, off the south coast of England, and in the Danube river.

They're all keen—and they need to be. The water temperature averages about 49 degrees in summer and 45 in mid-Winter. Victoria nautical authority, said before each of Miss Chadwick's unsuccessful swim last year: "These rips are worse than any in the English channel."

THE HARD WAY

CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP)—First baseman Earl Torgeson of Philadelphia Phillies played 133 games last year with a dislocated right shoulder. It was learned Thursday. Torgeson said he stayed in the lineup and kept his injury secret because he didn't want to get the name of a "putty" ball player." A "putty" baseball player is one who is often injured and unavailable for play.

Canadiens Set League Record For Assists

MONTREAL (CP) — Montreal Canadiens have set a National Hockey League record for assists in one season, statistics showed today.

Including Thursday night's contest against Boston, the Canadiens have picked up 398 assists on 211 goals, 13 better than the old record of 398 set in the 1928-29 season. Montreal still has eight games remaining to play.

Canadiens also have a chance to set a record for goals but they will have to pick up a little better than three a game to do it. That mark is also held by the Red Wings. They set it in the 1950-51 season with 326. Canadiens now have 211.

Montreal has averaged 1.88 assists per goal scored while they have averaged 1.56 assists on its 172 goals.

Record Entry For Ski Meet

MONT TREMBLANT, Que. (CP) An all-Canadian field of 69 racers has signed up for this weekend's running of the oldest ski meet in Canada—the Quebec-Kandahar.

Giving the event a touch of the past will be George Jost of Montreal. Jost, still a steady weekend skier, won the first Quebec-Kandahar in 1933 by edging his way down a bush-covered Mont Tremblant run in slightly more than 45 minutes.

But times have changed. This year the field will be trying to best the downhill mark set in 1949 by George Fjalstad of France, who dashed over the 1.71-mile drop in two minutes and 36 seconds.

Heading the list for the Kandahar's combined downhill and slalom title—the last trial of the season—is Francois Bonlieu of the French ski team—will be the top-rated Tommy brothers from Ottawa, Art and Andy, Jr.

HOLIDAY ON VE RETURN

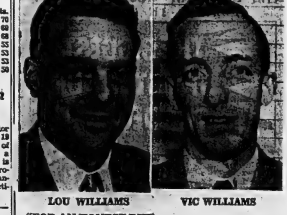
PENTICTON, B.C. (CP)—A public holiday will be declared here when the Penticton VE return home from the world hockey tournament in Europe, Acting-Mayor E. A. Titchmarsh said in a special council committee for the "Welcome Back to Penticton" parade has been selected to work with other Penticton groups.

Upsets Mark Quebec League

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

The Quebec Hockey League was marked by two upsets Thursday night. The tail-end Valleyfield Braves downed the first - place Shawinigan Falls Cataracts 4-3 while Chicoutimi Saguenéens survived a third - period drive by Montreal to defeat the Royals 8-6.

The Chicoutimi win, at Montreal, strengthened the Saguenéens chances of clinching the fourth and last playoff position. The loss left the Royals in a second-place tie with the idle Quebec Aces.



New Trophy For Yachtsmen

TORONTO (CP)—A new international yachting trophy for the Great Lakes championship season dragon, class yachts has been given to the Yacht Racing Union by a brewing company, it was announced Thursday.

Winner of the trophy also gets a trip to Europe.

The deed of gift stipulates that the trophy will be competed for annually. The yacht union of the Great Lakes is the authority which governs all competitive yacht racing from Quebec bridge to Duluth.

Boom in Television Stations Played Out in United States

By SAM GORDON
The Kibitzer

What you see in the hand of your bridge partner is only what he actually tells you with his bids. By following the order in any T-A-N rule (takeout, assist, no trump) the picture is clearer.

Hold the north hand shown here:

♠A Q 7 5
♥9 8 2
♦K 4 3
♣10 4

Suppose the bidding starts off like this:

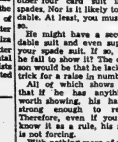
South	North
1 Heart	1 Spade
2 No-trump	3 No

What is it that you see in your south partner's hand? Are you forced to bid again? What are you going to do about it with what is in your hand? And why should you?

An opening bid of one shows five tricks, four high, two aces; a biddable suit of at least four cards. Thereafter, such a hand may raise in number once for each additional trick.

Your spade takeout forced partner to bid once more. No trump is last in the order of choice of bids. Therefore, his second bid shows nothing more. If so, a picture of his hand seems clear.

He probably has a four card heart suit and a distribution of 4-4-3-2. More than likely his other four card suit is not in spades. Nor is it likely to be biddable. At least, you must assume so.



He might have a second biddable suit and even support for your spade suit. If so, why did he fail to show it? The only reason would be that he lacks a sixth trick for a raise in number.

All or which shows evidence that if he has anything more worth showing, his hand is not strong enough to reveal it. Therefore, even if you did not know it as a rule, his no-trump is not forcing.

With nothing more of your own to show voluntarily, you should pass. You have said your say. Nobody is forcing you to say more.

Filmland's Stars Turning Up With Deals for Own Companies

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Found: An honest actor.

A good number of filmland's stars are turning up with deals for their own production companies. The reason given for these are many—"So I can do the kind of picture I've always wanted to do" . . . "I'm tired of taking orders; I've always wanted to be my own boss."

Latest to join the producer ranks is Kirk Douglas. His refreshing reason: He likes the money.

"Sure, I want the dough," he admitted. "I'd be a fool to say I didn't. I want to make pictures that make money.

"I think the time has come when pictures of quality can make money, too. TV has done that. People can get all of the mediocre entertainment they want on the home screen. They're more discriminating about movies now; they expect something better than out-of-the-mill.

REDSKIN KILLER

"A few years ago, pictures like 'On the Waterfront' would have been sneered at as 'arty' by Hollywood. Now such films are big moneymakers."

Douglas is one of the stars backed by the lively United Artists corporation (others: Rita Hayworth-Dick Haymes, Henry Fonda, Jane Russell-Bob Waterfield). Lest his backers worry, let me add that his first film will be that reliable quantity, the western. It's called "The Indian Fighter," and Kirk plays a redskin killer who eventually finds he has more in common with Indians than white men. He joins the tribe.

Kirk's first production starts in a month and there's a reason for his hurry. After being absent from the screen for a year, he is having four of his films released in two months — "20,000 Leagues," "Man without a Star," "The Racers" and "Ulysses."

"Two years' work dissipated in two months!" he said. "Now I've got to get busy and make some more."

AT THE McCARTHY

'Sitting Bull' Stirring Tale

On June 25, 1876, General (then Colonel) Custer and his men met in battle a group of Sioux and Cheyenne Indians led by Sitting Bull and Crazy Horse. The Colonel and his force were completely annihilated, thus challenging the worst military defeat in the history of the United States. There has been much discussion, in history books, newspapers, novels, biographies, etc., as to the whys and wherefores of the defeat. But with it all there has never been a movie which told that heroic, thrilling story of Custer's last stand. Now the advent of "Sitting Bull," the CinemaScope, Eastman Color saga, released through United Artists, which opened yesterday at the Odeon McCarthy Theatre.

In this picture, stripped of all pretensions, letting the very drama of events speak for themselves, we see the clash of the Indians and white men as something more than an isolated, individual adventure story. "Sitting Bull" stars J. Carrol Naish in the title role, a gallant, wise, Indian chief who fought the fight of death for the survival of his tribe. In the role of an army officer who could see the Indian point of view is the dismay of his fellow military leaders, is Dale Robertson. The woman who loved Robertson despite his seemingly "odd" thoughts about the Indians, is engagingly played by Mary Murphy.

Sidney Salkow directed the screenplay by Jack DeWitt with a feeling for the times that reflects itself in a way that makes one feel he is watching a battle and living a story of today.

Irish Players Hurt in Crash

TORONTO (CP) — Gerry McNamara, star netminder of the Toronto St. Michael's Juvenile Hockey team, and two teammates were injured Thursday in a car crash on their way to practice.

McNamara, suffered a badly sprained ankle and team manager Rev. John Crowley said it is "very doubtful" the tall goalie will be able to play Saturday when St. Catharines TeePees in Ontario Hockey Association semi-final series. TeePees lead the best-of-seven series 3-0.

Forward Les Duff and defenceman Tom Meldrum, passengers in McNamara's car, are expected to play Sunday. Duff suffered facial cuts and Meldrum had bruises to the head and knee.

I've got to go up and wash for dinner, he said, and ma said, William Potts, do you mean to stand there and tell me you're not ready yet, after I made a cheese soufflay at your special request and warned and cautioned you explicitly that it wont be fit to eat if you're not pun- ed and waiting at the table the mo- ment it comes out of the oven? Thats the unforgivesible final straw, she said.

There, you see, you're writhing in histerical pane while I'm as calm as a cucumber under the same circumstances, pop said. But dont worry, my dear, I'll sit down without washing up, he said.

Which he did, probably being a good thing for him.

faith. If you can relax, do that with equal enthusiasm; it's a healthy art.

February 21 to March 20 (Pisces) — Careful thought to next week's duties will facilitate their procedure. Could you not get some details tended to over the week-end?

You born today have a variety of talents, can go through life using many of them daily with- out seeming to overdo; could succeed notably at an occupation and have time for a successful hobby, too. You may tend to think too much about "what was meant" when someone spoke to you "that way." Try not to be too sensitive. You can handle details ably and with accuracy and help others out of quandaries. Be more philosophical about your difficulties. Enjoy music, chil- dren's company; get sufficient outdoor exercise.

Little Benny's Notebook

Ma was bizzy getting dinner, and pop looked in the kitchin, saying, it smells good in here.

It wont be long now, ma said. By the way, William, the dentists nerse called up and said it's time you reported there to have your teeth checked.

My teeth feel fine, and so do I, pop said. I dont want anybody look- ing for trubble with flashlites and long pointy wires, pop said, and ma said, And there's no use sitting on a powder keg till it ex- plodes in your face when an ounce of prevention is within easy reetch. Really, William, I mean honestly, one woman is equal to 10 men when it comes to hearing pane without making a fuss, she said.

But for Peet sake I haven't got any pane, pop said, and ma said, You mean you cant even bare the very thought of it, when I went through my whole attack of systics with less disterbance than you made when you nicked your little finger with the can opener, she said.

Well, one man's pane is another

Minor Hockey

The Booth Radio team earned their way into the intermediate finals of the city playoffs last night with a 10-9 win over Elmcraft Warner with Bob Scott's two electric and Big "A" qualified for the semi-finals. Scott won the series in goals to none while Warner's action beat Robb Royals 6-3 and captured the series 8-6. Big "A" reached the semi-finals the hard way, downing Jarvis Lions in a team 3-0 in regulation time to tie the series at six goals and then adding another goal after 16 minutes of overtime to take the round 7-6.

In the squirt games, the Black Hawks thanked Joe Rangers' ice to capture their series two games to none while the Canadiens edged the Maple Leafs 2-1 for a two-games-to-one victory. The Bruins scored a 1-0 win over the Red Wings in an exhibition game and will now play the Hawks in the semi-finals for the right to meet the Canadiens in the finals.

MIDGET

Dave Coe and D. James shared the starring role as the Big "A" Coe scoring all three of their goals in regulation time and James getting an unassisted marker in the sudden-death extra session. Galpin and Cris Jones each had one of Coe's markers.

Bill Foster paced the Northern club to victory with three goals and an assist while Rowebottom, Webb and St. Louis also scored. Wannamaker had two helpers and Heron one. Galpin potted the other of the Royal goals with Cerow getting the other and Latchford drawing an assist.

Ab Wright was the big gun in Booth's win scoring twice and adding three assists while Austin had two and one apiece. Hall fired a pair of goals. Garrison claimed one goal and two assists, Gee had one and one and did Boomhower while Kerrulak also scored. Alyea, Caddick and Russell each picked up one helper. Northern Electric and Big "A" play a double-header in the semi-finals next Thursday night.

SQUIRT

Mike Colhane and Bobby Boyle scored the Canadien goals with Norman Richards getting the lone Leaf marker.

Jim Hurst and Richard Eves were the Hawks' heroes with two goals each and their club will meet the Bruins in a twin - bill semi-final game.

Mike Murphy was the lone goalgetter in the exhibition game, giving the Bruins another victory.

STIRLING

100 Attend Day of Prayer Meeting

STIRLING — Approximately 100 women, representative of the Protestant churches in the village, and from Eggleton United Church, nearby, gathered in St. Paul's United Church, Stirling, on Friday afternoon for "The World Day of Prayer" service, which is always held on the first Friday in Lent.

The church was beautifully decorated with spring blooms by the local W.A. Mrs. Russell Stapley played soft music as the ladies were arriving and officiated for the hymns.

Mrs. George Carlisle, president St. Paul's W.M.S., presided and the theme "Abide in Me" was carried throughout the service.

"I am the vine, you are the branches. He who abides in Me, and I in him, he it is that bears much fruit, for apart from Me you can do nothing." The service was based on Adoration, Compassion and Penitence, Meditation and Thanksgiving.

Mrs. Joe Whitehead of St. John's Church of England, read the prayers for Mrs. John Hall and Roy Eggleton, St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, continued the meditation in John.

Mrs. Maurice Clancy, president of the Eggleton group, brought several Bible messages followed by Mrs. Brent Carr, president of the River Valley Missionary Auxiliary.

In the intermission, prayers were offered for royalty by Mrs. James Hough, St. Paul's; for peace and world relowship by Mrs. Hiram Rodgers, St. John's; for children and young people, Mrs. Carl Bridges, Eggleton; and for Instructors of Youth, Mrs. Ross Hermiston, St. Andrew's.

The offering, amounting to almost $30, was gathered by Mrs. Sid Williams, Mrs. Dave Leury, Mrs. Morley Arthart and Mrs. Percy Ulrman.

Mrs. Burton Woodbeck sang "The Holy City," with Miss Ruth Mumby as accompanist.

SPECIAL ADDRESS

Miss Gena Brown gave a special address on "The Origin of Prayer, its Power and Value."

Dedication closed with the prayer: "Grant that we whom Thou has called to a unity in heritage may extend more abundantly to others what we so richly enjoy." The hymn "By Kingdom Stands and Grows Forever" and the benediction closed the service.

Expanded Civil Defence Program Is Announced

TORONTO (CP)—A greatly expanded civil defence program reaching into every hamlet in Ontario was announced Thursday by Provincial Secretary W. M. Nickle. The Ontario government, he said intends to give its full support to the establishment of civil defence organizations in all the municipalities of the province. Mr. Nickle spoke at a press conference and later in the legislature.

He said money for a stepped-up defence program will be made available when Premier Frost brings down his budget next Thursday.

The provincial secretary also announced establishment of a civil defence committee. It includes Provincial Police Commissioner F. V. McNeill, Ontario Fire Marshal W. J. Scott, Ontario Civil Defence Coordinator R. H. Fe Smith, Deputy Provincial Secretary R. A. Bell and other government officials.

WILL BE TARGET

"This continent," Mr. Nickle said, "will certainly be target in the event of a war and any country would try to cripple our industrial effort."

Small municipalities were as important as the larger centres since, in the event of bombing, urban victims and survivors would have to be evacuated to hospitals and shelter in outlying places.

The Ontario government is prepared to pay 50% of the cost of local municipalities participating in the civil defence plan, Mr. Nickle added. It was acting on the basis that any step to prevent dislocation of industry in time of war was worth the cost. The municipalities would pay like amount and the federal government would contribute 13 cents per head.

Mr. Nickle said any civil defence worker injured in the course of his duties will be covered under the Workmen's Compensation Act.

Asks Longer Term

MONTREAL (CP) — James Henry Simpson, 34, of Goderich, Ont., Thursday was sentenced to five years in penitentiary, at his own request, after he pleaded guilty to stealing a $40 drill.

The sentence was originally set at one year in jail but Simpson asked that it be changed to the longer penitentiary term.

Would Cut Spending

TORONTO (CP)—William Daly, separate school representative on the Toronto board of education, said Thursday night some items on the city's budged "savor of grand larceny" when $9,000 are unemployed in Toronto.

Addressing a public meeting considering estimates he referred to such articles as a human trunk model, a strobocon and trampolines. He suggested cutting $15,000 from equipment and supplies.

A strobocon is an instrument for testing the pitch of musical instruments.

Famous Trichologist Will Demonstrate How to Grow Thicker Hair and Guarantees It; Demonstration To Be Held Here

This new method of home treatment of saving and growing thicker hair will be demonstrated in Belleville, Ont., Sunday ONLY, March 6, 1955. These Private individual demonstrations will be held at the New Queen's Hotel on Sunday ONLY, March 6, 15 mean to 9 p.m.

HALIFAX, Feb. 18 — In an interview here today Wm. L. Keele, internationally famous trichologist and director of the Keele Hair Experts said "There are 18 different scalp disorders that cause most men and women to lose hair. Using common sense, a person must realize and know that the so called cure-all could correct all the disorders," he explained.

GUARANTEED

"The Keele firm, recognizing that most people are skeptical of claims that hair can be grown on balding heads, offer a guarantee" Keele said.

Once a person avails himself of the Keele treatment his skepticism immediately disappears. To insure this, we offer this guarantee: "If you are not completely satisfied with your hair progress at the end of 90 days, your money will be returned."

HOPELESS CASES DISCOURAGED

First the Trichologist is quick to tell hopeless cases that they cannot be helped. But the "hopeless" cases are few. Only if a man is completely bald should he be in this lost category.

If there's one, no matter how light, thin, or colorless, the Keele treatment can perform wonders.

A complete, private examination is given by a Trichologist to determine the condition of his scalp and cause for his hair trouble.

FREE EXAMINATION

This examination is very thorough and highly technical. It requires 20 to 30 minutes.

Asks Longer Term

MONTREAL (CP) — James Henry Simpson, 34, of Goderich, Ont., Thursday was sentenced to five years in penitentiary, at his own request, after he pleaded guilty to stealing a $40 drill.

The sentence was originally set at one year in jail but Simpson asked that it be changed to the longer penitentiary term.

RAWDON

Bethel United M.B. Completes Executive

RAWDON — The second meeting of Bethel United Church Mission Band was held Sunday morning in the church hall under the leadership of Mrs. John Mulheron. There were 13 members and ten visitors in attendance and two new members joined at this meeting. This newly organized band now has a membership of 14.

MORE OFFICERS ELECTED

Ronnie Heath presided and after routine business, the following were elected to office in addition to those already installed at the first meeting: assistant secretary, Marion Reid; assistant treasurer, Ellen Treneer; press reporter, Allan Fletcher; "World Friends" secretary, Iwan Reid; peace secretary, Faye Cooney; temperance secretary, Bobby Green.

All sang "Breathe on Me Breath of God" and Allen Treneer read the Bible lesson found in Corinthians.

The offering was gathered by Bobby Green and dedicated in unison.

The study book was introduced by the leader who gave a graphic picture of the necessary plans that are needed when a new village in India is to be started. The natives must give important consideration to the water supply and the fertility of the soil, after which large trees are hewn down and the site planned to erect their small dwellings.

Donalda Heath read the story chapter, "Life in a Fig Tree Village."

Each child then made his or her own copy and this is to be placed in their own individual record book.

Allow Railways More Latitude In Setting Rates

By JOHN LeBLANC
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA (CP)—The board of transport commissioners has modified a section of its 1954 decision under which a new system of basic freight rates is established.

The modification, made public today, changes differentials between all-rail rates and water rates to and from eastern Canada and the head of the lakes.

It allows the railways greater flexibility in setting these differentials than the board had permitted in a previous judgment March 1, 1954. The differentials are the spreads between all-rail and all-water or partial - water hauls.

In the decision announced today, the board left it to the railways to establish differentials—it previously had set them—but said that the railways' differentials will be subject to review on complaint from interested organizations.

SHIPPING SEASON

The decision indicated the board is taking this course because of the imminence of opening of the inland water shipping season.

Otherwise, the 25,000-word "reasons for judgment" decision of the board left unchanged its original order, laying down a method of equalizing "class" rates as between regions over most of Canada. That order became effective Tuesday.

The class rate equalization is expected to have these effects:

1. Rates in the western provinces will be dropped from their long-established levels. There may be no change from current levels because as an interim measure in 1953 the board ordered a general five-per-cent reduction in class rates, to be terminated when the equalization order came into effect on a trial basis.

Tuesday.

2. Rates within Ontario and Quebec will go up somewhat.

3. There will be no change on freight moving within the four Atlantic provinces.

END ADV FOR 19 A.M. EST

TEST MECHANICAL VOTER

TORONTO (CP) — A voting machine demonstration will be held today in the office of the Ontario municipal board. Municipal and provincial officials will attend. City council last year asked the province for permission to use a limited number of voting machines on a trial basis.

NOT IMPRESSED

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont. (CP)—When Mrs. Mary Eager heard that Charyn Clark of St. Catharines was boasting that her cat had 32 toes, her reply was "so what?" Mrs. Eager said her tabby has 36.

HORSES DECREASE

TORONTO (CP)—The national horse population is decreasing by 75,000 yearly, secretary Lionel B. Furcell said Thursday at the annual meeting of the Canadian Pony Society. The Canadian horse population last December was 851,000.

ARMY UNIT PRACTISES AT BARRIEFIELD FOR U.S. TESTS

The Canadian Army's No. 1 Radiation Detection Unit has been carrying out exercises in the area around Barriefield, Ont. The object of the training is to test the efficiency of equipment used in the detection of radioactivity and prepare the unit for its participation in exercise "Sapling" at the United States Nevada Proving Ground this spring. Here RCN Petty Officer L. C. Stewart of Shannon Park, N.S., repairs one of the instruments used by the Detection Unit, and in the background Gunner LL-Cmdr. W. J. Cooke, Toronto, Ont., unit medical officer, checks pocket instruments carried by unit members to record the accumulated radiation to which they have been exposed. (Central Press Canadian).

Probe 20 Market 'Killings' As Winchell's Tips Backfire

First Cabinet Minister To Visit Russia

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada's globe-trotting minister of defence production, James Sinclair—this summer will become the first cabinet member to visit behind the Iron Curtain.

Mr. Sinclair, 46, outspoken critic of Communist philosophy, was named by the cabinet last Tuesday as Canadian commissioner to the 9th annual meeting of the International whaling commission opening in Moscow July 11.

Announcement of the appointment was delayed until Friday in order that Russian officials in Ottawa could inform Moscow and communist newspapers in London of the decision.

This will be Mr. Sinclair's third major overseas trip in recent years. In 1950 he toured Europe attempting to enlist aid toward Canada by a number of countries and last year visited southeast Asia before the Colombo Plan St. Laurent's round-the-world trip.

The Russian commission meets annually to deal with conservation of the whale fishery through establishment of quotas and other methods. Canada's whaling industry is not large but she has overseas stations off the Pacific and Atlantic coasts.

Prompt Action Urged for Three Subway Lines

TORONTO (CP)—Prompt action on a $161,000,000 plan for three downtown subways was urged Friday by the Toronto Transit Commission.

The TTC outlined plans to civic officials on two proposed east-west lines along Bloor and Queen streets and one north-south line on University, avenue.

The 14 miles of rapid-transit lines would take 13 years to complete, TTC officials said. Toronto's and Canada's, only rapid-transit line is the 4½-mile north-south Yonge street subway.

DEATH WAS NATURAL

TORONTO (CP) — An autopsy Friday showed that Emmanuel Cohen, 48, whose body was exhumed Thursday at the request of his family, died of coronary thrombosis. Authorities said he was involved in a scuffle immediately prior to his death Dec. 29 but the autopsy showed it had no bearing on the death.

THE WEATHER

TORONTO, (CP) — Synopsis: A this layer of cloud covers southern Ontario this morning. The sun is expected to break through this cloud this afternoon. However, skies will start to cloud over again this evening and snowflurries are forecast for tonight and early Sunday. Little change in temperature is forecast. Close skies over northern Ontario this morning are expected to cloud over this afternoon. Light snow will spread across this region tonight.

WASHINGTON" (AP) — Senate investigators have disclosed that they are looking into about 20 instances in which big stock market killings may have been made through leaked information or "tips and rumors."

This word came from Chairman J. William Fulbright (Dem. Ark.) of the Senate banking committee following testimony Friday that tips given by Walter Winchell on his Sunday television show have caused sharp market fluctuations.

The witness, Edward T. McCormick, president of the American stock exchange, said those who followed a tip from Winchell and bought shares of Amurex Oil in 1953 lost more than $50,000 in less than an hour and a half.

McCormick also told the committee, which is studying the stock market on stock exchanges, that speculators swamped his exchange with orders following another Winchell tip two months ago. Again, he said, the tip followers wound up losing money and would have lost much more if the exchange had not moved quickly to hold the price down.

Winchell, a newspaper columnist and radio and TV commentator, has given New York that no one has challenged the accuracy of his reports.

Winchell added that he himself has never had any direct or indirect interest in Amurex.

Fulbright told reporters the committee hopes to learn whether anybody made stock market gains by buying stock before Winchell's Jan. 9 television broadcast and selling it the next morning when the buying avalanche pushed the price up temporarily. He said it was possible the commentator would be called as a witness if it should develop there was any connection between him and those who profited from the record sale of Amurex.

RNs TO HAVE WORKSHOP

TORONTO (CP)—The Registered Nurses Association of Ontario will conduct a one-week workshop in teaching education here next week. Some 30 instructors in the province's nursing education and instructors from schools throughout Ontario will participate in running the sessions at the Toronto Western Hospital school for nursing.

WAR VETERANS' ALLOWANCES ARE DEBATE SUBJECT

Opposition Wants Ceilings Raised

OTTAWA (CP)— Canada sent 400,000 soldiers overseas in the First World War.

Of these, 60,000 were killed on the battlefields of France and Belgium; another 180,000 were wounded. Pensions were provided for the widows and the men who suffered disabilities.

What of the remaining 340,000, most of whom served for months or years in the front-line trenches? Most of them, like Canada's army, in the parlance of the Second World War, battle fatigued.

In 1930, the government brought down legislation to provide allowances for them and the next dependents if they were in financial need.

The allowances, known as war veterans' allowances, are the subject of the act or in special cases at 55.

All told, the government has awarded pensions to 113,636 veterans or their dependents. Mostly through the deaths of these First World War veterans, the number has dropped to 41,467. Of these, some 30,000 are veterans, a few of the Second World War, and some 11,000 widows.

MAY BOOST PAYMENTS

The maximum monthly allowances are now $50 for single veterans and $90 for married veterans. Their dependents are entitled to be able to receive the allowances are $40 for single veterans and $1,200 for married veterans. The Common Friday debated a motion by Liberal Leo Nadeau who arose to $60 for single and $108 for married veterans or their widows and the permissive incomes to $960 and $1,440 respectively.

The basic exemption criticism was that the permissive ceiling should be raised to $1,200 and $2,000. Also requested, was an allowance increase for married veterans to $1,200.

Since 1930, the allowances have cost the government nearly $242,000,000.

Mr. Lapointe said the increases proposed by the government would cost an additional $2,250,000 to $3,000,000 a year. The opposition proposals would increase this amount by a further $13,000,000.

Still Negotiating

OTTAWA (CP) — Canada and Mexico are negotiating an extension to a Mexican request for air service between Windsor, Ont., and Mexico City.

The present Canada-Mexico air agreement, which came into force July, 1953, permits Mexican air lines to operate from Mexico City to Montreal, Toronto or Montreal.

A government official said Friday that the talks now are about which of these points Mexico wants to give up to obtain the Windsor route.

WINNERS—NAMED

INGERSOLL (CP) — Jean Watmough of Ingersoll district collegiate and Pamela Carson of Woodstock collegiate, Woodstock, won the Western Ontario Secondary School Association senior girls' public-speaking finals here Friday. Winners in the junior section were Barbara Fowler, Saugeen high school, Port Elgin, and Harvey Monkman, Chesley high school.

Wife Is Sufferer When Drinking Husband Decides to Go on Wagon

MONTREAL (CP)—The wife of a problem drinker may have a tougher time of it than her husband when he decides to go on the water wagon, a British Columbia doctor says.

Dr. Marie Feldman of the naval hospital at Esquimalt writes in the March issue of the Canadian Medical Association Journal that the wife may resent the interest her husband's regain in running the home.

Occasionally the problem is too much for her and she asks her husband to start drinking again, writes Dr. Weltman.

The reformed drinker needs lots of rest, says Dr. Weltman. At first the wife is willing to tolerate almost anything to help her husband, but by the end of the first six months she gets discouraged and believes her husband is just plain lazy.

After taking the pledge, the man may need so much sleep that he neglects his social life. The problem is to keep to his wife that when the symptoms are not too severe and the patient is in reasonably good health, he should get less sleep and go out more.

In other occasions, the husband may suddenly take an interest in household affairs, something he never thought about while drinking. The wife, now used to handling the family and running the house, often resents what she considers his interference in her domestic authority.

Occasionally she advocates his return to the use of alcohol in moderation. It is difficult for her husband to accept the advice but should not drink temperately again.

"Sometimes she feels her social life will be permanently marred because her husband is a teetotaler and that his being a wet blanket is not very sensible."

CCF Member Questions Govt. Order Rebating $2,000,000 In Taxes to Four Companies

OTTAWA (CP) — Fred Zaplitny says he smells "something very fishy" about government-ordered income tax rebates to four corporations totalling nearly $2,000,000.

The CCF member for Dauphin said Friday the government made a "very, very suspicious and shady deal" with the companies in settling a tax case out of court by means of orders-in-council.

He raised the case during Commons debate on a CCF colleague's bill which would strip secrecy from the federal income taxes paid by all corporations.

Mr. Zaplitny came to no decision on the bill, sponsored by Stanley Knowles (CCF, Winnipeg Centre.

Information on income tax matters of both corporations and individuals now is regarded as secret.

Mr. Zaplitny referred to published figures of four income tax remissions in 1953: $549,077 to the Aluminum Co. of Canada; $496,771 to Gatineau Power Co.; $376,598 to Saguenay Power Ltd.; and $371,643 to the Bell Telephone Co. of Canada.

All involved amounts paid for investment, provincial education tax in Quebec during 1946-52, at a time when the federal income Tax Act did not permit payments of that tax to be deducted from federal tax levies.

Mr. Zaplitny gave this account: The four companies appealed the non-deduction section of the federal and asked that the central government remit what they had paid under Quebec's education tax.

The Exchequer Court rejected their appeal and the companies carried it to the Supreme Court of Canada. Before the case was heard the government amended the Income Tax Act to permit such deductions. The amendment took effect in 1953, however, and was not retroactive.

The companies then approached the government and offered to settle their Supreme Court case for half the amount in dispute. The government accepted this offer and made the remissions by order-in-council.

He said the government had told him the settlement was made because of the uncertainty of the Supreme Court appeal and because of the effect of its tax act amend-

UN Security Council Holds Israel Responsible for Clash

By WILLIAM N. OATIS

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) The United Nations security council has let Israel know that she faces strong condemnation unless she can produce a better evidence of her role in the blood Gaza incident.

The 11-power council made this clear Friday as it held an urgent session to consider Egypt's charge that Israeli troops killed 37 Arab civilians, including 29 Egyptians and eight Israelis when they clashed.

All the council members—except Russia which sat silent—indicated that on the basis of preliminary reports they held Israel responsible.

The council agreed to a United States proposal to hold further debate on the explosive issue until Mon.)Gen. E. L. M. Burns, Canadian UN truce chief in Palestine, gets here to make a personal report on the circumstances of the incident.

Then, in a plea voiced through its president, Selim Sarper of Turkey, the council urged both sides to "maintain calmness and tranquility and abstain from the use of force."

In some 90 minutes, 10 of the 11 council members spoke up to deplore the Gaza incident. Many implicitly blamed Israel. Six referred sympathy to Egypt on loss of life. None did so to Israel.

Henri Hoppenot of France spoke of "onslaught by Israel against Egypt," Fernando van Langenhove of Belgium of "flagrant violation" of the armistice, and Sir Leslie Munro of New Zealand of a "deliberate, planned and disciplined" attack.

Charge Guelph Man Attempted To Slay Mother

GUELPH (CP) — Police said Mrs. Margaret Lester, 54, was struck on the left eye with a long, spiked instrument and shot behind the right ear at her home early today.

The woman still was unconscious this forenoon. Her condition was reported critical.

Police said they want to question a farm boy, Lloyd, 21, on a charge of attempted murder. He appeared in court today and was remanded without plea until Monday.

Joseph Lester, 63, the woman's husband, returned home from watching television at a friend's home about 1 a.m. and found his wife lying injured on a bed.

Police said she had a wound in her face 1½ inches deep and her jaw was broken.

The son was arrested about three hours later. Police said they found him standing on Wilson street, opposite his home.

Police said they went later to a farm four miles from Guelph and seized a rifle.

Contract Is Awarded For Microwave Towers

MONTREAL (CP) — A contract for construction of 38 microwave towers between Toronto and the Manitoba border has been let by the Bell Telephone Company, it was learned Friday.

The contract was let to Provincial Engineering Limited, of Niagara Falls, it was learned. Another contract for the installation of equipment buildings and tower bases has been let to the Robertson Irwin Company of Winnipeg.

Sources here also indicated that the microwave system already now has been completed in Manitoba as well as Ontario and Quebec. Similarly it has been completed in Saskatchewan and soon will be completed in Alberta.

Petty Officer Is Convicted By Naval Court

HALIFAX (CP) — The navy got set today to court-martial two more ratings after obtaining convictions against two others who took part in January's duplicating fluid binge on the carrier Magnificent.

Petty Officer Maynard Johnson of Victoria and Able Seaman John L. MacDonald of Beaverton, Ont., already have been found guilty of their role in the methyl alcohol spree Jan. 21 that landed 47 ratings in hospital, some critically ill. Johnson was convicted late Friday on the single charge of illegally drinking an intoxicant himself and was reduced in rank from petty officer, 1st class, to petty officer, 2nd class. He was acquitted of furnishing the noxious mixture to a messmate and a third charge of giving liquor to a civilian dockyard employee.

His pleaded innocent to all counts.

NAMES WITHHELD

MacDonald was found guilty Monday and sentenced to two years less a day imprisonment and dismissal from the service.

The navy refused to name the two ratings to be court-martialed the first of the two trials will begin Wednesday. The charges have not been disclosed.

No Answer Given

OTTAWA (CP) — The government didn't answer "yes" or "no" Friday when asked in the Commons Friday if it would maintain the support price for butter at 58 cents a pound wholesale.

William Bryce (CCF — Selkirk) asked whether the support price would be continued as requested by the Canadian Federation of Agriculture.

"That is a matter of government policy which will be announced in due course, replied Agriculture Minister Gardiner.

JOINT COMMAND IN FORMOSA AREA SEEN POSSIBLE

U.S. and Nationalists Hold Military Talks

By SPENCER MOOSA

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—High-level military talks following ratification of the mutual defence pact with the United States Thursday have continued today at Chiang Nationalist headquarters.

Newspapers here speculate that one of the things being discussed is the creation of a joint "National-U.S. defence command in this area.

Nationalist quarters appear confident of a big boost in the volume of American military aid to Formosa.

The treaty makes the two powers formal allies in the defence of the area — the Pescadores and American island territories in the west Pacific.

MAY STRENGTHEN FORCE

It is generally assumed that the U.S. will build up the strength of Chiang Kai-shek's armed forces to enable them to contribute as much as possible to the defence of Formosa if the Reds attack.

As the pact was initialed there was speculation here that the Nationalists might be abandoning outposts in the Tachen islands, lying less than four miles off the Red China mainland coast at Foochow. The speculation — not confirmed officially—followed reports that a Red ground attack on the islands in the Matsu group. The Nationalists claimed they repelled it.

Trying to Stop Smuggling

WASHINGTON (AP)—The customs bureau is considering using stain-like colors across the Canadian border to prevent narcotics smuggling.

Customs commissioner Ralph Kelly told the House of Representatives appropriations committee, in testimony released Friday that the bureau is "swinging toward plain colors now" in mobile inks and the best means of tightening surveillance.

"On the Canadian border," he said, "we do not have too great a protection" against the secret smuggling of narcotics across that border. "We can't put people at every [illegible] border, but if we place plain clothes men on that [Canadian border it may act as a deter-

Three Charged

ST. CATHARINES (CP)—Three men were charged Friday with the murder Wednesday of a 24-year-old St. Catharines woman.

They are Ronald Gibson, 27, Grantham township, Edward Cleary, 25, Merritton, and Joseph Cecchin, also Merritton. Cecchin and Levesque are married.

They were remanded in custody and transferred to jail at Welland.

DIES IN CRASH

SIMCOE (CP)—Ernest John Hill, 64, of Woodstock was killed instantly in a two-car highway accident near here Friday. He was a passenger in a car driven by Anderson J. McKinney, also of Woodstock, when it skidded on icy pavement and went into a car driven by Transport Truck. McKinney was taken to hospital.

Three Are Killed Near Espanola; Car Hits Truck

Geo. Nummela, Well Known Referee, One of Victims

ESPANOLA (CP) — Three persons, one a widely known northern Ontario hockey referee, died as a result of a car-truck crash Friday night.

George Nummela, Callander hotel owner, died at Sudbury this morning. His wife, Mrs. Toni Nummela, 36, and another woman, Mrs. Margaret Bennett, 39, of Field Bay, died at the scene of the accident.

A. F. (Red) Bennett, North Bay service station owner, was taken to hospital in this pulp mill town 30 miles west of Sudbury for examination.

The party was returning from Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., where Mr. Nummela had refereed the first two games in the Northern Ontario Hockey Association semi-final between Sault Greyhounds and North Bay Trappers.

COULDN'T SEE BOTH

Mrs. Bennett was driving the station wagon which crashed into the rear of a three-ton dump truck operated by Ovila Lamothe, 21, of Baldwin township in the Espanola area.

Mr. Lamothe told police he had to swerve to the right to avoid losing the highway from the driver's view. He said he had been unable to pull off the pavement to check on an overheated motor. The station wagon came over a hill and couldn't pass the truck because of oncoming traffic and slammed into its rear.

Toronto Island Will Be Made Into a Park

TORONTO (CP) — Metropolitan council planners recommended Friday that Toronto Island should be made into a metropolitan park, but without a tunnel or bridge to the mainland.

Metro and city solicitors were instructed to meet immediately to discuss the status of existing island houses and the existing island population. A report to council takes over.

The committee was told that present island leases, running up to 1968, have a provision that the property will revert to the city's notice if either the council or the city wants to develop the island.

Crown Appeals Boy's Acquittal In Shooting Case

MONTREAL (CP) — Appeal by the crown against the 12-year-old boy's acquittal of a murder charge will be argued next week before Court of Appeals when it convenes next Tuesday.

The trial of Queen's Bench jury at St. Jerome last December found 12-year-old Wilfrid Lapointe guilty of murder in the gun-slaying of Josaphat Therrien, an elderly farmer.

The crown appealed the acquittal on the ground that during the trial on a charge of murdering Therrien's wife in the double-shooting last Oct. 18 at Val Morin.

Not Much Chance Russian Players Trying to Escape

KREFELD, Germany (CP) Scutlebutt among the Russian emigres in this West German city says it's that the Moscow team which meets Canada Sunday for the world hockey title is made up of the best—and politically safest—players in Russia.

Russian refugees here—they belong to an organization of escapers some 80,000 strong—are mixing style with the Moscow players in their Krefeld hotel, seeking information under the guise of asking for autographs.

Copies of an anti-Red newspaper called Pravda, an apparent duplicate of the Moscow Communist party organ except for the "free print," are being passed to the players mixed in the regular newspapers offered by the hotel.

IF POLITICAL GUARDIANS

The emigres say the Moscow players are interested in chatting with well-wishers, but only warily because of the 17 political police included in the hockey party of 38.

Numerous political meetings involving the players were being held in the hotel, it is said.

The team's top players are Red army officers, the emigres, including team captain Vsevolod Bobrov.

And all are said to have families in Russia, lessening any escape threat despite any individual uncertain enthusiasm for, or standing in, the Communist party.

Sour Lake Spurts 500 Feet Into Air As Molten Rock Flows Towards Sea

By ROY ESSOYAN

PAHOA, Hawaii (AP) — Two rivers of lava, fed by two half-mile fissures, poured out of mountains belching 500 feet in the air, moved closer to the sea today, leaving in their wake an estimated $2,000,000 damage.

Homes, fields, timber and at least nine homes have been buried in the steaming lava. A village of 70 homes is the next to be virtually isolated by the molten flow.

This sparsely-settled district of eastern Hawaii for five days has rocked and cracked under the strains of volcanic eruptions and earthquakes. Five hundred of its residents are homeless.

The lava streams have cut a two-mile-wide swath across the rich cane land for four miles.

Twenty square miles of the district is forbidden to all except civil defence officials and a few property owners. The area is covered with large earth cracks.

Kapoho, evacuated Monday, will be cut off entirely when the lava pouring around it plunges into the sea, about a mile away.

The lava flow is at least five hours Thursday midnight to the sea. Most homes were not damaged but, isolated by lava fields, they will be worthless.

The flows take months and sometimes years to cool. One property owner said "you couldn't buildone your way through it in 50 years."

Much of the cane acreage which provided a living for the residents is a total loss for 1955.

Plans are being made for the relocation of refugees to a new settlement.

CITY & DISTRICT NEWS

BOARD CHAIRMAN TO VISIT CITY

Eugene E. Barrow, chairman of the Workmen's Compensation Board, will make an official trip to Belleville, starting Tuesday, to meet representatives of employers, workmen and the medical profession, the three main groups serviced under the provincial act.

Mr. Sparrow is scheduled to address the Kiwanis Club of Belleville Incorporated and the Quinte District Superintendents' Association.

He will also visit Workmen's Compensation Board patients in the Belleville General Hospital.

WILL MAKE REPAIRS TO CITY HALL

Belleville's city hall is to get a face lifting.

In fact a general program of rejuvenation is planned by the city property committee for the city's seat of government which was built more than three quarters of a century ago.

At this week's meeting of the property committee it was recommended that tenders be called for roof repairs at the city hall and for repairs of the eaves troughing and downspouts. It is also planned to paint the brickwork.

RUNS INTO PARKED CAR ON WEST MOIRA STREET

Damage amounting to about $300 resulted early today on W. Moira Street when a car driven by Adrian Blanchette, 35 Moira Street, plowed into a parked auto.

Police said that Blanchette was eastbound when his car struck a parked vehicle on the left side of the street. Damage of about $100 was done to Blanchette's car and about $200 to the parked car owned by William VanTassel. Blanchette was charged with careless driving.

Faraday to Spend $700,000 In Bancroft Development

The possibility of a profitable producing uranium mine in Hastings County moved closer to reality this week with an announcement by Faraday Uranium Mines that the company will spend $700,000 for exploration and development work at Bancroft in the next six months.

Meanwhile, possibility of new uranium discoveries in the third and last concession of Monteagle township and to facilitate production but nothing definite has been arranged as yet.

FARMERS MAKE DEALS

Because of Faraday's underground showings uranium activity spilled over into Monteagle township last week.

Farmers on the third and fourth concessions of Monteagle township, about 10-15 miles north of Bancroft, are reported to have concluded interesting deals with a Toronto mining promotor. The farmers, Jack Rutledge, Ron Willard and Jessie Cain and Jesse Carr, are reported to have concluded an agreement that calls for four cash payments or increasing amounts for options extending over the next three years, plus substantial quantities of stock.

Other farmers in the area who have been approached by Toronto interests are Mr. Rutledge, Bob Thompson and Rudolph Rose.

Ab Rutledge, in a telephone conversation with the Ontario Intelligencer this morning, confirmed the fact that offers are a combination of cash and stock.

"They have been offering good prices for certain concessions," he said. He thought most deals would be completed by March 14th.

Final payments on options, said to be set for June 1956, are conditional on $10,000 each.

PLAN CHECK IN SPRING

The Toronto interests will check on work activity when the snow leaves the ground. Most activity in the Faraday property area is caused by a combination of uranium and thorium, both radio-active minerals. Chemical analysis is necessary to determine of the uranium content of radio-active ores.

It is believed that there is considerable radio-activity in the Monteagle township properties mentioned.

Street Lighting To Be Discussed With Commission

The Belleville Public Utilities Commission will be asked to review the present street lighting with the view of improving lighting conditions on certain streets, and in poorly lighted areas.

Members of the city council traffic and light committee at their last meeting thoroughly discussed the street lighting and agreed the Utilities Commission should be asked to review the situation and institute a long term plan to improve lighting.

Alderman Enos Davis, chairman of the traffic and light committee, said there had been many complaints regarding dark streets and dark intersections, noting that this condition increased the possibility of accidents and also encouraged vandalism.

"There should be a long term program for improvement of street lighting," he said. "The worst places should be looked after first and the matter duly brought up to standard."

Alderman Davis and his committee would review the street lighting situation with the Utilities Commission.

Egg Prices Up 3 Cents a Dozen On Large Grades

Eggs were up three cents to 48 cents for large grades on the local market this morning. Medium sizes were 46 cents and small grades 43 cents.

Trade in general continued at a dull pace with barely a half-dozen vendors set up for business on the outside market, the bulk of trade being done on the inside.

Cabbage sold at from five cents to 25 cents a head and turnips at 5c to 25 cents apiece. Potatoes were 25 to 35 cents a bag, 50 cents a six-quart basket. Carrots were $2 a bushel, 50c a basket, and beets sold at 40c a basket. White beans brought 50c a quart and unshelled 15c a quart.

Apples, still the bulk of the offerings, brought 80 cents a basket for Spies, 75 cents for McIntosh, 65 cents for Baldwins and 90 cents for Delicious.

On the inside market poultry brought 45-50 cents a pound for fowl, and capons were 55 cents. Honey was 45 cents a lb.

Whitefish and smelts were priced at 40 cents a lb.

Parents Reminded Polio Serum Is Harmless

The City of Belleville Health Department has completed distribution of "request forms" for polio vaccine to parents of children in Grades 1 and 2 of Belleville's public schools.

The Department reminds parents that the polio serum, used last year on 450,000 U.S. school children, is harmless. Health authorities are sure of the safety effectiveness but the Ontario Health Department is conducting a province-wide test of the serum this year.

Local health authorities hope to complete the first two doses, given a week apart, before the Easter vacation and to administer the third and final dose, scheduled for a month after the second dose, following the Easter recess.

Provincial health authorities hope to have the province-wide inoculations completed before the polio season this summer.

Nearly 200 District Players Compete In Annual Ontario Badminton Tourney

A former Canadian badminton doubles champion bids fair to add another titular title to his well-decorated hat in the Eastern Ontario Badminton Championships being played at the Bridge Street Armouries here.

He is Grant Henry of Peterborough, who teamed with Dave Clapperton, Calgary, in 1951-52 to win the Dominion Men's Doubles championships. Grant, playing with Ken Crowe, also of Peterborough won his way into the men's doubles finals last night after thrilling victories over bracket opposition.

Nearly 200 players from Eastern Ontario points are here for the tournament which concludes with the all-important finals matches tonight. Peterborough has 17; Belleville, 20; Oshawa, 41; Cobourg, 8; Trenton, 37; and Bowmanville, 15.

Play started last night at seven o'clock and continued on until after midnight with some finalists and semi-finalists named. It resumed this morning at 9.30 and 10 matches 10 and 15-8, while Kay Hall, Oshawa, defeated G. Clary and O. Babington, Oshawa 15-5 and 15-6.

Charlton and Baker defeated Reddon and Anderson, 15-12 and 15-5 with Hopkins and Swindell winning over O'Donohue 15-4 and 15-7 to enter the finals.

Following the presentation of trophies and prizes tonight the visiting players will be guests of the Belleville Garrison Club at a reception in the officers' mess in the armouries. A dance next evening was held in the armouries at 9 o'clock this morning.

semi-finals of the men's doubles after disposing of Al Stacey and Vern Landon, Oshawa, in the quarter brackets.

Bill Burgess and Garry Tighe, Bowmanville, defeated Charlton and Ayer of Peterborough 15-7, 15-7 to qualify for the finals after beating Emsley and O'Donohue, Peterborough in the same event.

In the men's consolation semi-finals Legge and Burgess, Bowmanville, defeated Hunter and Lyons, Oshawa 21-7 while Baker and Johnson of Peterborough defeated Holmes and Refausse, Trenton 25-24.

In the ladies doubles quarter finals, Maurice Charlton and Marg. Baker, Peterborough, defeated Kay and Ann Smith, Belleville 15-7, 15-3 with Madge Cowley and Dorothy Lazier, Belleville, defeating Reddon and Aureen Landon, Oshawa, 15-3, 15-3.

Marge McKee and Irene Jones, Peterborough, lost to Dene Stewart and Audrey Charlton, Oshawa misses 15-10 and 15-8, while Kay Hall, Oshawa, defeated Mrs. Hopkins, Belleville 15-3, 15-3 with Madge Cowley and Dorothy Lazier, Belleville, defeating Reddon and Aureen Landon, Oshawa, 15-3, 15-3.

Marge McKee and Irene Jones, Peterborough, lost to Dene Stewart and Audrey Charlton, Oshawa misses 15-10 and 15-8, while Kay Hall, Oshawa, defeated G. Clary and O. Babington, Oshawa 15-5 and 15-6.

Charlton and Baker defeated Reddon and Anderson, 15-12 and 15-5 with Hopkins and Swindell winning over O'Donohue 15-4 and 15-7 to enter the finals.

100,000 Trees To Be Planted By Authority

Conservation in the Moira watershed area will be the setting for a smooth-paced program for 1955.

The Moira Conservation Authority plans to plant 100,000 trees on its property this year, which will cover 200 of the 2,540 acres of land the Authority has purchased to date, a statement here by Conservation Head.

In addition to this, an estimated 75,000 trees will be planted by private landowners in the Moira area this spring.

Trees recommended for forest coverage in the Moira watershed, in the opinion of the Authority's forester, is the willing Irish moss, largest block of land planted by the Authority lies in the 13th and 14th concessions of Elzevir township with smaller areas taken in including Sidney, Madoc and Elzevir townships.

The Authority's program has been greatly extended since its first planting in 1950. In 1954 the Authority received a plan to lend technical help and subsidization to all private landowners planting within the watershed. For a nominal fee, the Authority helps landowners available a mechanical tree planter, capable of planting up to 8,000 trees per hour. Technical Field Officer Don Bell, of Foxboro, advises landowners interested in reforestation of their property contact him.

The Authority, a municipal corporation, has its lands managed by the Department of Lands and Forests. However the Authority points out the possibility of its becoming a self-sustaining body may be foreseen in the fact that all monies accrued, after payment of costs to the provincial government, will revert to the Authority.

"Wholesale trees is sound economic investment for the future," the Authority stated. "The price of wood is not going to decrease. The present policy of exploitation by many sawmill operators is jeopardizing their future existence."

IN MEMORIAM

AYLESWORTH. — In fond and loving memory of our dear mother, Clarissa and niece, Cherylene Margaret Aylesworth, who passed away five years ago, March 5th, 1950.

Sadly from us you've often stood,
We've missed you more than words could tell,
Your memory is our only good,
And what we have to bless us well.
Silent till the sweet words come,
Dear one, in our memory,
God knows how much we miss you,
Only those who love and lose
And whisper, "The only sleeps,
Can tell what silence is.
We'll be there, dear one,
And pray to God each day,
And when He calls for you,
Your smile will guide the way.
— Sadly remembered by Grandmother Aylesworth and nieces Edwin and Marjorie. M5

AYLESWORTH. — In loving memory of our dear mother, Clarissa Margaret Aylesworth, who was instantly killed in car accident, March 5th, 1950.

God knows how much we miss her,
God knows how much we love her,
He only could have known
The pain that filled our hearts alone.
To the spot where she is laid
Flowers are carried, tended by her
Savvy and sister Jeanne. M5

AYLESWORTH. — In loving memory of our dear mother, Clarissa Aylesworth, who was instantly killed in car accident, March 5th, 1950.

Sadly from us you've often stood,
We've missed you more than words could tell,
The face we loved so well.
Silent till the sweet words come,
And whisper, "Peace, there for death cannot divide.
For deep in heart their memory is kept
Of you I'll still love and with never part.
— Sadly missed by daughter Edith and son-in-law. M5

LONG. — In loving memory of a dear mother, Nettie Long, who passed away March 5th, 1954.

A beautiful memory, dearer than ever,
Of a parents worth that can never be told.
Dear Mom, left there, they stood by my side
And whisper, "Peace, there for death cannot divide.
For deep in heart their memory is kept
Of you I'll still love and with never part.
— Sadly missed by daughter Edith and son-in-law. M5

LONG. — In loving memory of my mother, Nettie Long, who passed away March 5th, 1954.

A very dear lady she was,
A very kind lady she was,
A gentle lady she was,
And with heart so true.
She gently entered house,
She gently remembered
Always remembered by son Harold and family. M5

LANG. — In loving memory of Mrs. Ernest Lang, who passed away March 5th, 1954.

Nothing can ever take away
The love a mother holds dear,
Fond memories linger every day
Remembrance with each tear.
— Ever remembered by sons Hilda and Stanley. M5

STEPHENS. — In loving memory of our dear mother, Annie Stephens, who passed away four years ago, March 5th, 1951.

Four years have passed, but still we miss you,
Dear mother dear,
Memories linger every day
Loving thoughts will always linger
Around the place where mother is laid.
— Ever remembered by daughter Beatrice, Ad, Ruth and Jeanette and sons-in-law.

SPRACKETT. — In memory of a dear mother, Anna Mary Spracket, who passed away December 8th, 1953, and a dear father, George Spracket who passed away March 5th, 1950.

The resting stream of life rolls on,
But still the vacant chairs
Will ever be the sad reminder
Of those who gave us there.
— Lovingly remembered by daughter Eunice and family. M5

Stories of Famous Hymns

by HORACE B. POWELL

This Christmas hymn is not as old as some in our list but it has been brightening holiday seasons for nearly three-quarters of a century.

It was written by a popular and distinguished nineteenth century author and editor, Josiah Gilbert Holland, who published it for the first time in a volume of his poems which he brought out in New York, in 1879.

A native of Belchertown, Mass., Mr. Holland grew up on a farm with few educational advantages, but when he was 21 he decided to become a physician. He studied medicine at the Berkshire Medical College at Pittsfield, Mass. and was graduated in 1844. Happily for hymn lovers, he decided after a brief practice that he had chosen the wrong career, and he turned to writing.

For 15 years, from 1850 to 1865, he was on the staff of the Springfield Republican. Not long after he left that newspaper he helped to organize Scribner's Magazine and became its editor. He continued in this post until his death, in 1881.

During his newspaper and magazine careers he did considerable writing. He turned out some excellent novels, a biography or two and the best of all—some very fine poems including the once published here.

Many of his poems and stories were published in the periodicals with which he was associated.

THERE'S A SONG IN THE AIR

There's a song in the air,
There's a star in the sky,
There's a mother's deep prayer
And a baby's low cry!
And the star rains its fire
While the beautiful sing,
For the manger of Bethlehem
Cradles a King!

There's a tumult of joy
O'er the wonderful birth,
For the Virgin's sweet boy
Is the Lord of the earth.
Ay! the star rains its fire
While the beautiful sing,
For the manger of Bethlehem
Cradles a King!

In the light of that star—
Lie the ages impearled;
And that song from afar
Has swept over the world.
Every hearth is aflame,
And the beautiful sing
In the homes of the nations that heed to the King!

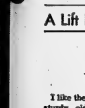
We rejoice in the light,
And we echo the song
That comes down thro' the night
From the heavenly throng.
Ay! We shout to the lovely
Evangel they bring,
And we greet in His cradle
Our Savior and King!



A Lift For Living

Feeling Cheap

By DR. RALPH W. SOCKMAN

I like the song sung by the brave, sturdy old Norman McLeod. It goes like this:

"Some will love thee, some will hate thee,
Some will flatter, some will slight,
Cease from man and look above thee,
Trust in God and do the right."

Unless we take the Lord's tests from a higher source than the general public, we are bound often to feel cheap.

What is it that makes us fret over what others think of us? It is usually hurt pride, isn't it? And the cure for that is to cry more for our characters than for our reputations. When we look to God rather than to man for approval, many slights and insults lose their sting because we are not so afraid of getting stung.

What are some of the situations which make us feel cheap? First, when we violate the social proprieties and do things that are "bad form."

We like to be thought well of. But let's not worry too much about little errors of etiquette. Remember how young Ben Franklin was laughed at when he arrived in Philadelphia, a poorly dressed and awkward youth. He lived to become Philadelphia's most famous citizen.

DESIRE ACCEPTANCE

We desire to be accepted by those who lift us rather than lower us. We feel cheap when we do that which causes refined persons to look down on us. Also, in our hearts we should feel cheap when we choose lower associates so that they will look up to us.

I knew a man who had such an inferiority complex that he avoided the company of persons more able than himself. To build up his ego he went around with weaker companions. Thus he stunted his own personality. The only way to escape such feeling of cheapness is to give the best we have to the highest we know!

Also, we feel cheap when we do something which makes us lose respect for ourselves. To forfeit our own self-respect is worse than to evoke the criticism of others.

Most of us must confess to occasional times when we feel that we have made fools of ourselves. Perhaps we lost our reserve, became garrulous and talked too much. Or it may be that we lost our temper and said something we would give worlds to call back.

Because on a train I saw two fine-looking men drink themselves into disgraceful befuddlement. When they reached the city where they were going, the train was held up while they tried to find their overcoats and baggage. One got off at the suburban station of the city without his coat. It was zero weather and no doubt he soon cooled off. But when they got off, two men looked like business executives, really cooled off, how cheap they must have felt. When we look back at such disgraceful moments, we exclaim in disgust at ourselves "Could I have done that?"

REMORSE NEEDED

Yet just to feel humiliated is not enough. Humiliation turns us to remorse, and remorse is a bitter rehashing of what can't be undone. But God imparts the spirit of humility and lifts us from remorse to repentance.

The humbly repentant man does not sit looking at the bitter past. He turns away from it, saying, "Yes, it's bad, but that's over. God and I are going ahead."

There is another situation which makes us feel cheap. It is when we use cheap methods to attain our ends. After we have been in any really cooled off, how cheap they must have felt. When we look back at such disgraceful moments, we exclaim in disgust at ourselves "Could I have done that?"

REMORSE NEEDED

Yet just to feel humiliated is not enough. Humiliation turns us to remorse, and remorse is a bitter

Suppose I am a teacher. As a teacher I am dedicated to the imparting of truth. But there are certain pressure groups in my community that must be pleased. I need not tell lies to please them. I can just be quiet about some facts and put the emphasis on others, thus slanting my teaching in the trend desired. But down in my heart is a yellow streak and I know it. It makes me feel cheap.

Whatever our work, let us never lower ourselves by using the tricks of our trade. We may get away with it before the unthinking crowd, but if we are each to answer ourselves "approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed," we must use the best materials, the worthiest methods, the highest standards we know.

Who Was This?

By A. A. M.

Who was the king of Israel who began to reign when he was twenty years old, and he first did evil in the sight of the Lord, but later reformed his ways?

The country was surrounded by enemies who worshipped Baal and other false gods. This king was influenced by his neighbors and he erected high places where these gods were worshipped. Soothsaying and sorcery, which was forbidden by God, were practiced. In the valley of Hinnon he burned his sons as an offering.

He did much evil in the sight of the Lord, provoking Him to anger. The material for building the beautiful temple of Jerusalem which was gathered by King David and built by his son Solomon, God had said to these rulers, "In this house will put my name forever. I will no more remove the foot of Israel from the land which I appointed for your fathers if only they will be careful to keep all the laws I have given through Moses." but this king even made an image of an idol and brought it into the temple of Jerusalem.

When the Lord rebuked this ruler and his people they did not pay any attention. Therefore the Lord brought upon them the Assyrian army, The King of Israel was captured and bound with hooks and bronze fetters and brought to Babylon. In his distress he prayed to God and humbled himself greatly. God heard his supplication and brought him again to his own kingdom. Then the King knew that the Lord was God.

At once this ruler set to work to rebuild the outer walls of Jerusalem to a great height. Commanders of the army were stationed in all the fortified cities. The idol and all foreign gods in the temple were taken away. The altars on the high places were torn down.- Offerings of peace and thanksgiving were made.

So the king's reign, which lasted fifty-five years, and which had been in an evil way changed for the good, when he repented in captivity. Read this man's name and this story in Second Chronicles, Chapter 33.

Day Dreaming

By NANCY CLEAVER

"When I could not sleep for cold
I had fire enough in my brain
And builded with roofs of gold
My beautiful castles in Spain."
James Russel Lowell wrote these touching lines of his early youth. He also stated his conception that, "Solitude is as needful to the imagination as society is wholesome for the character." Day dreaming has been an occupation of people of every age and every country.

Do you remember some of the day-dreaming you did as a child? Perhaps you still escape the hard realities of every-day life by imagining how different things might be! A certain amount of enjoyment of phantasy is part of growing up. It is an exercise in creative imagination.

IMAGINARY FRIEND

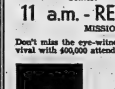
Frequently, a child with a high I.Q. pretends he has an imaginary friend and to him that friend is almost as real as a flesh-and-blood person. He carries on long conversations with this "pal". Mother may hear him chattering in the dark after he has been tucked into bed. As only child, who is longing for companionship, often meets his desire for friendship in this way.

Some time ago a survey was made at Teachers' College, Columbia University, of several hundred pre-school boys and girls. About a third of them had imaginary companions, while many of the smaller children had "pretend animals" as pets. This study should be re-assuring to a mother who may be slightly alarmed over her child's vivid imagination.

When a child starts to school and is caught up in a new and exciting world with other children and teacher, what happens? With few exceptions these creatures of their fancy gradually are forgotten and disappear.

DAY DREAMING COMMON

The school age child who "Plays Indian," may dream when he is by himself. He becomes the hero, the Big Chief, in the game of his imagination. Thus he feels superior and important.



A small girl who is not very happy with her class mates may long for her family to move to another home. She can picture herself surrounded by a group of little girls in the new school who welcome her and ask her to join in their games.

It is quite natural for boys and girls to dream about what they will do when they are adults, and play games around these activities. They may change their choice of vocation from time to time. But it is fun to pretend to be grown, to be saving one's own money.

The main character in Mary O'Hara's book, My Friend Flicka, is a very typical younger brother Ken who was given to "building castles in Spain". Toward the end of the book, the old family doctor says "Day Dreaming is as potent and seductive as a pipe. But when you've got the habit, it has got you! . . . Ken has a practical thinker and performer out of a day dreamer is serious business."

This is rather a somber warning. But it need not alarm parents unless a son or daughter day dreams so much that it interferes with play or school work. Mothers and fathers can, however, lessen the urge to day dream by helping a child face his fears and difficulties, and by possible solutions. "Castles in Spain" are fun, but not as satisfying as courageous building with the tools and materials which lie all around!

CHILDREN'S READING HABITS

Children's recreational reading habits are unsatisfactory, but this problem is solved when good books are made available in abundance and intelligent direction in their use is provided.

That, in brief, is the conclusion reached by a survey of recreational reading habits of Ontario children, conducted by a committee representing six organizations, the Federation of Women Teachers' Associations of Ontario, the Ontario Public School Men Teachers' Federation, the Ontario English Catholic Teachers' Association, the Federation of Catholic Parent-Teacher Associations of Ontario, the Canadian Educational Book Publishers Institute and the Ontario Library Association.

Of course, no survey of this kind could be expected to ignore the question of comic books, but those conducting it had the good sense to pass over this question lightly, merely noting that "most children can be won away from comic books by a stimulating introduction to a plentiful supply of good books."

Unfortunately, many children never receive this introduction. "The average child spends less than three hours a week on recreational reading," declares the report. In a recent year the average Ontario school child read eight books in a year. But the average in Toronto was 28, in Hamilton 18. It is there evident that thousands of children in other areas could have read no books at all for recreation. It is stated in the survey that these non-readers are children living in rural areas. The survey showed that provision available to schools in rural areas for library books are not all spent.

"The parent who can afford suitable books and does not get them cannot blame the school entirely, or even principally, if his children miss the essence of their schooling; an awakened and enriched mind," says the report. That is true; but is it not also true that school authorities have a responsibility to see that children do not "miss the essence of their schooling" and that this responsibility is not being discharged by school boards which do not use all the grants available for the purchase of books?

The survey reports say that answers "seemed to prove beyond reasonable doubt that the root of this problem lies in the home." Only 4 per cent of those who answered the questionnaire considered "that the poor attitude of pupils towards reading of books merely reflects an indifferent background in the home." There is no good reason to dispute this statement. But it ought to be added that the teachers themselves did not shine in the survey. Only 933 teachers out of 20,000 answered it. The report, while making some excuses for this showing, admits that a larger number of replies "would certainly have increased one's confidence in the long-term result because a genuine interest and an intelligent effort by teachers as a whole are basic to any determined attack on the problem."

A section of the report dealing with the survey among the librarians and many members of the faculties of teachers' colleges, (formerly known as Normal Schools), says that "it should be safe to conclude that teachers as a whole have not been thoroughly persuaded of the values and pleasures of recreational reading" since they have passed through these teachers' colleges. When the layman reads, a few sentences later "that perhaps 50 per cent of the teachers appear to be indifferent and even allergic to books" he may wonder whether the earlier expression of confidence is justified.

The fact is the matter appears to be that many parents and many teachers have little or no interest in books. This, we suggest, is not unusual. No campaign is going to make it possible to provide for all children "the essence of a balanced, an awakened and enriched mind." All that can be done is to give every child an opportunity to attain that goal. The survey says that this can be done "by providing books that will capture imagination and intelligently directing their use." One may even be pardoned for wondering whether the problem is quite that difficult. Does there have to be direction? Is it even necessary to have books to read?

"Nick Carter," read beneath the cover of a desk while a drowsy teacher supposed that the head-bowed student was deep in study, has been the introduction to reading for many a boy as an introduction to literature and has set him on a path which has reached many strange destinations, not even excepting Shakespeare or Carlyle or Ibsen. But Nick Carter himself have served as the door-men for the tales of Hemingway and Hamsun, Masefield and Mann, Shaw and Sabitini. And if the pairings seem strange, why not? Why should not the adult should not be an omnivorous reader—and that is what many a child will rapidly become once he or she starts reading, provided enough books are made available.

Is it possible, then, that even comic books may be a blessing in disguise? The answer, unfortunately, is in the negative. These books are not so much "read" as looked at, the child's mind is not challenged to build a vibrant scene from the cold print of the pages before him.

Perhaps a real impetus to recreational reading would result if Dad and Mum chose copies of Dick Carter, and the doings of Fu Manchu! They are just enough like the horror comics to be acceptable to comic book readers and the first thing you know the unwary child might become a book addict for life!

RETURN

They pack their grips and baste away
By ship or train or plane,
They happier will be some day
When they turn back again.

Most beautiful then temples old
They've travelled far to see,
But church to which they've often strolled
To them will seem to be.

That simple altar memories grace
Of living and the dead,
'Tis there the christenings took place
And wedding vows were said.

'Tis true that there is much to see
On many a distant shore,
But oh! it's comforting to be
At home with friends once more.

The city council will grant the sum of $500. towards the exercises in connection with the Old Boys' Reunion this coming summer.

Mr. M. B. Morrison, M.P.P., Trenton, spent yesterday in town.

Mr. Cecil Armistead left today for Montreal where he has accepted a position.

Mr. F. Guss Porter, M.P., returned to Ottawa today after spending the week-end at his home here.

Mr. Wesley McCreary was home from Toronto to spend the week-end.

Mr. Frank S. Pearce of Marmora was a visitor in town today.

Magnetism Still Mystery

(Scientific American)

Scientists still cannot explain precisely why magnets pick up nails. Recently, however, they announced a new kind of magnet that have brought the answer one step nearer.

Of practical attraction, it appears has to do with the way electrons spin through certain atoms and how atoms group themselves. To engineers the new knowledge will mean better, more powerful tiny magnets. To laymen it will bring trickier gadgetry—from planes, garbage disposers and improved electrical gadgetry of all kinds.

In announcing the new theory, Dr. Charles Kittel of Bell Telephone laboratories, said, "Our whole electrical technology is based on magnetism. Without magnets we would have no electric power generators, no electric motors, no radio, radar or television, no telephone or telegraph, none of the countless other creations that depend on electricity. Yet magnetism itself is still full of mystery. Only in the last decade or two have we learned enough about the basic nature of this strange property to begin to have some idea of why just a certain few materials, notably iron, are magnetic and what happens to such a material when it is magnetized.

"Magnetism in matter, it now appears, stems basically from the spin of electrons. Each spinning electron is a tiny permanent magnet. The electronic magnets commonly neutralize each other because electrons in atoms tend to go in pairs, spinning in opposite directions. The atom as a whole then is not a magnet except when there is an imbalance of electronic spins. This is the case, of course, whenever the atom has an odd number of electrons, and it also occurs when groups of electrons spin the same way instead of pairing off in opposite directions.

"The fact that a piece of material is magnetized means that a great many of these atomic magnets are lined up so that they point in the same direction. Such alignment is easy in some substances and difficult in others. The new theory explains why this is so.

"Dr. Kittel's theory is based on the behavior of electrons in metals. Many of the electrons in metals are free to move about within the metal. Their motion is affected by the magnetic fields of the atoms in the metal. The theory explains how the free electrons affect the magnetic fields of the atoms and how the magnetic fields of the atoms affect the motion of the free electrons. The theory explains why some metals are magnetic and others are not, and why the magnetism of some metals is stronger than that of others.

"The theory also explains why the magnetism of a piece of material disappears when it is heated above a certain temperature. This temperature is known as the Curie point, after Pierre Curie, who discovered the phenomenon in 1895. Above the Curie point, the electrons in the material have enough energy to overcome the forces that align them with the magnetic fields of the atoms. Below the Curie point, the electrons do not have enough energy to overcome these forces.

"The Curie point of iron is 1,418 degrees Fahrenheit. Above this temperature iron is not magnetic. Below it, it is magnetic. The Curie point of nickel is 680 degrees Fahrenheit. Above this temperature nickel is not magnetic. Below it, it is magnetic.

"Dr. Kittel's theory explains why the Curie point of nickel is lower than that of iron. It explains why the Curie point of nickel-iron alloys is lower than that of either nickel or iron. It explains why the Curie point of nickel-iron alloys is lower than that of either nickel or iron. It explains why the Curie point of nickel-iron alloys is lower than that of either nickel or iron. It explains why the Curie point of nickel-iron alloys is lower than that of either nickel or iron.

Humans Prove Fable Is True

(Le Soleil, Quebec)

It was recently estimated that the debts by Canadians through purchasing credits equals the wages and incomes which the people of eight provinces can produce in a year. These huge debts have just reached an unprecedented peak and are nearly two billion dollars. On the other hand, the personal savings in the banks increase in proportion. This indicates a good percentage of the population practices foresight and economy, even if others go beyond their means. The fable of the grasshopper and the ant will always be true of human behavior.

Whether certain atomic magnets does not necessarily make the material itself magnetic. The little atom magnets tend to neutralize each other. To make the material magnetic the atoms must be lined up so groups of them point in a common direction.

"Physicists sprinkled very fine powder over a magnet and looked at it under a microscope. The first experiments failed to show anything significant. But by substituting particles of iron oxide suspended in a liquid for the powder, we have at last been able to see what goes on inside a magnet.

"As a result, we can now calculate the magnetic behavior of it," says Dr. Kittel, adding that we can now also predict the magnetic properties of new magnetic materials—iron, cobalt, nickel, gadolinium and compounds containing these elements as well as manganese, chromium and others. The practical results lived up to theoretical predictions, and we can make magnets which in some respects are a million times better than those of 30 years ago. As answers come to the many still unanswered questions about the nature of magnetism, it may soon be possible to make magnets of still undreamed of properties."

No 'Constructive Critic'

By Dick Sanborn in the Calgary Herald)

About once a year I burst into a small roostets of flames because I have been brought to the combustion point by a lot of characters who gripe about something they call "constructive criticism".

That time has come again. So stand well back while I do my annual scorching.

The ability to criticize constructively, I gather from certain pronouncements, is something I do not have. This is one of the few things in life I do not have which I am absolutely glad I do not have; not much, anyhow.

Of all the simpering, gutless and insufferable denoting unwillingness to speak one's mind honestly, I regard a slightly tarnished palm to "constructive criticism."

The phrase looks good. It is composed of two decent, straight-forward words, each wholly legitimate and useful in its way.

But put together, in the way they are nearly always put together, they form a phrase with a sickly smirk on its weak face, a superior, fawning, boot-licking air and a slightly tarnished palm to "constructive criticism."

Loathe such phrases and all the things they denote.

And this particular phrase was created, or at least is used most freely, by those of people it fills like wet obsecenity.

Every time I hear it used I think of some pie-faced person who has used it and say to myself: "There is a guy who probably wouldn't say 'darn' out loud but pulls wings off flies in secret. This is some guy who is afraid to some people, and to them is apologies; but the main is that he does not appear to be people for saying that it makes me sick. What is important? Isn't it. Instead, very often a jellyfish who is afraid to say D. Whalen, H. Whalen, Hinchey, Roblin. The referee was Bert C. Allen and he handled the game well.

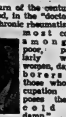
WE NEED A CHANGE OF CLIMATE

Some years ago before there was any legislation regarding a minimum wage, I knew a man who professed to be very religious kept paying some of his employees considerably less than the minimum wage brought to his attention, and he was asked if he thought that was consistent with his professed beliefs. His answer was as follows: "I know nothing about religion and have nothing to do with religion. They keep me busy attending matters in the field of economics, bargaining and I meet my duties consistently and honestly. I am a good citizen, regularly and contributes generously, to the church and to any church benefits. The amount I pay my employees is something governed entirely by the law of supply and demand, and things of that sort are not considered. How many times are we met with by spiritual and moral principles.



Well, if there is no other way to succeed against such fellows, we have to pass laws, and restrict and discipline the necessity. Of course the ideal way is to have a right atmosphere in which men with ideas of right living could continue to survive. Nobody killed the prehistoric monsters; the climate changed, and they died. Climate is fundamental in the field of morals, as well as in the field of physics, with far reaching astounding and beneficial effects. We could get along with a lot fewer laws if we could learn to manage the climate.

Personal Health Talks

By DR. WM. BRADY

FIFTY YEARS OF DAMPNESS RUNS

At the turn of the century Dr. Osler opined, in the "doctor's bible," that chronic rheumatism was the most common among the poor, particularly washerwomen, day - laborers, and those whose occupations expose them to cold and dampness.

Dr. Brady

Then, apparently unsuspecting that it was an affliction of the poor, Osler said "Climatic treatment is very advantageous. Many cases are greatly helped by prolonged residence in Europe, Southern California . . . winters in Egypt . . . in this way avoid the cold, damp weather."

I'm not a twentieth century Dr. Osler, but let me tell you poor people of Ontario was not unfamiliar with $16 word "arthritis," but when he pinned the whole world of rheumatism he didn't see fit to include the sufferers with his knowledge.

As a matter of fact "arthritis" is a misnomer for joint disability of over a year's standing, with no exceptions. It means inflammation, and in most instances of chronic rheumatism there is no sign of inflammation present. The trouble is joint degeneration, due, I believe, to nutritional deficiency through the years from childhood to breakfast.

Fifty years later medical authorities seem unimpressed by change of climate. Some, it would seem, reluctant to relinquish the old bunk entirely perhaps because it is good "business" for the health resort business.

One recognized authority on arthritis and other joint disabilities regards "atrophic" (rheumatoid) arthritis as "one of the most common and most severe forms of rheumatic disease" (it is) and severe do say rheumatic and shows how far we have progressed since Osler's time by reformulating Osler's view with horsetethers.

"It is not difficult to perceive the adverse effect of a cold, damp climate . . . to which the average individual can adjust himself . . . may lead to lowering of the general resistance . . . higher incidence of atrophic arthritis among those living under poor housing conditions and among those who through occupation are subjected to cold and wet."

You see, children, we still have with us the poor, poor dwellings and occupations that expose the poor souls to cold and dampness. Dr. Osler was not unfamiliar with $16 word "arthritis," but when he pinned the whole world of rheumatism he didn't see fit to include the sufferers with his knowledge.

As a matter of fact "arthritis" is a misnomer for joint disability of over a year's standing, with no exceptions. Little Farmer Serves Well

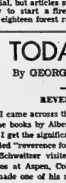
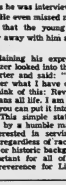
(By Leonard Hall in the St. Louis Post-Dispatch)



We hear and read a lot nowadays about the trend toward bigger and fewer farms; and about farming as a corporate, rather than a family, activity. The subject is of intense interest to the corporations that sell the 1,000,000 farmers are "big," while more than 4,000,000 still operate comparatively small farms and family businesses. We small farmers do it, at least in part, because we like it that way and because it offers an opportunity of painless but very real personal freedom. We also believe that family farms pay big dividends to the nation as a whole; and that we create far less than our share of the problems which are the heart of the so-called "farm problem." We are not really obsolescent and on the way out, we want to know about it.

Of course it is plain as the nose on a farmer's face (if he has one) that most every kind of farming and type of land, there's a point at which farms are too small for efficient operation. . . . But there is some room where farmers living on farms that are too small. Both groups tend to eliminate themselves, and they are about the only instances in which farming can be made against "small" farming.



When you once get above the minimum-size farm, as in the last paragraph, it just isn't possible to measure success on the farm in terms of bigness vs. smallness. What you have to do is find the qualities that make a successful farmer. And when you do this, you'll find that a successful farmer operates a small farm from choice, or operates a farm that has been some interesting studies made in this field, in order to try to find out what makes "Farmers Should Farm." The difficulty is, of course, that even after you've answered the question correctly, you may still not have the right answer for the next farm.

As might be expected, managerial and business ability stand at the very top of the list in all the surveys; although you might not find that in the average city and unskilled family labor at the bottom. Character would seem clear, at any rate. The problem is far less one of big vs. small farms, than of getting the right farmers established on the land.

THE PACKSACK

By GREGORY CLARK

For a mere dollar—and for how mere the dollar is you would have to take my word—sportsmen and nature lovers can get a year's subscription to the New York State conservation Department's publication, The Conservationist, which is published every two months, six times a year. The December-January issue is the latest one to hand, and a more attractive job of colorprinting you will not obtain on a more entertaining mess of outdoor articles can hardly be found in the commercial magazines. The centre color spread is a collection of paintings of wild animals by Lynn Bogue Hunt, fisher, martin, otter, muskrat, skunk, fox, bobcat, far better likenesses than are to be found in the average trade book. Three pages are devoted to color reproduction of eight species of mushrooms, most of them common in America. The magazine, naturally, deals principally with New York State material, but articles such as that on how to start a fire, contributed by eighteen forest rangers part of the state, or one on the bait fish business, on coyote trapping or the Conservation Department, it is a popular interest right across Canada.

It is an unusually good-humored publication for a government enterprise. For instance, the editors discovered in their chagrin that a picture they had selected for the back, with the letters to the editor, and read towards the front. So the magazine you will see shows a front cover, a painting of the winter countryside, and instead of using the inside back cover, a color painting of still life in a hunting cabin interior, the reader who starts at the back gets off very cheerfully.

Subscriptions, which ought to be money orders over the border, I suppose, should be sent to the New York Conservationist, Arcade Building, Albany, N.Y. The more Canadians become familiar with this magazine, the sooner will come the day of some Canadian province will have to produce its counterpart.

REVERENCE FOR LIFE

§ Not until I came across the idea in one of the books by Albert Schweitzer did I get the significance of what he called reverence for life. When Dr. Schweitzer visited the United States at Aspen, Colorado, where he made one of his addresses, I happened to be was interviewed as a reporter. He even missed most of his things that the young man thought why a way with him a great thought.

After explaining his expression Dr. Schweitzer looked into the face of the reporter and said: "Please do think over what I have offered and then think of this: Reverence for Life means all life. I am a life; you are a life and you are part of life." When Dr. Schweitzer visited the United States at Aspen, Colorado, where he made one of his addresses, I happened to be was interviewed as a reporter. He even missed most of his things that the young man thought why a way with him a great thought.

Quinte Secondary School News

ASSEMBLY

The assembly this week was presented by the Students' Council. Bruce Dobbs presided as chairman. First on the program was Gail Judge of G-10-A who sang.

Bruce Dobbs then gave his original accomplishment of speaking with punctuation. He used various sounds to represent commas, periods etc. This brought resounding laughter from the students. Helen Burkitt, the pianist for our assemblies then played a solo, 'Country Gardens', which was very well done.

The highlight of the program was Ken Adams playing his saxaphone. He played Saxdrum and he had the audience captivated. The saxaphone is just one of the instruments that Ken has mastered. We hope to hear him play other instruments in the future.

Last on the program were Cars and Greg Butler of B.C.I.V.S. They were to play at Kampus Kapers at B.C.I.V.S. on Thursday and Friday. The purpose of them playing at Quinte Secondary School was to advertise this event. They are both very accomplished pianists. Cara played under the handicap of an injured hand.

CLASS TRIP

The grade II History classes went to Toronto on Friday. They visited the Parliament Buildings and were then taken to lunch by Mr. Sandercock, M.P.P. In the afternoon they went to the museum and later the girls went to Wymilwood, and the boys to Hart House. In the evening the students went to the Royal Alexandra where they saw 'The Marriage of Figaro'. The students were accompanied by Mr. Tancock, history teacher, and Miss Shantz, English instructor.

Premier Scelba, Foe of Reds, Prepares for Canadian Visit

By PATRICK CROSSE

ROME (Reuters)—A tough Sicilian who smashed Communist riots and widespread banditry in Italy's dark post-war days is preparing for his first visit to Canada and the United States later this month.

Premier Mario Scelba, bald, 55-year-old son of a Sicilian farmer, will arrive in Ottawa March 26 for a two-day visit to the Canadian capital. He will travel to Washington March 28 to spend a week as President Eisenhower's guest at the White House. Later he will visit New York and other American cities.

Scelba's post - war career—even his name itself—is synonomous with Italy's fight to crush communism. For eight years, as interior minister under the late ex-premier Alcide de Gasperi, he commanded the police battles against Communist demonstrations.

The stocky, broad-shouldered Sicilian also crossed swords with communists in the political arena.

MIDDLE OF ROAD

He was among the first Christian Democrats to declare war to recognize left-wing Socialist Pietro Nenni as a close follower of the Moscow line and blocked Nenni's path to the premiership. At that time, Nenni, a Socialist, was highly regarded by many British Laborites.

Now, after a year as prime minister, Scelba has established himself as a middle-of-the-road man who is trying to lead his nation into a gently progressive, liberal democracy.

His government will be obliged to resign in May after the election of a new president to succeed Luigi Einaudi whose term will have expired. This May, in effect, mark the end of the long post-war period governed by the liberal ideals of de Gasperi.

If Scelba's government falls, at least he will have won credit for breaking the back of Communist terrorism and for containing a resurgence of fascism.

The doughty ex-lawyer, reputed to be the ugliest politician in Europe, has never courted popularity. Yet he has won respect from all sides as a strong man and a modest, patient leader.

His small, lizard-like eyes may look sleepy but he is wide awake and alert as the fortunes turns of Italy's parliamentary democracy. He knows when to speak up and when to hold his hand.

Scelba was born in the town of Caltagirone. Like most Sicilians, he favors heavily-striped suits and loud ties. He speaks Italian with a strong Sicilian accent, and a little French with an even stronger accent.

In private, he leads a quiet, retiring life with his wife and 25-year-old daughter. In public, he was identified with screaming police sirens, bloody demonstrations and mass arrests.

His courageous stand against Communist rioters was matched by his relentless campaign against heavily-armed bandits scourging Italy. He succeeded in ridding the nation of such swashbuckling villains as Salvatore Giuliano in Sicily and Pasquale Tanteddu in Sardinia.

Scelba was as surprised as most other Italians at his elevation to the premiership. He was the only Christian democrat leader whom the Social Democrats and the Liberals, partners in the coalition government, would accept.

A mark of the premier's courage was his agreement to a settlement of the Trieste dispute with Yugoslavia. No previous Italian government had faced up to a settlement for fear of a public outcry against granting any part of the free territory to Yugoslavia.

Scelba's settlement to Britain last month was considered a great success—mainly because he spoke frankly and made no attempt to disguise his true personality. Italian reporters who followed him to all the receptions said the British were especially pleased because Scelba did not try to adapt himself to British tastes.

This frankness in public and personal life will go with him to North America. There is much he wants to talk about. He can be counted on to say it frankly.

Pakistan Turns From British To U.S. System

KARACHI (Reuters) — Pakistan has turned her back on the British parliamentary system of government.

Faced with a situation in which the federal and provincial governments were going from one cabinet crisis to another, the country's leaders now are experimenting with a modified form of the United States system, officially described here as "controlled democracy".

After the death of Liaquat Ali Khan, the country's first prime minister, the Moslem League party, once a strong, united force, broke up into bitterly opposed factions.

DISASTROUS EFFECT

The resultant indecision had a disastrous effect upon economic and foreign policies. Famine threatened a country which once exported wheat and rice. Khwaja Nazimuddin, the second prime minister, was dismissed by the governor-general, Ghulam Mohammad, April 17, 1953, in an effort to regain stability. Eighteen months later, this action was almost repeated in the case of Mohammed Ali, the present prime minister.

The political situation in Pakistan on Oct. 24, 1954, was chaotic. Rival provincial groups in the Constituent Assembly had quarrelled bitterly over the national language, the quantum of representation and other articles in the proposed new constitution.

The climax came when the majority party in the Constituent Assembly divested the governor-general of his executive powers and repealed the Public Representatives' Disqualification Act under which some of their members faced prosecution.

Then Ghulam Mohammad, the governor-general, promulgated a state of emergency, dissolved the assembly and ordered Ali to reconstitute his cabinet to include Moslem Leaguers.

The new leaders consider that the British parliamentary system is not suited to the great majority of the illiterate electorate because it requires that the cabinet be responsible to the legislature.

PERIOD OF FREEDOM

The new leaders favor the American system for two reasons: It gives the elected government a stipulated period in which to carry out its mandate without constant threat of defeat; and it follows closely the rule of the caliphs in the early days of Islam, and hence has an additional religious appeal.

The new constitutional plan will be put before a constitutional convention in June or July after the unification of the provinces and princely states of West Pakistan has been accomplished. Government leaders hope to declare a republic by Aug. 14, eighth anniversary of the country's independence.

Fire-and-Brimstone Kind Of Evangelism Holds Little Appeal for Chuck Templeton

By JACK BESTT
Canadian Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK (CP)—The Bible-thumping, fire-and-brimstone kind of old-time evangelism holds little appeal for Charles (Chuck) Templeton.

Templeton, once a Toronto sports cartoonist, is director of evangelism for the Presbyterian Church in the United States, which has 3,500,000 members. Instead of the urgent, repent-or-be-damned approach used by some of his evangelist colleagues, he preaches the easy blending of religion with everyday life.

"If it's not concerned with everyday life, it isn't Christianity," says the handsome 39-year-old Templeton. "It's just pious nonsense."

TV LECTURES

Templeton has been carrying his message right into the family living room. Until this week he was on his Sunday morning TV show "Look Up and Live," a half-hour program for teen-agers. The semi-religious show features hit songs, music and frequently guest personalities. Templeton's part was a 10-minute illustrated lecture.

The evangelist says he thinks this type of approach is a more influence on non-churchgoers than the mere televising of religious services, which he feels, have "little reach beyond those who already regard religion."

"Our show was specifically designed for those who don't go to church," he explained in an interview. "And in the United States today 30,000,000 people of a population of 160,000,000 don't belong to any church. On any given Sunday between 125,000,000 and 140,000,000 do not attend services."

"Look Up and Live" is produced by the Columbia Broadcasting System in co-operation with the National Council of Churches. Preachers rotate among the various denominations. Templeton, a member of the council's evangelism staff, joined the program in October. Though originally scheduled to leave in January, he was continued until February.

Chuck, a hefty six-footer, recently turned out a volume titled "Life Looks Up," a collection of 14 sermons whose title was inspired by the TV series.

Last year Templeton's rallies attracted more than 1,000,000 people, including 30,000 in a week at Edmonton and 80,000 in Vancouver. His next Canadian appearances, arranged through the United Church of Canada, will be at Sudbury, Ont., in June and St. Catharines, Ont., in October.

A reporter told about the evangelist is that in Sydney, N.S., a few years ago a bootlegger was so moved by Templeton's words that he let the meeting get pitched his entire stock of bootleg whisky into Sydney harbor.

Templeton has often been compared with his evangelist friend Billy Graham, with whom he made a 10-country European tour in 1945. But the comparison serves mainly to point up their fundamental differences.

'OBLIGATION AND LOVE'

"I don't major on the dire side of Christian truth," says Chuck, who was minister of Toronto's Avenue Road Presbyterian church for seven years. "Rather than use fear as a motivation, I use a sense of obligation and love. I don't try to coerce people.

"You'd be astonished at how Chuck Templeton,

EVANGELIST

Rev. Charles (Chuck) Templeton gave up a Toronto sports cartooning job 19 years ago to become an itinerant evangelist. He no wiz director of evangelism for the 3,500,000-member Presbyterian church in the United States. A believer in the down-to-earth brand of evangelism, he now is experimenting with television as a means of getting his message to non\-churchgoers. (CP Photo).

simple the services are. It's a wonder so many people turn out. But I suppose one of the reasons is the informality."

His Mexican wife, the former Constance Crumm, sings at his services. Chuck met her in California after abruptly quitting his Toronto newspaper cartoonist job 19 years ago and becoming an evangelist.

His conversion, he says, followed "what is usually described as a religious experience," and grew out of "a feeling of unrest" that came over him in a newspaper party. After three years as a traveling evangelist and seven years at Toronto's Avenue Road church, Templeton entered Princeton Theological Seminary and was ordained in 1951.

Two years later Lafayette College in Pennsylvania made him honorary doctor of divinity. But he likes to be known as plain Chuck Templeton.

Stirling

STIRLING — Mr. and Mrs. P. Bronson spent the week-end with their daughter, Mrs. Don Cox and Mr. Cox at Brampton.

Mrs. Ed. Kent, Stirling, R.R. 4, gave an address on "Prayer" at Foxboro last Friday.

Mrs. Harry Morrow, Stirling, R.R. 4, entertained "The Past Grands' Club," at her home last Wednesday.

J. A. Francis, assistant Agricultural Representative, was in charge of the Quinte Secondary School Tractor Club meeting held last Wednesday at King George High School.

The village of Stirling was a busy place on Saturday when over 125 girls with their leaders and interested mothers and friends of 17 clubs from Hastings County attended an all day session in Stirling community hall and theatre.

ST. PAUL'S W.A.

On Sunday evening St. Paul's W.A. held its church service with Mrs. Ralph Warren in charge. The W. A. choir sang the theme song and there were two vocal selections by Gordon Glendinning and West.

The Lenten lessons were read by Mrs. Volney Richardson and Mrs. Ted Reynolds, while Mrs. George Carlisle offered the prayer.

Mrs. Clifford Lansing gave the address on "The Place of a W.A. in a Church."

The offering was gathered by Mrs. Ralph Utman, Mrs. Lorne Utman, Mrs. Robert Fraser and Mrs. Ed. Heasman.

EUCHRE PARTY

Wednesday afternoon was pleasantly passed by the Ladies' Auxiliary to Bayshore Marsh Institutal, when they held a euchre party at the Odd Fellows Hall, Front Street.

There were ten tables in play, with prizes going to the following winners: Ladies' evening, Mrs. Johnston and Mrs. Theda Woods. The low hand score was won by Mrs. J. Leaney, and the lone hand by Mrs. F. Pullitt.

'Sin of Disunity' Topic At Women's Aux.

The regular monthly meeting of the Belleville Ward W.A., was held Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. A. Lloyd, with 21 members and three guests present.

The president, Mrs. N. Gerow, opened the meeting. Miss Thelma Clarke was in charge of the devotional.

Mrs. E. M. Wood "Councillor of the Dominion Board," was the guest speaker. Her topic "Sin of Disunity" was taken from Ephesians.

Miss J. Rogers gave a humorous reading called "Telephone Conversation," by Mark Twain.

The meeting was then brought to a close and refreshments served by Mrs. A. Lloyd, Mrs. Blythe, Mrs. A. Wayman and Mrs. Creelman.

Women of the Moose

Thursday evening the chairman's committee held its monthly meeting at the home of co-worker, Ida Lake, 100 Cedar street.

Due to the sudden change of weather several of the workers are ill with the 'flu, resulting in a small percentage being present.

Many topics of interest were discussed, especially Baby Village day which is to be held in Belleville by the Women of the Moose, March 22.

A draw donated by Ida Lake, was won by Mrs. Ethel Hall.

The next meeting is to be held at the home of Nora Kaiser, the first Thursday in April.

Refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Wright and Nellie Shandraw.

The meeting came to a close with thanks being tendered to the hostess for such an enjoyable evening.

The winner of the quilt that was drawn on Saturday was Mrs. R. Jamieson, 53 Dundas Street East; City.

World Tour by Cargo-Liner

By Lavonia Stockelbach

Ceylon—Land of Tea, Spices, Jewels

Arriving in the evening at Colombo, Ceylon, the passengers were ready and anxious to disembark early next morning. Tea came in at half past six and instead of the usual eight-thirty breakfast it was ready at seven-thirty. We reminded each other that there might not be time for lunch as we went down the ship's side-ladder and entered a large rowboat, nine of us, and none of us water-sprites.

Mrs. C. H. Wood "Councillor of the Dominion Board," was the guest speaker. Her topic "Sin of Disunity" was taken from Ephesians.

Miss J. Rogers gave a humorous reading called "Telephone Conversation," by Mark Twain.

The meeting was then brought to a close and refreshments served by Mrs. A. Lloyd, Mrs. Blythe, Mrs. A. Wayman and Mrs. Creelman.

Our first chore was to go to the post office and buy stamps both for the necessary stamps and, to the collector, the temptation stamps and Ceylon has a wide variety. The next thing was to exchange money. Whether to be taken to the bank or the black market, that was the question. For the first time I decided to take the risk and go the immortal soul (and it was the last time too) for the amount to be gained by exchanging a ten dollar bill into Ceylonese money. The beneficial rate, however, is five rupees to the dollar but the black market gave you six. We went to a side street and saw the money and a man disappeared with my ten dollars and was gone a long time but at last returned with sixty rupees.

A large, ancient, but comfortable, Buick held five assorted sizes and passengers and the driver who spoke English. The very handsome traffic policeman, with hat turned up on one side and a flamboyant air, stayed beside our car while we went to the museum and back but he did not know where we went.

CITY OF SUPERLATIVES

Every port has its own colors and smells but Colombo's smells outdid them all. The men handsome creatures, with little white flowers tucked behind their ears and wearing gorgeous sarongs distracted attention from the women, but at most.

It was a marvel to see how with their long slim fingers and with their legs all wrapped up to their ankles, the Tamil ladies could so speedily but our skillful driver proved his thirty-five years experience and more as he left the car on one side where the traffic seemed not to hasten the money miles a day went on our way up to Kandy, a distance of seventy miles.

The Ceylonese streets have no road sense. What with the speed and the extraordinary mix of modes of traffic, the slowness and recklessness of the pedestrians and the bicycles, it is a wonder that we arrive at all. It was a wonder that I did not see a dead body. The traffic is complicated by elephants, sacred cattle-animals, who were dragging heavily laden carts, by the attention to the tooting of the horns and the consequent lack of attention. At least that is one problem we do not have to contend with in this country.

We came to a plantation of cashew trees, flanked by acres with, and bought paper bags of the salted nuts, salted and touched up with cayenne, as we ate and conversed and our handbags with them. All sorts of trees of the tropics are known to us. We passed trees full of hundreds of bats hanging down and looking rather like great sacks at a distance. They were having their day-time rest.

All was new and novel to us as we went our way up to the temple of the reclining Buddha. Not being a student of the Buddhist religion I was not too distressing to learn that it could be seen only on days of high festival and this was not one of them. If you are a royalty a special arrangement is made.

VISIT TEA ESTATE

At last we reached the Didula tea estate, the destination to where I meant to buy tea. The tea was being dried in a huge building, the fragrant leaves laid on the long tiers of burlap sheets and on the floors of the huge barns and the cellings lofty while the fragrance was almost overpowering. Even the tea dust was swept into little heaps and saved and probably used by the natives who live on the land. Perhaps that is not as bad as it sounds as there was no dust in the building except what came from the tea itself.

A few pounds of that choice Ceylon tea were bought and later we left the estate to begin the long duty to be paid. Then we went on our way through very beautiful mountainous country to the city of the town of Kandy and the inevitable hotel selling the inevitable souvenirs and across the way the equally inevitable Ford agency. So we looked at the souvenirs and none of us saw much of the town of Kandy as we hurried from the temple we were to visit.

We stopped for a drink at another hotel by the way. It seemed such a long time since breakfast that we welcomed the long light beer and something like crackers and after lolling ourselves a bit we sat in comfortable rocking chairs and on easy chairs on the verandah. Then came an astonishing thing. The waiter appeared with a book like a hotel register and asked us to sign it, and to pay what was called "Visitors' Fee." That nearly knocked me bewildering. We explained that we were going on in a few minutes but after a little arguing and in the midst of considerable laughter we paid. The fee was reckoned by the quarter hour and hurried up one of our party, in a slow mood from Ceylon who was consuming her second litre of beer.

It is too bad that some American and English hotels have never thought up that tax when you consider the many thousand free hours that are used by visitors who have had coaxed the elephant out of the trees. This elephant was a very large animal. He was clean but very damp and consequently slippery. A long, long banana was placed on his back and a triumphant lady of our party, who had not liked beer, finally got settled and was photographed while I tried to feed the animal. I was undecided whether to place the grass into his mouth or the end of his long trunk either way having its disadvantages but he got my meaning and all was well.

Again we entered the car and went higher and higher into the hills of Ceylon where there were all sorts of beautiful plants and trees. For the first time I saw the cinnamon plant and was happy to bring some home-grown cinnamon with me, that and the clove and the cardamom will improve many a meal this winter.

There is one huge mountain called Adam's Peak which is 7,360 feet high. It stands up pre-eminently and impressively against the deep blue of the sky. There is a story that a hollow in the rock at the top and people make pilgrimages to visit the shrine there. All of the religious claim an origin of this depression. Some say it is the footprint of Buddha, others of Buddha, others of Adam. The Portuguese say it is that of St. Thomas. There is a rich shrine maintained by priests but I could not find out which it is. What did impress me most was the fact that the trees grew to pyramid shape right to the top but now are being felled to make room for coffee and tea plantations.

ANOTHER TEMPLE

We reached the temples but it would have been very impolite not to spend a longer time in the midst of this stupendous scenery. Next the first temple we entered, though not in itself of great interest had growing over it, around it and on it, I believe, into it, an enormous tree, the largest and oldest in Ceylon. It is related that Gautama the great philosopher, otherwise known as Buddha, sat under it in deep silent meditation and that this precious tree was grown from a slip planted a thousand years ago. At ways there will be in my mind an association with the Lord Buddha "the compassionate soul who sorrowed for humanity and public searching mind that sought truth" with that not lost of trees, for the tree of knowledge is not a not true as suggested by John Stewart Collis, in his book "The Triumph of the Tree" that trees promote meditation. Even the most commonplace tree, the apple tree can have that effect.

The elephants we visited seemed my excitement, there are times when one does not need words, and I was given a few tears. Larger leaves shaped like a poplar with the main stem protruding a few inches or more beyond the tip, a quite extraordinary leaf. I was so pleased to have several plucked for me. They were wrapped in a soiled piece of cloth by some attendant and I was asked to hide them in my purse as they were sacred and I must not show them. I suppose by the believers. Afterwards the strips of prayer were found dropped in the Arabian Sea. What prayers had been wrapped in it, by what forceful intent I shall never know.

Across the road was the temple where the sacred tooth was enshrined, like a jewel in a case, but off in a holy city of the West. I wearily climbed the steps and saw the elephant climbed up and down the steps and in back in a gorgeous container the sacred tooth, and later the Bo tree I found it all dull.

SPEEDY RETURN

We wanted to be in Colombo before dark so we went as speedily as possible past the cashew trees, the bananas, the pine-apples, past the mad and unintelligible motor cars and the ploddish elephants and before falling asleep in my corner of the car there is nothing else to do when you are hungry) I thought on the ancient belief that a god dwelt inside a tree, a belief that is true in this sense that when it is thought the part of wisdom to touch wood after bragging, for example, I touch it very much cold. It is done to placate the god, to avert misfortune. Of this I have to be found in the handiest piece of wood, because that particular god knows not like bragging or the boasting of any good luck.

Then I began to remember noticing was a sign board in English requesting contributions for Buddhist purposes. I found a photograph of a cheque on the Bank of Ceylon for ten thousand rupees for that purpose. I do not know the amount.

It was almost dark when we reached Colombo and the heat would soon close. Spices had to be bought and uncut jewels (for which Ceylon is famed) and a small party goes on its eight-thousand-mile journey.

Across the road was the temple where the sacred tooth was enshrined, like a jewel in a case, but off in a holy city of the West. I wearily climbed the steps and saw the elephant climbed up and down the steps and in back in a gorgeous container the sacred tooth, and later the Bo tree I found it all dull.

Bridge St. W.M.S. Holds Fine Meeting

The regular meeting of Bridge Street W.M.S. was held in the ladies' parlor with the president, Mrs. R. S. Denyes, presiding, and extending a welcome for all.

Mrs. MacArthur, secretary, gave a full report of last month's meeting, followed by reports by the treasurer, Mrs. Countryman, and the corresponding secretary, Mrs. Dulmage.

Mrs. Massey and Mrs. Myers were elected for their departments. Mrs. Davis, Christian stewardship secretary, read a lovely poem, and stated: "We have stewardship of time; every day we have 24 hours, one day only, and quoted from Milton on "His own blindness. Stewardship of talents. How is he returning Shide." "We must give God the first portion of our time, say, the first hour of every day. We should put some time in some special task, perhaps a sick call. We must make time for the really important things."

Mrs. Davis also referred to Miss Evelyn Swan, the missionary for prayer.

Mrs. Schryver gave a short talk on "books" and the need for the new sheet. A list of books available in the library and several interesting magazines, the Lenten booklet by Dr. Pidgeon, "From Fear to Faith," was distributed.

Mrs. Denyes reminded all of the Easter Tea, April 6, at the home of Mrs. Picton, on March 24, and asked that two delegates be appointed. Mrs. Countryman and Mrs. Nichols cars for transportation for any who may need it.

The Thank-offering meeting will be at 6.15 on April 7, Mrs. Wm. Turnbull, Mrs. Picton, the guest speaker, Mrs. Howie and Mrs. Turnbull, the ladies in charge of the devotional portion, with Mrs. Clapp reading from Psalm 107, Mrs. Wm. Turnbull spoke on the hymn, "Behold, a Sower," Mrs. Howie and later introduced the study book.

Mrs. Adsett gave a brief geography study of India, then followed by an account of the various religions, both good and evil.

Mrs. Fuke gave much information on India which gained its independence in 1947, and has some respects, India is becoming one of the leading nations of the world. It stands second to the United States in the film industry and in radio; it reaches nearly every language group. There is no color bar in India. It is the natural in politics. Among India's manufactures are cotton; jute and tea. Bombay is the city of millionaires, as the soil is impoverished. Irrigation ditches are a vast development.

Mrs. Farnsworth spoke at length on "The Church and Christ in Church," from the early Syrian Church, Mrs. Farnsworth was referring to the work of the Baptist, Roman Catholic, German Lutheran Church, Church of England (now the Indore School; the Church of England, and the United Church of Northern India. She stated that in certain villages, God is presented only as the God of the rich. What a vast contribution the Christian Church has made to India. The true story of two men in Korea, which aptly illustrated the true sacrifice necessary.

The three speakers were thanked by Mrs. Denyes and Mrs. Picton invitation given to all to attend the study group.

Following the close of the meeting, tea was served.

'Fashion Show Window 1955' To Be Presented by W.H. Aux.

Belleville's "Fashion Show Window of 1955" the colorful picture of what milady should be wearing the coming year, will again be offered by the Women's Hospital Auxiliary at an collegiate auditorium on Wednesday, March 9, with one showing at 8.15 p.m.

The Fashion Show, one of the highlights of the auxiliary's annual program will feature several city models, prizes and a stimulating program that ensures the success of the affair. The event has always been welcomed by the style-conscious feminine populace and this year, it is assured, they will not be disappointed with the offerings of the various exhibitors.

The proceeds of the Fashion Show will go for much-needed equipment for the hospital and comforts of the patients.

The Women's Hospital Auxiliary, the city's Belleville General Hospital was founded in 1938 with only a few members. The membership has increased greatly until at the present time it stands at approximately 200.

The aim and object of the Auxiliary is to assist and actively support the hospital authorities in creating favorable public relations in the community and to promote the welfare of the hospital's patients. In this regard valuable pieces of equipment have been presented to the hospital, including an oxygen tent, the incubator, the sun-lamp, the best units for the diet kitchen and many other valuable donations.

The nurses are not forgotten by the auxiliary. A nursary fund has been established whereby up to four nurses in training each year may be assisted financially.

The auxiliary pledge to the Hospital Building Fund in the amount of $10,000 has been nobly discharged until now there is very little to pay to fulfill this commitment.

At Christmas and Easter gifts are distributed to needy patients.

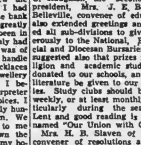
A Good Samaritan cupboard is kept supplied with clothing for babies who are in need when leaving the hospital.

Fifty dollars each year is spent on magazine subscriptions for the Mobile Library. The Alpha Lambda Chapter of the Beta Sigma Phi Sorority have taken complete charge of this library which will go for the supplies to the Good Samaritan Cupboard.

An active sewing group make articles for the hospital in the way of bedding etc., as well as children's garments for sale at the Opportunity Shop.

The Opportunity Shop is one of the long term projects of the Auxiliary. It is housed in the Masonic Building and is under the operated by volunteer members of the auxiliary.

The other major long term project of the auxiliary is the Coffee Shop which is also located in the hospital and has been a long felt need for the many popular project and many ladies, not members of the auxiliary devote much of their time working and assisting in the Coffee Bar.



These two endeavors net the auxiliary roughly $1,500 per year.

Regional Meeting of CWL Recently Held at Frankford

Members of Holy Rosary, St. Joseph's and St. Michael's subdivision of the Catholic Women's League journeyed by bus and private cars to a regional meeting held recently in Frankford. Greetings were extended to members and guests present from Marmora, Trenton, Point Anne, Belleville, Madoc and Frankford by Father J. L. LaMarche and Mrs. R. Baker, president of the local branch. The theme was carried out by recitation of The League Prayer by Monsignor L. J. Byrne and Mrs. J. Sizeen, regional convener, then called on the members for their views on the executive present. - In the absence of the diocesan president, Mrs. E. Haughian, the regional vice-president, Mrs. J. E. Boyd of Trenton, presided over the meeting also extended greetings and urged each sub-divisions to give generously to the Catholic Educational and Diocesan Bursaries. She suggested also that the collection of religion and academic studies be donated to our schools, and good literature to our public and high libraries. Study clubs should be held weekly, and the Legion of Mary particularly during the season of Lent and good reading is a book entitled "Mary and the Plan of God."

Mrs. H. B. Slaven of Picton, convener of press relations, reports, asked the sub-division presidents, in their yearly report, to give definite figures on work accomplished. The words, some, few, several, are not good in true picture and therefore a complete report cannot be compiled. All reports, resolutions and motions must be approved by the provincial director before presentation.

Mrs. Ed. Logan of Belleville, convener of study, film and publication, asked all members to be

Wife Preservers

If we were not from 1955 (if they are made to allow this process) by Ingrid Bergman and Joseph Cotten, we would suggest the mass parts of the Fashion Show Window of 1955 will come to the lower level of the W.A. Hall to be purchased by the gender sheik.

Going Places

Tips on Traveling by Train

By SHIRLEY and BOB ELSAGE

THIS being about the heaviest train travel season of the year, here are some assorted tips about riding the rails that may come in handy.

Each ticket permits you to check 150 pounds of baggage valued up to $100 (75 pounds worth $50 on half fare children's tickets). In the East and South there is usually a charge of 25 cents per hand valise and 50 cents per trunk.

Since almost any bag will contain much more than worth of such sections, it's a good idea to declare a definite value when you check in. There is a charge of 50 cents per $100 additional valuation. Excess weight charges are based on the worth of extra baggage.

No less claims are accepted on such articles as jewelry, furs, fragile goods, perishable items or cash, the theory being that you should not take only what you need for the trip.

No single piece of baggage exceeding 300 pounds in weight or 72 inches in the combination of length and $2,500 in value will be checked on a railroad ticket.

TRAVEL LUXURY

Few travelers should find this restriction a burden, whether they check their baggage or not. Even the oversized luggage clutters up space around your seat, is difficult to store in a souvenir case under a berth, and costs you a fortune to haul to and from the train because of porter and taxi costs.

Railroads highly recommend the new type of folding valise which can be accomodated to almost any situation. Vanity cases for the ladies are also suggested, since these carry most of the temporary necessities of a trip.

If you have a lot of cumbersome luggage, you'll be better financial-ly having it shipped express from door to door. The door-to-door charge is the only additional one, since your ticket entitles, you to train transportation for your bags. This inexpensive door-to-door service, plus the willingness of railroads to handle a generous volume of luggage without charge, gives them a good selling point when it comes to competing with the airlines.

IDENTIFICATION NECESSARY

Unless you send your baggage through a few days before, chances are it won't be at your destination when you arrive because it probably won't get on the same train. If you send it ahead, the railroad will hold it at the station 36 hours without charges. Each piece of luggage should have a tag with your name address on it, and there should be identification inside too.

If you put your bags in a locker at the station (cost, 10 to 25 cents), don't plan to leave it there more than 24 hours. Lockers are rented by the police once a day and you may have to go to a special police room to get your luggage back. Write down the number of the locker in case you lose your key.

Your best bet when at a railroad station is the stationmaster, who is the chief representative of the line or lines using the station. He determines your train or lose your ticket. He is usually a little boy, he's heard it all before and knows how to go about helping you.

A hotel reservation service is offered by the passenger traffic officers in large cities. However, the railroads don't particularly encourage this practice. It's of real value only when you've got plenty of time before leaving on your trip, and in that case you can write to the hotel and write yourself.

Train travel, in short, the quickest and surest way of confirming a reservation is by telephone. If you have time, you'll get a reduced rate and the cost of both wires probably will be less than the long distance call. If they say no, you've lost time and will have to wire again.

STOP-OVERS PERMITTED

If you're traveling coach, you can break your train at a key point and take another train at a later date. The conductor will give you a train check which is sort of pass for any other train, or will refund the unused portion of your ticket. To do this traveling by Pullman or reserved coach space, but arrangements for the change should be made at the time you buy your ticket.

In most cities you can arrange to have Western Union send your tickets for a small messenger charge. You can also wire a railroad ticket to anyone anywhere in the country for just the cost of the wire.

When you use redcap service remember that there is a 15 cents charge per bag, or a total of 30 cents minimum. Redcaps are not supposed to be tipped for carrying hand luggage from the timetable and apply this approximate cents-per-mile guide:

One-way coach fare, 1.4¢; Seats 2.75; West, 2.2.

One-way first class (Pullman or parlor car)—East, 4.5; South, 3.85; West, 2.5.

Round trip coach—East, 2.9 to 2.4; West, 2.3; South, 2.3.

Round trip first class—East, 4.4 to 3.4; South, 3.5; West, 2.9.

TEACHERS MEET

The conference was arranged by the Federation of Women Teachers Associations of Ontario.

ADVICE to the LOVELORN

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

HAS THIS HUSBAND ALWAYS MADE HIS WIFE HAPPY?

A husband who has lost faith in his wife writes to tell me why, in a story that parodies me a little.

After explaining that he and his wife have been married 14 years and have four children, he goes on to say that "About two years ago, I was away from home. It wasn't my idea. I just couldn't help it; I had to go.

"My wife and I were getting along all right until she got to seeing another man and filed suit for divorce. She didn't get the divorce right away, and when I came back home, she didn't want it at all. She only wanted me back.

"She was still writing to this man, though, and maybe seeing him. I don't know. But I found a man's name and telephone number in her little book and another man's name was written all over the place in her own writing.

"I asked her about them, but she will tell me nothing. If I have to find out things from other people, which I am gradually doing, I am going to leave my wife and run away. But if she would tell me all about it, and start a clean slate, I would love nothing better than to stay with her and the children. I love her and the children.

"I don't drink or smoke, and I don't run around with other women. I have told my wife everything and I've got a clean slate to start on. But as long as she won't come clean with me, I'm afraid I can't trust her."

Now what this man says about having "run away from home" two years ago brings up some questions in my mind. What was the reason why he "had to go"? And could the reason have been anything to which the wife might have objected? Was it while he was gone that her interest in other men began?

It is possible that their trouble began right at that point, and, if so, it would be necessary to have the details of his absence from home in order to figure out the wife's attitude.

Another thing about which I am wondering is just what this man means when he says of herself he told his wife everything and having a clean slate to start on. Is there something in his past which upset his wife, even though he now says he doesn't "run around with other women"?

Since I am in the dark on both these questions, all I can do is to base an opinion on what he says himself, and assume that the clue to his wife's interest in other men does not lie in anything her husband has done; that he is entirely innocent of wrong-doing, and that her actions, whatever they may have been, grew out of something entirely within herself.

If this is the case, then it is not surprising that the circumstances he describes have made him feel he can't trust his wife. Apparently, he has definite evidence that seems to indicate she is interested in other men. But instead of making an impulsive decision to pick up and leave her, perhaps he should check on his own behavior toward her to determine whether or not he has always given her the love and thoughtfulness that would keep her happy.

Has he taken her, and all she has probably done for him and the children, entirely for granted, or has he been careful to let her know that he loves and appreciates everything she is, and has done for her home and family? Has he taken her out for recreation reasonably often, so that she gets away from the routine, or does he forget how much time she spends within the four walls of home doing housework and looking after the children? Does he do thoughtful little things for her, and bring her little gifts now and then? In short, has he done everything possible to make her feel that he is a wonderful husband, and that she would rather be his wife than the wife of any other man in the world?

My idea would be that, right now, he should stop questioning his wife on the points at issue between them, and put all his energy and effort into being this wonderful husband. It's a rare wife indeed who will get interested in another man, if the one she has makes her feel that she is the light of his life.

These two have been married a good many years, and research admits that they got along well until fairly recently. Before breaking up a marriage of such long standing, he should be quite sure he has done all he can intelligently to make and keep it a happy one.

Readers' Saturday Column

QUESTION:

Our daughter is being married March 30 at 7.30 p.m. followed by a reception at home for about 100 guests. . . . what could I have for lunch that could be eaten off of a plate on one's knee?. I thought I would like a tossed salad, consisting of chicken, celery, lettuce, etc., fancy sandwiches, radishes, pickles, celery, a dessert with small cakes or lobster cookies wedding cake and coffee. Would this be O.K.? I would be grateful for any changes or suggestions, also for recipe for salad and dessert. The dessert I had in mind was one with jello, cocoanut, cherries, etc. with scoop of ice cream.

will three lbs. coffee be enough?

—Mrs. M. H.

QUESTION:

. . . my daughter is being married April 23 and we are having her reception at home for around 75 guests. Could you outline a simple menu that would be nice but not too expensive and could you please give me a list or things to buy for the meal to be served at 1 o'clock.

I thought of cold chicken, ham, potato salad, olives, pickles, radishes, celery small sandwiches, wedding cake, tea, coffee. Do you think I should include ice cream too

. . . any suggestions will be appreciated.—Mrs. A. D.

ANSWER:

(To both Mrs. M.H. and Mrs. A.D.)

Thank you both for the kind and thoughtful comments in your letters which I have omitted, to conserve space.

Since both brides' mothers mention cost at one place or another in their letters I would suggest the following menu: (although Mrs. A. D.'s idea of cold chicken, ham and potato salad would be fine too).

Chicken Salad Plates
(See below)

Olives, Celery, Spiced Pear or Peach or Crabapple; Radish Roses
Small Hot Rolls or Fancy Sandwiches
Petit Fours Fancy Cookies
Wedding Cake
Ice Cream (is optional—see note)
Tea Mints Coffee

If Mrs. A. D. serves chicken and ham and potato salad I think she should dispense with the ice cream, however I would recommend serving it as it is so popular.

To Mrs. M. H. I want to say 3 lbs. medium grind coffee makes plenty for 100; If the coffee is very finely ground 2 1-2 lbs. are sufficient. Also I would suggest serving a sauce over ice cream such as frozen strawberries or pure maple syrup rather than an additional dessert beside it.

CHICKEN SALAD (for 100)

(Note—Since wedding time is coming up I would be grateful if mothers with daughters with marriage plans in mind would clip this recipe.)

Six and one-half quarts (52 cups) cooked chicken cut in small cubes (5 1-2 lb. when cooked yields 5 cups diced meat), 6 1-3 quarts chopped inner celery, 2 tablespoons salt, 2 teaspoons white pepper, 4 cups French dressing, 3 Imperial quarts genuine mayonnaise (120 oz.), well-cupped inner lettuce leaves, 10 hard-cooked eggs sliced. Combine chicken, celery, salt, pepper and French dressing and let stand 2 hours to chill and marinate in refrigerator. Add mayonnaise (or cooked salad dressing) to moisten. Mix carefully. Serve on well-cupped lettuce leaves preferably on individual—plates and garnish attractively with sliced hard-cooked egg and, if used, spiced pear or peach or crabapple, and olives, or gherkins or radishes.

NOTE:

Three chopped cooked veal or ham may be used as a substitute for part of the chicken.

GOOD MANNERS

By MRS. BEECKMAN

GIVE AUNT JANET THE HONOR SHE DESERVES

Dear Mrs. Beeckman.

My mother died when I was a baby, and my mother's sister, my beloved Aunt Janet, brought me up and has given me a wonderful love and devotion and home all my life. She has been a widow for the past six years. I have worked ever since I was 15 years old, and together we have kept the home. My father has never shown any interest in me, has never supported me, and since his marriage to a French girl twelve years ago he has lived in France. I seldom hear from him, and I certainly can't say I have any affection for him.

Now I have an imminent problem. I am to be married in several months, a simple ceremony in the chapel of my church, and a small reception here at "our" home. But I would like to send out quite a few formal announcements. Must I send these in my father's name? My father's mother feared that I was to be married, and has written me a very critical letter saying I must do this. I'll be heartbroken if I can't have my Aunt Janet sponsor these announcements, as she really has "sponsored" my bringing-up and care all these years. And my fiance feels strongly as I do. — D.M.

I agree with you one hundred percent . . . that this wonderfully kind and generous and loving aunt of yours should be given the honor of sponsoring your marriage announcements. Wherever there is any logical reason for it, I'm in favor of having a parent sponsor the marriage announcements even when the parent lives at a great distance), but in your case I can see absolutely no logical reason for your giving this honor to your father, who has taken no responsibility for your bringing-up. Your beloved Aunt Janet is the one to be given this honog, so richly deserved!

OPENING THOSE GIFTS TO THE NEW BABY

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

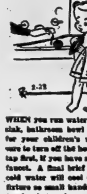
I have a new baby, and yesterday several very good friends of mine happened to arrive at the same time to see my new Kodak-loe. Two of them brought gifts to the baby, two of them didn't. I wondered what to do about opening the gifts that were handed to me—idea I decided it would be kinder to those who brought gifts if I opened them at once and thanked for them Later I wondered if I had done the right thing. Do you think I did? — New Mother

You did the right and kind thing. Not to have opened the gifts of the thoughtful givers at once would have seemed unappreciative.

PHOTOGRAPH AS A PRESENT

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

One group has been discussing whether or not it's a good idea to give one's photograph to a friend as a gift for a birthday or for Christmas or for some other special occasion. What do you think? — Marie and "Company"



I've never thought this a good idea. A photograph is such a personal item that I think the friend should ask for one, if he or she wishes one.

BEAVERBROOK RETURNS

LONDON (CP) — Lord Beaverbrook returned to Britain on the Queen Mary Thursday night after five months in Canada and the United States. He came back to an editorial tribute from World's Press News, newspaper trade journal. It said that although every so often the 75-year-old publisher announces he is giving up the direction of his newspapers, nobody really believes it.

WHEN you run water in the sink, bathroom bowl or tub for your children's use, be sure to turn off the hot water tap first, if you have a single faucet. A final brief run of cold water will cool off the fixture so small hands won't touch a hot surface.

Beauty

By HELEN JAMIESON

IT IS BETTER TO WEEP THAN TO WORRY

The woman who bursts into tears when she is bothered, gets over it quickly and goes about her business for she experiences a sense of relief. She blows off steam, gets her troubles out of her system. It is the steady worrier, the one who cherishes her griefs—who courts premature wrinkles and suffers from a jittery nervous system.

No cosmetic has ever been compounded that will improve the appearance of the woman who is always expecting the worst and who feels even worse when it doesn't happen. She should think of the many times when she has fretted about disasters which never occurred. Her only hope is in developing a practical working philosophy. It will do wonders to ward off the marks of the "crawl" also.

Worry depresses and depletes our mental and physical forces. It can do damage to the health in the course of time, as it destroys appetite, draws up the corners of the lips so that the digestive processes are retarded. It has a weakening effect upon the circulation. The hands are moist, mouth dry. The skin has "crawl" when worry fears.

Without proper nutrition the tissues of the face soften and relax. Then wrinkles appear. As the face develops lines of expression of anxiety and tension, lines appear around the eyes and the corners of the lips droop.

There is a close bond between the mind and the body. The woman who has a sunny disposition, who takes things in her stride, knowing that life brings irritations as well as blessings, has a better chance of staying young and pretty than the one who broods and gives way to sharp speech.

Peace of mind! Tranquility! That means for the fault- and weakness of others people. The qualities will do more to build beauty and charm than all the toiletries that ever come out of the cosmetic laboratories.

THE WINDS OF MARCH

The winds of March are calling
across the frozen plain,
Awaking earth to springtime, the flowers to bloom again.
To rouse the streams from sleeping,
To set the waters leaping,
To hasten on the coming of the blessing April rain.

The winds of March are calling
in voices shrill and high,
We hear their ghostly clamor
when midnight hours are nigh,
But though the trees are bending
The sap is fast ascending
To paint the maple leaf-buds against the evening sky.

The winds of March are calling
insistently to me,
To waken all my being to Springtime ecstasy,
To make me realize anew
That like the sunset fires
Give promise of the brightness of the days that are to be.
— Helen B. Anderson.

With the coming of March we feel the glad tidings of Spring, although many stormy days may occur before King Winter yields the sceptre of power to the young spring. Here in town the Canadian Seed Growers on Monday ladies and women employees who have been busy every day through the winter season, were now on holiday. And farmers passing with loads of potatoes to the factories for their farm stock seem to be getting spring is approaching. And besides, St. Patrick's Day is now drawing near when visitors of the many in world over are turning to the Emerald Isle. Quoting Jean Blewett:

"Here's to old Ireland—fair I vow,
With the blue skies stretched over her!
Here's to her shamrock warm and
green,
And here's to the hearts that love her!"

LOCAL NOTES

Mr. Billy Vandewster, who has joined the RAF, left on Friday for Quebec.

The World's Day of Prayer was observed in the Anglican Church in St. Andrew's Anglican Church which was filled to capacity. Among those assisting in the service was Mrs. Gray who delivered an inspiring address.

Mrs. Mildred Way is a patient in Kingston hospital. Her friends are hoping for her recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Vandewater were guests on Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Stevenson on Sunday.

WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

On Friday, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Young, Mountain View, entertained at dinner in honor of the fortieth wedding anniversary of Mrs. Young's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Wallbridge, Hutt's Island. Fifteen guests were entertained among whom were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Morton of Wallington, and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Kinnear of Mountain View, guests of honor received many fine gifts. Their many friends unite in extending congratulations and best wishes.

The many friends of Mrs. W. Heaney of Trenton, regret to learn of her serious illness necessitating an operation in Toronto hospital, and are hoping for a permanent recovery. Mrs. Heaney, husband, Mr. W. Heaney, is in Toronto to be with her. She has been visited by her sister, Mrs. W. V. Schell of Consecon, and her cousin, Mrs. L. R. Leavens of Wellington.

Friends here were saddened to learn that Mrs. Stanley Thompson (nee Miss Pearl Trumpour), wife of her husband in hospital dying in Florida, is very ill, suffering from a stroke. Her daughter left Toronto by plane to be with her mother. Needless to say her many Wellington friends are anxious for her recovery.

CANADIAN AUTHORS APPRECIATED

It is not only interesting but also very encouraging to learn that books by Canadian authors are more and more frequently being portrayed on the stage and screen. Among these are Stephen Leacock's "Sunshine Sketches of a Little Town", that has been shown on Orilla; and Thomas Costain "The Silver Chalice" that is being shown in his home town, Brantford. Thus it is evident that Canada is beginning to appreciate the work of her own people.

DREAMS OF AN IRISH EMIGRANT

O Erin, mavourneen 'tis of you I am dreamin',
As my thoughts wander eastward
across the blue foam;
And I think of the hills and the valleys, dear Killarney
And of the wee cabin that was one time my home.

It is not of this land in my sleep
I am dreamin',
Though fair are her lakes and her
hills and her valleys,
But of the old sod where the shamrock is gleamin',
The dear land of Erin I see in my dreams,

May God bless my country, dear
Erin, mavourneen,
And slip from her sonds the sad
minor strain,
And may the gold harp so long
tuneless and broken
Shed forth its sweet sounds
through old Tara again.
—Helen B. Anderson.

All-America Award Winners

BY FLORA M. SAVILLE

Some years ago a group of seed dealers decided to establish proving grounds for their products. Out of this have come the 22 All-America official vegetable trial grounds. Each one is in charge of a qualified and acceptable judge who has worked in that area for some years.

Plants which pass the test set by the group, for two or three years are given the stamp of approval and become new All-American selections. Many fine flowers and vegetables have been introduced to us through this group.

Last year the Blaze zinnia was the only award winner. It is a fiery bright scarlet, of medium height. Remember this one when selecting your annuals.

PERENNIAL MAKES LIST

This year there is one perennial on the list. This is Coreopsis. It is 18 years since one has made the list. A yellowstone or sculptor named McKana Giant Columbines has measured up and now we can include these among the long spurred beauties in our borders and count on a wider range of color and several new combinations of colors. There are lovely two tones blooms, the blue and white being particularly lovely. There are solid maroon, lavender and butter yellow blooms too. The plants are more ornamental than the older types and many more of the back ground plants for a border of annuals, or they may be used to add color to the perennial bed. There is a yellow type. The best of these is called Maple gold. Plant these two in groups against a light background for brilliant effect.

FINE NEW PETUNIA

Those who scorn petunias, and there are some who do, will surely be won by the new Prism Bonna, the third award winner in the flower class. It is a rose pink frilled and ruffled beauty with immense flowers. The plants are compact and grow 12 to 15 inches high.

Rawdon

RAWDON—Mrs. Gerald Clancy and Miss Donna Marie, Wellington; also Mrs. Harry Heath, Bethel, attended the World Day of Prayer at Mount Pleasant. All others from these two appointments had to go to Trenton.

Rev. W. G. Fletcher, presided at Centre - Hastings Ministerial Association meeting on Monday at Marmora. Rev. Harold Beere, Springbrook, was secretary pro tem.

When Hurricane Hazel struck with sledgehammer fury

YOUR RED CROSS WAS READY

More than 75 persons lost their lives on that terrifying night of relentless destruction.

Homes were swept along rivers like corks. Roads and bridges were washed away.

Separated families searched frantically for lost ones through the howling night. 100 million dollars worth of property was destroyed.

Hours before the news became headlines, Red Cross Disaster Service units were on the scene, trained and organized to give immediate relief services.

Mobile canteens served both flood victims and heroic rescue workers. Blankets, clothing, food and other necessities were rushed to the scene. Emergency shelter was set up for service. Wherever disaster strikes in Canada, your Red Cross is there helping to save lives and alleviate suffering. The work of mercy never ends.

TICE ONE TO WIN

"Everyone was talking about the Jones' boy" and his jubilant mates nearly mobbed the sorrel-topped winger last night after the siren ended one of the most wildly-exciting senior "B" tussles seen here this winter. And Tony "Pooch-'Em-Out" Parisi came in for a rightful share of back-slapping after coming up with a performance that bordered on the sensational, and at times uncanny.

It was a vastly different team that picked up the Cornwall gauntlet in the second of the semi-finals series and 1500 fans stood and cheered hoarsely when the Memes, after making a fighting comeback to wipe out a two-goal deficit, snatched the victory on the brilliant goal by Jones with exactly 32 seconds left in the overtime period. It was a nigh-perfect play. Hub Macoy engineered the assault with a sweeping attack and Jones and Arnie Dezan fitted into the scheme of things beautifully. Their passing and timing was perfect and Peter's heist into the net was all that could be desired.

The Memes earned the victory every inch of the way. They were up against a club that played some pretty sensational hockey, and which made every move count. They were dangerous on every foray and all the fierce both-way checking, Parisi's brilliance was necessary to ensure the victory.

And don't think M'len Piquette in the Colts' net was doing any day-dreaming. He, too, came up with a brilliant performance especially in the second period when the Colts rapped home two quick goals and the desperate Memes drove back with sustained offensives.

It was a great game to win, especially after the 10-0 defeat handed our side by the Colts in the series opener. The teams go back at it again tomorrow afternoon in Cornwall and here next Tuesday night.

SUBSTITUTE

A last-minute substitution has been made in the basketball double-header scheduled for the Quinte Secondary School gymnasium this evening. The Cobourg C.I. will play Albert College instead of Peterborough C.I., Quinte coach Johnny Hayman was informed at a late date yesterday. It seems the latter did not play here with other players scheduled for tonight, hence the switch to Cobourg. The Quinte junior "B" champions tangle with the BCI junior "A's" in what should be a thrilling half of an attractive basketball twin bill. The first game starts at 6.45.

BASEBALL

With the falling apart of the Toronto Viaduct League it appears the only baseball hope for this district lies with the rebirth of the Central Ontario Baseball League—or a similar organization.

Gentle feelers put out a short time ago indicate that Peterborough and Kingston are interested in the formation of a league. Oshawa, which has joined in the ranks of the Intercounty League, can scarcely be expected to field a squad, in fact, a number of last year's Oshawa stars are reported as being willing to play with the Peter organization.

Manager Jack Carnes of the Belleville Batas, said today that Brockville has indicated interest in joining a league, and that he was in touch with Smith's Falls and Watertown with regard to entries. These clubs would round out a six-team circuit, which would do very nicely providing the proper arrangements are made.

The Central Ontario League folded last Spring after an auspicious organizational start that suddenly fell to pieces when Oshawa and Kingston dropped out of contention, leaving the Batas and Peter alone in the field. These clubs joined the Toronto Viaduct League and the rest is history. The Batas and Oakville Oaks won the senior title jointly.

Incidentally, the Ontario Baseball Association annual meeting is being held in Cobourg this year, conclaving on March 18 and 19, with the Kinsmen Baseball League as the hosts. The league has planned some gala entertainment for Friday evening, and a large representation of baseball men is expected to be on hand.

Remember When

By The Canadian Press

Charlie Conacher scored four of Toronto's 19 goals as Maple Leafs defeated Canadiens 20 years ago tonight. Conacher went on to win the National Hockey League scoring title for the second year in a row finishing the season with 36 goals and 31 assists for 67 points, up five on the previous season.

Reports Say Moscow Puckists Been Playing Under Wraps; Penalties May Be Big Factor

By Arch MacKenzie
Canadian Press Staff Writer

ERKFELD, Germany (CP)—With the world hockey tournament hinging on the big game Sunday between Canada and Russia, the question is—have the Moscow Millionaires been playing under wraps?

The Red stars undoubtedly have been dogging it, some say. It's a debatable point, others hold.

The Canadians, who admit they have let up themselves against some of the weaker countries, say they couldn't care less. They get the nod from most observers here.

(The capitalistic name "millionaires" applied to the Russian team appears to be a gag among Western sports writers at the tournament. The name, made up of players from the Moscow Dynamo, a defence ministry outfit and another team called "Wings of the Soviet.")

The Sunday match has taken on the flavor of a one-game, European Stanley Cup. Krefeld's indoor rink, Rheinland-Halle, has been sold out for months. It can seat about 7,000 persons.

With about 1,200 to 1,500 Canadians stationed in the force personnel from nearby military establishments expected, the demand for tickets now are a black-market affair. Several hundred fans paid the top regular Cup Krefeld's indoor rink, Rheinland-Halle, has been sold out for months. It can seat about 7,000 persons.

With about 1,200 to 1,500 Canadians stationed in the force personnel from nearby military establishments expected, the demand for tickets now are a black-market affair. Several hundred fans paid the top regular Cup. Krefeld's indoor marks (about $3) for the choice seats.

The game starts at 5 p.m. (11 a.m. EST).

FAVORS CANADIANS

Clarke Drake of Yorkton, Sask., who has scouted the Russians for playing coach Grant Warwick of Penticton, Vs. said: "The Canadians are seven goals better if they play the hockey they are capable of."

German and Swedish sports writers and others call Canada's lineup of one, two and three goals. Penalties are regarded as the big question mark.

The Canadians have calmed down considerably since the game with Czechoslovakia, when they drew 10 penalties.

They had five Friday night as they brushed aside Germany 10-1.

"Canada by two goals but it will be close," said U.S. manager Al Balchen.

Drake says the Russians' power lies in their ability to turn on a dime. Drake, who coaches a Junior A school team, has watched the Russians in five games.

SAYS STAR OVERRATED

"This guy Bobrov (Vsevolod Bobrov, captain and star forward) gets every pass when the first line is on the ice and he doesn't (like to let the puck go once he gets it. But he's overrated in my books. The Yanks took the steam out of him with some stiff checks.

"Bobrov makes quite a show of appealing to the referee every time he's checked."

He added: "A lot about Sunday's game depends on the referee."

Two officials from Switzerland will handle the game.

The Canadians and Russians are the only unbeaten teams in the nine - country tournament which started last Friday night. Each has won seven straight games.

A mild attack of influenza and colds, striking among others coach Warwick and Jack McIntyre, did not seem to hurt the Canadians in their easy victory over Germany at Cologne. Both Warwick and McIntyre scored. Jack MacDonald and Mike Shabagas, the old pro, each scored a pair of goals while Bill Warwick, Jack Taggart, Jim Middleton and Doug Kilburn scored once.

CANADA IDLE TODAY

The Russians defeated Switzerland 7-2 at Krefeld while the United States moved into third place with a 6-3 win over Poland.

Today Canada, Russia and Germany have byes. The United States plays Sweden, Czechoslovakia meets Poland and Switzerland is drawn against Finland.

Ivan McLelland, leading goalkeeper in the tournament, had gone more than 114 minutes without allowing a goal when Germany's Oswald Huber scored on a breakaway in the second period. It was only the sixth goal McLelland has allowed in the tournament and the second in his last five games. His goals-against average is .36.

Russia's Nikolai Putchkov has allowed eight goals in seven games for an average of 1.14.

Canada was far ahead in the scoring department with a total of 61 goals to 39 for Russia.

REDS TAKE IN MOVIE

The Canadian attitude is one of waiting, with some feeling about playing so - called ham-and-egg teams.

The Russians are reported feeling the tension too. They called off a practice session at their free day, and went to a movie. The Russians have played other scheduled practices.

"Canada good," Bobrov told a reporter Thursday night.

But the Russian admitted that one of their stars, Evgeny Babich, is "kaput." Babich was sidelined on the bench in Wednesday night's game against the Americans and he had it in a cast Friday.

Despite Babich's injury the Russians still have more than enough strength for the Canadians.

The contrast between Canadian power hockey and the patterned Russian hit-and-run tactics will be a big feature. It is said that the Vs have too much strength in pure hockey tactics, including ability to control the puck in the payoff zone.

Smythe Meets Westcott In Badminton Final

By Shirley Morris
Canadian Press Staff Writer

MONTREAL (CP) — Unseeded Bev Westcott, a little guy with a big serve, goes after his third straight upset win today when he meets defending champion Don Smythe in an all-Toronto final for the Canadian badminton championship.

Westcott whipped second-ranked Daryl Thompson of Vancouver 15-5, 15-11 Friday night.

Earlier, sixteen-year-old Harold Moody of Montreal won the Goodrich Trophy for the second straight year by whipping 15-year-old Ed Khreljee of Sudbury 15-8, 15-7 in the junior boys singles final.

Toronto's Marj Shedd will defend her ladies' singles crown against Jean Waring of Calgary after advancing to the finals with 11-2, 11-6 victories over Kae Grant of Montreal.

ACCURATE SHOTS

Young Moody relied on his accurate smashes to win the junior boys title, but he also picked up a few free points when Khreljee kept knocking the bird behind the back line.

Miss Waring competes for two titles today. She meets Miss Shedd for the women's crown and Audrey Rhodes of Stratford for the junior girls' trophy.

The Westcott-Bud Porter team will meet Thompson and Bert Fergus of Vancouver today for the men's doubles crown. The Vancouver combination won the berth by defeating Bunny Brewster of Montreal 15-6, 15-8. Thompson and Fergus defeated Aveleigh Hepworth of Woodstock, and Audry Rhodes of Stratford 15-6, 15-8 in women's doubles play.

Indians Scalp Bulldogs 5-4 To Even Series

STRATFORD (CP) — The spell Stratford Indians cast when they play at home worked again Friday night.

In a game they couldn't afford to lose, Indians turned back Windsor Bulldogs 5-4 after 68 minutes of hockey to even their best-of-seven Ontario Hockey Association Senior A semi-final series at 3-3.

The deciding game will be played in Windsor Sunday with the winner advancing into the finals against Kitchener-Waterloo Dutchmen.

The score was 1-1 after the first period, 4-4 after the second and remained deadlocked through the third. After eight minutes of the overtime period Mickey Roth scored the winning goal, his sixth in the series.

Indians have only lost one home game all season and have won every playoff home game. But Windsor has also won every playoff game on home ice.

Bob Bowman put Windsor ahead at 9:08 of the first frame but Bill Flick tied it up less than two minutes later.

George Aitken, Dinny Flanagan and Lou Bendo tallied for Stratford while Gord Haidy, Jack Armstrong played Chuck Henderson were the Bulldog scorers. Armstrong's goal came while Windsor had a player advantage.

Memos Defeat Cornwall Colts 4-3 In Overtime To Square Semi-Finals

Peter Jones Scores Winner With 28 Seconds Remaining; Were Down Pair in Second

By GEORGE H. CARVER
(Sports Editor)

Peter Jones' looping shot into a corner of the net with just 28 seconds to go in overtime, broke up a hard-fought, rugged senior "B" playoff battle here last night and gave the Belleville Memos a 4-3 victory over the Cornwall Colts. The semi-finals series between the squads is all-even at one victory each.

The Memos used the third game in Cornwall on Sunday and are back here again next Tuesday for the fourth game of the best-of-seven series.

The Memos, in a direct reversal of form over that of the first game when they were trounced 10-6, spotted the Colts a two-goal lead in the second period after the teams split a pair in the opening bout. They tied it up in a red-hot third period and won the game with time slipping away in the overtime period.

The game was one of the best-behavior "B" tilts seen here this season with both clubs travelling at top speed through the entire seventy minutes. It was a hard-hitting hard-checking affair with goalies Parisi and Piquette rising to sensational heights at times in thrusting out enemy attacks. The Colts drew nine of the 14 penalties handed out by the officials, all of them minors.

The game started at a terrific clip, maintained throughout in the first period. The Memos roared to the attack and tested Piquette in the opening minute of the game. The Colts roared back and Oleksiuk drew the first penalty of the game at 1.14 when his shot from 35 feet out picked the left corner of Jones' west.

Both goalies came up with terrific stops of shots that could've kicked aside Belmore's drive when the Cornwall player raced in alone.

Bingley, Cornwall star, suffered a leg injury when he was struck from the ice.

The tempo quickened and play started to roughen. Payette drew an interference penalty at 4.14 and the Memos drove in on a furious offensive. Erwin Duncan flashed the light but Parisi and Jones broke brother Edwin to knot the count.

Play raced from end to end with again the hard checking of both teams standing out. Moe Savard took Connolly's pass at 7.52 to break into the clear and race in to beat Parisi cleanly to give the Colts a 3-1 lead.

Less than two minutes later, Belmore, Henri and Julien drove in with the former blasting a screened shot in the net to increase the lead to 3-1. Parisi has yet to see where the shot came from as the player was blocked by the defence.

Davy Jones went off for hooking at 14.22 and Julien followed him a minute later, Erwin and Duncan and Belmore started fisticuffing and each drew two minor penalties.

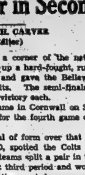
Julien had returned to the ice and both teams were short-handed when the Memos staged a terrific power - play. Red Doran blasted the puck past Piquette to cut the margin to 3-2 with Macey and Peter Jones assisting.

Twenty seconds later Ed Duncan was waved off for tripping but a hard-hitting Memos defence held the Colts scoreless.

At 5.41 of the third the Memos had a decided edge in territorial play and Piquette had to stop a kick out their drives. Play was fast and furious with both teams checking like fiends.

Goyer and Oleksiuk went off for high-sticking midway through the heat but the fast pace was maintained until the end of the penalty both goals having narrow escapes.

Parisi made three terrific saves from his doorstep in the opening seconds of play to keep the Colts drove hard to increase their lead. Bingley got the gate at 2.40 for holding Piquette's stick to heights kicking out Memo drives.



Play was even faster than the preceding pair as the win-hungry Memos roared back and the Colts playing pretty positional hockey battled fiercely to cling to their slim lead. The crowd of 1,500 roared to its feet after four minutes of play when Keith MacDonald fired a shot from an angle that slithered in the net off Piquette's pads. From then on it was pitch-on, nip-and-tuck hockey with both goals having narrow escapes. The Colts drew the only two penalties of the game.

It was the same in overtime with the Memos having a shade in territorial play. It looked like a stalemate with the clock ticking off the seconds when Hub Macoy engineered a beautiful play that climaxed the battle with the winning goal. Hub set up the P. Jones - Arnie Dugan duo in front by passing attack. Arnie's pass-out to the sorrel-top was relayed and Jones lifted it high over Piquette's body to score the winner.

The Memos nearly mobbed Parisi and Jones after the final whistle.

The teams:

Cornwall — Goal, Piquette; defence, Bingley, Gould; centre, Savard; wings, Batten, Connelly; subs, Hurtubise, Lefave, Belmore, O'Brien, Payette, Morris, Marshall, Oleksiuk, Mario.

PETER JONES

Canadian Curling Championship Opens Monday

By WILF CHESLETT
Canadian Press Staff Writer

REGINA (CP) — The Canadian curling championship opening here Monday, officials say, will be the biggest and most colorful in the 56-year history of the event.

Regina considers itself the curling capital of the world, despite the Scots, ancestry of the game. Secondly, Saskatchewan this year is celebrating its 50th anniversary and will start kicking up its heels with the major sports events slated for Regina and Saskatoon.

The final event will be the biggest from the spectator point of view is the curling.

Officials in looking over the results of two years of preparation predicted Friday night that the spiel will draw a record crowd.

Already there is a guaranteed attendance of 4,000.

RURAL VISITORS

Most of the advance ticket sales have been made by persons from rural areas where a curling rink is almost as essential as a grain elevator.

All curlers arrived Friday. The last seven rinks were flipped through the railway station from plane special and to hear addresses of welcome by civic and government leaders.

Curlers today are guests of the city at a luncheon and tonight attend a reception and banquet. Sunday they will attend another luncheon and an evening church service.

Barber, Furgol Lead Tourney

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—Jerry Barber of Los Angeles and Marty Furgol of Lemont, Ill., played one-par sub-par golf in an erratic field Friday to take a two-stroke lead at the midway mark in the fourth annual $12,500 Baton Rouge open golf tournament.

Barber had the best round of the day, a five-under-par 67, to add to his first round of 72 for a 134 total.

Furgol's 68 was two strokes over his opening 66 but still good enough to tie for the lead as most early leaders gazed from their sizzling first rounds.

Walter Homans of Baltimore, first-day leader with seven-under-par 65, ballooned 10 strokes to 75 for a 141 total, barely making the top 20 Friday.

May Take Assist from Rocket After Seeing Movie of Play; Could Cost Habs' Star $1,000

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

The National Hockey League may decide whether Richard did or did not assist because his spy-secretly didn't tell what some people thought he did. It could cost the Rocket $1,000.

Bill Graham, the man who takes care of statistics for Hill, Graham in Toronto, said Friday he pulled a boner in awarding the ace right-winger with Montreal C-nadiens an assist on a goal last week.

He has written league president Clarence Campbell in Montreal suggesting that the assist be struck from Richard's record and added to the point-total of Canadien defenceman Doug Harvey.

Richard, if he loses the assist, could miss out in his bid for the individual scoring crown of Hockey. A $1,000 prize goes to the scoring champion.

Graham brought the error to light after he looked at movies of last Wednesday's game between the Canadiens and Toronto Maple Leafs. Montreal won, 3-2.

The disputed point came on the first of two second-period goals by Canadiens' Jacques Plante of first-leftwinger Dickie Moore drew the only assist.

As the period ended, Moore told Graham the Rocket had earned a point on the play. Graham's scorer, referee Red Storey, who said he wasn't sure. Linesman George Hayes said he thought Richard should have had an assist.

"In cases of doubt, the police has been to give the player the benefit of the doubt," Graham said. "Can't You" referees think we're in the room and he said it was a decision I would have to make. So I gave him the point."

The movies showed that Richard was behind Dickie Moore when the clair scored. Graham said the Rocket didn't touch the puck.

The point, if taken from Maurice, would leave him two behind teammate Bert Olmstead in the league's leading scorer. Canadiens have only two more second-spot Red Wings at Detroit.

On Sunday it's Toronto at Boston, Montreal at Chicago and Detroit at New York.

Cubs Goalie May Join Irish

TORONTO (CP)—Dennis Riggin, goaltender for Hamilton Cubs of the Ontario Hockey Association Junior A series, may finish the league playoffs for Toronto St. Michael's Majors.

Riggin, of the OHA Friday night decided to allow the Majors to use Riggin if medical evidence showed it was impossible for regular goalkeeper Gerry McNamara to play. McNamara was injured in a car crash Thursday.

Riggin will play the fourth game of their best-of-seven semi-finals against St. Catharines TeePees in the Majors' Tuesday night.

Saxton May Fight DeMarco

BOSTON (AP) — Matchmaker Sam Silverman said Friday night a welterweight title fight between champion Johnny Saxton of New York and Boston's Tony DeMarco is in the works but that television is going a problem.

If signed, the bout would be at Boston Garden with Silverman, an independent promoter, guaranteeing Saxton $50,000.

The date of the match would depend on the television stumbling block.

"The fight's in the process," Silverman said. "But we absolutely won't televise it unless New England is blacked out. I expect to sit down with Jimmy (Bilotta Palermo, Saxton's manager) in the next day or two and am confident we'll emerge with a title fight."

Bowlers Compete At Big Show

TORONTO (CP) — Sixty-four of Ontario top bowlers will shoot for $14,000 in prize money at the national championship tournament March 11.

The competitors, who have survived eliminations in 12 Ontario divisions, will compete in the ladies' and men's singles events and in team matches.

The tournament will decide the Ontario champions who will be eligible to compete in the Canadian championships at Winnipeg later this year.

Cougars, Canucks Play to Tie

VANCOUVER (CP) — Victoria Cougars and Vancouver Canucks battled to a 1-1 Western Hockey League tie Friday night, putting Vancouver back in a fourth-place deadlock with new Westminster Royals.

The one point gained by Cougars consolidated their second - place position.

Fred Brown scored for Vancouver in the second period, while Andy Hebenton came back for Victoria in the third.

Penticton V's Poor Diplomats Say Canadian Sportswriters

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Canadian sportswriters gave Penticton V's poor diplomats on the ice; but diplomats don't necessarily make good hockey players.

European fans have been upbraiding Canada's representatives to the world hockey championships for their "dirty tactics" and "rough play." Much of the razzing has been directed at Bill Warwick, the Penticton Vee defenceman.

In Canada, nobody appears to be losing any sleep over the hullabaloo. But the Penticton crowd, up of comments from sportswriters from across the country, the reaction went like this:

Rex MacLeod of the Toronto Globe and Mail—

"It would seem rather absurd that the playing-coach Grant Warwick and his carefree gang should be expected to conduct themselves like refugees from the striped-trousers set.

SUGGESTS REPLY

"Warwick, if he feels piqued by the innuendoes cast at his team, might retort that diplomats as a group, are d--n poor hockey players.

Elmer Ferguson of the Montreal Herald says no one expects Vs to win any prize for their hockey in Europe because there's a vast difference between the two types of hockey.

Gord Hunter of the Calgary Herald says the Vs were sent to Europe to win the championship.

"And if they do take the title away from the Russians, their mission will be accomplished. It's about time the critics remembered this World Championship is a hockey playersup and not embers of the external affairs department."

A NEW TITLE

George Campbell of the Oshawa Times-Gazette says Bill Warwick, called "the Sinner" by German fans, should be awarded the same titles he won in the Okanagan senior league—the league's highest penalty record and most valuable player.

"They yell at him, rather that for him, even when he scores a goal, and they cheered lustily during one when he fell on his stick.

"It is such players that add the color to the three tournaments and the fans can boo as loudly as they like, if they think it helps to create a victory jig after Sunday's game against Russia."

Alf Cottrell of the Vancouver Province summed it up this way:

"Let's face it, Red Berenson and don't make our best ambassadors. Nice fellows personally, but Canada-style hockey is a bit too rough for the blood of people used to seeing it served up differently."

Fights Last Night

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

New York—Chico Vejar, 152, Stamford, Conn., outpointed Billy Graham, 148½, New York, 10.

San Diego, Calif.—Bobby Willis, 204, Los Angeles, stopped Jimmy Ingram, 180, Los Angeles, 2.

Chico Vejar Wins Split Verdict Over Graham

NEW YORK (AP) — Energetic young Chico Vejar Friday night hustled his way to a split 10-round decision over 33-year-old Billy Graham in a nationally-televised bout at Madison Square Garden. Vejar weighed 153, Graham 148½.

Judges Jack Gordon (5-4-1) and Bert Grant (6-4) voted for the 25-year-old college cloister from Stamford's ballot for Graham by 5-4-1. The AP had Vejar the winner, 6-3-1.

It was the old story of the ring —youth must be served. Vejar just had too much scrap and fire for the old fire horse who missed weight at times and finally assembled the classy boxer who almost took the welterweight crown from Kid Gavilan a few years ago.

It was Graham's 125th fight and he's been through the wars and that he has lost three straight.

There were no knockdowns in the scrap and nothing close to one. Vejar was cut over the left eye in the sixth round while Billy was bruised about the eyes.

Rangers Defeat Biltmores 6-2

GUELPH (CP)—New York Rangers of the National Hockey League defeated Guelph Biltmores of the Ontario Hockey Association Junior A series 6-2 in an exhibition game here before 1,000 fans Friday night.

Jim Pappin and Vic Howe, with two goals each, Harry Howell and Ron Raleigh scored for Rangers. Ken Graham and Bill McCreary tallied for the Ranger junior farm team.

The Rangers led 3-1 at the end of the first. There was no scoring in the second.

New York drew all five penalties.

Tony Trabert Whips Rochon

MONTREAL (CP) — Tony Trabert, United States Davis Cup ace, whipped veteran Henri Rochon of Montreal 6-0, 6-1 in an exhibition match here Friday night.

Trabert, on a tennis exhibition, Billy Talbert, U.S. team captain, and Vic Seixas, Philadelphia star. Main winning the first set 6-3 and dropping the second 6-4.

Trabert teamed to down Rochon and Main in doubles, 6-4, 6-4.

Blues Triumph Over McGill 8-4

TORONTO (CP)—University of Toronto Blues defeated McGill Redmen 8-4 here Friday and became the first team since 1940 to complete the Senior Intercollegiate Hockey League season without a loss. Blues won 11 games and tied one in the 12-game schedule.

It was also a Toronto feat that didn't lose a game in 1940. The trophy was presented by the Queen's Cup following the game. They clinched the title and the trophy when they beat McGill 4-3 in Montreal Feb. 18.

Solmar Notes

Regulated Shooting Grounds

By JOHN ALDEN KNIGHT,
Noted Sportsman, Author and Creator of Solmar Tables.

The ringnecked pheasant, in addition to being a big, beautiful, delicious bird, is one of the wildest birds that inhabits our covers hereabouts. The more I hunt the ringneck, the greater grows my respect for him.

On the first day or so of the legal shooting season he will give you some shooting. But it's then only a day or two to learn that humans mean trouble. Once he has found that out, either by flight or at him reqfires some real strategy.

The quail, regardless of variety, is pretty much in the same category. So for that matter, are the hunting seasons. With hunting pressure increasing annually as the years pass, game that is not smart is soon killed off by the remainder, the smart ones—quickly become the cream in the heart of reason for the hunter and his dogs.

The sad result of this combination of circumstances—too many guns overly smart game—reduces hunting in the great majority of the public shooting grounds to the point where the sport to be found there is simply a problem, and not much expended.

Perhaps my own findings do not differ from those of other hunters. Cover that may furnish excellent hunting one "opening day" will provide negative results a week later. Inevitably the lack of conservation is blamed for the lack of game (and this holds true, regardless of the State in which you hunt). The fact remains that few hunters find really satisfactory hunting in their territory after the first few days of the season, particularly in the over-shot areas of the eastern states.

SHOOTS ON GAME FARM

Long ago I stopped bumping my head against a brick wall in the matter of upland shooting. To be sure, I still go out on "opening day" and take my chance with the rest, but there it ends. After that, if I want to hunt ringneck or quail I go to a game farm. I go to a regulated shooting ground—a "game farm."

You may or may not have visited one of these places. In case you have not, they are the way they are run. You go there, either by appointment or just go and take your chances. On arrival you are then assigned a certain portion of the farm across which you hunt with your own dog or they will supply a dog for you.

Then you start hunting over grounds where you know there is plenty of game. You can bring a day of good sport; the land you hunt is yours for the day, without competition. At the end of the day the farm owner places tags on the backs of the birds you bring in, you pay him for the birds, and that is that. You have had yourself a day of real good shooting—something you will have trouble finding on public lands unless you are extremely lucky.

Game farms are run variously. Some breed for a minimum daily bag which, actually, amounts to a hunting fee, 1% most of them fix is a daily rate of $20 per gun, which entitles the shooter to four pheasants, two roosters and two hens. Similar daily bags are stipulated for quail, hens, etc.

Most of the farms will cut their rates in half for a half-day shoot; Extra birds are paid for per capita. In case you are not hitting your birds in the field, birds will be supplied from the rearing pens to make up the guaranteed daily bag. There, regardless of marksmanship, you bring home a game dinner. It's a good deal, anyway you look at it.

Another important factor is the fact that it is legal to shoot on regulated shooting grounds, but there is no legal elsewhere. In Pennsylvania those farms have five months of shooting—October to February, inclusive. That, of course, makes them worthwhile in my book. Late December, January and February are quail months indeed unless you go crow shooting.

NOT "RIN MAN'S SHOOTING"

Strangely enough, many hardboiled hunters consider regulated shooting as the fact that this acreage is posted and thereby is no longer open to the public as a licence-holder. His hunting licence entitles him to the "right" to hunt on unposted, unchecked birds, regardless of land ownership. I can't go along with that view.

In Pennsylvania there are approximately 200 such farms. As of January, 1955, there were 14 regulated shooting grounds—one posted for each 25 per cent. The percentage of lost acreage is very small.

I'll be "cow-hooting" to advocate shooting preserves that the States does not stock these regulated shooting grounds are stocked by the owners, at the owners' expense, and with the owners' restrictions. Moreover, about 35 per cent of the game so stocked is not recovered and this means a fine factor shooting in the surrounding area. In Pennsylvania it is estimated that only 75 per cent of all game released be recovered. The other 25 per cent is the "fat" from where it will.

Contrary to field's face facts, Good hunting on public lands is becoming increasingly difficult to find. Conservation is now that of the most priceless "days off" from the office or city where you can find good hunting with no competition on one of the regulated shooting grounds. Once you find such ground, we will-ing to pay a fair price for your sport in the shape of a fee. As for your hunting licence, I can see no justifiable reason why either you or the State of Ontario should not you should be subjected to criticism.

TO TURN FIRST SOD

TORONTO (CP) — William H. Brannon of Washington, D.C., former world president of the Seventh-Day Adventist Church, will turn the first sod for a 100-bed hospital to be named after him here Monday. Brannon served for more than 25 years in South Africa and China before he was chosen president of the church's international executive.

Hasty House Shoots for Win

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Hasty House Farm shoots for another victory in the $50,000-added New Orleans Handicap today with the speedy Sea O'Erin and Mister Black, but pre-race predictions listed Spur On as the horse most likely to succeed in the Fair Grounds headliner.

Hasty House won the New Orleans with Oil Capitol in 1952 and the entry is rated a top threat today.

Spur On, recently purchased by Illinois sportsman Marvin Afield in a quarter-million dollar deal involving several other thoroughbreds, has won $156,000 in slightly more than six years.

Minor Hockey

One playoff and two exhibition games were played in the pre-wee section of the BMHA this morning with the Blue Hawkes edging the Rangers 3-1 to capture their semi-final round, two games to none.

They meet the Canadiens in a best-of-three series for the city title with the first two games scheduled for next Saturday morning.

The Canadiens warmed up for the occasion by blanking the Bruins 4-0 in an exhibition tilt while the Red Wings downed the Maple Leafs by the same score.

M. Breaugh placed the Hawks in the finals as he assisted on their first goal and scored the winner. Bruce Seanor notched the other marker while Stu Muirhead drew an assist on the tie-breaker. Ken Stevens shone for the Rangers' goal, unassisted.

In the exhibition games, Billy Woods fired two goals for the Canadiens and also hit the bean for one on the Red Wings behalf. Teddy Rowland and Barton Durrant also scored for the Habitants while Paul Brown fired a pair of goals and Ino Rawson one for the Wings. Rawson also had one assist.

John Agar also stars in "Shield for Murder," which casts provocative eyes on Marie English in her first important screen role as a night club cigaret girl enmeshed in the murder plot.

AT THE BELLE — Ginger Rogers makes a sweeping return to the screen in the present attraction "Black Widow", now playing at the Belle Theatre. With Van Heflin, Gene Tierney and George Raft, "Black Widow", is truly the top romantic mystery of the year.

AT THE McCARTHY

Welcome Back Robert Donat

To Robert Donat's mother and to his elocution teacher James Bernard, must be accorded the heart-felt thanks of millions of moviegoers. But for them, instead of the footlights in front of Robert Donat, there would have been a plough.

It began back in the school boy days of this brilliant actor. Robert Donat's father was a Polish farmer who worked in a Manchester office and hated the indoor life. He was determined that his four sons should "get back to the land" and with this in view, at the age of sixteen each son was shipped off to Canada to till the soil and found the forces of the first generation of Canadian Donats.

When it became Robert's turn to go, his mother interceded by suggesting he should first take a course in elocution to soften that Manchester accent and to try and cure the stammer from which he had suffered as a child.

Lessons followed and the shy, awkward Robert suddenly found his first acting experience cried him of self-consciousness. Canada was "off." Robert Donat wanted to be an actor.

How narrowly the world almost missed the man who gave them "Mr. Chips"—the actor who delighted so many in "The Count of Monte Cristo," "The Thirty-Nine Steps," "The Ghost Goes West," and other memorable movies.

One of the few British actors who has chosen to remain in films this side of the Atlantic, Donat has managed to divide his time between film and stage work, and London audiences last year tumultuously received him in the T. S. Eliot play, "Murder in the Cathedral."

Today in "Lease of Life," Robert Donat returns triumphantly in the role of the Rev. William Thorne, vicar of a South Yorkshire village.

"This clergyman," says Donat, "is the simplest, most straightforward character I have ever played. Yet in a way, he has more character than any."

Now is the opportunity to see this "character" developed to the utmost in "Lease of Life," opening Monday at the Odeon McCarthy Theatre. Also is the privilege to welcome back to the screen an actor seen too rarely.

Marauders Whip Redmen 66-58

HAMILTON (CP) — McMaster Marauders scored their first win of the season in both intercollegiate Basketball League Friday night by defeating McGill Redmen 66-58. It was the last game of the season for Marauders.

In the preliminary game, McMaster Buccaneers overwhelmed the OAC Aggies of Guelph 88-32. Top scorer for McMaster was Bingham with 20. Courtis with 13 points and Heath with 10 were the best for the Aggies.

AT THE CAPITOL — Nah Enemy Agent — The Canadian police capture an enemy agent as he attempts to flee the country. Scene is from the thrilling, authentic spy story, "Operation Manhunt," filmed entirely in Canada and opening Monday at the Capital Theatre. O nthe same program "Shield for Murder" starring Edmond O'Brien and John Agar. Both attractions are first showings.

AT THE CAPITOL "OPERATION MANHUNT"

Film Sites A Secret

The reason why "Operation Manhunt," new United Artists thriller opening on Monday at the Capitol Theatre for its first showing wasn't filmed in the actual sites where the story takes place is a simple but convincing one—the actual sites are top-secret information.

Nevertheless, "Operation Manhunt" was photographed in its entirety in Canada, in locations roughly approximating those in the exciting personal history of Igor Gouzenko. Principal sites were St. Adele, a ski resort in the Laurentians; Montreal proper, including a score of busy streets, the airport, several hotels, St. Helena's Island, Bonsecours Market, the Shrine of St. Joseph, Jacques Cartier Bridge and Morgan's Department Store. Interiors were filmed at the Laurentian and Mount Royal Hotels, a farmhouse at St. Genevieve, 20 miles outside of Montreal, and at an inn at St. Adele.

Your Horoscope

By FRANCES DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

For Monday, March 7, 1955

March 21 to April 20 (Aries) — You lends itself well to hard work, to getting things done in a substantial way. Some matters may seem tiresome, but be patient, cheerful and good effort will bear fruit. Avoid anxiety.

April 21 to May 20 (Taurus) — As with most of us now, you may have to stress more consistency. It may be harder to finish an outlined schedule but it can be done if you apply your talents ably.

May 21 to June 21 (Gemini) — Fulfilment of intricate tasks and the solution of difficult problems may come easier to you than the routine matters now. Be careful not to be misled.

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer) — What may seem "rough" to some today may be easy for you. Apply clever ideas. Intuition, resilience, artistry will play a big part in your success.

July 24 to August 23 (Leo) — The stars stress patience especially with ladies in details. Piling together loose ends is important to the completion of a whole project or task. You are keen. Take time to use your gifts properly.

August 23 to September 23 — (Virgo) — Tricky but interesting influences abound now; important matters will need more care; also personal interests. Pray for guidance and avoid anxiety, worry.

September 24 to October 23 — (Libra) — Advice to Taurus also pertinent here. Plan thing to do; estimate schedule. Then begin urgent tasks first. Every day has some good offerings, advantages. It is up to you to find them.

October 24 to November 22 — (Scorpio) — Trades, industry serving the people and govt., manufacturing encouraged. The day may be more exacting for those in literary and artistic professions. Don't let obstacles deter you from your goals.

November 23 to December 22 — (Sagittarius) — Your specific occupation and matters relative to it can advance with your efficient help, management. Be mindful of seemingly unimportant details. Accuracy, promptness pay.

December 23 to January 21 — (Capricorn) — Work, all activities in which you are trained or for which you have talent can pile up gains, lead to fresh opportunities if you adhere to your usual systematic and intelligent procedures.

January 22 to February 20 — (Aquarius) — As with Scorpio, today may be exciting, particularly if finesse and clever handling of subjects and tasks are a "must". However, best efforts will repay, add to resources.

February 21 to March 20 — (Pisces) — Don't despair over anything; blessings may come in unattractive forms now. What we seek and wish for isn't always for our ultimate good, so forge ahead hopefully. Pleasant surprises ahead.

YOU BORN TODAY may be variable at times causing others to feel you are indecisive, lacking determination. Correct this tendency with faith in your many splendid characteristics and talents. You are artistic, capable; probably have unusual talent for writing, designing, painting, chemistry. You will do a thorough, conscientious job at whatever you undertake. Don't be timid about goals and using know - how; always build on faith. Birthdate: Luther Burbank, botanist.

Little Benny's Notebook

THE POTTS FAMILY — LG.

A lot of people are coming to our house for a party tomorrow night, and after dinner ma said to pop, William, I want to warn you while I think of it. I expect you to act more like the host and less like the first guest to arrive, so please scatter your attentions among all the ladies instead of showering them on the best looking woman in the room, she said.

But my dear, if I ever did that, it was only to keep the other men from doing it, and more than enough to have a broadminded wife like you, he said, and ma said, Well, thank you very much, but I still expect you to distribute your favors evenly when you're not helping me with the refreshments.

Don't worry, my dear, I'll make every woman feel like the belle of the ball, pop said. I'll kiss each one on the hand as she enters the house, and I'll kiss the homely ones on both hands, he said, and ma said, William, you wouldn't dare make such a spectacle of yourself.

Certainly not by you, she said, and pop said. Then I'll act like a Frenchman. Every time I kiss a man who doesn't know any better, he said, I'll say, Bon Jour, cherry, he said.

I believe you'd just be silly enough, but I warn you, you'd better not, ma said.

Which he probably went, only if he does I hope I'm still up to watch him.

YOUTHS ACQUITTED

TORONTO (CP)—Three Toronto youths, suspected by police of scanning death notices so that they could break into homes while families were attending funerals, Friday were acquitted of a charge of housebreaking. The crown could not prove that Robert Danielson, 18, Daniel Wilfong, 18, and Albert Hand, 18, were not merely in an east-end house Feb. 9 while a family was at a funeral. Neighbors reported seeing youths outside the house.

POINT ANNE

S. Hastings Orange Lodge Installs Officers

Orange Lodge of South Hastings was held in the Belleville Orange Hall recently with a large attendance.

The election of officers was conducted by past County Master Brother Russell McFarlane. Officers for 1955 were installed as follows:

Immediate Past County Master, Brother Stanley J. Hayden, Foxboro; Worshipful Master, Bro. J. N. Bentley, Belleville; deputy master, Bro. Wm. Wright, Springfield; chaplain, Bro. W. J. Wood, Point Anne; secretary, Bro. Wm. Bradshaw, Point Anne; treasurer, Bro. G. F. Reid, Belleville; marshall, Bro. F. Dexter, Foxboro; first lecturer, Bro William McLeod, Belleville; second lecturer, Bro. P. W. Akey, Camilton.

The installation was conducted by the past Grand Master of Ontario East, Rt. Wor. Bro. Fred Bateman, of Cobourg.

After reports and minutes were dealt with, a hearty vote of thanks was extended to Bro. Bateman and Bro. McFarlane for the excellent way in which they carried out the election and installation of officers.

After a few pleasing remarks for the good of the order and for the meeting, lodge was closed and refreshments were served.

POINT ANNE — Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Lee and family have moved in Cheneux, Ontario, with their son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Mac Carter.

Mrs. Milton Akey, Mr. Amah Akey, and Mrs. Marie Forgie have returned home from the Belleville Hospital. Mrs. George Macdonald is still a patient in the hospital. All hope to see her home soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Bradshaw, and children spent the week-end in Kingston with relatives.

Sincere sympathy is extended in the bereaved families and relatives of the late Mrs. Augusta Ada Hull, who passed away February 24, after a lengthy illness. The ladies aid of the Point Anne United Church was held at the home of Mrs. Fred Clarke, on Tuesday evening.

Mr. W. J. Woods has purchased the house and property from Mr. Raymond Bradshaw, and will be moving in soon.

Mr. Carol Newton of Hendersons, called on friends here, Saturday night.

Mr. Wm. Wormworth has returned home after spending some time with friends in Kingston.

Mr. Mel Woodcock and Mr. Ed. Loyst have gone to the Labrador.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Vliniff, of Marmora, visited the latter's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel Kellar, recently.

Mr. Carman Loyst and brother-in-law, Carl, spent the week-end with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Loyst.

Deepest sympathy is extended to the relatives of the late Mrs. Norman Smith, who passed away at her home here, Friday. The funeral service was held in the Cannifton church, Sunday.

The W.A. held its monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Almond Parks, Wednesday afternoon, with a good attendance.

Marmora

MARMORA— Visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Goodchild last week were Mr. and Mrs. Ray Goodchild, Madoc; Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Green, Mr. and Mrs. Wellington Smith and Mr. Pat Dodge, Sherbrooke, Que., and Mr. and Mrs. Allen Diamond, Niagara Falls.

Miss Mary Dostanko attended the 25th Anniversary Dance held in Hamilton, last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wells and Charles and the Rev. C. W. Kay, spent Tuesday and part of Wednesday at Toronto. Therein the men attended a board meeting of Lorne Park College.

The Rev. and Mrs. Rae Nayler and daughters, Shirley and Sharon, of Tamworth, spent Monday with the former's parents Mr. and Mrs. Murray Mills.

Miss Patricia Lynch, Reg.N., of the staff of the Hospital for Sick Children, Toronto, spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Lynch.

CABOT STATUE DEFACED

BRISTOL, England (Reuters)—Someone poured a bucket of blue dye over a statue here of John Cabot, discoverer of Newfoundland. Nobody knows who did it but the city has put the $200 cleaning bill to the students of Bristol University.

Will Determine What Lake Level Is Desirable

TORONTO (CP) — The question of what the maximum water level in Lake Ontario should be may be settled within a few weeks.

The international joint commission, final authority on the subject, will meet in Montreal March 14 to hear submissions from interested groups. The organizations want to ensure the lake is kept below flood levels through established controls in the St. Lawrence seaway project.

The commission's technical experts, a group of Canadian and United States engineers, met here Friday at Ontario Hydro's head office. They have worked out changes in the method of control that will keep the maximum level of the lake at 247 feet above sea level.

Race Prejudice Seen in Act On Immigration

TORONTO (CP) — A Toronto lawyer says hearings for persons facing deportation orders are farces.

Andrew Brewin said Friday night the Immigration Act has racial prejudice written into its pages. He addressed the opening meeting of the two-day race relations conference sponsored by the Ontario Welfare Ministerial Foundation.

"The act," he said, "gives carte blanche to anyone in the immigration department who harbors a racial bias."

Carmel

CARMEL — Mr. W. R. Roundcastle is spending some time at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. Lidster, while recovering from his recent operation.

Mrs. G. Moorman spent several days recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. Moorman, Trenton.

Several members of the Carmel-Foxboro Y.P.U. attended the annual Fellowship Sunday held at North Trenton United Church.

The World Day of Prayer service was held at the home of Mrs. C. Horton. The service was in charge of Mrs. R. Dafoe and was well attended. Several members of the Carmel Comrade Group were present.

Word has been received that Mrs. J. Lee, a former resident of this community and who has been living for the past few years with her daughter, Mrs. L. Mc-Donald, at Gananoque, passed away on Wednesday. Sympathy of friends is extended to the bereaved family.

RED ZONE UNIONIST FIRED

BERLIN (Reuters)—The Soviet-Berlin anti-Communist information bureau reported Friday that Fort Lukas, chairman of the East German Railway Workers' Union, has been dismissed by the Soviet authorities in Polish and Czechoslovak state railroads," the bureau reported.

Urges Irrigation Scheme Along Lake Erie Shore

TORONTO (CP)—An irrigation scheme which could eventually be extended over the sandier shorelines of Lake Erie was proposed Friday in the Ontario legislature.

William Murdoch (PC — Essex South) asked the provincial government to determine what aid could be obtained from the federal government toward such a plan.

Mr. Murdoch, speaking in the debate on the speech from the throne, suggested a pilot irrigation plant be set up in Essex county which could be extended to the east along the lake shore.

The legislature gave first reading to a government bill which amends the Mining Act, some of the amendments being designed to tighten regulations governing prospective miners licences to prevent fraud.

In proposing a scientific irrigation scheme for western Ontario Mr. Murdoch said there was also a possibility of bringing water from Lake St. Clair through Essex county by gravity flow.

Mr. Murdoch said the plan would assure municipalities of adequate water besides helping fruit growers who were unable to obtain sufficient water supplies.

A bill which would give the Ontario fuel board the authority to set a new price for coal was presented by Attorney - General Porter for the third reading.

Opposition leader Farquhar Oliver moved that the bill be referred to the committee of the whole House for consideration of a change he proposed for one of the sections.

Mr. Oliver's amendment would permit the board to have such authority only to set a lower rate.

MANY NEGLECT BREAKFAST

HOLLYWOOD, Fla. (AP)—Neglect of breakfast by "teen-age girls has been called the "single most important health fault" in the American nutritional picture by Elmo Roper, public opinion analyst. A recent poll, Roper said, showed only 35 per cent of "teen-age girls reported they had a good breakfast. Seventy per cent of the men and boys said that they had a good morning meal.

Tamworth Trims Pontiacs 4-1

BANCROFT — A record crowd of 1235 fans packed Bancroft arena on Wednesday night when Tamworth defeat Bancroft Pontiacs 4-1 in the seventh game of the Hastings-Addington league finals. Bancroft have won four games in the 5-game series and Tamworth three.

The Pontiacs seemed to be unable to find the range and Tamworth made no score until the third period when Shalla netted the puck with an assist from Pilgrim.

Brady and Rombough made Tamworth's other two goals, both with assists from Rombough and Gerrow, no score was registered in the second. Rombough from Gerrow, and R. Cox from Kennedy, chalked up Tamworth's third and fourth goals in the third period.

Penalties were fairly evenly divided, five being awarded against Bancroft and seven for the Tamworth players.

Famous Trichologist Will Demonstrate How to Grow Thicker Hair and Guarantees It; Demonstration To Be Held Here

This new method of home treatment of saving and growing thicker hair will be demonstrated at Belleville, Ont., Sunday ONLY, March 6, 1955. These Private individual demonstrations will be held at the New Queen's Hotel on Sunday ONLY, March 6, 11 noon to 9 p.m.

HALIFAX, Feb. 19 — In an interview here today Wm. R. Keele, International Trichologist, Scientist and director of the Keele Hair Experts said that there are 16 different scalp disorders that cause most men and women to lose hair. Dandruff, in some cases, a person must realize no one tonic or so-called cure-all will cure all the disorders," he explained.

GUARANTEED

"The Keele firm, recognizing that most people are skeptical of claims that hair can be grown on balding heads, offer a guarantee" Keele said.

Once a person avails himself of the Keele treatment this skepticism immediately disappears. To think that, in some cases, a person must realize no one tonic or so-called cure-all will cure all the disorders," he explained.

GUARANTEED

"The Keele firm, recognizing that most people are skeptical of claims that hair can be grown on balding heads, offer a guarantee" Keele said.

Once a person avails himself of the Keele treatment this skepticism immediately disappears. To think that, in some cases, a person must realize no one tonic or so-called cure-all will cure all the disorders," he explained.

NO-CURE-ALL

"We have no cure-all for slick shiny baldness," Keefe emphasizes. "But here is fact, the root is still capable of creating hair and we can perform what seems to be a miracle."

There is one thing Keele wants to be certain every man and woman knows. If a recession appears at the temples or a spot begins to show up on the crown of the head, there is something that should be done and should be given immediate attention.

HAIR FOR LIFETIME

If the clients follow our directions during treatment and after they finish the course, there is no reason why they will not have hair all the rest of their lives," Keele said. "Our firm is definitely behind this treatment, it all depends on the individual client's faithful observation of a few simple rules."

HOW'S YOUR HAIR?

If it worries you, call Trichologist W. R. Keele at the New Queen's Hotel in Belleville, Ont., on Sunday ONLY March 6, 13 noon to 9 p.m. Private rooms. Yes do not need an appointment. The examinations are private and you will not be pressured or obligated in any way. — Adv.

Halloway

Halloway — Sympathy of the community is extended to the family of the late Mr. Arthur Sloe, who passed away recently in the Kingston General Hospital, and also to the family of the late Mrs. George Cook of Belleville, formerly of Halloway, who passed away at her home in Belleville recently. Sincere sympathy is extended to both families.

The Y. P. U. met at the home of Miss Barbara Hicks on Monday evening with a good attendance.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry McMullen and family were Sunday evening supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. George McMaster, at Minto.

Congratulations to the newlyweds, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Robson.

On Saturday evening a number of friends and neighbors gathered to honor them on their recent marriage and they were presented with a lovely studio couch and chair. All wish them happiness in their new life together and extend a warm welcome to Jean from the community.

Recent visitors at the home of Mrs. Ernest Wilson are as follows: Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smith, of Madoc Junction, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Wilson and family, of Peterborough, Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Stapley and family and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wilson and family.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wellman on the birth of a new baby daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. John Robson and Miss Barbara Robson, of Belleville, were week-end guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Robson.

Mr. and Mrs. Coleman Townsend and Mrs. Herb. Townsend, entertained Mr and Mrs. Ed. Emerson and family, to supper on Saturday evening it being the occasion of Mrs. Emerson's birthday.

Glad to report Mrs. James Reid is able to be home from the hospital, all wish her a speedy recovery.

Scoharie

SCOHARIE — Mr. and Mrs. Bill McGee, Mrs. Ralph Stone, and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Foster attended funeral services for the late Harvard Vanclief on Wednesday afternoon at the Presbyterian Church, Picton.

Britain Expected To Join Turkey And Iraq in Pact

Egypt, Syria, Saudi Arabia Call for New Arab Alliance

By ROBERT HEWETT

LONDON (Reuters) — Britain will probably join the Turkish-Iraqi Middle East defence pact within the next two months, diplomatic sources here said today.

Foreign Minister Eden, who returned today from an eastern tour which included Baghdad, is expected to discuss the timing and procedure for Britain's entry into the alliance when he visits Turkey next week.

The treaty between Turkey and Iraq, signed in Baghdad last month, provides for mutual assistance in the event of war. Its initial duration is five years.

CAIRO (AP)—Egypt, Syria and Saudi Arabia called Sunday night for a new anti-Israeli Arab military and economic alliance. It would replace the eight - nation Arab League setup dealt a near death blow by Iraq's recent defence pact with Turkey.

A joint Syrian - Egyptian communique said the two nations had taken the most "complete agreement" on principles of a pact to set up a joint military command and bar alliances with non-Arab nations.

Saudi Arabia's King Saud announced his government's "full support" of the plan.

The three states said they would call a meeting of premiers and defence ministers of the Arab nations this month to work out details of the new pact. The other Arab nations are Lebanon, Jordan, Yemen, Libya and Iraq.

A CONDITION

Syrian foreign minister Khaled el Azem said in Damascus that Iraq would be invited to join in the new alliance if it signed a defence pact with Turkey.

Egypt will drive the new neutralist pact, seemingly doomed by Arab dissension less than a month ago, appeared to have received new life from the Israeli attack on the outskirts of Gaza a week ago.

The communique announcing the new alliance did not mention Israel by name, but a high Egyptian official said the Egyptian-Iraqi military command would "take strong measures against any new Israel aggression."

Agreement to the Egyptian-sponsored plan was not forthcoming immediately from Lebanon and Jordan.

The Syrian-Egyptian communique listed aims for the new alliance almost identical to those of the 1945 protocol establishing the Arab League and the league's 1950 collective defence treaty. Egyptian officials insisted, however, that the new pact would be "strong and not merely words on paper."

Here they are, the world's new amateur hockey champions. The Penticton V's restored Canada's hockey prestige in Germany on Sunday, defeating the highly-touted Russian Moscow Dynamos by a 5-0 score, and winning back the crown which they captured at the Toronto Lyndhurst's last year. The undefeated Canadians solved the Russ attack system, the only one they had, early in the game and went on to win handily. From left to right front row are: Mike Shabaga, Bill Warwick, Goalie Ivan McLelland, who is also seen at left; Don Moog, Dick Warwick, Jack McIntyre. Second row: Ed Kenslan, Bernie Bathgate, Don Berry, Grant Warwick, Jim Fairburn, George McAvoy, Dino Mascolo. Back row: Harry Hunter, Hal Tarala, Rev Conway, Jack McDonald, Doug Kilburn and Ernie Rucks.

Penticton V's Defeat Russia In 5-0 Triumph

Canadian Strategy Solves Russian Offensive Early

By ARCH MacKENZIE
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

KREFELD, Germany (CP) — Penticton V's outplayed and outmanoeuvred Russia to decisively champions Sunday to regain the world hockey crown for Canada with a decisive 5-0 victory.

Stunned into stony silence, the helmeted, red and white uniformed Russians were so dejected lot as the Canadians received the championship cup. The Cinderella Penticton crew later drank beer from it.

After the first period, there was no doubt who would win. The only question was by how much. Mike Shabaga and Bill Warwick, veterans of many a playoff game, were the big men in the clutch as each picked up a pair of goals. Captain George McAvoy scored the fifth goal to climax the one-sided battle.

An overflow crowd of almost 10,000 including many Canadian soldiers and airmen turned Krefeld's Rheinland-Halle into a madhouse. Even the Germans, who booed the Canadians for rough "Canadian style" hockey in previous games, joined the Canadian supporters in the wild cheering.

After the referee blew the final whistle, spectators poured on to the ice and hugged the Canadians. It took 10 minutes to restore order for the trophy presentation.

The Canadian strategy was a iron-clad that the leading Soviet player, 32-year-old Nikolai Puchkov, got a shot on goal as the Russians were shut out for the first time in the two world tournaments they have entered.

One of the most down-hearted players was Nikolai Puchkov, the regular Soviet netminder and one of the 15 holdovers from last year's championship team. Puchkov, last season's leading tournament goalie, was pulled out shortly after Penticton scored its last two goals to make the first 2½ minutes of the third period.

HIS TASKS OVER

Puchkov looked very sad as he skated off the ice and was replaced by top-goalie Grigory Kirkychan.

But for young Ivan McLelland it was a day of glory. For the 19-year-old goalkeeper from South Porcupine, Ont., was one of the few reason why Penticton proved the best defensive as well as offensive hockey in the 10-day tournament.

U.S. Scientists Plead for Check Of A-Bomb Tests

WASHINGTON, (AP) — The Federation of American Scientists pleaded yesterday for a U. N. study to find out how many hydrogen and atomic bomb tests the human race can stand without grave danger.

It suggested that if the study warranted it, the UN might place a limit on the number of nuclear explosions that could be set off in any one year throughout the world.

The aim of this curb would be to limit the amount of radiation resulting from atomic experiments, to safeguard present and future generations. Some scientists have warned that this radiation, by changing the genes determining inheritance, could wreak grave damage to generations yet unborn.

The Atomic Energy Commission, however, has expressed the view that the amount of radioactivity so far released has posed no significant threat.

But the federation said:

"It should be noted that future accelerated H-bomb test programs, by several atomic powers, will ultimately reach a level which can be shown to be a serious threat to the genetic welfare of all the people of the world."

The federation is a national organization of some 3,000 scientists and engineers interested in "the implications of science and public affairs."

It urged that the United States take the initiative in proposing that the UN set up a commission to study the potential dangers from radioactivity.

It said it is aware of the obstacles to thoroughgoing world control of atomic weapons, but cannot "accept that mankind cannot achieve limited co-operation in the face of a common danger."

Accordingly it said that "with some degree of desperation" it had made its proposal to the State Department and Herbert Cabot Lodge, chief U.S. delegate to the UN.

THE WEATHER

TORONTO, (CP) — Synopsis: Cold weather will continue today and Tuesday across Ontario. Cloudy skies are expected over generally overcast Sunday that is in the Lake Erie and Lake Huron regions. Winds northwesterly winds prevailing today, snowflurries will continue in the lee of open water. Skies will be mainly clear across the province Tuesday.

THREAT OF NEW ERUPTIONS HANGS OVER E. HAWAII

Already 600 Persons Driven from Homes

By ROY ESSOYAN

PAHOA, Hawaii (AP) — The threat of violent new volcanic outbursts hung like a dark cloud today over the danger-filled lava fields of eastern Hawaii Island.

Earthquakes of diminishing intensity jolted the area throughout Sunday. They rumbled along the 20-mile slope from Kilauea crater to the sugar cane fields on Puna peninsula.

Volcanologist Gordon A. Mac-Donald said Pahoa — its villagers packed and ready to run if big eruptions set forth—"is still not out of danger, but things are definitely looking better."

He said volcanos may continue to pop up in the devastated Puna area "for days, weeks, even months." They've been at it a week now.

GOVERNOR VIEWS SCENE

Governor Samuel Wilder King inspected the burning lava flows and spouting lava fountains from the ground Sunday. He agreed with MacDonald that the danger was not ended. But he said he would declare a state of emergency unless new eruptions developed on high ground above Pahoa.

A week of fiery eruptions has driven 600 persons from their homes. Lava flows have closed around at least nine dwellings and destroyed an estimated $2,000,000 damage to rich cane and timber lands. Four villages have been evacuated.

Biggest Blast Of Atomic Tests Lights Up Sky

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — The biggest and brightest blast of the 1955 atomic test series lighted western skies 30 minutes before dawn today.

The white flash was perhaps the most dazzling ever seen in Las Vegas, 75 miles distant from Yucca flat.

It shone a yellow gold color above the mountains near Lee Canyon, 250 miles to the southwest, in the early morning darkness. Then it were trying to make an early appearance.

The highest tower shot ever set off in Nevada, it was the 35th shot at the site and fourth of the current series.

Labor Federation Asks Govt. To Act to Aid Unemployed

TORONTO (CP) — The Ontario Federation of Labor (CCL) said today Ontario must be prepared to assume a greater responsibility than in the past for maintaining full employment and relieving the effects of any unemployment that may arise.

It expressed its views in a brief presented to the Ontario cabinet. They were included in a text released to the press in advance of presentation.

The federation, representing 200,000 workers, said unemployment is foremost in the minds of its members.

It said unemployment in Ontario is not seasonal in character, but stems from lack of orderly planning for industrial development in the province.

"Manufacturing industries whose wartime and post - war growth was made possible largely by a rapid concentration of population . . . now appear unable to provide steady employment even for their present reduced work force," it said.

Last November, Premier Frost said the province should expect normal unemployment of from three to five per cent of the labor force—about the same level as last summer, the brief said. But last summer's unemployment was not spread evenly throughout the province.

In centres of heavy manufacturing and in textile towns, unemployment rose to as high as 20 per cent of the working force. A province-wide figure of five per cent, with concentration of unemployment conditions, the federation said.

It asked the provincial government to do everything possible to speed the holding of a Dominion-provincial conference to resolve differences on social and economic problems.

In the meantime, the government should carry out its obligations to the people of Ontario in matters within the powers of the province.

Concerning relief, the federation said there are growing numbers of unemployed whose insurance benefits have run out or who have not qualified for benefits.

The federation had a word of praise for the government's decision to go ahead with a stepped-up program of public works to relieve unemployment. It urged that this program be extended and accelerated so as to provide essential facilities as well as to absorb unemployment.

UN TRUCE GROUP CHARGES ISRAEL WAS AGGRESSOR

Canadian Truce Chief Will Submit His Report

JERUSALEM (AP) — Israel stood charged by the UN, mixed armistice commission today as a "brutal" aggressor who deliberately attacked Egyptian forces in the Gaza strip a week ago. The armistice group said the bloody assault in which 38 Egyptians and eight Israelis died, violated the 1949 Palestine truce agreement.

The commission's charge Monday heightened speculation at UN headquarters in New York that the security council would vote similar censure against Israel when it takes up the explosive issue again next week.

Maj.-Gen. E. L. M. Burns of Canada, UN Palestine truce chief, was expected to leave for New York as a key man to give the security council a personal report on the Gaza incident, which has strained relations in Palestine to the breaking point.

At Sunday's meeting on the Egyptian-Israeli border, the truce commission adopted an Egyptian resolution declaring the Gaza attack Feb. 28 was committed by Israeli regular army forces against an Egyptian regular army force."

TURN DOWN COMPLAINT

At the same time the commission brushed aside an Israeli complaint charging that an Egyptian unit had ambushed an Israeli patrol, starting a running fight that left Israeli dead on Egyptian territory.

Israel appealed the condemnation decision to a special committee headed by Burns, who was not present at the eight-hour meeting.

Time Not Ripe For Conference On Formosa

LONDON (Reuters) — Foreign Secretary Eden said today upon his return from the Far East that the time is not yet ripe for an international conference on Formosa.

Eden, who conferred on the Formosa problem with U. S. State Secretary Dulles in Bangkok, told reporters at London airport two conditions are needed for a productive Far East conference.

"There should be some definite sign of understanding about the task of the conference and some agreement about the membership," he said.

"I don't think we are in a position to say that either of these conditions is as yet fulfilled, unfortunately."

Eden travelled 16,000 miles in 16 days and talked to premiers of at least a dozen nations in the Far East and Middle East. He reports to the cabinet later today and to Parliament later the week on his talks.

Find No Trace Of Missing Child

TORONTO (CP) — Nine days of searching have failed to uncover any trace of eight-year-old Judy Carter, missing since Feb. 25 when she did not return home from school.

Police have made daily searches of fields, streets where she lived, followed up tips from people who believed they had seen her and questioned known sex offenders.

Pacific Fleet Can Defend 'Anything' In Formosa Area Says Commander

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — The boss of the U.S. Pacific fleet says "if the United States is willing we can defend anything against the Communists."

But the statement left the Reds guessing.

Admiral Felix B. Stump was asked to explain whether his statement included the Communist - menaced Matsu islands, 30 miles off the mainland.

He replied "anything."

Chinese Nationalist press officials have not specifically and publicly said what action would be taken in event of a Red assault on the Matsus or Quemoy, another Nationalist island across the Formosa strait.

Stump visited the Matsus Sunday. He was here several days for conferences concerning Formosa's defence. He had a final talk this morning with President Chiang Kai-shek before going to Hong Kong.

Asked if there was a danger of war, Stump told reporters: "I do not depends on the Communists. We are not the aggressors—they are."

The offshore island issue has been quiet the last few days.

Chiang Kai-shek's policy discussion between Chiang and U.S. State Secretary Dulles was "very friendly, pleasant and profitable," Stump endorsed a statement by Nationalist Foreign Minister George Yeh that no disagreement marred the talks.

The Nationalists seem to convince themselves that the islands will be defended by the Americans.

The Americans, however, gave the impression that this might be the case if the Reds attack the outposts as part of a drive toward Formosa itself.

Toronto Lawyer Restored to Rolls By Supreme Court

OTTAWA (CP) — Samuel Max Mehr, Toronto lawyer, today was restored to the rolls of practising lawyers by the Supreme Court of Canada in a decision overthrowing rulings of Ontario courts that he be barred from the rolls.

The veteran solicitor won a personally-pleaded appeal against a decision of the Law Society of Upper Canada, unanimously upheld by the Ontario Supreme Court and Appeal Court.

The society had declared him guilty of unprofessional conduct with respect to his handling of funds in a case involving the Chinese Nationalist government.

Mr. Mehr argued his case before Canada's top court last month, contending the law society's decision its authority in the way it obtained certain evidence against him and in denying him an opportunity to cross-examine his accusers.

CLAIMED FEE

Mr. Mehr was struck from the rolls by the Law Society after a Chinese ambassador to Canada, Dr. T. L. Yuan, complained to the society in 1953 that he retained about $5,000 in Chinese Nationalist funds without an accounting.

Mr. Mehr contended the money was part of a $10,000 fee promised him for handling a tax arrears case dealing with Chinese Nationalist property in Toronto.

Supreme Court Rejects Attempt At Extradition

OTTAWA (CP) — The Supreme Court of Canada today rejected an attempt by the United States government at extradition of two Canadians wanted on stock fraud charges in the U. S.

Canada's highest court unanimously ruled it had no jurisdiction to deal with the appeal of the U. S. justice department in its legal moves to extradite Walter Lake and Harry Green of Montreal. The pair have been indicted in the U. S. in connection with collecting $341,000 from Americans in allegedly fake stock deals.

After a brief court hearing behind the doors of the justices, Chief Justice Patrick Kerwin announced the court was of the opinion it had no jurisdiction in the matter and that leave to appeal was therefore refused.

Mr. Justice I. C. Rand remarked during the hearing that the question of extradition really was a political matter involving action between governments and not law courts.

START BIG JOB

TORONTO (CP) — The biggest mass construction in Toronto's history starts today. Electricians will begin installing all sensitive electrical appliances over to 60 cycles from 25 cycles. More than half of Ontario Hydro's entire program, which may cost up to $400,000,000, has been completed in southern Ontario.

300 Strikers from British Vessel Stranded at New York as Deserters

NEW YORK (AP)—The Queen had become "agitators," threatened other members of the crew and wrote insulting notes to the ship's captain.

The strikers were warned to remain aboard or lose their jobs.

A spokesman for the steamship line said the union had considered it a wildcat walkout.

The British consulate is responsible for the men, now that their ship has left port.

John J. Walsh, New York director for the steamship line, said a full crew sailed the Queen from England. Of the strikers, he had earlier said:

"We'll have no mob rule. They're finished. This is not a strike. They deserted the ship. They are unemployed."

$2,500 Damage To Farm Home In Thurlow Twp.

While the family was in Quebec attending a funeral, fire Sunday afternoon damaged the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. Cote, Honeywell Corners, to the extent of approximately $3,500.

A defective wall plug in a child's rumpus room is believed to have caused the outbreak of the blaze, which did extensive damage to the recently constructed bungalow. The fire was confined to two rooms and smoke damage in the balance of the home was heavy.

Belleville fire department answered the alarm and did a fine job of limiting the fire to the two rooms. The blaze was contained in a partition and although there was heavy fire damage in two rooms, the flames did not break out through the roof.

Fire Chief Gerald Vance noted that the blaze had apparently got a good start before it was noticed by neighbors.

Eight Persons Sent to Hospital In 2-Car Crash

Eight persons were sent to the hospital, two with serious injuries, as result of a two car collision on the No. 8 Hwy. at the Trenton Air Station, Saturday night.

Police said that one car driven by Joseph Tardif of Trenton, was northbound when it was in collision with a southbound auto driven by Cpl. Douglas Johnson, RCAF, Camp Borden.

Four occupants of the Tardif car were treated at the air station hospital for cuts and bruises while Mrs. Tardif suffered severe lacerations to the forehead. She remained overnight in the RCAF hospital and Sunday was transferred to Trenton Memorial Hospital.

Four occupants of the second car were also treated at the air station hospital for cuts and bruises. The driver suffered severely sprained neck muscles and remained in the hospital.

Both cars were heavily damaged as a result of the impact, Provincial Constable Lloyd investigated.

Crossley Hunter Opens Napanee Preaching Mission

Speaking at the 115th anniversary services Sunday at Trinity United Church, Napanee, Dr. E. Crossley Hunter, minister of Trinity United Church, Toronto, referred to the pairing of power and beauty in the world and said: "The church needs both strength and beauty, as do great men."

Dr. Hunter called the morning sermon, "The Lily Work of Life" and based it on the Biblical story of the pillars of Solomon's temple, which were 40 feet high and of great strength and magnitude, but incomplete until the artistic and beautiful lily work had been completed at the top of them. "On the top of the pillars there was lily work and the pillars were finished," he quoted.

The speaker described incidents in the life of Jesus to show that He was strong but also possessed of the qualities of gentle spirit. "Everywhere in the world today there is strength and power," Dr. Hunter said, "but there is no beauty. . . . If this is true of God's world, it is also true of God's word," he said, referring to the Bible.

Music for both services was provided by the church choir, with Mrs. J. S. Madden as organist and choir leader. At the morning service the choir sang an anthem and Mrs. Rene Switzer, a contralto solo. The choir sang in the evening and the male chorus did Nevin's "Open the Gates" and Marzetti's "Benedictus."

Rev. G. E. Coulter, of Napanee, a retired clergyman, assisted the pastor of the church, Rev. H. Slaughenwhite, in the evening service. In the evening the service at Grace United Church was cancelled so that its congregation might attend Trinity Church and Church Army Captain Ernest O. McMillan, assisted in the service. Captain Hunter spoke on the subject, "From God to God."

SEEM TO LACK PURPOSE

Dr. Hunter told the evening congregation that this generation seems to lack a sense of purpose in life. He deplored the use being made of such means of education and enlightenment as movies, radio and television and said indications already are that atomic energy will be put to evil purposes.

"We have forgotten as a generation that we have come from God and that life is Divine," he said.

Anything is sacred in proportion to the sacrifice made for it, he emphasized, assessing the present generation as one that forgets its divine destiny. He said the frustrated generation that has lost its sense of direction is morning out, saying that man's trip through life is from God to God.

Monday starts a three-day preaching mission in Trinity Church in Napanee at which Dr. Hunter will speak. He is also to speak to a number of ministerial associations of Napanee, Bellevile and Kingston here Monday and to the Napanee Rotary Club, Tuesday.

Part of Sidney Without Power For Three Hours

Farmers in the 4th Concession of Sidney area were without power for close to three hours Saturday night when a Frankford motorist's car left the county road, smashed off a hydro pole and brought the hydro wires down.

Residents of the area were without lights until repairmen could supply the damage and restore power.

Provincial police said a car driven by Frederick Patrick of Frankford had left the road and smashed into the hydro pole carrying 44,000 volt high tension wires and also wires for rural hydro services.

Blue flashes lit up the area as wires shorted and came dangerously close to the roof of Patrick's car. Patrick was uninjured in the accident.

A broken tie-rod was given as the cause of the crash by Provincial Constable Al. Cockburn investigated.

A telephone pole came to grief at Corbyville when a car driven by Mrs. Hazel Scott of Ameliasburg left the road and slammed against the pole. No one was injured in the accident.

Used Car Lot Office at Quinte Motors Damaged by Fire

Fire loss amounting to about $800 resulted Saturday night at the used car lot office of Quinte Motors on Dundas Street, East, City. The small building has been set ablaze by spontaneous combustion of rags in a box seat.

Almost the entire interior of the small frame building was seared by the flames, while contents of the office were also fire damaged.

Firemen stated the blaze had apparently started from a box which they found had been stored.

The fire department answered one other alarm over the weekend. The run was to a West Moira street address for an over-heated stove.

Y's Men's Club Elects Officers

Thursday night was election night at the Belleville Y's men's club. With a record attendance Y's Men marked the occasion to select the nine member executive which would direct club activities for the 1955 term of office.

Retiring president F. Robson Clarke, was given a thunderous send-off as a parting tribute to a capable leader. Ken Yaman.

Yaman James Pearson gave a report on his newly inaugurated "Go-Bo" program. Seventy three participants have been started and the response has far exceeded the number anticipated.

While ballots were being counted, Yaman Don Bell presented two fine outdoor films.

OFFICERS ELECTED

Following the films, election results were announced as follows: President, Willis Hutchinson; vice-president, Scott Denton; secretary, Ronald Moorman; treasurer, Ross Gibson; directors, John Fletcher, James Pearson, Max Waddell, Carm Lowther and Rosco Mooney.

Quinte Juniors Defeat BCI

(By ERIC MOODY)

The dynamic juniors of Quinte Secondary School outplayed the Senior Collegiate Institute boys 47-41 in an exhibition basketball game at Quinte on Saturday.

This game was a return match to the game played 1 week in which B.C.I. edged Quinte 54-47.

Both teams were playing all-out basketball and fouls were kept to a minimum. The first half revealed Quinte ahead, to whom the victors would be, because of these factors and the score at the half was B.C.I. 24 was 13-9, favoring B.C.I.

The second half saw Quinte gain a slight edge with their masterful ball-handling and gain a lead that they never gave up. The high scorer of the game with 18 points was Ken Quinte who displayed exceptionally good form throughout the game.

Scoring for Quinte: Quinte: Walmsley 14, Dickey 8, Green 3, Pearce 3, Calnan 2, Elliott 2, Musgrove, Hobbs, Phillips, and Stronge.

For B.C.I.—Jackson 14, Jones 14, Hagerman 4, Barber 3, Burleigh 3, Aselstine 2, Parkhurst 1, Deacon, Irwin.

Prices for Peas Have Been Fixed

HAMILTON (CP) — The Ontario vegetable growers' marketing board has set a price of $12.50 a ton for peas grade 85 and under for processing companies buying peas over the first 500 tons for which it was announced today.

The price for peas 86-95 is $108.50 a ton; grades 96-120, $96.50 a ton and grades 121 and up $88.50 a ton.

Companies who bought peas on grade from several areas will have the same schedule of price ranges and pay growers an average price of at least $98.50 a ton for the minimum price.

The price varying peas on a flat-rate ungraded basis must pay a minimum of $103.50 a ton under the pea marketing agreement, reached last week at a meeting of processors and growers negotiating committees.

Other agreements reached: Pumpkin and squash, $9 a ton; green and wax beans, $98 a ton; cheese, $13 a ton for late and 16 for early-planted cabbage.

Youth to Face Murder Charge In Mother's Death

GUELPH (CP) — Lloyd Lester, a shy, 21-year-old youth who became almost a recluse in his parents' dingy apartment, was to appear in court today on a charge of murder in the crowbar slaying of his mother.

Mrs. Margaret Lester, 54, whose husband's salary as a scrub woman maintained her son and 23-year-old husband in their rooms over a shoe repair shop, died Saturday from injuries suffered in a beating.

She was beaten over the head, possibly with a crowbar, and left unconscious and bleeding on a bed Friday night, police said. She was discovered by her husband.

Lloyd was arrested as he stood across the street watching police and ambulancemen work at his home.

He appeared in court on a charge of attempted murder shortly before his mother's death and was remanded without plea until today. After Mrs. Lester's death, the charge was changed to murder.

Joseph Lester, who has only been able to do light work since he suffered two heart attacks, told police his son was under treatment in the last 17 months. He spent his time reading comic books and listening to the radio.

While living in Guelph and Montreal, Lloyd frequently played hockey from school, said Joseph Lester. He became a ward of the Children's Aid Society because of his truancy.

Lloyd was sent to Bowmanville boys' training school for two years and later served time in Guelph reformatory, said Mr. Lester. The boy was "socially ostracized" after his return to Guelph, Mr. Lester said. He was 17 when he left his last job.

Yugoslav-Born Engineer Again Arrested in U.S.

MALONE, N. Y. (AP) — A 38-year-old Yugoslav-born engineer, arrested in 1954 as an illegal entrant to the United States from Canada while carrying plans for jet planes, has been arrested for an alleged second violation of U. S. immigration laws.

Dusan Premovic was arrested Friday near Rouses Point, N. Y., as he attempted to leave the United States and re-enter Canada with the plans in his automobile.

Milton C. Berman, an immigration officer at Albany said Premovic has been charged with re-entering the U.S. after having already previously been deported.

Born at Slayner, she was the former Mary Collins, and graduated from Toronto Normal School, teaching in Scarborough township and Toronto schools before her marriage.

Mrs. Graydon had a keen interest in welfare work during the many years she resided in Toronto and in Ottawa. A good speaker and a good mixer she is a member of Business and Professional women's Club and active in political affairs.

"My new position will give me an opportunity to serve in a most worthwhile work," she said today. "It will be a challenge, but I feel confident that I will be able to handle it."

Two daughters, Carol, an art specialist at Brampton district high school and Leone, a teacher at the Gordon Graydon public school, are following their mother's public teaching profession.

A third daughter, Pat, is attending McMaster University, and hopes to graduate next year.

Mrs. Graydon will replace Judge T. H. Moorehead who resigned last month.

Mrs. G. Graydon Appointed Judge Juvenile Court

BRAMPTON (CP) — Mrs. Daisy Graydon, widow of Gordon Graydon, former Progressive Conservative member of Parliament for Peel, has been appointed judge of the Peel County juvenile and family court.

Mrs. Graydon, the handsome, gracious mother of three daughters, was alerted to run for election in her husband's seat after his death Sept. 19, 1953, but declined to do so. Her husband was a foreign affairs expert for his party.

Born at Slayner, she was the former Mary Collins, and graduated from Toronto Normal School, teaching in Scarborough township and Toronto schools before her marriage.

IN MEMORIAM

AYLESWORTH. — In fond and loving memory of our dear granddaughter, Cherylene Aylesworth, who passed away March 7th, 1954.
Sweet memories of you are many
Dear Cherylene Aylesworth, who passed away March 7th, 1954.
Sweet memories of you are many
In fond and loving memory of our dear granddaughter, Cherylene Aylesworth, who passed away March 7th, 1954.
Sweet memories of you are many
As we do not need a special day
To keep you in our memory
For the days we do not think of you
Are very few indeed
If all the world were ours to give
And all the world were mine
I'd give it all to you, dear Cherylene
Come smiling through our memory
Sadly missed by Grandpa and Grandmother Mills. MT

AYLESWORTH. — In fond and loving memory of our dear granddaughter, Irene Aylesworth, who passed away March 7th, 1954.
Remembrance is a golden chain
Time cannot break nor death nor pain
For love has forged that chain so well
That it will last with memory
Sadly missed by Grandpa and Grandma Mills. MT

TURNER. — In loving memory of my dear husband, Samuel Turner, who passed away March 7th, 1953.
Memories of you are all I have left,
And they are very dear.
—Sadly missed by wife Ethel. MT

TURNER. — In loving memory of my dear father, Samuel H. Turner, who passed away March 7th, 1953.
In tears we now you making,
In silence we think of you,
The years may change and fade memory,
But fought so hard to stay.
Sadly missed by daughter Evelyn.
So peacefully free from pain,
So calmly he sleeps,
To suffer that again.
—Lovingly remembered by daughter Hazel and son-in-law Bill. MT

TORONTO STOCKS

TORONTO (CP) — Demand for lower-priced mines today pushed stock market trading to the fastest pace in more than a month.

Prices moved up quickly at the opening with activity so great the ticker tape lagged as much as 10 minutes behind floor sales, but the congestion cleared late in the second hour and was at a more normal pace around noon.

Brokers attributed much of the gains to week-end reports from mining properties. Quebec Metallurgical was ahead 30 cents to $3.50 at 1 p. m., Quebec Copper 25 to $2.88, Noranda 20 to $4.85, Consolidated Denison 20 to $5.20, Dyno 19 to $1.83 and Pronto 15 to $8.90.

Industrials were mixed to lower. Ahead $1 or more were Canadian Dredge, Canada Cement and Equitable Life. Brazilian Traction climbed 12½ cents to 23.3⅛ on 6,000-share turnover and Vickers dropped $1.

Golds had Campbell Red Lake up 35 cents to $8.35 and Sullivan 25 to $6.45. Among western oils Fargo jumped 55 cents to $2.52 and Great Plains 75 to $23.50.

TORONTO LIVESTOCK

TORONTO (CP) — Trade was generally slow with the few sales until noon on steers nominally steady at the Ontario public stockyards today.

Prices: Good steers, all weights 19-20; medium 16-18; common 13-16; good heifers 17-17.50; a few choice to 18; medium 14-16; common 12-14; boner steers and heifers 10-13; choice fed yearlings 20.5-21; a few tops at 21.50; good fed yearlings 19-20; medium 16-19; good cows 12.50-13; light beef cows to 14; canners and cutters down to 7; good heavy bologna bulls 13-13.50; with butcher bulls to 14; common and medium light bulls down to 10.

DOLLAR RATE

MONTREAL (CP) — The U. S. dollar was at a discount of 1 13-32 per cent the Bank of Canada reported at noon EST, today. Friday's noon rate was 98 11-16 cents. Pound sterling was $2.75 against $2.75¾.

Former Bishop Dies

HOVE, England (CP)—Rt. Rev. Rocksborough Remington Smith, 82, who formerly served in Canada as Anglican bishop of Algoma, died at his home here Saturday.

After a period as vicar of Broadstone, England, he became vice-principal of the Anglican university at Lennoxville, Que., in 1921. Three years later he became examining chaplain to the bishop of Quebec and from 1927 to 1939 served as Bishop of Algoma.

PRODUCE MARKET

TORONTO (CP) — Churning cream and butter print prices were unchanged here today.

The egg market was barely steady with offerings in excess of a quiet demand.

Father Charges Major Fact Is Resentment

KITCHENER (CP) — A father whose child has been suspended from classes since Feb. 14 by the Kitchener public school board claimed today that personal resentment was the major factor in his child's dismissal.

Wilfrid Butterworth's daughter, Rosalynde, 11, was suspended for alleged disrespect of her teacher, Mrs. Robert Hagey of Victoria school.

Mr. Butterworth said in an interview the suspension came a day after he wrote a strongly-worded letter to Mrs. Hagey about other school matters.

He charged also that Russell M. Sale, chief inspector, "seized" on the alleged rudeness to suspend his child.

Mr. Butterworth said his daughter was told to move to the back of a line. She answered, "all right, Mrs. Hagey." The tone of voice was considered rude, the father said.

TAKEN TO INSPECTOR

Mr. Butterworth said his child was taken at once to Mr. Sale. Mr. Sale dismissed her from school without allowing her to apologize as she instantly offered to do.

He further charged that at 9 a. m. the next day Mrs. Hagey announced to the class that Rosalynde had been "expelled" and ordered her name removed from a list.

He also alleges that he wrote the school board asking for a hearing and receive no reply.

County of Kent Smothered In Feet of Snow

LONDON (Reuters) — Biting cold, snow and sleet hit most of western Europe today and even worse weather was on the way.

England was hard hit, especially in the southeast, where the county of Kent was smothered in several feet of snow. Most of the country, with the exception of Ireland, was covered in white. Forecasters warned of "really heavy snowfalls" on the way.

Off the coast fierce gales whistled in from the English channel and visibility was almost nil in the driving wind and snow.

Heavy snowfalls in southern Austria cut off the Lesach valley from the outside world. Snowplows failed to break through the drifts which piled up 23 feet high across roads leading into the 12-mile long valley.

In Italy two men were found frozen to death in a boat on a Po river delta canal as snow and rain swept the country. Snow up to 10 feet deep covered the Alps.

Trent Valley Hockey League

MARMORA—In the second of the playoffs in the Southern section of the Trent Valley League played at the Hamilton Crawford Memorial Arena, Marmora on Saturday evening between Point Anne and Trenton the honors went to the latter by the score of 10-3. The game was more even than the score suggests, both teams indulging in many bursts of play in which attack and defence was of a good standard.

The Admirals had all men on deck and their alternative players outnumbered the Cement men by three. Possibly that was the reason why Point Anne stood the brunt of the tussle better and lagged less than their rivals in the third period. Point Anne while being aggressive had several shots go wide of the mark unlike the two previous periods.

If the Admirals sought revenge for the loss of the first game they were not disappointed. They had the better of the argument in the first when half way through Wilfred Letman opened the scoring on assists from A. Scott and Jones. Jones made the score 2-0 when before the close of the period he outwitted Letman on his own net.

At the other end Point Anne should have scored but for the fine display of Hill in the Trenton net.

Point Anne's turn to score came at 3.45 in the second period. J. Goyer, aided by Jones gave his team in turning assists of Williams and Gilmour to good account. Trenton added to their scoring in Point Anne's hopes, getting two goals in less than two minutes.

Schmidt helped him on both these zones get an assist on the second tally. Point Anne retaliated and their fans cheered as Williams playing at his best, scored on J. Goyer's assist. Beale, forever pressing added to Trenton's record for Trenton with ten seconds only of the period left.

That player got through again on an assist from Jones with only seventeen seconds, of the third having passed. End to end play found Williams in a favorable position to score and Gilmour's assist was well utilized. The next goal went into the Point Anne net as the goalie in clearing left it open. Cousins speeded up and made no mistake with the shot.

Seven minutes hull in scoring although each team tried hard was succeeded by the Admirals piling on a couple of extra goals. Reeves, assisted by Hatfield and J. Scott got the first and at 17.11 A. Scott cleverly beat Letman on Beale's assist.

There were no penalties in the first period but for minor infractions the teams shared twelve evenly in the remaining frames. Semark of Point Anne received an injury early in the third.

Teams:

Point Anne—Goal Letman, defence Hurst, Semark, centre, Gilmour, wing, Doran, Hunter, alternates, Stevens, L. Goyer, J. Goyer, Williams, Spare goalie Bates.

Trenton—Goal, Hill, defence Reeves, Schmidt, centre, A. Scott, wings, Jones, Beale, alternates, J. Scott, Cousins, Hatfield, Graham, Perry, Read, Campney, P. Scott.

Referees—D. Barrett, W. Holway.

Police Using Radar Trap To Catch Speeders

BRADFORD, Ont. (CP) — Provincial police at this village 30 miles north of Toronto charged 75 drivers with speeding on the highway 400 during the weekend. The officers were continuing their drive to cut down excessive speeding on the Toronto-Barrie superhighway. Now in their second week of campaign, police have charged more than 200 drivers. They are using a radar speed trap to help catch offenders.

State Minister Raps Israel For Gaza Action

LONDON (AP) — Anthony Nutting, minister of state, sharply rapped Israel today for its part in last week's Gaza fighting against Egyptian troops. Thirty - eight Egyptians and eight Israelis were killed in the fighting.

Nutting summoned the Israeli ambassador to the foreign office to tell the rebuke less than 36 hours after the Israeli-Egyptian mixed armistice commission found the Jewish state guilty of a "brutal" and "prearranged attack."

A foreign office spokesman announced today's action but declined to go into detail as to what Nutting told ambassador Eliahu Elath. Other British informants said Nutting, speaking for his government, strongly deplored the incident and Israel's part in it and, on the basis of the mixed armistice commission's finding, added Britain's own condemnation.

Israel has disclaimed responsibility for starting the fighting and has appealed to the UN special truce commission, headed by Maj.-Gen. E. L. M. Burns of Ottawa.

Plane Crashes Into Mountain

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — A U. A. air force transport plane carrying 24 persons crashed Sunday in the cloud-hidden mountains of southeast Formosa.

Search planes spotted the wreckage today and reported no sign of survivors.

The C54 was on a flight from Okinawa with five crew members, nine passengers and a replacement engine for another U. S. air force plane stranded in Hong Kong.

It crashed about 30 miles northwest of Taitung. Off course 38 miles, it hit a 10,000-foot mountain at about the 9,000-foot elevation.

Five Americans and 50 Chinese were en route to the crash scene. They flew from Taipei to Taitung. From Taitung they will ride in trucks as far as they can, then climb the rest of the way.

Western and Red Papers Praise Penticton Vs' Play

BONN, Germany (Reuters) — Both Western and Communist newspapers today praised the Canadian Penticton Vs' play against a Russian team Sunday which brought them the world ice hockey championship.

Western German newspapers said the Canadians "fully deserved" their win over the Russian "robot men." The Krefeld West Deutsche Zeitung said "the Penticton's were stronger, faster, better. Their teamwork was superior to the Russians but their greater toughness brought the decision."

The East German Communist press had almost no censure for the Russians. The chief Communist party newspaper Neues Deutschland credited the "hard body play" of the Canadians for the win. But it also criticized the Russians for being too slow to take advantage of their chances.

The story referred to the Canadians as "the ex-professionals," an innuendo explained in earlier stories by its correspondents charging that most of the team were pros until selected for the Penticton team.

RUSSIAN ANGRY

The Vienna Montag headed its report on the game as "intelligence triumphs over Russian routine." It said the Canadians outclassed the Russians and completely dominated the field.

And in Krefeld, scene of the match, 43-year-old Rabelo, star Russian player, was so angry at his team's defeat he broke four hockey sticks over his knee and threw his skates out a hotel window.

Hotel employees who watched him said the Russian shouted "I never want to play ice hockey again." They said the player returned "visibly depressed" after the games. The rest of the Russian team returned to the hotel and went straight to their rooms.

INDIA AND GERMANY

By coincidence, pamphlets issued by the Information Service of India at Ottawa and the Press and Information Office of the German Federal Government at Bonn, West Germany, arrived on the editorial desk on the same afternoon. The nature of the coincidence will be made evident when we relate that the leading article in the German pamphlet was "India as Seen From Germany," while "Caravan of India" contained an article entitled "Bonn Cooperates in India's International Advance."

The India Information Service article deals almost exclusively with trade between the two countries. "West Germany is bidding for a high place in India's trade and industrial development program," it says. "Starting almost from scratch about 10 years ago, with her economy shattered by war and all her foreign markets disrupted, Germany already occupies the third position in the value of exports to India."

It is pointed out, is stated, could supply all India's needs for that country's Second Five Year Plan, from chemicals to machinery and from locomotives to fertilisers. It is easy to appreciate the truth of the Information Service's statement that, while "Germany's friends have watched this development with admiration," her rivals have viewed it with some alarm. There is, of course, little probability that West Germany will corral the entire Indian market, but we may be sure that the enterprising Germans will be seeking a very big slice of it when a German delegation visits India in the near future to renew their trade agreement with India.

In contrast to the India Information Service article, the German pamphlet's article is concerned more with non-economic matters and it contains a somewhat surprising, but nevertheless welcome, tribute to Britain. Many Germans, it says, incline to the view that India's growing role in Asia is "an aggregate composed of spiritual, intellectual and cultural factors."

The German service describes Nehru and Chou En Lai as fanatical Socialists, a statement which is open to dispute, but continues: "But in India the tenets of personal freedom as well as freedom itself have not been ignored; on the contrary, after having guided the country through decades of her struggle for independence, the concept of freedom may be said to be the very motif of the young state. Undoubtedly this love of liberty is in large measure an English heritage. A similar spirit can be found wherever the British Commonwealth took root — in Pakistan, Ceylon, in Burma. It is a spirit which historians recognize as overbalancing many of the negative aspects of the colonization era."

A TRADE PROBLEM

Hon. C. D. Howe, Minister of Trade and Commerce, said the other day that Canada, on the whole, imports more industrial raw materials than she exports.

He added that the answer to this was to say that Canadians are mainly hewers of wood and drawers of water, that we export far too great a proportion of our natural resources without first processing them.

When Mr. Howe says that "only a small fraction of our industrial raw materials is sold abroad in what can properly be described as raw form" he makes a statement which is reassuring to us all.

We are not so certain, however, that it is reassuring to learn that our "rapidly growing industrial economy requires more industrial materials which are not found in this country or which can be obtained here only at high cost."

In the past nations have grown wealthy by processing raw materials imported from other lands. There is some reason to believe, however, that it is a little late in the economic development of the world for Canada to attempt to emulate these pioneers in industrialization. Would it not be wiser to concentrate our efforts on processing more and more of our own raw materials, the supply of which is assured, and attempted to reduce the cost of obtaining within our borders those materials which we now import from abroad?

ALIBI SUPPLIED

The Detroit Free press notes that "young women now have conclusive proof — in the form of reduced liability rates — that they are good automobile drivers." This provides them with a ready made squelch when men make unkind remarks about their driving ability, says the Detroit paper.

Why, that's easy.

Isn't it obvious that young women drive better than men because the advice that they get from their companions (male) is better than the advice they give to these companions when said companions are at the wheel.

Or, in the alternative, as lawyers love to say when only line of argument is rejected by the court, is it not obvious that inserting a woman behind the wheel automatically eliminates one of the major causes of mishaps, the back seat driver?

VAIN COMPLAINING

When the weather's too cold or in summer too hot
It 'tweren't for any good I would grumble a lot.
But I've noticed whenever I start to complain
The snow keeps on falling and so does the rain.

I could wail with the loudest through winters severe,
But the wind keeps on blowing as though it can't hear.

Though a constant complainer I'm able to be
Jack Frost and Old Sol will not listen to me.

I know all the words and the phrases to use,
When I don't like what is I can growl if I choose.
But to all sorts of weather I meekly submit
Since to grumble about it won't change it a bit.

Counterfeiting

(By Gerald Kloss, condensed from the Milwaukee Journal)

Counterfeiting is a dangerous game. It started when bees, since the Roman days when rascals who clipped coins and saved the bits of gold and silver, were given a cruel, ironic punishment—the executioners clipped off their ears.

The odds against the present-day counterfeiter are relentlessly high. A man who successfully printed bills runs the constant risk of being detained by police or some alert store clerk or bank cashier.

On the other hand, an expert counterfeiter must possess such a high degree of technical skill that he could make a better living as an honest craftsman in the federal bureau of engraving. Furthermore, his purchase of top quality paper, inks and printing equipment can be traced by secret service men.

The greatest ally of the counterfeiter is the public's careless assumption that a piece of securely engraved paper of approximately the right size is a legitimate bill. This gullibility can go to incredible lengths.

Talented counterfeiters produce bills with glaring errors, as in the case of a Dallas woman who put out fake $50 federal reserve notes. His mistake was to issue them in 1907 — 17 years on the face of his bills. It read: "The United States will pay to all debts, public and private, and is redeemable in awful money at the United States treasury, or at any federal reserve bank."

Perhaps the most exasperating counterfeiting case in recent times was that of the New York secret service branch files, which had agents on the counterfeiting trail from 1933 to 1948. The counterfeiter turned out to be a retired clerk janitor named Michael Mueller.

His secret was lack of greed. He printed counterfeit $1 bills on a tiny hand press in his tenement flat, but only enough to support himself alive.

Printing a maximum of 40 or 50 bills a month was no problem in New York, even though they were the poorest counterfeit bills that Secret

Adult Students Fill BCI Night School

Belleville Collegiate is a hive of activity by night as well as by day these days as evening classes take over the building after the nights a week. Earning a living by day, the students give up their spare time at night to improve and increase their abilities through the courses offered. Above is 18-year-old Dutch immigrant, Robert Suykens, student of elementary electronics. Watching him through his paces is his father, Matthieu Suykens, also an evening student in the advanced technical course.

Education Week

BCI Night Courses Way To Realize Ambition Be It To Sew Buttons or Lay Bricks

Busiest night spot in Belleville is the city's collegiate at learner, four evenings a week are optimistically given over by people who want to know better.

Better what?

Better anything; for the evening classes provided there offer a wide field of learner, four technical, commercial and academic — all of it practical. Here people can learn anything from how to sew buttons on a blouse to laying bricks for a house.

Monday through Thursday the collegiate is a hive of activity by night. Its business-like corridors giving off a cacophony of urgent, powerful and high-pitched sounds from Room 106 where the machine shop is bound to the rhythmic patter of typewriters in 206— all of it significant. There is an urgency and ambition associated with it.

Most of the students are people with a purpose giving up their spare time to further their capabilities. Many of them are attending the classes if they did not intend to make use of their sportsboards to opportunity.

Such an example is Robert Suykens, 18-year-old Dutch immigrant who arrived with his family in Canada last summer and enrolled in the collegiate elementary electronics course in the fall.

At present a clerk in the Toronto-Dominion Bank in Belleville, he hopes one day to be an electronic engineer. It was a enthusiast since childhood (he made his first radio when he was ten years old) he is taking advantage of the collegiate's night classes as a stepping-stone to the future.

FATHER STUDIES TOO

Together with his father, Matthieu Suykens, who is taking the advanced technical course he attends the collegiate every Tuesday and Thursday nights for two hours and likes it.

"I have learned more in this half-year that I am here in Canada than I would in four or five years in Holland," he says.

"Education is more practical here," the elder Suykens claims.

With Mr. Suykens himself the story is a little different.

A draftsman with a local manufacturing firm, he is taking the advanced technical course, he says, to improve his English. The course this year consists of mathematics, mechanics and English. A draftsman in his native town of Dordrecht, near Rotterdam, he rose to the post of superintendent of a large construction firm in Holland. Today, he finds his technical knowledge a roundabout aid to grasping English lessons at the night school.

"Of course we are going to continue at it next year. It is very good," said Mr. Suykens, speaking for himself and his son.

Perhaps when Robert goes a little further here he can also go to university," he said.

But the Suykens' story is only one of many similar ones having more lines penned to them in the collegiate each night.

756 WEEK HOURS CLED

When the evening courses were opened for registration here last September some 315 students enrolled in thirty different courses. Since then, with a drop in registration, the number of courses has been cut to 26. The decline in the number of students follows usual routine, however, and is due to business or service transfers, interference of a student's job with his studies, or the fact tha. some students register just to learn a particular phase of a job, quitting as soon as that part of the course is passed.

Under the direction of principal E. A. Orr and vice-principal D. C. Stirling, a staff of 32 instructors teach on alternate nights. Some won't all four nights. A common platform upon which both students and instructors meet is the fact that both are giving up their spare-time to the job of education. For the instructors this, benefitals much extra work in preparing classes and in marking tests.

STAFF IS VARIED

The staff of instructors presents a fair cross-section of the community as do their students. Some of these are permanent teachers in the collegiate by day, returning again at night; others are trades or professional men from industry, passing on their knowledge of their particular crafts to their students.

In room 114 an engineer from a local industry instructs students in elementary electronics; in room 215, a school teacher takes a class in English; in 305 a housewife teaches sewing while in another room a female secretary in a city firm instructs in drawing and painting.

Besides its regular night classes the collegiate also makes itself available to classes outside of departmental education. Recently, a navigation course held classes on the premises. Premises also were placed at the disposal of students of business and administration university extension course this term.

SERVES LARGE AREA

With fully-equipped shops and all facilities readily available, the collegiate is the focus of night school studies for a large area. Students attend from as far afield as Stirling and Napanee and beyond Trenton.

The collegiate's coverage of the instructional field appears to be almost unlimited. Besides the set classes, if 12 or more students apply for instruction in a particular subject, every effort is made to add this course to the curriculum. On the other hand no class will be opened unless at least 12 persons register for the course. If, at any time during the year, the enrolment becomes too low, a class may be closed. The importance of attendance is further underlined by the issuance of certificates at the close of the season to students who have attended at least 80 percent of classes.

The collegiate as a whole also strives to keep abreast of all advances in the technical field. Latest addition to the building was the installation of electronic equipment last year for the use of both day and night students.

During the war special war emergency night classes were held to help speed personnel placements in necessary industry.

Today, however, the collegiate's evening classes have settled down to a less immediate, though none-the-less important job, that of helping people broaden their responsibilities and fulfill their ambitions.

ORFU Will Make Bid to Retain Grey Cup Berth

TORONTO (CP) — The Ontario Rugby Football Union, Canada's oldest football league, will make a determined bid to retain its berth in the Grey Cup semi-final.

The ORFU, reduced to three teams after the 1954 season, issued a strong warning at its annual meeting Saturday that it will fight with all its means a move to have it ousted from the Grey Cup chase. The union, delegates said, is fighting for its very existence, for loss of the cup semi-final revenues would make operation almost financially impossible.

The ORFU's fate will be decided in Vancouver March 25 and 26 at the annual meeting of the Canadian Rugby Union. The CRU will consider the recommendation from the Big Four that this year's Grey Cup semi-final between the ORFU winner and the Big Four winner be dropped.

ALL OUT ATTACK

Led by Donald F. Bowney, league president, representatives of the three senior teams—Sarnia Imperials, Toronto Balmy Beach and Kitchener-Waterloo Dutchmen —agreed Saturday to do everything they could to block the Big Four's moves.

A change in the CRU constitution requires a two-thirds vote and Norm Perry, CRU past-president has the deciding vote in case of a deadlock. Perry is head of Sarnia of the ORFU.

The Big Four move was made after the WIFU informed the CRU it didn't want to play the ORFU winner next season and suggested it be played again in the east. The ORFU champions played in the west the last two years, losing both games.

The Big Four recommendation said that because of financial loss and the possibility of injury to players, the game this year should not be played.

A QUESTION

Scoffed president Downey: "Edmonton made $6,000 as host team in the semi-final gate last year and Winnipeg made $18,000 the year before. Does that sound like a financial loss?"

In the matter of anxiety over the Big Four recommendation, the league unanimously voted to go ahead with plans to expand. Committees were named to approach Stratford, Windsor, London, St. Catharines, Hamilton and Brantford about forming senior teams.

Downey told delegates that until last week it was "almost a certainty" that Peterborough would be in the league this year, but the club had folded at the last minute. He did not say why.

The time for additional entries was left open when delegates agreed to postpone drawing up a schedule for the league.

The league also decided to permit teams to carry four American imports each, the same as last year, and voted to split the ORFU's share of the CRU semi-final game gate receipts, giving two-thirds to the ORFU champion and the remainder evenly to all other clubs. In previous years the winning ORFU club took all after the league took its cut.

FORMER ARGO DIES

TORONTO (CP)—Jack J. O'Connor, 64, a Toronto osteopath prominent in sports circles, died of a heart attack Sunday. Mr. O'Connor, who practised in a downtown office for 35 years, was a former football player with Toronto Argonauts. He recently retired as a director of the Argonaut Football Club. He was also a director of the Argonaut Rowing Club and of the Canadian Rugby Union.

Peterborough Takes Major Honors In Cent. Ontario Badminton Tourney

By GEORGE H. CARVER
(Sports Editor)

The Peterborough Badminton Club won top honors in the annual Central Ontario Badminton Association tournament which concluded two days of play here Saturday night.

The Lindsay City players carried off four of the six championships which included the men's singles, men's doubles, ladies' doubles and veterans' doubles. Oshawa won the ladies' singles with Bowmanville annexing the mixed doubles.

Don Ayer, Peterborough, won the spotlight men's singles title, defeating Ken Smith of Oshawa last year's champion, by scores of 15-18, 15-8 and 15-11. Ken Hopkins, Oshawa, won the ladies' singles title, defeating Miss Maurice Charlton, Peterborough, in a three-game match, 11-10, 9-11 and 11-8.

The mixed doubles were won by Bob Gallagher and Doreen Reddoch, Bowmanville, who were extended to the limit it required to beat Grant Henry and Joy Elmsley of Peterborough, 13-8, 9-15 and 15-10.

Peterborough took the veteran' doubles with Ralph Charlton and John MacDonald defeating Harry Holmes and H. Refausse, Trenton, 15-3 and 15-9.

The ladies' doubles also went to Peterborough with Maurice Charlton and Gaye Baker defeating the honors from Kay Hopkins and Marion Swindell, Oshawa, 15-13, 12-15 and 15-9.

Grant Henry, former Dominion doubles champion, teamed with Ken Crowe, of Peterborough, to win the men's doubles in two straight fast games from Bill Burgess and Gary Tighe, Bowmanville, 18-14, and 17-14.

Peterborough also took three of the five consolation matches with Trenton and Oshawa dividing the remaining pair.

200 ATTEND

Upwards of 200 players from the various centres participated in the tourney. Play each day was watched by a large gallery of spectators in the Bridge Street armouries. The play started Friday and continued all day Saturday with the championship matches starting at 6.30 in the evening and concluding shortly before midnight.

The Peterborough club was presented for the first time with the handsome new Corby Distillery trophy, emblematic of team supremacy in the tournament. It will be competed for annually.

Keen competition was apparent, donated by the association's executive. The play and the trophies presented to the various winners following the matches by Lt.-Col. E. S. Fairman, president and officer of the Hastings and Prince Edward Regiment, and Roy Johnson, president of the association.

The general consensus was that the tournament was a most successful success. Appreciation of the local club, the Belleville Garrison, was voiced by association executives for their efforts in making the tourney the success that it was. Credit goes to Noreen Cullaghan, Bill Bonnell and Bill Gilbert for their efforts along with the host club executive of John MacDonald and tournament manager Lennox Smith.

The visiting players were guests of the Garrison Club at an enjoyable reception held following the players' mess in the armouries at the conclusion of the tournament.

With Ralph Champagin scoring four goals, the Red Wings earned their way into the finals of the city bantam playoffs on Saturday morning by trouncing the Elks' Hawks 7-3. The Maple Leafs and Canadiens battled to a 3-3 tie in their semi-finals game and will meet in a sudden-death affair next Saturday morning in a clash with the Wings for the league title. The Rangers and the Bruins tied 2-2 in an exhibition game.

Champagin's four goals sparked the Red Wings while F. Adams tallied twice and Bobby Dolan once. Hook had a pair of assists with one each for Frost, Pulmer and Hardwick. Moore Regent and Goyer each fired a goal for the Hawks with Sheridan picking up one assist.

Bernie Boulter kept the Leafs in the running for the title with two goals while John Brennan had a great assist. Tony MacDonald drew one helper. Harvey equaled Boulter's two goals while Saxby had a pair and assisted and Wood fall one assist for the Canadiens.

Billy and Boulter notched the Bruins goals in the exhibition fixture with Smith and Folwell tallying the Rangers' goals. Pringle, Davis and Alyea each had an assist for the Rangers.

The Canadiens and Maple Leafs meet at 9.00a.m. in the only game scheduled next Saturday morning while the Red Wings will practise at 9.00.

Two Charged With Beating Young Mother

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—Two thugs broke into a home at nearby Byron shortly after midnight and blackjacked Mrs. Stanley Ogg, 25, mother of three small children. Two youths heard her cries and with her leased less than 24 hours later.

John C. Bennett of London and Francis J. Morrow of nearby Lambeth were arrested Saturday night and charged with robbery and attempting bodily harm. Both are 19.

Mrs. Ogg was reported in fair condition in hospital Sunday with severe bruises to her head, shoulders and back and a deep cut on her to close several scalp wounds she suffered.

The thugs forced their way into the house and asked for her husband, night manager of a supermarket here.

Police said the men probably wanted to kidnap Mr. Ogg and force him to open the store safe but settled for the combination to it.

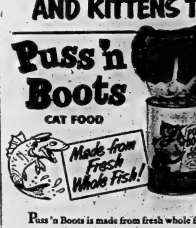
Officers praised the coolness and fast action of seven-year-old Carol, the Ogg's eldest child, in telephoning for help as soon as the men left.

Plasma Use Ends

TORONTO (CP) — Vernon G. Hale, national blood chairman for the Canadian Red Blood Service, said today Canadians donated 383,-209 bottles of blood during 1954.

He said blood plasma is no longer being processed and when present stocks are exhausted patients suffering from shock will receive transfusions of serum and albumin, another blood product.

WOULDN'T LEAVE HOME



CREEMORE (CP) — Firemen and a son carried an elderly woman to safety Saturday, when fire swept through her three-room frame home in this town 55 miles southeast of Owen Sound. Firemen said Mrs. Lucy Dixon was in danger of asphyxiation when she refused to leave the burning house. Her son, Joseph, who discovered the blaze when he came to fix the chimney, joined them in carrying her to safety.

Weddings

BOULET—LAYNG

Christ Church, Oshawa, was the setting for the marriage of Mildred H. Layng, of Belleville, Ontario, to Roland A. Boulet, of Oshawa, formerly of Quebec.

The Rev. H. D. Cleverdon officiated at the ceremony.

The bride wore a charming gown of foam white nylon lace and net over white slipper satin, and crinoline skirt. With the strapless bodice she wore a long sleeved basque jacket of nylon lace trimmed with satin and seed pearls. She was of white nylon petals, seed pearls, and rhinestones, with veil. She carried a white Bible with sprays of red roses.

She was attended by her aunt, Violet Page, attired in blue with gold pink accessories, and corsage of pink carnations.

Mr. Ernest Page, uncle of the bride, was groomsman.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's aunt and uncle, Simcoe Street North.

The happy couple were recipients of many beautiful and useful gifts.

For travelling the bride chose French violet velvet, pale blue accessories with a fur cape hat. They will reside in Oshawa.

BRESLIN—STREBE

The home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Douglas Caley, was the setting for a very pretty ceremony, Monday, February 28, at 4 o'clock, when the Rev. Simon D. Brownson, Bancroft, cousin of the bride, united in marriage June Marie Strebe, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Strebe, and Frank Breslin, Royal Canadian Signals, son of Mr. P. Breslin and the late Mrs. Breslin, Longford, Ireland.

Spring flowers, daffodils and tulips, decorated the home, and two white standards with floral arrangements of pink gladioli and white poms were on either side of the bridal party.

Mrs. Simon Brownson played the Wedding March.

Given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Mr. Douglas Caley, the bride looked lovely in a navy and white street-length dress with princess lines of Peau De Chrome and pelon lining, bracelet-length sleeves and a high secol neckline. Her hat was a white feather tiara. She was married a Colonial bouquet of Briarcliffe roses, white stephanotis and white tulle.

The bridesmaid, Mrs. Oliver Willis, aunt of the bride, wore a navy blue dress with pink accessories. She carried a cascade of white Bee-Bee poms, blue stephanotis and pink tulle.

Mr. Oliver Willis, uncle of the bride, was groomsman.

The buffet luncheon was served by Mrs. Douglas Caley and Mrs. Don DeMille, sisters of the bride, assisted by Mrs. Alwin Owen. The bride's table was centred with the three-tier wedding cake which was surrounded with pink snapdrop and fern at the base. Pink roses nestled at the foot. Silver candelabra with long tapers completed the setting.

For a wedding trip to Niagara Falls and Buffalo, N.Y., the bride chose a navy beaujolais suit, red coat, white hat, and navy accessories.

On their return they will reside at West Lake Pines.

50th Wedding Anniversary Is Observed

Congratulations are extended to Mr. and Mrs. Richard Brooks, 4 Ritchie Avenue, who celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary on Friday.

On March 4, 1905, Miss Leville Brooks was united in marriage to Richard Brooks in Trenton Methodist church by the Rev. S. S. McMullen. The marriage was witnessed by Miss Leola M. Kemp and Mrs. J. S. McMullen.

Friends and neighbors honored the occasion by presenting Mr. and Mrs. Brooks with a gift and a cake inscribed "Happy 50th Anniversary", along with their good wishes.

Young Couple Presented With Coffee Table

On Friday evening, friends, adherents and members of the Alliance Tabernacle met in the assembly room of the Y.M.C.A. to honor two of their number, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Perkins, nee Margaret Atyeo, who have recently taken up residence in Kingston, in commemoration of their outstanding work in the church and Sunday school.

Mrs. Herbert Millard acted as master of ceremonies.

The evening was spent in singing of favorite choruses and hymns, with Mrs. Beverly Foster at the piano. Mrs. Gordon Byers led in amusing and interesting quiz games.

After the singing of "The Church's One Foundation," an address was read by Mrs. A. Henderson, and the presentation made of a lovely walnut coffee table, for which both Mr. and Mrs. Perkins most graciously expressed their thanks and appreciation.

Refreshments of sandwiches, cake, coffee, tea and freshie were served by the young people, concluding an enjoyable evening.

Tabernacle W.A. Hears Talk On 'Time'

The regular monthly meeting of the Tabernacle W.A., was held in the church parlor on Thursday.

The president Mrs. R. Johnston opened the meeting with a Scripture reading.

Mrs. Bablak conducted the worship service. She told the story of Paul and Silas taken from Acts 16:25-34.

It enlightened the meeting as to how the young are taught in the Sunday school and the older younger groups.

Mrs. Rowley read an Easter story, "He is Not Here", which dealt with Christian Stewardship in this day by day life. It was most interestingly presented and gave much food for thought.

The secretary's and treasurer's reports followed also a report of the ill and shut-in—Mrs. Mrs. Lent. The visitors were also welcomed.

It was decided to give a donation for the Cubs' Father and Son banquet, also $15 each to the V.O.N., and the Red Cross.

Mrs. Wilson favored with a solo with Mrs. Duff at the piano.

Mrs. Lent introduced the speaker, Mrs. Hillman, whose subject was "Time". She asked what "Time" was and said that "Time" is a mystery. We speak of having time', 'saving time', 'using time-wisely', of timing ourselves."

She pointed out that "we can save and borrow money and many other things, but we can't 'borrow time' or 'save time' up from day to day. We can neither touch nor see 'time'. It is intangible. We can put "Time" to good use by reading good books, listening to good music and having good conversation with our friends, and most important, taking time to do all the good we can, day by day."

The address was interesting and gave all, a new conception of "Time".

Mrs. P. Kerr thanked the speaker and all the others who helped make an interesting afternoon.

Refreshments were served by Group 1 and a social half hour enjoyed.

Argyll Chapter I.O.D.E. Presents Flag to School

The monthly meeting of the Argyll Chapter I.O.D.E., was held in the Officers' Mess, Belleville Armouries on Thursday.

Mrs. K. S. Fairman, regent, presided. The flag was brought forward and the meeting was declared open for business.

A letter of thanks was received from Mr. Reid, principal of Quinte Secondary school, for the flag presented on behalf of the Argyll Chapter, I.O.D.E., by Mrs. W. N. Ponton and Mrs. R. H. Vaughan, at the official opening of the school.

It was also decided to present a flag to the Prince of Wales school in the near future.

In answer to a request by Judge J. C. Anderson, it was decided to hold an afternoon tea at the Armouries, after the ceremony at the Court House for the new Canadians, who are in receipt their Citizenship papers and become naturalized Canadians, on March 29.

A rummage sale will be held in the Armouries in April. All the members are asked to bring their rummage early and assist at the sale.

The I.O.D.E. convention is to be held in Toronto, April 19, 20-21-22 and it was decided that two delegates would go to represent the Argyll Chapter.

Mrs. A. Breuls, who is leaving Belleville to reside in Toronto, was presented with a gift from the members, and the well wishes of the I.O.D.E. go with her and her family in their new home.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Harold Vaughan and Mrs. Lionel Blaker.

Talk on Ireland, Coronation Heard by Club

The February meeting of the Canadian club of Bridge Street United church, was held recently in the ladies' parlor of the church with 50 ladies present.

Mrs. John Locke and her group were in charge of this most interesting meeting.

Miss Jessie Tutte, of Albert College, spoke to the club on "Highlights of the Coronation", as she witnessed them—and more, with a wealth of description. Miss Tutte told of her visit to Ireland.

One of the finest speakers the club has had, Miss Tutte's tales of her journeys were thoroughly enjoyed by everyone present.

A three-speed record player, purchased by the club for the Sunday school Beginners' classes, was on display and records were enjoyed during the coffee hour.

Interesting Talk On 'Ceylon' Heard At Foxboro W.I.

Mrs. M. Jamieson was the hostess when the Foxboro Women's Institute met for its March meeting. Mrs. M. B. Shorey presided and the meeting opened in the usual way.

Correspondence was read, a letter of thanks from the Presbyterian Ladies' Guild, and letter from Toronto regarding the Salada Tea competition for the Women's Institute branches, at the C.N.E.

Mrs. Shorey called for suggestions for the raising of funds to carry on. It was decided to have an auction sale in the school auditorium on March 30.

It was also decided that discussion regarding assistance to the children on their trip to Ottawa be tabled for the April or May meeting and that a nomination committee be selected to nominate officers for the April meeting. Mrs. Hollinger offered to be one of the committee with Mrs. Tumbleson.

The roll call was answered by 17 members and five visitors.

Mrs. Shorey called on the district president Mrs. East-Hastings, Mrs. Reid, and Plainfield, who gave a delightful talk on the responsibilities as a good citizens and good Institute members.

Mrs. Prindle on behalf of the ladies, presented Mrs. Elliott.

In the absence of Mrs. Hubble, Mrs. Hollinger reported on resolutions.

GUEST SPEAKER

Mrs. Meyers as program convener, read "How To Stay-Young" then she called on Mrs. J. Reid, the district president for West Hastings, as guest speaker. Mrs. Reid gave an interesting talk on 'Ceylon', with particular reference to the work of the Women's Institutes.

Mrs. Shorey on behalf of the Foxboro Institute presented Mrs. Reid.

Mrs. Hayton gave a short, but interesting talk on the, motto, "Children Need Models More Than They Need Critics."

After the close, refreshments were served by Mrs. Jamieson and her assistants.

ADVICE to the LOVELORN

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

SHE SAYS SHE'S "AN OLD WOMAN," BUT SHE'S YOUNG AT HEART

A reader of this column who says that she is "an old woman now," is not so old that she can't remember how it feels to be young —very young, in fact.

The reason the writer me is because she was particularly interested in a letter she saw here from a teen-age girl with a difficult problem.

This teen-ager, who had one year still to go in high school, and was anxious to finish, lived with a married sister who was opposed to the idea, her reason being that since they were out of the school district they must pay tuition fees. Because of this situation, the teen-ager was inclined to throw the whole thing up and get married to a boy who was pressing her to do so, so that she could be free and independent of her sister.

Touched by this story of youthful frustration, the reader thought that "perhaps my experience might be of some help to this girl, though I am an old woman now, for I left happened many years ago."

She goes on to say that: "At the age of 15 I left school to start to work, though I had only one year of high school. My mother, fortunately, at acquiring an education. I saw an ad in the paper about a business college which had night classes. I went there and made good a stenography.

"If the girl who wrote you the letter has the stamina, she can get part-time work to help support her, self, finish her year of high school, and which would undoubtedly be get a self-supporting job. Then she will be under obligation to no one, will have attained such a self-respect, and if and when she marries, it will not be a matter of escape."

Now this letter makes a very good point, especially since the teen-ager concerned is only about 16 and might, actually, be able to work out something along the suggested line. So I am setting down the letter here, because the girl did not give her full name and address and so it is impossible for me to forward the original letter to her. I hope she will see it and, perhaps, give it some thought. Then, if she feels it might be a workable idea, she could discuss it with some teacher at high school who might be able to help her put it to practical use.

As for the "old woman," who was so thoughtful as to write the letter, she must have had great character, self-reliance and initiative, even at the early age of 14, to do what she did. It is sad to think that anyone so young had to leave home, but whatever her reason for doing so, she certainly met whatever problems she had in a fine way, and evidently made a good life for herself in spite of them.

I certainly can't feel that she is "an old woman," as she calls herself, for she is quite obviously young at heart, and has retained her youthful vitality of viewpoint.

I would be most interested to hear more of this woman's story, and more of her whole philosophy of life, if she would care to write it to me, and I'm sure that other readers would like to hear it, too. If she sees this, I hope she will be willing to share her experiences with us.

APPROVE BILL

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate armed services committee Thursday approved a bill to let the armed forces send teams to the Olympic Games, this year's Pan-American Games, and other international sports events. The Pan-American Games are to start March 12 in Mexico City.

BALLOON BLAST HURTS FIVE

TIRSCHENREUTH, Germany (AP)—A huge plastic balloon—the kind that carries American anti-Communist propaganda leaflets to Iron Curtain countries—exploded Friday at a secret launching site near the Czech border. The accident occurred as five of the balloons, each 12 feet in diameter, were being filled with hydrogen. Five persons were injured.

SOFT SUIT

By GRACE THORNCLIFFE

Femininity is the key word describing the little suit shown here. Not that it goes in for anything soft and over frilly. On the contrary it is tailored. But the lovely color and soft wool tweed, and the self ruffle all play a nice part.

The collar is frankly looking pale blue, with something of the quality of sparkling pale blue glass. Tiny matching plastic buttons parade down the short peplum jacket and the rounded collar has a self ruffle. Sleeves are buttoned and there are back-vental slit pockets. There is a kick-pleat in back of the straight and narrow skirt.

Beauty

By HELEN JAMIESON

CONSERVING THE BEAUTY BUDGET

Vasts sums of money are spent every year on cosmetics and beauty treatments. Women agree that it's money well invested because it brings grand returns.

Cheerful is who compound fragrant toiletries ring in a change of season with new offerings exquisitely packaged and bottled. The woman who has money to fling around is fortunate, but there are many who must budget beauty spending.

There are ways of conserving good-looks, too. The money-saving woman will be a bit stingy with the cream she applies to her complexion every night. It's wasteful to slather it on. It is what is ricocheted into the flesh that counts. Gentle manipulations are as important as the use of the emollient.

She keeps her complexion cream in a cool place and is always sure the top of the jar is closed so the cosmetic will not lose its delicate fragrance. After her three-minute facial at bedtime, she uses the cream that is left on her hands to give silkiness to texture.

When powdering her face, she does not follow the usual technique, which is to plunge the pad into the powder box, take on a heavy load, slap it on her face. She knows that addition is better than subtraction. Starting on her neck, she fluffs powder on lightly, working upward over cheeks and forehead, adding a little more if necessary, patting it with her fingers.

Perfume tops the list of luxuries for the dressing table. She will purchase the smallest possible amount, try it and see if she likes it well enough to make a heavier investment.

TO REPORT ON VACCINE

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—The first full report on effectiveness of the Salk anti-polio vaccine will be given, probably in early April, on a closed-circuit television hookup to physicians in about 60 cities of the United States and Canada, Eli Lilly and Co. of Indianapolis, one of the firms manufacturing the vaccine, announced Friday it will sponsor the event.

GOOD MANNERS

By MRS. BEECKMAN

STREAM-LINED INTRODUCTION FORM

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

When I am introducing an arriving guest to five or six or even eight guests, what is a simple and proper from to use? I'm now at this hostess business, and I'm always perplexed at the above situation. My hostess of others making this introduction doesn't help me much, for the introductions often seem to me overly complicated. That's why I'd like a simple form though, of course, proper. Incidentally, does it make a difference whether the arriving guest is a man or a woman? And (as I've been asked often) should the women guests be introduced first to the arriving guest, and then the men guests? — Ann

Don't complicate this introduction-situation by trying to make the introductions too individual . . . I'm sure this what has been bothering you, as it bothers many hostesses (hosts, too). Here is the most practical and convenient a n d stream-lined procedure: (1) Mention the name (very distinctly) of the arriving guest (whether man or woman, younger or older); then (2) mention the names of the others in the order in which they are sitting or standing (note the women first, then the men).

DON'T SKIMP ON INVITATION-MAILING TIME

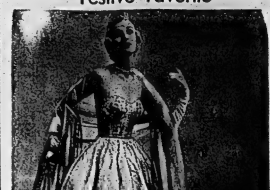
Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

When I send out invitations for a more or less informal party—a luncheon, say, or a tea or bridge, for instance—how soon before the occasion should I mail these? I've been told that one week before is proper. — Hostess

Sending the invitations one week before the occasion may be proper (no rule about this), but I'd say that allowing such a short time doesn't make s e n s e. For the chances are that friends may have engagements for 2 o r 3 n i g h t s a week," particularly in a busy season. Also, the sooner the occasions you mention (luncheon, bridge, shower, for example) I should think you would want replies to your invitations . . . and, as we all realize these days, one week doesn't allow time for this. You'll be wise to send your invitations out at least two weeks before the date, I suggest that you consider following today's non-practical procedure: telephone your invitations for such parties as luncheons, bridge parties, showers, and then, if you want to be doubly-sure, mail a little "reminder" card or note. Saying something like this: "I'm so happy you can come to luncheon on Friday, April—, at one o'clock here. Devotedly, Julie."

PROSPECTIVE MOTHER AND HER HUSBAND HAVE SEPARATED

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:



I'm going to have a baby, my first, in about two months. We had planned to send out birth-announcements, and indeed had done some shopping for the kind I wanted. But now I really have a problem, not only about the birth-announcements. For a little over a month ago, my husband and I separated, and very many people know about it. Now under these circumstances do you think I should send out birth-announcements, and, if you do approve, what is the proper form to use? — Mother-to-be.

In these circumstances it would be best, I think, not to send birth announcements. Make arrangements in some member of your family or a devoted friend to telephone the news of the baby's arrival, to close relatives and friends, and perhaps to telegraph some favored friends. They would be most interested. The news will spread. Then, when you find it convenient, you might write notes to others, telling the birth-news and, if you wish, the 'other' news.

Males Show Good Style Sense In Picking Women's Fashions

By PAULINE KENNEDY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

TORONTO (CP) — The current look, long lines and fashion tone in for plenty of male criticism—and praise too—at spring fashion shows in Toronto.

The men had their day recently at a department store fashion show feature "the male court of opinion." Their ideas and intimate knowledge of fashions stunned female listeners who thought men looked more at dress bills than styles.

Each man who voiced an opinion in the show had one thing in common. They all like buying clothes for their wives or daughters and are usually successful selectors.

A SIMPLE MATTER

The old cry that women should dress to please their husbands was brought up by Burt Myron, hosiery company executive.

"It is simple for a woman to dress to her husband's pleasure," he said. "She just has to convince him he likes what she chooses. We are so impressionable it's an easy job."

Newspaper columnist Bruce West pleaded the case for the "natural look." Women shouldn't diet until they look underfed and emaciated in an effort to achieve a "fashionable" figure, he said.

"Women should dress according to their natural type and learn to accept the proportions nature gave them," he added.

Mr. West likes to see the woman wearing the dress not the dress wearing the woman. Some women he said have the figure and personality to wear more spectacular and daring clothes, but they are in the minority.

FASHION KNOW-HOW

He told of some tricks he noticed Parisiennes using to lend dimension to their appearance.

"French women adopt some particular piece of jewelry or style of accessory such as a scarf, earrings, bracelet or pin and wear it constantly until it becomes part of their appearance — their trademark."

Mr. West, who has a teen-age daughter, also had definite ideas on dress economy. He'd like to see less sophistication and more natural youthful beauty.

"Teen-agers can postpone sophistication, but never recreate natural youthfulness," he said.

Dick McDougall of CBC television deplored teen-age sloppiness but complimented the younger generation on their ability, "though rarely demonstrated," to dress attractively when the occasion demands.

Greys, blues or greens with small vivid contrast touches are favored by Mr McDougall.

TV STYLE CHANGED

In early days of television, he recalled, women before the camera wore extreme clothes cluttered with accessories. Now the tendency is toward quiet subdued clothing which doesn't steal the show from the wearer.

Byng Whitteker, radio and television personality, has two pet hates—slacks and dark blouses. He OK'd shorts—"if the gal has the legs for them."

"I like a woman to look either tiny, feminine and ridiculous or long, lean and beautiful in one of Direct quote from Viola: "If syrup made of 1-2 cup each sugar (light brown or white are both good) and water, and 2 tablespoons butter and 1-2 teaspoon salt as soon as it had come to boiling. I put on the lid and baked it 20 minutes at 375 degrees. Fahr., then removed lid and baked 20 minutes longer after turning vegetables over. We served this with broccoli and broiled steak—it took the place of potatoes. However I believe I liked the dish better the second time I did it using turnip too in place of some of the carrots. The turnip seems to be softer and takes up the syrup evenly—no wonder Li'l Abner likes them if Mammy Yokum cooks them this way.

STUFFED ONIONS

Boil six large ordinary cooking onions in water to cover until they are 3-4 tender—do not cook until soft. Drain. Cut off tops and remove centres—remove a core about 1 inch in diameter. Chop half of these cores (discard remainder or use in soup) and to this add 1-2 cup grated cheese, 2 tablespoons melted butter, 1 tablespoon catsup and a little salt and pepper. Stuff mixture into cavities in onions. Put in well-buttered baking dish, cover and bake 1 hour at 325 deg. Fahr. Remove cover, sprinkle with 1-3 cup buttered crumbs, dot with butter and bake uncovered until crumbs are golden. Meat may be substituted for the cheese. Good with any beef dish, and ideal for a vegetable plate.

those big picture hats," he said.

In the office he likes women tailored and businesslike although they should go all-out at night. "The more glamorous and feminine the dress at night, the better."

Russians Likely to Make Big Effort to Impress Nehru

MOSCOW (Reuters) — India's Prime Minister Nehru will be feted as the Soviet Union's most important guest since the visit to action when he visits Russia this summer.

Nehru is not the first prime minister to come to Russia, but is potentially the most important from the point of view of the Kremlin. Since Stalin's death a big attempt has been made by the Soviet Union to win friends among governments and peoples of Asia.

The Russians consider Nehru to be the "eyes and ears" of millions of Asians still uncommitted in the ideological conflict between West and East. It is evident here that the Kremlin is relying on the belief that if Nehru can be convinced of Soviet material achievements and the genuineness of its "peace" campaign, the importance of the Indian prime minister will be accepted throughout the Asian countries.

SEE MIGHTY EFFORT

Because of this, the Russians are likely to make a big effort to impress Nehru. It will be the sort of welcome accorded kings and queens by other countries.

Foreign diplomats in Moscow believe Nehru will reach his own conclusions regardless of what is arranged for him. It is also believed the talks which the Indian prime minister will have with the Soviet leaders may be of world importance.

Nehru, as the leading statesman representing neutralist non-Communist opinion in Asia, is likely to be able to talk at the Kremlin with great frankness. He is expected to convey to the Soviet government, not only the views of Asia, but also the feelings of the nations of the British Commonwealth.

Nehru is expected to spend about two weeks in Russia in June or July. He is likely to be taken on the usual sight-seeing tours of Moscow, and to be flown to Soviet central Asia to visit one of the Moslem republics.

WOOED VIGOROUSLY

Apart from the Communist bloc, there is no country in the world about which the ordinary Russian has been encouraged to think in more friendly terms than India.

The most concrete good-relations step so far has been the offer of a steel mill by the Soviet government, accepted by India on financial conditions more advantageous than those offered by any other bidder. The mill is due to be completed by 1959.

NAME NEW MINISTER

OSLO (Reuters)—A new Norwegian minister to Canada was appointed Friday. He is Arne Christian Gunneng, 41, now a member of the Norwegian delegation to NATO in Paris. The present Norwegian minister in Ottawa, Erling Sundt Best, is retiring at his own request.

PENTICTON

Backed by the able support of such defencemen stalwarts as Kevin Conway and McAvoy, the stocky McLelland chalked up four shutouts in eight games and allowed a total of only six goals.

He turned in another impeccable performance against the Russians after having shut out Finland, Poland and Sweden. He allowed three goals against Czechoslovakia and one each to the United States, Switzerland and Germany for a .75 average.

REDS "OUTSMARTED"

Puchkov, with the next best goals-against average, allowed 13.

The Russians just didn't have the hockey savvy to cope with the Canadians.

"We outsmarted them, outskated them, outpassed them and outplayed them," said Bill Warwick in a dressing room atmosphere crackling with happiness and relaxed nerves.

Playing coach Grant Warwick, who confessed he never was so tense before a game in all his years of hockey, said the Vs got on to Bobrov in the first period. The Russian didn't like the Canadian tactics and twice complained about them.

Bobrov was dropped twice within seconds in the second period by the coach and defenceman Hal Tarasla.

Tarala sent him sprawling on his nose with a check on which a penalty was called. It would have been okay in Canada.

"We played strategy all the time," said the peppery coach, oldest member of the brother line. BACK ONE TOP

It was a triumph for the way hockey is played in Canada.

And it put Canada's international hockey reputation back where it was before Russia took the world title in her first try last March in Stockholm. Canada beat over Toronto East York, a senior B team, and it lost to the Russians 7-2.

The Russians tried one rigid attack pattern and when this failed they were lost. They let their wingers handle the puck as they moved down the ice. After crossing the attacking blueline the Russians invariably passed to their centre.

The Canadians soon solved the attacks, zipping off the Russians around the blueline by concentrating on the wingers.

Live broadcasts were carried over two Toronto radio stations and recorded for the CBC which carried them later on its trans-Canada network to about 40 stations.

They were made by Foster Hewitt who for 32 years has broadcast National Hockey League games from Toronto.

FILM FILMS OVER

Television films of the game are being flown to Canada and will appear on the CBC's network in Toronto, Hamilton, London, Ottawa, Kingston and Montreal.

A. E. Powley, CBC supervisor of outside broadcasts, said the film which had to be processed probably will not be shown until late Monday night.

Kinescope productions of the game will be sent to eastern and western Canada after the TV showings in Ontario and Quebec.

The Moscow home service told listeners the result of the game and then followed up with a short summary of the play. Communist stations in Poland, Czechoslovakia and East Germany carried running commentaries.

While the Russian commentator complained how and then of Canadian roughness, there were no excuses for the Soviet defeat. "Our goal-keeper must be held responsible for Canada's first goal," the commentator said. (Babagaa fired the rebound). He also spoke sharply of the "nervously playing Soviet forwards."

The Czech commentator said the Canadians deserved the victory.

U.S. PLACES FOURTH

Canada outscored the Russians 66 to 39 in the eight games and finished with a total of 15 points. Russia was second with 14 points and Czechoslovakia third with 11, followed by the United States, Sweden, Germany, Poland, Switzerland and Finland in that order.

The Czechs clinched third place Sunday by drubbing Finland 18-2. They blanked Poland 9-0 and Germany defeated Switzerland 8-3 in other games.

The victory gave Canada its 19th world championship. The Canadians won the first tournament, held in 1924.

The Vs took the lead in the fourth minute of the opening period on Shabaga's first goal.

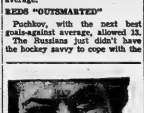
Bill Warwick made it 2-0 early in the second period with his first goal, which was tainted. Billy fired a bullet-like drive at the Russian goal. The puck hit the stick of Russian defenceman Nikolai Sologubov and bounced into the net and Warwick let out a whoop.

Shabaga took a pass from Jim Fairburn and scored No. 3 at 11:28.

SIX OUT OF SEVEN

The Russians became disorganized in the third period when Warwick scored after 32 seconds and McAvoy got the fifth and last goal at 2:22.

The Canadians drew six of the seven penalties in the game to bring their total for the tournament to 33. It added up to 19 minutes in the penalty box.



Canadian servicemen and other well-wishers jammed the dressing room to offer congratulations. "We're worried sick, but we're excited," said Fairburn, the skinny forward.

Shabaga commented:

"That third goal was the one I was happy about. I knew we had them then. It helps to start off ahead because then the pressure is off."

The Russians lined up glumly in a straight line and watched McAvoy accept the huge silver trophy.

The Russians got a small cup. A few minutes later McAvoy and Bobrov came forward to shake hands, then the players mixed briefly.

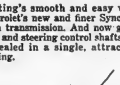
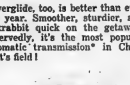
Are you a "Do-It-Yourself" Driver?



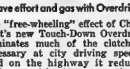
Or would you rather be waited on hand and foot?



Rather shift for yourself . . . or let Powerglide do it?

Shifting's smooth and easy with Chevrolet's new and finer Synchro-Mesh transmission. And now gear-shift and steering control shafts are concealed in a single, attractive housing.

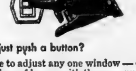
Powerglide, too, is better than ever this year. Smoother, sturdier, and jackrabbit quick on the getaway. Deservedly. It's the most popular automatic transmission* in Chevrolet's field!



Do all your own clutching . . . or save effort and gas with Overdrive?

Clutching is easier than ever with Chevrolet's new, High Capacity Tri-Flex Clutch. The new pendant-type pedal and single diaphragm spring reduce the amount of foot pressure required, while other new advances ensure positive engagement.

The "free-wheeling" effect of Chevrolet's new Touch-Down Overdrive* eliminates much of the clutching necessary at city driving speeds. And on the highway it reduces engine speed by 22% — greatly increasing fuel economy and reducing engine wear.



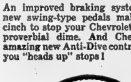
Rather roll your own . . . or just push a button?

Chevrolet gives you separate crank controls both for windows and ventipanes. This is yet another of the many great conveniences offered by Chevrolet — the newest of all new cars.

Like to adjust any one window — or all four of 'em — with the mere push of a button? Automatic window and seat controls* are available on all Chevrolet Bel Air and "Two-Ten" models.

Position the seat yourself . . . or let electricity do it?

Chevrolet's big, beautifully upholstered front seat moves up and forward or down and back into your most comfortable position. More interior room this year for hips, hats and shoulders!



No need to worry about electrical equipment running your battery down in a new Chevrolet. It gives the reserve power of a 75-volt electrical system — easily capable of meeting your car's demands.

Apply the brakes like this . . . or have power make it easier?

An improved braking system and new swing-type pedals make it a cinch to stop your Chevrolet on the proverbial dime. And Chevrolet's amazing new Anti-Dive control gives you "heads up" stops!

What's new and improved about Chevrolet? Everything! Chevrolet Power Brakes* are better than ever — let you stop by a simple pivot of your foot from accelerator to brake pedal.

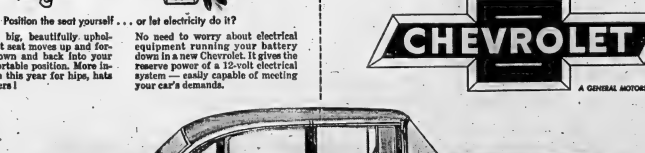
Rather have standard steering . . . or the extra ease of Power Steering?

How easy and sure can steering be? Try this new Chevrolet and see. Chevrolet uses a ball bearing system to cut friction to a minimum — and to get fast response from a twist of the wrist.

For parking and slow-speed turning, there's nothing quite so easy as Power Steering, of course. Good news: Chevrolet's new linkage-type Power Steering* carries a reduced price!

Automatically—

Chevrolet's stealing the thunder from the high-priced cars!



What's a high-priced car got that Chevrolet hasn't? Not automatic power features. Not style — just look below. Not performance — just try out Chevrolet's new V8 or new valve-in-head 6. Not ride — perhaps the thing that will surprise you most is Chevrolet's fine, solid feel on the road. Come put it to the test. See how Chevrolet's stealing the thunder from the high-priced cars in every way!

*Optional at extra cost.

UN Discussion on Freedom Of Press Around World Has Produced No Concrete Result

A difference in concepts of freedom has been the basis of discussions in the United Nations on freedom o f the press. This holds true also in the right to know to outlined in the following story, one of a Canadian Press series.
Written for The Canadian Press

By FRANK FLAHERTY

Freedom of the press has been discussed at United Nations meetings nearly every year since the founding of that organization.

The discussions, except for the elucidation of a lot of conflicting views and the assembling of a lot of facts on the status of the press around the world, have produced no concrete result.

As early as 1946 the General Assembly of the United Nations went on record as saying "freedom of information is the touchstone of all the freedoms to which the United Nations is consecrated." It defined what it meant by saying "freedom of information implies the right to gather, transmit and publish news anywhere and everywhere without fetters."

Beyond these general statements the United Nations has been able to agree on little more. All countries profess to believe in freedom but they differ about what freedom is.

CLASHING VIEWS

Basic to these differences was a clash of views on the relationship of the individual to the state. Spokesmen for countries such as Canada that place a high value on individual rights recognize the individual's right to know, view freedom of the press from governmental controls as indispensable to his exercise of that right.

Spokesmen for countries where the interests of the state are placed before those of the individual clearly do not recognize the individual's right to know. At least they would not concede him the right to know everything he may want to know.

They tend to view freedom of the press as meaning freedom to let the individual know what he should know. And it is the government that decides what he should know. It is never the individual himself, near independent newspapers competing freely for the individual's favor and patronage.

Pursuant to the declarations of the General Assembly in 1946 it was decided the United Nations should do something to promote freedom of information. It was accepted that the United Nations, in the long run, could only achieve its purpose of maintaining world peace if the peoples of the world knew about it and knew more about one another.

CONFERENCE AT GENEVA

So under directions of the General Assembly the economic and social council called a Conference on Freedom of Information which met at Geneva in 1948 with 54 countries represented.

The conference drew up three conventions, one on the treatment of foreign correspondents, one on an international right of correction of false reports and one on basic principles of freedom. The Canadian delegation approved the conventions as a whole but had reservations on clauses that opened the way to peacetime censorship of news.

No further action was taken until 1952 when the Convention on Foreign Correspondents and the Right of Correction were merged and the one on Basic Freedoms dropped because opposing views on principles could not be reconciled.

The redraft, called a convention on "International Transmission of News and the Right of Correction" was adopted by the Assembly but the Communist states voted against it. Hence it did not bring about any modification of their rigid censorship policies.

UNIFORMITY LACKING

The next year a sub-committee of the UN's Committee on Human Rights met at Montevideo and discussed the drafting of an international code of ethics for those engaged in collection, transmission and distribution of news.

There was no uniformity in what different countries meant by freedom of information. To many, including Canada and most of the democracies, it meant a minimum of interference with the press. To others it meant freedom from abuses of the press. To the former countries it meant the press was free to devote its total support to one ideology.

The difference between Russian and Western ideas is illustrated by a quotation from a Soviet authority reported by a UN publication as saying: "The purpose of information is not to trade in news but to educate the great mass of the workers and organize them, under the sole guidance of the party, to achieve clearly defined aims."

UNSATISFACTORY TO CANADA

The Canadian delegation practically washed its hands of the United Nations effort on freedom of information at the 1950 meetings. The delegation said Canada viewed freedom of information as fundamental human right and guarded it with the utmost vigilance. It would welcome international action to protect and promote this right, but could see no value in the proposed agreement.

The delegation reported the draft had been submitted to information agencies and other interested bodies in Canada. Their opinion was unanimous that it was unsatisfactory in that it would tend to restrict rather than promote freedom.

A prime cause of disagreement was an article in the convention which permitted governments to restrict freedom of the press for such reasons as national security, defamation of reputation, literary rights. Many delegates believed the enumeration of these reasons for limitations would constitute an open invitation to governments to restrict.

During 1952 the economic and social council considered the code of journalistic ethics that had emerged from the Montevideo conference and decided to refer it to national and international professional associations. The Canadian Broadcasting Corporation has also been invited to governments to restrict.

Canada followed the same line in the General Assembly at the 16th session in 1953-54. The Assembly passed a resolution directing the economic and social council to give priority to the Freedom of Information Convention at the next session, and to press for replies from professional associations as to their views on the code of ethics. The Canadian delegation opposed the resolution, indicating it with to have the matter dropped.

Civil Defence Is Not Useless Says Dr. Solandt

TORONTO (CP)—One of Canada's top scientists took time out today to do a little predicting, plug for civil defence and inform that scientists do not always think only of science.

Dr. O. M. Solandt, chairman of the defence research board, revealed to the Canadian Club what he said a week ago in Montreal, that because of the destructive power of nuclear weapons, "We are now at last faced with the desperate alternative of one world or none."

He traced the development of the atomic and hydrogen bombs, said "fossil fuels" such as coal, oil and gas are dwindling but that atomic power should be available to replace them when they're gone.

SEEKING GREAT CHANGES

Elsewhere, he predicted:

"When the history of this century comes to be written, I am sure that it will then be clear that we are living in the midst of one of the greatest periods of transition in human history.

"Our times will be outstanding not for the great political and social upheavals that they have seen, but because during this era, man has begun to understand and to use the vast store of energy that is locked up in the nuclei of atoms.

"We are living in the early days of what will certainly be known as the age of nuclear energy . . . I think that it is particularly important for us to try to comprehend the significance of the developments in nuclear science that are taking place and try to control and direct their use. . . .

"Even so, I think . . . there seems to be a fair chance that the history of our era will never be written."

CIVIL DEFENCE IMPORTANT

On civil defence, Dr. Solandt said that the United States Atomic Energy Commission's recent announcement of the widespread destructiveness likely from the fallout after a H-blast should not give people the idea civil defence now is a waste of time.

". . . Existence of these large weapons does not change the continuation of all our present civil defence measures, but will make possible important new rules for civil defence.

"For instance, it is quite obvious that a large proportion of the people who are likely to be injured by fall-out can be saved from death or injury by suitable shelter and instruction after the explosion has taken place."

DOUBTS HAPPINESS GREATER

In a philosophical vein, Dr. Solandt digressed briefly:

"The remarkable basis of most of our political and economic actions in the Western world is the assumption that an increase in material comfort and a lightening of the load of labor leads to increasing happiness.

"I personally have some nagging doubts concerning the fundamental truth of this principle."

His remarks were in the text of a speech given to the press before delivery.

PAISLEY (CP) — Marjorie McIver, 9, suffered minor injuries and a black eye when she moved into the highway for 125 feet by a car driven by James Marsden of Preston, police said Saturday.

The girl alighted from a parked car and walked into the path of the oncoming Mannion vehicle.

Construction Crew on Way To Giant Aluminum Site

KITIMAT, B. C. (CP)—The first of 1,200 men are on their way from Vancouver to begin construction which will boost capacity at the giant Aluminum smelter here.

Production will be increased twothirds—to 151,200 tons from 91,200 tons—by doubling the number of potlines to four.

At the same time the Aluminum Co. of Canada Ltd. will install another 140,000-horsepower generator at nearby Kemano power station to bring total output to 680,000 horsepower.

When the company announced the expansion last October, it said the program would add $45,000,000 to the $275,000,000 already spent on the project.

The company's main storage dam, power tunnel, penstocks, and the 50 - mile transmission line across rugged mountains from Kemano to Kitimat have been built to support aluminum operations three times the size of the present plant.

The peak of 1,500 carpenters, engineers, teamsters, laborers, and other workers should be reached by mid-summer.

END NEGOTIATIONS

The first workmen left Vancouver following completion of wage negotiations between AFL unions and Saginaw-Kitimat Construction Co., an Alcan subsidiary.

Contracts with operating engineers', teamsters', laborers' and carpenters' unions will run to Jan. 2, 1957, although revisions can be discussed in January next year. Pay rates will range from $1.60 to $2.40 an hour.

The agreement contains a union shop clause and an understanding there will be no jurisdictional disputes among the various unions.

Part of the funds for the expansion will be raised by increas-

A CANADIAN CITY HAS BEEN Wiped out...
During the past 20 years, automobile accidents have taken the lives of 37,000 Canadians—the entire population of a fair-sized city. A half-million more have been injured.
To meet the staggering cost of traffic accidents, the automobile insurance business this year will pay out more than $80,000,000. Beyond this, insurance companies will do everything possible to stem the rising toll of automobile accidents — by offering the safe driving incentive of lower insurance premiums for accident-free car owners and through safety work and public education aimed at making drivers more aware of the perils of modern-day motoring.

Mohammed Ali and Nehru Will Confer About Kashmir

By ADRIENNE FARRELL

NEW DELHI (Reuters) — The prime ministers of India and Pakistan meet at the end of March in a new attempt to break the deadlock over Kashmir which has poisoned relations between the two countries since they achieved independence.

Mohammed Ali, the Pakistan prime minister, flies to New Delhi for the meeting with India's Prime Minister Nehru. Their talks will be preceded by discussions between high officials of both countries.

Aim of the meeting is to discuss "all outstanding problems" between India and Pakistan. There are about 100 of these, including many minor claims. The three big problems are:

1. The future of Kashmir.

2. The fate of evacuee property" left by refugees from both countries.

3. The dispute between India and Pakistan over sharing the Indus Basin canal waters.

This last problem already is under discussion by representatives of both countries together with world bank experts in Washington and will be considered by the two prime ministers only if there is a major hitch.

The Kashmir problem goes back seven years. At the time of the partition of India and Pakistan in 1947 the Indian states were left to choose which country they would join. The Maharajah of Kashmir, a Hindu with a majority of Moslem subjects, wavered and at last acceded to India after Pathan tribesmen invaded the state from the tribal areas bordering on Pakistan.

Indian troops were immediately flown in at his request, Pakistan troops moving in to support the tribesmen.

After bitter fighting a cease-fire line was established in 1948, leaving India occupying about two-thirds of the state, including Jammu, Ladakh and the Kashmir valley, and Pakistan with one-third including the northernmost Gilgit area.

Since then numerous attempts have been made to solve Kashmir's future — in the United Nations security council, by international commissions and by direct talks between the two countries.

Both sides are committed to a plebiscite by the people of Kashmir to decide their future. But talks have broken down over the number of troops to remain and over responsibility for administration during a plebiscite.

India maintains, moreover, that the position with regard to Kashmir has changed since Pakistan signed a military aid pact with the United States, which Nehru says increases Pakistan's military potential and changes the basis for discussion of the number of troops to be retained in Kashmir.

Pakistan claims the military strength of the two countries outside Kashmir has no bearing on the issue.

Memos Take Game Lead In Playoffs With 4-1 Win Over Cornwall Colts

CHIPS OFF THE SPORTS BLOCK

By Geo. H. Carver, Sports Editor

HAIL, THE PEVICTON V'S

Thanks to a doughty crew of hockey warriors from British Columbia's peach belt, Canada's hockey prestige is back in all its shining glory. Russian domination of a game they know little about a few years ago, came to an abrupt end on Sunday when the brilliant undefeated "V's" swept them off their feet and out of the Intermediate Memorial Cup. Their defeat did it in a manner that convinced the sports world that the world hockey crown came back to its rightful owners.

The Kaberts of the Kremlin could not have been more stunned than if a hydrogen bomb had dropped on old St. Petersburg. Their highly-heeled team which had been trained especially to retain the world crown won at the expense of the Toronto Lyndhursts last year and kept it in an atmosphere of caviar and vodka, were made to look like a bunch of backwoods intermediates.

And said only did the Peaches from Penticton lambast the bejabers out of the "Moscow Millionaires," but they hung a large, juicy horse-collar around their collective necks —and made 'em like it. It was the best news to come out of Germany since Hitler's gang rolled "uncle" was back in '49.

There was little doubt of the victory after the first period when the Pentics sheep home a pair, while diminutive Ivan McLelland maintained a sensational goalie record by kicking out whatever the lions and Sergies had to offer. The Canadians solved the only attack system the Russkys had early in the first period and after that it was a question of how many."

The Penticians were illustrious ambassadors for Canada. They didn't need striped pants and frock coats with toppers to convince a bunch of Europeans that this is one of the best countries in the world. They met and defeated the best European team from Russia on ice. Canada should be proud to be, and is, mighty proud of these "peach boys". They are worthy champions and should be hailed as such.

A GREAT DAY

'Twas a great day all round, Sunday.

On the heels of the Penticton "V's" defeat of the Russkys over in Germany came the news that the Memos had hung a 4-1 defeat on the Cornwall Colts to take a 2-1 game edge in the senior "B" playoff finals series. The Colts were the fans' fair stunned as their Colts were outplayed, outmaneuvered and held scoreless for over fifty-nine minutes as the Memorial team from Belleville came up with a dazzling exhibition of both-way checking to grab a well-deserved verdict.

The Memos, playing heads-up hockey both ways, and with Tony Parisi turning in another outstanding performance, suddenly exploded in the third frame. Davey Jones scored his typing marker after three minutes and big Vern Goyer, who was one of the stars of the game, slammed home what proved to be the winning goal just seventeen seconds later. And seven minutes later Keith MacDonald drove in the insurance marker after a beautiful set-up by Goyer. And just to tuck it away Arnie Dugan slipped Bob Wilson's blazing drive into the net with the final goal of the evening time.

Meanwhile the Whitby Dunlops flashed back into form and handed the Kingston Goodyears a 5-1 setback to square their semi-finals series at one game each.

The Memos proved beyond a doubt that they have a winning potential. Mayhap that 16-0 setback a week ago was the spark that fanned the flame of ability. In any event the team that played and won yesterday in Cornwall did not by any stretch of the imagination look like the squad that was torpedoed and sunk under a ten-goal barrage in the opener. The Memos can grab a stranglehold on the series tomorrow night when they meet the Colts in Memorial Arena in the fourth game of the series. A sell-out crowd should be on hand to support them, for if their last two victories aren't bring out fandom, nothing will.

TRENT VALLEY HOCKEY

Point Anne ran into a snag in Trenton on Saturday night and emerged on the short end of an 11-3 score as the Carr Admirals unleashed a potent offensive that the Pointers could not fathom. The win evened the Trent Valley hockey finals at one game each and the teams tangle in the third game of the best-of-seven tonight in the Trenton arena.

SOFTBALL

The Belleville and District Softball Association holds its annual meeting tonight in the West Moira St. Fire Hall and all softball men are urged to attend. Important business is on the agenda, including plans for the coming season and some suggestions which may be placed before the OASA at its annual meeting Good Friday in Peterborough. Meeting gets under way at eight o'clock.

BADMINTON

The Peterborough Badminton Club swept four major honors at the Central Ontario Badminton Tournament held here on Friday and Saturday. Oshawa and Trenton carried off the remaining two titles. Nearly 200 players were in attendance and witnessed some exciting play before the various championships were decided. The tournament was an outstanding success and a lot of credit goes to the Belleville Carleton Badminton Club for the outstanding efforts—and delightful hosting. Special mention should be made of Norcen Callaghan, Bill Bennett, vice-president of the Association, and Billy Gilbert, who labored long to make the club the success it was. The tournament was capably handled by Lennox Smith and club president John MacDonald.

Explode for Four in Third For Second Straight Triumph; Whitby Defeats Kingston 5-1

By Garry Alexander

Slinking two goals in 17 seconds early in the third period for a 2-1 edge, the Belleville Memos locked the powerful Cornwall Colts back on their heels on their own ice Sunday afternoon with a convincing 4-1 victory. The win gave the Memos a two-games-to-one lead in the best-of-seven O.H.A. Senior "B" semi-finals with the fourth fixture slated for Belleville on Tuesday night and the fifth in the series on Thursday.

Whitby defeated Kingston 5-1.

The Memos faced a difficult task in licking the Colts on home ice after the 2-0 defeat absorbed in the first game and Cornwall appeared to have another good game in the making when they scored after only 56 seconds of play. Jimmy Gardner's pass bore ever fought with renewed vigor and although they were unable to come up with any threatening scoring attempts during the first two periods they effectively shut Colts at every turn while Parisi kicked out many counters that did get through the defence.

Davey Jones sparked the Memos sextet on the comeback trail at 3:15 of the third session, when the Cobalt boy scored unassisted on a clearing attempt. Dave cut out from behind the nets and flicked an easy back-hander netward, after grabbing Oleluk's clearing pass, that Parisi never could get another Cornwall player by a surprised Colt goalie to knot the score at 1-1. Vern "Jumbo" Goyer proved to be the hero of the piece when he broke away stealing the rubber from Gould at the Colts' blue line and waltzed in alone to bring 1,200 rooting fans to their feet with a beautiful goal. Goyer was not content to rest on his laurels, however, and added insult to injury by setting Keith MacDonald up for another marker at 10:47 while Arnie Dugan tipped Henri Bob Wilson's blueline blast to 15:21 to close the scoring.

The Memos' goalies had a wide territorial edge in the first session and opened the scoring on a lucky deflection. Their big line of Connelly, Batten and Savard worked the Colts in their own Belleville end and Batten banged one in on Parisi's right side, but Tony play with his linemates drawing assists.

They continued to carry the play but close checking and Parisi held the fort. Ed Duncan's boxing penalty at 11:46 gave the Colts a further advantage and Savard missed the open net by inches. A local net only to be foiled by a good save by Duncan. Paul Jones, Hub Macey and Bob Wilson came up with an excellent penalty killing display and when Duncan returned, Belmore drew a cross - checking penalty at 14:30.

Parisi came up with what may have been the deciding play of the game early in this period when Pete Payette stole the puck from a scramble in the local's zone and appeared to have Tony at his mercy at 11:05 but Parisi's "poke-em-out" did just that and pulled a repeat on the rebound. The big netminder pulled another great save when Savard broke in at the 11:00 minute mark. Wilson finally hauling him down but not before Tony cleared the rubber and the three of them came up in the net. Wilson was thumbed for holding and delay after his rescue, Guy Henri picked up two minutes for slashing. No damage resulted from either play. Play picked up in speed and ruggedness with Savard's charging check draping Dave Jones over the boards at 17.00 but he was not penalized.

Goyer's assist on MacDonald's goal in the third period was well earned, working his way by several defenders to reach the net and Keith slapping it home at Pinguette's right side to cover. Vern Pete Jones started the final scoring play at 15.21, digging the puck out of the corner and slipping it back to Wilson at the blueline. Bob's hurled drive cleared the maze of players in front of the net and settled in the twine for Dugan's third goal of the game. Hub Macey drew a hooking penalty at 15.44 but the Colts' usual drive was lacking and the Memos held on for their well deserved victory. Moe Savard worked hard in a losing effort but Piquette over Providence.

Marlies Oust Galt Hawks; Irish Hopeful

By The Canadian Press

No surprises have cropped up in the Ontario Hockey Association Junior A playoffs so far.

Toronto Marlboros disposed of Galt Black Hawks Saturday night and annexed into the semi-finals against Guelph Biltmores. Guelph had eliminated Hamilton Cubs in three straight games. In the other best-of-seven semi-final St. Catharines TeePees hold a commanding lead.

Marlboros defeated Black Hawks 5-3 in a twenty-goal romp in Galt to win the best-of-five quarterfinals 3-1.

Meanwhile, Toronto St. Michael's Majors kept their playoff hopes flickering. They extended the semi-finals with the defending Memorial Cup champion TeePees by another 5-4 overtime tie in Toronto Sunday. Teepee have won three of the four games played so far.

Bill Harris was Marlboros' kingpin, scoring two goals. Ken Girard, Glen Cressman and Gary Collins added tallies.

Hec Lalande counted two for the Hawks and Jack Sleaver got the other.

A crowd of 3,882 Toronto fans saw the Marlboros score their hind four times to tie the Majors They scored three times, including the winning goals, while St. Michael's was a man short.

Dog-Eat-Dog Battle In American League

By The Associated Press

The American Hockey League entered the final two weeks of its dog-eat-dog pennant scrap today with only four points separating the first five teams. Four quality for the Calder Cup playoffs.

Springfield Indians moved into sole possession of first place over the week 83 points Sunday night as they defeated Cleveland Barons 7-3. But the Indians' margin over the second-place Pittsburgh Hornets is only one point. And Buffalo trails Pittsburgh by two points. Buffalo, whipping Providence Reds 9-2, Cleveland and Hershey are tied for fourth with 59 points each.

The Indians took a 3-1 lead over the Barons in the first period on goals by Doug McMurdy, Graham Hastings and Buddy Boone. The score was still a respectable 4-3 going into the final period, but the Indians added three more goals with Hastings gutting his second. Dick Gamble tallied twice to pace the Bisons to their triumph

Proud Penticton Goes Wild In 11-Mile Victory Parade

PENTICTON, B. C. (CP)—This town all but proud British Columbia city today continued celebrating their beloved Vs triumphant march to the world hockey championship with plans for a monster homecoming party.

The celebrating, which started Feb. 23 when the Vs dashed to their first win in the tournament, reached a thunderous climax here Sunday as the town greeted the hometown club had whipped Russia 5-0 in the championship game.

Within minutes shouting, cheering fans had rushed from their homes for a spontaneous celebration that saw cars piled four deep along Penticton's main street and forming a parade that stretched 11 miles as drivers tooted and honked their horns from the city to Skaha lakeshore and back.

Leading the parade slowed traffic lights were police and a fire engine carrying the Penticton pipe band.

An hour later the fans hurried to their homes to listen to a delayed play-by-play broadcast of the game played in Krefeld, Germany.

WARWICK FAMILY BUSY

Over on Moore Jaw St. at the home of Grant Warwick, star player on the team, the wife and wives of the three Warwick brothers gathered.

There was Grant's wife, Lil; Bill's wife, Bea; and Dick's wife, Pam; Grant's children, Gordon, Grant, Jr., 12, and Gail, 10, and Bill's youngsters, Jeanne, 6, and Bill, Jr., 5.

They listened to the final bulletins and then the phone began ringing. It never stopped. It relays, accepting congratulations from fans throughout the province.

"We never doubted the outcome a minute," said Bea. "We knew the way it had to be."

Then house hunter got under way in scores of homes and kept on through the night.

BIG PARTY PLANNED

Penticton is looking forward to the return of their beloved Vs March 16 or 17.

The players, one to a convertible, will be driven in a huge parade through the city and down to the arena where the official welcome will be held. Then there will be a banquet, a monster dance and official receptions.

Organizers say Sunday's demonstration will have nothing on the homecoming party.

West Favored To Retain Curling Title

By WILF CHESLETT
Canadian Press Staff Writer

REGINA (CP) — Already decided, Canada's top 11 rinks today got down to the serious business of fighting it out for the victorious title needed to claim the Dominion curling championship.

The title is heavily favored to retain the title won last year by Matt Baldwin of Edmonton who flies out this year after being shunted from Alberta to Manitoba at early round. Western provinces are expected to have a relatively easy time until the semi-final windup Saturday morning when the first two Western rinks meet, Ontario and Manitoba.

Greatest interest hinges on the sixth round Wednesday when the two big favorites, Saskatchewan and Bruno Lindquist, meet.

CAMPBELL FAVORED

Saskatchewan, skipped by 28-year-old Earnest Campbell who heads an all-family rink, was the early choice to bring the province its first championship. Other strong contenders expected to be at the windup with him round are completed Friday are B. C., skipped by Reg Dixon; Alberta, by Ron Fayerh rink representing Manitoba.

The fixed draw was decided Sunday. No rink will play on any one of the five days in curling's modern stadium now days in session.

Today's first round at 2 p.m. EDT had Ontario meeting Alberta, Manitoba up against Quebec, Prince Edward Island vs. Newfoundland vs. Saskatchewan, New Brunswick vs. Ontario and British Columbia receiving a bye.

The evening round: P.E.I. vs Saskatchewan, New Brunswick vs. Manitoba, Alberta vs. Ontario, Nova Scotia vs B.C., and Northern Ontario vs Quebec. Newfoundland received the bye, made necessary by the odd number of rinks.

Falls Clinch First Place

Shawinigan Falls Cataracts clinched first place in the Quebec Hockey League on Sunday by defeating Montreal Royals 5-3. The day's other encounter saw Chicoutimi Saguenays defeat Quebec Aces 8-4.

Saturday, the fourth - place Saguenays routed the cellar-dwelling Valleyfield Braves 6-0.

The Royals' loss to Montreal left them deadlocked in second place with Aces.

MAIN DOUBLE LOSER

BUFFALO (CP) — Davis Cup star Vic Seixas, 32, of Philadelphia Orange, N.J., defeated U.S. indoor champion Tony Trabert-and Lone Star champion Hamilton Richardson of Houston in the doubles finals at the Buffalo Tennis and Squash Club midwinter invitation tennis tournament.

Trabert, who won the United States indoor crown at New York two weeks ago, whipped Seixas, U.S. outdoor titlist, 6-4, 6-4 in the singles.

Miss Canadian Davis Cupper lost 7-5, 2-6, 7-5 to Ivy Dorfman of New York in the singles quarter-finals Saturday.

Windsor Ousts Stratford In Seventh Game

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Windsor Bulldogs went the long way into the Ontario Hockey Association Senior A finals.

It took them seven games plus 18 minutes and 52 seconds of extra time to dispose of Stratford Indians in their best-of-seven semi-final. They had to go into overtime for the second time in two games in defeating Indians 4-3 Sunday at Windsor.

Windsor meets Kitchener-Waterloo Dutchmen Tuesday in the first game of the best-of-seven finals. The Dutchmen eliminated Owen Sound Mercurys from the playoffs earlier, taking that best-of-seven set 4-1.

Bulldogs scored unanswered goals in the first and second periods and appeared to have the game sewn open. But Indians snapped back for two goals in the third period by Herve DeJordy.

DeJordy, a leftwinger from St. Hyacinthe, Que., scored the tying marker on a solo effort at 18:07.

Frank Battaglia beat Stratford netminder Norm Dale at 4:18 of the overtime period and George Gee scored at 18:52 of the 17 minutes to end the tension-packed game before 5,400 hometown fans. Andy McCallum and Hank Wilson were the other Bulldog scorers.

'The Prides of Penticton'

The three Warwick brothers—Grant, Dick and Bill—were like kids with new toys after the Penticton Vs sparkling victory over Russia to bring back to Canada the world hockey crown. Bill, wildly excited after the game shouted into a microphone: "We did it. It should have been 10-0."

Wolves Defeat Leicester City

LONDON (AP)—Speedy Wolverhampton Wanderers slammed in four second-half goals to rout lowly Leicester City 5-0 Saturday and increase their English Soccer league lead to five points.

Sunderland, Wolves' nearest rival, slumped at home and was held to a 1-1 tie by Cardiff City. Wolverhampton now leads the first division with 40 points from 31 matches. Sunderland has 38 points from 32 matches.

Portsmouth kept on the heels of the leaders with a 3-1 victory over Newcastle United.

A crowd of 45,000 saw London neighbors Charlton and Arsenal tie 2-2.

Highlight win of the day was Preston's 4-0 victory over Hudders field. Blackpool, third from the foot of the first division, defeated West Bromwich Albion 3-1.

Second division leaders Blackburn Rovers went under 2-0 at home to Notts Forest—but still stay on top. Fulham Town also lost—3-1 at Plymouth. Third-placed Leeds United lost 3-1 to West Ham. United but Nine City hit top form and defeated Liverpool 4-2.

Canadians Run One-Two in Mile

EAST LANSING, Mich. (CP)—Canada had a one-two in the mile as the University of Michigan swept its first places, produced two double-winners and accounted for one record for an overwhelming team triumph in the big indoor track meet Saturday.

John Meule of Hamilton finished first in the mile in the relatively slow time of 4:11.2. Rich Ferguson of Toronto, another for Iowa, finished second, although he is known to be capable of much faster time, having run the distance in 4:04 at the British Empire Games in Vancouver last August.

Michigan, returning to big 6o track supremacy after 13 years, amassed 67½ points.

Michigan State took second place with 46½ and Minnesota was third with 38½, and defending champion Illinois was fourth with 34. They were trailed by Wisconsin, 21, Ohio State, 15, Iowa, 11½, Northwestern 8, Michigan 6 and Purdue 5.

PLAN NON-TITLE BOUT

VANCOUVER (CP) — World light - heavyweight champion Archie Moore will probably fight a 10-round non-title bout against Seattle's Eddie Cotton here April 11, promoter Jimmy Griffiths Mexician said Saturday.

Moore's services were offered in a letter from Joe Herman of San Francisco.

Unsuccessful last year in getting a line on Rocky Marciano's heavyweight crown, Griffiths is on his coast for five or six fights and is expected to stay until May, when Britain's Don Cockell fights Marciano in San Francisco's Cow Palace.

Air Waves Were Excited

TORONTO (CP) — A trans-Atlantic radio line mixup Sunday gave Toronto radio listeners a little bye-play before the play-by-play account from Germany of the Penticton Vs' 5-0 victory over Russia in the world hockey championships.

The private stations carried the rink-side service from Krefeld, Germany, broadcaster Foster Hewitt's account going over his own station, CKFH, and Joe Crysdale broadcasting over CKEY. It appeared he is sports director.

The line mixup, believed to have occurred in Germany, sent Hewitt's service to CKEY and Crysdale's to CKFH. CKEY assured the error before it was aired. But after Hewitt had announced Hewitt, listeners heard this:

"This is Joe Crysdale. . . ."

Explosive cuss words followed there and returned to music from the Toronto studio until the lines were straightened out.

Sports Roundup

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP)—The decision of Maureen Connolly to exchange her racket for a frying pan comes as a real blow to women's tennis which had shown some signs of becoming a popular spectator sport again under the stimulus of the little star's pulverizing forehand and her driving zest to hit a shot with any thought in mind except to win a point outright.

There is no girl player in sight to replace the little Chicago alumnae either in potential ability or as a box office draw. Until such time as the very few prospects under the she can spare enough time from the kitchen to develop and assume her court career, as she eventually will, they would do as well to take a permanent powder off the big-board at Forest Hills. Women's tennis has been boring in all sports than a tennis match between two fairly good gal players. All told, we have spent upwards a year and three months watching the toe-to-toe distortion of the ball back and forth with blows that wouldn't have harmed a bull but rarely, if's a fierce way to make a living.

FIRST SINCE MARBLE

Prior to the time that Little Mo made her electrifying appearance four seasons ago and awakened the spectators, there had been an unusually trying period of approximately a decade, going back to Alice Marble's last appearance in the championships in 1940.

The biggest thing that happened between the close of the war and Maureen's explosive debut was Gussie Moran and her undies-in-pants. We do not mean to knock either Gussie or her lace frilles. They were equally delightful. But there is at least an argument when it comes to substantial tennis at its rugged best.

The dreary hiatus ended on the fall day in 1952 when the spectators in the stadium at Forest Hills saw Little Mo swat a tennis ball for the first time, though the public had never heard of her. Nobody knew little about the game's finer tactics—and cared less—there was little doubt that she would be the win that championship and as Maureen has since cared to collect.

She proved again that women's tennis could be exciting, and we regret that she is breaking off now before she has had a chance to consolidate her position as one of the very best the world has seen. She has not yet won anything like the titles Alice Marble and Mrs. Helen Wills Moody did.

Walls Meets Parker Tonight

TORONTO (CP)—Earl Walls of Toronto, 26 - year - old Canadian heavyweight boxing champion, defends his title against James J. Parker, the slugger who once fought out of Barrie, in a 12-rounder here tonight.

For Walls, 197-pound mauler who has a dynamite in both fists, it will be the first official ring action since he took a 10-round unanimous decision over New York's Jimmy Slade here last June 21. In that bout Slade was a substitute for Parker after the 25-year-old giant, now fighting out of Paterson, N.J., became ill.

The Walls-Parker bout, originally scheduled for last November, was postponed once before when the champ was sidelined with a back injury.

The six-foot-two Walls is first-ranked among the contenders for Rocky Marciano's world heavyweight crown.

Over all, Walls has won 32 of his 40 professional fights—29 of them by knockouts. Sixteen of the knockouts were scored in the first round.

Parker, whose handlers are confident of a victory, will have an advantage in weight and height. Standing at six-foot-four, he is expected to weigh in at about 212.

The experts predict the fight won't go the limit. Both battlers are famed for knockout punches. On the other hand, both have proven they can take a lot of punishment.

Stars Last Night

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Maurice Richard, who scored his insurance tally and assisted on the winning goal as Montreal Canadiens defeated Chicago Black Hawks 4-2 Sunday night.

Centre Glen Skov, whose third-period goal gave Detroit Red Wings a 2-1 victory over New York Rangers Sunday night.

Goalie Sugar Jim Henry, who turned in an outstanding performance in Boston Bruins' 2-1 win of Toronto Maple Leafs Sunday night.

Allan Stanley, who scored third-period goal that gave Chicago a 4-4 tie with Montreal Saturday night.

Vic Stasiuk, whose first-period tally proved to be the winner as the Red Wings downed the Rangers 4-2 Saturday night.

Defencemen Leo Boivin, whose goal in the second period gave Toronto a 2-2 tie with the Maple Leafs Saturday night.

Smythe, Waring Win Badminton Singles Crowns

MONTREAL (CP) — Veteran Don Smythe of Toronto and young Jean Waring of Calgary set three records Saturday in sweeping the men's and women's singles titles of the Canadian badminton championships.

Smythe, an ex-football player, defeated another Torontonian, Bev Hesketh, 15-11, 15-8 to win the crown for a record fourth straight year.

Miss Waring, 17, set a double record when she trounced defending champion Marj Shedd 1-4, 11-3 in the women's finals and Audrey Rhodes of Stratford 11-10, 11-7 for the junior title. She became the first person to show both crowns and the first junior to win the senior event.

In the men's doubles, Daryl Thompson and Bert Fergus of Vancouver hammered hard Canadians Al Wentzell and Rod Poulter of Toronto to win 15-11, 4-15, 15-12.

Miss Shedd teamed with Joan Hennessy of Toronto to defend their doubles title against Joan Warren and Barbara James, also of Toronto, 15-11, 15-10.

In the mixed doubles, Thompson and Jean Bardsley of Vancouver retained their crown by defeated Miss Shedd and Bill Purcell of Toronto 15-10, 15-4.

Czech Wins Scoring Honors

KREFELD, Germany (CP)—Vlastimil Bubnik of Czechoslovakia, whose individual scoring honors in the world hockey tournament which ended Sunday, Bill Warwick of Canada's Vs said today.

Bubnik scored 16 goals in eight games, more than half of them in weekend games when the Czechs swamped Poland 17-3 and Finland 14-1.

Warwick got a pair of goals in Canada's 5-0 win over Russia Sunday to tie Vladimir Zabrodsky of Czechoslovakia was third with 12 goals while Ivo Hlinka, Bartos of Czechoslovakia and Hans Ockeny of Germany tied for fourth with 10 goals each.

Will Probe Robinson Case

BOSTON (AP) — The Massachusetts boxing commission meets today to discuss Sugar Ray Robinson's last - minute withdrawal from Saturday night's scheduled 10-rounder with Georgie Small of Brooklyn.

Meanwhile, in Cincinnati, promoter Art Wirth insisted that Robinson's withdrawal from the middleweight champion who is attempting a comeback—Bill Tony Lombardo in Cincinnati March 16 as scheduled.

Commissioner Eddie Eagan of the Boston match after complaining that he had received word virus symptoms which he said made him too weak to appear.

Promoter Sam Silverman wants the commission to suspend Robinson. But Robinson's manager, George Gainford, said they are anxious to go through with the match if Robinson is able.

Dr. Edwin Hommel of the Massachusetts boxing commission said he examined Robinson at the fighter's hotel and "found no evidence of sickness or infection which would warrant me to postpone the fight."

BLUES WIN

TORONTO (CP)—University of Toronto Blues defeated McGill University Redmen 81-80 Saturday night in a senior intercollegiate basketball game played here.

The win gave the Blues a season's record of six wins and four losses in league play. Redmen have won two and lost eight.

Leon Duplessis of McGill was high scorer during the game with 22 points.

Canadian Horse Wins San Juan

ARCADIA, Calif. (AP)—St. Vincent, an English-bred, Canadian-owned chestnut colt, swept to victory in the $115,000 San Juan Capistrano Handicap Saturday in a rousing stretch duel with Determine and Gigantic.

Racing before 52,000 fans, largest crowd at Santa Anita Park in two years, St. Vincent, the betting favorite, flashed under the wire a half-length ahead over Determine. Gigantic was just behind Determine in third place.

St. Vincent, picking up his second major stakes victory of the season here, is owned by George Gardner of Toronto and Alberta Ranches and was ridden by Johnny Longden. He whipped most of the same horses in the Washington Birthday Handicap.

His time for the 1⅛ miles Saturday was 2:46 4-5, a track record for the distance. He carried 123 pounds, third heaviest, and paid $7.20, $4.30 and $3.30.

RMC Cadets Beat West Point

WEST POINT, N.Y. (CP)—Royal Military College of Kingston came from behind to tie and then scored the goal in overtime to defeat the West Point Cadets 3-2 Saturday in the 36th game in the traditional international hockey series.

Lian Pitura, Canadian forward, made a dash from near mid-ice and drove a hard shot at West Point goalie Anita Anita Park to make the save but dropped the puck. Terry Sloan grabbed the rebound and slammed it in for the winning score at 7:50 of the 10-minute overtime session.

The Canadians were trailing 2-0 going into the third period. Right Garrard's goal at 4:30 with Norm Kelly assisting made it 2-1.

RESCUES 3 CHILDREN

GUELPH (CP)—A young mother Thursday rescued her three children when a blaze threatened their small home. Mrs. L. Ruth Haffle, who had been ill, was able to rush Terry, 5 years, 3 months, and Dorothy five months, outside after the kitchen caught fire. Cause of the blaze was not known.

Rockerthon Ends In Dead Heat On Saturday

ROBERVAL, Que. (CP) — The Roberval rockerthon, by all odds the maddest of feds ever to sway this Saguenay river district, ended Saturday afternoon in a dead heat —or dead rock — while excited townsfolk whooped things up in great style.

Lionel Marchand and Jacques Fortin, last of 12 optimistic contestators who started the endurance test at 2 p.m. Wednesday, quit their rocking chairs together.

They were glassy-eyed and trembled a bit but still able to laugh and joke after 73 hours, 31 minutes and 30 seconds of rocking to nowhere.

They decided to determine the official winner by the toss of a coin, Marchand won.

ALSO DONATIONS

They received $100 each from their sponsors and about $150 each from spectators, who tossed donations into a collection box. Each rocker was sponsored by a Roberval merchant. The winners also received gifts of clothing and various articles from stores.

A week or so ago Daniel Lezzard won the Jonquiere, Que., contest, rocking for 67 hours, 43 minutes and three quarters. Lezzard rocked in Fortin beat that by more than five and a half hours.

At midnight Friday there were only four of the 12 starters left.

At 3 a.m. Saturday, Aprelien Perron, who had spent his time knitting a scarf as he rocked, burst into tears and quit, after 69 hours, nine pounds.

At 6:30 a.m. Marcellin Voisine tossed a coin to decide if he should quit or not. The coin rolled away and Voisine decided he hadn't. He ruled him out. Voisine had lost 11 pounds.

Marchand, who is 23, and Fortin, 19, rocked on and on. Marchand sang steadily, Fortin hardly. Fortin joined in at times but seldom let his eyes stray from the collection box.

Remember When

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Howard Palmer's Calgary Curling Club rink won the Canadian championship with an 11-8 victory over Manitoba 14 years ago today. Palmer's rink scored eight straight ends after defeat that year. Since the title is played for annually in 1927, Alberta has taken top honors five times, including 1954.

Little Theatre Of Winnipeg Wins Trophy

WINNIPEG (CP)—The Winnipeg Little Theatre presentation of "I Remember Mama" was awarded the trophy for the best play in the Manitoba regional trials of the Dominion drama festival which concluded here Saturday night.

Delsea Wheeler, who played the title role in that play was chosen best actress by adjudicator Andre Van Gyseghem. Best performer was Robert Trudel who played Sgaarelle in the presentation of Moliere's comedy, "Le Medicin Malgre Lui" by le Cercle Moliere of St. Boniface.

Cadets Out-Talk And Out-Play West Pointers

WEST POINT, N. Y. (CP)—Thirty-three cadets from Canada's Royal Military College Sunday completed a weekend at the United States Military Academy during which they out-talked their hosts and outplayed them at hockey but finished second-best in a pistol-shooting contest.

The Canadians beat Army 3-2 in overtime in the hockey game, successfully upheld their reputation in a debate on the question: "Resolved that Canada will become the 49th state of the union," and were beaten 1,345-1,210 in the shooting matching rifles behind an RCMP team which scored 1,325.

There was one break in tradition in the hockey competition, which dates back to 1923. It was announced that the officials would call penalties rather than rely on the honor system. Canada was prominent in that department too, drawing four minors to the Americans' one.

Apart from the competitions, the annual RMC-West Point event, held here and at Kingston in alternate years, is designed to familiarize the cadets with their opposite numbers across the border.

Cadet Comendeiro D. A. L. Bradshaw, RMC commandant, was the guest of West Point superintendent Lt.-Gen. Richard W. Stephens during the visit. The Canadian cadets were under the command of Cadet Wing Cmdr. G. M. Kirby.

Marlon Brando Plans to Wed And Attend Academy Awards

By BO, STHOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Marlon Brando plans to marry Josiane Mariani this summer.

He will attend the Academy awards—and in a tuxedo.

He didn't decide he wanted to be an actor until a year ago.

These are some of the facts uncovered in an interview with the muscular star, who is considered the kingpin in the acting field today. Nominated for an Oscar for the fourth year in a row, he appears to have his best chance of winning this year. He's up for "On the Waterfront."

Brando, who will be 31 April 3, now is preparing for his first musical, "Guys and Dolls." I met him in his dressing room at Samuel Goldwyn studios.

When I started throwing questions at Brando, he answered them quite articulately and with colorful language.

SUMMER WEDDING

When asked his engagement to Miss Mariani, the daughter of a French fisherman?

"We plan to get married this summer," he replied. "I don't know exactly where the marriage will take place."

And the reports he was courting other girls?

"So much baloney."

Far from scoffing at the Academy awards, he plans to attend the March 30 event at the Hollywood Pantages theater. He'll appear in a soup and fish. Yes, he owns one.

Does he hope to win?

"Well, I'll tell you," he replied. "I think it's fun. It's interesting to be nominated as it is to win. You are nominated by 13,000 people, fellow actors. The final awards are voted by maybe 1,500 members of the Academy.

"Sure, it's an honor, and it's very pleasant to know that your work is appreciated. But I haven't thought much about winning or losing."

MAKES CONCESSIONS

What with owning tuxedos and bomburgs? It looked as though the Omaha-born actor's dress habits have changed.

"I'm not so much at odds with general conventions," he admitted. "If you're going to live in society, you have to make concessions. Even the wearing of clothes is a concession. You can't fight these things or people will beat you to death.

"And you can understand it. When you challenge their standards it's just the very heart of their existence. There's no way to do but pay the price for living in society."

I asked if he could remember when he first wanted to be an actor.

"About a year ago," he replied. "That may sound ridiculous, but it's true. I fell into the acting business more or less by chance. I never really felt that I was good. I wanted to do.

"But about a year ago, I thought to myself that I had to do something in life. I knew the parlance of acting and I seemed to enjoy it. So I might as well be an actor,"

Eskys Don't Like Draft Scheme

TORONTO (CP) — Edmonton Eskimos of the Western Interprovincial Football Union don't think much of the Big Four's college draft scheme.

They've just about wrecked the east's college plum-picking plans by signing the first draft choice. And they're about to sign the second draft choice, plus a few other choices.

Gino Fracas, star backfielder with University of Western Ontario Mustangs and the first draft choice of Ottawa Roughriders this year, signed with Edmonton last week.

Steve Oneschuk, University of Toronto's all-star halfback, and first choice of Hamilton Tiger-Cats in 1953, said Saturday he, too, would sign with the Eskies.

Oneschuk said he got tired of waiting around to hear from Hamilton.

"I think I'd really sooner stay in the east, but I haven't heard much from Hamilton. The Edmonton people have lined up a teaching job for me there and I'm pretty sure that's where I'll wind up," he said.

Two other eastern college graduates are listening to overtures from Edmonton. They are Western's Don Getty, Hamilton's first 1954 draft choice, and Bob Kimoff of Varsity, a Toronto Argonaut draftee.

James Dunn Thinks Oscar Is a Jinx

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Is Oscar a jinx? James Dunn thinks maybe it is.

"My wife bid the Oscar I won," he says. "I don't care if I never see it again."

Jimmy now is enjoying his third movie career; this time it's movies for TV. He stars with Michael O'Shea and William Bishop in "It's a Great Life," one of the funniest of the new shows. I watched the trio do a hilarious scene in a doctor's office and then went to lunch with Jimmy.

The last time he talked at length was just nine years ago. Jimmy had been a top name in the '30s as co-star with Sally Eilers and Shirley Temple. He faded out of films, turning triumphantly into an Academy Award performance as Francis Mc Grudder's alcoholic husband in "A Tree Grows in Brooklyn." I saw him shortly before he won the Oscar.

He said he had left 20th Century-Fox. "After 'Brooklyn' they put me in a turkey called 'Carlotta Mystery,'" he remarked. "I didn't work because I thought they would give me a break. Then they gave me another script. Out of 120 pages, I was in sequence for most of the time I didn't say anything. I told them if they wanted a pantomime artist they should hire somebody like Jimmy Savo. So we parted with no hard feelings."

Jimmy's second movie career died an early and mysterious death. Despite the Oscar, the film offers just didn't come. Jimmy could understand it, and doesn't still.

He went on to more bad luck, dropping $45,000 in a stage flop. He made only one picture — a quickie called "The Golden Glove Story" in 1949.

Jimmy and his wife Edna continued living at their home on the beach at Malibu. The Oscar rested on the mantle.

"One day when things looked the blackest, I looked at the mantle and the Oscar was gone," Jimmy said. "I asked Edna about it. She said she had hid it and wasn't going to tell me where it was."

Jimmy is irish, so you can understand his delight in telling that the very next day he started dickering for "It's a Great Life." Now his agent reports a hot deal for a movie.

AT THE McCARTHY

Donat Squab in Fine Humor

Donation

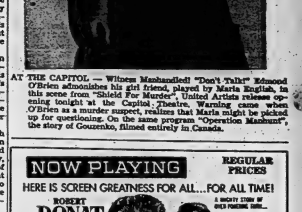
Robert Donat's welcome return to the screen after an absence of over two years is a personal triumph in a made-to-measure role. As the none-too-successful vicar of a dull Welsh village, suddenly swept to sensational fame because of an unorthodox sermon delivered to a body of school boys, Mr. Donat gives a performance equal to his masterly characterization in "Goodbye Mr. Chips." Vicar William Thorne and schoolmaster Mr. Chips are very different persons, yet both have offered to this actor the same far-reaching scope for character development. And once again Robert Donat has scored superlatively.

Here is a portrayal of benevolence, aged dignity and courage, and as such William Thorne, vicar of Hinton St. John, in "Lease of Life," now at the McCarthy Theatre, is memorable — memorable not only because it heralds the return of a talented artiste, but brings to the screen one of those never-to-be-forgotten portraits.

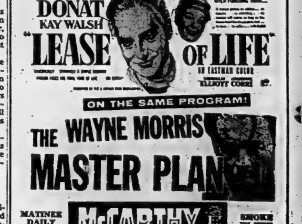
The vicar's shattering sermon presents Mr. Donat at his rich eloquent best, his acceptance of his fatal illness indicates this actor's ability to portray courage without the usual heroics, and his tender family scenes shine with the glow of an understanding father and husband.

As the vicar's wife, Kay Walsh continues an outstanding screen career with a performance filled with sensitivity and sympathy, coupled with a strong feeling of frustration—a frustration that follows throughout the film to flee from each individual as he in turn is blackmailed by the vicar's sermon.

Beautiful Adrienne Corri as Donat's daughter, and Denholm Elliott as her piano teacher, bring the dramatic touch to "Lease of Life" and bring it most adeptly.

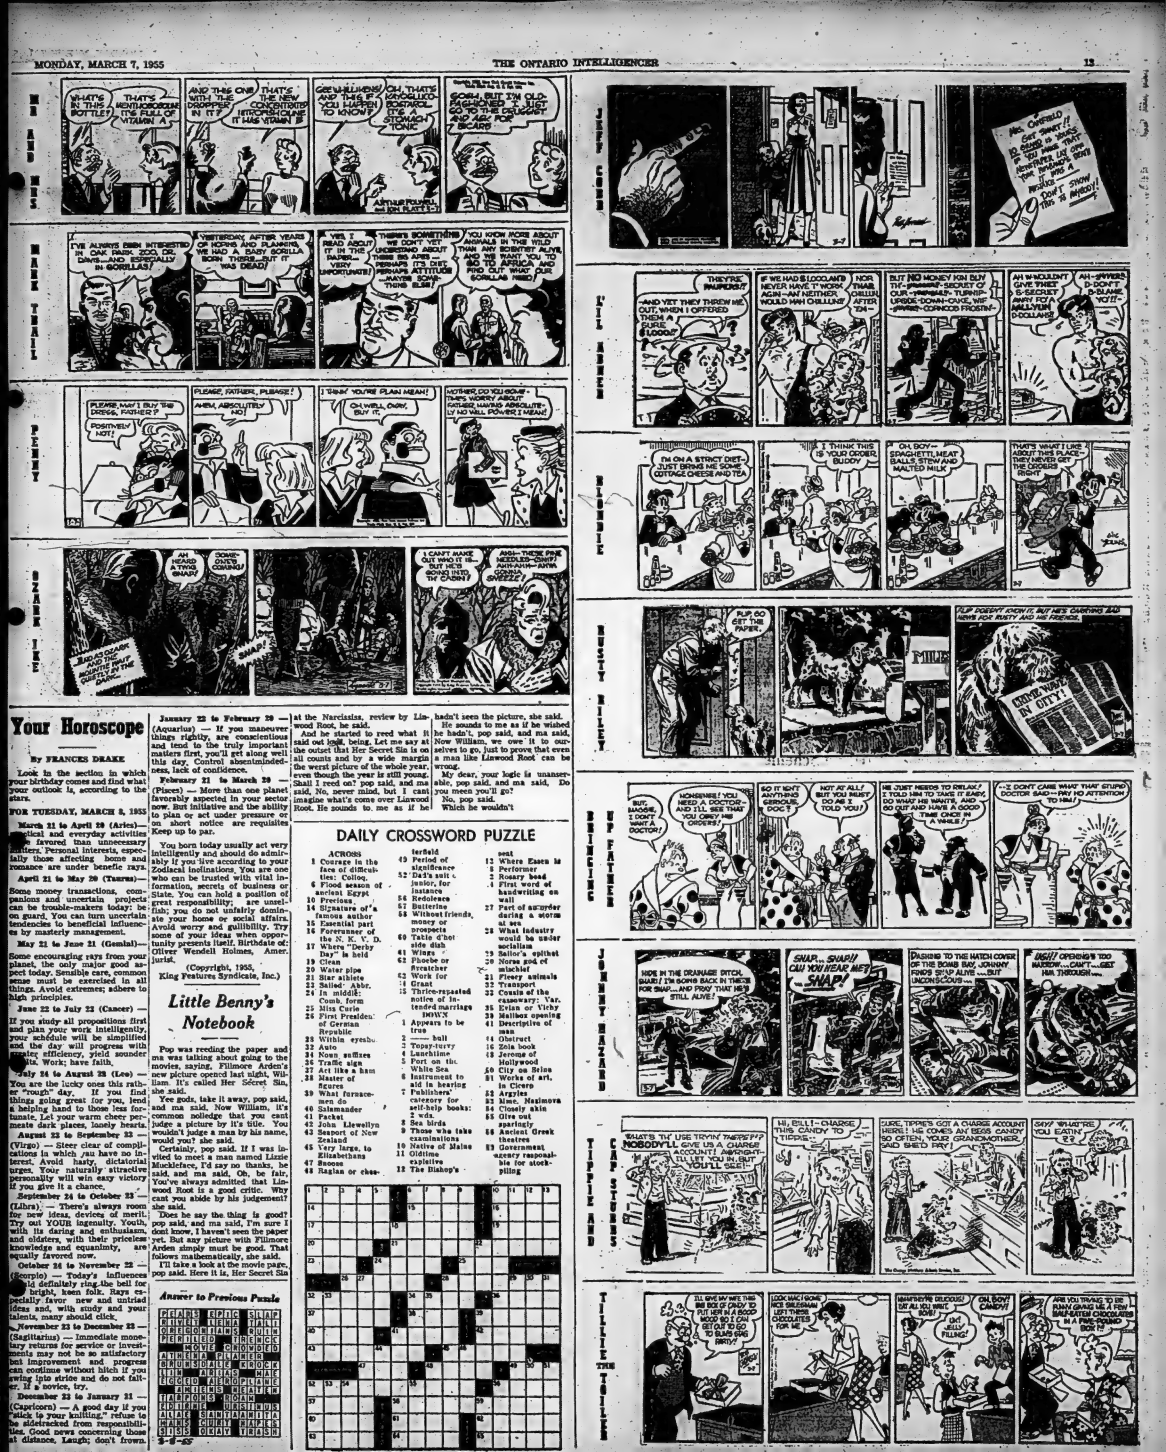


In a far from jovial atmosphere comedy breaks through in wonderful characterizations by Cecil Anderson and Edie Martin as two nonconformist landlady sisters and habitual "kill-joys", and Reginald Beckwith as the small town news reporter who captures the scoop of his life.



Alan Hope makes Mrs. Sproule's the epitome of an avaricious woman, and proves once more what an excellent character actress she is.

17 TRUCK RIDERS KILLED



JALAPA, Mexico (AP)—A collision between two trucks loaded with workers killed 17 persons Sunday and injured 28. The trucks were taking the workers and their families to a picnic.

Your Horoscope

By FRANCES DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

FOR TUESDAY, MARCH 8, 1955

March 21 to April 20 (Aries) — Practical and everyday activities are favored than unnecessary clutter. Personal interests, especially those affecting home and romance are under benefic rays.

April 21 to May 20 (Taurus) — Some money transactions, companions and uncertain projects can be trouble-makers today; be on guard. You can turn uncertain tendencies to beneficial influence by masterly management.

May 21 to June 21 (Gemini) — Some encouraging rays from your planet, the only major good aspect today. Sensible care, common sense must be exercised in all things. Avoid extremes; adhere to high principles.

June 22 to July 22 (Cancer) — If you study all propositions first and plan your work intelligently, your schedule will be simplified and the day will progress with greater efficiency, yield sounder results. Work; have faith.

July 24 to August 23 (Leo) — You are the lucky ones this rather "rough" day. If you find things going great for you, lend a helping hand to those less fortunate. Let your warm sincerity emenate dark places, lonely hearts.

August 24 to September 23 — (Virgo) — Steer clear of complications in which you have no interest. Avoid petty, distorted argument. Your naturally attractive personality will win easy victory if you give it a chance.

September 24 to October 23 — (Libra). — There's always room for new ideas, devices of merit. Try out YOUR ingenuity. Youth, with its daring and enthusiasm, and oldsters, with their priceless knowledge and equanimity, are equally favored now.

October 24 to November 22 — (Scorpio) — Today's influences would definately ring the bell for bright, keen folk. Rays especially favor new and untried ideas and, with study and your talents, many should click.

November 23 to December 22 — (Sagittarius) — Immediate monetary returns for service or investments may not be so satisfactory but improvement and progress can continue without hitch if you swing into stride and do not falter. It's novice, try.

December 23 to January 21 (Capricorn) — A good day if you stick to your knitting," refuse to be sidetracked from responsibilities. Good news concerning those at distance. Laugh; don't frown.

January 22 to February 20 — (Aquarius) — If you maneuver things rightly, are conscientious and tend to the truly important matters first, you'll get along well this day. Control absentmindedness, lack of confidence.

February 21 to March 20 — (Pisces) — More than one planet favorably aspected in your sector now. But initiative and the ability to plan or act under pressure or on short notice are requisites. Keep up to par.

You born today usually act very intelligently and should do admirably if you live according to your Zodiacal inclinations. You are one who can be trusted with vital information, secrets of business or state. You can hold a position of great responsibility; are unselfish; you do not unfairly dominate your home or social affairs. Avoid worry and gullibility. Try some of your ideas when opportunity presents itself. Birthdate of: Oliver Wendell Holmes, Amer. jurist.

Little Benny's Notebook

Pop was reeding the paper and ma was talking about going to the movies, saying, Fillmore Arden's new picture opened last night, William. It's called Her Secret Sin, she said.

Yee gods, take it away, pop said, and ma said, Now William, it's common nolledge that you can't judge a picture by it's title. You wouldn't judge a man by his name, would you? she said.

Certainly, pop said. If I was invited to meet a man named Lizzie Muckleface, I'd say no thanks, he said, and ma said, Oh, be fair, You've always admitted that Linwood Root is a good critic. Why cant you abide by his judgements she said.

Does he say the thing is good? pop said, and ma said, I'm sure I dont know, I have'nt seen the paper yet. But any picture with Fillmore Arden simply must be good. That follows mathematically, she said.

I'll take a look at the movie page, pop said. Here it is, Her Secret Sin at the Narcissus, review by Linwood Root, he said.

And he started to reed what it said out loud, being, Let me say at the outset that Her Secret Sin is on all counts and by a wide margin the worst picture of the whole year, even though the year is still young.

Shall I reed on? pop said, and ma said, No, never mind, but I cant imagine what's come over Linwood Root. He sounds to me as if he hadn't seen the picture, she said.

He sounds to me as if he wished he hadn't, pop said, and ma said, Now William, we owe it to ourselves to go, just to prove that even a man like Linwood Root can be wrong.

My dear, your logic is unanserable, pop said, and ma said, Do you meen you'll go?

No, pop said.

Which he wouldn't

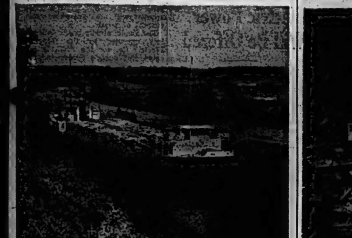
"PLI HITS LOWER AUSTRIA"



VIENNA (Reuters) — Influenza hospitals have been opened in lower Austria to deal with a rising influenza epidemic, health officers here revealed today. Nearly 5,000 new cases have been reported in the area around Vienna in the last week.

THE LITTLE WOMAN

"Thank goodness they have a nice little girl instead of a mean, naughty boy."

EARLY SEAWAY

Seaway engineers from Canada and the United States are taming the St. Lawrence river's mighty roll as they build a giant power and waterway project. But as early as 1834 Canadians had chirped of Long Sault rapids whose boiling water is seen in the background at this village by Mailah of Ottawa. The Cornwall canal, through which this pulpwood-laden freighter glides, was started in 1834. It is 11½ miles long and has a depth of 45 feet. (CP Photo).

HEART OF SEAWAY

When the St. Lawrence seaway-power project is completed, a 40-mile stretch of the river between Cornwall and Iroquois, Ont., will form a giant international hydro pool and an inland water-way which will carry ocean shipping into the heart of North America. This is a New York State Power Authority artist's conception of the great power pool upon completion. Looking upstream from a point three miles west of Cornwall, it shows the Canadian shore on the right and the United States shore on the left. Stretching from Barnhart Island, which lies on the U.S. side, to the Canadian side are power installations whose output of 2,200,000 horsepower will be split evenly between Canada and the U.S. Main shipping channel locks are on the U.S. side. At top of the picture is Iroquois where work on Canada's $14,000,000 shipping channel is being rushed. (CP Photo).

$900,000,000 St. Lawrence Seaway-Power Project Is In Full Swing Physically

The St. Lawrence seaway is one of the most discussed public projects in Canada's history. For a look at recent developments, The Canadian Press assigned John LeMaur of Ottawa bureau to tour the area of the seaway-hydro p o j e c t. Progress and problems still to be faced are viewed in this story.

By JOHN LEMAUR
Canadian Press Staff Writer

After a half-century of dreaming, indecision and frustration, the $900,000,000 St. Lawrence seaway-power project is in full swing physically. But the political, economic and social questions it involves aren't all erased.

Taming the mighty roll of the St. Lawrence river is well under way. In spots, you can walk across the bed of a dischouched river between Canada and the United States. The engineering problem seem pretty well licked.

Yet the seaway, for some years to come, appears destined to remain subject to anxieties of one kind or another before it finally emerges into permanence as the marine highroad to the heart of North America and the feast of one of America's greatest gushes of electrical power.

EXPERT PROBLEMS

Authorities of the two countries along the international border that runs through the vital stretch of river, of Ontario and Quebec, of New York state and of many communities affected by the far-reaching development will have many problems until it settles into completion about four years from now.

The influence of the seaway extends, as well, into the Prairies and down into the Maritimes. It can affect international seaborne commerce.

Politically, Canada has spent many years nursing and nudging the United States' interest to the point of going along with the navigation project. She is still keeping a wary eye on the international political aspects.

For one thing, after Canada eased the U.S. into accepting an all-Canadian seaway in the river's international section, the U.S. in 1954 decided that after all it wanted the main section of the river. Canada had to go along, for the time being, for she promptly launched a duplicate of one of the proposed U.S. canals, at the upper end of the 40-mile power pool in the section.

PLANS DITCHED

Now the U.S. government has agreed to ditch its plans for this upper canal near Iroquois, Ont. Work on Canada's canal is rushed.

Congress approves flooding the Iroquois plan, Canada will at least share control of shipping in the international section; she now exercises control with her own canals outside that section. What is looked for by Canadian authorities is that they eventually will duplicate the $100,000,000 U.S. canal at the downriver end of the power pool and that above the same time the U.S. will build its own upstream canal opposite Iroquois.

This would give the effect of all-Canadian and all-American seaways.

The U.S. and Canada have decided, to go ahead with locks of the size of Canada's Welland canal: 800 feet long, 80 feet wide and 30 feet deep.

BIG DREDGING COST

Still hanging fire between Canada and the U.S. is the question of who pays $100,000,000 to dredge a 27-foot channel from the entrance of Lake Erie to the Lakehead to complete the upper reaches of the 2,000-mile deep waterway stretching to the Atlantic.

The connecting waters between Lake Erie and Lake Huron and Lake Huron and Lake Superior also need deepening of their channels which now allow for 21 feet for downbound traffic and 21 feet for upbound traffic.

Canada hopes the United States will do this work, and the United States Army Engineers Board of Rivers and harbors has recommended that it be done at an estimated cost of $109,000,000. This recommendation goes first to the governors of the affected areas and later to Congress, along with the governors' comments.

The Canadian government, which already has spent $300,000,000 over many years on the Welland and other facilities, plans to lay out another $191,000,000 on facilities in Canadian territory.

EVEN SPLIT

Aside from navigation, the Ontario Hydro-Electric Power Commission and the New York State Power Authority are splitting evenly the $600,000,000 cost and the 2,200,000 horsepower of electricity from the huge power development just upriver from Cornwall, Ont., and Massena, N.Y.

Engineering problems are well in hand. Huge coffer dams are thrusting out from each shore to dry up sections of the river bed for actual construction. A dam and a power house aimed at a start of horsepower production in 1958.

But there are certain difficulties over the future of some 6,000 residents of the Canadian side of "Seaway Valley"—the 40-mile area to be flooded by the power pool—whose homes in eight communities will be drowned out.

This is the Ontario government's big seaway problem of the moment. It may go on until completion of the $65-$70,000,000 job of relocating people, communities, highways, railroads and communications to high ground overlooking Seaway valley.

Spokesmen for valley residents have complained that many will be forced to move from the wrench of getting lifted from their homes. Others say more money be added for compensation. Ontario Hydro spokesmen said no one will lose.

ANXIETY IN MARITIMES

The federal government's relations with other provinces also come into play through the seaway. The Maritimes are showing some anxiety over the new deep-ocean shipping to the Great Lakes basin that will divert west import-ants. The Prairies are looking for a reduction in the cost of moving grain to export. Quebec hopes the deep channel will speed and broaden shipping of timber and iron ore resources to inland points.

With Quebec, the federal government has been treading cautiously in some respects. The central authorities have been reluctant to have navigation facilities near Montreal integrated with a provincial power development to yield 1,200,000 horsepower in the Lachine rapids section of the river.

Despite pressure from Ottawa the province has refused to let it start. It doesn't need the power now. Others say it could save substantially by doing the unified job. Cost is estimated at around $200,000,000.

POINTS IN QUESTION

Some miscellaneous offshoots of the seaway will start hanging fire. One is a royal commission investigation on coastal shipping, to determine what effects the influx of ocean vessels will have on Canada's vessels and on the shipbuilding industry.

The impact of the seaway on Canada's hard-pressed railways is still an economic question mark. It is likely to slow down freight tolls in the central area.

Still settled, too, is the question of shipping tolls for the navigation part of the waterway. How they will be divided between Canada and the U.S. is one point. Another is how big they should be, which depends on how many years the authorities want to take to amortize the construction cost.

The U.S., it is understood, is thinking of a 25-year amortization period. Canada would like a longer period, perhaps 30 years.

Canada's canals now are toll-free. As part of the seaway, they will be tolled. The tolls expected seeing the Welland canal bypassing Niagara Falls. Whether tolls will be applied to wipe out this investment is still undetermined by the St. Lawrence Seaway Authority. Chances are Canada will wrap up the seaway-power amount in the sums to be amortized for the downriver works and leave Welland with its traditional freedom from tolls.

Kingston Juniors Oust Belleville In Second Game

KINGSTON, Ont. — (Special)—Kingston's junior Canadiens making their first appearance before Kingston hockey fans defeated Belleville juniors 3-1 in a penalty marked thriller staged at the Community Centre Saturday night before a small but excited crowd. The loss eliminates Belleville from the Ontario Hockey Association playoffs and gives the Canadiens an opportunity to further their conquest for the OHA crown in the second round against Peterborough.

Much of the credit for Kingston's win must go to their versatile netminder Vic Dodds who turned away 23 shots on goal. The visitors single tally came at the 1.05 mark of the opening period when Hyrie Bryant potted a screen shot through two Kingston defencemen and three Belleville attackers. Dodds didn't have a chance as the puck flew into the far left corner through the maze of pucksters.

For the remainder of the first 20 minutes and the second period play was fast and furious with the ice with neither team being able to take advantage of the many penalties handed out to them. It was still 1-0 at the second intermission.

The Canadiens exploded for three goals in the third period, Bryce Sanderson scored the tying counter at 4.50 with a whistling drive after taking aim on the stick pass from Lyle Burnett.

Burnett scored the winning goal at 12.06 on a screen shot. Ted Reynolds assisted on the tally. Howie Reid put the insurance goal at 15.25 as he skated around the Belleville defencemen, drew goalie Charley Kingston to one side and shoved the puck in unassisted.

The first period was marked with good play by both teams. Excellent defence on the part of both sides play prevented anything of consequence from happening as called by the officials in the opening 20 minutes.

There was no scoring in the second period and only one penalty meted out by referee Ross.

Eight penalties were handed out in the third for total 30 minutes for Belleville, four against Kingston and three to the visitors. Dodds was invincible in this period as he turned back 11 shots. Shots on goal for the Canadiens were 12.

Five Drowning Deaths Among Ten Fatalities

BY THE CANADIAN PRESS

Five drowning deaths were among 10 fatalities in eastern Canada during the weekend.

Another four persons died in traffic accidents and one in a fire, a Canadian Press survey shows.

Dead are two Bay Chaleur towns, and New Brunswick and Nova Scotia one each. Ten fatalities were reported in Prince Edward Island and Newfoundland.

Dead in Nova Area, Mary Anne Lavelley, 6, and a playmate, Judith Anne Aldcroft, 7, were drowned when they fell through ice covering a small pool while trying to launch a doll, floating in the water.

CAR SANK

At Caesarea two local residents, Fred Fryser, 51, and Earl Burr, 21, were drowned when their car plunged through the ice about 500 yards from shore on Lake Scugog 20 miles north of Oshawa.

Robert Reid, 12, of Fort Erie, drowned when he tried to swim ashore from a cake of ice which had floated out into the nearby Niagara river. The two canoeists managed to reach land.

At Bathurst near Oshawa, Donald Calvert, 23, was killed when the car in which he was riding skidded off an icy highway and crashed into a tree.

Rumors Revived Princess Will Wed Townsend

LONDON (AP) — Persistent press rumors that Princess Margaret will wed divorced air ace Peter Townsend got unexpected support today. A big circulation tabloid carried an interview with the RAF group captain indicating there may be something to the stories.

British papers flrr' hinted that Margaret was in love with Townsend, more than 15 yearsher senior, two years ago when he was an equerry in the royal household.

The reports died down after Townsend was sent to Brussels as air attache at the British embassy.

But two big Sunday papers, The People and The Pictorial, asserted this weekend that the romance is still very much alive and the main ingredient is time to iron out.

Today The Mirror carries an interview with the 39-year-old Townsend in Brussels which gave the impression the stories had some truth.

WOULD LOSE RIGHTS

The stories reviving the romance rumors were pegged on the fact that Margaret will be 25 on Aug. 21. Then she will be free to marry without permission of the Queen.

Family Left Homeless by Fire Is Befriended

TORONTO (CP)—A party of 13 Toronto men Saturday battled snow-clogged roads in the Bancroft district, 80 miles northeast of Peterborough, to reach a family left homeless by fire last Thursday.

The family of George Scaif, a partially-disabled war veteran, his wife and five young children were burned out when fire left with only their barn and some livestock.

Sixty men they have been living in a flimsy summer cottage and snow-filled roads have prevented help from reaching them.

Leonard Jobbins of suburban Weston, Scaif's brother-in-law, and 11 friends and relatives started out from Toronto in two cars and a truck to take food and clothing to the family.

"Scarfy in the spring we're going to try to build a new home for them," Mr. Johnson said. "They were just plucky people to find on their feet when the fire knocked them down."

Ulster Guards Border Fearing Action by I.R.A.

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (Reuters) — Northern Ireland police today imposed a complete security blackout on all movements along the northern Irish Republic in the wake of two weekend shootings bringing one death and injuries to two persons.

Police refused to give any information on whether the emergency weekend mobilization, greatest since the Second World War, is over. Many of the part-time constables have returned to their regular jobs for the day.

Regular and special members of the Ulster police, armed with tommy-guns, rifles and revolvers, guarded the 200-mile border with the Irish republic through the weekend following rumors here the underground Irish Republican Army was about to strike. The I. R. A. has been calling for military action to unite British-trolled Northern Ireland with the Independent Irish republic.

A naval helicopter flew over border areas all day Sunday and extra guards were mounted on navy ships and shore establishments at Londonderry on the border.

FIRE ON MOTORISTS

Northern Ireland police on two successive nights on two North Ireland motorists who did not obey orders to halt.

Today, an inquest opened into the fatal shooting of 39-year-old truckdriver Arthur Leonard, killed by a reserve police patrol. Clair Mahon, 18, who was with Leonard, was shot through the right knee.

Sunday night, police in Lisnaskea Stinson took the wrong turn on a border road and was ordered to halt by a reserve policeman.

"A number of warning shots were fired by the patrol," a police announcement said. "One of these hit Stinson in the body and he was seriously wounded."

Jelke's Trial Will Commence

NEW YORK (AP) — Miss Florence F. (Mickey) Jelke's new trial on conspiracy prostitution charges starts today and this time there may be women on the jury.

"Nobody knows a woman like a woman," Jelke's lawyer commented Sunday in saying he would like some housewives on a case a jurors. The prosecution's case in the past rested heavily on testimony of call girls connected with Jelke's alleged $100-a-night vice operations.

ALL TURNED OUT WELL

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A little Woo that forgot to whoa is doing just fine today. Eugene Woo, 25, was rushing his wife, Pui Chen Woo, 21, to the hospital Sunday for the birth of their second child when his car struck a parked auto.

Los Alamos Is Birthplace of Most Hideous Weapons in Human History

By RELMAN MORIN

LOS ALAMOS, N. M. (AP) — From the air it looks so peaceful.

The white bungalows and apartment-house cluster among brigades of shoulder-to-shoulder pines that sweep down between two steep-sided canyons. Across the valley, tinted mountains shoulder the bright western sky.

The town lives aloof, remote from any neighbors. No railroad line fit to the outside world. The highway, 35 miles to Santa Fe, N. Mex., long seems to be stirring anywhere.

This is Los Alamos, birthplace of the most hideous weapons in human history.

From here, in a single anxious decade, came the first atomic bomb, and all the American thermonuclear weapons that followed.

POWER MULTIPLIED

Here the powers of destruction were multiplied—thousands of times, and then re-multiplied. Specifically, they went from 20 tons of TNT in the biggest conventional bomb of the Second World War to the equivalent of 200,000 tons in the early A-bomb. Hydrogen weapons are approaching—who will say?—a power of 20,000,000 tons of TNT. And there is more to come.

Instruments that boggle the imagination, not necessarily bombs, are in the making at Los Alamos. Nobody talks about them.

If you ask a scientist here to evaluate the race for great weapons with Russia, he tends quietly to express an opinion that the West is ahead, "and indeed well ahead," and then change the subject.

Los Alamos holds a surprise at every corner. In appearance it is a slightly bewildering combination of a college campus, a mountain resort, a military post and the chrome-bright suburb of any American city.

It has a handsome shopping center, two movie theatres, a lodge, a beauty shop, a launderette and even a curio store. Beyond, on the curving hillside streets, are the residential areas. Further beyond is the golf course and picnic grounds.

All this has a single function: to serve and support the laboratory. The town bears the same relation to "the lab" as everything on a battleship to the guns.

Los Alamos has only one industry—ideas. There are no farms or factories, no products loading on a railway spur.

Picture a community of nearly 13,000 people, geographically isolated in the New Mexico mountains, 35 miles from the nearest city, closed to all but relatives of personnel, or persons on official business.

No tourists or travellers come here, no businessmen looking for factory sites or indigents looking for jobs.

The town has no poverty or unemployment, no beggars, no charity cases, no uncared-for sickness. Until last month it had gone six years without a major crime. The last death in traffic happened nearly two years ago.

SPECIAL PROBLEMS

Still, the town has problems special to itself.

For example, this is all government property, so nobody can own his home. Not infrequently this causes people to leave. But the great majority who stay spend their money for lawns and gardens.

Here's another. A scientist pointed out:

"A man in any other business can bring his problems home at night. He talks things over with his wife. She knows a good bit about his work, and what may be bothering him.

"Here, we can't do that."

Probably not even a Los Alamos wife can listen intelligently while a nuclear physicist stews over his problems.

NO SHOP TALK

But even if she could, it's unlikely that he would bring them home. You quickly discover that people just don't "talk shop" outside the laboratory. You can seven-day drop assiduously in the town's coffee shops, or anywhere else, and never hear a word about the work. As a result, tensions may develop in families.

Does the special purpose of Los Alamos, its relation to war and potential disaster, create any unusual sense of insecurity in the children there?

Police chief Ralph Kopansky said he saw no signs of it. "They're pretty much like kids anywhere . . . maybe a little higher I. Q. or more precocious because of their parents. It's hard to say."

Molotov Seems To Be Permanent Fixture in Soviet

By TOM WHITNEY
Associated Press Staff Writer

Other Communists come and go but hard-eyed and durable V. M. Molotov is still around.

Sixty-five years old next Wednesday, he probably has a better chance than some others among his Kremlin colleagues of some day dying peacefully in bed.

For Vyacheslav Mikhailovich Molotov seems a permanent fixture in the U. S. S. R. He has stood in the honor guard at the funerals of Lenin and Stalin. He has seen such able and powerful men as Leon Kamenev, Grigori Zinoviev, Nicolai Bukharin and Lavrenty Beria purged and executed. But he remained.

"The best filing clerk in Russia," Lenin is said to have called him.

SURVIVES PURGES

But it would never never do to underestimate Molotov. Many an able diplomat has discovered this truth for himself the hard way. He is a shrewd, stubborn and unyielding bargainer, who lives up to his adopted party name. "Molotov" in Russian means hammer.

Now, with the Kremlin leaders seemingly addicted to playing a round of musical chairs every so often in order to eliminate one more of their number from the high-level power game, it would be a mistake to underestimate Molotov's position. It's by no means inconceivable that a new turn of the wheel of political fortune might result in Molotov again becoming premier.

Molotov has no political machine of his own and is not dangerous to other contenders for power in the Kremlin.

Malenkov, Beria, Bulganin and Khrushchev all had political machines. Molotov had only prestige.

That prestige is a second reason for Molotov's position. He is the only "old Bolshevik"—one previously in Communist affairs before the 1917 revolution—who actually had close association with Lenin and the other early party leaders, and who still survives in a high position. He is thus the sole link of the present Soviet leadership with their revolutionary past.

In 1949 Molotov apparently got into pretty serious trouble. This coincided with his loss of his job as minister of foreign affairs. The causes were obscure, but Molotov had to humiliate himself publicly by delivering a long address on criticism and self-criticism "regardless of rank." He took this without whimpering.

It was after Stalin's death that Molotov returned to his old job as minister of foreign affairs. Simultaneously he was made a first deputy premier.

No westerner has the slightest idea what role Molotov may have played in the Kremlin inner circles in the last two years. Has he any personal ambitions for himself of rising higher, of perhaps succeeding to Stalin's mantle? Has he any chance? Only Molotov himself would know the answers to those questions and it is certain that he conceals them even among his Kremlin colleagues behind a stern and impassive face.

Frozen City of Shacks Sits In Dumpy Elegance on Bay

By JIM KLOBUCHAR

GLENWOOD, Minn. (AP) — For three months of the year a frozen city of shacks sits in dumpy elegance in the bay here, looking like something dreamed up by an ice-bound ancient mariner.

Crappletown is wide open to anyone dedicated to the idea that fishing can be fun and comfortable in weather 15 below.

Crappletown is a plywood conglomeration of fishing houses that rove, at the whims of their owners and the fish, over the two-foot thick ice cover of eight-mile-long Lake Minnewaska in western Minnesota. It gets its name from the unlovely panfish which is its main industry.

The townspeople are largely weekend and night-time immigrants from Glenwood, a cozy community of 2,600 on the lakeshore. The unique thing about Crappletown is the notion that no home is worth fishing from unless it's complete. The more meticulous wouldn't be caught on the lake without one or more easy chairs, cooking utensils and a card table. Some have radios and many keep a cot.

EASY LUXURY

Each house has flooring built about six inches off the ice. Through holes in the corners anglers fish for pike and a variety of panfish. The season usually runs from early December to early March.

Then the fish houses are cleared from the ice. Some become playhouses for the kids, some are converted into storage sheds and the rest are set aside for another season.

Few kinds of fishing offer the easy luxury existing here. Many fishermen attach strips of paper to lines suspended from makeshift reels on corner crossbars. Thus when the bobber on the line goes down the paper comes up, signaling to reposing or card-playing tenants that a fish is nibbling.

Atomic-Generated Electric Power Will Be Offered

MONTPEELIER, Vt. (AP)—Governor Joseph B. Johnson says he has been notified by the United States atomic energy commission that small amounts of atomic-generated electric power will be offered for private purchase this summer.

The Vermont governor said the power will be available at Schenectady, N.Y. He added that no price has been set and the commission will not guarantee the amount of power.

The Knolls atomic power laboratory, operated by the General Electric Co. for the AEC, is located just outside Schenectady.

ESSO EXTRA GASOLINE
stops cold weather stalling

Ice in the carburetor has been proven to be a major cause of stalling. New Esso Extra combats the formation of ice anywhere in your car's fuel system. So, when you stall, don't blame it on a cold engine or carburetor adjustment until you've tried New Esso Extra.

As gasoline vaporizes in the carburetor, it has a refrigerating effect. Condensation from the whisks air freezes. Ice crystals stop the fuel supply . . . and your car stalls. Avoid this with New Esso Extra.

Claims Motorists Are Subsidizing Trucking Industry

Wentworth MLA Suggests Study of Tax Per Ton-Mile

TORONTO (CP) — Arthur J. Child told the legislature Monday that Ontario's trucking industry is being subsidized in part by the motoring public.

The Progressive Conservative member for Wentworth asserted during throne-speech debate that the department of highways made an impartial study of tax payments by all vehicles on a gross-ton-mile basis.

"The information I have on motor vehicles indicates that excessive use of highway facilities shows the passenger car is paying on a high as eight times as much a gross ton mile as the heavy tractor-trailer does," he said.

The member for Wentworth also suggested a review be made of the cost of building highways to accommodate eight - foot - wide trucks which have a gross weight up to 80,000 pounds compared to construction of roads for passenger cars six feet wide with a gross weight up to 6,000 pounds.

BETTER DISTRIBUTION

Ontario should be divided into districts for meat and milk inspection, Mr. Child said.

Under his plan this duty would be added to the milk producers' inspection service, correcting a situation "where you have five or six inspectors from different municipalities going up and down the same concession road."

Mr. Child said the fluoridation question should be left to qualified medical men in the municipal and federal departments of health. The cost is the only question that concerns the municipalities, he said.

Dr. S. E. Lawrie (PC—Waterloo North) said future water supply for a large portion of western Ontario will have to be taken from either the Grand river or the Great Lakes and thought a uniting that would supply water to such a large area should be provincially financed or by a large group of municipalities.

CHANGE PROPOSED

Dr. Lawrie also suggested that the province consider paying a per capita grant to municipalities for each mile of attacking the water pollution problem.

Attorney-General Dana Porter introduced an amendment to the Ontario Water Board Act which would require the board to hold a public hearing before setting an interim natural flow rate which would be an increase over the former rate.

Father Considers Legal Action Against Board

KITCHENER (CP) — Wilfred Butterworth, father of an 11-year-old public school student suspended Feb. 11, said today he is considering legal action against the Kitchener board of education if it does not call an early meeting to get his daughter back into her class soon.

Mr. Butterworth's daughter, Ann Myrtle, a grade six student at Victoria school, was suspended by Russell M. Bale, chief inspector, because of her manner of wearing bobbi tooth brush.

Miss Hergt.

The board of education backed up the suspension and ruled that the girl must apologize before she can return.

Mr. Butterworth said his daughter was suspended because of her "tone of voice." He said he met with the school's staff instead of getting back at her because he refused to allow her to wear shorts in physical training classes.

Plan Delegation To Conference On Atomic Energy

OTTAWA (CP) — Canada will send a delegation of government, university, and technical officials to a United Nations conference in Geneva this summer on the peaceful uses of atomic energy.

The external affairs department today announced that Dr. W. B. Lewis, vice-president for research and development of Atomic Energy of Canada Ltd., will co-ordinate Canada's participation. Members of the delegation will be announced later.

Canada and six other Western members of the United Nations sponsored the conference. It unanimously adopted last fall by the U. N. General Assembly, outlining aims of the conference at Aug. 8-20.

Eisenhower Ill

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower cancelled his morning engagements today because of "slight symptoms of a cold." His wife already was confined in bed with the flu.

James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, said the White House physician, Maj.-Gen. Howard M. Snyder, was with the President and that there probably would be a report later on Eisenhower's condition.

THE WEATHER

TORONTO. (CP) — Synopsis: Cold weather will continue today across eastern Canada. However, warm air from the Pacific has progressed eastward across the prairies and will enter Ontario Wednesday or Thursday. A big band of snow in advance of the warm air will spread eastward across the province this evening. Wednesday will be sunny and warm in southern regions. Light snow will continue over the northern regions Wednesday.

THIRD INCREASE GIVEN VETERANS BY PARLIAMENT

Extra Cost Will Be $9,500,000 a Year

OTTAWA (CP) — Unanimous approval of a one-third increase in federal payments to Canada's burned-out veterans and their dependants has been given by the Commons.

It came Monday night after a day-long' windup debate in which 21 opposition members urged an even greater boost in aid to needy veterans of front-line warfare.

The government's bill to increase war pensions and allowances was given second reading — approval in principle—without a vote. The extra cost will be an estimated $9,500,000 a year. Altogether, it is calculated $28,145,324 are being paid this year to some 41,500 who get the means-test allowances.

One opposition member after another, however, rose to ask government payments of Canadian Legion proposals involving chiefly a further increase in the means-test ceiling on allowable annual income. Many referred to telegrams which they, like most members, received in the last few days from legion branches across the country.

CITES COST

Veterans Minister Lapointe, closing the debate, pointed out that the legion demands would cost $24,750,000 as against the government's plan for a $9,500,000 boost.

"Desirable as certain changes might be, money must be found to pay for them," he said.

Allowance recipients are compelled to undergo periodic means test because it is considered that trench warfare produced their wasting lives by 10 years. Payments start at age 60, and in some cases at 55.

Say Provincial Police Annoyed By Pay Schedule

TORONTO (CP)—The Telegram says pay boosts revealed Monday for members of the Ontario Provincial Police have caused a "wave of resentment among members of the force.

It says some officers will get no raise since there is no change in the basic salary for constables.

The boost in the ceiling rate for constables from $3,300 to $3,600.

The story quotes several officers, not named, as saying they are dissatisfied with the raises.

Main cause of their dissatisfaction is the large boost given high officials, the story says. The basic salary for deputy commissioner is increased by $1,800 to $8,500 under the new rates.

SNOWSTORM IN KENT

LONDON, (Reuters) — England's southeast county of Kent under a foot of snow, was virtually isolated today by huge snow drifts after one of the heaviest falls on record.

Paper Says Ont. Election On June 13

TORONTO (CP)—The Star says Ontario is to have a June election.

In a report today it says June 13 is the date being mentioned by members "closest to the administration."

The announcement is expected early in May, although the necessary 37 days between the announcement and the vote, it adds.

Gay Princess Gives No Indication Of Concern Over Marriage Gossip

LONDON (AP) — Princess Margaret, her English smile on her face, today told Britons how happy she is to be home from her "cruise of the Caribbean."

Reporters who saw her briefly in widely published reports that after she becomes 25 years old next Aug. 21, she probably would lose place in succession to the throne to become the duke of Edinburgh's first child—a man who is British air attache at Brussels.

But the gay gossip was distributing the young Princess, there was no sign of any concern in her ready smile today.

The Daily Sketch — Beaverbrook publication — publishes the current newspaper speculation.

The strongly pro-royalist Sketch says it is true that the Princess is still friendly with Townsend. But it declares in a front-page article headed: "The question is one for the Princess herself to decide—after her return from her own affair."

The chief complication is that the Church of England, of which the Queen is temporal head, opposes the remarriage of divorced persons.

Let us get the facts straight and clear," The Sketch adds.

"Obviously Princess Margaret loved Group Capt. Peter Townsend (who was the innocent party in the 1951 divorce) and has two sons aged 12 and , and whose ex-wife is still alive) and that he returned the love of the throne.

"But we do it know whether Princess Margaret still loves him. We do not know from her, and neither does The Mirror, what she has decided to do about her future life."

The Princess went to the theatre last night with her uncle and cousin, 21-year-old Lord Porchester. They accompanied the Queen and the Duke of Edinburgh.

Geneva Tariff Talks Ended Beneath Blanket of Secrecy

GENEVA, Switzerland (Reuters) — The ninth session of the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade ended today after four months.

Gatt's Canadian chairman, L. Dana Wilgress, addressed the final plenary meeting but his speech was kept secret despite an earlier announcement that it would be released to the press.

No details about the lengthy deliberations, at which the whole agreement was revised, will be made public for about two weeks.

All decisions reached at the meeting were required to give a solemn pledge not to divulge anything before the official communique.

The idea of the "don't talk" clamp-down is to give the governments time to receive the conference documents and prepare their own statements which they will issue simultaneously with the press communique.

Two of the most important decisions have been to permit the United States to impose quantitative restrictions to protect American agricultural products, mainly dairy produce; and to grant Britain's request for a special waiver to protect and develop colonial industries, mainly in the West Indies.

A compromise agreement has also been reached on the prolongation of $3,000 tariff Manna bound to expire on various dates. These will continue to be bound at present levels, but any member may re-negotiate individual tariffs.

There was a strong move to free these tariffs and re-negotiate new ones, but the under-developed countries have adamantly opposed this and asked to retain certain rights to impose quantitative import restrictions to protect their young industries.

Predicts Economical A-Power For Canada Within Decade

OTTAWA (CP)—A top Canadian scientist today forecast that atomic power plants will be producing electricity economically in Canada between 1960 and 1965.

Dr. W. B. Lewis, vice-president for research and development of Atomic Energy of Canada Ltd., also said atomic power stations may be called on to help turn out 1,000,000 kilowatts to meet Canada's growing appetite for power.

Canadian scientists now are struggling to reach a "critical ridge," Dr. Lewis told the annual meeting of the chemical engineering division of the Chemical Institute of Canada.

He said the "ridge" is the point at which large-scale supplies of electricity can be produced from nuclear energy at a cost equal to that of coal - fueled generating stations.

"In my forecast, I set this time at between 1960 and 1965."

Dr. Lewis referred briefly to research now going on at the Chalk River plant in the methods of building economic power plants. A small experimental power reactor being designed was expected to be in operation early in 1956 and at Twenty years from now to cut the high cost of building generating stations.

Monday, Dr. H. K. Rae of the chemical engineering department at AECL, said there was need to reduce the cost of heavy water necessary for atomic power plants. He said Canada now produces about six tonnes of heavy water a year at a cost of between $720,000 and $1,200,000 a tonne.

Dr. Rae said, that the demand by 1970 for heavy water will increase to about 1,000 tonnes a year. Efforts must be made to expand production to at least one and a half a ton a day and to cut production costs considerably.

Dr. Rae said it is expected to be no lack of demand for large-quantities of electric power. Canada's generating plants had an installed capacity of 10,000,000 kilowatts in 1951 and this was expected to increase to 100,000,000 by the end of the century.

"At the present time over 90 per cent of the electric power in Canada is produced by hydro power," he said. "The total economic hydro power in Canada is estimated to be about 50,000,000 kilowatts.

"Where, then, were we look for 50,000,000 kilowatts by the end of the century, only 45 years away? This could be met by thermal stations burning coal and, in favorable locations, natural gas. In each instance the cheapest fuel will be selected and this might well not be the local fuel.

Areas like Ontario were nearing full utilization of available hydro power. The demand for new power in Ontario likely would be met by thermal power stations by 1960 or before 1963.

The annual increment in Ontario is over 200,000 kilowatts, so we have the prospect of a demand for this fuel closely what may be realized from nuclear energy."

Eden Again Calls on Chiang To Evacuate Coastal Isles

LONDON (AP)—Foreign Secretary Eden today called once again on Nationalist leader Chiang Kai-shek to withdraw his armed forces from the coastal islands off China.

Eden, in the House of Commons, a report on his Bangkok meeting with U. S. State Secretary Dulles and his tour of Southeast Asia, Eden praised both the United States and the British Commonwealth for relaxing tension over Formosa,

However, he said, sounding out Peiping on a cease-fire had led him to the inescapable to the conclusion that the necessary conditions for progress do not yet exist.

"The United States government have made very positive proposals of their desire to relax tension and reduce the risks of war. . . .

"Up to now they have restrained the Chinese Nationalists from any action initiating attacks against the Chinese mainland. They have persuaded the Nationalists to evacuate the Tachens and Nanchi islands."

As for the Chinese Communists Eden said "for their part they have refrained from attacking Formosa and the Pescadores." He expressed the hope that "they will continue to exercise this restraint."

Heavy Trading In Lower-Priced Mines Seen

TORONTO (CP)—Toronto stock markets trading raced at close to the fastest pace in history today with heavy trading in lower-priced issues.

Bidding for speculative mining issues was so great soon after market opening that the tickers were fed 13 minutes behind in recording sales on the exchange floor.

Stock exchange officials said the day was the busiest in their long memory except for a 15-minute difference during 19,000,000 and 12,000,000-share trading days in early 1953.

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y. (AP)—Leonard Gorge, 41, was fatally burned today in a blazing chicken coop he was using as a heating plant. Gasoline exploded and set fire to his clothing.

New Warning Signal System Worked Out

BATTLE CREEK, Mich. (AP)—A new warning signal system of enemy air attack has been worked out by civil defense.

It is for the home and Canada have adopted the system together.

New, simplified signals are to be sounded on sirens, horns and other devices to replace the present two signals. One is the "alert" and the other the "all-clear."

The "all-clear," in effect since 1951, has been eliminated in view of modern defense plans.

U. S. civil defence headquarters here said it could be unwise to give a general all-clear since some areas could still be in danger because of fall-out.

The alert signal is a steady blast of three to five minutes and is universal device.

The take-cover signal is a wailing up and a series of short blasts continuing for three minutes.

GOVT. TO MEASURE POPULATION IN FIVE-YEAR CENSUS

June in 1956 Set For Country's First

OTTAWA (CP) — The government has decided that Canada's shifting and rapidly growing population needs to be measured again and has set June, 1956, for the country's first five-year census.

Cabinet previously held a five-year count only on the Prairies, reserving the 10-year census for main statistical guidance. But changes have been made recently, Citizenship and Immigration Minister Harris told the Commons report speculation that the first country-wide quinquennial count will be held.

"Not since there have been numerous developments in Canada in recent years which point to the need for bringing our data down to the census survey in 1956."

"The rapid growth of the Canadian population and shifts within and between provinces have posed problems of great difficulty for provincial and municipal administration and for business."

COST FACTOR

He said Parliament will be asked to provide funds for the census in such a way that it considers trade department estimates. Some census questions will be asked but the census may cost only about $4,000,000 or $5,000,000 compared with the $12,000,000 for the last decennial census in 1951.

Farmers will be asked only 75 questions compared with 200 in 1951. Only 25 questions will be asked in towns and villages will be asked for only seven answers as against 16 in 1951 for the same count.

Census-takers in 1951 counted over 14,000,000 persons living in Canada. The bureau of statistics expected that number had grown to 15,400,000 last Jac. 1, but thought it might swell to 16,000,000 by 1956. Bureau officials believe the number of census-takers may be cut from about 15,000 from the 17,000 required for the decennial count. Each will be able to cover more territory because of improved roads.

CROPS AND LIVESTOCK

Some agricultural census provides the base for annual estimates of farming and have a calculation through sample inquiries by mail, but greater diversity in agriculture has made it necessary to take "in less frequently than every 10 years."

Mr. Howe added that it is necessary to get information every five years on population characteristics "that are fairly stable, such as religion, origin, education and place of birth." Other questions will be asked the name and address of everyone in the house, the age, sex, marital status of each, the relationship to the head of the house and whether any live on a farm.

The 1951 census-taker also made detailed survey of housing. Including which had indoor plumbing, sewerage and central heating.

Only the number of houses and farms will be counted in the 1956 census.

The five-year count will not affect federal subsidies to provincial and municipal ridings, which are based on decennial census findings.

URANIUM FOUND

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaya (CP) — Uranium has been found in central Malay in a jungle-covered abandoned tin mine near the back day reserve of Fraser's hill. Malayan scientists will search three tin mines in the district in the next month for what may be workable quantities of the mineral.

Dulles Convinced Reds Not Bluffing, Will Attack Soon

Expects Move to Seize Nationalist-held Islands

WASHINGTON (AP)—State Secretary Dulles was described today as believing the Chinese Communists are not bluffing and will shortly make some military move against Nationalist-held islands opposite Formosa.

Dulles, who returned Sunday from a trip to the Far East, may outline his views either at private briefings to congressional committees today or in a radio and television report tonight to the people.

Officials who have talked with Dulles said Dulles appears convinced that the Chinese Communists will make some move toward carrying out their threats to attack coastal islands, probably coupled with subversion efforts directed at Chiang Kai-shek's Formosa refuge and its outposts.

Dulles was said to be unwilling, even in private conversations, to spell out American intentions with regard to the defence of the Nationalist-held islands of Quemoy and Matsu, just off the Red mainland opposite Formosa.

Dulles was said to have told those who talked with him since his return that he has made no commitments when he and Britain's Foreign Secretary Eden discussed Formosa situation while in the Far East.

Crew Member Of Iroquois In Good Condition

GIBRALTAR (Reuters)—A successful emergency appendectomy was performed on crew member Ronald Kelly of the Canadian destroyer Iroquois today after the ship steamed all night at full speed to get him ashore.

Kelly, 20, of London, Ont., became ill Monday. The Iroquois arrived at Gibraltar three hours ahead of schedule and Kelly was taken by ambulance to a military hospital.

After the operation doctors said the patient was comfortable. He will probably stay in Gibraltar until the Iroquois on her next refit. Her sister ship Huron are in Gibraltar until Thursday on the last lap of their cruise from the Far East. Next stop will be Halifax. Both crews were given shore leave tonight.

No Canadian Newsman Will Be Allowed

OTTAWA (CP) — United States defence authorities have decided not to permit any American citizens representing U. S. news media to witness a series of atomic tests in Nevada in which Canadians will play a part.

The decision said today it was informed that the restriction on correspondents was "due to operational security and safety." Dates of the tests will be announced by the U. S. Canadian radiation detection unit is to participate in one of them.

Atomic Cloud Is Crossing Continent Under Constant Watch of Scientists

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Wind-blown remnants of the year's biggest atomic explosion to date drifted lazily across the continent today.

Some portion of the cloud from Monday's spectacular test explosion broke away from the main mass and moved into Canada. The continuing east under the constant watch of scientists at the Atomic Energy Commission.

Another part of the cloud has moved harmlessly across central California and out over the Pacific.

The AEC officials emphasized that neither eastbound nor westbound clouds are considered dangerous.

Plans are going ahead, meanwhile, for the next atomic explosion at the vast Yucca flat proving ground 75 miles northwest of Las Vegas. The next blast will be smaller.

Monday's explosion, triggered on a 300-foot tower, flashed in the clear desert air at 5:30 a.m. It was visible to all the western states and in Mexico.

No one was injured, although at some 375 servicemen evacuated trenches 9,500 yards from ground zero. The closest observers were 7,000 yards away.

Tug-of-War Over Bedspread Ends in Failure

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) It was cold early Monday when Mr. and Mrs. Billy H. Kelton began a sleepy tug-of-war over a bedspread.

Kelton told police he felt the bedspread slipping and thought his wife was pulling it. His wife thought he was pulling it.

Kelton finally opened his eyes and saw the bedspread sliding out a window. A burglar escaped with it.

Word 'Boulevard' Is Un-British Says Minister

LONDON (AP)—Housing Minister Duncan Sandys ruled Monday that the word "boulevard" is un-British.

Rejecting the name "Park Lane boulevard" for a proposed new street near London's Hyde Park, Sandys explained in a letter to the London county council:

"I cannot believe it is really your intention to insert foreign expressions of this kind into London's street names."

Fifty Children Join to Save Dog from Death

WINDSOR (CP)—Fifty children joined together Monday to keep a neighborhood pet dog in their arms and save it from possible death. Fritz, a six-year-old boxer, is facing death because his owners cannot keep him, and they feel he would "miss every" in a new home. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Brooks, who own Fritz, said they had been ordered by the city board of health to keep Fritz out of the restaurant for appeals.

The children, all of whom know Fritz, signed a petition asking the health board to allow Fritz to stay, in spite of a city ordinance forbidding dogs in public eating places.

Two-Year Term Added to Sentence

WINNIPEG (CP) — An alleged ring-leader of the Christmas-time Stony Mountain breakout received a two-year penitentiary term Monday for his part in a minor uprising at the jail a week ago.

William Qualnin, 32, of Guelph, Ont., pleaded guilty to assaulting a toilet bowl and wash basin in his cell Feb. 26. Assistant Magistrate Alf Collins, 20, of Cornwall, Ont., was remanded for a week after pleading guilty to a similar charge.

Jail governor E. G. Wells told the court that Qualnin was one of the instigators of th Dec. 18-19 and New Year's night disturbances at Headingley.

Fifth Course Prenatal Classes Is Completed

The fifth course of ten prenatal classes conducted by the Belleville Department of Health and sponsored by the Y's Menettes' Club was completed today with the presentation of 18 diplomas for satisfactory attendance.

Discussions on parent preparation and education in family living included unscripted lessons concerning nutrition, hygiene and physiology of pregnancy and labor with instruction in body mechanics, controlled breathing and relaxation. The course also includes lectures on child care and elements of parent education.

Interpretation of the services of the local hospital, visiting nurses and homemakers was included.

The sixth course of prenatal classes will begin Tuesday, March 15th.

250 Scout Leaders Are Expected To Attend Parley

Saturday next Belleville's boy scout association will be prepared to play host to scout leaders at the western area conference of the Eastern Ontario Region of the Boy Scouts Association.

Some 250 scout leaders are expected to attend the conference, which includes an active round of business meetings, speeches and a banquet.

The conference will get underway early Saturday morning in the Queen Elizabeth public school with an address by Fred Finley, chief executive commissioner for Canada. Dudley Dennison, Commissioner Finley's speech will be the eighth world scout jamboree, being held for the first time in Canada this year at Niagara-on-the-Lake in August.

In the afternoon the delegates will split into sectional sittings, discussing commissioners' business. Day sessions will be under the chairmanship of Gordon Lewis, regional commissioner for Eastern Ontario, assisted by Ralph Jackson, regional field commissioner.

The conference will conclude with a banquet in the Masonic Temple in the evening, with local association president Oliver Owen as chairman.

Guest speaker at the banquet will be E. M. Tindall, provincial commissioner for Ontario.

In addition to leader sessions, parents also are holding day sessions.

Delegates are expected to attend the conference from an area from Port Hope to Kingston.

AGAINST MORE TV

LONDON (AP)—The chief of Britain's government - sponsored television said Monday night that he is against increasing the hours of viewing, at least daily. "I think the shorter TV hours are the better," Sir George Barnes told a London University student group.

Chemical Industry Subject of Talk To Rotarians

Necessity for manufacturers and market shoppers to apply plastics and plastic goods in the methods most fitted to their various properties was stressed here yesterday by Douglas Watkinson, of Montreal, representative of the Canadian Industries (1954) Limited.

Boss of contention of the plastics industry, Mr. Watkinson told the Rotary Club's weekly meeting in the Hotel Quinte, was that while there are about twenty various kinds of plastics today being offered by the chemical industry, neither manufacturers nor public might fully comprehend that each variety of plastic has different properties and thus a different utility.

Manufacturers of plastic goods have been made increasingly aware of this aspect by the chemical industry, but they in turn should assist the public by identifying the types of plastic used in products on the market.

"It would help if Canadian manufacturers would label their product more definitely," he said.

Certain types of the material are used for, as a tumbler, can leave a taste in the mouth, while others should be used to hold hot liquids. As with metals, the plastics contain certain properties and should be chosen according to the suitability of those properties, according to the job to be done.

One of the most ingenious types of the material is polyethelene, derived from being the lightest of the plastics, it is resistant to chemicals and is flexible.

Speaking on his subject, Mr. Watkington showed various examples from the material, from flexible toys to the material to a tap designed for nitric acid tests.

Holding a large circular tube, turned from a question mark, he demonstrated how the material's duct can be made to project light through water. In the textile industry, the biggest revolution was the chemical production of nylon, which later sparked the production of other types of plastic textiles, among them the famous of the British invention of Terylene.

Chief attribute of Terylene Textile is its ability to remain creases in cloth despite soaking in water.

Meanwhile, the older fibres of the textile industry are being treated by chemicals, so much so that they are being used to make wool mothproof and prevent shrinkage from burning.

"You can get all sorts of things when you treat textiles with chemicals," he said.

Demonstrated as a "perfect case of shrinkage on the knee," was the once-popular nylon stocking, now treated with chemicals to make it waterproof. Pouring a tumbler of water in the stocking, Mr. Walkington waited until the water was bulging through the stocking, then suddenly squeezed it out and squeezed the stocking perfectly dry.

He also called for more imagination in the manufacture of things plastic. "Chemical treatments plus imagination, are giving us better things," he said.

"Today the chemical industry is striving to educate the people in the use of new materials, he said.

"We are doing our best but you will have to help us," he told the meeting. "Many of you are on the threshold of even greater things in the chemical industry," he concluded.

The speaker was introduced by John Bateman and thanked by Carl Crosby. President Fred Adsett was chairman of the meeting.

Softball League Will Elect Officers Sunday

It was announced at the initial meeting of the Belleville and District Softball Association held at the Y.M.C.A. Street fireball last night that their election of officers will be held on Sunday, March 13 at 2.00 p.m.

Last night's gathering proved not too successful when approximately fifteen persons turned up, including representatives from only four of last year's league entries. No definite plans or business transactions were carried out due to the small attendance.

Letters will be sent to all of last year's teams extending an invitation to attend the Sunday meeting, also to be held at the Y.M.C.A. Seven teams participated in the league in 1954 as well as peewee and bantam sections. Teams from Madoc, Frankford and Point Anne joined the Belleville clubs. Northern Electric, Stewart Warner, the Bobcats and the Bluebird Juniors in an 18 - game schedule last summer.

Obituary

MISS MARY FERGUSSON
(Coburg—Belleville)

Funeral services for Miss Mary Fergusson, 21 Spencer Street, Cobourg, formerly of Belleville, were held at the Harrop Funeral Home, Cobourg, Friday, with Rev. McDowell officiating and who also conducted the service at the Union cemetery and read a most a very comforting message to the bereaved.

The many beautiful floral tributes showed the high esteem in which Miss Fergusson was held.

Bearers were: Roy Black, D. Nichols, T. Quigley, R. Best, C. Kelly of Cobourg and George Stollker of Belleville.

On Thursday evening the members of L.O.B.A. No. 351, Cobourg, conducted their funeral service ceremonial in a reverent and impressive manner.

JOHN HUGH COTTRELL
(Swansea, S. Wales)

MARMORA — The news of his only brother's death at Swansea, South Wales, was received on Monday by Mr. W. J. Cottrell of this village. Ex-member of the Swansea police force, Hugh Cottrell, native of Cheddar, Somerset, England, was found dead in his room last Wednesday afternoon as his wife arrived with a cup of tea for him. Inquiry after his school days he went to Wales, working for a time with the Rhondda and Swansea Bay Railway, and being a signal man in turn at their stations at Cwmavon and Jersey Marine.

Then came a period of 23 years as a policeman with the intermission of service with the 10th Welsh Regiment Infantry. He was decorated with the Military Medal for gallantry, which cost him his left arm. When later fitted with an artificial limb he was allowed to resume his service with the force with lighter duties, such as driving a police car and the like.

He was married to Florence Gammon, graduate nurse of Swansea, whose father also was a police officer and the same force.

He leaves two daughters, Mary, who is on the staff of the Stanley Park Hotel, and Janet, who, like her mother, chose the nursing profession.

He was a member of the Church of England, and besides being identified with ex-service activities, such as the British Legion, he was also closely associated with the Co-operative Movement, and had a part in arranging music programs for the Swansea branch.

The funeral took place in Swansea, South Wales, on Saturday.

Howard M. Frost Dies Suddenly

Suffering a heart attack at his home, 187 Ann Street, Howard Middleton Frost was found dead in his bed early this Tuesday morning.

The late Mr. Frost was well known and highly respected in this community. Born and raised in Belleville, being the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Isaac J. Frost, and lived his entire life in the city.

After receiving his public and high school education, Howard Frost entered the insurance business with the late H. "Sandy" Burrows, and continued with him for many years. On the death of Mr. Burrows, Mr. Frost continued the business for a few years, retiring in 1951.

"Howie" Frost, as he was familiarly known, made many friends with his kindly smile and friendly disposition.

He enjoyed both outdoors and sports of all kinds, and was a familiar figure at all sporting events.

The late Mr. Frost was a member of the United Church and fraternally was a life member of Moira Lodge, A.F. and A.M., No. 11.

Surviving are two sisters, Miss Cora T. of the city, and Mrs. Robert J. (Bertha) Small, of Niagara Falls, Ont.

Resting at the Belleville Burial Company Funeral Home. The funeral announcement appears elsewhere in this edition.

Assoc. Honors Memory Of T.G. Masaryk

TRENTON, (Special.) —The 105th birthday of the late Thomas G. Masaryk, first president of the republic of Czechoslovakia when it was established in 1918 was observed Monday by the Batawa branch of the Czechoslovakia Association of Canada.

Arthur Duncan, public relations officer of the Bata Shoe Co., spoke on behalf of the association and paid tribute to the great leader. Mr. Duncan disclosed that Masaryk brought a new life to a country that had been under the domination of her enemies for 300 years.—He said that while Czechoslovakia enjoyed freedom from 1945 to 1948 by an allied victory over the Nazis the Communists had once again robbed the country of its freedom. He looked for the patriots to see the day of ultimate freedom.

On February 19, Mr. Duncan recalled, the Canadian members of the Council of Free Czechoslovaks from Batawa, Toronto, Ottawa and Montreal to the Batawa Royal Hotel in Montreal, gathered to discuss effective means of combatting Communism.

WELCOMED TO BATAWA

Batawa has welcomed Phillip Cowell of the commercial division of the Bata Development, London, England, who arrived to work as a deputy to C. K. Herz in the planning department in a Boston Hospital.

TO SPEAK FOR CENTRE

Tim Daly famed as a trainer of the Toronto Argonauts football team for 23 years is coming here to Trenton a week from tonight to speak at dinner given by sportsmen of the town in aid of the community centre project. Many years ago Thomas Edward Daly coached a Trenton hockey team. Since then he has trained some of Canada's greatest athletes.

The dinner, a money-raising project for the community centre is open to the ladies as well as the gentlemen and features good food, an outstanding speechmaker and professional entertainment.

CEMENTMEN WIN 9-4

Point Anne Cementmen turned the tables on Carr's Admirals here last night defeating the local club representatives 9-4 in the third game of the best four out of seven games series, The Cementmen now hold a one game lead on the round-robin fourth game to be played in either Trenton or Belleville on Wednesday night. Crowd in attendance last night was just fair.

3 Cars Involved In Accident, Woman Hurt

Mrs. E. Evans, R.R. 1, Belleville, suffered scratches Monday evening as result of a rear-end collision involving three cars on the bay bridge causeway.

The accident occurred on the swing section of the bay bridge. The car of Mr. E. Evans was being followed by a neighbor Arthur Cornell of R.R. 1, Belleville, when Wesley Evans, R.R. 3, Belleville, was unable to stop due to the slippery condition of the roadway and struck the rear of the Cornell auto. It was showing at the time of the mishap. Provincial Constable R. Lloyd investigated.

Gross National Production Up In Fourth Quarter

OTTAWA (CP)—Business activity picked up sharply in the fourth quarter of 1954, boosting national production to an annual rate of $34,418,000,000, a rise of $500,000,000 from the third quarter, the bureau of statistics reported today.

It was the second consecutive quarterly rise in the gross national product which slipped in the first half of 1954 from the peak of 1953. The GNP is the estimated market value of all goods and services produced in Canada.

However, for the year as a whole, the GNP declined by two per cent in 1954, down $431,000,000 to $33,985,000,000 from the 1953 peak of $34,418,000,000, the bureau said. It said the drop was almost entirely due to a sharply reduced prairie grain output.

Policeman Held For Beating Mother of Three

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—Clarence Hawkshaw, 31, London township police constable, was in a superior county magistrate's court today on charges of assault and assault on the police.

Mrs. F. Ferguson and family wish to acknowledge with grateful thanks the many kindnesses and sympathy received during the many beautiful floral tributes and cards received during the recent sad illness, death and funeral of husband and aunt, Miss Mary Ferguson. Also Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Fisher, thanks for his comforting message and his visits during the sad illness. Also to the doctors and nurses of the Cobourg Memorial Hospital for their kindness and care. Rev. Hicks and organist for very beautiful service. Also very special thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Gertrude Leiper for the home they have been remarked to March 11 on a joint charge of assault in flattering bodily harm.

Police suggested the attack was an unsuccessful attempt by two men to force Mrs. Orgi's husband, manager of a Loblaws supermarket here, to open the store's safe. Mr. Orgi was closing the store at the time.

WOMAN BEATEN

Mrs. Orgi was severely beaten when she tried to phone police after two thugs forced their way into her house. She is recovering in hospital.

Hawkshaw is a former OPP member who was stationed at London, Ottawa and Ingersoll.

CARDS OF THANKS

My sincere thanks to Drs. Henry and Hamilton, the nurses of 3rd floor and the nurses of 3rd South at the Belleville General Hospital for the kind care and attention given to me during my recent illness. Also thanks to those who sent me cards and gifts.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of my dear husband, Ernest Wm. Hall, who passed away March 8th, 1953.
Time flies by and we miss you more
Each day we live and each hour we pray
And thinks the time long since you
Are I think of you daily and hourly
But try to keep my sorrow hidden
But the tears that I shed are in
And I pray with a sigh of regret
For you to return I can't remember yet
—Deeply and sadly missed by his wife Alice. 302

TORONTO STOCKS

TORONTO (CP) — The stock market quieted down a little in early afternoon today after one of the most hectic morning sessions in its history.

The ticker tape, swamped with heavy buying in lower-priced mines, fell behind on industrial floor sales within 10 minutes of the opening and it was only during the noon hour that it finally caught up.

At one point the tape was running 15 minutes behind, a lag which stock exchange officials said was exceeded only during 19,000,000 and 12,000,000-share trading days in early 1953.

Consolidated Denison featured the advance, and was ahead 75 cents to $6.90 at 1 p. m. EST after touching $7. Lorado climbed 15 cents to $4.30 and touched $4.80, 1953 high. Also strong were Noche, Atlantic, Martin, Quebec Copper, Beauchamp, Can-Met and Centre Lake with some sharp climbs.

Industrials were mixed but western oils and base metals eased.

Hudson Bay led base metals down with a $1 loss. Calgary and Edmonton dropped 50 cents to $15.75 in western oils.

TORONTO LIVESTOCK

TORONTO (CP)—A light offering of slaughter cattle for Monday's losses in steer classes today at the Toronto stockyards.

Other classes of slaughter cattle sold steady.

Receipts: Cattle 700; calves 155; hogs 465; sheep and lambs 25; holdovers 1,059 cattle.

Prices: choice steers, all weights 19.30-20.50; good steers 18-19; medium 16-18; common 13-16; good heifers 17-17.50; mediums 14-16; commons 12-14; boxer steers and heifers 16-17; good fed yearlings 19-20; mediums 16-19; good cows 12.50-15; light fleshy cows to 11; canners and cutters down to 7; good heavy bulls 15-16; lights 13-13.50; butcher bulls to 14; common and medium light bulls down to 10. There were no sales on the restricment cattle.

Calves were steady to the week's decline at 25-27 with a few extreme tops of 28 for good and choice vealers; medium 21-24; common 17-20; cull 10-16.

Hogs were steady at 25 for grade A; sows 19 a hundredweight, dressed and steps 24.

PRODUCE MARKET

TORONTO (CP) — Churning cream and butter paid prices were unchanged here today.

The egg market was steady with offerings adequate for a steady demand.

Quotations provided by the Dominion department of agriculture: Eggs, graded, in fibre cases: A large 43-42; A medium 41-42; A fi; western, first grade 41.

small 36-37; B 35; C 27. Wholesale to retail: A large 47-48; A medium 46-47; A small 41-42; B 40; C 32.

Butter solids: Out., first grade 31, second 30½; Que., first grade 31, second 30½.

Gasoline Sale Hours Cause Controversy

KITCHENER (CP) — A by-law regulating hours of gasoline sales was passed Monday night by city council and takes effect at midnight March 20.

Final decision on similar questions is pending in Brantford and Windsor.

The Kitchener regulation allows filling stations and pumps to remain open from 7 a. m. to 7 p. m. except on Saturday when the four may remain open from 7 to 10 p.m.

One station in four will also remain open Sunday from 9 a. m. to 10 p.m. This will be arranged on a rotation basis.

SOME EXEMPTED

The Waterloo by-law, which received second reading Monday night, would provide similar hours but one station in each of three districts of the city would be exempt and able to provide emergency service at any hour.

Operators of the three stations are among 16.7 per cent of owners operators of 96 gas stations organized by the Ontario Retail Gasoline Operators' Association asking the regulations. The by-law must have third and final reading to take effect.

In Brantford, the Ontario municipal board will hold a hearing Wednesday to determine whether operators there recently attempted by the city must conform to a by-law requiring stations to close from 7 p. m. to 7 a.m., and allowing only one station open each Sunday. The by-law was in force before annexation.

Child Almost 'Dead Ringer' For Missing Judy

TORONTO (CP) — Toronto butcher William May told police today he thinks he is the man four citizens reported seeing with a little girl as they arrested the eight-year-old Judy Carter disappeared.

He said the girl with him was his own daughter, whom police described as "almost a dead ringer" for the child who disappeared Feb. 25.

Thus what police had considered a promising clue apparently petered out.

There still was no trace of Judy Carter today and a $500 reward offered for information concerning her whereabouts remained unclaimed.

Many Suggestions Received To Bolster Election Act

OTTAWA (CP)—Federal election officials have received suggestions ranging from a system for attracting voters to removing the designation "splinter" from electoral lists.

A batch of letters embodying the suggestions from all parts of the country was placed before the Commons elections committee today by Nelson Castonguay, chief electoral officer, as the committee organized to study the Elections Act with a view to revisions in the light of the 1953 general balloting.

Mr. Castonguay made no recommendations on the writers' ideas, but he submitted a draft bill containing 36 pages of technical amendments designed to improve administration of the act. All were purely technical.

CLAIMS DEPERSONATION

One of the policy change suggestions from correspondents came from Egan Chambers, defeated Progressive Conservative candidate in Montreal St. Antoine-St. George in a by-election last August. He called for a mandatory penalty of two years at hard labor for impersonation at the polls.

The penalty now is a fine up to $2,000 or two years with or without hard labor.

Mr. Chambers, who lost in urged Transport Minister Marler, estimated there were 1,000 impersonations in the riding on by-election day. He said that in 13 polls alone, his agents had reported 89 instances of two votes being cast in the name of a single elector.

In one poll, he said, 175 ballots were cast while there were only 103 names on the voters' list.

Mr. Egan said the conduct of deputy returning officers was "in many instances disgraceful."

GUARANTEES RESULTS

Another Montrealer, Michael Engel, suggested the radio be tuned out electors.

Under his plan, there would be a $1,000 jackpot in each riding paid for out of general election costs. The voter would get a draw ticket with each ballot and deposit it in a separate box.

"I guarantee," he said, "that with this new idea, the next election there would have a full turnout of voters."

On stationery decorated with flowers, Leonora Starr of Newmarket, Ont., pleaded for the use of some other word than "splinter" to designate unmarried women on the voters' list. Those who keep up their own homes should at least be designated "housekeeper," she said.

River Valley Women's Institute Hears Reports, Plans Activities

STIRLING — Mrs. Ernest Carr and Mrs. Ross Carr were hostesses on Thursday for the March meeting of River Valley Women's Institute with 27 members and three visitors in attendance and several children.

Mrs. Ross Bush presided and Mrs. J. L. Donohoe reported $21.14 proceeds from the banquet. Several thank-you letters and personal messages were given for fruit boxes.

A letter was read re presidents' conference with Dr. Mary Mary. This is to be decided later.

A letter from provincial president, Mrs. McPhatter, was read re the U.N.E.S.C.O. project. The past president had already donated $3 to the fund so another $7 was voted from Institute funds and $10 will be forwarded to assist in buying equipment for Ceylon.

The A.C.W.W. request for 25c per member to all who helped with the banquet, with special thanks to the secretary, to Mrs. Elbert Finkle, February convener for euchre parties and to those who donated prizes.

There will be a euchre party next February 25 and a bake sale Wednesday.

The annual meeting will be held on April 7th at the home of Mrs. Ed. Heasman and Mrs. Ina Bush and the hostess group committees will be Mrs. E. Carr and Mrs. R. Carr.

Roll call, "Why I Like to Live in Canada," stressed freedom, food in plenty, health and scenery.

Mrs. Bush tea has a special ruggmaking contest, if any one is interested.

TWO LIFE MEMBERSHIPS

At this juncture, two life membership certificates, with a lovely pin, were presented by the president and secretary, on behalf of the W. I., to Mrs. Jennie Donohoe and Miss Flossie Rosebush. Both ladies joined the W.I. in 1911, the year after its organization.

Some of the recipients spoke briefly and expressed her thanks after which "Happy Birthday" was sung for Flossie.

Mrs. J. R. Donohoe presided over the program on Citizenship and Education. Mrs. Ralph Usman read a timely paper on Fire Safety in Agricultural Areas on Farm. This explained the necessity of clearing rubbish, dead vegetation, broodier houses, tractors and motors, thus eliminating fire. It told the proper way to start a bon-fire and how to call the fire department.

This article also gave valuable advice in what to do should occur.

GUEST SPEAKER

Mrs. Usman introduced Mrs. Douglas Fyvie, guest speaker, one of the speaking of parliament which she and her husband attended with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Robson. This was the 5th session of the 24th provincial legislature.

She described the seating arrangements, the throne speech, and told of the mace and the pageantry of parliament.

Mrs. George Heasman voiced thanks to Shirley for the message of interest.

The president, on behalf of the W.I., presented to the club leaders, Mrs. George Heasman and Mrs. Phil Cosley, with a cup and saucer in appreciation of their work with the club girls. The recipients graciously smiled and expressed thanks to all the Institute members and to all the club girls' parents for their co-operation.

Mrs. Harry Ketcheson, a life member of Bethel-Zion Institute, brought greetings and spoke briefly.

A contest on "The Salt Sea," brought with the winning group receiving a treat of candy.

The hostess group committees served sandwiches, jellies and cookies and all enjoyed a social half hour.

Mrs. Gerald Brooks voiced thanks for hospitality, program and refreshments.

Convict's Claim Branded Untrue

QUEBEC (CP) — The office of the Quebec attorney general has branded as untrue a convict's claim that he had information about the murder of taxi-driver Roland Faucher at L'Ile d'Orleans in 1953.

Charles Edouard Cantin, deputy attorney general for Quebec, said in a prepared statement there is no connection between Clifford Gallichan, 34, formerly of Harrington, Que., and the fatal shooting.

Gallichan, serving an 18-month Burwash prison farm on a morals charge, allegedly told Ontario Provincial Police here in November he knew something about the Faucher murder. Quebec provincial police were sent to question Gallichan at the Sudbury jail.

Mr. Cantin said Gallichan made the statements apparently hoping he would be transferred to Quebec from the Ontario prison.

Cantin said that on the day Faucher was murdered, Gallichan was in New York City along with other alleged conspirators, crew of the freighter North Gaspe, which had sunk a few days earlier.

Jorge Pasquel Dies in Crash

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Jorge Pasquel, millionaire Mexican sportsman who led a spectacular raid on American baseball talent in 1946, died in a plane crash in the mountain state of San Luis Potosi Monday night. Five others in the plane also were killed.

Rescue parties reached the wreckage of Pasquel's private plane today in a rugged mountain area about 225 miles northwest of Mexico City.

Pasquel was a close friend of former president Miguel Aleman. At one time he was president and general manager of Novelades, one of Mexico City's leading morning newspapers.

Army Deserters Staging Revolt In Indo-China

PARIS (AP)—Seven battalions of the South Vietnamese army have been assigned to put down a revolt by Cao Dai sectarians in the central mountains of Indochina, an Agence France-Presse dispatch from Saigon said today. Artillery and tank units are included.

The Cao Dais, several hundred soldiers and auxiliary gendarmes have joined in a widespread desertion their units with their weapons. Concentrating in the mountain region of Baliang, the deserters have passed the regular army with mortar fire.

In the last few weeks skirmishes have been fought between the rebels and regulars. Twenty-two of the deserters have been killed and 75 taken prisoner.

Visit Gibraltar

GIBRALTAR (Reuters) — The Canadian destroyers Iroquois and Huron arrived here this morning on the last lap of a goodwill cruise from the Far East.

The ships will stay here until Thursday then sail for Halifax. No official calls or receptions have been planned at the British base.

The Iroquois landed a sick rating who was taken to a military hospital.

Mobile Darkroom

TORONTO (CP) — Photographer Gilbert A. Milne has set up a 35,000 mobile darkroom in the back of a delivery truck.

In a tryout this week, he took a news picture of two girls in bathing costumes emerging from a windmill set up in front of the city hall to publicize the showing of 20,000,000 words of Dutch publings at the Toronto Art Gallery.

Four and one-half minutes later, after a run through five blocks of downtown traffic, he handed a finished print to a Toronto Star photo editor in front of The Star building.

Snow Radioactive

TOKYO (AP)—Japan's central meteorological observatory today said it had found strong radioactivity in Saturday's snowfall in the Tokyo area.

Yasuo Miyake, radiation specialist, said the radioactivity "might have been caused by the Nevada tests."

Would Empower Municipalities To Enforce Pollution Laws

TORONTO (CP) — The Ontario Federation of Anglers and Hunters today urged the Ontario government to provide municipalities with the power to enforce provincial sanitary laws to prevent pollution.

The recommendation was included in a federation brief presented to the fish and game committee of the legislature by H. G. Hutton of Hamilton, secretary-manager.

The brief said pollution is on the increase and steps to remedy it are almost negligible.

This refers in particular to cottage owners bordering the lake fronts who are polluting the waters to a dangerous degree by dumping raw sewage directly into lakes, rivers and streams adjacent to them, the brief said.

It asked that adequate water quality control as suggested by the Ontario Water Resources Act be incorporated into provincial laws.

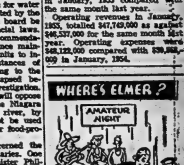
Another federation recommendation was that the province maintain a mobile unit or units to investigate suspected instances of polluted waters, reducing to the minimum the time elapsed between receipt of a complaint and investigation.

The federation said it will oppose any diversion of the Niagara river, or part of the river, by which the water cannot be used for electrical power in Canada.

The provincial government was asked to enforce existing pollution laws and to bring in new legislation necessary to stopping pollution immediately. The federation suggested the Grand river watershed "was a good place to start."

The brief included six recommendations on fishing in the province. One gave support to the department of lands, and forests in obtaining fish eggs.

The federation asked that a more even water level be maintained on lakes controlled by dams; fishing with five minnows be prohibited on the Bay lake in the Sudbury district, except where minnows were taken from the lake; the use of minnows as bait for speckled trout be discontinued; spears and nets be banned in Grey and Bruce counties; the legal length of yellow pickerel be 15 inches in all parts of the province, and fishing for speckled trout through the ice be prohibited at the discretion of the district forester or biologist.



Resolutions concerning game animals are to be presented lately.

CNR Revenues Show Increase

MONTREAL (CP) — Canadian National Railways today announced higher operating revenues and a drop in operating expenses in January, 1955 compared with the same month last year.

Operating revenues in January, 1955, totalled $47,749,000 as against $46,537,000 for the same month last year. Operating expenses were $48,122,000 compared with $39,981,000 in January, 1954.

GIFTS WITH A STRING ATTACHED

From time to time, in the courts of the land, we hear dred 'cases' concerning gifts with strings attached.

A man makes a will. With the best intent in the world, he imposes conditions with respect to some legacy. If the conditions can be immediately fulfilled, well and good... But sometimes they are of such a nature that they represent a continuing obligation. Sometimes the donor, what was responsible for the will was made is no longer

And thus the courts have another case to decide.

If gifts with strings of this nature attached are undesirable in the realm of private affairs, they are doubly so when they involve the affairs of a nation.

Hilaire Lahaye, a Liberal member of the-Belgian parliament, is campaigning for the elimination 'of controls over the consumption of alcohol in that country.

For some reason whenever lawmakers start regulating the drinking habits of a people they seem to be unable to resist the "unlimited sentence" law in Belgium are strange—although no stranger than similar laws in other countries we could mention. Since 1919, Belgian cafes have been severely restricted stronger drinks. It is suspected that "reliable customers" have received other beverages in beer glasses, drinks which have all the characteristics of whisky, brandy, gin and rum. Under this police, however, have been able to prove 'it, because the law permits them to investigate the nature of only "abandoned and unclaimed beverages" and no "reliable customer" has ever abandoned his glass.

The Belgium Government would not be averse to ending "restrictive-prohibition" in Belgium but hesitates to do so because of being ancestrally "wedded" to an agreement. The regulations came into effect in 1919 after John D. Rockefeller had promised Belgium a considerable sum of money for reconstruction after the devastation of the Great War; provided it would take steps to restrict alcoholism.

Would not the Belgians perhaps be justified in arguing that, the Second Great War, with the resultant necessity to undertake national reconstruction all over again, has severed the string which has tied them to "limited abstinence," whatever this self-contradictory phrase may mean?

"THE GLORY THAT IS GREECE"

The press bureau of the Royal Greek Embassy at Ottawa has issued a booklet, "The Glory That is Greece," by George D. Viasis.

The title may change in tense drew our attention. The booklet's theme, however, is largely the same as that of the more familiar phrase, "the glory that was Greece and the grandeur that was Rome." Yet in the present tense is justified, as is proven by the magnificent pictures which illustrate the booklet.

All these photographs, of course, are of Greece today. Some present scenes which could be matched in many other lands. Those which hold our attention, however, are the pictures which depict the glory that was—and that still is—in Greece. Acropolis, of the entrance to the stadium where the first Olympic games were held; of the treasure house of the Athenians at Delphi and of the Temple of Apollo, at Delphi.

Most striking feature of these pictures is the atmosphere of ruin which tells its own vivid story of an ancient and magnificent past. The Greeks have had stone enough to set the ruins spreads. If we possessed them we should, alas, have had some people urging that we "restore" them to their original form.

ONTARIO BUDGET BOTHERS NOBODY

It is surprising with what equanimity the citizen of Ontario can face the imminent announcement of a new provincial budget. When Premier Frost announced on last Wednesday that he will bring down Ontario's budget on March 10, the news did not even ruffle the brow' of the weary-wary in the province.

Let a municipal council deliberate regarding the year's tax rate and every property-owner dons a scowl in preparation for the bad news. As for finance ministers of Ottawa, they make us all wonder what is behind their intentions. But when Premier Frost announces a budget speech is coming up, most of us couldn't care less.

Now if we, the people, were to be consulted, the situation might be different. But in Ontario, and in several other provinces, provincial budgets hold no terrors. Of course, this is because provincial governments do not tax their residents and tax them plenty. It is because provincial treasurers have managed to devise ways of taxing us without us noticing it. 'In this case, at least, ignorance is bliss. Perhaps we ought to worry about that.

SO DEFICITS ARE EXPANSIONIST!

James Coyne, the new governor of the Bank of Canada, says that a government deficit is considered to have an "expansionist" effect which is pretty much in quarrel with Mr. Coyne on matters of high finance. We shall not even ask him how it happens that Canada has been developing so rapidly during the years in which the Federal Government has had whopping surpluses. The answer would obviously be that our growth was in spite of, and not because of, these surpluses—unless the answer was that surpluses have an "expansionist" effect, too. As we said, we do not wish to debate matters of high finance with Mr. Coyne.

All that we wish to do is to observe that in the realm of high finance it is to say 'in the best interests of our family, a deficit has a quite pronounced "contractionist" effect on all activities except the rise of our blood pressure.

GLEANINGS FROM OUR FILES OF BYGONE YEARS

30 YEARS AGO
March 9th., 1925

Before the bay bridge was constructed a ferry used to operate between this city and the resort village of Glenora shore. One we remember was called the Mary Ellen and the life of the boat from which it operated was at the bottom of South Front Street, opposite Victoria Park. The following item from our files appeared at this time in 1895 refers to the ferry: "The special committee which was appointed by the council to receive information upon the proposed new ferry met at Mayor J. W. Dunnett's office last night. The members of the committee present were Ald. F. W. Johnson, Ald. G. S. Tickell, Ald. Wallace, Ald. Macoun and Ald. Diamond. The Rathbun Company offered to build a boat 135 feet long, 28 feet beam and with speed of twelve miles per hour for the sum of $14,000. It was decided to submit a bylaw to the people authorizing the council to issue debentures for $14,000, required to build the ferry."

It would appear from present indications that the spring thaw has arrived.

The members of the Board of Trade struck a popular chord last night when they committed themselves to a proposition to make traffic on the bay bridge free. The abolition of the bridge tolls would mean the increase of 25 per cent in the business of local merchants. Think of what that would mean to our city. Present at the meeting were the following: the president of the board C. M. Rick, J. Parker Thomas, W. H. Gordon, Charles M. Reid, Walter Alford, David Carlow, Lieut. Col. W. H. Ponton, Charles J. Bowell, Chirles Clapp, T. J. Blackburn, Arthur Lewis and C. B. Scantlebury.

Spring Cleaning

(New York Times)

At certain seasons the lady of the house begins to fidget and gets a faraway look in her eye. In late summer, for example, when it is time to think of getting children back to school, or about with the educational system. Or in the early summer, when she begins to ponder the logistics of vacation travel. And, now, when she begins to plan a domestic operation that is entirely unnecessary and needlessly upsetting to household routine. Does will say, now, that it is already time to begin spring cleaning, in the hope of in the event she will have purchased a new mop or broom, or both. The head of the house may argue that it is by no means spring by the calendar, or wise or by the calendar, and he may say that spring cleaning should be done in spring and not in the middle of winter. He may also say that the amount of cleaning and dusting done during the week should make unnecessary the periodic orgy of spring cleaning which, thanks to modern cleaning devices and materials, can be attended to the old wooden icebox.

All this logic is wasted on the lady of the house, who, ignoring the calendar, declares it to be spring. Th truth—which may not be spoken aloud—is that the lady of the house likes spring cleaning at whatever season. She likes to send the men folk off to work, to retreat from flying cloths and whisking brooms, and particularly this rite permits her to assume; she likes the bustle, the moving of furniture, the feeling of having about of furniture. During spring cleaning she reigns supreme. Spring cleaning is good for her ego.

To be sure, her campaigns are not efficient. She is more to them than wholesale assaults on dust. Each year some main target gets more and more attention and each year the head of the house is more and more puzzled that target will be. Last year it was the cellar, cleaned with an efficiency that left it hardly recognized and depressed the trash collecting crews. The year before that it was the garage, which has not been the same since, it being still possible to get the car all the way inside and to close the doors. Before that the house, having acquired wisdom, no longer inquires what the season's major objective will be, but it is safe to say that it will get an evasive reply. He will wait, patiently, for the general's announcement.

And so when, this season, the lady of the house asks to be excused until Saturday to clean the bookshelves, the head of the house knows what the main target is and he accepts it with pleads ignorance of the technique of cleaning bookshelves, and he told he will be given instructions after he finds the ladder. Finding it, recalls a Christmas gift of bookplates from a friend who borrowed some books in 1933 and has returned none. He hopes that the lady of the house has forgotten all about those bookplates. But, of course —she has not; his instructions for cleaning book shelves include advice on putting bookplates in books.

Sitting on top of the ladder near the ceiling, the head of the house discovers how many interesting things find their ways behind books in bookshelves. A tennis ball, for example. A small brass Chinese pheasant. A stamp pad, quite dried up. An almanac for the year 1935. A knitting needle. A bill for the house titles of climbing down his ladder with these things, and sits high on his perch, he reads through an old copy of "Little Dorrit." Coming upon this scene the lady of the house briskly demands access to the ladder so that the bookshelves may be properly scrubbed. "What a load you take from me," says the head of the house, "you give me," says the head of the house, reading from page 200 of "Little Dorrit." He does not force the opinion of the lady of the house that men are poor housecleaners, an opinion that the head of the house has been forming for many years, but he goes with slowly increasing success.

What Girls Are Made Of

(Ansteys, London.)

"Sugar and spice and all things nice—that's what little girls are made of." Or so we were told in the nursery days of yore.

Perhaps you never felt inclined to believe it, anyway, but now science has found the ancestors of the female should be demolished by 1,725 gallons of water, 120 pounds of lime; 31 pounds of carbon; enough glycerine to explode a shot gun and enough coke to make five pounds of glue; enough iron to make a shoeing nail, and enough sulphur to rid a pet of fleas.

No spice, you will notice. But this is apart! Here the analysis falls short of poetical and the famous nursery rhyme. The modern girl's body contains sugar to the quantity of—four ounces!

CHAINS EASILY FORGED

The story is told of an East Indian boy man who every year added a child to his hands and feet. At last he got himself so cluttered up with chains that when he wanted to take a railroad trip the station master would not sell him a ticket because he could not get on a passenger and had become inflexible. It is said, however, he would have to go either in a freight or an express car.

All of us have headed ourselves with heavy chains until we are no longer joyful, hopeful, thankful to God but bunks of weighty freight. Our Lord Jesus told us not to be anxious all the time and to stop worrying what we shall eat and drink and wear but what people say about us, or whether we will keep up with our neighbors and excel them in the popularity of cocktail parties, or how we can prove with the country club crowd. Every physician knows that the world is full of people emotionally wise and spend their lives and their money trying to get rid of their anxieties and frequently having fancy and expensive operations performed. Nearly all of them keep taking and feeling. Everybody knows how the Christian Science worries about perfect baby. If she has a half-dozen, the last one gets sick and a prominent one grows up the better for it.

What are you, brother or sister? Are you a passenger in your journey through life, or a bunk of freight, weighted down with chains of your own forging?

TODAY'S TALK

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

THE POWER OF PURPOSE

I have lived an interesting life over a number of years. I have made the study of people a hobby. Every human being is something to learned from everybody but the most interesting people, to me, are those who are steady, who receive, and direct aim or purpose in life. I like to watch them and see one and makes him outstanding.

People with no aim or purpose are like rudderless ships—endless people—watching those p a s s by in their ships, going no place in the procession of useful doors. The power of purpose is what each one of us must have to sustain our initiative and keep our faith warmly alive.

Purpose in itself is not enough. We must hitch it, up, put power behind it, and keep increasing that power. I once read a book with the title "One Increasing Purpose." That's what boosts people to the top places in life. The car builders have added to their engine's power. It promises ease of handling, saving of energy, and adds to the purpose behind all efficient machines.

This bodily machine of ours as well should be kept in top condition. We can train our system by every experience in life. The power of purpose and the power of prayer are tremendous. They are under one strong force in command. Without it, it is hard to get and aim in life, and even miss that aim, than to have no aim at all, and get something that you don't want.

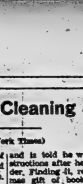
Little do we know of the power back of a concentrated and dedicated purpose. People with it have inspired all the world about them and have lighted lamps of immortal achievements that the pages of history will never allow to fade away.

Londoners Drink Coffee

(New York Herald Tribune)

More than a hundred coffee shops have opened their doors in London in the last year, and they are popping up now at the rate of two a week—an odd trend in a metropolitan city famed for its drinking.

They're a far cry from the eighteenth-century coffee house celebrated by Samuel Johnson, Boswell, Addison, with fancy names such as "Ei Cubana," "Chiquito," and "Ensemble." The heavy black fluid emerges from an Italian coffee-making machine called the Espresso.



The boom has brought massive into the coffee business. An antique dealer put her antiques in the cellar and substituted coffee. A photographer moved his cameras upstairs and went into a coffee partnership with a psychiatrist.

FIVE THOUSAND CASES OF SYPHILIS

One redeeming feature of the work of Aunt Polly—you know that garrulous one tween title or headline and text. For example Aunt Polly distributes one headed "5,000 Cases of Syphilis in Men Called," which reported a doctor as having declared that out of 120,000 blood tests on men coming up for duly under the selective service from 1 to 34 out of every 1,000 men were found to have syphilis."

Seven times 120 would make 840; fourteen times 120 would make 1,680. Even that is a lot of men to reflect for military service because of syphilis. Apparently Aunt Polly overworked her poetic licence in the headlines, or else misquoted part of the article. But about the prevalence of syphilis among the young men and women there. But what does it matter whether 7, 14, or 41 out of a thousand young people are infected with gonorrhea, in all classes of society? The fact is there, but having told the truth about it, the physician and the health administrator can only leave it to those concerned about morality to decide what to do about it.

Dull Speech Contest Brisk

(Ottawa Journal)

"Longest and dullest speech in years" reads the caption on a descriptive article in another newspaper. The proprietor is not named, but his identity is our secret.

The phrase takes in a good deal of ground. There are long speeches and there are dull speeches and a speech which meets one of those specifications does not necessarily fall under the second. There are long speeches that leave the audience gasping for more and there are short speeches dull from the first word. But, when length and dullness be combined there is something for the record, something to break in history with.

A masterpiece of this sort does not just happen—it is the achievement, collective achievement. A man does not just toss it off in a casual way. It takes hours—it takes planning, thought, and organization.

He assembles material and types his quotations, making sure that they are long, hard to follow, and suitably remote from his subject. He seeks out and treasures the relentless blue pencil any glimmer of humor, any scintillation. Ah, of hesitations, of searches for a missing word, of long, long pauses after brief spasms! Ah, how essentially the speaker skips a page of his manuscript—which of course he reads badly.

With sufficient attention to all these points it is possible to deliver a speech memorable for its dullness and its length, and the throwing of the sword.

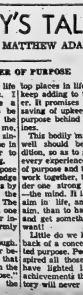
Starting Day In Right Way

(Sherbrooke Record)

Got up early this morning—ah-h don't spread it round—had breakfast and was at work in the office, not with the electronic accompaniment of a guided missile, but at a placid 30 miles all the way, and arrived a picture of tranquility. Ah-h, that's the solution—it should be done more often.

To back up our theory, doctors and nutrition experts say for the majority of us a short mental performance—that's the—a person—with etiquette volumes should devote their opening chapters to breakfast menus.

This start we say right is a good idea. We've got to break in on Dorchester, and decided that all five stations in the county should be painted red.



Grant's Statement

(Niagara Falls Review)

True sayings are not new and there is much of truth in the one said by General Grant many years ago, as follows: Though I have been intimately a soldier, and participated in many battles, I have never, at any time, in my opinion, some way could not be found to prevent the drawing of the sword.

Asphalt Not Recommended As Cow Fodder

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Between other business Monday the Alberta legislature was told of strange complaints that cows ate roads and oil rigs invade the cow country.

Agriculture Minister Halmrast said his department began experimenting after a farmer claimed his cows died after eating from a pile of road asphalt.

The findings: Asphalt doesn't kill cattle but it doesn't do them any good, either. The experiments may also determine whether cows have been killed by eating materials found near oil wells.

In other legislatures:

British Columbia: The British Columbia government revised its education finance and municipal aid grants.

Municipal aid grants were increased. Municipalities receiving the greater benefit. The grant was raised to $7,250,000 from $6,450,000. School board grants were cut to $33,945,000 from $34,400,000.

Prince Edward Island: A bill giving Prince Edward Island its first retirement of labor was passed. Premier A. W. Matheson gave no information on who will administer the act.

Saskatchewan: P. A. Howe, whip of Saskatchewan's CCF government, said high taxes are the result of the federal government's removing price control after the Second World War.

"Prices went up and up, but the returns to the farmer went down and down," he said. "When prices go up, taxes have to up too."

Nova Scotia: A national fuel policy was urged by three parties in the Nova Scotia legislature.

Alex O'Handley (L—Cape Breton North) said he agreed with a CCF proposal that a "use coal" campaign be intensified, but that he foresaw difficulties.

"Canada has vast quantities of natural gas and oil products," he said. "I don't know how, but assistance must come from Ottawa."

Churchill Cancels Lunch With Princess

LONDON (CP)—Prime Minister Churchill cancelled his scheduled appearance at a luncheon for Princess Alexandra at Marlborough House today because of a cold. His doctor advised him to stay indoors.

The 80-year-old prime minister presided Monday at a cabinet meeting to hear a report from Foreign Secretary Pearson on his visit to the Far East. Today Lord Moran, his personal physician, advised him to rest up.

Provincial Police Get Increases In Wage Scale

TORONTO (CP)—The amounts of proposed increases in Ontario Provincial Police salaries were made public Monday.

It was announced last week that adjustments will go into effect April 1.

The new salary ranges, with present ranges bracketed:

Constable, $2,760-$3,600 ($2,760-$3,300); corporal, $3,300-$4,080 ($3,450 - $3,600); sergeant, $4,200-$4,400 ($3,750-$4,100); staff sergeant, $4,600-$5,000 ($4,250-$4,500); inspector (CIB) $6,100 - $7,050 ($4,900-$5,200); district inspector, $6,100-$7,050 ($4,900 — $5,800); senior staff inspector, $6,700-$7,400 ($5,300-$6,400); director of Police College, $7,400-$8,200 ($5,800-$7,000); chief inspector CIB, $7,400-$8,200 ($5,800-$7,000); deputy commissioner, $8,000-$10,000 ($6,800-$8,200).

RAIDERS SOUGHT PAPERS

BERN (Reuters) — A band of anti-Communist gunmen who attacked and kidnapped the Rumanian legation here last month all came from Germany and had planned the raid three months in advance, the Swiss department of justice and police stated today. The four men held by the police said their main objective in making the raid was to seize official documents of the Rumanian Communist government.

Extension Work Being Carried Out By Provinces

TORONTO (CP)—Methods best adapted for the carrying on and widening of agricultural extension work have been discussed at a meeting of the newly-formed Agricultural Extension Council.

The council, which includes representatives of all the provinces, met during the week-end to review methods of procedure in carrying out the work. It will seek to unify to some degree the extension work being carried out by the provinces.

Extension work, carried out under the department of agriculture, is designed to give free advice to farmers. County agricultural representatives advise farmers on crops, fertilizers, cattle and other subjects. They also assist junior farm organizations.

The council will suggest to the various provincial governments that short courses be set up to enable workers to take additional training.

It recommended that agricultural education institutions make it possible for agricultural or home economics undergraduates to take subjects considered of more value in the extension field in place of some of those which are now part of the course. —

Convicts Hire Plane to Fly Over Volcano

HILO, Hawaii (AP)—Everyone who could flew over Hawaii's erupting volcano in the last week, even 40 convicts from Kulani prison.

The prisoners paid for a chartered plane. They were accompanied by superintendent Charles E. Smith and several guards.

Said a prison official: "It's part of the institution's educational activities."

One Man Killed

OWEN SOUND (CP) — A man killed Monday in a two-car collision in a heavy snowstorm about 10 miles west of here has been identified as William A. McCulloch, 72, of Paisley.

Raymond Kirkland, 30, of Hepworth, driver of the other car, was not hurt, police said. Both men were alone at the time of the crash.

COLD SNAP IN VANCOUVER

Four pelicans don't seem to mind the recent cold snap in Vancouver's Stanley Park when the temperature dropped to 14.9 degrees. The fountain, however, is cooled with ice and the water flow is reduced to a trickle. (CP Photo).

Disney, Young, Thomas and Gobel Win Top Honors in TV Awards

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Walt Disney, Loretta Young, Danny Thomas and George Gobel won top honors Monday night in the seventh annual television academy awards.

Disney, no newcomer to winning honors—he has 22 movie Oscars—collected the Emmy for the best TV variety series with his "Disneyland." The show also won an Emmy for the best individual program—its "Operation Undersea."

Loretta Young added to the movie accent in the 'nationally televised awards, drawing the accolade for best actress. The film veteran, who stars on her own TV show, is believed to be the first actress to win both an Emmy and an Oscar.

Miss Young's victory was somewhat of a surprise, and so was that of Danny Thomas, who was named the best actor starring in a regular series. His "Make Room for Daddy" was named best situation comedy series.

GOBEL IS WINNER

Little George Gobel started off the show at the Moulin Rouge with a bang, winning a highly popular award as TV's most outstanding new personality.

The biggest applause from the 1,500 TV celebrities at the awards event was for Dinah Shore, who was named best female singer. Perry Como, who was given the best male singer Emmy, was one of the few winners not present. Also absent was Jack Webb, who is on location in New Orleans. His "Dragnet" was termed the best mystery or intrigue series.

Audrey Meadows and Art Carney were named for supporting-role Emmys. They appear on the Jackie Gleason show.

Civil Defence Now Is Part Of Civic Duty

MONTREAL (CP) — Civil defence now is part of the civic duty of every Canadian citizen and an inescapable responsibility of community government, Health Minister Martin told Monday night.

Senior governments could offer guidance, planning and financial assistance, but, in the final analysis, a successful civil defence program depended on participation of individual citizens and on community leadership, Mr. Martin, federal minister in charge of civil defence, was addressing the Business and Professional Women's Club of Montreal.

Mr. Martin said it would be folly to assume that any community large or small, would be immune from the effects of any future thermonuclear attack.

His statements were included in the text of a speech issued to the press before delivery.

First reaction to news of the hydrogen bomb was one of futility, almost approaching despair. In the wake of this, Victoria, B.C., and Peterborough, Ont., decided to disband their embryonic civil defence organizations. But new plans for the light of changed circumstances, gradually dispelled feelings of futility and the two cities reorganized their civil defence.

HALF BALD

CHICAGO (AP)—William Grikscy, 38-year-old television performer, has sued Alexs Hair and Scalp Clinic for $100,000, alleging that the company used his photograph in an advertisement and made him the object of ridicule. Grikscy alleged that the photo was doctored and was used without his consent. He said the picture was doctored so that only the right side of his face was shown in likeness. The left side of the face showed him to be bald.

MAY LOSE BABY

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)—Hospital authorities said film actress Pier Angeli, injured in a plane accident, is in fine condition but they will not know for several days if the baby will lose the expected baby. The 22-year-old Italian-born actress suffered a fractured pelvis when she fell while aboard a plane Feb. 25.

Pie Social, Play Sponsored By Bethel W.A.

RAWDON — Bethel W.A., under the leadership of Mrs. Thomas Laycock, had a successful pie social at Bethel United Church on Thursday evening.

Despite the cold east wind, guests were in attendance from Carmel, Stirling, Salem, Springbrook, Burnbrae, Mount Pleasant and Wellman.

Seymour United circuit Y.P.U. which comprises young people from Petherick's, Hoards and Leslie Hill presented their three act comedy play entitled, "Ginger Girl", with the following cast.

Harry Wardner, a young business man—Rev. Gordon Whitehorne.

Grace Wardner, his wife—Harriet Fry.

Charles Retoiz, radio announcer—Gordon Osborne.

Lenora Heinrich, his wife—Gladys Clarke;

Jenny Kramer, an old maid'—Jessie Brown and Norma Cundell.

Filled in for Gail Greenley who was ill, Anne did a good job.

Herb Moseley, another neighbor—Gerald Hoag.

Polly Sheldon, the Ginger Girl—Doris Hoard;

Ezra B. Meek, banker — Eldon Petherick; MacGuire, the policeman—Earl Owens; Doctor Shubb —Austin Stevens; Gus Cringle, wealthy Westerner—Bill Petherick; Stella Sprogue the maid — Phyllis Buchanan.

The characters, along with Bob Tinney, as sound man, put on a lot of noise and action with exclamations, fire engine, taxi and other clatter as the story progressed.

The three scenes were all in a New York home with many complications when included marital troubles, a new invention, and several harrowing experiences. There was a lot of fun throughout the play and the audience rocked with laughter as various antics came along.

GUESTS WELCOMED

Rev. W. G. Fletcher welcomed the guests to Bethel and between acts Mr. Gerald Taylor gave an accordion number and Mrs. William Heath and Mrs. Ray Shorts' contributed a piano duet.

The ladies of Bethel served a variety of sandwiches and pickles and the audience was well supplied with a large array of delicacies, with all varieties of cakes from and home cooked "eat their limit". The evening was a decided success.

Women's Institute

PARK DALE W.I.

The February meeting of the Park Dale W.I. which was postponed until Wednesday, was held at the home of Mrs. H. Hodgson. There was a good attendance. The meeting opened in the usual manner with Mrs. C. Keeble presiding.

During the business, Mrs. R. Marry gave a report from the parks board, stating that the new recreation room will not be ready for use until late fall.

Mrs. R. Brickman, from the Redeemerite Institute, appeared and told the purpose of a Lady Tweedsmuir Book, which is released to the W.I., from Wallbridge Women's Institute. The book was interesting and Park Dale W.I. hopes to start theirs in the near future.

Current events on the humorous side were given by Mrs. G. Miller.

Mrs. R. Brown conducted a game with Miss J. Jerome the winners.

Mrs. J. Simpson who does leather work as a hobby, displayed her patterns and tools and discussed the different materials she uses to get the different designs. She had several pieces of her finished work, to show which were beautiful.

GUEST ARTIST

The guest artist for the evening, Miss J. Jerome played several pieces on her piano accordion which were much enjoyed.

Mrs. L. May gave the motto: "The way to a man's heart is through his stomach."

Mrs. B. Cone conducted another game.

Refreshments were served and a social half hour enjoyed.

Women's Activities

TRINITY CHURCH SR. W. A.

FRANKFORD — The regular meeting of Trinity Anglican Women's Auxiliary was held in the Parish Hall on Thursday afternoon. The president, Miss Winifred Dench was in the chair.

The Scripture, taken from Prov. Acts, Chapter 10, 34-43 was read by Mrs. A. Gilmour. The Lord's Prayer, Members' Prayer, Queen Parizet's Prayer and a prayer for those about to be confirmed, were led by Miss Dench. A Litany of Intercession taken from the Service Book was said.

The Secretary's report was read by Mrs. C. Cooney and adopted and the treasurer's report was given and the February Social report was read by Mrs. C. Cooney.

The Dorcas work was then discussed. A quilting bee was decided upon and will be held some time in March.

Miss Dench led in the closing prayer.

Many View Queen Alexandra Art Display at McCarthy Theatre

Over 200 have already viewed the art exhibit by the pupils of Queen Alexandra School, which has been on display for the past week and will continue to be on display until Saturday of this week in the lounge of the McCarthy Theatre.

This exhibition comprises specimen art from grades one to eight, and includes finger painting, crayon work, geometrical designs in color, pencil and ink drawings, posters, and some interesting scenery as well as hand cut-outs, and some fine work both in white and black silhouettes.

Among the art exhibits from Grade 1 were crayon drawings of the interior of a school room showing a row of seats with back view of children gazing at the blackboard, and one of a boy with colorful clothes and a Mexican style with irregular haircut, in best use of black and white registers the time as five past two.

PAST AND PRESENT

Other Grade 1 works included a sheet of snow storm; a house and wagon drawn by a horse with reins apparently running under the seat instead of the bit; a well done head and shoulders of a modern lady with sweeping clothes, fair hair and black, pill-box hat ornamented with one plain rose. She wore a complementary set of matching earrings. The other head and shoulder drawing was of a lady in the late nineteenth century with her hair elaborately tied in rows, a high-necked, ruching-edged blouse in all-over colorful pattern; and a large sized doll with red middy blouse and red dimensional pleated skirt. The drawing of the library room with its rows of books on "Other Lands" and "History", with three little girls, and two boys, was well done, both as to detail and subject matter.

There were some fine animal and bird pictures which showed both care in detail, and composition, these included "Mallard Ducks in Marsh," white-headed "American Eagle" on a limb, the "Wolf and the Jackal," disputing about the ownership of the slain deer, with mauve mountains and natural looking glacier in the background; another eye-catching, colored drawing was that of "The Trout," with trees and waterfall making a realistic picture.

FINE PIECE OF ART

A particularly fine piece of art work was the black and white drawing of the head of a Springer spaniel with soulful eyes. This was so life-like one expected to hear him bark. The expression was most lovely, and brings high credit to the little artist.

A nice drawing of "Sammy Blue Jay" was well executed in black and white, by a pupil in Grade 6. This grade also had geometrical drawings in color, and fanciful designs. A landscape head also deserves comment for its artistic treatment and colors.

Grade 8 showed crayon drawings of a sailing vessel, the "Q.A.S." and some colorful kaleidoscopic designs.

PAPER HAND WORK

The hand work in paper included a series of clocks, both wall, and the old grandfather type, done in heavy paper in varying colors of red, green and blue. The wall pieces in plate design showed the different parts of the old Willow pattern story.

The work by the little fingers of the kindergarten children included little paper figurines from narrow strips, depicting some of the nursery rhymes, as "Jack be Nimble," a dancing girl, a sleigh and load, and a new pink hat with long ribbon streamers.

The finger paintings of Grade 4 were in pleasing hues, clear and crisp, while Grade 3 showed designs in green, red and yellow on a black disk; Indian designs in crayon with totem pole; Mexican jugs in red and black with yellow bands, and a design made from colored scraps; a Mexican scene showing palm trees and the house, with adults and children, which showed color appreciation; a winter picture of the Northland with igloos and dog team and red sleigh had imagination.

AUTUMN SCENES

Grade 5 had a number of scenes showing pines, and autumn tints, but were well done and showed talent which should be developed. Others included wild flowers, and "Fernando Flight over a pond where bullrushes accent the scene"; a farm scene in pencil having a world of detail depicting the home, the stately elms, the fence and winding road, and in the foreground the farmer.

Grade 6 had a fine display of a fairy-like design showing a toadstool with a little gnome seated at its base, while enhancing the design was a lovely white snowdrop lifting its white flowers above the toadstool.

The silhouettes were most attractive with their trees and lake; a duck in flight; "the swan upon the still St. Mary's Lake"; "Boating" and an autumn scene showing pumpkins in white against a black background.

Among other art work, that of the spatter variety depicted a single rose in vase on a black background; and one or two flowers in a vase also on a dark background, the flowers being of a darker shade. In comparison with the dark silhouettes there was a white silhouette done on a dark ground, showing a cutter and driver, and garage in white. Several book cover designs included "Sewing," with picture of a pair of scissors; "Wood Working" with appropriate "T" square; "Paint and Brush," with two brushes and color chart.

PERSPECTIVE DRAWING

A fine piece of perspective drawing showed the interior of a school room with rows of seats, and much detail. Remarkably well executed.

A poetry depicted a girl's head and shoulders, and a cluster of wild white flowers. This bore the legend: "Protect the Beauties of Nature". The health bulletin urged everyone to keep his child in home and not to spread the cold. This thought was carried out by depicting a little lad, with smiling face ensconced in bed beneath a colorful patchwork quilt. Another bulletin on "Soil Conservation," portrayed two cows, sitting down in conversational attitude, the one saying to the other: "Live stock is important. But if you over-graze your watersheds and erode your top soil, how're you gonna maintain your

Christ Church A.B.W.A. Holds Meeting

The regular monthly business meeting of the Afternoon Branch of the Women's Auxiliary of Christ Church was held in the parish hall.

Visitors at this meeting were members of the Evening Branch of the W.A.

The president, Mrs. R. H. Godden, presided, and after usual business procedure, called upon the rector, Archdeacon J. B. Cresswell, who was the guest speaker. The Archdeacon is giving a short talk each Thursday afternoon to the members of the W.A. during Lent.

During the afternoon letters of thanks for parcels of handicraft material and bedding were read from matrons at Chesulta School, Carcross, Yukon and St. Agnes Hesta, Whitehorse, Yukon.

Archdeacon Cresswell dismissed the meeting after which refreshments were served.

stock?"

PEN AND INK

Other drawings included "Hunting", showing a marsh with decoys, the hunters in the act of bringing down a duck; autumn scenes with colorful trees and distant islands, with hazy purple background; pen and ink drawing of a pointer dog, and ducks in marsh; an ink drawing of a woodland scene, another of a lonely pine with rocks and stream and cattail.

A fine collection of school art bringing acclaim both to teacher and to pupil.

Missionary Convention Held By Pentecostal Assemblies

A capacity audience in Calvary Temple on Sunday night, and a special missionary offering of $613 climaxed the first missionary convention of the Pentecostal Assemblies of Canada to be held in the Bellevile church.

Speakers during the convention, which commenced on Thursday evening, included the Rev. George R. Upton, Missionary Secretary and the Rev. Clare C. Scratch, promotional missionary secretary, of the headquarters office, Toronto, the Rev. Ernie Francis and Mrs. Francis, missionaries of Kenya Colony, British East Africa, Miss Margaret Cantwell, teacher in the training school for native teachers in Kenya Colony, and the Rev. Robert Peat, head of the Pentecostal Press, Transvaal, South Africa.

In his address on Sunday evening the Rev. Ernie Francis told how the missionaries in Kenya were laboring for the cause of Christ in the dangerous country of the Mau Mau terrorists. His two children were attending the Rift Valley Academy in the midst of the Kikuyu territory from which the Mau Mau had sprung. The school is surrounded by barbwire entangled fences and is guarded day and night.

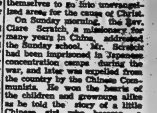
500 ATTACK TOWN

One night a force of 500 Mau Mau attacked a town three miles from the school, set fire to the dwellings and slashed to pieces all those who tried to escape the flames. The terrorists moved up to attack the school and take the lives of some 100 or more children, but for some strange reason they seemed afraid to attack and could not make their way in. Once or twice they were captured and, "There is something with them", the children said, "but while the Communists sacrifice everything to advance their cause.

"Our missionaries are insulated against the powers of Satan only as Christian people are faithful in prayer and sacrificial giving," Mr. Upton made a plea for greater interest in the missionary program of the Christian church.

On Thursday evening, the Rev. Ernie Francis showed slides of some of the missionary outposts and local churches in Kenya Colony, also some depicting the habits and customs of the natives.

Miss Margaret Cantwell, who was born and educated in Picton, spoke on Friday night and gave a thrilling account of her work in that her primary purpose is going to Africa was to win souls for Christ. She also showed pictures of the schools and various classes connected with her work.



FILM IN COLOR

On Saturday night, the Rev. Robert Peat told of his work on the Reigavat Press in the Transvaal. A great deal of Christian literature and Bible translations had been printed and circulated, he stated, and an additional press was being installed to increase the output. A thrilling missionary sound film in color, "The Regions Beyond," was shown on Saturday night. The film carried tremendous appeal and touched the hearts of the large audiences as they saw portrayed the struggles, heartache and sacrifice of a missionary couple who had dedicated themselves to go into unevangelized country for the cause of Christ.

On Sunday morning, the Rev. Clare Scratch, a missionary for many years in China, addressed the Sunday school. Mr. Scratch had been imprisoned in Japanese concentration camps during the war, and later was expelled from the country by the Chinese Communists. He won the hearts of the children and grownups alike as he told the story of a little Chinese girl who became a Christian and stood true in spite of persecution, until at last, in answer to prayers, her whole family accepted Christ.

A much greater appreciation for missionary endeavor has followed as a result of this great convention.

DREAMY DELIGHT

By VERA WINSTON

Queen of the slumberwear kingdom is the shortie nightgown so easily cared for fabric. Any rate, that's what store buyers say as they write orders for the season. And this is the sort of thing that gets these choosey shoosers so enthusiastic. The fabric is a new, embossed batiste that needs no ironing. Floral ribbon banding across the bustline is fluted for ruffled daintiness. Val lace is used around the neck and arms and also edges the bloomer panties.

Beauty

By HELEN JAMESON

AFFECTATIONS UPSET THE BEAUTY CART

In Hollywood there are schools that train pretty girls for movie stardom. The first thing that an instructor tells a girl is to strive to be natural and unaffected.

They are told not to be copy-cats, to avoid trying to duplicate famous beauties of the screen. It is explained to them that, though they may have the same hairdo, follow the same make-up tricks, wear the same kind of clothes, it is personality that counts.

In these schools, training is adopted to the individual needs of each student. Talk points are ironed, covered, worked on, corrected.

Teachers report that the girl who is a natural is handicapped and has to be disciplined. She does not behave in an easy, natural manner, nor does she move with grace because she is self-conscious.

Calisthenics are a part of the routine, even though a girl has a silhouette that qualifies. Regular exercise helps to maintain normal weight and measurements. If the candidate is overtaxed in only a few pounds underweight, she is put on a diet that will enable her to add more curvaceous.

Posture must be perfect for pretties who would find fame and fortune on the screen. They are taught to walk beautifully with a light step, body erect. They must know how to slide into a chair gracefully, to sit in a single, unbroken movement.

ADVICE to the LOVELORN

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

LET YOUR BOY FRIEND DRAW HIS OWN CONCLUSIONS

Dear Miss Fairfax:

This past summer, I went steady with a boy who was the sweetest thing ever. At the end of the summer we decided to break up because we don't live anywhere near each other.

Then, last fall, I started going steady with another boy who lives only a block away from me, but three weeks later I broke off with him because I found out that I liked him only because he reminded me of my last summer's boy friend.

At the time I started going steady with the second boy, I told the first boy about it, but now I want to tell the first boy how stupid I was and how much I miss him, if I call him up, I'm afraid he'll think me bold, because he's very shy and quiet, so please help me. — S.S.

Dear S.S.:

I'd advise against making a project of telling the first boy that you made a mistake in going with the second one and so forth. Just let that second romance die a natural death, if that's the way you want it, and don't be inviting the other boy to the funeral.

Although you say, in the first part of your letter, that you and the first boy "don't live anywhere near each other," it can't be very far apart or you wouldn't be thinking of phoning him. If he is within driving distance, then think of something you might invite him to, such as a party, or some event coming up at your school, a dance, or anything else to which it would be natural for a girl to invite an escort. Do this without any announcement that you have broken off with the second boy, so he should be smart enough to draw that conclusion himself. Then, if he likes you as much as you seem to like him, he'll be glad to take advantage of the opportunity to see you again.

IF YOU HAVE A GOOD REPUTATION, DON'T SPOIL IT

Dear Miss Fairfax:

I was once on a school panel for the problems of teen-agers) but I cannot solve my own.

This is, that there is a boy I know only enough to say Hi to when we pass, is steady with a girl, even though he goes out with another girl without the first one knowing it.

One of my boy cousins told me that this fellow is telling other boys that I am a "fast" girl. Since I do not even really know him, I can't understand why he would say such a thing. I have always had a good reputation and I do not want to lose it, so I am asking your help.

Thought of phoning the boy and asking him why he did such a thing, but I wanted to hear what you have to say about it. — E.J.

Dear E. J.:

If you are a girl who has always had a good reputation, then people know you for what you are and would pay no attention to any silly things anyone might say about you.

You would make a big mistake to even let this boy know that you have heard what he has said unless things about you, so don't think for a minute of taking the matter up with him. Have too much pride, self-respect and confidence in yourself, and in your reputation, to have establish, to dignify this by noticing it.

Go ahead about your normal activities, and your own friends, who know you for what you are, will, I am sure, be sufficiently loyal to you to squelch any idle gossip they may hear, especially from a boy who doubtlessons his steady girl friend.

Floral Offering

By TRACY ADRIAN

This season flowery dresses in soft cottons are a most popular choice for resort and cruise travels. And it's no wonder since they are fresh, feminine and are ideal for tropical afternoons and informal evenings.

The one selected is an excellent example of what is done with these colorful fabrics. It is printed in pink, blue, green and lilac and detailed with a band and bow on the bodice. A round neck, short sleeves and a full skirt are other details.

Women's Activities

BAYSIDE W.M.S.

WHITE'S DISTRICT — Mrs. Harry Rutter and Mrs. William Rutter were at home to the ladies of the Bayside Woman's Missionary Society and a few visitors.

The 2nd vice-president, Mrs. Clifton Rusk, presided over the March meeting under the heading "Let's Adjust Our Attitudes". Mrs. Rusk opened with "Great is our Lord and greatly to be praised in the city of our God, in the mountain of His holiness. By this God is our God, for ever and ever. He will be our Guide until death."

Mrs. W. Jeffery was pianist.

The Apostle Paul was fond of reminding his friend of the way his attitude changed when he became a follower of Jesus. This was explained in Philippians 3:8-16 read by Mrs. L. Hunt. In Philippians 2:1-5 Paul gave guidance and direction to those who wanted to follow Jesus. Prayers were offered for the Indian churches and the devotion of their members.

Readings were given by Mrs. J. Stewart and Mrs. E. Bulmer. Mrs. L. Young read an article on Mrs. Winifred Bryle, who will be a guest speaker at the W.M.S. Provincial convention at Picton.

The hostess served refreshments and a social time was enjoyed.

WESLEY W.A.

The regular meeting of Wesley W.A. was held at the home of Mrs. G. Frost.

The president, Mrs. E. Windover, opened the meeting.

Mrs. H. Rutter took charge of the devotional period, dealing at her topic "The Friend". Scripture lessons were read by Mrs. W. Wood and Mrs. E. Bulmer. Mrs. H. Rutter closed this part of the meeting with "Take Time to be Holy", followed by prayer.

Mrs. Windover opened the business part of the meeting and welcomed the visitors and three new members.

The proceeds from the "Snow Ball Tea" amounted to $18.

Mrs. G. K. Graham offered her spacious home for a St. Patrick's tea on March 23.

The parsonage board committee is to consist of Mrs. J. Stewart, Mrs. E. Windsor, Mrs. G. Frost and Mrs. W. Denyes.

Collection amounted to $4.75; flower fund $1.05.

Next meeting is to be held at Mrs. H. Rutter home.

The meeting was closed by the Rev. R. W. T. Middleton.

GOOD MANNERS

By MRS. BEECKMAN

TODAY'S COURTESY HINT

When you begin to tell a story, it's really silly to say, "Stop me if you've heard this." Doubtless someone will stop you. The general run of people will let you finish, and then perhaps look at you as if you should have had better judgment or better sense not to tell such an old one. The really considerate people, not wanting to hurt you embarrass you, will let you flatish and, bless their kind hearts, will make every effort to head as if they had never, never heard it before.

DON'T PUT PRESSURE ON OUT-OF-TOWNERS

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

What do you think of the idea of sending shower invitations to people who live out-of-town, especially when the chances are that it would be impossible for them to come to the shower? To me this seems ridiculous, just baldly begging. Yet my cousin, who usually has a good point of view about etiquette, disagrees with me, maintains that sending such an invitation is really a compliment to the out-of-town person to whom it is sent. — Peggy S.

You're right . . . sending these shower invitations just doesn't make sense. Receiving such a formal invitation would have no compliment or honor attached to it. The obviously it would mean that the invitation was sent with the "nudge" that a shower present be sent . . . "Of course we know you can't come for the shower. But how's about sending a gift!"

INITIALS . . . NOT MONOGRAM . . . FOR MAN'S LETTER-PAPER

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

My husband and I are planning to give our son, who is graduating from boarding-school in June, a birthday present of some really good-looking, plain white letter-paper; single-sheet or fold, size for either writing or typing. We'd like to have it marked. My husband says it mustn't be monogrammed, only initials. Is he right? Reader

Yes! No monogram for a man, young man or older man. Plain block initials are best. I suggest engraved in dark-blue. This type of letter-paper you are planning to give your young man will be most convenient for all uses.

THE PROFESSOR'S PERSONAL CARDS

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

A man friend of mine, a professor in our state university, which is in the city where we both live, has a Ph.D. degree. Yet I noticed lately that on his personal cards his name is engraved (for example) Mr. John Adams Brown. Is the "Mr."—rather than "Dr."—correct in these circumstances? — Jim L.

Yes . . . correct, and usually preferred.

BEST MAN DOESN'T PAY FOR BACHELOR DINNER

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

I'm to be best man at the May wedding of friend of mine. I've been told that the bachelor dinner is my responsibility, that I'm supposed to make all the arrangements for it and that I'm supposed to pay for the same things all the time. I feel that if I could get together with a little variety it would be much easier. . . . I must stay on the diet. . . I am to eat every day —buttermilk or skim milk 1 quart, 1 medium egg, 2 1-2 slices whole grain or enriched bread, 1-2 cup whole grain cereal, 4 oz. raw weight lean meat, poultry or fish, 3 tablespoons cottage cheese, 1 small white potato and other vegetables including at least 1 leafy vegetable 3 oy 4 servings, 1 serving citrus fruit, 2 servings other fruit, 3 teaspoons butter, 2 teaspoons sugar. Best of everything to you.—Mrs. Bee.

ANSWER:

I am going to suggest something that may sound like taking an liberty with the doctor's suggestion. I think the reason he includes sugar is because he thinks you will miss it too much if you do not have it. If this is not the case it is entirely for it is not good for you. If you leave it out you can have 60 more calories and those 60 calories could be some unusual non-fattening drink that you particularly enjoy like an imported plum or 2 or 3 figs or dates or some almonds or pecans. I would advise you strongly to eat 100 per cent whole wheat bread. If you cannot buy it in your town, make it. I have mailed to you a calorie chart, a recipe for whole wheat bread, a copy of a release giving low-calorie recipes and another giving low-calorie recipes. From these I hope you will get the help you want in living the monotony out of your diet. Write again if you think I can help.

LETTER:

Dear Emem: This thank-you note has been on my mind and heart for some time. . . as you column is often pleasantly interspersed with "food for thought" this letter comes in that vein. You see, your every recipe is read and used, many of them I used (and often) and all put away. Your picture is the property of my four-year-old daughter and you are known as the "Smiling Lady." You bring us lots of pleasure and a few people think I can cook! but I know it is your simplified formulas, your spoken faith, and unselfish way of sharing your happy success that do the trick. May I say I often pass your recipes on, and believe, as you must, that only lazy people are lonely.—Dorothy D.

ANSWER:

I'm sitting here at the typewriter with a grin from ear to ear. Even though I don't deserve it praise is a wonderful stimulant. Three cheers for another good cook added to our fold. Thanks for a charming letter. Let me know when I may be of help.

Bonus Readers' Column

As Conducted by Mary Moore

NOTE FROM EMEM:

In the past couple of weeks it has been ground into my consciousness that something drastic has to be done to catch me up on my correspondence from you people. Today's column is the beginning of a gigantic effort to keep abreast of your requests.

QUESTION:

I read your column every day and enjoy it very much and I am now coming to you for some help. I have purchased a home-freezer and would like to have any information you could give me on freezing fruits or vegetables also how baking. If you haven't any information maybe you could tell me where I could obtain some . . . I enjoy the chit chat about your daughter . . . I am an old graduate myself.—Mrs. H. P.

ANSWER:

Good! I do have information for you but you should have the booklets that I have. Write Freezers. Did the "manufacturer of your freezer supply one with your freezer? If not I am sure you could obtain literature from manufacturers of them. Meanwhile look over the booklets I have mailed you and write for you, but if they are not adequate or do not include the special information you are seeking write to me again.

QUESTION:

I can't begin to tell you how much we enjoy your column. I have tried ever so many of your recipes . . . I have a sweet tooth . . . I made my Christmas candy by Pete's favorite recipe, also my niece's and cook from the same recipe and they both turned out lovely. My problem now is high blood pressure, weight, overweight. I seem to be eating it. Please tell me about this. (The groom-to-be-hasn't mentioned it to me.) — E.S.

The first thing to tell you is that the Bachelor Dinner is more or less a vanishing event. In the not-long ago yesterday it was an event taken for granted . . . it isn't considered necessary . . . and, it's omitted more often than not. These facts probably explain why the prospective groom hasn't even mentioned it to you. However, if, later, the groom may indicate that he wants to give a Bachelor Dinner, he may ask you to make the arrangements for him or may make arrangements himself). But he pays all the expenses.

CANADIAN DISPLACED PERSONS

About 6,000 Canadians, who live along the international rapids section of the St. Lawrence River, will be displaced when the seaway-power project floods their homes. Richard Underhill is one of the big jobs ahead for seaway planners. Many like Mrs. Garnet Whitney have generations-old roots in their communities. Mrs. Whitney, daughter-in-law of the late Sir J. P. Whitney, Ontario premier from 1905 to 1914, visits in a corner of her 100-year-old home at Wales, Que. The site of her house will be under water at completion of the seaway. (CP Photo).

Human Problem of Seaway At Its Most Intense Point

Before the St. Lawrence seaway project is finished there will be many heavy headaches for officialdom. The size of the problem at the moment — relocating 6,000 persons who will be flooded out — is dealt with in this story.

By JOHN LELAND
Canadian Press Staff Writer

MORRISBURG, Ont. (CP) — The human problem of the St. Lawrence seaway is at its most intense point in the 35-mile stretch of shoreline about this old town.

Certainly, little is giving the biggest headache to authorities connected with the $600,000,000 development of power and deep navigation facilities.

It involves the displacing of about 6,000 persons whose lives and livelihoods are tied up to eight solid communities flooded during the international section of the power, which are to be flooded out by the huge project. Most of the villagers have generations - old roots planted in these communities.

BIG MOVE INVOLVED

The problem is to get them—and their homes where possible—settled in relocated or newly-erected communities with the least jolt to human values. It's the biggest job of its kind ever undertaken in Canada.

Seven of the eight communities in Seaway valley—as they call it—will be drowned out entirely as a 40-mile-long lake wells up from the St. Lawrence to create a hydro-power pool. The eighth and largest—Morrisburg with 1,886 population—will lose about one-third its land area and see 1,250 of it people forced to higher ground.

Most of the communities reek of the history of Canada's earlier days. Tiny Dickinson's landing, for instance, was founded nearly 200 years ago by the explorer La Salle at the head of the plunging long Sault rapids that are being harnessed for electricity.

On the outskirts of Morrisburg, the locale of one of Canada's military shrines will be inundated. This is the rough stone monolith at Chrysler's Farm marking the battle in which a hundred Canadians armed with pitchforks and muskets beat off an American invasion in the War of 1812.

TO MOVE MONUMENT

Like some of the other standing bits of history, the monument will be moved to higher ground—part of the original farm will stay above water.

CANADIAN SHRINE

The area surrounding one of Canada's military shrines will be flooded when the St. Lawrence seaway is completed. The rough stone monolith in this photo by Malak of Ottawa stands on Chrysler's Farm on the outskirts of Morrisburg, Ont., where a handful of Canadian farmers armed with pitchforks and muskets beat off an American invasion in the war of 1812. The monument will be moved to higher ground before the land is inundated. (CP Photo).

But other old landmarks, old homes will be engulfed finally under the tide that will creep up in the next three or four years.

This is what brings on one of the big questions: How is the owner of an old home—a great many are over 30 years old—to be compensated for it when he has to leave?

The legislation under which the Ontario Hydro - Electric Power Commission normally calls for payment on the basis of fair market value plus an amount—unspecified —for "forceful taking." The trouble is that many of the old homes—though their value may have grown into them comfortably like an old shoe—have no current market value to speak of.

"What, for instance," said yesterday Reeve George Beevers of Morrisburg, "is to get homes replaced with the same facilities as they are now without its costing the owners more?"

DIFFICULT PROBLEM

Reeve Beavers, whose community has started a surge in old river-trading days and was incorporated 94 years ago, said about half Morrisburg's population is living on pensions or fixed incomes of like kinds.

"Like that family," he said, pointing out of the office window of his dental appliance factory. "That old home is all the stake they've got. It's probably worth $6,000 under values here, but it would cost $10,000 to replace at present costs. Is that fair?

"Don't get me wrong," he said, "We're not against the power development, or against Hydro. But this project is for the benefit of all Ontario, all Canada, you might say. Why should the people of Seaway Valley have to suffer?" ..

AN IROQUOIS VIEW

Upriver at Iroquois (pop. 1,100) where 307 homes and miscellaneous business places will be completely inundated, Reeve Lloyd Davis takes the same attitude for a square deal for his constituents but has a cheerful, philosophical attitude as to how it's going to turn out in the long run.

"I think Hydro will deal reasonably with us in the end," said the machine-tool reeve talking with this reporter in his corner filling station. "I would assume that there no one will be out any money by getting re-established. That can be done."

Iroquois, at the upper end of the power pool, is the first community to get its future fairly-well established. The one industry, a textile mill employing 400, already has signed an agreement with Hydro and is to be moved. On the ground just north of the present settlement, Iroquois' people will follow the mill.

The New York State Power Authority will re-establish its relatively few displaced persons. The Ontario Hydro and the New York authority will divide equally the over-all cost of re-establishment, estimated unofficially at $68,000,000 or $70,500,000 on the Canadian side and perhaps $15,000,000 on the U.S. frontage.

Enthusiastic Crowd Attends Ice Carnival

BANCROFT — The annual Lions-sponsored ice carnival, held in the Bancroft arena on Thursday evening, was well supported by an enthusiastic crowd.

High spot of the evening's entertainment was a clever display of figure skating by four members of the Peterborough figure skating club.

Club president F. B. Smitheman introduced the artists, Rosemary Pilon, Carol Smitheman, Marilyn Clark, and Nancy Pollock.

Jack Follis officiated as M. C. and the antics of Jack Hattin as "Slippery Sam", the skating clown, delighted the youngsters.

A broomball game between Bancroft and Wallbridge Lions produced a lot of fun.

Public vs high school relay—high school, Jack Watson, Conrad Ray, Bill Gordon, Conrad Rupnow.

In January, Robert H. Saunders, Simpie chairman, had a different view: "The people are not going to lose. But on the other hand, we can't have anyone taking advantage of the situation.

"We have," he said, "instructed our appraisers to deal on the basis of over-all value, and we have gone somewhat beyond 'what the law technically allows.'

"However," he added, "you must remember that eventually we are going to have to face the price we pay on every individual property."

He said the prices would have to be justified to both the provincial legislature and to Ottawa from which will be picking up half the over-all cost of relocating mill. One of the problems—though the Hydro chairman didn't discuss it—is that of location in farm property values that has developed along Seaway Valley since the project became assured last year.

In touring Seaway Valley, this reporter heard of farms property transfers up to five times the normal price, apparently in expectation of a big payoff when the land was taken over for the power project. In such cases, that last purchaser undoubtedly would be holding the bag.

THIRD INCREASE

The bill raises the war veterans' allowance to $60 a month from $50 for single veterans and to $120 from $90 for those married. The permissible annual income, including allowance, would be boosted to $840 from $720 for single veterans and to $1,440 from $1,200 for married veterans.

This means a single veteran, for instance, can earn $120 a year over and above his allowance and still be eligible for it. Income from part-time jobs is not included in computing total income, although old age pensions are counted.

LEGION REQUEST

The legion had asked for income ceilings of $1,200 for single and $2,000 for married veterans. These were the figures quoted by most opposition members in the two-day debate. The new ceilings, they said, would be too low.

Lt.-Col. Lapointe pointed that recipients are permitted to make as much money as they can through part-time jobs or seasonal employment without the income being charged against the means-test ceiling.

As for a few opposition suggestions to remove the ceiling entirely, he said that would cost an extra $162,543,000 and he is not prepared to recommend that to the government.

FOR FURTHER STUDY

The bill now goes for further study to a 31-member Commons committee on veterans affairs established Monday night where all three opposition groups are expected to continue their attempts to broaden the assistance.

Reeve Gordon Churchill, DEC (PC—Winnipeg South Centre) led off the opposition appeals Monday.

A veteran of both world wars—as a machine-gunner in the first and an armored regiment commander in the second—he said time is running out when adequate allowances can be given first world war veterans. Most could not be expected to live much longer.

A grateful country could not begin to repay the debt owed to these men, but it is still not too late to make some amends for the neglect of past years."

RAWDON

Over 450 Attend Oyster Supper Held by Springbrook L.O.L.

RAWDON — On Wednesday evening, Springbrook L.O.L. No. 643, entertained their families and friends to an oyster supper, provided by the ladies in their Orange Hall. Over 450 people enjoyed the appetizing meal.

The 20 gallons of oysters were cooked "to a turn" by Mrs. Lindsay Danner and her assistants. The tables were laden with cold meats, jellies salads and pickles and there were scalloped potatoes for those who did not wish sea food. Pies of every description followed and it required 3 sittings to accommodate the large attendances of invited guests.

Rev. E. J. Crawford, Marmora, gave the invocation at the first sitting.

Miss Betty McConnell furnished piano music while the second group were eating.

While the third group were in the dining hall Rt. Wor. Bro. Fred Betteridge, past grand master of Ontario East, and a member of the parade) over a short program. He welcomed the guests on behalf of the W. Master Elwood Johnson, and invited any one interested to join the society and help keep Canada protestant.

He introduced Wor. Master Bro. Dick Sanderson, Grand Master of Ontario East who gave a brief address. Other Grand Lodge officers in attendance included: Bro. Lorne Hagerman, deputy lecturer.

HIDDEN SOLOS

Bro. Ed Payne, East County Master, Peterborough East delighted the audience with two Irish solos with Mrs. B. McConnell as accompanist.

Mr. Gerald Taylor contributed two excellent musical numbers and Mrs. Percy MacMullen gave three selection selections. Miss Linda Wellman sang with Miss Ruth Bumsby as accompanist.

Smoky Nelson and his orchestra provided excellent dance music with Arthur Broadworth acting as floor manager and calling the squares.

The guests were loud in their praise of the good time provided and altogether 443 once again staged a most successful evening.

Miss Lillian Camp, Bell's oldest pensioner, chats with Janie Del Vecchio, 17, who has been a Bell operator for only a few months.
Lillian Camp
The first of generations of Bell people who have shared one aim... to make good telephone service even better
Lillian Camp was a young lady of 22 when she came to work for us in 1880, the year we started in the telephone business. She retired on pension in 1931 and can today, at 96, look back on three quarters of a century as a member of the Bell family.
Every time she drops in to our office in Montreal for a visit, she sees fresh evidence of growth and change. Yet she tells us there is one thing that has not changed through the years, and that is the pleasant, interested people who continue to enter and grow up in the telephone business; men and women who have shared one aim — to make good telephone service even better.
That's the way it was in Miss Camp's day. That's the way it is now, 75 years later.

20,000 HOMELESS, 30 DEAD IN AUSTRALIAN FLOODS

What once was the main street of Maitland, Australia, is turned into a lake by rampaging flood waters. At least 30 persons died and another 40 were missing in the disastrous floods which swept northern New South Wales. The number of homeless has been set at well over 20,000 with more than 30 towns isolated. An army duck, here, negotiates the flooded street as residents awaiting evacuation watch from the marquee of a building at left. (Central Press Canadian).

Cartoonist Capp Opens Campaign For Easter Seals

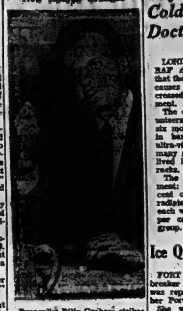
OTTAWA (CP) — Cartoonist Al Capp, opening the ninth annual Easter seals campaign on behalf of crippled children, Monday attributed his success in life to "losing a leg at the age of nine."

Capp, creator of the "Li'l Abner" comic strip, said: "It showed me down enough to enable me to find out I had a talent for drawing pictures." He launched the campaign by buying the first packet of seals from "Timmy," chosen to represent all crippled children.

"Timmy" this year is Scotty MacDonald, 11, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. MacDonald of Hamilton.

The campaign has a national objective of approximately $1,250,000.

The 49-year-old Capp said he lost his left leg below the knee "in a thing my car I ran into."



Capp expressed concern over protests made against "bad" comic books.

"They've just discovered that about five per cent of all comic books are 'bad' and you can hear the yowls from coast to coast. The fact that 95 per cent of all cartoons are good doesn't ever seem to excite anybody . . ."

Big Causing Colds Crosses Doctors Up

LONDON (AP)—A team of RAF doctors reported today that the rugged little bug which causes the common cold has crossed them up on an experiment.

The doctors divided 320 volunteers into two groups. For six months 160 of them lived in barracks irradiated with ultra-violet light, which kills many germs. The other group lived in an unprotected barracks.

The results of the experiment: An average of 12 per cent of the men in the irradiated barracks caught colds each week, against only seven per cent of the unprotected group.

Vaccine Will Be Available Says Martin

OTTAWA (CP)—Sufficient Salk polio vaccine will be made available for Canadians if it is proved beneficial, Health Minister Martin reiterated Monday.

Mr. Martin told John Hamilton (PC—York West) in the Commons that the provinces and federal government will lose no time distributing the vaccine in Canada if it proves to be of help in combatting polio. Results of tests last year are being assessed.

TV Development Outlined To House Members

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada's growing two-tier system of publicly-owned and private stations was described Monday night in the Commons by Revenue Minister McCann as one of the biggest developments in the country's history.

Dr. McCann, who reports to Parliament for the CBC, said projects like the proposed east-west gas pipeline are important. Television was a great economic development too, but also "produces things for people's minds."

Some Canadians said they did not like television or attempted to ignore the new medium. However, no thinking Canadian could ignore something that was playing a growing part in the lives of all people in this country.

MAJOR EFFECT

TV would have a major effect on the national attitude of most Canadians a generation from now. As a result, Parliament had a responsibility to make possible a television system which would be in the national interest and would foster better understanding among all Canadians.

Dr. McCann referred to the role of television in proposing the establishment of a special committee to study broadcasting activities. He said a similar committee which met in 1951 had urged the development of Canadian-produced shows and that the government's policy has followed this recommendation.

It was cheaper to import program material than produce it in Canada. However, if television was to be of value a substantial part of the programs must be produced for Canadians by Canadians.

CANADIAN PROGRAMS

The government's aim was to establish a country-wide television system providing a "fair degree" of Canadian programs to both publicly-owned and private stations.

There now were 25 TV stations operating in Canada, including seven CBC outlets and 18 private operations. Five more stations, one to be operated by the CBC and four privately owned, now were under construction.

More than 70 per cent of the population now was within coverage of the present system. The interest of Canadians in TV could be judged from the fact that more than 1,250,000 sets had been sold in Canada. Approximately 30 per cent of Canadian households now owned TV sets. They had spent $500,000,000 on sets and other television equipment.

Parker Gets Official Nod Over Walls But Commissioner Calls It A Draw

CHIPS OFF THE SPORTS BLOCK

By GEO. H. CARVER, Sports Editor

CORNWALL TONIGHT!

The Memos' flashing victory over the Cornwall Colts on Sunday caused quite a bit of mugg-swabbing among some of the more pessimistic fans of the city. After that 10-6 shellacking the Colts handed our side a week ago, the pessimists were loud in their predictions the Boys of Boucher had "had it," so to speak—and it was just a question of the Colts kicking up their heels and going through the motions.

Nor were they convinced after the Memos had eked out that 5-3 overtime win after roaring from behind last Friday night. No sirree, that was just one of those things—and victory could have gone either way. True enough, but the Memos won it—and that is what counts.

Now, after last Sunday's convincing victory over the Colts in their home corral, eyebrows are beginning to raise. For a victory on "foreign" ice in a playoff or playdown series is mighty important. And in the majority of cases, according to the records, the team winning the first "away" game has emerged the ultimate victor. Not that we're predicting such a thing in this case, but the Memos' chances of taking the series are a helluva lot better than they were prior to last Friday.

Some of the more rabid supporters of the Memos have come out flatfooted with the prophesy that the Memos will win the series in six games—and if they can cop the goalaton in tonight clash with the Colts the prediction could come true. But these Colts are far from out of the picture. They will be here in an all-out effort tonight to square matters and with the Memos hot, the game should be one of the best of the season. Starting time 8.30.

GOODIES ONE UP!

Kingston Goodyears took a 2-1 lead in their senior "B" semi-finals series with the Whitby Dunlops in Kingston last night, defeating the Blairmen by a 7-3 count. The Goodies went into the 3-3 at the end of the first, 5-3 at the end of the second, and scored three without a return in the third chapter before 3476 fans.

TRENT VALLEY

Point Anne jumped into a 2-1 game lead in their best-of-seven Trent Valley southern division finals series last night, defeating the Trenton Carr-Admirals 9-4 on Trenton ice. The fourth game of the series will be played in Trenton tomorrow night starting 8.15.

A "SWEEPING" VICTORY

Sportsmen have odd ways and means of enticing Lady Luck to their side. When prayers won't affect the intangible which they use many other objects or devices to tempt the gal, whose smiles mean victory.

Some carry the heavy hare's foot. Others carry various forms of good-luck charms. One well-known National League pitcher always rubs the lobe of his left ear before winding up. Another runs a silver dollar that is now practically worn to wafer-thinness. Yet another wears the same suit of underwear whenever he works against a certain club.

But one of the strangest stunts to woo the dame with the fickle finger into victory came to light over the week-end.

It happened in Cornwall during the Memos-Colts clash. Manager Bruce Smith, of the Memos, with his club down one goal going into the third period, dug up a "luck-charm" that was at least effective.

Alderman Smith retired to the dressing room after the third period ended, grabbed himself a broom and started to sweep. Came a roar from outside. It seems the broom had disappeared, he learned that Davy Jones had tied the count. "Finality" rushed back and the broom went through more calisthenics than those of three risks of curlers in championship competition. Came another roar. Vern Geyer had lit the lamp for the Memos' second goal.

Again the broom got the works and again the Memos scored. Finally nearly worn that overused whisk to the wood and was again rewarded when the fourth Memos' goal blazed into the net. He was looking for a second broom when the final whistle sounded.

PROMISING

The Robert Hull family of Point Anne are mighty proud of their eldest son, Bob, and rightly so, according to press clippings from Ontario Junior "B" hockey league cities, where he has played.

Bob Jr., a 16-year-old, 5' 10", 165-pound, blond curvet youngster with potential hockey stardom has, in his second year of junior hockey in the Chicago Black Hawk organization led his team, the Woodstock Warriors, in the group finals. Young Mr. Hull was one of the league's top scorers in the regular schedule at the Warriors finished atop the loop. He had eight "hat-tricks" during league play.

They met the Owen Sound Greys in the semi-finals (and defeated them three games to one with one tied) and in the only two summaries available Bob picked up two assists in an overtime win and came through in the final game with two spectacular goals, the margin of victory. The first game of the finals was played last Tuesday night against Burlington, Woodstock winning 3-2 with the local lad again firing a pair of goals to lead the attack.

—Considered by many as one of the top NHL prospects in the Chicago organization, he hopes to reach a Junior "A" roster next winter. Bobby got his start in hockey in Bellevville Minor Hockey Association, always played a year or two ahead of his age group and was the top scorer in the midget league as fourteen and also sparked the Point Anne intermediate team in the Trent Valley League the same year. His goals last season in the Junior "B" loop, which saw one of the top stickhandlers in these parts set his many years back, one, or a matter of fact, Bob Sr., put on the skates the year his son started tyro hockey and the pair picked up a good number of points on a heating team.

Was Champ for Five Minutes, Then Suddenly Dethroned After 12-Round Gory Battle

TORONTO(CP)—For a few uproarious minutes Monday night, James J. Parker thought he had won the Canadian heavyweight boxing championship. So did 6,500 fans.

Splattered with the blood of his opponent, champion Earl Walls of Toronto, the towering 25-year-old challenger was announced as the new heavyweight king after a gory 12-round battle.

Moments later the split decision was declared a draw with Walls, fifth ratking contender for Rocky Marciano's world title, retaining his crown in one of the greatest fiubarbs in Canadian ring history.

Ring announcer Tommy McClure, after receiving the slips of the two judges and referee Billy Burke, brought unrestrained joy to the unranked Parker, a native of Saskatoon, when he announced it as a split decision in favor of James J.

Nearly five minutes later, while Parker was in his dressing room celebrating victory, boxing commissioner Harry MacKenzie finally rounded everybody by pointing out an error in the interpretation of the judging and, after all, Walls should be declared a draw with Walls still champion.

MANY HAD LEFT

As the crowd milled around the ring and on the edge of the canvas, McClure grabbed the microphone and announced Parker.

Many of the fans had already left Maple Leaf Gardens, figuring bets, made with Walls from 8-to-5 to 4-to-3 choice, had been paid off.

Judge Tony Canzoneri gave 57 points to Walls; 56 to Parker. Judge Dr. Leo Black favored Parker 57½ to 56. Burke gave 59 points to each.

McClure, a ring announcer in many Toronto fights, thought the fighter who got the most points was the winner. In this case it would have been Parker. He had 163½. The 26-year-old champion had 162.

However, MacKenzie said the majority decision of the judges, not aggregate points, decides the winner. As a guide on points, "ordinarily start out a round with five tor each man and take points off the loser of the round, depending on the margin.

One moment Parker was crowded by well - wishers, newspaper men and photographers. The next, he stood dazed, his mouth open in astonishment. Shock later gave way to tears.

AN "EASY" FIGHT

"I'll fight him any day in the week and twice on Mar. 17," he said. "It was one of the easiest fights I ever had."

Jimmy Jones, co - manager of Walls, said he knew the wrong verdict had been given and added that the commissioner be brought into the ring. He told Walls to stay in the ring until the matter was discussed.

Parker, whose last fight was a 10-round decision he lost last year to Nino Valdes, Cuba's world heavyweight contender, said his backers figured he was so far ahead they told him to save it for the last two rounds.

Walls had a bad cut under his left eye and was splashed with his own blood. Parker opened the cut with left jab in the first round, hammering at it. It took 16 stitches to close.

Walls, a Native of Puce, Ont., was fighting the second defence of the title he won from Ezzard Charles by beating Vern Escoe of Toronto. He knocked Escoe in a return match.

Parker, 188½, was 11¼ pounds lighter than Parker.

Parker had scored 22 knockouts in his 36 victories, while Walls had 25 knockouts among 32 wins.

Port Arthur Defenceman Is Suspended

PORT ARTHUR (CP)—Defenceman Connie Madigan of Port Arthur, West Ends has been indefinitely suspended pending a meeting of the Thunder Bay Amateur Hockey Association it was announced this morning.

Madigan's suspension came after he staged a demonstration at the Port William - Garden Sausage in the third game of the junior finals against Port William Canadiens.

He was waved off the ice on a charging penalty and on the way to the bench used profane language against referee Bill McKenzie, officials said. He was then given a 10-minute misconduct and warned. When he persisted, McKenzie tacked on a game misconduct.

Before leaving the ice Madigan knocked the official to the ice and attempted to attack a Canadien player in the box. He returned twice more before coach Mike Konicki talked him into going to the showers.

Richard Assist Stays on Record Says Campbell

MONTREAL (CP) — The assist awarded Maurice (Rocket) Richard in a game in Toronto last Wednesday stays in the records, President Clarence Campbell of the National Hockey League said today.

Bill Graham, official scorer in Toronto, wrote Campbell saying movies of the game between Canadiens and Toronto Maple Leafs indicated Doug Harvey instead of Richard should have had the assist. Harvey's shot was scored by Jackie Leclair, a single assist, to Dickie Moore, was announced. Graham then changed his decision and Richard was also given an assist.

"Graham didn't request the change," said Campbell. "He said he felt he would be neglecting his duty if he didn't report the circumstances. He is a conscientious scorer and I think it was the honorable thing to do.

"But I don't see a change in this case. We could be second-guessing all the time. Graham did everything properly. At the time, when one assist was announced, the referee told Graham there were two. Between periods Graham consulted the referee and linesmen. The referee and one linesman couldn't say definitely who should get the assist; the other linesman said Richard assisted."

STIL LEAVOARTES

LONDON (AP) — Quare Times and Tudor Line remained 10-8 favorites for the grand National as a betting sallcover Monday night on the world's toughest steeplechase. The National will be run over four miles, 856 yards at Aintree March 26. Monday's betting showed little change from that of last Tuesday, while leaving the tournament. Swedish writers reported Sunday's refereeing was "very bad" and said that two of the Canadian penalties were absurd.

Canada will never get a chance to play host to the world hockey tournament because few Canadians would walk across the street to watch the brand of play of some of the best teams, let alone others again take part in the tournament under its present setup.

The Russian "new look" hockey, under careful scrutiny by European teams, has received a setback that might last for some time. On he other hand, Sunday's victory "played as hockey should be played," said president Cleo George of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association and has boosted Canada's stock as the fo North competitor.

The third thing is that it is doubtful whether any Canadian team has ever faced abroad the pressure shouldered by Penticton Vs. That is part of the reason why persons from manager Clem Bird on down feel strongly that Canada should let Europe pick its own champions and send them across to North America to play a series.

MATTER OF OPINION

"We sacrifice too much," says Bird, "Exhibition games, sure, but that's all."

George, asked what he thought about the idea, said today: "That's a matter of opinion of course. The CAHA are the ones to decide when I make my report at the annual meeting in Regina in May."

It is known that Canada does not command the power in world hockey circles we least the organization arranging the tournament—that its position might appreciably be lost.

The refereeing is another reason why Canada might feel it worth-while to withdraw from the tournament. Swedish writers reported Sunday's refereeing was "very bad" and said that two of the Canadian penalties were absurd.

Feeling Canada Should Leave World Hockey Tourney Alone

By ARCH MacKENZIE
Canadian Press Staff Writer

DUESSELDORF (CP) — Three facts stand out in retrospect on the world hockey championship.

There is a strong Canadian feeling among the champion Penticton Vs and Canadians fans here at least — that Canada should not again take part in the tournament under its present setup.

The Russian "new look" hockey, under careful scrutiny by European teams, has received a setback that might last for some time. On he other hand, Sunday's victory "played as hockey should be played," said president Cleo George of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association and has boosted Canada's stock as the fo North competitor.

The third thing is that it is doubtful whether any Canadian team has ever faced abroad the pressure shouldered by Penticton Vs. That is part of the reason why persons from manager Clem Bird on down feel strongly that Canada should let Europe pick its own champions and send them across to North America to play a series.

MATTER OF OPINION

"We sacrifice too much," says Bird, "Exhibition games, sure, but that's all."

George, asked what he thought about the idea, said today: "That's a matter of opinion of course. The CAHA are the ones to decide when I make my report at the annual meeting in Regina in May."

It is known that Canada does not command the power in world hockey circles we least the organization arranging the tournament—that its position might appreciably be lost.

The refereeing is another reason why Canada might feel it worthwhile to withdraw from the tournament. Swedish writers reported Sunday's refereeing was "very bad" and said that two of the Canadian penalties were absurd.

Canada will never get a chance to play host to the world hockey tournament because few Canadians would walk across the street to watch the brand of play of some of the best teams, let alone others again take part in the tournament under its present setup.

Phils Rookie Looks Good

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Jack Meyer, Philadelphia Phils 22-year-old right-hander, appears to be a good bet to stick in the majors.

He had a fine season with Syracuse of the International League in 1954, winning 13 games and topping the league in strikeouts with 171.

Meyer has impressed freshman manager Mayo Smith in the spring workouts this far. He possesses a good fastball and Smith says that he'll give the youngster every opportunity to make good.

THE Calvert SPORTS COLUMN

by Elmer Ferguson

This is more than a little belated to rank as live news, but it's high time to recognize at least in print the brilliants feats of a group of Canadian marksmen and marksewomen, in the year of 1854.

The English Match — 30 shots at 50 metres and 30 shots at 100 metres — was the first world championship event scheduled in the 1954 Olympics at Caracas. Shooting a perfect 300 at 50 metres, Canada's Gilmour Boa tied with Boris Pereberin of Russia in the first half of the event. Here is where experience told—not just experience in shooting but experience in winning and chilled-steel nerve as well. While the Russian dropped five points at 100 metres, Gil in front of a large gallery of spectators dropped only two points to finish with a total of 598, two points greater than the previous world record. Canada won silver and bronze medals and badges came the way of this Canadian with the steady hand, the keen eye, right through the trophy.

Boa's world title win was a climax to a colossal year for Canada in shooting.

The Canadian team in the Lord Dewar Match and the Mayleigh Quaich Match placed second in both these events. The City of Calgary took top place in the 1954 Empire Cities Match and the Calgary Rifle Association won the International Women's Total Team Match for the second straight year. The ladies of the Calgary Rifle Club, representing the Province of Alberta, were Canada's only entry in this small competition. The team total of 1,978 was four points higher than the second place team representing the State of Michigan.

And not only with the rifles did Canada's marksmen excel. Vern Thornburrow of Hamilton, Ontario, achieved trap-shooting fame by capturing the preliminary handicap event at the Grand American. He is the first Canadian to win this title. He was competing against a field of 1,720 shooters.

A national skeet title came to Canada for the first time. Mr. and Mrs. Bill O'Brien of Montreal outshot all competitors at the National Skeet shoot at Waterford, Michigan, to capture the open "husband-and-wife" crown.

Feats like these, we believe, are entitled to more generous recognition than they received, and this column is happy to do its share towards that end.

AMHERSTBURG, ONTARIO

Three Top Canadiens Stars Stage Hot Race for Trophy

Early Goal May Favor Rocket

MONTREAL (CP) — There's a possibility that the Art Ross Trophy and $1,000 in cash will go to Maurice (Rocket) Richard because of a goal the famous Rocket scored last Oct. 7.

The scramble for the National Hockey League scoring leadership is so close that the Big Three of Montreal Canadiens — Richard, Jean Beliveau and Bernie (Boom Boom) Geoffrion—might finish in a triple tie. Of course, there's even a greater chance of a two-man deadlock.

Trophy regulations provide that in case of a tie on total scoring points the scoring championship goes to the player with the most goals. If the tie still exists, it goes to the player with the least number of games. If that doesn't break the tie then the title goes to the player who scored first in the season.

The league's official statistician, released today, shows Richard back on top with 38 goals and 35 assists for 73 points; Beliveau with a 36-35 count for 71 points and Geoffrion with 37-33 for 70.

COULD WIN FOR HIM

It's possible that all-important first goal of the season could give the scoring title to Richard. He scored two goals Oct. 7, the opening game of the season when Montreal defeated Chicago 4-2. Neither Beliveau nor Geoffrion scored.

That isn't the only deadlock that could emerge at season's end. The league - leading Canadiens have only a three-point margin over Detroit. There's also a battle for third place, with Toronto Maple Leafs holding a thin two-point edge over Boston Bruins.

Then there's the sensational stretch run for goal-tending honors between the Leafs' Harry Lumley and Detroit's Terry Sawchuk. They each against totals are 124 and 126, in big Harry's favor.

If this ends in a draw, the NHL will kick in another $1,000 and declare joint ownership of the Vezina Trophy. Actually it is awarded on a team basis. It goes to the goalie who has played in the most games for the team least scored upon.

Behind the Richard - Beliveau - Geoffrion triumvirate in the current point standing is another Montrealer, Bert Olmstead, who has nine goals and 45 assists for 57 points. He has a chance of equalling or bettering the record of 80 assists in one season, held by Ted Lindsay of Detroit.

Gordie Howe of Detroit, scoring champion for the last four seasons, picked up six points last week on three goals and three assists and moved from seventh into fifth place with points. George (Gud) Sullivan of Chicago has 48 but ranks sixth because he has fewer goals.

Sid Smith of Toronto, the only non-Montrealer in the goal class at sixth in the standing, has 39 goals last week ran his goal count to 31. He has 51 points, the same as Detroit's Earl (Dutch) Reibel, who added four points last week but had been in a slump with Smith.

Montreal, playing four games last week, added a valuable point to the margin over Detroit. Canadiens had three wins and a tie over The Red Wings, playing only three games, made it a victorious sweep.

Robinson Gets Lifetime Ban In Massachusetts

BOSTON (AP)—The state boxing commission Monday handed Sugar Ray Robinson the suspension to a lifetime ban in Massachusetts for his last-minute pullout from last Saturday night's fight scheduled with Georgia Small of Brooklyn.

Ike Robinson will be free to fight in any other state because the commission will not press for an appeal from the New York State Boxing Association.

Robinson withdrew shortly before the bout, complaining he had a sore throat and virus symptoms which he said made him too weak to appear. Dr. Edwin Hommel of the commission, examined the ex-middleweight and welterweight king and said he found "no evidence of sickness or injury which would warrant me to postpone the fight."

The commission did not impose a direct lifetime ban on Robinson, but suspended him "indefinitely" because of his act detrimental to boxing.

The commission based its relatively light ruling on the fact that Silverman released the former from his contract after being assured Robinson would make good costs of advance promotion and other expenses.

DISCHARGED FROM HOSPITAL

QUEBEC (CP)—Henri Richard of Montreal Canadiens was discharged from hospital Monday and returned to his home in Montreal following treatment for injuries in a Quebec Junior - Senior Hockey League game here Sunday. Hospital authorities said the Montreal forward suffered a

OLYMPIC BERTH BECKONS AFTER KEY SKI VICTORY

Penticton V's 'Take it Easy' After Victory

DUESSELDORF, Germany (CP) An ordeal over and a mission accomplished, the world champion Penticton Vs took things easy Monday, relishing their first really carefree moments of the year prior to Europe Feb. 14 in quest of the hockey crown.

Mostly they just rested. In the roistering aftermath of Sunday's 5-0 victory over Russia in the deciding game of the nine-nation tournament, most of the players didn't get much sleep and were pretty tired.

Today they go to Soest, nearby Canadian military headquarters, to launch a series of post-tournament exhibition games. They will meet Canadian army and air force teams, play in Paris Saturday and London next Monday, and then head home by mid-March 15.

KEYED UP

Most of the players were so keyed up for Sunday's game that it may be some days before they really unwind.

The Russian players presumably don't relish the thought of their return home to a country where hockey has been nurtured as a part of the Soviet political campaign in athletics.

Their welcome will contrast with the reception the Vs will get when they return to Canada as heroes.

Lowe Crowding Olson for Lead

NEW YORK (AP)—Ross Lowe of Springfield Indians is closing in on Eddie Olson, the American Hockey League's goal scoring ace, but he'll have to finish fast if he's to prevent the veteran cleveland Baron from winning his second title.

Lowe picked up seven points last week for a total of 77 points on 30 goals and 47 assists. With only two weeks of the regular season to go, Olson has 83 points on 37 goals—the most in the circuit—and 43 assists. Olson was the AHL's pace-setter in 1952-53.

REMEMBER WHEN

BY THE CANADIAN PRESS

Manager Lou Dandurand of Montreal Canadiens set a precedent in the National Hockey League 22 years ago today by suspending two of his own players, Scraggs Burke and Billy Coutts, for rough tactics in a game with Ottawa Senators in which Lionel Hitchman, defence captain of the Senators won the league championship and the Stanley Cup that year, with Tommy Gorman as manager and Pete Green as coach.

Burke was fined $50 and Coutts $25.

SUSPEND 4 IN DOPING CASE

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Stewards of Fair Grounds added two more names to their list of horsemen Monday by suspending two trainers, a veterinarian and a groom.

Trainers Ernest Blum and Leslie Ville, Ky., was suspended pending further investigation by the Louisiana racing commission. Groom Robert Marshall of St. Louis received a 60-day suspension for negligence. State police arrested three persons Saturday in connection with the drugging of four horses in six weeks.

The suspensions caused six horses to be scratched Monday. The drugs dropped horse that won a race was Smasher, who took a $3,000 claiming race by three

Baseball Boss Would Legalize Old 'Spitter'

CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP)—Baseball commissioner Ford Frick says something should be done to help pitchers out. If he had his way "I'd legalize the old 'spitter'".

The commissioner dropped in on the Philadelphia Phillies' training camp Monday.

He took the occasion to exchange views on the new "stop-watch" rule requiring pitchers to deliver the ball within 20 seconds after they step on the rubber the thinks it will only put further restrictions on the pitchers and financial prospects for the major leagues this season (he forecast a prosperous year).

The so-called "stop-watch" rule is designed to speed up the action and shorten the playing time, a matter of considerable discussion in recent years with ball games invariably dragging out past the two-hour mark.

"If I had my way, I'd legalize the old spitter," he said Frick. "It was a great pitch and one of the hardest to hit. There's really nothing dangerous about it. Mostly, the ball dipped and did tricks from a batter's standpoint. If they were allowed to use the spitter, there might not be so many home runs, but the game would be just as good—maybe better. The old timers threw a lot of knuckles, a lot of hitting-to-the-opposite field, and that's what would happen again."

Commons Pays Tribute To World Champions

OTTAWA (CP) — The Commons Monday applauded Canada's victory in the world amateur hockey championships.

Bishop a question of privilege, Owen L. Jones (CCF—Okanagan-Boundary) — Penticton is in his riding—rose to offer the house congratulations of all Canadians on performing "a real swell deed." Members thumped their desks with enthusiasm.

Davie Fulton (PC — Kamloops) rose immediately to note that defence man Jack Bergen and fire Middleton of Kamloops reinforced Penticton.

Prime Minister Rose Beaudois said he is "glad and deeply proud" of the success of the Vs and that he had sent a telegram to this effect to the mayor of Penticton.

He added that the teams in the tournament should be congratulated for "the fine sportsmanship" they had shown.

At Toronto the Ontario legislature on Monday extended its congratulations to the Vs and their home town. Premier Frost said "We are all very proud and pleased."

Premier Bennett of British Columbia said at Victoria that the victory brought great honor to Canada and particularly B.C. He read a congratulatory cable to the team.

Two Warwicks Will Hang Up Hockey Gear

VANCOUVER (CP) — Erwin Swangard, sports writer of the Vancouver Sun, said in a dispatch from Dusseldorf Monday that Bronco and Bill Warwick announced their retirement from hockey after the Penticton Vs defeated Russia 5-0 Sunday.

They would devote their time to their restaurant in the Okanagan valley city, 180 miles east of here.

Bronco "probably confines as Vs' coach, "said Swangard, and younger brother Dick will carry on with the team."

In two years as playing-coach, Bronco Warwick captured the Senators won the league championship and the Stanley Cup that year, with Tommy Gorman as manager and Pete Green as coach.

Lengthy String of Unbroken Dreams, True Worth of Champion—Talbot

BY GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP)—Roland La Starza, a highly regarded challenger for the world heavyweight championship less than two years ago, was stiffened in five rounds the other night by a Cuban fighter you probably never heard of before, one Julio Medevos.

In his last previous fight, La Starza looked like a sleepwalker losing a 10-rounder to Charlie Norkus, strictly a second-rater. And in the one before that he dropped a decision to Don Cockell.

These are the only times the Bronx batter has climbed into a ring since the fall night in 1953 when Marciano clouted him for the 11th round of their title bout at a local ball park. LaStarza appears to be washed up.

The point is that when Rocky gets through laying it on a man there is one less future opponent. The only reason Rocky is matched with such an improbable customer as Cockell now is that he killed off Joe Walcott, Ezzard Charles and LaStarza in his previous title defences.

WHOOPING WELCOME HOME A WAITS WORLD CHAMPION V's

A standout for Penticton V's in their successful campaign to return the world amateur hockey crown to Canada, Mike Shebaga bests Russia's goalie, Nikolai Putshkow for the opening goal of the game and the first of his two tallies. After a close first period, Penticton completely outclassed the Moscow Dynamoes with goalie, Ivan Mackinnon earning his fourth shutout of the eight-game tournament. Although "depressed" by their 5-0 defeat, even the Russians admitted that the Canucks were far superior.

PENTICTON PROVES CANADA STILL TOPS IN HOCKEY

The smile on the face of George McAvoy, captain of the Penticton V's, tells the story of the victory in the world amateur hockey championships. Riding a question of privilege, Owen L. Jones (CCF—Okanagan-Boundary) — Penticton is in his riding—rose to offer the house congratulations of all Canadians on performing "a real swell deed." Members thumped their desks with enthusiasm.

Davie Fulton (PC — Kamloops) rose immediately to note that defencemen Jack Bergen and fire Middleton of Kamloops reinforced Penticton.

Mustangs Wallop Purple Raiders For Hoop Title

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—University of Western Ontario Mustangs assured themselves of their 11th straight senior intercollegiate basketball championship Monday night by walloping Assumption College Purple Raiders 89-48 before a crowd of 1,700.

Western is scheduled to meet Assumption again in a league closer at Windsor this Saturday, but the game means little to league standing.

Mustangs overpowered the Raiders with accurate shooting and superior height. They leapt ahead 45-27 at half time.

Lanky Ray Monnot, Mustangs' big privot man, led the scoring parade with 26 points. He dumped in 22 during the first half.

George Cowan was best for the Raiders with 16 points.

Experts Calling Them Close In Curling's Early Rounds

By WILD CHERLETT
Canadian Press Staff Writer

REGINA (CP)—The experts who have been calling the west to win the Canadian curling championship this year could had the good grace to include Ontario as part of the west—are nearly on the bottom at the end of the second round of play.

Rinks which survived the two first tests in Monday's 11 rounds of round-robin play included British Columbia, Saskatchewan, Manitoba and the two Ontario rinks.

Alberta, which was given a good chance of reclaiming honors won last year by Matt Baldwin's Edmonton rink lost both games, the only disappointment to the packed ice can crowd.

The first rounds brought the longest match in the 26-year history of the championship, a 14-ender climaxed at 2:42 a.m. for Ontario over New Brunswick in the first round. Ontario's Jim Armstrong was last man left lying two on the second extra end—the first extra end Maritimer Jack Chandler rink could draw into the house.

SCORED LARGEST END

Saskatchewan's all-family rink from Avonlea, the Campbell brothers skipped by Garnet, counted the largest end of the two rounds on the 11th end of the second game to win 11-7, over a determined Prince Edward Island aggregation skipped by Dr. Wendell Macdonald. The big end broke a 5-5 tie and came after Macdonald had a light on his first stone and wrecked on his own guard with his second. The Campbells were lying five up to last rocks and Garnet drew into the house for the win.

Reg Shoe's British Columbia foursome, however, were beaten by Saskatchewan, drew a bye in the opening round and early dispatched of Nova Scotia, 13-4. Newfoundland drew the second bye.

Going the third end round today Nova Scotia had a 1-1 record, Newfoundland the first round match and outstanding rinks, Alberta, Quebec, P.E.I. and New Brunswick, had dropped two each.

Manitoba had a difficult time with New Brunswick in the second round, trailing 8-3 at the fifth end. Roy Forsyth's rink counted three on the sixth and two each on the 11th and the eighth with a five-ender to win 17-4. Manitoba was in first game with Quebec, 11-4.

The big game of the third round had Canada's meeting British Columbia. Nova Scotia had a bye.

Lieutenant-governor of Saskatchewan drew the first rock to open play after a parade of curlers in from the curling stadium and a brief ceremony on the ice.

MR. AND MRS.
THE PROPOSAL
I HAVEN'T MUCH TO OFFER BUT I'LL ALWAYS BE WHERE I AM TODAY
THE EARLY YEARS--
WE'RE JUST A NICE YOUNG COUPLE BUT WE SHOULD HAVE MORE, YOU KNOW WHAT I MEAN
THE MIDDLE AGES
BUT AFTERWARDS WE'RE GLAD WE DIDN'T SPLIT UP AND WENT OUR SEPARATE WAYS
THE PRESENT
I KNOW WHAT YOU'RE GOING TO SAY, BUT WHERE WOULD I GO AND WHO WOULD WANT ME?
MARK TRAIL
I'M AFRAID I CAN'T GO TO AFRICA TO STUDY GORILLAS, MR. HUTCHINSON. SEE, I'M HAVING A DIFFICULT TIME HERE AT LOST FOREST
YES, UNFORTUNATELY IT IS. IT MUST BE MONEY?
IN THAT CASE I'LL MAKE A DONATION TO YOUR WORK THAT WILL KEEP YOU SUPPORTED FOR YEARS TO COME
IF YOU'LL DO THAT I'LL GO. HOWEVER, I CAN TAKE MY DAUGHTER AND MY ASSOCIATE, MARK TRAIL
GOOD... AND THERE'S ONE SECOND TO MAKE PENNY
BE QUIET, PENNY. I HAVE AN INTERESTING SUBJECT TO ANALYZE.
I HAVE TO MAKE RECOMMENDATIONS ON THE STUFF THE WORKERS... I DON'T SUPPOSE YOU EVEN KNOW WHAT AN EFFICIENCY CAMPAIGN IS.
I DO TOO, FATHER. IT'S WHAT IT DID. CUT IT AT THE OFFICE. I'M CONSTRUCTIVE CRITICISM--
BUT, IF MOTHER DOING IT AT HOME, IT'S NAGGING!
SMILIN' JACK
SMILIN' JACK
THANK AND HEAVENS HE'S GONE! I'M HAPPY TO BE HOME WITH THAT SNEEZING THING! I'LL BET HE'S ALLERGIC WHEN HE'S AWAKE, TOO!
AHCHOOO
AND AT THIS MOMENT IN ANOTHER PART OF THE FRENCH COUNTRYSIDE...

EQUAL RIGHTS

TOKYO (AP) — Communist China propagandists boasted at length today about the "new importance of women" in its economy. A Peiping broadcast heard here said many women are now directors and deputy directors of factories and "many can kick women around in China now. They have the same rights as men in every field."

ADENAUER ILL

BONN (AP) — West Germany's Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, 79, was confined to his home with a bad cough, the federal press office announced.

MONKEYS NOT FOR SALE

NEW DELHI (AP) — India's sacred monkeys no longer will be sent to the United States for experimental research, the commerce ministry said Monday night. In the eight months up to last November India sent 40,000 monkeys, worth almost $150,000, to the U. S. They have been among the country's best dollar earners, but Hindus regard monkeys as sacred.

CYCLONE ANNIE WEAKER

BRISBANE, Australia (Reuters) Flood warnings were issued in Queensland today as cyclone Annie moved to the southwest, but the force of its winds has dropped to about 40 miles an hour. Coast centres recorded six inches of rain in 24 hours to 10 o'clock when the coast Monday, and spread a wake of flooding and damaged roofs and communications over a wide area.

Broadway Stage Brought Into Living Room

NEW YORK (AP) — Television literally brought the Broadway stage into the living room in a telephone hookup between Ed Murrin in "Peter Pan" Monday night.

Many Broadway plays of the past have been revived on TV, but adaptations shortened to meet the hour or 90-minute time limitations of this new, the first time a current play from the great workshop had been transferred intact from the theatre to the video screen.

In some respects the TV viewer had an advantage. The cameras were able to move in for closeups denied the theatregoer, and the flights of Miss Martin and the children were even more impressive on the TV stage. In color it was fairyland in the living room.

SURGEON CONFIDING

But the relatively small size of even a 21-inch color screen compared with a 65-foot stage seemed confining, and was a reminder of TV's limitations to those who saw both versions.

The musical adaptation of the Barrie classic, lyrics and music from another of his stories, was good entertainment for grown-ups and pure delight for the kiddies.

The production, from NBC's big color studio in Brooklyn, is reported to have cost the two sponsors $300,000 plus about $130,000 in broadcast time costs. Other networks and stations carrying the telecast, which was telecast in Canada by the CBC.

FRANKFORD

Wor'ld Day Of Prayer Held In Trinity Church

FRANKFORD — The World Day of Prayer was held in the Trinity Anglican Church, under the auspices of the Ladies' Auxiliary in union with the Missionary Society of the United Church, Wednesday, and the Reverend Council. The Presidents of each leading in service and prayers.

Miss Winnifred Dench, president of the W.A. of the Anglican church, led in the service and Mrs. A. Gilmour offering prayer for the Queen.

Mrs. Wallace Morrow, president of the W.M.S. of the United Church led in the service and Mrs. Clayton Fenwick offered the special prayer.

Mrs. Hilbert Reid, president the W.M.C. of the Pentecostal Tabernacle, led in the service and Mrs. Gerald Garey offered the prayer.

Mrs. Gerald Haggerty led the service and also Barbara Twiddy led in prayer for the Free Methodist.

Mrs. Harold Rogers led the service and also offered prayer for the Emmanuel Church.

THEME READ

Mrs. R. Rogers read the theme of the service "Abide in Me."

Miss Marjorie Forbes read the "Life and Work of the Missionary and Evangelist, Pastor Lunoda, who participated the service for this day of prayer.

The address was given by Mrs. H. Fenwick and duet rendered by Mrs. Carmen Mikel and Mrs. H. Fenwick. The offering was taken by Mrs. Gerk' Farrar and Mrs. M. McLaren, which was received by Miss Dench and presented for a blessing.

Mrs. R. Rogers and Mrs. R. Baker welcomed the ladies and gave out the programs.

The Anglican Church Choir, under the leadership of the organist, Mrs. Ethel Smith, led in the singing of the hymns.

The Benediction was given by Miss Dench and the meeting closed in silent prayer.

4-H Club Work Is Praised

TORONTO (CP) — E. F. Manning, retiring president of the Canadian Council of 4-H Clubs, said today it is impossible to assess adequately the extent to which rural youth club programs have contributed to rural living and agricultural development in Canada.

"But where club work has flourished the area has progressed and there is enduring example of the value of youth training in the field of agricultural extension," he said.

REPORTS VALUE

FORT ERIE (CP)—Dr. Theresa W. O'Mullvenny, medical officer of health, said Monday a board of health official has reported "definite values already apparent" as a result of fluoridation of the city's water supply. Fort Erie was one of the first Ontario municipalities to begin fluoridation in an effort to combat tooth decay.

New York State Hit By Violent Snowstorm

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — A storm clipped through northern New York state off Lake Ontario Monday, causing public to be stranded in autos and cripples highway travel.

Parts of Oswego, Oneida and Onondaga counties were struck by the heavy snowfall, whipped by 40-mile-an-hour winds. Snow was measured as deep as 18 inches.

Two school buses were reported stranded in the Camden area and children were delayed up to three hours in schools and cripples.

State police reported traffic slowed to a crawl and visibility poor in Oswego county.

Acquit Major Charged With Collaboration

FORT SILL, Okla. (AP)—Maj. Ambrose H. Rugeet, whose United States Army career ended when he pleaded guilty in 1948 to a prisoner-of-war collaboration charge, was acquitted Monday as a defendant in a collaboration trial, is free to return to the field artillery.

Rugeet, charged with aiding the enemy while a prisoner, was acquitted on nine specifications Monday by a general military court martial board of nine officers, seven of whom were Korean veterans.

There have been four other Americans convicted, and all have been convicted.

Rugeet's defense was that he was subjected to duress, followed orders of his superior and that he acted always for the welfare of his men.

Shifting Cargo Blamed for Loss Of U.S. Vessel

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — The United States Coast Guard today said shifting cargo was called improperly loaded cargo caused the American freighter Mormacelte to capsize and sink off the Atlantic storm.

The ship's master, Capt. Patrick J. McMahon, was negligent, coast guard board of investigation reported. The board said the cargo to be loaded in such a manner that shifting was possible.

No comment on the report was immediately available from officials of Moore-McCormack Lines, Inc., of New York, operators of the freighter. A federal court action on behalf of members of the crew are pending against the firm as a result of the sinking.

The Mormacelte went to the bottom off the Nova Scotia coast in thirty-seven of her 48-man crew perished, including Capt. McMahon. Eleven survivors were rescued 48 hours after the sinking.

The freighter was en route from Brazil to Baltimore with 9,003 tons of iron ore in her holds.

Canadian Army In Germany Will Honor V's

SOEST, Germany (CP)—Canadian military authorities planned today to give the conquering Prussian V's a touch of Canada, here and possibly teach them a hockey lesson.

With the world champions scheduled to arrive late today from Dusseldorf, the 1st Battalion, Royal Canadian Regiment will become the first brigade group headquarters were eager to halt the team from British Columbia which redeemed Canadian hockey honor by defeating the Russians.

Festivities will play the brigade all-stars today and again Wednesday. Thursday they play the RCAF Flyers at Zweibruecken. Then they leave for Paris and another exhibition game Saturday, followed by their last appearance on this side of the Atlantic, against Harringay Racers in London next Monday.

Brigade all-star players include Pte. Gerry Lamoureux, Ottawa; Pte. Robert Woodworth, Montreal; Cpl. John Armstrong, Kingston; L.-Cpl. Bob Goulding, Edmonton and Gnr. Carl Edwards, Brockville.

NINE-CAR CRASH

DETROIT — (AP) — Detroit's fast new pile-up of the year was somewhat less than biggest mass bumping today.

Police said car No. 1 stalled. No. 2 gave it a push. No. 3 slowed down and was struck in the rear by No. 4.

No. 5 slowed to avoid hitting the first four, No. 6 rammed No. 5. No. 7, alert to what went on before, stopped. But No. 8 and No. 9 shoved No. 8 into No. 7.

Seven cars had to be towed away.

Gen. M.D. Taylor Is Named U.S. OC in Far East

TOKYO (AP)—Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor today was named United States Far East commander and head of the United Nations command. Effective April 1, he will succeed Gen. John K. Hull, who is retiring at his own request.

Appointment of Taylor was announced. Gen. Taylor's many responsibilities in recent months, he has commanded all U.S. ground forces in Japan, South Korea and Okinawa.

Taylor assumed command of the 8th Army in Korea Feb. 11, 1953.

He is known for his record of bravery and for a quiet, studious personality which does not advertise his knowledge of eight languages, including the three tongues most important in the part of Asia where he has been stationed service—Japanese, Chinese and Korean.

In the Second World War Taylor was on a dangerous mission behind the lines prior to the Italian surrender, and rejoined his surrounded division in the Bastogne forest by a daring parachute jump.

At Bastogne, Taylor lifted a soldiers' dream, a swashbuckling paratrooper hurrying 3,000 miles to get back and help win something it he hard way.

He was in more than a year before that, Sept. 7, 1943, it took imagination along with daring to perform his role as assistant Eisenhower set for him.

The planners was this:

Allied armies were preparing for the invasion of Italy. The American government, fed up with the way the Nazis were treating them, wanted to contact representatives of the Badoglio government, successor to Mussolini, and make promises of aides, interpreters, food, ammunition and vehicles if the Allies failed an airborne landing near Rome.

It had been decided to drop 82nd Airborne Division on the airfields near Rome, seize the Italian capital and chase out the Germans.

The only thing lacking was definite assurance from Badoglio. Consequently Eisenhower picked Taylor to go behind the Italian lines and talk to Badoglio.

Twenty-four hours ahead of the Allied invasion, Taylor left Sicily in company with the late Col. Tudor Gardiner, former governor of Maine, Major Vincent Scamporino Italian corvette which landed them on Corsica.

In broad daylight, Taylor and Gardiner were whisked all the way to the Italian capital where they met Badoglio.

Badoglio said he feared that an airborne landing in that area would mean the massacre of every paratrooper.

Taylor radioed a coded message back to Eisenhower. The rest of the landings."

Taylor and Gardiner by their action probably saved thousands of American lives.

Pravda Warns Iran Against Pact With West

MOSCOW (Reuters) — Pravda, Soviet Communist party newspaper, has warned Iran that under existing treaties it has no right to join in Western-sponsored military alliances in the Middle East.

A Pravda editorial says "feverish attempts are now being made to extend the existing military treaties in the Middle East," which now link Turkey with Pakistan and Iraq.

"Reports of forthcoming accession of Iran to the military bloc seem to be the latest provocation by the aggressive powers," it says. The numerous American advisers in Iran and visitors from Washington have made great efforts in this direction.

"It is, however, known that under the treaties between the Soviet Union and Iran, the Iranian government has no right to permit military springboards to be created on its territory and no right to the introduction of foreign troops into the country, and is under obligation to refrain from any aggressive actions directed against the other."

Prisoners Riot

TORONTO (CP) — Chairs were thrown and windows smashed Monday night during a brief but violent disturbance by seven female prisoners in Mercer reformatory.

Cpl. G. Hedley Barker, deputy minister of reform institutions, said the flare-up occurred when the prisoners, transferred from the Don jail because of overcrowding, were ordered into their cells for the night.

He said matrons had the prisoners under control within 30 minutes.

Attlee Evades Showdown With Aneurin Bevan

LONDON — (AP) — Former Prime Minister Clement Attlee appeared today to be shying away from an all-out showdown with Aneurin Bevan in his effort to mend a split in Labor party ranks.

The moderate Attlee warned those who seek to drive a wedge between Britain and the U.S.A. are playing the Communist game.

The Attlee-controlled "shadow cabinet," which sets official party policy in Parliament, agreed to press the Churchill government for immediate big three talks with the French and Americans on world disarmament.

The carefully worded motion tabled in the House of Commons appeared designed to quiet the rebellion led by Bevan that grew out of the hydrogen bomb defence debate.

The Attlee motion, even if failing to unite party himself, paved the way open for the 57 Labor members who supported his revolt to get back into the official party policy.

Leaders of the Labor party, while angry at Bevan, have moved cautiously in an attempt to heal the revolt without splitting down to the rank and file of party workers and with the prospects of a general election possibly within months.

Refugees Want To Go Back To Quake District

PAHOA, Hawaii (AP) — Six hundred refugees badgered officials today for permission to return to their homes in the devastated Puna district where fiery, volcanic eruptions simmered down to a mild bubbling action.

Earth tremors moderated. Lava fountains, which had shot to a fourth-mile height, were just bubbling, with an occasional half-hearted belch spout.

Volcanologist Gordon A. MacDonald urged the refugees to wait, warning that the eruptions "are still possible. I don't know when it will be safe."

Ohio River Flood Damage Is Heavy

CINCINNATI. (AP) — The hump of the flooding Ohio river moved slowly downstream today, forcing hundreds of families and business from the shore areas.

It left a wake of heavy property damage as it spilled out along its natural borderline separating southern Ohio and Virginia, Kentucky and Indiana.

An estimated 2,000 families have been affected. In Ohio alone, some 800 families have fled shore-area homes.

The weather bureau at Cincinnati called it a "major flood" because more than two-thirds of the 981-mile long river is at least five feet over flood stage.

The American Red Cross said that for the purpose of providing shelter, food and clothes to flood victims the situation is of "disaster" proportions.

NO RENT, NO AERIALS

RECCLES, England (AP)—The town council decided last night that tenants in municipal housing projects will be denied permission to put up television aerials if they are behind in their rent. "If a tenant can't afford to pay his rent, he can't afford a television set," a council spokesman explained.

Economist Fears Boom-and-Bust Cycle Started

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Harvard economist says the United States may be in the early stages of a boom and gloating that could end in a 1929-style crash.

John H. Gebhardt told the Senate banking committee in testimony prepared for today that there are "formidable safeguards" against another such crash. But he spoke of "resemblances" between conditions in the late 1920s and today that "are certainly interesting and possibly disturbing."

He urged that the government and Wall street be ready to halt credit buying of stocks and to put on their emergency brakes if the year-and-a-half-old bull market shows no sign of slackening in the near future.

The committee today called Gebhardt and Harold E. Wood of St. Paul, president of the National Association of Securities Dealers, in its "friendly study" of the market in the light of the stock price rise.

Agnes Macphail Will Be Honored By Commons

OTTAWA (CP)—The Commons paused an hour in the day's business today to honor the first woman to enter Parliament.

Members will leave their chamber to attend the unveiling of a bust of Miss Agnes Macphail, the Commons member from 1921 to 1940 and later a member of the Ontario legislature.

The bronze bust of the one-time country schoolteacher, who died last year, will stand on a pedestal in the southwest corridor of Parliament's centre block, near the big hall of the Commons where Miss Macphail was for years the only woman member.

It will be unveiled by two sisters of Miss Macphail—Mrs. Meredith Reany of Palmerston, Ont., and Mrs. Hugh Ballay of Toronto. Commons members who sat with Miss Macphail will deliver tributes.

REPRESENT ALL PARTIES

These will include Hon. C. G. Power (L—Quebec South), dean of the house in years of service; Hon. W. Earl Rowe (PC—Dufferin-Simcoe), deputy leader of his party; Angus MacInnis (CCF—Vancouver Kingsway) and John Blackmore (SC—Lethbridge).

Prince Minister St. Laurent and Speaker Rene Beaudoin also will speak.

The bust, by sculptor Felix Wehrli de Weldon of Washington, has been presented to the Commons by Miss Macphail's sisters.

Miss Macphail, who was 63 at the time of her death in February, 1954, was elected to the Commons in 1921 as a member of the United Farmers of Ontario party. She took over what had been a Liberal riding in Grey South East.

GINGER GROUP

When the CCF was organized in 1932, she became one of the warmest members of that "ginger group" in a server of the Commons. She was defeated in 1940 by Walter Harris, now finance minister.

In 1943, she made a political comeback when the leader of the CCF by winning election to the Ontario legislature. In 1945 she again campaigned and won the York East seat for the CCF in the Ontario general election.

Since she pioneered the way, the Commons has had several women members. It now has four: Mrs. Ellen Fairclough (PC Hamilton West), Mrs. Ann Shipley (L—Timiskaming), Miss Sybil Bennett (PC—Halton) and Miss Margaret Aitken (PC—York Humber).

Price of Wire Fencing Set Says Commission

OTTAWA (CP)—Justice Minister Garson said Monday evidence taken by the combines trade practices commission on an alleged combine in the manufacture of wire fencing "warrants prosecution."

Replying in the Commons to a question by Davie Fulton (PC—Kamloops), he said this opinion has been expressed by government counsel who considered the evidence.

The restrictive trade practices commission issued a report late last year in which it charged that a number of steel companies had agreed to set the price of wire fencing by prearrangement.

The companies included the Steel Co. of Canada, Dominion Steel and Coal Corp., Canadian Steel Corp., Canadian Tube and Steel, Frost Steel and Wire Co. Ltd., and Lundy Fence Co. Ltd.

TO REPLACE PRIEST EXPELLED BY REDS

Rev. Louis P. Dion, above, registrar of Assumption college, Worcester, Mass., has been chosen to replace Rev. Georges Bissonnette, Roman Catholic priest, who has been expelled from Russia by Soviet officials. The Assumptionist order in the United States must await permission of the Russians to send Father Dion. Meanwhile, the U.S. protested the unexplained expulsion of Father Bissonnette. (Central Press Canadian).

After Prayers — Guns

Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser of Egypt, who has announced that he will meet "force with force" in the Israeli border crisis, is pictured in Cairo as he prayed at the Azhar mosque. Addressing cadets in connection with recent Israel troop clashes near Gaza, the premier said he had ordered soldiers to "repel attacks" and defend the border. Nasser warned that Egypt will no longer rely on the U.N. for protection. (Central Press Canadian).

To Make Cruise

OTTAWA (CP)—About 100 naval cadets from Canadian services colleges and HMCS Venture, the Royal Canadian Navy's junior officer training establishment, at Esquimalt, B.C., will sail aboard the cruiser Ontario late in April for a four-month training cruise in European waters, naval headquarters announced Monday.

The cadets, from Royal Roads, Victoria; Royal Military College, Kingston; College Militaire Royal, St. Johns, Que., and HMCS Venture, will join the Ontario at Esquimalt.

Govt. Announces Program To Link TV Coast to Coast

OTTAWA (CP) — Government target for early 1958: coast-to-coast live television broadcasts.

Plans for a 2,300-mile transcontinental microwave television network—longest in the world—were outlined to the Commons Monday night by Revenue Minister McCann.

It will be possible to adapt the microwave equipment to transmit color television programs, he said.

Dr. McCann said the network, to be built by seven Canadian telephone companies at a reported cost of from $40,000,000 to $50,000,000, will link CBC and private television stations from Sydney, N.S., to Vancouver.

The entire network is scheduled to go into operation in early 1958. Portions of it will be ready before that.

LONG SECTIONS

The tentative schedule: The 1,200-mile Toronto-Winnipeg link by the fall of 1956, the 800-mile Winnipeg-Regina-Calgary section early in 1957, the 710-mile Quebec-Saint John-Sydney section in mid-1957 and the 530-mile Calgary-Vancouver link early in 1958.

These target dates for the various links were given in a statement by Thomas W. Eadie, chairman of the trans-Canada telephone system and president of the Bell Telephone Co. of Canada. The announcement coincided with Dr. McCann's statement in the house.

The CBC said it intends to put the various links into operation as soon as they are ready. The complete network will enable programs originating in one part of Canada to be seen simultaneously on all stations on the network. Viewers in Sydney, for example, will be able to see a Vancouver program the moment it is performed.

A microwave network already links CBC and private stations from Windsor, Ont., to Quebec City and with United States networks at Buffalo, N.Y.

JOINS STATIONS

The new system, like the present link, will merely join television broadcasting stations and not provide TV reception along its route. Persons near the relay chain but outside the range of television stations still will be unable to receive programs.

Dr. McCann said the CBC has accepted tenders submitted by Canadian telephone companies for extension of the English-language network west from Toronto to Vancouver and east from Montreal to Sydney.

The CBC also had accepted tenders of the Canadian National and Canadian Pacific Railway companies for extension of the French-language network in Quebec—south to Sherbrooke and east to Rimouski.

Dr. McCann, who reports to Parliament for the CBC, estimated that the CBC will pay rental fees of about $2,000,000 a year for the two networks.

MORE CANADIAN SHOWS

The coast-to-coast system will enable the CBC to provide both its own and privately-owned stations with more Canadian-produced shows, he said. The present system was to provide some stations with television recordings, which were inferior to live broadcasts.

Mr. Eadie said some 140 relay stations will have to be erected to complete the cross-country communications, skyway, which also will provide for additional long-distance telephone circuits.

Cities readily accessible to the network route and either already served or to be connected as construction progresses, are Sydney, Halifax, Saint John, N.B., Quebec City, Montreal, Ottawa, Kingston, Peterborough, Toronto, North Bay, Timmins, Port Arthur, Fort William, Winnipeg, Regina, Saskatoon, Calgary, Edmonton and Vancouver.

Mr. Eadie said further extensions can be made to connect other points along the route when required.

SEVEN COMPANIES

Members of the trans-Canada telephone system are the Maritime Telegraph and Telephone Co., New Brunswick Telephone Co., Quebec Telephone Co. of Canada, Manitoba Telephone System, Saskatchewan Government Telephones, Alberta Government Telephones and the British Columbia Telephone Co.

Each company will be responsible for construction of facilities in its area. Initially, two continent-wide microwave channels in each direction will be installed on the network. This will provide television channels in each direction and long-haul telephone circuits, another step toward the ultimate goal of transcontinental direct dialing of long-distance calls.

Dr. McCann indicated the government still is not prepared to grant additional television broadcasting licences in areas already served by the CBC or private stations. Existing policy is not to have duplicate services in any one centre until all areas are reached by television.

RICHEST NUN DIES

The Rev. Mother Mary Katherine Drexel, 96, called "the richest nun in the world," died in Cornwells Ats Height, Penna., where she served as superior general of the Sisters of the Blessed Sacrament for Indians and Colored People. Although the recipient of a trust which paid her an estimated $1,000 a day, she adhered to a vow of poverty and lived on one dollar a day, using her fortune for the education of the underprivileged. Benificent Burglar Fills 'Victim's' Purse

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)— The case of the beneficent burglar had police scratching their heads today.

Mrs. Selene Smith Royer, 69, complained to officers that for the last month some one has been breaking into her apartment at night and leaving money in her purse.

She turned over $40 to police —the total contribution for the month, she said. She told officers she was afraid she'd be harmed if she kept it.

Labor Members Trying to Save Aneurin Bevan

LONDON (Reuters) — Labor members of Parliament today made another behind-scenes efforts to save left-wing rebel Aneurin Bevan from expulsion from the party.

These Labor MPs felt a compromise should be struck to save the party from a serious split before Britain's next national election.

The moderate party leaders headed by ex-premier Clement Attlee Tuesday called for Bevan's expulsion from the party's parliamentary group for defying Labor discipline on a House of Commons debate about the H-bomb.

If the 57-year-old Welshman is kicked out of the parliamentary group, he faces expulsion from the party itself.

Mexican Airliner Crash Kills 26, Ignites Forest

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Rescue workers battled a raging forest fire today in an effort to reach the bodies of 26 persons killed in Mexico's worst plane crash.

The Mexico City-to-Tampico DC-3 of the Compania Mexicana de Aviacion (CMA), crashed into a wooded mountain Tuesday shortly after taking off from Puerto Vallarta, on the Pacific coast. It burst into flames, touching off the forest fire.

A rancher who reached the scene before the surrounding trees caught fire said there were no survivors among the 23 passengers and three crewmen. Three other passengers included two children.

The crash was the second major air accident in Mexico within 24 hours. Five persons, including millionaire Mexican businessman Jorge Pasquel, were killed Monday night when Pasquel's private plane crashed in the northern state of San Luis Potosi.

Will Be Candidate

TORONTO (CP)—Reeve Oliver Crockford of suburban Scarborough township announced Tuesday that work will start this year on a $40,000 to $50,000 home for the aged project in Scarborough. He said it will be in the Highland creek valley.

THE WEATHER

TORONTO, (CP) — Synopsis: Winds from the southwest brought warm air into southern Ontario Tuesday night. Light snow spread across the province in advance of a warm air disturbance moving eastward across northern Ontario, is bringing snow to the north country which will continue until this afternoon. Skies will push into northern Ontario behind the disturbance tonight. The southward penetration of the cold air will not reach southern Ontario and little change in temperature is expected in this area.

LONDON (CP) — Members of Parliament talked themselves right till dawn today on the role of Britain's army in the hydrogen-bomb age.

The House of Commons sitting lasted more than 14½ hours, longest of the year.

During the debate a Conservative member won parliamentary permission to introduce a bill that would brand as traitors Britons who help enemies fighting British-backed United Nations forces.

In the face of Labor opposition, P. Ingress Bell, Conservative, asked the House to make it clear that enemies of the UN should be treated as traitors. Britons and British forces were fighting them as part of an international action. That, he said, would allow the state to charge with treason "persons who have five aid and comfort or adhere to the enemies of the United Nations."

Bell's move was touched off by charges in a government publication that Britons helped the Chinese Communists to disseminate propaganda among British troops in Korea during the war.

The publication cited Communist torturing of the British prisoners.

NOT RETROACTIVE

A government spokesman Tuesday, during debate on the bill against two, Communist Jack Gaster and left-wing lecturer Monica Felton, both of whom are currently prosecuting two Communist converts, Sgt. Alan Williams and Michael Shapiro, if they return to Britain.

Bell himself made clear that his bill would not seek retroactive powers to cover known cases.

Labor member Sydney Silverman in opposing Bell's motion said: "Practically speaking not anyone that a citizen shall think his country is always right. The bill is meaningless and mischievous. Legislate there is no such thing as an enemy of the United Nations."

Quemoy, Matsu Garrisons Are Being Reinforced

TAIPEI, Formosa (Reuters) — Nationalist China has reinforced the garrisons on Quemoy and Matsu islands with about 10,000 troops evacuated recently from Tachen and Nanchi islands, usually reliable Nationalist sources reported today.

Heavy guns and ammunition are being moved to the islands because the Nationalists believe the Chinese Communists will make their first attack on the Quemoy area, mouth of the Min river near Foochow.

Court Circles Maintain Princess Has Not Decided About Marriage

By ALAN HARVEY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON (CP) — Official court circles maintained today that Princess Margaret still hasn't made up her mind about marrying Group Capt. Peter Townsend.

"Nobody knows what's going to happen except the principals, and they haven't made any announcement themselves," said an official source, commenting on reports the pair would marry in the autumn.

The princess herself was also quoted as informant in touch with the Royal Family as saying that two intend to marry in the fall.

The official source commented: "Nobody in an official position could possibly have made such a statement."

Beneath the official disclaimers, however, there appeared to be little doubt that the attachment does exist, or has existed, between the 24-year-old Princess and the 40-year-old Battle of Britain pilot.

The consensus among persons in touch with the situation is that Margaret still has to decide what she wants to do.

There has been no formal statement on the matter from Buckingham Palace, which regards the burning question of the reported Royal romance as strictly a personal matter.

As far as can be learned in London, Commonwealth governments have not been approached about a possible marriage between Margaret and Townsend, who is divorced and when he was 29, an equerry to King George VI, and on June 13.

Because of Margaret's position as third in succession to the throne it is assumed here the Commonwealth governments would be approached if a decision has been reached.

The royal romance first made headlines in July, 1953. About a month before, Townsend had been granted a divorce because of his wife's misconduct at a London hotel with John Adolphus de Lasalle, an exporter.

Accepted for the first reports of the romance were published in 1953, Townsend was transferred abruptly to Brussels. Until last weekend nothing further was heard of Britain's good-looking "popular" newspapers, including the Sunday Pictorial, The Daily Mirror and Daily Sketch, again played up the story, this time accompanied by graphic interviews said to have been given by Townsend in Brussels.

There were suggestions that the newspapers might have been deliberately leaked to the British press in a bid to test public opinion. It was noted, however, that serious newspapers such as The Times and The Daily Telegraph have not commented.

CBC 'WALLOWING' IN GOVT. MONEY SAYS OPPOSITION

Fleming Decries TV Policy, Radio Talks

OTTAWA (CP)—Donald Fleming says the CBC is "wallowing" in more government-granted money than it can use.

He said in the Commons Tuesday that Parliament should regain its former control of the publicly-owned corporation, giving annual grants only after a review of the CBC's income.

Mr. Fleming (PC—Toronto Eglinton) charged the government with "pumping millions into the CBC beyond its digestive capacity." The CBC received private grants, tax revenues and government loans. In 1953-54 it had revenues of $6,500,000 in unspent funds.

In an 80-minute speech the Opposition's broadcasting spokesman also criticized government television policy, decried CBC-radio talks as "too much left of centre" and repeated his demand for an independent regulatory body to overhaul both the CBC and private broadcasters.

Mr. Fleming said the CBC, as the competitor of private broadcasters, should not have authority to censor them. It had been given dictatorial powers.

R. R. Knight (CCF—Saskatoon-Humboldt) said the CBC should continue its regulatory powers and should keep

ENGINEER SAYS KEEP VEHICLES OFF BOULEVARDS

Keep cars off the boulevards, was the appeal made today by the city engineering department following complaints from residents that careless motorists were ruining boulevard grass in many sections of the city.

The city engineer pointed out that with frost now coming out of the ground it is soft and saturated with water and the weight of motorists' cars sink deep when drivers carelessly drive over boulevards.

"Boulevards were never intended for parking in the first place" city engineer Charles Mott noted. "They are merely a protection strip between roadways and sidewalks and should never be driven on."

Working Force Has Greatest Compensation Benefits Board Chairman Tells Kiwanis Club

Ontario's working force has the greatest compensation benefits in the world.

Speaking to the Kiwanis Club here yesterday, Eugene E. Sparrow, chairman of the Workmen's Compensation Board of Ontario, pointed up this primary aspect of labor relations in modern Canada, when he backgrounded the functions of the board to the club.

Cost to employers of the board's administration and disbursement of benefits to injured employees last year was $35,000,000. Besides this the board also subsidized with some $808,000 in grants, various accident prevention organizations.

The board administers the 40-odd Workmen's Compensation Act, passed as a result of inquiries into labor activity early in the century. Previous to the act, a workman could hail an employer into court for redress for injuries received, but the results to the favourable were slight to decimated by costs. Following trade union demands, a Royal Commission was appointed in 1910 to investigate the situation. As a result of the findings the Act became effective in 1915 in Ontario, the first in Canada. Other provinces followed suit, and in 1919 today "we still rate the best in Canada, and probably the best in the world." Mr. Sparrow said.

Ontario's administration of the Act now is constantly under glass to representatives from other world nations, seeking to benefit from study of the board's functioning.

SERVES IN THREE CAPACITIES

The board strives to be of service in three capacities, Mr. Sparrow said. To the workman; to the employers . . . to the province. The latter obtains every cent of the money we need for administration and for the medical profession, without whom "I doubt if we could be in business at all—and I'm sure of it."

Administration of the Act also comes under three fundamentals: (1) To prevent accidents; (2) To pay maximum benefits at the lowest cost; (3) To rehabilitate the man to return the employee to work with maximum efficiency and to the minimal permanent disability.

Mr. Sparrow emphasized that the board could not prevent accident happening, and such an occurrence was not the responsibility of the board. "Previous to the Act," he said, "those responsible for an accident could be hailed into court.

"The Act does not changed in one iota the employers' responsibility, and God forbid that it ever shall."

However, when an employer or group of employers wish to institute a system to aid in preventing accidents the board helps them with grants to set up such a program. Today, many employers are banded together into such preventive bodies, largest of whom is Ontario Hydro and Electrical Development Association's actions. These associations are employer bodies and the board has no direct responsibility in their functioning. "Their duties are in advisory, not policing capacities," he said. However, the board does stand indirectly behind them.

The moment a workman is injured on the job the board has to pay all medical expenses and "whatever the costs are, there are no limits thereof."

$3,000 MAXIMUM

Pay compensation commences after the injured man's period of sickness does work exceeds four days, when he will received 75 per cent of his pay. However, a salary ceiling of $4,000 annual earnings is the maximum sum on which compensation is based. This brings the maximum weekly income payable in Ontario to $57.69.

A permanently disabled worker receives a life-time pension while widows also work exceeds four years.

"Ontario is happy that in North America it has the lowest number of permanently disabled workmen. Some 3.77 per cent of the men who receive weekly compensation are permanently disabled. The highest figure in North America," he said afterwards.

Costs of benefits and administration last year amounted to $35,000,000, he said.

"Let me say this though, that the costs of administration went quite low."

SET IN TWO GROUPS

Employers are set apart in two groups, Mr. Sparrow told the club.

Major one is the collective liability group, who pay the bulk of the benefits received directly assessed on a payroll basis, while the individual liability group are risk assurers and including railroads, shipping, provincial and federal employers, are assessed on an accident cost basis.

Employers under both listings are entitled to the same benefits

Collective liability group consisting of some 60,000 firms in 35 classes of industry, is divided into groups so that all competitive industries are listed together.

Out of the average assessment dollar paid by the employer the injured workman receives directly or indirectly, 83 cents. In Canada alone the state of New York benefits to the workman equal 39 cents per dollar.

"Our system is well proven," Mr. Sparrow said.

Legal costs are shaved by the retaining on the board staff, a solicitor and his assistant-solicitor. Thus all cases are handled at board level, while the board accepts no responsibility or cost if a workman desires legal representation outside the board.

"To return the employee in the shortest time possible and with the least permanent disability is a fundamental on which the board is built 'scratching the surface," he said.

REHABILITATION COURSES

One of the most important phases of this work is the board's application of physical medicine to its beneficiaries. In practice it takes the shape of a rehabilitation centre in Malton, outside Toronto, opened in 1947. Besides paring hospital costs, it also provides more bed space in hospitals by giving board beneficiaries alternative recuperation accommodation.

Now Malton also is becoming a training school for graduates in physical medicine, he pointed out.

This year the board will turn the sod on a plot of ground outside Toronto for the construction of a new physical medicine centre, "that will be the hope, for all in the world," Mr. Sparrow said.

Concluding he called for the support of the employers association, the Department of Labor, employers and the compensation large "that all of us working together . . . can through watching . . . make Ontario the ideal place in which to work."

Mr. Sparrow was introduced by Al Drysdale and thanked by Hugh Murray.

Following the meeting Mr. Sparrow toured the Belleville General Hospital, visiting WCB patients. Last night he also addressed the Quinte District Superintendents' Association at the Shrine Club.

107,000 Young People Studying Under Rotary

(This is the third in a series of articles on Rotary International written for the Ontario Intelligencer by Harold F. Mott, past president of the Belleville Rotary Club. Rotary is celebrating the 50th anniversary of its founding this year.)

By Harold F. Mott
(Past President, Belleville Rotary)

During the week of March 7-12, Canada is celebrating Education Week. The motto, "Education is Everyone's Business" is one which aptly expresses the nation's interest in what is one of the greatest of all enterprises. It is also Rotary's business which is one of this world-wide organization is interested.

According to UNESCO, there were 107,000 young people studying Rotary in 1952. Many of these were under the sponsorship of Rotary Clubs. That co-operative venture of all the Rotary clubs in the United States, the Rotary Foundation Fellowship which is open to all countries including all the Rotary activity in Canada, Great Britain, Ireland and Districts have undertaken operation, gives them a wide involve considerable numbers.

In addition, the practice of inviting students to Rotary clubs and attend their club meetings and entertaining them in their homes has continued to be a useful feature the world over. Australian Rotarians, for example, have taken particular interest in the large number of students from Asia coming to their country under the Colombo Plan. London, Paris, Mexico City and Rio de Janeiro among the many centres where Rotary hospitality is extended to the visiting student.

SCOPE UNLIMITED

Nor is the scope for these gestures of international goodwill limited to clubs in the neighborhood of great centres. Students from abroad are invited to attend summer camps by European Rotarians or by the use of the palaces of scenic or historic interest. Many a Rotary club finds that it enjoys and spends the best part of a week at our Federal capital when they see it sheets with similar Rotary sponsored students from New-foundland to British Columbia.

One of the hosts to 27 students from abroad was a club in the state of Texas, U.S.A., recorded his surprise as follows: "At the beginning of these plans I had a feeling that we were doing something for these students and hoping that they then to understand our way of life. My attitude has changed entirely, instead of my doing something for them, they have done something for me.

I feel that I and the rest of the hosts have been the greatest beneficiaries of this visit. Our narrowness, our misconceptions of foreign countries, our blindness on matters of politics and religion are things of the past, overcome by the personality of the students who visited in our homes and reacted so naturally to our situations and ideas."

PRIMARY CONSIDERATION

Primary consideration, of course, is the welfare of the visiting student and the benefits to international understanding from the good impressions they may receive. There will be no discounting the impressions when it is remembered how many of the world's statesmen, how many Nehrus, have been deeply influenced by their visits abroad.

A Mexican foreign minister who has consistently been the Soviet sphere understanding recalls the years of loneliness he spent living in a hall bedroom in New York City. Only the kindness of some neighbors of real interest and hospitality he attributes his subsequent zeal for international friendship.

International understanding, after all, is a two-way street. The international guest brings his own gifts to the altar of hospitality, and what may begin as a mere gesture of good will can readily develop deep roots in the attitudes of individuals and whole communities.

He was a former justice of the peace for Deseronto and also an elder and chairman of the Board of Managers of the Presbyterian Church of the Redeemer. Before residing in Deseronto he spent some time in Western Ontario. He was predeceased by his wife some years ago.

Surviving are two daughters: Mrs. George (Reidella) Collins, Deseronto, and Harriett MacKenzie, Atlanta, Ga.

JAMES ALEX SHARP

STIRLING.— The funeral of baby James Alex Sharp, five months old, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mac Sharp was held on Monday afternoon, March 7th, in Mount Pleasant, Rawdon United church and was largely attended by relatives and friends. Baby James died early Saturday morning in hospital. Rev. Mr. Lewis, pastor of Rawdon United circuit, conducted the service and based his message of comfort on the theme "Children are a heritage from God."

Mrs. Marguerite McMullen sang "Some Day We'll Understand." The service closed with that favorite hymn "Safe in the Arms of Jesus." Beautiful floral tributes were in evidence and included one from the Allen School section No. 3.

The parents and a brother Kelvin are left to mourn.

Police Blotter

Police activity was almost negligible during the past 24 hours, it was reported today by both city and provincial police departments.

Provincial police reported an exceptionally quiet night while only comparatively minor occurrences came to the attention of city officers. One minor accident was reported on College street, while one drunk driver who ran down a hedge on Lathlaer street was apprehended. Theft of $10.00 from a woman's purse at the Trenton Church was reported. Entry to the Church had been gained through a window, it was stated.

Varied Program Planned For Arts, Crafts Club

The Belleville Arts and Crafts Club has a very extensive and widely varied program in progress for the spring term.

The most exciting news is, of course, the first annual Spring Art exhibit which will be in Belleville April 22nd to the 30th. Although a travelling art show is by no means a novelty in Western Ontario, it is comparatively new to East Central Ontario.

The main objective of the travelling amateur art exhibit is to create a widespread community interest in all forms of art—and also to encourage painting as a recreation for leisure time enjoyment.

It is felt that a travelling art display will assist and encourage local groups in the development of their aims and activities and foster the advancement of those interested in amateur painting.

Belleville has been given the honor of opening the travelling exhibition and from there the show will be routed to eighteen other cities and towns in East Central Ontario.
